Local Medical Center Accepted as Member Of Texas Hosp. Assn.

The Schleicher County Medical Center has just received notice that it has been accepted as an Active Institutional Member of the Texas Hospital Association, the activities and programs of which are directed specifically toward "better health for Texans."

The requirements for membership in the Association are that a hospital be registered by the American Hospital Association and that the doctors practicing there be members of, or eligible for membership, in their medical society.

Being a member of the Texas Hospital Association is beneficial to an institution because it indicates to a community that its hospitals are qualified and ethical, and are meeting the high standards of good hospitalization. This adds prestige to an institution and creates confidence.

Membership affords opportunities for improvement of member hospitals by frequent contacts with other hospitals in the Association concerning procedures and practices. It also offers a means of joining with other Texas hospitals in any advancement of their interests.

Membership means an opportunity to attend large conventions each year where thousands of hospital personnel meet to keep abreast with developments and to plan programs for the improvement of all institutions.

The acceptance of Schleicher County Medical Center into the Texas Hospital Association is another step forward for Schleicher county.

Post Script

IT WAS ALVARADO, NOT ELDORADO !!
The news crackled out on Monday over radio.

Not too many people tune in to radios and Bank President Leslie Baker was surprised when he got a call from out of town . . .

"Hey, what's the matter with your bank up there?"

"Nothing—why?"

"Well, aren't you closed?"

"No, we're not closed. Why do you ask?"

"But I heard it on the radio!"

It took some doing to get the story straight. Yes, there had been a radio report that a bank had been closed, but it was at ALVARADO, and it was a State Bank at that small town south of Dallas.

There were some people here in Eldorado who heard the report and they were not confused. It seems that a bank examiner had found Alvarado bank short by more than half a million dollars and ordered it closed. People in Alvarado were unable to mail their checks for income taxes, and the news was on the air.

But one explanation didn't take our local bankers off the hook, and as more out-of-town calls came in they had to explain all over again, and every time they did they became more irritated. Baker was understandably irritated about the confusion in names and he called the radio station to be damn sure to emphasize that it was NOT Eldorado but Alvarado. But calls continued to come in from out of town.

Eldorado people of course, regard their bank as strong as the Rock of Gibraltar, and they can't help but feel amused to find their banker in an uncomfortable situation. They just couldn't resist the temptation to carry him high.

Resolved—
I'm gonna get me a quart of kerosene and fill up that old kerosene lamp that grandma provided us with some 40 years ago.

It was 11:30 this past Friday night and I was writing at my kitchen table when I live when I am at home.

It was a blustery night—wind was blowing and thunder was rumbling—occasionally there was a spatter of rain.

Suddenly the lights went out!

Did you ever find yourself in unexpected total darkness?

I sat there for a minute expecting the lights to come on at any time.

A number of other supporters have been donating labor when the year released from their regular jobs, Linthicum said.

They didn't.
The only way I could get light was to light a match. There was a box of those so-called "penny matches" somewhere on the table.

I spread out my hands and began feeling for the match box. I bumped into an ash tray and knocked over a can of Prince Albert, but finally found the match box. Lit a match.

Remembered there was a flashlight in a drawer by the kitchen range. Match went out before I got there, but found the drawer and fumbled around in the dark and located the flashlight.

It wouldn't turn on.
Worked my way back to the table, found match box again. Examined the flashlight. Battery was dead.

Although I have had no occasion to use it in years, I remembered that my household possessed a kerosene lamp. But where was it? It was 'way up high on a closet shelf you couldn't reach without standing on a chair.

About then the lights came on. Determined then that this would never happen again, I got up on a chair and brought down the old lamp.

It was dry as a bone and the shade was dark with dirt and the wick needed trimming. Over on the table lay my dead flashlight. Have since gotten new batteries for the flashlight. Cleaned up the old lamp and filled it with kerosene. But when I lit it I was disappointed. Did I actually do arithmetic with that kind of light 60 years ago?!

Locals Are District Literary Champions

Eldorado brought home the District 8-A literary trophy for the 11th time in the past 12 years. The literary participants captured 130 points in spite of close competition from Mason and in so doing qualified eight students for the Regional Literary Meet to be held Saturday in Lubbock. Regional participants will include: Alona Haynes, typewriting; Mona Waggoner, slide rule; Lorretta Schooley, slide rule; Jimmy Mercer, boys' informative speaking; Jimmy Martin, number sense; Peggy Hill, girls' prose reading; Charles Adams, boys' persuasive speaking; and Kathy Robinson, number sense, ready writing, girls' persuasive speaking.

