Amendment Voting Set For Saturday

Schleicher county voters will join others over the state in going to the polls Saturday to vote on six proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

A light voter turnout is predicted, both locally and statewide. Some places, voters will elect new members of the Legislature, but here in Schleicher county we will have just the amendments to vote on.

Saturday is opening day of hunting season and it's also Veterans Day (formerly Armistice Day).

Hunters are being urged to take time to vote on the parks amendment and veterans are urged to vote to reinstate the veterans land program here in Texas.

Paper ballots also will look different to most Texans. This is the first general election for the "x" system of voting. If a person wants to vote for a constitutional amendment he will place an "x" beside the "For" or "Against" proposition. Formerly a voter scratched out the issue or name he wanted to vote against.

All Schleicher county voters will go to the Memorial Building to cast their ballots.

The six proposed amendments on the ballot, as listed, include:

1. Authorize counties to put all their revenues into a single big general fund. Presently there are several funds with limitations on the spending from each. Opponents say the single big fund would be too tempting to county commissioners. Supporters say that it would streamline county government and make spending more flexible.

2. Let cities, counties and other political subdivisions spend tax money for mental health and mental retardation work when there is a hospital district in operation. Opponents say mental health programs should be financed through present hospital districts to prevent taxing duplication.

3. Set up a $200 million bond issue fund to revive the veterans land program of letting veterans buy farm and ranch land from the state on low interest 40-year payment plans. It also would extend the privilege to veterans of the Vietnam and cold war activity. The proposal has been defeated twice previously. Opponents say the state should stay out of the little-bit-down, little-bit-a-month business.

4. Make it legal for counties to pay medical bills for county law enforcement officers injured in the line of duty. If approved, the payments would be permissive, but not mandatory.

5. Allow the state to issue $75 million in bonds and use the money to buy land and build state parks. An admission fee, probably $1 a car, would be charged for use of state parks to pay off the bonds. Supporters say the extra boost in park financing is needed to face a fast growing population that is more recreation minded each year. Opponents say federal money should be used for long range financing with the state furnishing cash for operations.

6. Allow non-elective state officials and employees to serve on state and federal boards and commissions. Present law says they cannot hold down two such jobs at the same time.

Eldorado-Divide District Supervisors Elected

In their monthly meeting last Thursday, supervisors elected Otis Deal as chairman of the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District.

Voy Lee Butts of Christoval was elected vice chairman and Walter C. Pope III, Fort McKavett, was elected secretary.

Other supervisors include Milton Rathbone and George Humphrey, members.

The five landowner supervisors administer the soil and water conservation programs for the district and furnish local leadership.

Through the district, such items as technical services, equipment and leadership in small watershed projects and many other services are provided cooperating landowners and operators.

DO YOUR DUTY SATURDAY:
Go to the Memorial Building and vote on the six proposed amendments to the State Constitution. Polls open 8:00 a.m.

Legion At Work On Basketball Placard

Legionnaires, members of The Bev McCormick Post of The American Legion, were at work this week selling signatures on their annual Basketball placard.

The Success expects to print the placards soon and they will as usual carry the schedule for the coming season for the boys' and girls' teams.

Money raised from this project is used by the Legion post for their Christmas party for county school children. The party will be held about the time school turns out for the Christmas holidays. Bags of candy are given to all children who come, with distribution by Santa Claus and the Legionnaires.

Doctor Here On Business Sunday

Dr. J. B. Brame of Pasadena, who has been interested in Eldorado as a location for over a year, was here again Sunday.

He interviewed a local nurse and made arrangements with Eldon Calk for leasing the clinic building. The Claude Meador house has been rented as a residence and is now undergoing repair including installation of central heating and air conditioning.

The latter part of December is the tentative date for arrival of the doctor and his family.

Board Approves Hospital Plans

In their meeting Monday night, with all members present, the hospital directors approved a set of plans submitted by Architect Don Goss. Mr. Goss had two sets of plans—one with doctor's offices and one without. Board approved the one with offices.

Other information from the board is that they have been assured that their attorney will have title work completed on the lots within a week and that after that work will proceed somewhat faster.

ANOTHER MISHAP FOR KEN ROSFORD

Ken Rosford, Northern Natural Gas employee, who had to have artificial respiration recently when he was gassed at a well in Sutton county, had another mishap last week. He was changing a meter chart at a site in Sutton county south of Sonora Caverns Wednesday morning when he was attacked by a rabid fox. The fox bit him on the leg and got away before Rosford could kill him.

