Eagles To Launch District Play With Game Friday At Menard

The Eldorado Eagles open their 8A District Championship against the Menard Yellowjackets tomorrow night in Menard. Game time will be 8:00 o'clock in keeping with a ruling or amendment by the 8A District committee early in September.

The 1967 version of the Yellowjackets was described in an Angelo Standard-Times football edition as lacking size, experience, and depth; but another summary stated that whatever else they lacked, they made up by their strongly competitive spirit. Currently, they have three ambitions: To beat Eldorado, Junction, or Sonora this season. This attitude will warrant exercise of caution particularly tomorrow night.

Menard's lads this year are light relatively speaking as well as young, their starting lineup being composed of four seniors, four juniors, and three sophomores. This youthful group exhibits a surprising degree of competitiveness; so tomorrow night will see them doing their best to realize one of their ambitions.

Their offensive posture is Straight T formation. They depend principally upon the efforts of No. 22, Charles Martinez who is an aggressive and hard running back. They are quite air-minded as they have averaged throwing 20 passes in each of their three games to date.

Defensively they employ a six-man front with two linebackers, two corner backs, and a rather closeup safety. They depend on speed and agility.

Their starting lineup is as follows:

83 B. Kothmann	LE	150	Sr.
70 J. Kothmann	LT	150	Sr.
62 W. McInnis	LG	155	Jr.
52 Joe Rosas	C	160	So.
65 O. Wright	RG	150	Jr.
72 S. Kothmann	RT	150	Sr.
21 H. Miller	RE	150	So.
82 C. Martinez	LHB	165	Sr.
10 R. McDonald	RHB	140	So.
30 B. Walker	FB	145	Jr.
11 Bill Lehne	QB	155	Jr.

The Eldorado Eagles will be in no easy going frame of mind in this conference opener. Coach Ray Morgan said Saturday that Fullback John Mayo who was somewhat under the weather the week of Sept. 18-22, would be recovered from his mild indisposition. Coach Morgan continued that the Eagles would not wear their green hose tomorrow night as the coaching staff is trying to uncover the cause for leg muscle cramps which have plagued the Eldorado lads during games but not during practice sessions. Theory is that the rather strong elastic tops of the long hose were enough constriction to interfere with circulation and cause the muscle pains. Otherwise the Eagles will be in good condition.

Starting offensive lineup will probably see Mike Olson, Buff Whitten, or Paul Page at ends, Alan Corbell and John Danford at tackles, Mickey Pennington, David Lloyd, or Albert Torres at guards, Jim McGinnes at center with Roy Davidson, Wayne Doyle, Jimmy Mann, or Mickey Clark at the half-back posts, John Mayo or Duane Pinkey Dempsey at fullback, and with Bob Page or James Larry Davis at quarterback.

Amended game time will be 8:00 o'clock in Menard, this change resulting from a ruling by the District Committee in a meeting in Ozona September 3.

Conclusions are that it will be a scrappy hardfought game with some advantage to the Eagles.

Lions Appeal For Cash For Recent Hurricane Victims

The Eldorado Lions Club voted at their meeting yesterday to make a donation of cash to the victims of Hurricane Beulah and its aftermath in South Texas.

This is a part of an appeal made by Lions International, and the funds collected will be administered by a committee of past district governors in the South Texas area.

Anyone wishing to do so may contribute to this fund through Raymond Hall at the First National Bank here.

C. T. Humphries presided at the meeting yesterday. James Massey of Downtown Lions Club, San Angelo, and Bill Works, were the two guests. Buddy White led singing of "America" at the beginning, and L. D. Mund led the Flag Salute, followed by invocation by P. S. Dudley.

Two Minor Accidents Happen This Past Week

There were two minor vehicular accidents which occurred this past week in Eldorado.

Nell Neff was driving down S. Main last Friday afternoon when her car was in collision with a car driven by Roy Mac Hawkins, and coming from the west. No one was hurt but both vehicles sustained damage and the Neff car was towed away by wrecker.

