Trash Disposal Study Made By City And County

Mayor Calk and city council members met Monday with the County Commissioners and discussed at considerable length the problem of trash disposal.

Back of it all is the terrible, unsanitary condition of the old dump ground located across the railroad tracks on beyond the Mexican section of town. Used for many years, the area is so full that dumping is being done alongside the Rudd road which passes the area.

What is being considered is a new location for a "sanitary disposal" and a complete closing of the old dump ground, which has become an eye-sore and a health menace.

The sanitary disposal plan would call for purchase of new land where there was deep soil and no rocks, where deep pits would be dug for trash. When a pit was full of trash it would be chemically treated and covered with dirt, and a new pit would be opened. After passage of several years the first pit could be re-opened and used again. City and county officials have visited other cities where the system is in operation and found to be workable.

If—and when—a new location is decided upon and purchased, the new dump area would be fenced and supervised—perhaps a custodian living nearby would be in charge and would direct dumping procedures.

The joint meeting Monday explored all of these possibilities. County Commissioners have offered to co-operate by furnishing their county road equipment and perhaps other aid. The question of a site was discussed and several possible locations were mentioned. They were all several miles from town and considerable distance from any family dwelling. "No one wants a dump ground next door."

After a lengthy meeting it was decided to meet again on Monday, February 27th, at which time it is hoped that the problems will be resolved.

In the meantime conditions in the old dump ground continue to get worse and are becoming a menace. Both city and county officials are anxious to do something about it, before they are forced to do so by the State Health Department.

Rites Held Sunday For Mrs. Freund

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 in the First Methodist Church for Mrs. Emma R. Freund, 86, who died early Saturday morning in a Menard hospital after a long illness.

The Rev. D. G. Salter officiated and interment was made in Eldorado cemetery under direction of Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

The deceased was born May 13, 1880, in Fall River, Mass. She had lived in Schleicher county since 1917. She was married to Harry Freund in 1914 at El Paso.

Her only survivor is her husband.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Niblett over the week end were her parents, the Freemans of Crane.

The couple also have a daughter, 2 1/2-year-old Joan.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams and Mrs. C. M. Reynolds.

Architect Goes Over Hospital Plans With Pasadena Doctors

Donald R. Goss, San Angelo architect who is working on plans for this county's proposed hospital spent all day Sunday in Pasadena with the doctors who are interested in running it.

In a report Tuesday to Chairman McCormick, Mr. Goss explained that he went over the plans in detail with the doctors and they offered a number of conservative changes. Goss remarked that "those doctors are very cost-conscious." The basic plan they came up with is for an 18-bed hospital with 6 private rooms and 6 semi-private rooms; and a nursing wing of 15 rooms.

Mr. Goss said that he was in the process of revising his plans and they will be re-submitted to the doctors at a later date. Two more meetings are anticipated.

In the meantime a committee member phoned Rep. Hilary Doran Tuesday and was informed that the Schleicher County Hospital District bill was scheduled on the House calendar for Thursday, March 16 (today). If the calendar was too crowded that day, then it would be called on March 22, which is next Wednesday.

"Color me cool!" is the heading of a garment advertisement being run in this month's issue of Mademoiselle magazine by a dress shop in Norman, Okla., located next to the Oklahoma University campus.

The ad goes on to describe the garment as "our low-pocketed shift of easy care, 50% Dacron and 50% Orlon—All detailed with contrast stitching, bright signal red tops a side pleated navy skirt."

And why do we go into all this detail about a style shop away up in Oklahoma?

Just this—

The garment they are advertising is a creation of El Dorado Woolens right here in Eldorado, Texas !!

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

An oddity of the Adam Powell fiasco has been the widespread injection of racism into the case. Powell's suit to be sworn in, filed last week, claims the vote against seating him was because he was a Negro. And his Harlem cohorts have blasted "whitey" for Adam's fate, and openly threatened to invoke a "Burn, baby, burn!" way of showing their resentment. That was the war cry employed by Negroes during the tragic Watts riot in Los Angeles.

The United Council of Harlem Organizations, made up of 87 civil rights groups in the area, held a meeting following Powell's exclusion, to denounce the House action.

"What has just been done is an insult to every Negro voter in America," screamed Hulan Jack, the organization's chairman.