The first part of the meet was held in Menard on March 29. Jimmy Martin and Kathy Robinson began the day by tying for first in number sense. Peggy Hill then added a first place in girls' prose reading. The slide-rulers, Mona Waggoner, Lorretta Schooley and Marian Bland, made a clean sweep in that event by placing first, second, and third respectively. Bobby Sykes and Linda Derrick boosted the already growing point total with thirds in science and girls' poetry interpretation. In a very close contest, Alona Haynes placed second in typing; Spellers Jenny Sue Martin and Eva Stigler added a bronze medal. In the extemporaneous speaking events, the EHS students swept three of the four contests. Jimmy Mercer won the gold medal in boys' informative while Charles Adams and Kathy Robinson won boys and girls persuasive speaking. On April 8, the balance of the meet was held in Sonora with Kathy Robinson picking up a gold medal in ready writing.

In the junior high division, Eldorado won in total overall points. Karl McCormack and Dewayne Rushing placed first and second in number sense. Mark Calk won a red ribbon in boys oral reading and Debbie and Kathy Page placed first and second in the girls section of that event. Debbie Page then teamed up with Mary Susan Day, who also won third in ready writing, to win first in spelling.

County Drenched With Biggest Rain In Months

Body Found In Lake North Of Dallas Was John McWhorter, 50

Report at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, April 16th; Eldorado relatives were notified that the body of John McWhorter, 50, had been found and identified at the Garza-Little Elm reservoir north of Dallas. The discovery was made by Bob McWhorter of Eldorado and Sam Calhoun of Christoval.

Tentative plans call for funeral services to be held Saturday afternoon in Dallas.

The following information is from earlier reports:

After nearly three weeks, a search continues for the body of John McWhorter, 50, which is thought to be at the bottom of Garza-Little Elm lake north of Dallas.

Search began on Sunday, March 30, when McWhorter's boat was discovered adrift and unoccupied. His brothers in Eldorado and Christoval were notified and one or more has been at the scene since that time.

Two bodies have been recovered from the lake since the search began, but both proved not to be that of John McWhorter.

Bob, Bill and Dan McWhorter are three Eldorado brothers, and Sam Calhoun of Christoval is a half-brother. Bob has been at the scene since the disappearance and has been joined by one or more of his brothers from time to time.

According to Mrs. Dan McWhorter, Bob, Bill and Sam are at the scene this week. Boats and helicopters are being used in the search.

A 1939 graduate of Eldorado High School, John McWhorter attended San Angelo Junior College and in recent years has been a buyer for the Higginbotham dry goods wholesale firm which is headquartered in Dallas. He served in the Army in World War II.

Another relative who has been notified of the disappearance is the grandmother, Mrs. J. S. Pelt, who lives in Edinburg and who is now 96 years old.

The Garza-Little Elm reservoir has been built since World War II and has a 180-mile shoreline. The large size of the lake has been an obstacle to search efforts.

New Lighting System Completed At Airport

With a new automatic lighting system just recently installed, Eldorado airport is now considered first class.

The job requiring several weeks by B. L. Blakeway, followed a major re-building last fall when the runway was widened and rebuilt with deeper base by the county road crew, and paved.

Up until recently it was necessary for someone to go to the field and turn on lights when a plane needed to land after dark. The new system is built to national specifications and lights come on automatically after dark and go out when daylight arrives. The approved color system makes an attractive sight if you drive out beyond the gin after dark.

QUICK SERVICE on orders for rubber stamps. Dating stamps and stamp pads in stock. The Success.

It started last Friday night with wind, thunder and lightning and occasional gusts of rain, but it wasn't until after midnight when the deluge arrived. Those who slept through it were surprised Saturday morning to see water standing everywhere and it was no time at all when everyone was eagerly comparing his rain with his neighbor.

The Friday-Saturday rain had been preceded by a half-inch shower on Thursday from which very few had emptied their rain gauges. The figures collected by this paper Monday represent total rainfall for that period.

West Favored
A review of the following list reveals that the west part of the county had the heaviest rainfall, running from 4-plus to a generous 5 inches.

Mort Mertz told of making a trip to Merton Monday and found roads around the county line badly washed. When he got to Merton he was told there had been 5½ inches throughout the Tankersley country.

Mertz was especially jubilant saying, "That's where we get our underground water from."

On his own ranch here in south part of Schleicher, Mertz reported 2½ inches on his north ranch and 1.60 on the south which lies near the Brushy Top area.

Mrs. Charlie Trigg was unable Monday to give a report from their ranch in the west part of the county. She explained they had started for the ranch but standing water prevented them from ever getting to their rain gauge.