Tuesday morning, when J. N. Evert was driving the city trash hauling truck in Glendale, Manuel Saldivar got on it and was crushed slightly against a utility pole. Saldivar was taken to Sonora hospital.

Rev. Vaughan Attends His Father's Funeral

The Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Vaughan of the First Baptist church were in East Texas during the week end to attend the funeral services for his father, George A. Vaughan, who died at the age of 72 in Pleasant Grove Nursing Home in Paris, Texas.

The funeral was held Sunday in the Johntown Baptist church near Bogota, and interment was made beside Mrs. Vaughan who died in August of 1962.

He is survived by four sons and two daughters, and a number of grandchildren.

The Rev. Taylor Henley of Baptist Memorial Hospital in San Angelo had charge of the morning service here Sunday in Rev. Vaughan's absence.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

The House last week pulled a flip-flop on rats. Although a half dozen federal agencies have been dabbling in rat killing, the President this year called for an additional $40-million to throw into the battle.

But the President all but wept over the House action and said a good many little children had been bitten by rats and besides the little four-legged rodents carried germs.

The Chief Executive was pictured by columnists as a modern day Pied Piper blowing his pipe and leading all the rats out of the slums into the Harlem River.

In the face of this pressure the House last week capitulated. By a majority of 227 to 173 it reversed its prior decision to leave this problem primarily in the hands of local people.

The Republicans decided they didn't want to have a big fuss over rats. Evincing political panic, 42 of them changed their prior votes on the issue and last week voted for a $20-million down payment on more federal money to be used against the rodents.

Actually, even with more federal funds, rat eradication will continue to be essentially a local problem. Communities that want rid of them will get rid of them, regardless of how much in U. S. money is spent.

Rat control is a matter of motivation. Detroit and Milwaukee, with very little federal aid, have practically licked the rat problem. So has Los Angeles and a good many others.

Polyester New In Soft Floors

College Station.—Polyester fibers are becoming the new giants of the soft floor covering field, says Joy Arrington, Extension home management specialist with Texas A&M University.

The fibers, which were introduced into the carpet industry as possibilities for pile just a year ago, may join nylon and acrylic as one of the "Big Three" fibers within the next four years.

What makes polyester fiber different and better? It has the positive attributes of many carpet fibers, combining the benefits of both the natural and manmade fibers.

It provides great strength with high abrasion resistance, which is slightly under that of nylon, but superior to acrylic and wool.

Another plus factor for polyester is its resiliency. It retains a spring-back quality even when weighted down for extended periods of time. It shows no disturbance of the face fibers, such as matting, even after repeated shampooing.

Shedding and fluffing are minimal. It is mothproof, mildew resistant, and non-allergenic.

Ease in spot and stain removal is a great advantage for many busy housewives. Polyester retains its original, clean, sharp look after general or spot cleaning.

If all predictions hold true, the polyester fibers, which had a tremendous first year in the carpet industry, will be improved and more widely used in the coming years, says Miss Arrington.

A new bacon made with a special curing process is on the market. The manufacturer says it gives less shrinkage and spattering and slices separate easily, even when the bacon is first taken from the refrigerator.

Trousers will retain shape best if hung from cuff hangers. The weight of the trousers, suspended from the cuffs, can stretch out most wrinkles, if shirt collars and cuffs are badly soiled, try rubbing in some plain chalk and allow to stay for a few hours. When brushed off, most of all of the imbedded dirt may come with it. Around now, collars of outer-coats can stand a going over with a cloth dampened in cleaning fluid. This will help keep shirt collars clean.

Besides being practical, an area rug often adds a decorator's touch to a room. Splashes of color or pattern may be used that would be impossible with a room-size rug.

To prevent knits from shagging or stretching during machine washing, first put each garment into a mesh bag or pillow case.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Boll weevil populations remain heavy in many fields in the county. Early harvest, stalk destruction and plowing under plant debris will reduce the number of boll weevils entering diapause.

