Housing Authority To Have Ground-Breaking Thursday

Mrs. Max Wilkins, secretary and contracting officer of the Eldorado Housing Authority, announces that a ground-breaking ceremony will be held today (Thursday) at 2:00 p. m., on the grounds next to the Scout hall.

Present in addition to members of the Housing Authority and city officials will be representatives of the Herman Bennett Construction Co., including Lonnie Simmons, inspector; and Franklin G. Berry, Floyd Wigley and Mac Rankin.

The public is cordially invited.

The four Bennett Construction men have taken up residence in Eldorado for the next nine months. Lonnie Simmons and Mac Rankin have Crosby apartments; Franklin Berry in a Riley house, and Floyd Wigley has a trailer house on Mrs. Harris' lot near Mrs. Ogden's.

Eldorado Tool Pusher Reports To His Wife From Saudi Arabia

Rose Doyle received a phone call Sunday night from her husband, Kenneth, in which he reassured her he was safe and sound in war-torn Saudi Arabia.

Mr. Doyle is a tool pusher for Santa Fe Drilling Company who are drilling oil wells in that country. Saudi Arabia was one of the anti-American countries that cut off oil shipments and sent troops to battle the Israelis. When trouble started, operations on his rig were closed down and the crew moved in to the town of Bahrain where they all put up in a hotel. No doubt the Americans stayed off the streets and Kenneth reported that except for some rock throwing there were no serious demonstrations. He also expressed the opinion that when things settled down they looked for more stable conditions in the future.

Kenneth has a 10-year contract with Santa Fe Drilling which has but three more years to complete. At the end of that time he will be eligible for a handsome bonus. In the past seven years the company has sent him to nearly all of the oil producing countries in the world. Texas oil field workers make up the major part of the crew. Kenneth says one of his co-workers was at one time employed in Eldorado. Others hail from Ballinger, Midland and Odessa. Included in the crews are a number of single men attracted to overseas work from a spirit of adventure as well as the promise of high wages. Some have married native girls.

He cited the case of one man who married a Jewish girl and a friend who married an Arab. The men continue to be good friends, but their wives will have nothing to do with each other.

Kenneth is due back in the States some time in July for an extended vacation, after which he will be re-assigned—probably to another foreign country.

Jim Holley Head Of Boy Scout Troop

Now serving as Scoutmaster of the Boy Scout Troop is Jim Holley, and the troop is meeting each Monday night.

Monday night of this week, the Board of Review met and approved Steve Sykes' application for Life Scout rank.

The Herman Bennett Co., contractor who has moved in to erect the public housing units, have rented the scout hall for storage. The troop will be meeting elsewhere in the coming months.

The troop has a reservation to spend the week of July 16-22 at Camp Sol Mayer near Fort McKavett, accompanied by Mr. Holley. He reported that 9 boys are already signed up to go.

Keith Williams and Bob Sykes will leave June 24th with a group of Explorer Scouts and leaders from the Concho Valley Council for the Canadian Canoe Trip. The contingent will travel to and from northern Minnesota by bus and spend a day in Chicago going and coming.

Work Continuing On New Eagle Field

Finish work is continuing at the new site of Eagle Field just south of the high school gym, and it should be ready for the opening of football season.

The Eagle football team will host Crane here September 15th in the first home game.

Little Leaguers Are Selling Down

Last Thursday night it was the Cougars playing the White Sox.

At 9:30 the game was called at the mandatory stopping time, although the play was still in the bottom of the fourth inning.

But by that time the score was 29 to 1 in favor of the Cougars which gives you a good idea of how it was going. The hapless White Sox got their lone run in the first inning.

Tigers 15; Red Sox 2

Although the score was one-sided a creditable game was staged Friday night by the Tigers and Red Sox.

The Tiger infield players showed up good on defense, scooping up grounders for put-outs at first. At this early period they appear to be the strongest of the three local teams. They held the Red Sox scoreless for five full innings, finally allowing them two runs in the sixth.

The Innings:	1	2	3	4	5
Innings:	1	2	3	4	5
Red Sox	0	0	0	0	2
Tigers	3	2	7	0	3

Cougars 9—Tigers 1

It was a foregone conclusion at the start of the season that the Cougars were the strongest team in Little League, and the scores Monday night continued to bear it out. But the Tigers are coming up fast and they should be playing some real ball games as the season continues.