Since there was no rainfall at all in December and January, and less than 1½ inches in each of February and March, prospects for growing crops this year were beginning to look bleak. But last week's precipitation has changed the picture and has given farming and ranching a sudden new shot in the arm. Everyone was happy and enthusiastic Monday when contacted for a report.

Bill Would Curb Unsolicited Mail

Austin, Tex.—A bill designed to protect the citizens of Texas from unsolicited merchandise and follow up dunning mail has been approved by the Jurisprudence Committee of the Texas Senate, according to Senator W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland, sponsor of the bill.

"This legislation says that un-ordered merchandise delivered to a person will be considered a gift to him," Snelson said. Continuing, he pointed out that the recipient will not be bound to accept delivery, and if he does, he need not return the goods to the sender. He may use them or dispose of them without any obligation.

"There is a definite need for this to protect the children of our state as well as their parents," the Senator added. "One ten-year old child signed a coupon which said he would receive a free book. Instead, he received three books and letters threatening his 'national and local credit rating'."

According to Senator Snelson, the states of Maryland, New York and Illinois already have such a law, and this problem has been relieved.

He said he would seek full Senate approval as soon as possible.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

Over the Easter holidays I was served a delicious casserole in the home of a friend who was delighted to give me the recipe. Like all good recipes it is making the rounds. My friend got the recipe in San Antonio from her sister who in turn had gotten it from her sister-in-law in Dallas. And who knows how fast it will travel between the covers of the Success?

Mexican Casserole

1½ pounds good ground meat, sautéed and seasoned with salt and pepper;

1 can Cream of Chicken soup;
1 can Cream of Mushroom soup;
1 tall can (about height of soup can) enchilada sauce;
1 can Taco sauce;
1 can green chilies;

¾ pound sharp cheddar cheese;
1 package soft tortillas.

Mix soups, sauces, and green chilies together. Put layer of tortillas in bottom of casserole dish. Cover with layer of ground meat. Spread ground meat with soup, sauce and green chilies mixture. Repeat process until ingredients are used up. Put cheese on top. Cover dish and cook at 300 to 325 degrees for about 30 minutes or until heated through. Uncover last 10 minutes of baking time.