By cutting off the food supply of the boll weevil, this insect is not able to build up sufficient fat reserves to enter diapause or will enter diapause in a condition whereby it will be unable to survive the winter. To be most effective, the program should cover the cooperating of all producers.

In areas of the county where arsenic acid or phosphate-type defoliant will be used because of early maturity of the cotton, the addition of 0.5 lb. methyl parathion or 0.25 lb. Guthion per acre to the defoliant will be helpful in reducing boll weevil populations. Care should be taken not to add these insecticides to chlorate defoliant or desiccants.

Stalk destruction as soon as possible after harvest will destroy the source of food for the boll weevil. In situations where there are still squares and small bolls left on the cotton plants, flail-type shredders will kill a high percentage of the arvae and pupae of the boll weevil that are in the squares and bolls. Plowing under the debris will kill even more of the larvae.

Additional information concerning boll weevil control and early stalk destruction may be obtained at the office.

The easiest way to stay awake during an after dinner speech is to deliver it.

Small grain disease problems can be largely solved by planting seed of resistant varieties or seed which have been treated with a chemical fungicide for disease control.

The treatment process is simple and cheap and excellent insurance against crop losses from seed-borne diseases.

Many small grain diseases are caused by organisms carried on the surface of the seed and can be easily controlled. Loose smut of wheat and barley is an exception. The organism causing this disease is carried inside the seed and cannot be controlled by chemicals.

Application of seed treatment fungicides may be made in home-made treaters or by commercial seed treatment plants. Regardless of the equipment used, it is important to get uniform coverage of the seed with the recommended amount of the material.

Improper coverage of the seed or the use of rates lower than those recommended greatly reduce the value of the practice.

Because all seed treatment chemicals are poison, they should be handled with care. No more seed should be treated than will be planted. Treated seed should never be fed to poultry or livestock or mixed with untreated seed which may be fed or sold. Strict compliance with the label instructions is a must when handling chemicals.

Due to the number of materials which may be used, farmers needing detailed information drop by this office for it. The recommended materials are generally available from farm supply stores.

For a brilliant display of color next spring, plant hardy bulb and bulb-like structures early in the fall. This gives the bulbs time to develop an extensive root system before top growth begins.

Included in the hardy bulbs that will bloom next spring are daffodils, hyacinths, crocus and tulips.

In general all bulbs should be planted deeper in light soils than in heavy soils. They will do well in good garden soil if there is sufficient drainage. Poor soil can be improved by adding organic matter and fertilizer provided drainage is adequate.

Bulbs should be planted so that varieties are grouped in masses to provide a good display of color.

QUESTIONS ASKED BY PASTOR OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH IN A RECENT SERMON

The following are some questions posed by Kenneth Vaughan to the First Baptist Church and to Schleicher County on Sunday, Sept. 10. They are published here by some members and friends of the First Baptist Church.

Why should the citizens of Eldorado and Schleicher County vote to legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages now or any time? This question should be answered to the satisfaction of every voter. The claim has frequently been made by advocates of legal alcoholic beverages that it will help a community to legalize the sale of these drinks. Why?

What is a community? It is generally agreed that a community, for all practical purposes, is the aggregate of the home, the school, the church, and the business institutions.

Place the question of making legal the sale of beverage alcohol in the light of the welfare of the home. Will legal booze promote the welfare of the home? Will it deepen or advance the devotion of a husband to his wife, and vice versa? Will it promote parental devotion to children? Will it increase the honor and respect for parents by children? Will it improve the relationship of the homes with the other institutions of the community mentioned above? Would there, as a result of legal alcohol, be more money for school expenses and more reserves for higher education?

What of the effect of legalizing the sale of alcoholic beverages on the school? (And it must be noted that the best we can do is to vote according to our honest belief, as to the answers to these questions. These answers can only be based upon Christian convictions, common sense, and individual experience and observation.) What are the interests of the school? Are they not basically instruction, learning, discipline and character building for citizenship? If so, will legal alcohol assist these? Will it promote instruction? Will it, as best we can forecast, deepen the devotion of the teacher to the task of imparting subject matter to the students? Will it give them reason to expect increased success in that tremendously challenging undertaking? Will it stimulate the teacher with an increased curiosity and dedication to learning by the students? Will the legalization of the sale of beer, liquor, wine, vodka, etc., increase the capacity for learning by the students and their appetites for the intellectual fare of the school?