The Cougars led off in the first inning by running in 8 scores, but after that the Tigers held them scoreless for three innings and allowed only one more run in the fifth.

The box score shows that after the first inning the two teams were evenly matched.

Innings:	1	2	3	4	5
Tigers	0	0	0	0	1
Cougars	8	0	0	1	0

Red Sox 1—White Sox 0

Tuesday night's game was plumb out of this world. Five full innings were played without a score. The infield on both teams were playing heads-up ball—scooping up grounders to put runners out at first.

Red Sox came to bat in the top of the 6th. With two men out, they managed to load the bases and finally made one run before the third out retired the side. The White Sox came up and were shut out—leaving the score 1 to 0—the lowest in any Little League game.

Slight Showers Here On Monday Night

This area had slight showers Monday night. Residents awoke Tuesday morning to find puddles in the streets, but there was hardly enough to measure in rain gauges.

A few people's gauges here in town had 5-hundredths of an inch. Rains were better to the south and southwest. Oliver Teele had 1½ inches, Page's had 2, and Gibson's had 1½-inch.

Health Department Official Meets With Hospital Board Here

Royce Ashcraft of the Department of Public Health in Austin was in Eldorado Monday morning and met with the Schleicher County Hospital board of directors.

Ronnie Mittel, board secretary, had recently written for an appointment either here or in Austin with Mr. Ashcraft and he obligingly came here.

The Health Department has responsibility of approving hospitals throughout the state to see that they qualify for medicare, etc. In addition it provides advice to boards on operation, purchasing, and accounting. Mr. Ashcraft left a stack of bulletins with the board members for study.

The meeting Monday morning was more in the nature of a "bull session" which lasted for two hours and closed without a motion being made, but the board members came away with a clearer idea of their next steps which will be taken up on Monday, June 19.

Mr. Ashcraft's final word was, "You've got a big job ahead of you; please use us as much as you can—our service is free."

Hill Named Head Of School Board

Kookie Camera In 'Arabesque' Film

Using his Technicolor camera like a kaleidoscope in a fun house hall of mirrors, Director Stanley Donen follows in the kookie camera footprints of The Ipcress File in the latest entry at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week.

This one—also a spy-chase thriller—is called Arabesque, and it's Gregory Peck and Sophia Loren who are captured on film in reflections from auto radiators, other people's glasses and in mirrors that pop up without fail in 80% of the footage.

The effect isn't bad, and, in fact, adds to the over-all enjoyment, letting the viewer forget for a moment that it's impossible to follow all the plot crosses and double-crosses as once again the movies play "who's on whose side?"

Peck is the college professor of ancient languages, whisked, cajoled, kidnaped and blackjacked by first side and then the other in an effort to decipher a secret message in hieroglyphics.

Miss Loren, as you must already know from several similar films, never quite lets gullible Gregory guess whether she's a baddie or a good girl. (The question is somewhat resolved in a scene where Peck hides in her shower, and then Miss Loren must disrobe and take her shower so that her boy friend in the bedroom won't look in the tub stall.)

The boy friend, played sinisterly by Alan Badel, is a typical spy-next-door type who keeps a falcon on his gloved hand to peck out fumbling henchmen's eyes, and is a sadistic shoe fetish lover who shods Miss Loren in exotic footwear and leather boots. Ah, well . . .

Donen has fashioned an interesting film, with the chases ranging through a deserted aquarium, an abandoned warehouse where a maniac threatens the fleeing duo with a pile driver on a crane hoist, and even to the Ascot Races in England, where Rex and Audrey would hardly recognize the mayhem that goes on.

Donen slips the worst when he attempts to slip out-of-place humor into the action. It's hard to buy the plot when Peck, injected with truth serum and rolled onto a London freeway from a speeding truck, manages to arise alive and fend off the traffic like a bull-fighter before lazily riding away on a conveniently placed bicycle.

Skiboaters Alerted To Legalize Their Boats

Austin, Texas.—Subscribers and readers of Texas Parks and Wildlife magazine are alerted to State laws requiring that all skiboats MUST have rear view mirrors.

This fact was contradicted in the June issue of the magazine in an article "Legalize Your Boat." It stated that ". . . all motorboats towing persons on skis . . . are required to carry an observer or to be equipped with a rear view mirror . . ."