He was checked by the doctor and later in the day he started taking the one-a-day rabies shots which continue for 14 days.

Drizzle Produces Inch Of Moisture

Light showers, drizzles and overcast skies was the pattern here Monday, Monday night and all day Tuesday and by noon Tuesday rain gauges in Eldorado contained a generous inch of rain.

The weather was not cold. Temperatures stood in the mid-fifties, but what little wind there was "went right through you," and everyone bundled up when they had to go outdoors. After sundown temperatures dropped considerably and most people were content to remain at home close to their space heaters.

A generous amount of rain in September was followed by a very dry October, and this week's precipitation comes as an answer to ranchers' prayers.

Wednesday — Same conditions prevail today and rainfall had increased to 1½ inches this morning.

East Side Lions In Fund Raising Drive

In an effort to raise money for civic improvements in their own community, East Side Lions are selling tickets for a chance on a wrist watch which will be given away Thursday, Nov. 23. They stated that on Saturday of this week members will be on downtown streets for the purpose of increasing ticket sales.

One improvement which the Club is working on at present is to extend natural gas lines in their community two blocks to serve five residents. They hope to get this job done in cooperation with the city. These five families are using wood-burning stoves or butane. Accidents and fires have occurred and are an ever-present possibility. Natural gas from city lines would be safer and more convenient.

The wrist watch is now on display in Stigler's window. Tickets are 75c each. There will be only one winner, but the rest of us would be contributing to a worthwhile civic project.

Buy a ticket Saturday and help 'em along.

Post Script

Last week's United States News and World Report carried an article about a growing bootleg activity in the East in cigarette traffic.

North Carolina, where tobacco is a major industry, is the only state without a cigarette tax. They sell there for less than 20c a pack. In New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, with taxes added on, the price is 45 cents. Smuggling has become a big underworld business.

And that reminds me of a personal experience I had 47 years ago—

In 1920 I worked in a state where the sale of cigarettes was prohibited by state law!

The state was North Dakota and the city was Grand Forks. Grand Forks is located in the northeast part of that state, just across the line from Minnesota. It is separated from Minnesota by the Red River of the North. (The only river in the United States that flows north.)

I went to work as a union printer on a Grand Forks daily paper along in August 1920. I was 23 years of age, single, and World War One vet. Two other printers there were in the same class. The first thing we found out was that you couldn't buy cigarettes legally. Across the river, in Minnesota, they were 15c package. In Grand Forks we had to buy them from bootleggers and pay 25c.

We'd go up to the cashier in our regular restaurant to pay for our meal, and then in a whisper we'd let him know we wanted a package of Camels. He'd reach under the counter and bring up the cigarettes in a small candy sack—25 cents!

In that year union printers' wages were $40 a week. None of us owned cars and we walked a lot in the evenings. So we'd often take off, especially after payday on Saturday, and walk across the bridge to East Grand Forks, Minnesota. Cigarettes were 15c a pack, and a carton for $1.25. We'd load up.

The paper went broke just before Christmas and we were all out of a job.

I worked in Minnesota for a while; then to Washington state; back to Minnesota and then in the winter of 1922-23 was back in North Dakota again, to Devil's Lake, over in the central part of the state. There I was again, paying two bits for my Camels.

In April when the snow was beginning to thaw I received a wire from my friends in Wenatchee, Washington, that there was a job open for me again, and I left North Dakota for the last time.

I've often wondered if North Dakota has ever repealed that

The Eldorado Eagles host the Ozona Lions this week in the last game for both teams of the 1967 season. The Lions currently are the third ranking team in turbulent District 8A. The Eagles are tied with Junction for fifth place. The Lions have lost only to Sonora 13-7 and to Iraan this past Friday night 28-14.

The Lions' 21-man squad are composed of the biggest boys physically in District 8A, averaging just under 188 pounds for each of the 11 starting positions.

Their line-up is as follows:

No.	Name	Pos.	Wt.	Class
80	Donald Huff	LE	155	Jr.
75	Wesley West	LT	200	Sr.
60	John DeHayas	LG	190	Sr.
55	Marlin Farris	C	210	Jr.
50	Tom Davidson	RG	165	Fr.
85	Larry Kilgore	RE	175	Sr.
44	Fleet Coates	LHB	170	Jr.
23	Rodney Pagan	RHB	170	Jr.
30	Beto Vargas	FB	150	Jr.
10	Randal Clepper	QB	170	Jr.