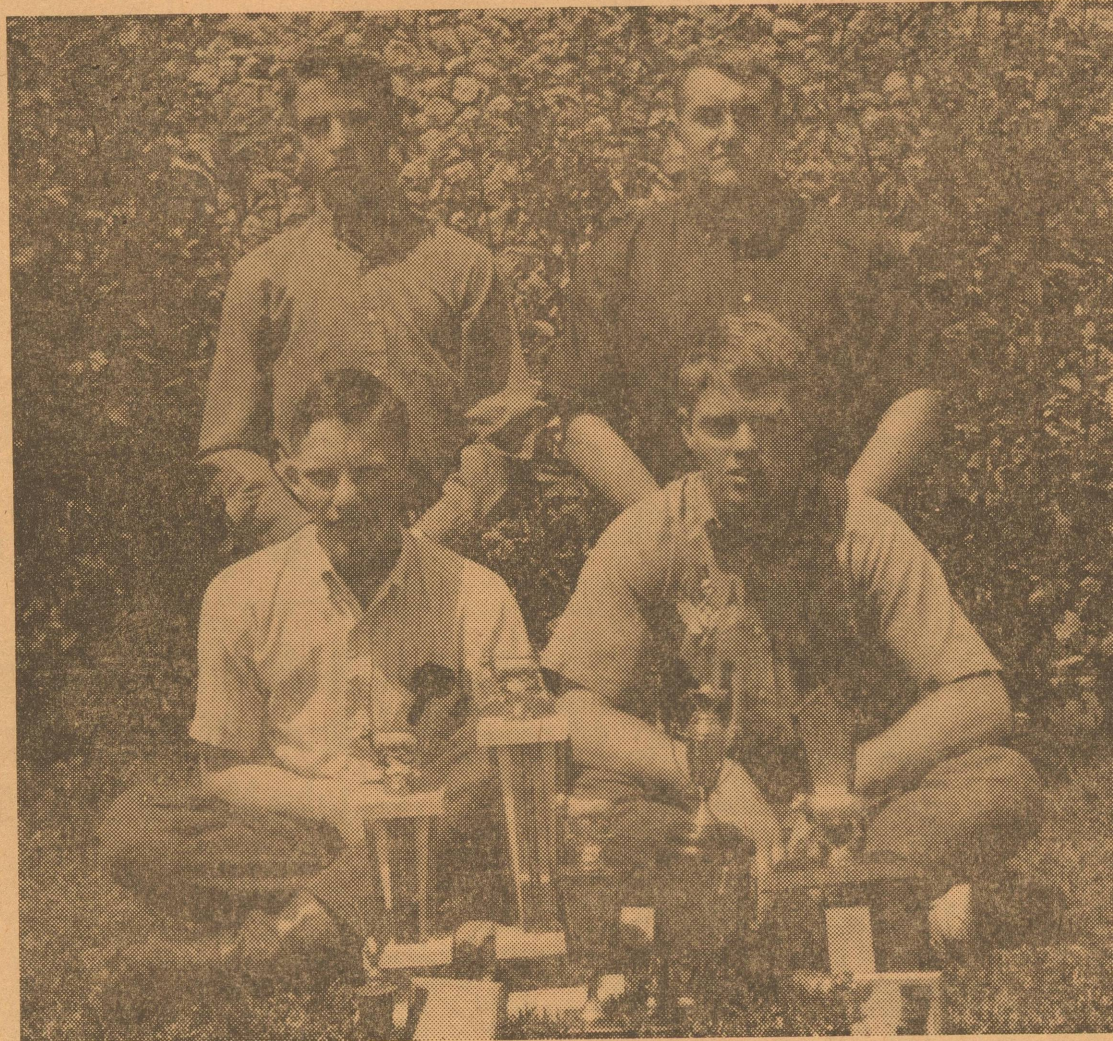

Serves 8 or 10.

Our hostess served a watercress salad, hot rolls and fresh strawberries topped with whipped cream. It made elegant party fare and I think that you will enjoy this dish whether served to family or friends. Incidentally the enchilada and taco sauces can be bought in our local food stores.

Something new for the bread basket has been added by Mrs. Beth Jeffrey of the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club.

This interesting item is tomato bread and it is as good as it looks. Mrs. Jeffrey served tomato bread to her club not long ago and everybody wanted the recipe. We decided that the easiest way to get that done would be share it with all of you, so here it is—

Tomato Bread

2 cups tomato juice
2 tablespoons butter or shortening
1 teaspoon salt and 3 tablespoons sugar
¾ cup tomato ketchup
1 package dry yeast
¾ cup warm water
6½ cups flour (more or less).

Heat tomato juice and butter over low fire until butter is melted. Add sugar, salt, ketchup. Let cool to luke warm. Sprinkle yeast into the ¾ cup warm water, stir until dissolved. Mix tomato juice mixture, yeast, and 3 cups flour. Beat in mixer or by hand for at least two minutes. Stir in remaining flour until soft dough is formed. Turn dough onto a floured board or cloth and knead until smooth and elastic. Place dough in greased bowl, turning dough so that greased side will be up. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 1½ hours.

Punch dough down and divide in half. Shape and place in two well-greased pans. Let rise about an hour or until almost double in bulk. Bake in moderate oven 375 to 400 degrees F. about 50 minutes. When loaves shrink from sides of pan, are a golden brown and give a hollow sound when tapped, the bread is done.

As soon as loaves are taken from the oven, turn top side up on racks to cool. Do not cover while warm. Makes two 1-pound loaves. You will love the golden pink color. It is good looking and different.

Stocks of frozen and canned green beans are high now and both must be moved before the new crop starts rolling. Take advantage of possibly lowered prices and serve:

Spanish Green Beans

1 tablespoon fat or oil
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1/3 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 can green beans, drained
Salt and pepper to taste
Toasted bread cubes or crumbs.
Heat fat and brown onion and green pepper in it. Be careful not to over brown. Add tomatoes and cook slowly for about 15 minutes. Add beans and season to taste with salt and pepper. Heat thoroughly. Turn into a serving dish and top with bread cubes. Makes 4 servings.

"If we work upon marble, it will perish; if on brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, and imbue them with the just fear of god and love of our fellow men, we engrave on these tablets something that will brighten to all eternity."

TO DIRECT GIRL SCOUT CAMP

Mr. Owen Rabourn, Personnel Chairman for El Camino Girl Scout Council Board of Directors, announced the appointment of Miss Diane Singleton as director of Camp Jo Jan Van for the 1969 season. Miss Singleton is a Physical Education teacher at Edison Junior High School, San Angelo. A native of Austin, she received her degree in Education from Southwest Texas State College in 1967. Miss Singleton has had experience in Y.M.C.A. and Girl Scout Camps and will attend a Camp Directors' Conference sponsored by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., in Santa Fe April 17-19.

