Sebesta To Move To Big Spring Church

DAN SEBESTA

Th Rev. Dan Sebesta, who has served as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here in Eldorado for 7½ years, has accepted a call to St. Paul Presbyterian church in Big Spring and will move there about Dec. 1st.

Rev. Sebesta tendered his resignation to the church here last week. He will preach his final sermon here on Sunday, Nov. 27th.

St. Paul Presbyterian is a fairly new church in Big Spring, located on the east side of that city across from the campus of Howard County Junior College. Services are being held at the present time in a fellowship hall building and the congregation of 170 members are planning to launch a building program in the future.

Local Presbyterians will hold their annual Thanksgiving dinner November 16th, at which time they will elect new officers for the coming year. A nominating or pulpit committee will also be named to act on getting a successor for Rev. Sebesta.

The Rev. and Mrs. Sebesta came here from seminary at Austin in June of 1959, and both of their sons were born during his pastorate here. Mike is now 6 years of age, and Tim is 2½. Rev. Sebesta succeeded Rev. James Spencer who retired from the ministry and moved to Del Rio, and later to Arizona.

During Rev. Sebesta's pastorate here, the Presbyterian congregation has grown from 106 to 147 members. The educational building was completed and paid for, and it and the main church building were centrally heated and air conditioned.

Rev. Sebesta has been an active member of the Lions club, was president of the Ministerial Alliance two years, served as Cubmaster, and as chaplain of the Fire Department. He has also been chapter chairman of the National Foundation.

While here, Rev. Sebesta worked for four successive Januaries on his Master of Theology degree, and he received that degree from Austin this past May.

Former Local Girl Wife Of Arizona Governor

In the election Tuesday, Jack Williams was elected new Republican governor of Arizona. Mrs. Williams is the former Vera May who lived here a number of years ago and graduated from the local high school in the late 1920's.

Her father was J. S. May who ran a dry goods store here at that time.

With our subscribers, J. C. Wells is subscribing again at 2463 Dena Drive in San Angelo. Dee Jolley's new address is 5728 Meridian Road, San Jose, California 95118.

The General Election was held this week, and it is time to remind everyone that registration is under way for voting in 1967.

As of noon Tuesday, 257 voters had registered in the office of Orval Edmiston, Schleicher County Sheriff and Tax Assessor & Collector.

The period Oct. 1st through January is when you used to pay the Poll Tax. Now, it's the time to register for voting next year. You have to apply in person for the new voter registration, and sign the application form.

Post Script

Interstate Highway 10 is being built between San Antonio, Junction, Sonora, and Fort Stockton, and points on west with some stretches now in places, other links being worked on, and still others in the planning stage. This 4-lane superexpressway is just one of the network being built over the nation to connect all the large cities, and to move volumes of traffic efficiently and safely.

Late last week part of the Success crew made a trip to San Antonio. From Sonora to Junction and on east, the route is the long-established Highway 290, and it connects with Highway 87 (West 10) north of San Antonio.

Most of the 4-lane route of Interstate 10 has been built for about 50 miles north of San Antonio, although a few stretches of it are still being worked on.

As we were leaving San Antonio, we came to the outskirts of that city and decided we needed to buy some gas before long.

About an hour's drive this side of San Antonio is Boerne, so that's the place we picked.

"Boerne exit—one mile."
"Boerne exit—½ mile."
"Boerne exit—¼ mile."
"Boerne—next exit."

We turned off onto the old main highway into the town, which was the former Highway 87 route that used to take all through traffic right through the downtown, by a number of service stations, and about three motels.

At the service station where we stopped, we asked the attendant if the Interstate 10 had affected their business very much.

"Yes, to some extent, but people will still turn off and come thru here when they need to buy gas, or other things, or to spend the night," he said.

The Texas Almanac gives Boerne a 1960 population of 2200, which makes it slightly larger than Eldorado.

The Interstate Highway 10 is what they call a "controlled access" road, in that vehicles get on and off only at certain points, with cross traffic routed by overpasses and underpasses. It has no service stations or other service facilities right on it. You have to get clear off for such needs, and then back on.