We have, in the opinion of this writer, a good church in Eldorado. As good as they are, it is generally agreed that they could be improved; and that they should be. It is probably also agreed that, basically speaking, an increased practice of the over-all Christian program for human conduct would result in just such an improvement of our churches. And it would follow naturally that such a renewal would improve every aspect of our society. Will legalizing alcoholic beverages sale help bring this about? Could it be expected that such action would strengthen the instruction in our Sunday Schools; that it would increase the interest and the essential fervor of our worship services? Could it be realistically expected that the tithes and offerings by the members would increase? Would it facilitate more and better evangelistic appeal and a more positive response to that appeal?

And what effect would legal alcohol have on the business climate of Eldorado? Would it increase the demand for groceries? Would it give more money for food? Would it increase the sales of clothing, furniture, building material, automobiles, medicine, hardware, automobile accessories and service? Would it increase the demand for the other good and services of our community? Would it promote cash sales and reduce the number of unpaid accounts on the ledgers of our business institutions? Will it promote sound credit and put a better foundation beneath the lending of money?

These questions should be asked and answered truthfully and sincerely before a vote is cast in the decision now facing our community; the question being, should we vote to legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages of all kinds in Schleicher county?

Respect for the intelligence of the people of our community demands our recognition of the fact that these by no means exhaust the questions that could be asked regarding this important question posed to produce whatever benefit they will in behalf of the citizens of Eldorado and Schleicher county and their wise and conscientious usage of the priceless privilege of the ballot. Frank-ly Fun Food by Betty Crocker. I think you'll agree that it's sometimes hard to tell whether teens gather as an excuse to eat... or use eating as an excuse to gather. Either way, when the teen crowd is at your house, be glad that easy, versatile, nutritious hot dogs are such a great teen favorite. Try Frank-a-Bobs for a new twist. Cut each frankfurter into 5 pieces; alternate with pineapple chunks on skewers. Brush with salad oil. Grill 4 inches from medium coals 7 to 10 minutes, turning often, until browned. Serve with mustard or barbecue sauce on toasted buttered buns. Homebaked buns? Why not? Here's a quick and easy way: MUSTARD BUNS 1 package active dry yeast 3/4 cup warm water (105 to 115°) 2 1/2 cups Bisquick 2 tablespoons prepared mustard Butter Dissolve yeast in warm water. Mix in Bisquick and mustard. Beat vigorously. (If dough is soft, add 2 to 4 tablespoons Bisquick.) Turn out onto well-floured surface. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Roll dough into oblong, 12x6 inches. Cut into 1 1/4-inch strips. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Shape ends to make hot dog buns. Cover. Let rise in warm place (85°) about 1 hour. Heat oven to 400°. Bake 10 to 15 minutes, until browned. Brush with butter. Serve with hot dogs. Makes 8 buns. Special Franks: Here's a combination the teens will like. Split franks lengthwise. Spread cut surfaces with pea-nut butter. Wrap in a strip of bacon secured with a wooden pick. Barbecue on grill until bacon is done as desired, turning once. Serve on toasted buttered bun. CHEESEBOATS Ideal for outdoor grilling. 10 slices bacon 1 pound frankfurters Liquid smoke 2/3 cup shredded Cheddar cheese 3 tablespoons chili sauce Pan fry bacon 2 minutes on each side. Split frankfurters lengthwise, not cutting completely through. Brush cut surface lightly with liquid smoke. Mix cheese and chili sauce; fill each frankfurter with 2 teaspoons of the mixture. Wrap each with a slice of bacon; secure with a wooden pick. Grill 4 inches from medium coals 12 to 15 minutes or until bacon is crisp, turning occasionally. 10 servings.