On occasion, 84, Danny Maness, a 140-pound junior, alternates with Donald Huff at left end, but Maness is primarily utilized as a split end.

The Lions usually employ the same personnel offensively and defensively.

Offensively they use "T" formation and split either or both ends as part of their passing game. Fleet Coates acting as a halfback or fullback spearheads their ground attack. He has good size and speed and is a powerful runner. Their QB Randal Clepper is a good run-of-the-mill lad. He is a fair passer and can pose considerable threat as a ball carrier. He likes to throw to Danny Maness as a split end but he doesn't necessarily play favorites with his receivers.

Defensively, the Lions are led by their outstanding left tackle, Gary Sutton, No. 70. They deploy into a six-man front line with normally two linebackers but vary the employment of the five men behind the front wall considerably in efforts to confuse opponents' blocking assignments. Sutton is big and strong, and has been a big factor in the Lions' defensive efforts for the past two years. This is his last high school football game.

A number of 8A coaches stated at the beginning of the current football season that Ozona boasted the best material in the district. Their 21-man squad consists presently of six seniors, 13 juniors, and no freshmen. They promise being tough contenders in their AA wars next season.

Eight Eldorado Eagles will participate in their last high school football game in the Ozona contest.

They are Jim Mann, Roy Davidson, John Mayo, Sidney Reynolds, Mickey Pennington, David Lloyd, James Hight, and Buff Whitten.

Coach Ray Morgan said this past week end that all Eagles would see action against the ponderous Ozona Lions. Offensive end starters will be two of these three: Paul Page, Mike Olson, or Buff Whitten. Tackles will be Mickey Pennington and Ross Whitten with Albert Torres and Jim Robledo at guards. Jim McGinnis will perform at center with Bob Page as the QB. Roy Davidson, Mickey Clark, James L. Davis, Dwain Dempsey, and Wayne Doyle will alternate with the halfback chores. Big John Mayo will man the fullback position.

Coach Morgan said that the defensive alignment would be the Word came over radio and T.V., and in the daily papers Tuesday that John Nance Garner had died in Uvalde at the age of nearly 99.

It had been the ambition of "Cactus Jack" in recent years to live to be a hundred, and he missed it by just one year and two weeks.

He was Franklin D. Roosevelt's vice presidential running mate in 1932 and 1936, but he broke with FDR in 1940 over the third term issue.

With his passing, we lose yet another link with the New Deal administration of a generation ago. FDR and his New Deal marked the transition of the country from the Great Depression to World War II and its aftermath.

Grazing small grain pastures before they have a chance to make needed growth can reduce their value as suppliers of fall grazing. Oats, barley, wheat and rye which were planted this fall should be from six to eight inches in height before they are grazed. Research has shown that small grains will produce considerably more fall grazing when allowed to reach the six to eight inches in height as compared to grazing the plants when they are only four inches tall. Small grain when grazed at the four inch height doesn't get a chance to grow, since most of the fall growth is made before cold weather for fast growth. When the leaves are grazed off early, the plants at best make only slow growth. This severely limits the grazing during the winter months when the leaves are not growing. It is a good idea to graze small grain pastures for only a short period each day. By following this practice, the pastures will furnish forage of high quality and the plants will make good growth.

A modern girl usually gets along just fine with her mother-in-law because she can't afford another baby-sitter.

Left over agricultural chemicals should be properly stored during the winter months for several reasons. They can be used next year and thus reduce crop costs if they are properly stored.

Wettable powders or dusts should be kept in a cool, dry place. Bags should be sealed to keep out moisture. Lids on cans should be closed tightly and, if holes have been punched to make a dust dispenser, tape should be used to seal the holes.

Liquid materials should be stored in the original labeled containers because either the carrier or active ingredient may be corrosive to other metal containers or other lids of glass containers. All bottles or cans containing liquids should be tightly sealed to prevent loss of activity by vaporization.

These products should also be stored in a cool place where the temperature does not make extreme changes. If the label has become faded or torn, it may be a good idea to copy the vital information and attach it to the container along with the old label.

All unlabeled material should be discarded immediately. But, dispose of the material with safety in mind. Burying at a depth of about 18 inches is a safe method of disposal.

Whether the materials to be carried over are in small or rather large amounts, they should be stored under lock and key.

Thanks to the invention of pop-top cans, it's no longer necessary to hunt for a can opener. The time saved can be put to better uses, like looking for a band-aid.