Black Nationalist James Lawson warned: "The slogan of Watts is going to be adopted by the Black Nationalists. If Powell is not seated and given his chairmanship back, he said, that is "Burn, baby, burn!"

At a three-hour mass pro-Powell rally held in Adam's Harlem church, the tone of the afternoon, according to the press, was set when many in the audience refused to stand at the playing of the Star Spangled Banner. There were shouts of "No! No!" We ain't represented in Congress, we ain't going to sing."

And at the delayed conclusion of the National Anthem, the audience almost unanimously boomed.

The tragedy of this unpatriotic display is that it reveals the practice of racism at its worst. It presupposes that Powell could do no wrong and that the sole reason for the refusal to seat him was that he was a Negro.

Nothing could be further from the truth. It serves to disclose how utterly irresponsible a constituency can be—basing their support of a representative solely upon his color, with no concern whatever for qualifications or behavior.

The outgrowth of Adam's lawsuit to force the Speaker to swear him in may be an historic confrontation between the judicial and legislative branches of the government. There is ample reason to believe that the House may decide to refuse to honor any court order, as many of us believe it has a right to do in this situation.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column
By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

Last Thursday was a good day for draper makers. The occasion which made it so was a drapery making workshop and over 20 women were present for the all day working session which was held in the Lions room of the Memorial Building.

This kind of a day was planned for those with a "special interest" in this case the interest was in learning how to make draw draperies. And as someone quipped, "draw draperies that will draw." When the day ended at about 5:30 for some, each person had a small drapery which was hers to keep as a sample to go by when the time came to make a much bigger drapery. In most cases the drapery was finished or if it was not the finishing steps were well understood.

Mrs. Louise Decker Barlemann, former Home Demonstration Agent in Runnels county and now the wife of a Highway Engineer living in Sonora, was our good teacher. Mrs. Barlemann did an excellent job and is invited to come back whenever she can.

Louise remarked that she was putting her home making knowledge to work; she has just completed making draperies for all the rooms of the house in which she now lives.

Three or four workshop members had to have their day interrupted and for various reasons a half dozen or so could not come for any part of the day. If enough women are interested the workshop will be repeated in the near future. If you are one of the interested, please call 2715, or drop me a note, and we will work something out.

Mrs. Barlemann reminded the group at the end of the day that not every homemaker could afford custom made draperies in her house but that when she was able to make them she certainly could. In reply to this statement a member of the class remarked, "Not only have I learned to make a drapery, I've learned why the stores and shops charge so much for making them and I must say it is worth every dollar that they charge."

Other special interest workshops being planned include lessons on the refinishing of furniture, drivers review and a series of lessons on health. Watch for the announcement of a workshop which might spark your interest. Everybody is welcome, and everybody is invited. If one class fills up, we will arrange another.

Not too long ago I was ready to put the window washing directions in the column again and then I thought, "not this week—I'll wait until it has warmed up a little." It has warmed up enough—March 13—and it's 90 in the shade.

The Story of the Clean Window Or Windows Tell Tales

Windows are made to look through. Since it isn't possible to see out if the glass is dirty, it is necessary to dust windows every week and to wash the glass just as soon as it begins to look dingy.

To get ready for washing windows, the user should select the type of window cleaner she prefers. Stores sell many products especially formulated to clean windows. Some are sprays, some liquids, and some creams. Every container carries directions on how to use the content, and these should be followed carefully for best results.

However, it isn't always necessary to buy something special to wash glass. Warm soap or detergent suds will do a good job. When using sudsy water for washing, ANY ONE of these brighteners may be added to the rinse water:

- 2 tablespoons ammonia
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 tablespoon kerosene
- ½ cup rubbing alcohol
- 1 tablespoon borax.

Windows can also be washed successfully by using just warm water with ammonia, borax, vinegar, kerosene, or rubbing alcohol added.

The first step is to take down the curtains and shake out the dust. If they are dirty, this is a good time to wash them. The next step is to pull down the shades, dust them on both sides, roll them up, and remove them from their brackets.

The window frames and the window sills need to be dusted, and very dirty windows should be wiped on both sides with a DAMP cloth. It is important to avoid rubbing DRY dirt because this will scratch the glass.

It is best to wash one pane at a time, using a sponge or cloth dipped into the washing solution—followed by rinsing that part of the window with a clean damp cloth, and always changing the wash and rinse water as soon as soiled. The finishing step is to dry and polish the clean glass by rubbing it with crumpled newspaper.