Eagles Lose To Robert Lee — 24-14

Game statistics show that the Robert Lee Steers had the advantage of the Eldorado Eagles last Friday night (we lost 14-24):

Eldo.:	Robt. Lee:
9	12
136	194
30	42
3of7 passes att. & compl.	2of9
1of1	1of2
4for30 Pen. & yardage	3for25
5for35 Punts & av.	2for98

It is getting fashionable to win football games in the closing seconds of the contest and the Robert Lee Steers like to be in style. They scored their "go ahead" touchdown and the clincher interception turning it into the touchdown in the last 80 seconds of play.

The Steers also rose up from a disaster of sorts as Eagle Halfback Roy Davidson and Defensive Line-man John Mayo combined to administer so bruising a buffet to the Steers' fine quarterback Sam Williams that he retired from the evening's activities. The Eagles possibly relaxed somewhat from their intense concentration on containing this dangerous threat all evening only to have substitute quarterback Ronnie DeVoll fire a touchdown pass to end Randy Hall to put the Steers ahead 18-14. The Eagles came back furiously only to have this same DeVoll capture a pass and dash 30 yards for the last score of the game.

The Eagles had time for only two more plays after the kickoff before the final whistle.

For four attempts to score on extra point situations, the Eagles presented a rock wall defense. As a result the Steers were able to score four touchdowns only. Of course, they were enough to win.

Robert Lee scored two touchdowns quickly in the first quarter. Their "Jolly Green Giant" QB Williams fired a short pass to Ronnie DeVoll who raced over. Then Williams himself rolled out and sped 18 yards to put the finishing touches on a 50-yard scoring effort.

Eldorado scored late in the second quarter after Messrs. Jim Mann, Pinky Dempsey, Roy Davidson, and John Mayo on the ground and Bob Page to Buff Whitten with a pass ground out a score after Mann rescued a Steer fumble on their 25. Mayo rammed over for the last two yards.

The half ended 12-7 for Robert Lee. Eldorado scored early in the last quarter from their own 32 where they set up after taking a Steer punt. Mayo and Mickey Clark chewed up the Steers for 15 yards when Clark zipped off tackle for 30 yards more. A pass from Bob Page to Buff Whitten got within a yard and Bob Page took it over with a timely dive.

Roy Davidson kicked both Eagle extra points and the score stood 14-12 for Eldorado all the way until only 1 minute and 20 seconds remained at which point Williams made his exit and Ronnie DeVoll engineered the Steer win.

Roy Davidson sparked Eagle defensive efforts in the Steer contest.

Conclusions about the Eagles and their development in the 3-game shakedown season are that they have started slowly but are developing. They have discovered that they can hold on occasion, that they can come from behind to score, that they can throw up a hard nosed and rugged defensive perimeter, and that a game is not over until the final whistle.

Tomorrow night starts a new season: The District Race where the Eagles can utilize their hard-learned lessons.

Austin, Tex.—Constitutional Revision Commission is busy revising or rewriting the basic document which has governed Texas since 1876.

Before it could start, it rounded out its membership by naming five senators.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith refused to name the Senators. He says the Commission is not legally authorized. It was created by a simple House resolution and the Senate did not concur.

Senators chosen by the Commission itself were A. M. Aikin of Paris, Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, J. P. Word of Meridian, Don Kennard of Ft. Worth and Henry Grover of Houston.

Gov. John Connally opened the Commission's meeting by urging its members "to make some very profound recommendations about the structure of Texas government without removing fundamental safeguards."

Connally said the commission should "eliminate those portions (of the Constitution) which are outmoded and no longer applicable."

Commission Chairman Robert Storey, a Dallas attorney, said the 25-member commission, which will report to the 61st Legislature in 1969, should try to write a brand new constitution.

Recommendations of the Commission must go first to the Legislature. If two-thirds of the lawmakers agree that the proposed revision is worth submitting to voters, a statewide election will be required before any changes can go into effect.