The Parks and Wildlife Department reminds readers of the monthly magazine that, in fact, no such prerogative exists under the Texas Water Safety Code. The law states the following:

"Every motorboat towing a person or persons on water skis, aquaplane or similar device shall be equipped with a rear view mirror of a size no less than four inches (4") in measurement from bottom to top or across from one side to the other. Such mirror shall be mounted firmly so as to give the boat operator a full and complete view beyond the rear of his boat at all times."

The use of an observer is not required.

Morris Davis Receives Law Degree At Austin

Morris Davis, son-in-law of the James Williamses, graduated on June 3 from the University of Texas Law School with honors. While in law school he was an associate editor of the Texas Law Review, a member of Phi Delta Phi honorary legal fraternity, active in the University Intramurals program, an exchange student to Guanajuato University, Mexico, a Quizmaster, and a Hyder Scholarship recipient. At the traditional Sunflower Ceremony preceding general commencement exercises on campus, Morris received membership in The Order of the Coif, a national honors fraternity. He is a graduate of Rice University. Morris and his wife, the former June Williams of Eldorado, plan to remain in Austin where he is affiliated with a local law firm.

June will continue teaching math at Travis High School. They have one child, Tres, who is four years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams and Keith were in Austin last week end visiting with the Davises and attending graduation exercises.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Ting Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

What's the best way to buy beef? Advertisements say "USDA choice carcass only 45 cents per pound." Sounds good, don't they; especially in these days of high meat prices? Well, before you rush down to the store to buy a quarter or half a carcass, let's examine the real cost comparisons of such an undertaking.

Unfortunately, all the carcass is not steaks and roasts. In fact, in the average choice carcass there are only 25% steaks, 25% roasts and 24% miscellaneous cuts, such as hamburger, short ribs and stew meat. Nearly 26% of the carcass is lost in bone, fat trimmings, shrinkage, cutting loss and waste. It takes about 2.25 pounds of a live choice grade steer to yield one pound of salable beef in a retail store.

Does it pay to buy beef by the side or by the cut?

To compute your total average cost, multiply the percentage of the carcass by the price for the cut in your local market. Add these individual costs together for the carcass and divide by 74% since 26% of the carcass is waste.

Suppose the retail price is 77.9 cents per pound. The market offers you a side of beef at .50 cents per pound, cut and wrapped.

Price of side of beef -----50.0
Divided by 74% -----67.6
Add 5 cents per pound for storage costs -----72.6

You would save 5 cents per lb. by purchasing the carcass at 50 cents per pound.

Fact sheet No. L-701, What's The Best Way To Buy Beef? is available at the agent's office.

The first six months of marriage mark the transitional stage between dating and debting.

Insect pests can ruin an otherwise successful gardening project. A most important consideration in insect control, is the timing of either dust or spray applications of insecticides.

It is necessary to know the type of insect present and this in turn will tell you the kind of insecticide to use. Some insects do their damage by sucking juice from the plant while others have chewing mouth parts and do their damage by eating.

A preventive control program which includes regular dusting or spraying prevents insect buildups and thus holds damage to a minimum.

Since residues are very important, follow the recommendations of the manufacturer. The label of each insecticide container explains how the material should be used and in what amount. Carelessness in the use of insecticides can be very dangerous.

As an aid to gardeners, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entomologists have prepared a leaflet, L-642, "Control of Insects in the Home Garden," and copies are available from the offices of county Extension agents. It contains mixing schedules and information on the various insecticides and the vegetables on which each can be used. Safety precautions are also outlined.

If you don't know the price of success, the Internal Revenue Service will be glad to furnish you with an Income Tax table.

The boating season is here and accidents from water related sports are beginning to climb. Boating and other water sports can be fun and relaxing, when conducted in a safe manner.

Though we have a boat safety law, boaters do not always take the time to become familiar with its provisions. One mistake in a boat can mean trouble or even result in a disaster.

These suggestions for making water sports safer should be followed: Never overload a boat with passengers. It has a rated capacity which should be observed. Always have an extra paddle in the boat in case one is broken or lost. Before leaving shore, ask an informed person about hazards in the lake or stream.

Wear clothing and shoes that can be removed easily in case the boat sinks or capsizes. Have an approved life preserver available for every passenger and see that it is worn. If a motor is used, make certain it is the proper size and horsepower for the boat. Be as cautious when steering the boat as when steering a car. Learn and observe the rules of water such as speed limits, yielding the right-of-way and forbidden zones.