A handy trick is to wash windows from side to side indoors, and up and down outdoors. This makes it easy to tell which side to rub again if any streaks show up.

If a special window cleaner is used on the glass, it should be wiped off promptly with a dry cloth—followed by rubbing the glass with a clean cloth or with a newspaper to make it shine.

Once the windows are clean and dry, the frames and sills should be cleaned before rehanging the clean curtains and shades.

Special Tips for Window Washers
Never lean out of a window, and never stand outside on a sill to wash windows. Most windows can be washed by pushing the bottom half up, and the top half down to facilitate reaching outside. Some first floor windows can be washed by standing on a ladder outside—but never lean the ladder against the glass.

When using a special window cleaner, avoid getting it on the painted frame or woodwork around the window.

If feasible, use a hose to wet the windows outside before you wash them.

When windows are washed during cold weather, add alcohol to the wash and rinse water. This will prevent freezing over, and will also help to keep the glass from steaming up.

Wet a small brush in the wash water and use it to clean into the corners of the window frame. Or wrap a little wet cotton around a toothpick or a match and use this to clean out the corners.

Don't wash windows when the sun shines right on them—because the warm sun dries the glass so fast that it will look streaked.

Use a clean floor mop dipped into the wash water when washing the outside of a big picture window, then rinse it with water from a hose. Or wring the mop out of clean water with some ammonia added, and use this to rinse the glass.

A squeegee or a windshield wiper is helpful to dry windows after washing. Hold it flat against the glass and scrape it down in a straight line, drying the wiper off with a cloth after each stroke.

Another way to polish clean glass is by rubbing it with a soft cloth.

Rub a bar of soap over the window ropes once in a while to make the windows go up and down without sticking.

Wash mirrors and picture frames the same way as windows. Just hold a blotter or a piece of cardboard against the frame so water can't seep inside.

Nine-Day Slaw

- 1 medium sized head of cabbage, shredded;
- 3 bell peppers, cut into strips;
- 4 carrots, shredded;
- 4 medium onions, thinly sliced
- 1 teaspoon celery seed
- 1 teaspoon mustard seed
- ¼ cup salt
- 2 cups white vinegar
- 2 cups sugar.

Prepare vegetables, sprinkle salt over them and let stand 2 hours. Drain well. Add mustard and celery seeds, vinegar and sugar.

Refrigerate in a covered dish. This is good served either as a relish or a salad slaw. It will keep nine days if you never put it on the table. Mighty tasty with red beans—pinto beans to some of you.

Compliments are like perfume; it's all right to take a whiff, but you're not supposed to swallow it.

Operation Sparkle

Brother of Local Woman Shot Down over Vietnam

Major John Clayton, brother of Mrs. Robert Oglesby of Eldorado, is serving in Vietnam and was recently shot down in enemy territory and had to hide out for about two hours before he was rescued and taken back to a base hospital.

A letter from Maj. Clayton reached the Oglesbys this week, stating in part:

"My latest experience was getting shot down on 28 Feb. I spent about an hour and a half hiding from the bad guys until the rescue chopper arrived. They could have been beating the brush for me, so now I know what it is like to be hunted. It's a good place to get acquainted with the Lord.

"Anyway I survived o.k., except for a scratched up face and neck plus an injured back. The docs say I have two compressed disks plus a severe muscle spasm. I'm just now getting where I can sit up for a little while. Happiness takes many forms.

"I hope to get out of the hospital in 3 or 4 more days. The docs say I won't be able to fly for about six weeks. I'm not sure what I'll do, but I hope to travel around some.

"Well, time to rest. Save me something to shoot at when I get back. —John."

On Dean's List

KAYE HARKEY

Kaye Harkey, freshman student at Texas Tech in Lubbock, has been named to the Dean's List in the school of Home Economics for the fall semester.

A grade point average of 3.00 is required to be named to the list. Her grade point average was 3.29.

Kaye is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Harkey and was an honor graduate of Eldorado High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Harkey will be in Lubbock Sunday, March 19, when Kaye will be recognized during the annual all-college recognition service. This is the occasion in which the college pays tribute to those of its students who during the preceding two regular semesters have contributed with distinction to the college in the field of scholarship and leadership.