What has happened to Boerne already, is in the future for Junction, Sonora, and Fort Stockton, towns which have long catered to the motoring public by being on well-traveled highways.

Small towns as well as larger ones which hope to get a share of the motorists' dollars will apparently have to work together more in the future if they are on a main, high volume highway.

Exactly how this can be done remains to be seen. Perhaps each town's chamber of commerce will have to be sure that its highway exit is marked as plainly as possible, and may also erect other signs farther back proclaiming the attractions of their town.

Each week "press day" is the culmination of a weekly newspaper publisher's efforts, and when the paper is printed and ready for the post office he usually has a few hours to relax and survey the results of another week's effort. Usually the principal effort goes into the make-up and content of the front page, which every publisher considers the "show window" of that particular edition. When I was surveying last week's front page it occurred to me that I was entering upon my 41st year as a publisher and I wondered how many front pages I had made up during that time. (I hope my readers will pardon me if I reminisce a little.)

It was forty years ago on November first, 1926, that I became the publisher and owner of the Post-Signal, a weekly newspaper in Pilot Point in Denton county. I was there for 19 years and the last 21 years have been spent here in Eldorado.

As soon as I became owner of my own paper I found myself tied to a routine where every week provided a "crisis day"—the Thursday press day. With 52 weeks in a year I know I have personally made up over 2,000 front pages in these 40 years, and 1,090 of them have been here in Eldorado. I might just as well add, too, that none of them have set the world afire.

Prior to 1926 I put in about 13 years as a "journeyman" printer in various newspaper offices in Minnesota, North Dakota, Washington State, California and Texas. The last job I had in Texas as an employee was as composing room foreman at "The News" in Electra.

The word "journeyman" printer is a term used by the printers' union of which I was a member for a number of years. During the ten years before 1926 I actually did "journey" quite a bit as that list of states shows. Twice during that time I was away from type cases for short periods—six months in Army camps in 1918, and three months in 1916 when I was a harvest hand in Montana wheat fields where I had been lured because wages were $3 a day.

Weekly newspapers are not as influential now as a number of years ago (an observation that applies also to the daily press, all angles considered). Radio came in about 1924, and T-V sometime after World War II. The booming twenties brought wages up high enough where printers began buying automobiles. During the early part of 1919 my wages were $18 a week; by the latter part of 1920 I was drawing $40. In 1924 I was making $50 a week in Imperial Valley, California, and bought my first car—a 1922 Dodge roadster. The man said it had belonged to an old maid school teacher, and I believed him. It really was a good car, but I had hell saving any money after that.

Nevertheless it played an important part in my courting days and later carried me from California to Texas, and from Electra to Pilot Point where my wife, babies and their grandmother all rode in it. (Not all of them at once; it only had one seat.)

It had some good features, like side curtains, and things. If you were caught out when it was blowing and raining you could always get out and put up the side curtains. But finally the depression came along and it found my car needing tune-up and new tires. It wouldn't have cost much but I didn't even have that much, and finally sold it for $15.00. I still have fond recollections about that sturdy, reliable 4-cylinder Dodge. No car since has given me such pride of ownership. I guess they don't put good stuff in 'em like that anymore.

But—getting back to these 2,000 weekly editions I have turned out—

If they were all to be laid out end-to-end—?

Somebody else would have to do it—the shape my lame back's in.

WHERE THEY PLAY TOMORROW NIGHT:

Eldorado at Ozona
Rankin at Menard
Sanderson at Junction
Sonora at Iraan

The Eldorado Eagles will be confronted by a cruel dilemma tomorrow night in Ozona when they encounter the Ozona Lions. The Eagles must play inspired ball, or resign themselves to take a terrific beating. They can rise up to the resolute stance of the team that will not accept defeat and it is time to do so.

Of course, it isn't all that serious, and it is entirely feasible that the underdog Eagles can generate enough determination to down the Lions. If the "Thin Green Line" can rise to this occasion, it will indeed end its 1966 season in a blaze of glory.