Never stand in a small boat. Wear clothing which will protect against sunburn. Water reflects sunshine and never go boating when winds are high or severe weather warnings are out.

Isn't it terrible how close some motorists drive ahead of you?

Fun, Love, Spies, With Doris Day

The title of the film showing Sunday and Monday nights at the Eagle Drive-In is The Glass Bottom Boat, but it is much more concerned with the very modern world of rocketry and espionage than it is with tourist cruisers around Santa Catalina Island.

However, the fact that title has a minimum of relation to the action of the film takes nothing away from the delightful just under two hours of sight gags and frenzied comedy, often hilarious, in this Martin Melcher-Everett Freeman production.

The star is Doris Day and the vehicle marks a return for Miss Day into the kind of frantic romantic portrayals which have made her one of filmdom's most popular performers.

Miss Day plays a conscientious public relations worker in the Taylor-Martin firm who becomes suspected of espionage herself as she follows her assignment to do a Taylor biography. That she ends up sealing her romance with Taylor is not an unexpected conclusion to the film, but along the way she becomes suspect as a spy because she calls her dog Vladimir. She sings a trio of tuneful songs and she wears some of the most gorgeous fashions ever created for a film.

The story for The Glass Bottom Boat is an original by co-producer Freeman in which he injects some clever ideas about space gimmicks, but it is director Frank Tashlin who milks each situation for the maximum in laugh-provoking situations.

The Freeman script is a rather loose concoction; but that does not make much difference since the whole idea builds to a smash laugh ending. The music makes an unusually top contribution to the picture.

A bouquet also should go to chief cameraman Leon Shamroy who knows where to focus his lenses for the best angles. The color, too, is both deep-toned and brilliantly-hued.

In a word: Fun for all and especially for the Doris Day lovers.

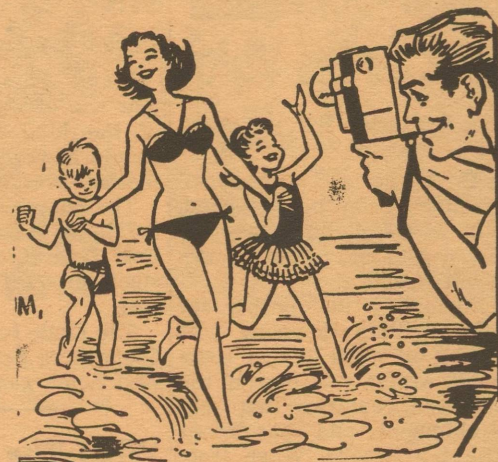

The cast:
Jennifer Nelson -----Doris Day
Bruce Templeton -----Rod Taylor
Axel Nordstrom -----Arthur Godfrey
Ralph Goodwin -----John McIVER
Homer Cripps -----Paul Lynde
Gen. W. Bleecker -----Edw. Andrews
Edgar Hill -----Erick Fleming
Julius Pritter -----Dom De Luise
Zack Molloy -----Dick Martin
Mrs. Fenimore -----Alice Pearce

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

Last week at the District 4-H Camp at Lake Brownwood the 150 boys and girls from the 22 surrounding counties had a wonderful time together. Each evening there were well planned parties that afforded "fun and games" for every one there which included the youngest, shyest 4-H member to the most experienced Extension agent on the grounds.

One contest was called a space walk and the instructions for playing ran like this:

This is a relay race. Players are divided into two groups behind two lines about 1 1/2 inches wide and 15 feet long. These lines may be made by using masking tape. Two pairs binoculars are needed.

The first player is given a pair of binoculars. The player looks through the large end of the binoculars and attempts to walk the line. If a player steps off the line, he must start again. The first side through wins the space walk.

This all sounds simple and maybe not even funny, but you should have watched these boys and girls try to do it. They became unbalanced, waggled all over the line, were afraid to put one foot ahead of another and one actually fell down!

What was the catch? They were looking through the wrong end of the binoculars. The big end. Everything was out of focus. That made the difference and for the spectators it was hard to understand all the "to do" over walking a simple line.

I relate this incident because as I watched these wonderful boys and girls go through such gyrations at the party the other night it suddenly occurred to me that we adults have trouble with a simple straight line because we are looking through the wrong end of the glasses. We make a big deal out of, to the man on the sidelines watching, nothing. We even fall down because we've stood on one foot too long trying to figure out what to do with the next foot. In that little party game some of the timid had to leave the race altogether; they never did finish. Moral: if you find yourself unbalanced with both feet on the floor, maybe it's time to change the perspective.