After the service an informal tea will be held in student union building honoring the students who were recognized.

Eaglettes Dominate All District

Generally, the all district team includes only a player or two from each school but this year the opposing coaches honored Eldorado with four places on the first team and two honorable mention. The future strength of the team was indicated in the fact that no seniors were on the first team and only three on honorable mention.

From Eldorado forwards Libby Preston, a junior and Susan Hill, also a junior were named. At guard Sherry Yates and Chris Edmiston were named. Both girls were on the team last year.

The other two starters from the Eldorado team, Susan Mobley, a junior forward and Nancy Jurecek, a senior guard, were named honorable mention.

The entire team also included Felicia Armstrong of Menard at forward and Connie McHorse at guard from Menard.

Joining the Eldorado girls on honorable mention were Marsha McLendon and Laura Lockett from Junction and Susan Decker of Menard.

The selection is made on the boys by vote of opposing coaches. No coach may vote for his own players.

School News

The Eagle Band and their director, Wayne McDonald, expect to go to Brownwood this week end to participate in the solo and ensemble contests.

Billie Gayl Blaylock, Chris Edmiston, Shirley Huble, and Rusty Meador expect to go to Laredo this week end for the state meeting of newly-elected Student Council officers. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mittel.

Public School Week was considered a big success locally. Frank Janes, elementary principal, reported that about 150 called, while Guy Whitaker reported 50 called in high school classes, during the four-day open house last week.

Lions Club Meets

James Glenn of the Area Development Department of West Texas Utilities in Abilene brought the program at the meeting Wednesday of the Eldorado Lions Club.

Mr. Glenn was introduced by C. J. Hahn. Mr. Glenn was spending some time here compiling information on Eldorado for his files in his Abilene office.

He discussed the fact that Texas was fast becoming more industrialized and that each town and city had to put its best foot forward in order to be assured of its share of growth.

He cited the factors involved for each town to lure industry, but also stated that there is terrific competition from other towns and other states.

In the business session, at which Boss Lion Charles Wimer presided, it was reported that the gate receipts for the queen's program Tuesday night were $100.35.

Coach Ray Morgan invited all to the Plateau Relays to be staged here Saturday.

Lion Wimer appointed Ray Boyer, Fred Watson, and C. J. Hahn as a nominating committee to name the new slate of officers for the 1967-68 year.

Lions Hahn and Boyer were appointed to look over the new Constitution to be voted on at the District 2A-1 convention in Midland in April.

In addition to Mr. Glenn of Abilene, other guests were Charles Coombes, West Texas Utilities district manager of San Angelo; Bill Tomerlin, Dallas; Leroy Yarbrough, San Antonio; Dr. Hughes, Angelo State College; and Rev. Kenneth Vaughan and E. C. Peters of Eldorado.

Boss Lion Wimer announced that a Zone Meeting for area officers of Lionism will be held Monday evening at 7:30 in the Java Junction Cafe.

At the beginning of the meeting, Duane Branham led in group singing of "As The Lions Go Roaring Along" accompanied by Mrs. Olson at the piano, Ray Boyer led the Flag Salute, and Rev. D. G. Salter gave the invocation.

Austin, Texas.—Now that virtually all the bill-introducing has been done, Texas Legislators can get down to the business of thrashing out laws.

Under the State Constitution and the rules of each house, a four-fifths vote must be obtained for a bill to be introduced in either house after the first 60 days of the session. That deadline came at the end of last week.

As the 60-day deadline approached, the House had about 1,200 bills on file. Senate had another 500 bills. In addition to these, each house has a number of resolutions to consider.

Subject matter ranges from minor local measures to proposals for sweeping overall changes in the constitution and state agencies.

That 60-day deadline is a magic number in the Senate for another reason, too. A four-fifths vote in the upper chamber is necessary in order to bring up a bill for final action before the first 60 days have elapsed.

Actually, the House is similarly restricted, but the members voted to suspend that rule early in the session.

New Board Proposed

In order to mobilize Texas' vast agricultural resources another board is proposed. It would be known as the Texas Agricultural Development Board.

Noting that Texas is falling behind in the relative growth of one of its key industries, the interim House Study Committee suggests that a 15-member board representative of all areas of the state be appointed by the Governor.