Sprayers and dusters should be given special care prior to storage for the winter months. It can add years to their useful life.

All pesticide materials should be cleaned from the equipment by washing or other means, and moving parts should be lubricated. Some parts may need to be disassembled for proper cleaning.

After the last spraying job in the fall, nozzles and strainers (or screens) should be soaked in kerosene. Run a wire through the spray rods and rinse the hoses. Clean hoses should be stored where they will not crack or freeze.

Before putting a clean power sprayer away for the winter, put at least a pint of oil in the tank, filling it with water and starting the pump. As the water is discharged, a thin coating of oil covers the inside of the tank, pump, valves and circulating system. The sprayer should be completely drained and then stored in a dry place.

Dusters, like sprayers, should be cleaned after the last job is finished to prevent caking, clogging and eventual corrosion. All slip joints should be given a protective coating in the fall before storing for the winter period.

Equipment should be completely dry and clean at the time of storage so that it will be ready for use next spring.

And finally, it is a good idea to follow the suggestions in the operators manual on cleaning and storing equipment.

This may never occur to a teenage boy, but someday he will know as little as his father.

It has finally happened! Sargent Shriver, head of OEO, has just taken the wraps off of a grandiose scheme to guarantee a minimum income to all families whose income is under $3,000 a year, whether they work or not.

OEO announced that beginning in February 800 selected families in New Jersey will be singled out for an experiment. If one of more of these families, for example, earn only $1500 in a year the OEO would pay them something like $1500. If the income is only $1000, then Uncle Sam would fork up $2000.

This grandiose welfare scheme is to be financed initially by a set-aside of $620,000, to be spent over an 18-month period, with an additional $3.4 million planned for use through the end of 1971. But this is to be a trial run—the slow-sell approach with a plan for expansion to cover all low-income people ultimately.

One paper described it as "a handout pure and simple and a rather expensive one at that." If and when full coverage is reached the annual cost is estimated at $12-billion, perhaps more.

This is a dangerous and revolutionary plunge into the expanded field of state welfare. It would dull the incentive for those affected to try to earn very much, and would encourage more and more people to become permanent wards of the government—as a way of life.

It remains to be seen whether the Congress will go along with this bonanza. Both the Congress and the people will want to know what has happened to the American system of having people earn their own way, getting ahead thru hard work, ambition, education, pride and self reliance. Certainly this cherished concept goes out of the window with many people who would rather have a handout than a job.

Rice is one of my food favorites. And so it has been for other people for literally thousands of years. It is about the easiest food on the shelf to prepare. There is nothing to peel, pare, trim or scrape—these days it is not even necessary to wash or rinse rice. It comes to us machine milled and already clean.

Simple cooking directions for regular milled white rice is often called the "1-2-1" fluff method. Use one cup rice, 2 cups water and one teaspoon salt. Place in a three-quart sauce pan with a tight fitting lid. (I use a skillet instead of a sauce pan.) Bring to a boil, stirring once or twice. When liquid is boiling, cover the pan, lower heat to "simmer" and cook about 14 minutes without removing the lid or stirring. Serve in your favorite way.

One of my favorite ways to use already cooked rice is in making fried rice. In fact, I like to keep some cooked rice in the freezer to use for fried rice and if a bit of butter is stirred into hot cooked rice before it is frozen the grains do not stick to form a hard block. This happens to be a very good recipe for—

Chinese Fried Rice

3 tablespoons bacon drippings or butter;
1/2 cup chopped green onions and tops;
1 cup celery, diced;
1/2 cup mushrooms, pieces and stems;
2 1/2 cups cooked rice;
2 tablespoons soy sauce;
1 egg, slightly beaten;
5 pieces bacon, fried crisp and crumbled.

Heat fat in large skillet. Add green onions and celery. Cook until celery is almost tender. Add mushrooms, rice and soy sauce. Cook 8-10 minutes on low heat, stirring occasionally. Stir in beaten egg and cook until egg is done. Sprinkle with crumbled bacon and serve. Extra soy sauce may be served. Makes 8 servings.

Menu suggestions: Frozen green peas, green beans or broccoli make good companions in the vegetable line; a combined fruit salad, hot tea and cookies would finish the meal in grand style.

When you begin to cast about for something different to serve as these evenings grow a bit cooler, don't overlook rice. It's a most versatile food.

Chicken is one of the best meat buys at the market today. And—believe it or not fryer breasts are the best buys of all the various ways chicken may be bought.

