SERVING IN COLLEGE CLUBS

Denton, Tex.—Key Frances Peters of Eldorado is serving various clubs and organizations on the North Texas State University Campus.

Austin, Tex.—Immediate implementation of the Texas Water Development Board's $10-billion Water Plan (to take water to every part of Texas), lowering the voting age to 18, lifting the constitutional ceiling on state public welfare contributions, and a gradual revision of the State Constitution were some of the surprises Gov. Preston Smith offered the Legislature.

All 181 Legislators had been pacing themselves for the first two weeks of the session, waiting to see what their new governor wanted from them, and now they know his aims. But he has yet to reveal his budget and tax recommendations, which will have tremendous bearing on whether his programs are enacted.

Governor Smith lauded the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System's plan to provide upper-level senior colleges in Midland-Odessa, Corpus Christi, Houston and Dallas and a four-year college in San Antonio, but he did not adopt it specifically. However, he did embrace the board's recommendation for new state medical schools in Houston and Lubbock, a new dental school in San Antonio, and state participation in Baylor University's dental and medical schools.

He called for a state police certification program for prison parolees, an "implied consent" D.W.I. test to cut down on traffic accidents involving alcohol, "enlarging" the Parks & Wildlife Commission to obtain better geographical distribution, and raising workmen's compensation benefits from $35 to $45 a week.

Governor Smith endorsed the '68 State Democratic platform (which had his approval), but he added: "I have read the Texas Republican Platform. I think you will find the two quite similar."

Smith's message to the Legislature left unanswered the question of spending and taxation. He called for economy, but conceded that new taxes may be needed. His recommendations as to what should be spent and where it should come from will follow in another message.

His legislative program was very extensive. Rural legislators who have been getting objections to the proposals for school consolidation made by Gov. John Connally's Committee on Public School Education were glad to hear Smith call that plan impossible to pass. He did agree with the Committee that there should be some school consolidations, but he felt they should be voluntary.

Attracting much interest was the fact that the new governor did not mention in his list of proposed constitutional amendments the one to allow local option liquor-by-the-drink. Instead, he merely gave legislators a copy of the Democratic platform which called for a statewide vote on the question.

His message came after a colorful inaugural program that brought thousands to Austin. A "victory dinner" attracted 6,000. As many as 40,000 may have attended the six inaugural balls. More than 100 units took part in the inaugural parade.

When Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes took office, they gave the Capitol the first West Texas team since 1947. West Texans were prominent among those in Austin to cheer for the men from Lubbock and DeLeon.

Tuition Hike Proposed

Finance committee of Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System found tuitions of students must be doubled to help pay the expected $404.2-million biennial operating cost of higher education facilities by 1975-76.

Committee also proposed a $5 a year student building use fee to float bonds for a $401-million college construction program. Fee would apply only on six new campuses recommended during the next decade.

Tuition suggested by the committee would be $7 per semester credit hour for Texas residents and $20 per credit hour for nonresidents. This would raise an additional $22-million a year. Present tuition rate, unchanged since 1957, is $50 a semester. It is one of the lowest in the nation.

Committee strongly recommended a uniform building system and standardized construction components for new campuses, as well as new procedures to cut down operating costs.

Report will be acted on at the February 10 Coordinating Board meeting, together with a request to merge South Texas College of Law at Houston with Texas A&M University.

Dies Is Secretary of State

Governor Smith's first official appointment was his secretary of state. He selected former Lufkin Sen. Martin Dies Jr., and Dies was immediately confirmed by the Senate.

Smith described Dies, who did not seek reelection in 1966 after eight years in office, as one of the most popular senators in recent history. His main work has been in the areas of retardation in children and parks development.

"I have turned to one of the most able and dedicated men in public life during this era of government," Smith said. "I am sure Sen. Dies is destined to become one of the great secretaries of state in Texas history."

Constitutional Amendment

Freshman Rep. Lynn Nabers of Brownwood plans to introduce a proposed constitutional amendment to allow the state to give aid to private colleges and universities.

In the proposal, a committee would determine what it costs to educate the average student at state-supported schools. State then would deduct from that the tuition students pay at state institutions—now $100 per year—and send the rest to the private schools as credit toward the educational costs.