Its duties would be to inventory agricultural assets and needs, establish goals for the industry, prepare an agricultural market program, develop new ways of converting raw agricultural products into marketable items and perform other similar activities designed to boost agriculture in the state.

Tax Hearings On

Major portions of the Governor's $187.3 million tax program came under heavy fire at initial House revenue and tax committee hearings. Industry spokesmen suggested a general sales tax hike as preferable.

Gas industry representatives opposed the proposal to increase the natural gas production tax from 7 to 8%.

Breweries objected to beer being placed under the general sales tax.

Surprisingly, corporations did not speak out against the recommended increase in the corporate franchise tax rate (from $2.25 to $3 per $1,000 on capital and surplus with a gradually decreasing levy on debt.)

Opposition to boosting the gasoline tax from five to six cents a gallon will come at a second hearing set for March 14.

Another big date will be March 21 when the controversial liquor-by-the-drink bill comes up for tax committee review.

A tipoff to opposition strategy was given by William H. Abington of Texas Midcontinent Oil and Gas Association when he suggested the Legislature might find its revenue-raising job easier by adjusting the sales tax.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith says he favors the sales tax approach if new money must be found. He still insists that the budget can be balanced without any new taxation.

Smith indicated that the optional 1% city sales tax bill already passed by the House will be okayed by the Senate.

Redistricting "Gets Worse"

Redistricting is going to be a bigger headache this year than in 1965. So predicts House Speaker Ben Barnes after studying legislative and congressional reapportionment problems.

Some Texas congressmen reportedly are upset. Rep. Gus Mutscher, Brenham, chairman of House district committee, Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian, his Senate counterpart, and Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall visited Washington over the week end to talk with congressmen and swap ideas.

Numerous redistricting bills are in the hopper.

New Governor

Texas will have a "new" governor on March 23. On that date Sen. William Patman of Ganado takes his turn as acting chief executive.

Patman is president pro tempore of the Senate. Each holder of that office traditionally serves as "Governor-For-A-Day" while both the governor and lieutenant governor are out of the state.

Citizens from Patman's 14-county 18th district will be honor guests for the occasion: They will attend an all-day reception in the governor's office and take special tours of the governor's mansion and capitol complex. Patman will sign proclamations, honorary appointments and bills.

An exhibit by artists from Patman's district will be displayed in the capitol on that date.

Recalling that the first seat of Texas government was at Washington on the Brazos (in Patman's district), a special display of historical items from the area also will be set up. These will be in the State Library and Archives Building.

School Testing

This spring approximately 80,000 seniors in 296 high schools in 128 school districts will be given an opportunity by the state to analyze critically and constructively their schools and their teachers.

Public School Education Committee is sponsoring the unique questionnaires. Purpose is to measure what the students have learned and how well they can use their knowledge.

Results of the study will be related to a massive data-gathering project to give a full picture of the state's public-school-education system.

Mansion Grounds

Mrs. John Connally has unveiled a model representing detailed plans for landscaping and beautifying the grounds of the Governor's Mansion.

She used the unveiling to launch a state-wide fund-raising project, in coordination with the new Texas Fine Arts Commission and the Texas Garden Clubs. Project is to be financed completely by donations.

Plans for the habilitation of the grounds were drawn up by Joe Lambert of Dallas. Specifications are being drafted by the State Building Commission. Construction is to begin this summer.

Sniper Took Drugs

University of Texas sniper Charles J. Whitman "ate" amphetamine drugs "like popcorn," and found a seemingly-endless supply through illegal sources. A legislative committee was given this information by C. Dean Davis, general counsel for the Texas State Board of Pharmacy.

His comments concerning the killer of 16, in that murderous rampage last August 1, overshadowed hearings on bills to place LSD, amphetamines, barbiturates and a variety of hallucinogens on the dangerous drug list.

Bills went to sub-committee after lengthy hearings.

Short Snorts . . .

Senators sent the four-year-term constitutional amendment bill back to committee for reconsideration after it was approved 5-4.

Voting on the feed lot licensing and regulating bill has been postponed in the House until March 21.

House passed a bill to authorize the Parks and Wildlife Commission to restore and maintain historic forts, missions and other important sites.

The $28,500 Doorkeeper . . .

Members of Congress who pledge to trim the war on poverty might look first to the private war being waged on Capitol Hill.