Larry Temple, executive assistant to Governor Connally, was designated secretary and chairman of the drafting committee. San Antonio Mayor W. W. McAllister was named vice-chairman.

Legal or not, the group will devote 14 months to the project. Eight committees were named to study various parts of the Constitution—executive, legislative, judicial, political subdivisions, bill of rights, education, revenue and taxation, and drafting.

Hurricane Action

All available federal aid will be sought by Governor Connally for Rio Grande Valley and Texas coastal areas ravaged by Hurricane Beulah.

Small Business Administration early declared SBA relief loans were available to firms in the hurricane-devastated sections.

State Insurance Board dispatched experts to the Valley to help interpret the fine print of policies. Insurance companies, which paid out $120 million in Hurricane Carla losses six years ago, moved to implement "catastrophe plans" for speeding claims handling.

Board officials advised that Texas insurance policies do not cover losses due solely to flood waters or wave damage, although some do provide coverage against wind-driven rains, as well as wind damage.

Source of controversy surrounding Carla policies mainly involved losses caused by both wind and water and assessment of that portion attributable to hurricane winds.

Railroad Commission delayed setting oil allowable for October pending a survey of how Hurricane Beulah affected Gulf Coast refining capacity.

Good Water For Bad

A new federal government policy demanding commitment of water in order to control state stream pollution may leave Texas no water for its cities, industry and agriculture.

Governor Connally told a conference on regional planning and development that the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers wants the state to guarantee release of 1,400,000 acre feet of water per year into the Red River for the next century so as to upgrade quality.

A head-on clash between the state and federal government arose over a contract for the Cooper Dam and Reservoir in Northeast Texas. Corps of Engineers demanded that the state allocate 63,370 acre feet of water a year from Lake Texarkana to control Red River pollution.

At the time the contract was signed, Texas Development Board informed President Johnson that the state faces potential permanent loss of 192,000 acre feet from the Red River area below Lake Texoma and possible ultimate loss of 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 acre feet from small Texas waters to federal jurisdiction if the Corps policy stands. Board claimed the policy would further invalidate any planned major redistribution of the state's surface water supply proposed in its $3.6 million water plan.

"If that policy stands," Connally said, "there will be no water left for cities, industries or agriculture. If the water quality controls that Texas is asked to guarantee are put into effect, all present and prospective dams on the San Antonio River would not meet these requirements, let alone needs of the San Antonio area."

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has been asked to rule on validity of the Cooper Reservoir contract because of the provision giving federal agencies the right to release Sulphur River water for water quality control. He is expected to rule that the Water Development Board had no authority to sign it. Nobody seems quite sure what will happen after that.

Executive Director of the WDB, Joe G. Moore Jr., says conflict over the stream-flushing requirement will have to be settled at top state-national levels.

Municipal Rights Division

Texas Water Rights Commission, in effect, reversed a district court decision when it approved 18 applications for Rio Grande Valley water rights.

In bypassing the decision of Judge J. H. Starley of Pecos (in Edinburg's 93rd District Court), the Commission assured water supplies for most Rio Grande Valley cities for populations double those of 1965.

Starley had allocated water on the basis of acreage. Commission allocated it on the basis of population.

Even with the Board's decision, irrigation rights still are unsettled in the now famous Rio Grande Valley water dispute.

"Only when the suit is final," says Commission Executive Director Frank Booth, "will irrigation rights be established. Municipalities, however, always will get the water first, and irrigation will be subordinate to that."

Welfare Benefits Increase

More than 240,000 needy Texans will get small raises in their welfare checks effective October 1. Burton G. Hackney, Commissioner of State Department of Public Welfare, says old age assistance recipients will receive $4 a month more and those eligible for aid to the permanently and totally disabled $5 more.

New maximum OAA grants will be $104 a month and disability top grants, $79 a month. Increases will benefit 228,567 on OAA rolls and 11,450 on disabled rolls.

Legislature this year made raises possible by increasing appropriations for OAA by $6,500,000 and aid to the disabled by $1,000,000.