Another cute thing happened at the opening of camp assembly. The District 4-H Council Chairman presided and he was as cool as a breeze.

With the confidence of an Everett Dirksen he announced that he would "at this time distinguish a few guests," and went on to say that if he would please, would Mr. Curly Hays of Abilene please distinguish his guests first. Curly distinguished them.

Our 4-H campers and their leader who went along, Mrs. Ira Dean Day, want to say a loud and clear "Thank you" to Mr. Don McCormick and his organization, the Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op., Inc., for making their trip possible. For their assistance at the annual Co-Op barbecue, Don thanks the 4-H girls by contributing to their camp fund.

Dena Ray Day, Leslie Nixon and Mary Lynn McCalla were the '67 camping girls from Schleicher county; there was no finer group at the whole camp than these girls and I do believe they had the time of their lives. Or so they said.

To qualify as a District camper, a boy or girl must be 14 years of age by camp date and must have finished two years of 4-H work.

I'm taking applications for 1968 campers any time from now on. If you are interested or know one who is, please call; the number is 853-2715.

When one does something automatically or mechanically it is said to be done by rote.

It looks like I did something by rote last week.

Miss Marcom Becomes Bride Of Mr. Carlman In Abilene Church

MRS. TERRANCE ROBERT CARLMAN

In a ceremony at 12:00 noon June 8rd in St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Abilene, Miss Sandra Kay Marcom became the bride of Mr. Terrance Robert Carlman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carlman of Eldorado.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Marcom of Sacramento, California.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length satin gown in candlelight shade, bordered at the hem by beaded lace. A mantilla, brought to the bride from Belgium by her parents, served as veil and train. She carried a nosegay of daisies and baby's breath.

Beverly Marcom of San Clemente, Cal., served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of gold crepe and carried a basket of blue cornflowers, red carnations, and yellow daisies.

Best man was Jerry Carlman of Eldorado, brother of the groom. David Steen of Eldorado and Kenneth Farrington of Abilene were ushers.

Fr. William Weeks Eastburn, Vicar of St. Mark's, officiated. Mrs. Macon Summerlin was organist.

Music was "Wedding Suite from the Missa Mirialis" written especially for the bride and groom by Miss Mary Truely of Abilene.

The reception was held in the Windsor Hotel.

The couple are at home at 1922 W. Chestnut in Denton, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carlman hosted the rehearsal dinner in the Windsor hotel.

Included in the house party were Miss Kathy Carlman of Eldorado, sister of the groom; Miss Antonella Betti, and Mrs. Claudia Betti of Abilene; and Miss Nicki Fletcher of Houston.

By rote, I wrote, LBJ Ice Cream Pecan Pie instead of just, "Cream Pie" over the top of the recipe appearing in the column. Honestly, there was not a scoop of ice cream in the whole recipe. My apologies to you, my beloved readers, for having caused you to look all over the paper for freezing directions for that cream pie.

I got the recipe from Stonewall, President Johnson's home community, and the person who gave it to me said that it was the president's favorite pie. I'm not surprised; it is just that good.

$236,904 Paid Here In S. S. Benefits

$236,904 in social security benefits was paid to residents of Schleicher County last year, up 4.4% from the year before.

At the end of 1966, 305 men, women and children were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $19,742, Ted F. Moellering, social security district manager in San Angelo, reported. "258 were older people," he said, "receiving benefits as retired workers, the wives and husbands of retired workers and as the surviving widows or aged dependent parent of workers who have died."

But social security is not just for older people, Moellering pointed out. 28 young widows and children in Schleicher County were receiving monthly benefits amounting to $998 at the end of December. 19 disabled workers and dependents were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $1,274. Practically every young family in Schleicher County has survivors protection under social security that can be worth $75,000 or more, and equally valuable disability insurance protection.

"The average worker," he said, "can expect to collect more than the value of his social security tax contributions just in the benefits payable to him and his wife in retirement." If he does not live to retirement, his family stands to collect far more than the contributions he has paid; and the same will be true if he should become totally disabled for work before 65.

Monthly payments to the family of a worker who dies, leaving two or more children, can range from $66 to $368 a month, depending on the worker's average earnings under social security. "Social security survivors benefits," Moellering said, "can be paid to the family of a young man who has worked and paid social security contributions for as little as a year and a half during the three years before his death."