Payroll costs in the House have skyrocketed 84% in the last six years. The House's private postmaster, who handles 100 million pieces of mail a year, makes $24,500. The postmaster of Chicago, responsible for 66 times as much mail, makes $550 a year less.

Shorthand reporters who record debate get $20,800 a year. The men who call the roll and record it make $19,200. The highest-paid men in the House, other than the $30,000-a-year congressman, is the head doorkeeper. He hauls down $28,500 per annum.

Salaries in the House last year totaled $46.5 million, not quite twice the Senate's $25.8 million. The latter total included $15,880 for the Senate chaplain, who reads a brief prayer to open each session.

In all, there are 494 jobs on Capitol Hill that pay $20,000 a year or more. Many of these are on legislative committees, where staffers can make up to $25,890.

Meanwhile the 100 senators can avail themselves of haircuts at public expense. The House employs 10 barbers at $6,000 each, but each member pays a dollar for a haircut, with the public putting up the other half.

The haircut subsidy fits well into the over-all picture. While the lawmakers are being trimmed, the public is getting clipped. —The Dallas Morning News.

Hamburger Coming Up

by Betty Crocker

Trying to stash away cash for the Easter bonnet fund? O.K., then, let's glorify hamburger — the best friend a pennypincher ever had. For a starter, here's a cheeseburger surprise: A chunk of blue cheese bedded inside a quarter pound of ground beef. You'll rival the local drive-in with that one. Or, how's this for entertaining on a shoestring? Meatballs with Italian spaghetti. Or marvelous lasagne, very "in" this season. And of course you'll serve the family economical meat loaf — but yours will look extravagant. Little individual loaves basted with barbecue sauce. Or try one of my recipes below. They both help you save but never ever let it show.

HAMBURGER LATTICE LOAF

- 1 pound ground beef
- ¼ cup chili sauce
- 1 envelope (1½ ounces) dry onion soup mix or 2 tablespoons instant minced onion
- ¼ cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ teaspoon allspice
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- Short Pie dough (below)

Heat oven to 375°. Mix all ingredients except Short Pie dough. Spread in 9-inch pie pan. Pat Short Pie dough into a 9-inch square on waxed paper. With scissors, cut through waxed paper into 10 strips. Remove paper from half of strips; place about 1 inch apart on meat mixture. Remove paper from remaining strips; weave across other strips for lattice effect. Flute edge on inside rim. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. 6 servings.

Short Pie dough: Place 1 cup Bisquick and ¼ cup butter or margarine in a bowl. Add 3 tablespoons boiling water and stir vigorously with a fork until dough forms a ball and cleans the bowl. Dough will be puffy and soft.

Another day, another way to do a little painless penny-pinching — — —

Meat Loaf a la Mode: Prepare your favorite meat loaf recipe and shape into round layer pan, 9x1½ inches. Press a hole in center to hold excess fat. Pat top of loaf smooth. To serve, cut meat loaf into 6 wedges; top each wedge with a scoop of mashed potatoes. Pretty as pie!

Something green for salad — something good for dessert, like hot gingerbread. Get the picture? You stretch your imagination and you bolster the budget. And, Easter Parade, here we come.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Rosellen and Vonda Maness, ages 12 and 11, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Maness, were the big winners in major competition with their range ewe lambs. These girls showed the 1st and 6th group of range ewes in the San Angelo Fat Stock Show.

The winning group of range ewes were heavily contested by another group from the county shown by Jimmy Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Martin, there being only 5 points separating 1st and 2nd place.

Vonda and Rosellen Maness 1st group of lambs scored in the wool 94, the fleeces after shearing, 91; the ewes, out of the wool, 92; a very creditable showing.

The second group of range ewes fed and exhibited by Jim Martin scored in the wool 95; the fleeces after shearing, 89; the lambs out of the wool, 88.

The range ewes of Rosellen and Vonda and Jimmy Martin were out of the flock of N. J. Billings of Langtry, Texas; Val Verde county. Mr. and Mrs. Billings are the grandparents of Rosellen and Vonda.

N. J. Billings, Rambouillet sheep breeder of Langtry in Val Verde county, bred the ewes.

An old-timer is one who can remember when a baby-sitter was called "Mother".

Weed-killing chemicals, or herbicides, are classed according to their effects upon plants. The types are contact killers, growth regulators and soil sterilants. Contact killers and growth regulators include selective herbicides which kill weeds without harming cultivated crops.