Mrs. A. T. Wright and her daughter, Mrs. L. T. Barber, both of San Angelo, were Thursday visitors in Eldorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gunstead and Gwendolyn and Billy Charles were at Six Flags Saturday. This was opening week-end for the attraction located between Ft. Worth and Dallas.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), a product of the burgeoning Big Government era, got into the news the other day when Senator Teddy Kennedy called Clifford Alexander, Jr., chairman of that agency, to report to a Senate committee on progress in forcing businessmen to hire, fire and promote employees in accordance with the commission's findings.

As the EEOC chairman told of his meddling in private business affairs, the venerable Everett Dirksen came unglued. He reminded the witness of mounting complaints against the agency's excesses, and proceeded to insist that the harassment of private business must stop or "I'm going to the highest authority in this Government and get somebody fired!"

This prompted Teddy to rebuke Dirksen, and dared him to try his hand at firing Alexander, a New York Negro.

Well, Kennedy was a bit too amateurish for his own good—and that of Alexander. For the next day it was announced President Nixon was removing EEOC's chairman from his exalted position.

EEOC, a scourge of American business, has authority to have employers hauled into court for failing to hire, fire or promote in accordance with the whims of the agency's functionaries. Created five years ago to run herd on businessmen and all private employers, the agency has prospered in terms of swollen rolls and mounting costs. Now staffed by 518, the agency's cost tag per year is $8.7 million—and it is asking for twice that amount. This compulsory control over employment practices—along with its double-cousin, the Civil Rights Commission—irritate more people every day. The use of harassing tactics by both agencies is commonplace. Both should be abolished.

A few days ago I received a letter from a recently returned Vietnam veteran who said he couldn't understand why when he applied to fill a vacancy in San Antonio he was told he was not eligible. When he asked why, the veteran was informed the firm had been warned the next employee hired in that plant had better be of a different race—different from that of the veteran. And for racial reasons he didn't get the job.

I Attended Rites For Eisenhower in Kansas

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Abilene, Kansas, is a sleepy, modest, unexciting town of 8,000—not many more than lived there 100 years ago when Texas drovers roamed herds of longhorns to that Loomtown terminus of the Chisholm Trail, which incidentally my father traversed in 1878.

I attended the Eisenhower funeral there last Wednesday as one of the two appointed by the Speaker of the House to represent the House of Representatives on that sad but historic occasion.

It was an impressive military funeral, attended by some 50,000, most of whom came from surrounding wheat farms and hamlets to pay their last respects to Abilene's most famous citizen.

Texas takes pride in claiming Ike as a favorite son. I once heard him say grasshoppers caused it. "My father's farm near Abilene was wiped out by an invasion of grasshoppers," he recalled. "So he loaded the family in a vehicle and headed for Denison where he got work on a railroad construction project. During that two-year period I was born, and I guess you'd have to say grasshoppers caused it to happen in Texas!"

Eisenhower's place in history is secure. As a military man he commanded the largest aggregation of uniformed fighters ever assembled, and won a decisive victory. As President he shunned crusades like New Deal, New Frontier, and Great Society. During his tenure there were two balanced budgets, and he checked the inflation trend. He scorned pie-in-the-sky schemes, and insisted every able-bodied man should work for a living. Ike was good for America. He inspired faith, hope and confidence—the good things of life—the tried and trusted methods of doing things. In a sense he was the John Garner type, always relying on common sense and the old-fashioned concept of balancing the ledger on Saturday nights. A truly great American has departed.

Eldorado-Divide District News

Ten Producers To Control 5,468 Acres of Brush and Reseed

Producers of the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District have been bothered by grass-choking and water-robbing brush spreading over more and more of their rangelands for the past several years. A growing number of farmers and ranchers are doing something about it.

Some producers are turning to brush control as an effective and profitable range conservation measure for the benefit of livestock and game. That is, when it is tied in with such other practices as stocking within the grassland's safe carrying capacity, deferred and rotation grazing, range seeding, and more even distribution of livestock on the range.

This year, ten producers are controlling (mechanical-doze) brush on 5,468 acres and following the control by reseeding with a mixture of grasses. This same acreage will receive a full growing season rest (April 1 to Nov. 1) this year and next year, in order to allow time for the young grass seedlings to become established. On some of the acreage, the brush was dozed and seeded last year, and the rangeland is receiving its second year's rest this year.

Compared to the numbers of acres in the district that needs control, this may seem like a small number of acres, but adding all acres of the ten producers controlling brush together, it amounts to an eight and a half section ranch.

The important thing about this is that the producers of this entire acreage have plans to manage it in such a way that the range will improve in composition and allowed to increase in forage production.

The ten producers doing the brush control and reseeding work include Mike Moore, Jimmie West, Joseph VanderStucken, Marvin McAngus, Marvin Logan, Houston Arrott, Ed Meador, Howard Derrick, C. A. Cole Jr., and James Mika.