Benefits to the mother and children continue until the youngest child reaches 18, or indefinitely, if the child has a disability which began before his 18th birthday and makes it impossible for him to work and become self-supporting. Under a change in the law enacted in 1965, a child's benefits can be continued up until age 22 if he or she continues in school.

Under the schedule of taxes in the present social security law even the group of young workers who will start work in 1974, after the maximum tax rates for old-age, survivors, and disability insurance go into effect, will pay only about 30 to 35% of the value of their potential benefits. The matching contributions paid by their employers will account for the other 15 to 20%.

Over a working lifetime of 45 years, ending with his retirement at 65 in the year 2019, a young worker who earned the top amount covered by social security in every year would contribute a total of $10,318 toward his retirement protection. Adding interest, compounded at 3 3/4%, the value of the worker's contributions at age 65 would be $26,412. The value of the benefits payable to him and his wife in retirement, assuming average life expectancy, would be $32,853, 20% more than the value of his total social security contributions.

"These calculations," Moellering said, "are based on an assumption that the law will not be changed at all during the young worker's lifetime. It can be expected that there will continue to be changes in the law to improve benefits—there have been in the past."

As pointed out in testimony before the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, in hearings in changes in the law now being considered, the finance of the social security system allows for increases in the benefit level as earnings rise in the future without any change in the contributions rates.

Boys State Delegates Are Now In Austin

Austin, Texas.—The 27th annual American Legion Boys State sponsored by the Department of Texas and held on the Campus of the University of Texas, got under way June 10 as 750 high school boys from all parts of Texas began registration, Jack W. Flynt, Department Commander, announced.

Among those registering was John Dale (Rusty) Meador of Eldorado, who was sponsored by the Bev McCormick Post of The American Legion.

Following registration, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties—the Longhorn or Pioneer. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party; he attends its precinct, county and state conventions and votes in its primary.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

Highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the Capitol on Friday morning where each elected Boys State Official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day, followed by the Governor's Bay Friday evening.

Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 12,656 junior high school boys who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Historical Meeting Set For Friday

The Schleicher County Historical Survey Committee will meet tomorrow night (Friday, June 16) in the Memorial Building. The time is 8:00 o'clock. We will begin on time and the meeting will last an hour. Everyone is invited.

Mr. H. G. Smith of San Angelo will talk to us about his early experiences. He once attended school in Eldorado and was in the class with Payne Robinson, Sr., Miss John Alexander, the late Houston Smith of Ozona and others. He is writing a book about his life and I believe you will enjoy him. Mr. Smith is the brother of the late Mrs. John Lueddecke of Eldorado.

The Schleicher County Historical Survey Committee is more than a local organization. It is part of a state-wide and national set-up. The State Historical Survey Committee was founded some years ago by Governor appointments. It has organized the entire state thru its counties. Each county has a Historical Survey Committee. This is the official name of each organization. The officers are appointed by the County Judge. The purposes of local unit is to obtain and preserve local history, put up state markers at historical points, and honor outstanding citizens. The Kimble County Historical Survey Committee has recently honored a citizen of theirs, former Governor Coke Stevenson, by placing a beautiful marker on the court house lawn in Junction. Some of our members attended the unveiling and the big celebration.

Our organization has already voted to honor, with a marker, the late Mr. C. C. Doty, first permanent white citizen of Schleicher County. We are working to get the money together for this marker for we want it to be nice. Won't you come and join us. We need young people as well as "old timers," for the young are the ones who will carry on our history and development. —Sarah Miltia Hill, chairman.

Our
WASHINGTON
Letter

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

Savings accounts by men and women in military service abroad have become a popular practice. It encourages savings from monthly pay checks and provides a convenient way for those in the service to hold onto some of their earnings.

An inequity in the law which permits this practice was recently called to my attention—and steps are now being taken to amend the law. At present such regular deposits for savings are not permitted by those who become missing in action or prisoners of war. Their monthly pay is held for them (or their heirs, if something should happen to them), but no interest accumulates as would be true if the savings procedure is followed. A committee of which I am chairman is now considering this inequity. We propose to correct this flaw in the law. Let us hope there will be little occasion to make use of the amended provision after we enact it.