A contact herbicide will kill susceptible weeds sprayed with the chemical. It is toxic to living plant cells and has acute effects, thereby killing the weed quickly or soon after treatment. Contact herbicides control annual weeds but only "burn off" the tops of perennials. Some effective contact herbicides are naphtha oils, paraquat, DSMA and MSMA.

Growth regulators (hormone type) are absorbed by either the roots or above-ground parts and move through the susceptible weed. Chronic effects are produced and symptoms of treatment may not show up for a week or more after spraying. However, an overdose on the leaves may kill the immediate cells quickly and prevent effective translocation. Therefore, to kill underground parts of perennial weeds by leaf treatment, the growth regulator should be applied at low rates and repeated every 2 or 3 weeks as needed. The old axiom, "If a little is good, more will be better," is not true with growth regulators.

Such growth regulators as 2,4-D, 2,4,6-T and silvex are used for weed control in lawns, pastures and rice. Certain growth regulators are controlled by law in Texas so this office should be contacted before using. Soil sterilants prevent the growth of green plants when present in the soil. They can be used to sterilize soil from 4 months to more than 2 years. Sterilants such as monuron, prometone and picloram are useful near industrial areas, on highway rights-of-way and on cropland in fallow.

A helpful publication on the use of herbicides, B 1029, "Suggestions for Weed Control with Chemicals," is available at the county agent's office.

The trouble with good advice is that it usually interferes with our plans.

For maximum performance from a tractor engine, the air-fuel mixture should be just right.

The right air-fuel mixture creates the best atmosphere for the fuel explosion. It takes about 9,360 gallons of air to supply the oxygen to properly burn one gallon of gasoline in a modern farm tractor engine. This figures out to 15 parts of air to one part of gasoline by weight. (These figures are based on regular grade gasoline weighing 6.13 pounds a gallon and an air temperature of 80 degrees when atmospheric air weighs 0.0735 pounds per cubic foot of dry air.)

A multi-cylinder engine, however, produces the highest power ratio of about 12 to 1. Maximum economy is obtained with a 16 to 2 ratio. A one-cylinder engine breathes more efficiently and does best for power at a ratio of 14.4 to 1, and for economy at the 15.7 ratio.

Richest air-fuel mixture that will burn is 8 to 1. Richer than that, the engine is flooded. Leanest mixture that will ignite is about 20 to 1.

Carburetor adjustment should be done by experienced mechanics who have the proper equipment and know-how. Backyard mechanics often foul up carburetor settings and cause fuel wastage. Settings for carburetors should be made in the shop under load with a dynamometer. This simulates field operating conditions. However, carburetor settings for maximum power are not the same as maximum economy settings.

There's only one way to handle women. It's a shame that nobody knows what it is.

Editorial Comment From Our Neighbors

Business Failure Causes . . .

A trade magazine we receive, "The Imperial Magazine", had an interesting article this month about the cause of business failures.

"All of us are given to exaggeration," said the article.

"For instance, I have been reading an article on the cause of business failures, written by an accountant.

"He seems to prove that practically all the failures in business are due to the lack of accounting and auditing. There's truth in every word he says, but—

"The other day I read another article in which the writer proved that all business success hinged on the selling problem. There is truth in every word he said, but—

"I recall another article by a production man. He emphasized so strongly the need for efficiency in the plant that I was unable to see how the sheriff could be kept out unless a business had a corps of production engineers. A lot of truth in what he said, but—"I have just turned the pages of an advertising journal and I find an expert proving that 80% of all business failures are non-advertising companies. He makes a strong case, but—

"A lawyer friend says that any company that tries to get along without a legal advisor courts failure, and maybe he's right, but—

"Where would the businessman be without his banker? This query is prompted by a glance at a calendar on the wall above our desk, bearing the name of a large banking institution.

So it goes. So from this, any person contemplating going into business for himself, and succeed, must be an accountant, a salesman, a production and efficiency expert, an effective advertiser, an attorney and a banker, all rolled into one—no matter what his business preference may be. —Van Horn Advocate.