Proof needed? Look at this: one pound of fryer breasts will serve 4 people and costs 60 cents per pound. That's 15 cents per serving.

Whole fryers cost about 33 cents per pound and only one and one-third servings can be expected from a pound which throws the cost per serving to over 24 cents. So, we might as well have white meat and enjoy it; in the long run it costs less after all.

The following recipe is a very good combination of chicken and rice, both of which have been under discussion.

This is good enough for a party dish or a company meal.

Chicken Country Captain:

3 pound broiler, cut in serving pieces, or
6 whole chicken breasts;
1/3 cup flour;
2 teaspoons salt;
1/4 teaspoon pepper;
1/2 cup shortening;
1 cup chopped onions;
1 cup chopped green pepper;
1/2 teaspoon salt;
Dash pepper;
2 teaspoons curry powder;
1/2 teaspoon thyme;
1 1/2 teaspoons garlic salt;
1 teaspoon chopped parsley;
4 cups tomatoes;
3 cups cooked rice;
1/4 cup currants;
1/2 cup slivered almonds.

Remove skin from chicken. Roll in flour combined with the 2 teaspoons salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Brown in hot fat, remove and keep warm. Add onions and green pepper to fat and cook until tender. Add remaining salt and pepper, curry, thyme, garlic salt, parsley and tomatoes, and mix thoroughly. Replace chicken in sauce. Add water if liquid does not cover chicken. Cover and simmer 45 minutes. Serve in rice ring; add currants to sauce and pour over rice. Sprinkle almonds over chicken.

Individuals who sew always are looking for ways to make their job easier. Rheba Boyles, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M, offers these tips about thread to make your sewing easier.

1. Use mercerized thread for most of your sewing; it is smoother and stronger than other types.

2. Select a color slightly darker than the fabric. Thread looks lighter when stitched in the fabric.

3. When sewing with a multi-colored or two colored check or plaid, use two colors of thread, one on the top and one on the bobbin.

4. Check yardage on spools before you buy. You will need two spools of 125 yards each for a dress. Buy enough, advises Miss Boyles.

5. When sewing by hand, use about 20 inches of thread to prevent tangling. Don't use a double thread.

6. To completely conceal knot in hand sewing, pull the first stitch inside a fold.

7. For ease in threading, place a piece of white paper behind the eye of the needle.

8. Fasten loose ends of thread to the spool with a small piece of cellophane tape. This saves wasted minutes untangling the thread box.

9. If machine stitches pucker, adjust the tension. Use 12 to 16 stitches per inch for average sewing jobs.

10. If thread breaks when sewing by machine, the needle point may be rough. Put in a new needle.

Cleaning Quiz for Blankets

Should electric blankets be dry cleaned? No, report U. S. Department of Agriculture electric specialists. Also, it's best not to use dry cleaning fluids on electric blankets because the fluids can damage the insulation on the electric wiring. Follow laundering directions that come with the blanket. They usually suggest short wash, rinse and spin cycles. Use cold or warm water and don't dry the blanket in a dryer. Spread on flat surface until dry.

Mrs. Lucas To Be TCU Coming Home Queen

Ft. Worth, Texas.-Returning to the Texas Christian University campus this week end for the 1967 Homecoming activities will be almost like watching a movie of her life for the Coming Home Queen, Mrs. Jim Lucas of Midland.

A member of the Honor Class of 1947, the former Pauline Jones of Eldorado was a celebrity at Homecoming when she was a senior-as Homecoming Queen that year. Known to her classmates as "Poddy", she was active in such campus organizations as Bryson Club, Women's Sports Association and Alpha Chi. The secondary education major was class favorite during her senior year at TCU and was one of seven Horned Frog cheerleaders.

A participant in that half-time presentation in late 1946 was Jim Lucas, outstanding member of the TCU backfield from Pecos. For 14 years he and the former TCU queen have lived in Midland, where he is associated with State Farm Insurance Co.

The Lucas family includes four boys. Jamey is a 16-year-old junior at Robert E. Lee high who plans to enroll at TCU in 1969. The musically inclined member of the household, Jamey plays drums in a teen-age combo.

A 13-year-old, Tom Jack is a member of the Junior Frog Club and is a regular spectator at all of TCU's home games. Paul, 10, and Tim, 8, find their time well filled with YMCA-sponsored sports.