This same committee recently obtained passage of another amendment which will allow the government to pay the costs of school tuition and transportation for dependents of military service members overseas, where local schools are not available. Such payments may now be made for dependents of civilian U. S. personnel abroad. But not so with military dependents. This obvious inequity is now in the process of being corrected.

Field Day Set Friday At Sonora Station

A field meeting of the Texas Section of the American Society of Range Management will be held at the Ranch Experiment Station, near Sonora, Texas starting around 9:00 a.m. on Friday, June 16. Dr. Leo B. Merrill will conduct the morning tour and discuss the various grazing systems which are presently being tested on the Experiment Station. Dr. Merrill is considered to be the best qualified man in the Southwest to tell ranchers how to make money without sufficient rainfall.

After lunch a short list of speakers, including Dr. C. L. Leinweber, head of the Range Science Department at Texas A&M University, will discuss various aspects of rangeland management.

A barbecue lunch will be served by the Sutton County 4-H Club at $1.00 per plate.

All members of the Range Society, ranchers, Soil Conservation Service employees, teachers, County Agents and any other persons interested in ranching are urged to attend this meeting.

Austin, Texas.—A task force of federal officials, here for a conference on federal-state relations, got an earful from disgruntled state agency officials who complained of poor communication between Austin and Washington.

Gov. John Connally opened the conference by telling the men from D. C. that the federal grant system is characterized "by misunderstanding, disharmony and, in some instances, utter confusion."

Other state officials got down to specifics when the conference broke up into small groups to discuss intergovernmental coordination, health and welfare, education, water development, outdoor recreation, economic opportunity and manpower development.

They said they want to be consulted in advance about proposed programs; they want federal agencies to work through state agencies on local programs; they want block grants which would give state agencies greater latitude in tailoring federal programs to fit local needs; and they want specific, unconflicting instructions from Washington as to what is expected of them.

Since the federal officials had been through similar sessions in 39 other states, they took the criticism without flinching.

Enough Oil?
Texas Railroad Commission is keeping an eye peeled on the Middle East Crisis in case it becomes necessary for Texas to help make up for crude oil shortages growing out of the hostilities between the Israelis and the Arab nations. Commission Chairman Jim C. Langdon said Texas has enough reserves to meet any emergency; but while increasing oil allowances is easy, overcoming logistical problems would require ingenuity.

Institute of Texan Cultures

Newest state office to open in Austin is the Institute of Texan Cultures. Its task is to assemble educational exhibit material for the ITC building at the HemisFair in San Antonio.

After HemisFair '68 closes its six months' run, the educational program by the State of Texas will be continued there as a permanent feature.

Institute is under the direction of H. Henderson Shuffler, former West Texas newspaperman who has been heading the UT Texana programs for the past five years. Exhibits will portray the colorful history of Texas in terms of the people who made that history.

Courts Speak

Supreme Court will hear arguments July 19 on whether parents can collect damages for premature birth and subsequent death of a child due to injury of the mother in an accident.

In other questions the high court: —Agreed to review the $200,000 judgment favoring a workman who was burned when his bulldozer burst an underground pipeline in Brazoria county.

—Upheld a trial court decision awarding damages to a woman who lost her hair from application of a lanolin bath on bleached hair (extending doctrine of strict liability to cases other than food-stuff).

—Found parents of injured child who poured kerosene on smoldering stick are not barred from suit against an oil company which allegedly adulterated fuel with gasoline.

Agriculture & Urban Legislation

Although the lawmakers turned down a proposal for creation of a coordinating board to study problems in agriculture, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White was given the job—and the money—to make the sort of studies envisioned for the proposed super-board.

In the appropriations bill, funds were earmarked for studies on ways to expand marketing outlets for Texas commodities and research on boll weevil eradication, aflatoxin control, peanuts, plums, peaches, dairy products, fire ants, castor beans, vegetables, cotton, mohair, wool and statistics on county farms.

In addition, appropriations were bigger and better than ever for the Texas Animal Health Commission, A&M's Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service, salaries for teachers of veterinary medicine and the Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory.

Attorney General Rules

Texas gas and oil production taxes do not apply to gas and oil which is severed in Texas, but produced from reservoir located entirely out of state, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

In other opinions Martin concluded that: —"Cable tv" concerns are not required to pay gross receipts tax charged telegraph message companies.

—Parks and Wildlife Department has authority to control and protect marl, sand, shells, gravel and oyster-bed resources and to seek court action to protect fish and shell-fish freeing grounds against disturbances (except those necessary to navigational purposes).