The Ozona Lions had dreams this year of topping the Sonora Broncos from their lofty position as pre-season District 8A champions; but a hip injury to their stellar halfback George Cox early in the season blasted their hopes to rubble. With Cox's recovery, the Lions have come along well; and, should they defeat Eldorado tomorrow night, will have runner-up honors for 8A clinched.

Ozona's season record goes like this: Ozona 20, McCamey 0; Ozona 33, Big Lake, 0; Ozona 0, Bronte, 13 (Cox's injury reflected here); Ozona 0, Sonora 33; Ozona 20, Menard 0; Ozona 27, Junction 7 (Cox's recovery began making its impression); Ozona 48, Sanderson 0; and Ozona 25, Rankin 0.

Their starting line-up is as follows:

No.	Name, Class	Pos.	Wt.
31	Oscar Flores (Sr.)	---LE	160
70	Gary Sutton (Jr.)	---LT	203
64	D. Childress (Sr.)	---LG	155
50	Glenn Southard (Sr.)	---C	160
60	John DeHoyas (Jr.)	---RG	185
75	Wesley West (Jr.)	---RT	168
85	Larry Kilgore (Jr.)	---RE	160
21	George Cox (Sr.)	---LHB	170
44	Fleet Coates (So.)	---RHB	160
40	Thomas DeHoyas (Sr.)	FB	170
11	Rodney Pagan (So.)	---QB	152

It consists of five seniors, four juniors, and one sophomore.

The Lions favor Wing T and I formations. They pound to either side to force opponents to commit in that direction and they counter with Cox who not only is a powerful runner but an exceptionally fleet one as well.

Although primarily committing themselves to ground attack, the Lions pass on occasion, trying usually to capitalize on Cox's counter plays to utilize reverse passes when halfbacks and linebackers come up to defend against Cox. Their favorite receiver is fullback Thomas DeHoyas; but of course, this does not rule out any eligible receiver. The Lions have been known to stage a bit of razzle dazzle and even have hide out plays.

The Lions have two outstanding lads on this '66 aggregation. They are Gary Sutton, Number 70, 203-pound junior tackle, very probably the best tackle in 8A, and George Cox, Number 21, a 170-pound senior who also is a strong contender as one of the best backs in 8A.

Conclusions are that the Lions are a well coached aggregation and will bend their energies strongly tomorrow night not only to defeat but to humiliate the northern member of Edward Plateau's "Terrible Triangle"—Eldorado, Sonora, and Ozona.

Coah Ray Morgan of Eldorado said this week that he would take all members of the Eagle organization to Ozona. He continued that he planned no offensive or defensive changes although Buff Whitten might see considerable action particularly in the Eagle defensive secondary. He concluded that the Eagles indeed had their backs to the wall; and he hoped for "do or die" inspiration with the Eagles in this season's finals.

Conclusions are that football teams frequently do just this and proof of it is easily found in last week's upsets from the pro ranks to kid play.

Schleicher Joins Rest Of Texas In Re-Electing Tower U. S. Senator

Schleicher county voters turned out Tuesday in the General Election and went along with the rest of the state of Texas in voting to retain Republican Senator John Tower as U. S. Senator for another six-year term.

Voters of this county gave Tower 307 votes to 267 for Carr, who as Democratic nominee had the backing of the party establishment headed by Governor Connally.

Voting by boxes in the Senate race was as follows:

Wednesday morning, Tower had 720,666 votes reported, to 558,136 for Carr, according to tabulations at the Texas Election Bureau.

About 565 voters turned out at the polls in this county, which would be considered about average for a non-Presidential year.

Gin Report

Wednesday morning found the ginning crew engaged in cleaning up and doing minor repairs, and preparing to begin operating by 9:00 o'clock. The books showed 650 bales processed at that time, with about a dozen bales on the yard.

Favorable weather has prevailed for about a week and the gin has been turning out about 80 bales a day—running until about 10:00 o'clock at night.