During this year the Lucases have an additional "son." Joe Cunat-Vilar, an American Field Service student from Valencia, Spain. A high school senior who will live in Midland until mid-June, he has been a lively addition to the family.

Mrs. Lucas, daughter of Thomas K. Jones and the late Mrs. Jones, formerly taught school. Since her sons have been school age, she has kept in close touch with educational activities while serving on executive boards of the Parent-Teacher Association at both Sam Houston and Fannin elementary schools. Currently working with the American Field Service, she is active in a culinary arts group of the Midland American Association of University Women.

Even amid the activities of a busy family, she finds time for occasional games of golf and tennis and a hand of bridge about twice a month. An active member Westminster Presbyterian Church, she has been on the church's women's board and taught in its Bible classes.

Mrs. Lucas will be publicly introduced at the pep rally at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 9 at Daniel-Meyer Coliseum. This event will open the 1967 Homecoming week end officially. She will be presented along with this year's Homecoming Queen and two duchesses during the half-time show at the Nov. 11 TCU-Texas Technological College game.

FFA Boys Present Program To Lions

The Future Farmers of America chapter from the local high school presented the program at the noon meeting yesterday of the Lions Club. Glynn Hill introduced nine boys who gave a demonstration of parliamentary procedure.

Those participating were David Parker, David Lloyd, Chris Faull, James Hight, Cliff Schooley, David Nixon, Jimmy Mann, Ronnie Free, and Weldon Green.

Boss Lion Bill Rountree presided at the business session. He reported that 131 of the 150 Zip Code directories had been sold, that there were 51 bags of candy left to sell from before Halloween, and that the Broom Sale was under way.

Those are the main money raising projects of the Lions Club, in addition to the queen's contest which comes next Spring.

The club will try to sell the rest of the bags of candy between now and Christmas.

Rountree presented Dan Griffin with his badge and certificate as a new member of the club. He also read a letter of thanks from Mrs. Sybil Kinser for the plaque which the club presented to her recently.

At the beginning of the meeting, John Stigler led in the Flag Salute and P. S. Dudley gave invocation.

same as last week. Paul Page and Roy Davidson will assume the end responsibilities; Ross Whitten and Mickey Pennington, the tackles; David Lloyd and James Hight the guard posts but John Mayo and Jim McGinnes may shift in to meet expected power plays.

Mickey Clark and James L. Davis will act as right and left linebackers and Dwain (Pinky) Dempsey will act as "monster" or roaming linebacker. Buff Whitten and Wayne Doyle will man the defensive halfback positions.

Game time for this last game of the 1967 season is 7:30 p.m.

As of Tuesday, there was possibility but not much probability that the Lion Eagle fracas would be played on Thursday night, November 9th, rather than as originally scheduled. This change would permit Ozona and Eldorado fans to witness the Iran-Sonora finale and not neglect hometown interests.

Eagles Lose to Rankin

The Rankin Red Devils led by Adam Pina, the scrambler, defeated the Eldorado Eagles last Friday night 12-0 on Eagle Field. It was a cold and dreary night for the Eagles. They could have won it but the game just wasn't going that way. Statistics show how hard the Eagles tried.

The Eagles won the toss and the right to receive. They took the opening kickoff and drove to the Rankin 10-yard line from their own 26 in five first downs. There, confronted with a fourth-down-two-yards-to-go situation, they gambled and lost the ball. Rankin came marching back down the field, their offensive efforts gobbling up larger hunks of territory until they were near the Eagle 20-yard line. But the Eagles stiffened their defenses and stopped the Rankin advance and the quarter ended 0-0. But the Eagles experienced several disturbing indications of Adam Pina's scrambling ability.

Early in the second quarter, Pina propelled the Red Devils near the Eldorado 20-yard line. He dropped back to pass. Eagles David Lloyd and Albert Torres crowded him hard; so Pina tucked the ball under his arm and made like a jack rabbit, exhibiting unusual broken field running to score. The Red Devils attempted to pass the ball over for two points but failed. The Eagles had about ten minutes left in the first half. They cranked up again with Big John Mayo crunching out yard after yard for several consecutive first downs. Each time Rankin was able to stop the offensive efforts short of their goal line and the half ended 6-0 Rankin. Early in the second half, after Rankin received the kick-off, Pina and Mike Turner alternated the Red Devil offensive chores and moved to the Eldorado 12-yard line where Pina again made like a jackrabbit for the remaining distance to cross the Eldorado goal line. Again Rankin's try for two extra points was foiled by the Eagles; but the score stood 12-0 for Rankin, with 22 minutes left in the game for the Eagles to struggle uphill.