Attorney General Rules

House Bill 78 of the 60th Legislature, which would repeal certain fees for attorneys and physicians under court appointment, is unconstitutional, says Attorney General Martin.

It is void, he says, because the title of the bill did not conform to the body of the bill, and the Constitution requires that both say essentially the same thing.

In other opinions Martin held that:

—State Water Quality Board has authority to enforce water control standards adopted last June by its predecessor agency, the State Water Pollution Control Board.

—Law setting fees for county clerks and recorders did not repeal provisions for state apportionment of funds to county officers salary funds for services rendered.

—Four years is the limit for deficiency determination and suit to collect state sales tax.

—State is required to pay filing and recording fees on tax liens.

Board Approves Tracts

Texas School Land Board has approved several tracts for sealed bid oil and gas leasing on November 7 with the standard one-sixth royalty and annual rental requirements. Oil and gas lease sale will include 163 tracts of 146,000 acres in the Gulf of Mexico, 222 bay tracts of 119,000 acres, 53 upland tracts of 20,000 acres in West Texas and 42 riverbed tracts of 3,500 acres.

Board also will offer for sulphur leasing one 59-acre tract in Brazoria county and 23 upland tracts in Reeves and Culberson counties.

Appointments

Reps. Ed Rapp of Raymondville, Charles Finnell of Holiday, Gerhard Schulle of San Mar, Toney Dramberger of San Antonio and Bill Pickett of Karnes City were named by Speaker Bon Barnes to House Interim Committee on In-transportation and Grading of Eggs.

Dr. H. R. Byers of Texas A&M University, Plainview farmer F. F. Calhoun, Southern Methodist University Law Professor Dr. Howard J. Taubenfeld, State Sen. J. F. Christi of El Paso and Dallas Engineer George M. Parker were appointed to the Water Development Board's Weather Modification Advisory Committee.

Either we're charging too little, or everyone else is charging too much.

Rambler American. The only U.S. car that could stop you from buying an import.

At a price very close to the leading import, the American seats six people instead of four.

It gives you nearly twice as much room in the trunk and more than twice as much engine under the hood.

Like the imports, the American doesn't change its style every year, gets about 20 miles on a gallon of regular gas.

Unlike some imports, it never gives you the feeling that you're driving a toy.

Rebel. America's most underrated car.

The Rebel 550 Hardtop is the lowest priced intermediate sized hardtop in America.¹

It looks sporty, drives sporty and still gives you all the things that most people buy a car for.

The Rebel—Hardtop, Wagon, Sedan or Convertible, V8 or 6—is everything we think a car should be.

Before you pay more for an intermediate, make sure you get as much.

Ambassador. The car with air conditioning as standard equipment.

Air conditioning has been around for a long time, but so far only a few companies—the people who make

Rolls Royce for one—have had the good sense to include it in their cars at no extra cost.

We're another.

We just don't understand why someone should be asked to pay a lot of money for a luxury car and then be asked to pay over $300 more for the luxury of air conditioning.

Introducing the Javelin.

Although we've always had the reputation for making sensibly priced, well-built cars, we've never had the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

We'll soon have the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

The front and rear bumpers on the Javelin are massive. Unlike thin blade bumpers, these give the car a rich, racy look.

The side windows on the Javelin are solid sheets of curved glass, without vents to break up its fast lines.

The Javelin SST comes with wheel discs, special exterior trim, reclining bucket seats and a woodgrain steering wheel, all standard.

And all for a lower price than the other sporty hardtops.¹

Granny Mund, known affectionately as "Aunt Marinda" to her many relatives and friends, spent Sunday with relatives here. She now makes her home in the Golden Years Nursing Home in Christoval and is always glad to have Eldorado people call on her there.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Johnson and month-old daughter, Kelly Elaine, spent the week end here visiting the Lloyd Johnsons and Delbert Edmestons, and other relatives. They left Sunday afternoon to return to Lubbock.

Ed DeLong returned during the week end from the Sonora hospital where he spent several days following a heart attack.