Deer Season Opens Saturday

Christian Commissioner Despite Some Write-Ins

Joe M. Christian kept his Commissioner 3 position in Tuesday's election, despite some write-ins for Joe Wagley, former holder of the job.

Christian polled 39 votes to Wagley's 16.

God & Country Awards Slated For Two Boys

Two local Explorer Scouts are to be given the God and Country Award in special services Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church here in Eldorado.

They are Keith Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, and Buddy Calk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon T. Calk. Both have been active in the Scouting programs here for a number of years.

The God and Country Award requires that a boy work on special projects and studies in his denomination, under direction of his church pastor. Jim Runge was given the award several years ago.

A massive man-versus-beast conflict that could pit half a million hunters against Texas' estimated 2½ million deer herd will be initiated Saturday, November 12.

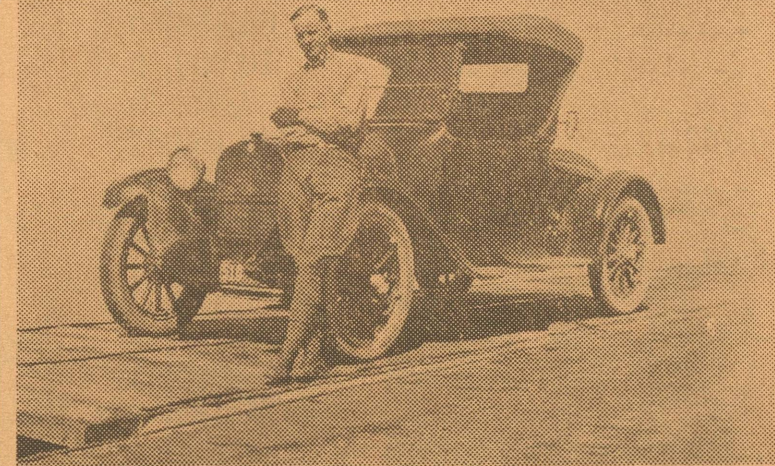

This is the opening date for the annual big game season in most Texas counties including Schleicher.

Ranchers here have been busy issuing leases and making preparations for the opening day. Cold weather early in this month has contributed to making favorable hunting conditions. Wednesday morning, Nov. 2, saw temperatures drop all the way 22 degrees, causing defoliation and improved visibility for the opening day.

On the advertising pages of this paper readers will notice that business firms are offering prizes to the hunter bringing in the largest deer.

According to Bill Works, county game warden, the game is present not only in large numbers but in good condition.

At noon yesterday, a cold front was reported approaching this area, which no doubt will be favorable to hunters. It was expected to bring some moisture along.

It is 1924 and I proudly had my picture taken alongside my new Dodge roadster. The scene is on the old plank road that carried traffic across seven miles of sand dunes between Imperial Valley and Yuma, Arizona.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The wildlife program presented by Mr. Vernon Jones, manager of the Y. O. Ranch, Monday night was attended by some 80 land owners and businessmen.

Mr. Jones showed a film made on the Y. O. Ranch, Mr. Whitetail showing hunting on the Y. O. Ranch. What the hunter likes for his money and what it takes to have a satisfied customer. Hunting is a business just like any other form of merchandising in many respects. Which boils down to game, accommodation and services.

Management of these, putting each to its highest valued use, depends on how successful hunting is to the county's financial situation and how successful each individual land owner or manager.

Happiness That's when you find your eyeglasses soon enough so that you still remember what you wanted them for.

The quality of game meat depends on how the game is handled from the time of kill until served on the family table. While modern hunters pursue their sport mostly for the thrill of outdoor recreation, game foods properly dressed can add pleasant variety to the family menu.

Since the first hunter took weapon in hand to search for game, experience has accumulated in the field dressing and preparation of game for eating.

Available at the county agent's office are publications of time-tested methods of handling game from field until it is tastefully served on the table.

The biggest problem of life is how to stay in the groove without making it into a rut.

There are a number of advantages to fertilizing in the fall rather than in the spring.

Fertilizing in the fall reduces planting time since you don't have to bother with fertilizer in the spring. Also, there is less risk of not being able to fertilize in the spring because of bad weather.