TEXANS IN "OLD" BRAUNFELS—Shops closed, dignitaries spoke and school children sang when Texas Farm Bureau's 1966 Market-Builder Tour visited Braunfels, Germany. Texas' New Braunfels was settled by immigrants from the old German town. Another group, Sept. 12-26, 1967, will again stop at Braunfels while touring 6 European countries to study possible markets for Texas products, see the sights and promote good will for the Lone Star State. Countries on the 1937 Tour itinerary are France, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland and England. TFB's Market Tour is unique in that members pay their own way while developing foreign markets for their own products.

Historical Group To Hold Meeting Friday

The Schleicher County Historical Survey will meet tomorrow night (Friday, March 17) at the Memorial Building, 7:30 p.m. All citizens are invited, including interested school students. There are no dues, but contributions in any amount are acceptable. Miss Miltia Hill is chairman.

There was such lively interest at the first meeting that it was impossible to hear all that was said. This time we will have a tape recorder. Questions will be asked of an "Old Timer" and the answers recorded.

The February meeting was for Committee Members only. They considered programs for the general meetings, collecting objects and artifacts for a future Schleicher County Museum, and county sites that should be marked at this time. You would be surprised at the county history Tom Meador has already collected. A framed record of an appointment and the scales used at an early Post Office have already been left with Ruth Baker at the County Library.

The Committee has planned 8 sites to be marked and has contacted the Commissioners Court with regard to purchasing the markers. But even with their generosity, we will need private contributions for the beautiful permanent markers are expensive.

The sites under consideration are:

- First School in the county
- First Courthouse
- First General Store
- First Woolen Blanket Mill in Texas
- First County Bank
- First County Post Office
- First Permanent White Settler in Schleicher County
- The First Church.

Board of Supervisors of the Eldorado-Divide S.C.D.

| Voy Lee Butts      | Member        |

The board of supervisors of the Eldorado Divide Soil and Water Conservation District have selected Victor Sauer of Eldorado to compete in the Fort Worth Press Outstanding Conservation Farmer Award program.

Each year the supervisors select the best conservation farmer or rancher in the district to compete for the award. The application and maintenance of all the needed soil, water and plant conservation practices on the land, are the basis on which the selection is made.

The Eldorado Lions Club presents the outstanding conservation farmer or rancher of the district with a plaque each year. Other possible honors are winner of the Outstanding conservation farmer or rancher for Region II and the state.

Sauer was among the first farmers and ranchers to develop a conservation plan on their land after the district was established. Plans were numbered in consecutive order and Sauer's was number 19. He was assisted by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service in preparing the plan. Within a few years Sauer had applied and was maintaining all the needed conservation practices on his farm.

In 1957 Sauer drilled a well for irrigation and began irrigating part of his farm. The change from dry cropland to irrigated cropland, also changed the need of conservation practices on the land. With the assistance of technicians of the S.C.S., Victor revised his conservation plan to include the new conservation practices brought about in the change to irrigated land. Then in 1963, he entered into a contract under the Great Plains Conservation Program to speed up application of his plan.

Sauer completed his Great Plains plan in 1966. During the period of the contract pasture planting was done on 21 acres, range seeding on 10 acres, pipeline for stockwater 184 feet, diversion construction 1293 feet, underground irrigation pipeline 2702 feet, land leveling for irrigated 47 acres (cost shared by A.C.P.) irrigation water management 65 acres, and employed conservation cropping system on 230 acres.

He also maintained 18,480 feet of terraces, that were applied when he first became a cooper with the district, contour farmed 121 acres, pasture and hayland management 21 acres, maintained crop residue use and cover crops on 165 acres, deferred grazing and proper range use on 14 acres.

In addition to applying the conservation practices on his place, Victor assisted the Soil Conservation Service technicians as a rodmann and chairman, in applying the engineering type practices. Also, to help prevent mesquite from becoming a problem, he kills the small trees when they come up. When told about winning the award, Sauer said, "I consider it a great honor to be chosen the outstanding conservation farmer of the district. Also, I think it is good that the Lions Club is interested in soil and water conservation and gives a plaque to the outstanding farmer or rancher each year. I plan to continue applying the needed soil, water and plant conservation practices on my place to get maximum use of rainfall and irrigation water, and to protect it from soil erosion by wind and water."

Soil, water and plant conservation practices applied this year will help determine who will have the honor of being the outstanding conservation farmer or rancher.

There is only one farmer or rancher in each district in Texas that receives the award. However, each person within the state is affected by the conservation treatment given the land by those who win the awards as well as those who do not win.