Brush control is a gigantic, puzzling, many sided problem which needs understanding and positive action. Supervisors and technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the district, realize that controlling brush and managing rangeland is a major problem in this area.

Austin, Tex.—Budget battle lines are being drawn in the Legislature. But redistricting lines aren't. And Speaker Gus Mutscher is getting lined up for a summer marriage to a former Miss America.

While appropriations and redistricting don't look too cheerful, the prospect of putting a bride in the Speaker's Apartment in the Capitol has added a bright note to deliberations. Early in the summer, Mutscher will marry Donna Axum, Miss America of 1964. Miss Axum, an Arkansas beauty, is a speech teacher at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

As for redistricting, a US Supreme Court ruling has wiped out the Legislature's optimistic feeling that it could avoid any sort of redistricting this year. High Court ruled that congressional districts must be precisely the same size, and Legislatures "must justify each variance no matter how small."

Texas' congressional districts are clearly outside the Court's decision so they will have to be redrawn. Since that involves a lot of work, the possibility of a special session looms.

In other action, the House Appropriations Committee approved its version of the budget bill for the next two fiscal years. A Senate-passed bill would spend $5,775,900,000, but the House version has only $5,724,500,000. Major difference is in raises for state employees.

While the Senate bill would involve a sizable tax bill, the House version could get by on existing revenue. Neither bill includes pay raises for teachers.

Final bill will be drawn up by a House-Senate conference committee, which is expected to get pretty steamy in its deliberations.

Work Load Eased Easter holidays limited action on major legislation but Committees continued to churn out bills. House tentatively approved annual legislative sessions, but fell one vote short of final passage of the constitutional amendment proposition.

Senators passed a minimum wage bill in their first Friday work of the 1969 session. Earlier they engrossed a proposed constitutional amendment to repeal the annual voter registration requirement, substituting a limit on the registration period of four years maximum.

Senate took two hours to engross legislation making Texas government units liable to damage suits for negligent acts of their personnel. An amendment attached by Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris exempted school districts, to the consternation of sponsors. House passed 32 bills on local and sent calendars, then passed three more on the general calendar.

Approved by House committee and ready for early action are proposed constitutional amendments (already cleared by Senate) to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink on a local option basis, and abolish the welfare spending ceiling. Sponsors of both claim they need 100 votes for submission to voters at statewide elections.

Obscenity Eyed Liberties taken by motion pictures the past few years and the increase in the availability of smutty literature has resulted in a flood of bills aimed at tightening up the laws against obscenity. House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee held a hearing on three of the bills—by Reps. James Nugent of Kerrville, Lamoine Hilland of San Antonio and Joe Salem of Corpus Christi—and sent all three to the same subcommittee, which presumably will combine the most desirable features of all three into one bill.

Holland's bill aims at obscene literature, Salem's at dirty movies and Nugent's covers the whole field of obscenity. Only opposition to the bills came from a spokesman for the Texas Drive-In Theater Owners Association, who said the bill would hurt the 1,000 legitimate theaters in Texas to get at the "50 or so that show skin flicks."

Also meeting favorable receptions in the Legislature are bills to exempt from prosecution under anti-obscenity laws projectionists who own no interest in theaters.

Aeronautics Gag Proposed new rules and regulations for the hearing of cases before it—including a prohibition against anyone connected with a case from discussing the merits of the case with newsmen. Commission's jurisdiction primarily involves the certification of intra-state airlines and the grant-

Proposed rule, which will be considered at a May 15 hearing, says a party to a case may not discuss it with newsmen "outside the presence of all other parties or their representatives, unless a member of the Commission is present."

Water Plan Moving

Texas Water Rights Commission took just two hours to wind up hearings on a $9 billion statewide water plan.

Commission promised a ruling by April 22 on whether or not it approves the plan. It must determine whether all existing water rights are adequately protected.

Lower Rio Grande Valley water districts wanted approval withheld unless the 390,000 acre-feet of upstream diversion of Rio Grande waters, as proposed in the plan, is prohibited. They claimed the diversion would "bankrupt" three lower valley counties.

Northeast Texas spokesmen did not like the plan's sizeup of their water needs. While favoring use of surplus to help dry areas, they said they oppose "robbing Peter to pay Paul." Meanwhile, a $3.5 billion revenue bond constitutional amendment cleared both houses of the legislature for a place on an August 5 special election ballot.

Courts Speak

Court of Criminal Appeals threw out a 1967 law adding hallucinogens, including LSD, to the dangerous drug list. Court said act is unconstitutional because of a defective caption.