A third advantage to farmers is the off-season price discounts often offered by dealers in the fall. It's slack season for them, and some cut their prices to keep busy in the fall and reduce the load in the spring.

If you apply nitrogen in the fall, use ammonium nitrogen. Nitrate nitrogen can be leached from sandy soils or denitrified in wet, clay soils.

It's a good idea to wait until the soil temperature is below 55 degrees Fahrenheit before fertilizing in the fall. Nitrification takes place at higher soil temperatures.

It's best to apply fall fertilizer only on clay-type soils. There is generally less loss from leaching during winter months. Sandy soils often leach badly in wet weather.

For row crops, fertilizer should be applied in a band or bands. This can be done by chiseling between the old beds or spreading evenly and rebedding immediately.

Fall fertilization can be a good practice in this county of clay soils. Follow recommended practices.

A clever man is one who puts his problems aside for a brainy day.

You can't look at a soil and tell if it is able to supply nutrients for top crop production.

Selection of the proper fertilizer depends upon a knowledge of the nutrient needs of the crop, and nutrient-supplying power of the soil on which the crop is to be grown.

Determining the nutrient needs of crops is comparable in many ways to diagnosing human ills. A medical doctor observes the patient, obtains all information possible by questions, and then makes certain tests.

Similarly, alert farmers can test soil to determine its ability to feed plants a balanced diet. A soil test saves farmers money by showing them how to put the "right" amount of the "right" plant nutrients on the "right" field.

Now is a good time to take samples from fields where harvesting has been completed. In many sections of the state, and it's true in Schleicher county, fall application of fertilizer is recommended. Often in the spring field conditions delay the putting down of fertilizer; therefore, fall or winter application can eliminate this problem.

Early soil testing must be done in order to make the fall or winter application.

Wives are like fishermen. They brag about the ones that got away and complain about the one they caught.

Happy hunting!

And there's a new SS 427 performance package—complete with 385-hp Turbo-Jet V8 and flat-cornering suspension. You can order it for either the Impala Super Sport Coupe or Convertible.

Of course, there are all sorts of new custom features you can add, too, such as tape or FM stereo. But if you find so much that's new a bit too much to remember—drop down to your dealer's and take a drive. It'll all become unforgettable.

Everything new that could happen...happened! Now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Except for federal offices being closed, it will be business as usual for most people on Veterans Day.

Lions Met Yesterday

Charles Wimer presided at the meeting yesterday of the Eldorado Lions club. This day the club's sale of brooms, mops, and other articles made by Texas blind was conducted.

Guests were E. L. Sockwell of the Lighthouse for the Blind; Manuel Martinez of the East Side Lions Club, here in Eldorado; and Fred Bell, Otis Bobbitt and John Schwab of the West Side club in San Angelo.

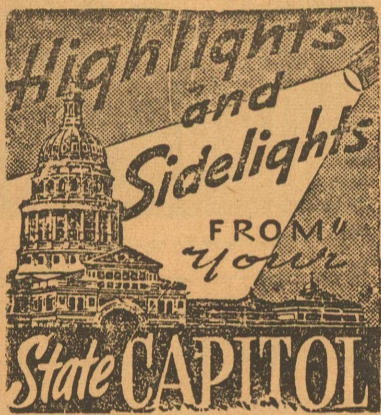

The latter three put on a program on the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville which is sponsored by the Lions Clubs of Texas. A film entitled "Pathways" was shown depicting life in the camp. It was stated that the sessions this past summer were attended by a total of 720 children, and the session was the 14th year for the camp to be in operation.

The club voted to dedicate the meeting next week to Rev. Dan Sebesta who is to move to Big Spring about Dec. 1st.

Scout Drive Totals $451

C. J. Hahn, auditor for the fund drive for the Concho Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America, reported this week that the canvass conducted locally had taken in $451 as of Wednesday.

A few more pledge cards remain to be turned in, after which the drive will be completed for this year.

Austin, Tex.—Addition of kindergartens to the public schools will be a major school proposal in the 1967 session of the Legislature.