System would be complicated at those private schools which teach religion courses. Some state aid would have to be deducted for that, because of the constitutional provision on separation of church and state.

Ethics Code

Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville is making another run with a bill he has carried some 10 years. It is designed to improve and strengthen the Code of Ethics for state officials. Every session Nugent's ethics bill has been passed by the House, but failed in the Senate. He is optimistic this time, since so many senators—and Lieutenant Governor Barnes—are former House members who have voted for the proposal in past sessions.

Courts Speak

A San Antonio Negro got a new trial for robbery because the prosecutor asked a witness if the defendant was a Black Muslim. Court of Criminal Appeals said a mistrial should have been granted.

State Supreme Court turned down a suit for damages by a man who claimed he developed cancer from handling radioactive material at the nuclear weapons assembly point at the Medina Base.

High court threw out the state's appeal from an Amarillo court finding that the guilt of juvenile offenders must be proved beyond "reasonable doubt" as is the case with adults.

A. G. Opinions

Texas Technological College may create a medical school on the Lubbock campus without passage of implementing legislation. Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in an opinion requested by Governor Smith.

Martin warned, however, that the legislature, through its control over appropriations of funds, has the power to "accept or reject this method" of creating medical facilities.

In another opinion he also ruled that a school board has the authority to expel a student for violation of a published policy against drug use, after fair hearing. But he said an indictment alone is not grounds for expelling.

Register Cars Properly

Auto registration regulations will be enforced tighter due to computerization, Highway Commission and Department of Public Safety warns.

Highway Department says, that many motorists have cars registered illegally in counties where they do not reside. Others who live in cities show only a post office box number instead of the required residence address.

Computerization also will aid in law enforcement, and reduce the waiting-in-line time to obtain a license. Motorists will get forms to fill out in advance, saving typing time at busy license distributing points.

SDEC Expands Activities

State Democratic Committee, which took in a tidy sum from its inauguration-eve victory dinner, has approved plans to expand work in three fields and to publish a monthly political magazine.

New committees were authorized on youth activities, woman's organization and communications. Latter department will supervise the magazine.

Short Snorts . . .

Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi and Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston will handle the legislative program for the Governor's Committee on Public School Education.

Texas Farm Bureau unveiled a legislative program which includes opposition to minimum wage and compulsory collective bargaining for farm workers.

"CLEANLINESS, QUALITY AND SERVICE"

Austin Report

By HILARY B. DORAN, JR.

Excitement, confusion, sadness and sorrow were all present when the 61st session of the Texas Legislature got under way at high noon on January 14th.

The excitement started when the House elected its new Speaker, the Honorable G. F. "Gus" Mutscher of Brenham, Texas. Our new Speaker has the admiration and respect of all the members of the House and due to his experience, dedication and hard work, is expected to be truly a "member's speaker." Next came the inauguration of Governor

Preston Smith and Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes and it was truly a memorable occasion in Austin. Governor Smith had stated many times that this was the people's inauguration and he wanted them to come and come they did. The victory dinner on Monday night was a sell-out affair and high-lighted by the tremendous performance of Glen Campbell. My only regret was that all the young folks in my district were not present so they could hear him. The following day the Governor and Lieutenant Governor were sworn in at high noon and a gala two-hour inaugural parade was held that afternoon. There were many fine units in the parade but I was proudest of the Del Rio Junior High Band, the only junior high band to have the honor to march in the inaugural parade, and who was there by the personal invitation of Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes. These young people marched with precision and played with spirit that equaled any high school or college band there and certainly represented our district with distinction. There were many people throughout District 65 who came to Austin for the inauguration and my wife and I certainly enjoyed visiting with them during the festivities. We attended two of the inaugural balls and witnessed the Grand March at the Municipal Auditorium and afterwards enjoyed the music of Ray Price and Blondie Calderon.

Throughout all of this, there is always present the opening session confusion when the members return to their offices, hire their staffs, help new members get accustomed to the Capitol and adopt new rules of operation and procedure for the House of Representatives.

Sadness is here also when one realizes that many old friends are not back either due to voluntary retirement or in some instances defeat in the elections held this last year.