A federal district judge in Austin dismissed the suit by VISTA anti-poverty workers in Del Rio for reinstatement. Gov. Preston Smith had asked that the Val Verde County VISTA programs be abolished on request of the county commissioners there.

State Supreme Court held that an Amarillo man is entitled to damages because of insecticide poisoning he suffered while spraying cattle.

A Kilgore city employee lost his Supreme Court appeal for damages under city insurance coverage due to illness caused by spraying insecticides.

Appointments

Governor Smith appointed James H. Milam of Lubbock to the State Securities Board to succeed Randall Jackson of Abilene. Former Gov. John Connally attempted to reappoint Jackson, but Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said the selection should have been left to Smith. Governor Smith still awaits a ruling from Martin as to whether Connally had the right to appoint three University of Texas regents in the 11th hour of his administration.

Smith reappointed Edgar F. Engelke of Seguin to a new term on the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority. He also named G-BRA Reagan B. Cates of Victoria, Arthur F. Leesch of Boerne, Howard C. McKenna of New Braunfels and Thomas A. Garner of Port Lavaca. Col. Walter B. Staudt of Houston has been promoted to brigadier general in the Texas Air Guard and assigned here as chief of staff (air).

Rehabilitation Program Cut

Texas Education Agency has been notified by the federal government that federal aid to the state vocational-rehabilitation program will be cut by approximately $5 million this year.

That would pare the program about 18%, or specifically from $27,363,204 to $22,537,694.

However, Assistant Education Commissioner C. G. Fairchild says the actual benefits of the program won't be reduced that much, because when the money situation gets tight, the TEA gets more and more cooperation from other agencies and individuals, such as physicians. "So it's not all as bad as it may sound," he says. "After all, we started with only $10,000 in 1929, and then all we could do was ask for free help. It's still available."

Attorney General Rules

Atty. Gen. Martin has held in a new opinion that the Parks and Wildlife Department has authority, with consent of the governor, to set the selling price on marl, sand or other sedimentary materials to be removed from Galveston Bay and used as fill.

In another opinion Martin concluded that the county commissioners cannot use road and bridge funds or farm-market-lateral road funds for paying courthouse salaries, fire prevention services, tax evaluation services or hospital care of indigent.

Red Measles Down

Development of a new drug to combat Red Measles has cut the number of cases reported in Texas last year to only one-tenth the number in the past.

However, the State Health Department reports that the number of German Measle cases continues to climb, from 640 in 1967 to 2,923 in 1968. There's a new vaccine for that disease, too, but it has not yet been approved by the federal government for use in this country. Statewide drops in the number of several diseases were recorded, including last year's leader, strep throat, which includes Scarlet Fever. In 1968, 32,263 cases were reported, compared to 37,408 in 1967.

Short Snorts . . .

Texas water law is dealt with in a new publication by the Water Development Board, titled "Laws and Programs Pertaining to Water and Related Land Resources."

Water Quality Board is calling for a series of work sessions with animal raisers to discuss possible water pollution from feedlots and holding pens. (Animal waste control has become a bit of a problem in recent years, with about two billion tons of manure produced each year in Texas.)

Sens. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi and A. R. Schwartz of Galveston have introduced bills to meet federal requirements so Texas will be eligible for the new federal flood insurance program.

Legislation is in the works to change the name of Naples Reservoir in East Texas to Marvin Nichols Reservoir—after Fort Worth's pioneer water engineer.

MRS. GERALD P. CHRISMAN

Miss Shelia Ann Wilde of Eldorado and Gerald Paul Chrisman of Ft. Stockton were married Saturday in Our Lady Of Guadalupe Catholic Church of Eldorado by Rev. Michael Fernandez.

Wait Before Writing About Tax Refund

Dallas, Tex.—Ten weeks from the date a Federal income tax return calling for a refund is mailed, the taxpayer either has his check or a letter explaining why it is held up, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said today.

For this reason, a taxpayer who has not heard about his refund should wait ten weeks before writing IRS. By waiting this length of time, most taxpayers will find their inquiry unnecessary, Mr. Campbell said.

If it becomes necessary to write, the taxpayer should indicate where and when he filed his return and give his name, address and social security number, Mr. Campbell said.

Millions of returns are handled every filing season at the Austin Service Center which serves Northern Texas taxpayers. The volume of processing operations there makes it practically impossible for IRS to locate a particular return and to answer any question about it until processing is complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Williams have returned to their home in Dallas after an Easter week end visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Porter.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Cotton producers, when planting, set in motion a series of events that are inevitable—time of first square, first bloom, first open boll, and time to start harvest.