It wasn't that the Eagles didn't try. It was that the Eagles couldn't get the right gains at the right place. They turned back another strong Rankin effort late in the contest but were never able to score and the game ended 12-0 Rankin.

Their fullback, Mike Turner, who had alternated with Pina with the Red Devil offensive efforts, injured his knee in the 4th quarter; another Red Devil was taken from the game by official action; but the Eagles, although able to do almost anything else, could never score.

Big John Mayo carried 21 times for 99 bruising yards to lead the Eagle attack. Roy Davidson in spite of a lingering and sensitive ankle, netted 45 yards in 11 painful carries. Dwain (Pinky) Dempsey, carried 10 times for 34 yards while Mickey Clark carried 20 yards in seven carries and Wayne Doyle, 28 yards in three carries, and Bob Page on QB keepers tabbed 21 yards in four tries.

David Lloyd captured the Rankin fumble deep in Red Devil territory following an Eagle punt. It provided the Eagles with a scoring opportunity. Mickey Pennington captured another Red Devil fumble. Dwain Dempsey intercepted a Rankin pass. Mike Olson was on the receiving end of Bob Page's 21-yard aerial but was downed in his tracks after a manful struggle with a Rankin defender.

The Eagles resisted strongly, made more yards (276 to 239) than Rankin, played a more sportsman-like game; but the night just wasn't theirs. And then there was "Jackrabbit" Pina whose passing attack wasn't too dangerous because of his "butter fingered" receivers but whose broken field running was.

The loss dropped Eldorado to 5th place in Conference standings.

They face a tough and heavy Ozona in their final contest.

The Concho Hereford Association bull sale was held Monday in San Angelo and buyers from this county included Cecil Meador, Paul Page, and Arnie Lee Westbrook.

This Sunday night, following the evening service, a rehearsal by the Community Choir will be held at the Baptist church to work on two special selections to be rendered at the Thanksgiving service.

Bill, the large, friendly Persian cat that presided at McCormick's grocery for the past 12 years, gave up to old age last week and quietly lay down and passed away.

Bea has already placed an order for a new kitten which must be "just like Bill."

Mrs. Bob Whitis and baby daughter, LeAnne, spent last week here visiting her mother, Mrs. Elnora Love. Mrs. Love took them to San Antonio Saturday. The Bob Whitis family live at McAllen.

The wet weather this week has delayed work on the new Mobley Enco Service Station.

Eagle Badges Given At Court Of Honor

PUBLIC NOTICE

ALL VOTING PRECINCTS WILL BE COMBINED FOR SPECIAL AMENDMENT ELECTION NOV. 11, 1967.
VOTING PLACE WILL BE THE MEMORIAL BUILDING.
POLLS OPEN 8:00 a. m. CLOSE 7:00 p. m.

Ordered by the Commissioners Court October 16, 1967

Austin, Tex.—It's election week once more all over Texas.

Voters in 254 counties will decide Saturday (Nov. 11) whether they want six more amendments to the State's Constitution. According to Secretary of State John Hill, voters in five areas of Texas will choose legislators to fill vacancies created by death or resignation. There are six vacant seats in the House of Representatives and one in the Senate.

A light-to-moderate vote is predicted. November 11 is opening day of the deer and turkey hunting season in most counties. This means a lot of hunters will be in the field instead of the voting booth.

However, election day also is Veterans Day, and backers of the proposed amendment to revive the veterans land program are staging an active get-out-the-vote campaign. So are supporters of two other amendments—the one authorizing the state to issue bonds to finance expansion of the Texas parks system and that permitting state officials and employees to hold more than one office.

Seventy candidates, including 14 Republicans, are running for legislative places. Republicans hope to improve their position. Presently they have only three representatives in the 150-member House and one senator in the 31-member Senate.

There are two representatives races in Harris county; another in Cameron county; one in Matagorda and Wharton counties; one in Travis county; and another in Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum counties. Twenty Dallas candidates are running for the Senate seat of the late George Parkhouse.

Six constitutional amendments are on the ballot in the following order:

No. 1. To authorize counties to place all their tax revenues in a single general fund, rather than separate, special-purpose funds.

No. 2. To let local political subdivisions spend tax money for mental health and mental retardation services.

No. 3. To revive the veterans land program through an additional $200 million bond issue, permitting war veterans, including those of the Vietnam conflict, to purchase land on low-interest, 40-year-payback loans.