Sorrow marked the opening day of the Legislature with the death of Representative Dave Howard of Uvalde. Dave was a good member and was one of those rare individuals that enjoyed the friendship and respect of the entire House. The loss of a friend and neighbor is always upsetting and Dave's good humor, gentleness and friendship will be sincerely missed.

Governor Smith's message to the joint session on Thursday was general in scope while including some specifics. The tone of his address was that he expected the House and Senate to provide the necessary legislation needed to help Texas to not only continue to reach for greatness, but to grasp it and make it a reality instead of a goal.

The 45 committees of the House are due to be named this week and when they are, the House will be a beehive of activity with the introduction of bills, assigning them to the proper committees and commencing the scheduling of the many, many hours of testimony that the committees will be hearing, studying and evaluating.

This will be a challenging session and I will be reporting back to you, the folks of District 65 on a weekly basis trying to keep you informed of the major issues and problems that will be affecting Texas and from time to time sharing an interesting or humorous sidelight or incident that can only occur when the Legislature is in session at Austin.

The House Un-American Activities Committee, which for nearly a third of a century has been a thorn in the side of Communists and certain liberals, is being systematically reduced to its lowest ebb in usefulness.

The stage was set for the committee's downfall when three of its stalwarts dropped out, replaced in this Congress mainly by liberals.

The committee, which became famous under Martin Dies, later pushed Dick Nixon into national prominence with the exposure of Alger Hiss. Now, ironically, as the committee is being enfeebled, Nixon has reached the pinnacle.

The HUAC has always been controversial. Its collection of incriminating data on individuals has been of invaluable use to the FBI and has led to scores of indictments and convictions.

Now, of all times, there is a pressing need for an effective means of exposing the pinkos and the Communist apparatus, emboldened by civil rights crusaders, riots, and campus militants.

While the committee will continue to function, its usefulness will be seriously handicapped.

The packing technique has plenty of precedent. It will be recalled that when FDR could not get what he wanted from the Supreme Court he brazenly called for additions which would have diluted the court's decisions against the New Deal. It didn't work because of a balky Congress, but attrition soon served the same purpose.

In his later years Sam Rayburn used the packing process to gain control of committees, notably the House Rules Committee—which then cleared the roadblocks and plunged the nation into a near Welfare State and unprecedented deficits.

So, what could not be done directly (the power of public opinion enabled HUAC to beat off attacks by its enemies) is now about to be achieved by indirection—the loading of the committee with those predominantly cool to its methods and objectives.

The Senate's Internal Security Committee, however, serves about the same purpose, is still intact, but is far less effective than what HUAC could be.

J. Edgar Hoover once said to me: "The best way to fight Communism is by exposure."

HELP!

The Success crew takes this means of soliciting your cooperation in helping us to provide you with a better local newspaper with more news in it. We would like for you to please turn in your news items to us.

Unlike our big brothers in the city, a local newspaper does not have a huge reporting staff. The Success can't send men to cover a birthday party, social events, etc. But we want to have a story of those events in your local paper.

When you have a visitor, that's news. When you get married, that's news. When you take a trip, that's news. When your child has a birthday, that's news. When you have a social gathering, that's news. There are many things happening in this county that we want to run in the paper, but we don't know where and when they happen.

We are going to ask your help. When something happens let the Eldorado Success know about it. You may write out the item or story, or write out the facts and we will re-word them, if necessary, for the news story. You can mail us your write-up, drop by the Success office, or phone us.

There's only one simple rule to follow when you send us a story. Think of 5 W's—who, what, where, when and why. Answer all of those questions and you'll have a story.

Be sure to include first names. And when your story contains the name of a married woman, write it "Mrs. John Doe" not "Mrs. Jane Doe." Also please help us spell names correctly. Always ask how to spell a person's name—even if it is "Smith." It might be spelled "Smyth."

We start work on your local newspaper a week in advance. In other words, as soon as we get this week's paper off the press we begin work on next week's paper. Also, our crew are busy days late in the week doing commercial printing for our local customers. So the earlier you get your stories into the Success office the better it will be for both of us. Stories which come in first get choice and best placement in the paper.

With your help we know the Eldorado Success will have more news about Schleicher county people. We'll have a local paper of which you'll be proud. And when you're proud of your local paper, we'll be proud too.