The understanding the schedule for these things, a cotton producer can be more consistent from year to year in yield and fiber. And if these are anything cotton producers need now is consistency. Consistency is one of the biggest advantages that synthetic fiber manufacturers have over cotton farmers. They can control temperature, chemical mix, strength, length and daily output (yield) of their fiber.

The best cotton producers can do is learn how to fit various stages of the cotton plants development into existing weather patterns.

The cotton plant is virtually inactive at temperatures below 60 degrees F. It takes 100 hours above 60 to get a recognizable stand; 1000 hours above 60 degrees from planting to first bloom; and 1,000 hours above 60 from white bloom to open boll.

The time in days will vary depending on when cotton is planted because the plant is remarkably dependable on the degree hours required to reach each stage.

Moving the entire schedule forward will shorten these cycles in Schleicher county if you aren't caught by cold weather. It takes 750 hours above 60 to planted in April or approximately 62 days from spout to pin size square but on 36 days in May to get the same result.

So if you plant 30 days early and scape the hazard of cold and replanting, you still harvest only 7 to 14 days earlier.

Generally cotton planting is dependent upon moisture in this county but keeping in mind optimum dates also produces the best quality, in length, strength, and micronaire.

Weather Bureau records show that the first week in May until May 20th is an optimum date in the county

It's easier to do a job right than to explain why you didn't.

The amount of fresh, clean peaches from home trees this summer will depend on proper fungicide and insect control within the next few days.

Brown rot, a serious peach disease, can materially lower the yield by causing deterioration of fruit tissue. Control of the costly fungus can be achieved by spraying trees when approximately 75 per cent of the flower petals have fallen.

Either wettable sulfur or "Captain" can be used in hand sprayers or small power sprayers. Coverage should be sufficient to thoroughly wet the foliage and developing fruit. For small spraying jobs, about 4½ tablespoons of "Captain" 50% wettable powder or nine tablespoons of wettable sulfur to three gallons of water is recommended.

Either malathion or methoxychlor can be mixed with the fungicides at the same time to keep bothersome insects from the fruit. About two more applications of the mixtures, 21 days apart, will assure good fungus and insect control throughout the growing season.

It is important to follow label directions and precautions when using chemicals on fruit trees.

Most people are about as happy as they make up their minds to be.

It's spring. Birds are singing, farmers are planting, children are searching for four-leaf clovers, grass is growing and lawn mowers are being taken out of winter storage.

With this in mind, here are some suggestions which can prevent mower accidents.

1. If you have a new mower or one you aren't familiar with, study the operator's manual before using it.

2. Before mowing, walk over the lawn. Clear off stones, pieces of wire and other debris which might be turned into a projectile by a rotary mower.

3. When it's raining or any time the grass is wet, don't use an electric mower unless it is absolutely certain the mower and cord are in perfect condition.

4. Start safely; stand firm and make sure your feet are well away from the blade.

5. Don't run while mowing. Be certain footing is secure when mowing a steep bank.

6. Never fill the gasoline tank while the engine is hot or running.

7. Learn how to disengage the clutch or stop the mower quickly in case of an emergency. Always stop the mower and disconnect the spark plug wire when you leave the mower.

8. Keep small children and pets away from the area being mowed.

9. Always keep hands, feet and clothing away from moving parts. If work must be done on the underside of the mower, disconnect the spark plug wire and tip the machine over with the handle.

10. Always push the mower forward. Don't take a chance of pulling it backwards over your foot.

Mowing is a major part of good lawn management but if it is done in a careless manner, it can also be the most expensive.

A virtue to be serviceable, must like gold be alloyed with some commoner but durable metal.

AQUATIC ANTICS: Another new attraction for the 1969 season features the aquatic antics of four porpoises. Here's one being put through his paces by his pretty trainer. The porpoise show is located on Skull Island. The porpoises are housed in a 115,000-gallon tank which is surrounded by permanent bleachers with a seating capacity for 1,500 guests.

Carelessness KILLS
WATCH THAT SECOND TRACK
You have slowed down for the advance warning signs, stopped a safe distance from the tracks, and waited for the freight to pass. Don't get impatient now. You may dart out, just as the caboose passes, right into the path of a fast moving train on another track. Wait for the train to clear a sufficient distance to insure good visibility. Never move while the flasher lights are still operating. "Look Before You Leap."

Carelessness KILLS
OUT OF DARKNESS INTO OBLIVION
It is night and the road is clear; you are pouring on the speed. You overdrive your headlights. Suddenly your headlights pick up the side of a train going over a crossing. You can't stop when you see the train. Consider the horror. The horrible pain of fear for the seconds it takes you to slide from the darkness into oblivion.