No. 4. To permit counties to pay medical benefits for their law-enforcement officers injured in line of duty.

No. 5. To authorize a $75 million state bond issue (supported by an admission fee at selected parks) for park land buying and development.

No. 6. To permit non-elective state officials and employees to serve on state and federal boards and commissions if there is no conflict of duties.

This is the first general election in Texas since the "scratch out" method of voting was eliminated. Now an "X" indicates your choice.

Tax Picture Brightening?

Top legislative budget planners took a new, slightly brighter reading on the tax outlook last week. But taxpayers still won't be exactly overjoyed.

Legislative Budget Board staff members trimmed their unofficial estimate of revenue needs in 1968 from $192.9 million to $149 million. However, the latter calls for rigid budget economies which lawmakers will find hard to effect in the face of rising costs, growing population and increasing demands for better services.

LBB staffers estimated 1969 general fund spending at $455.3 million. This is just $3 million above the 1968 level. Figure does not include $258.5 million in automatic foundation school fund transfers and $1.5 million in water development fund allocations.

Governor's budget office, pointing to an error in general revenue income estimates by the comptroller's office, said it appears that the 1968 tax bill, which legislators must pass in their special session, probably will be in the $130 million to $150 million range. Executive office earlier insisted that $100 million to $130 million would be adequate.

Courts Speak

Third Court of Civil Appeals held as "arbitrary and capricious" the state agency's denial of an application to open a Ft. Worth branch office of Oak Cliff Savings and Loan Association. Former State Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Gerst denied the application in January of 1966.

Same court upheld a $75,000 condemnation award for the purchase of downtown San Marcos land by the city's Urban Renewal Agency. Agency appealed the jury award of the Hays county court for 8,445-square-feet of property as excessive.

Unemployment Tax Cut

About 40% of Texas employers will pay lower unemployment compensation payroll taxes next year—and save about $15 million.

Reduction was made possible because the program trust fund exceeded $300 million on October 1. Under the law, tax is cut 1/10 of 1% for each $5 million or portion thereof by which the fund passes $300 million. Balance now is $319 million. Cut is 4% for employers affected.

Fifty-four per cent of the employers already have earned a minimum statutory rate of 1%. Another 6% are "excess cost employers" with earned experience rates of 3.1% or more. Neither of these groups will be affected by the reduction.

Parks Work Speeded

Sixty-one existing state parks will reach the ultimate in usage and development by 1971, according to Deputy Director Robert G. Mauermann of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Twenty large-scale construction projects now under way and four others contemplated are expected to be completed by then. Plans call for spending of $3.4 million on repairs and improvements in 17 other parks.

Major construction projects slated for this biennium include Bentsen-Rio Grande, Lake Brownwood, Caddo Lake, Palmetto, Goliad, Cleburne and Goose Island. Developed from scratch, during the past five years, were the following: Falcon, Whitney and Martin Dies Jr., Bastrop, Davis Mountains, Old Fort Parker and Kerrville parks received major improvements.

Mauermann estimated $12.5 million will be spent in improving state parks in three years. He said construction projects totaling $5.7 million already have been completed, and $2.2 million are in progress.

Haulers Hearing

Nine truck lines, which currently carry motion picture film and several other specific commodities, seek authority from the Texas Railroad Commission to include any shipments up to 100 pounds.

Applications were opposed by bus lines and other trucking companies which felt the additional service was not necessary.

Hearing required 17 weeks for 600 witnesses.

Commission is studying a 250-page summary of the testimonials.

Pollution Rules Hit

Texas Air Control Board heard complaints from industry representatives concerning its proposed regulations for controlling pollution due to smoke and flying particles, outdoor burning, sulphur compounds and motor vehicle exhausts.

Board announced its plans following an extended hearing to adopt a version of the new rules within six weeks. Objections centered on a proposal that the burning of waste must be outside a defined metropolitan statistical area.

Petitions bearing signatures of 5,112 Harris county citizens were handed the Board. Demand was for legal action against Houston ship channel industrial plants allegedly in violation of pollution control rules effective last June 1. Board promised to begin enforcing regulations governing smoke and particulate matter if local governments do not.

Mrs. James Williams spent the week end in Austin with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Davis and family. Her grandson, Tres, returned home with her to spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Doyle visited in Lubbock over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jack Etheredge and family. They left Friday and returned home Sunday night.