State Board of Education has recommended it. Texas State Teachers Association feels it is vital to public education, and will support the board's position.

Expanding the public school system to 13 grades is advocated by educators on the ground that children learn more quickly at age 5, and simply because more education is needed for this complicated world. It would, of course, increase the cost of public schools by one-twelfth, at both state and local levels.

School teachers will press for a pay raise to lift Texas salary levels to the national average, but will let the Board of Education carry the ball on the kindergarten proposal.

School Cost Record

Last year's price of $647,516,534 for the minimum operation of Texas public schools set a record, but State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar says the "minimum foundation fund" will be even greater this year—$667,875,000.

Fund, which is distributed according to the needs of the school district and its average daily attendance, draws its resources from two state sources: the available school fund, including a fourth of all occupation taxes by the state, and other state revenues.

Of last year's total, $123,439,886 was furnished by the school districts themselves, and the rest by the state. Figures do not include federal aid.

East Texas Oil

Railroad Commission has been given proposals by five oil companies for changing the method of allocating oil allowables in the East Texas Field to eliminate what the companies said was discrimination.

Atlantic Richfield, Mobil, Sun and Cities Service and Superior oil companies all put forth widely different plans to eliminate both inequities within the field between marginal and proratable wells and inequities between the East Texas Field and other fields in the state.

City of Kilgore, Kilgore Chamber of Commerce and other local governmental bodies oppose all changes.

Tourist Development Talks

"Imagination: Dare to Use It" will be the theme of the second annual Governor's Tourist Development Conference November 22 in Austin. Gov. John Connally will head the participants.

Experts in various fields of tourist development and tourist promotion will meet with delegates to the conference, along with administrators of Six Flags Over Texas and San Antonio's HemisFair '68.

Highway Beautification

"Texas faces the prospect of losing about $20 million a year in federal highway funds," Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said, if it does not conform fully with the federal Highway Beautification Act of '65.

Smith pointed out that, in writing the Act, the federal government included a 10% penalty in federal aids to states that do not cooperate fully with the provisions of the new law.

State must fulfill its part by seeing that billboards and other outdoor advertising are moved back 600 feet from interstate and federal state highways. Garbage dumps and junkpiles can be no closer than 1,000 feet. This would involve approximately 17,500 miles of Texas highways.

Screwworms Decline

Screwworm epidemic in Texas appears headed for an end. Only 97 cases were confirmed to the Animal Health Commission during the week of October 22-28, compared to 197 three weeks before, at the height of the infestation.

Dr. S. B. Walker, executive director of the commission, said the geographic area of the epidemic seems to be narrowing, too. Most serious areas are in Dimmitt, Val Verde and Maverick counties. At the crest of the infestation, the southwest one-third of the state was involved.

Building Permits Decrease

Estimated value of building permits issued in Texas during September showed a sizable decrease from August's, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Declines both in residential and non-residential permits accounted for the fall of a seasonally adjusted 23% from Austin and 11% from September, 1965, the bureau said.

Of Texas' six largest cities, Fort Worth showed the most total, non-farm construction during September, $17,060,277, but Houston was right behind at $16,978,031. Dallas figure was $15,151,973. Austin, El Paso and San Antonio were far behind.

Equal Values Asked

State Board of Education will urge the Legislature to take action toward equalizing land values among all 254 Texas counties for property tax purposes.

Values now vary from 5 to 100% of what the property actually sells for, according to Board member Paul Greenwood of Harlingen.

Greenwood had unsuccessfully sought to substitute assessed valuations for the complex "economic index" used to figure local fund assignments of minimum foundation school program costs.

In separate action with implications for many districts, the board held that the Rio Hondo schools cannot withhold report cards and transcripts from students who do not pay special fees.

Board ordered Texas Education Agency to make a study to find out just what fees districts are charging students for such things as locker services, towels and soap in physical training classes.

Short Snorts . . .

Texas will receive $724,557 in federal funds to assist in the improvement of Stephen F. Austin State Park in Austin County, Bastrop State Park in Bastrop County and Palo Duro State Park near Amarillo in Randall county.