—Lamar County Hospital district may pay private institutions located within its district for medical care rendered to needy and indigent in district's own facilities.

—State Board of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists has authority to refuse to issue a license for operation of a business which has same name as one previously licensed and still in operation.

—Sharpstown State Bank can purchase a building in Sharpstown Center, Houston, with legal limitations governing bank investment in capital.

School Administrators' Salaries

By increasing salaries for classroom teachers, the Legislature also raised the pay of administrators, principals and counselors whose base pay is what they would make if they were classroom teachers.

Depending on degrees earned and years of experience, a classroom teacher may, under the new law, be paid anything from $3,132 to $6,912 for nine months.

With the same conditions applying, administrative personnel get the same sums, but spread over 12 months for superintendents, 11 months for principals and 10 months for counselors.

On top of the base pay, each superintendent gets a 20% to 40% increment, depending on the size of his school system; each principal gets a 20% increment; and each counselor gets a $300 increment.

Under the new law, the lowest possible salary for a superintendent is $5,011.20 and the highest possible salary is $12,902.40. Principals can earn as little as $4,593.60 and as much as $10,137.60. Salary scale for counselors will run from $3,780 to $7,980.

Pollution Board To Visit

President's Water Pollution Control Advisory Board will visit Texas June 26-29 to survey state pollution problems first hand and study solutions being undertaken.

Nine-member board will visit Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Galveston and Houston. Trip will be climaxed June 29 by a public meeting at the Rice Hotel in Houston.

Padded Payrolls

Governor Connally is keeping state employees and legislators guessing as to whether he will veto a bill which would improve retirement benefits for both.

Connally has made known he is giving serious consideration to a veto because lawmakers tagged benefits for themselves onto a bill designed originally for state employees.

While retired workers would get a 10% hike in their pensions, credit for five years military time, disability provisions and benefits for widows and dependent children, legislators would receive a 50% hike in their retirement compensation under the tampered bill that passed late in the session.

Connally resented the manner in which the legislators' extra compensation was written into the bill in conference committee rather than by open floor amendments. Bill would raise legislators' retirement from $100 to $150 a month for eight years' service. Also, it increases longevity add-ons from $10 to $15 a month for each year of service beyond the 10-year mark.

Speaker Ben Barnes has urged the governor to veto the bill. If he does, he will probably submit the employee retirement benefits proposal at th special session next year.

July Draft Quota 974

Texas draft boards will be called on to furnish the Army 974 men during July, Selective Service Director Col. Morris S. Schwartz has announced. National call will total 19,900.

Monthly calls from January thru June ranged from a low of 674 to a high of 1,110.

In July 155 local draft boards will forward 5,016 men for draft pre-induction examination. It's an increase from 4,000 in June.

Airborne Brigade Planned

National Guard reshuffle will bring Texas a new airborne unit and two other brigades.

Adjutant General Thomas S. Bishop said the all-volunteer airborne brigade assignment (originally slated to go to Alabama) still is subject to approval by U. S. National Guard Bureau.

Under reorganization, the Texas 49th armored and 36th infantry divisions will be replaced by a new mechanized infantry brigade and high-priority 36th infantry brigade. State also will get an army aviation group.

Short Snorts . . .

Highway Commission has approved new farm to market road program which calls for development of 949.3 miles of secondary roads in the state, including 228 projects in 166 counties, covering 623 miles at a cost of $24.6 million.

Parks and Wildlife Commission is weighing the merits of setting the deer hunting season as November 1 through January 15 and will announce its decision in July after public hearings have ended.

Highway Department tourist bureaus have extended their hours from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in preparation for an expected record number of out-of-state visitors.

“Freedom must be at all times defended, because it is at all times besieged. Not all of us are called to fight on the battlefield. Many of us must, quietly and firmly, do what we can and all that we must, here at home. Buying Bonds, regularly, is as important to this nation in the long reach of history as almost anything we can do.”

When you buy U.S. Savings Bonds regularly—through Payroll Savings where you work or Bond-a-Month where you bank—you are also entitled to purchase new Freedom Shares. Freedom Shares are short-term Savings Notes. They pay a higher return than Savings Bonds (4.74% when held to maturity in 4½ years), may be bought one-for-one with Bonds in four denominations, and are redeemable after one year.