Three To Be Given Away!

Veterans Day Is Coming Up Friday

With American troops once more locked in combat, defending the cause of freedom, Veterans Day—November 11—takes on added significance this year. A new generation of war veterans is in the mold as the nation pauses to honor the men and women who have honorably served in the uniform of their country.

This day, which was once known as Armistice Day, was originally the anniversary of the ceasefire of World War I. From that war

Eagles Bow To Rankin, By 24-0

The "Thin Green Line" stood up manfully under the poundings administered by the Rankin Red Devils last Friday night, holding the Red Devils to three touchdowns and a field goal. But mistakes plagued the Eagle offense so much so that Eldorado was never able to achieve good field position or keep going on to score. The result was a 24-0 loss to drop Eldorado to fourth place in rugged UIL District 8A.

Statistics reflect that Rankin's score is out of proportion to their field performance but after all what goes on the scoreboard is what counts.

Eldorado	Rankin
11	First downs	12
204	yards rushing	224
34	yards passing	56
4of7	passes att. & comp.	4of10
3	passes intercepted	1
5	fumbles lost	5
15	yds. lost by pen.	35

Neither team could score in the first quarter. Late in the second period, Red Devil QB Brown passed to Williams for a touchdown. The Red Devils kicked the extra point and the half ended with Rankin 7-0 out front.

Neither team could score on the ground in the third quarter but Red Devil Clark booted a 17-yard field goal to boost Rankin's lead to 10-0 at the end of the third period.

Rankin scored twice in the final quarter with fleet sophomore half-back Bill Hale carrying the ball for long yardage each time. Clark kicked both extra points and the game ended with Rankin out front 24-0.

The error-plagued Eagles lost touchdowns by untimely fumbles, on passes, both completions and interceptions which trickled thru clutching fingers on at least four occasions. Once an Eagle interception could have been made in the clear for an easy score. At least three potential scoring passes were lost in this fashion.

The story is not uniformly sad because there were interceptions, one by Chris McCravey on the Eagle 20 early in the fourth quarter which stopped a grave Rankin threat. McCravey also captured two Rankin fumbles to have a fine night defensively. David Lloyd, Donald Rogers, and John Mayo all recovered Red Devil fumbles. The "Thin Green Line" battered and pounded all night, forced the Red Devils to extend themselves to their utmost the whole evening long to win.

Possibly overlooked in the shuffle is the fact that nine big seniors, a brawny sophomore, and fleet sophomore Bill Hale give any coach a good hand. Coach Mitchell should have little difficulty parlaying this team past Menard this coming Friday night to leave Rankin well up the totem pole in District 8A standings.

came The American Legion. But this year's observance of Veterans Day is in no way a consecration of the memory of any past armed conflict. Instead, it is a time to express the esteem and prestige with which Americans regard the role of the veteran.

While Veterans Day is meant to honor the 20 million men and women who have performed the highest obligation of their citizenship, the day is also dedicated to the cause of world peace with honor.

No one hates war more than the war veteran. No one strives more ardently for an honorable world peace than the veteran who has known war in all its brutality. But that same veteran knows that the lofty goals of an honorable world peace and recognition of individual dignity cannot be attained while there are forces in the world seeking its domination through acts of aggression.

This year, Veterans Day calls for an expression of national unity in support of the gallant men and women who are serving our nation's exalted purpose. They are writing inspiring pages of history with their sacrifices in the struggle against a godless ideology which seeks to subjugate mankind. Once again, they are proving the willingness and capability of ordinary citizens in meeting the challenge to champion the cause of freedom anywhere in the world.

The citizens of Eldorado can contribute much to the meaning of Veterans Day by active participation in this year's observance. By our actions on this special day let's add strength to an expression of national unity at a time when the forces of aggression seek signs of internal weakness. As we honor our veterans—our champions of freedom—let us resolve to preserve what they have won and to persevere in our defense of freedom's cause until that day dawns on a world blessed with an honorable peace.
