68TH YEAR

ELDORADO—SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS, (76936) Thursday, November 27, 1969

Number 48

Rain Halts Stripping But Farmers Happy

Eldorado's Mikeska Gin had a good five-day run last week and processed some 360 bales before they closed down at noon Sunday. In the previous week, Sunday the 16th, the county was visited by light showers, and farmers were unable to resume stripping until Tuesday afternoon. Thereafter dry weather prevailed through Sunday. Sunday night and Monday brought a return of wet weather with leaden skies and slow intermittent showers which measured up to 1.50 inches in places at that time. Late Monday, Eldorado had had an inch. Lloyd Johnson's rain tabulation shows a total of 23.49 inches for the year up to the end of October. Added to that, recent November rains have left much of the county drenched and caliche roads extremely sloppy. It all seems to be for the best. Those with winter crops declare it was just what the doctor ordered.

It is estimated that over 500 bales of cotton still remain in the county to be gathered in the next dry spell.

It rained again Monday night and Tuesday. Some farmers were reporting 2½ inches by that time.

B Girls Take 2nd Win

The "B" Eaglettes garnered their second win of the season against Winters last Tuesday night by a 43-38 score.

Leading the scoring was Jeanne McCravey with 18 points, Patty Page 12, and Rosellen Maness with 10. Judy Hanusch and Barbara Robledo got 2 and 1 each.

Defensively, Patsy Tampke was outstanding with 10 rebounds and Gail Robinson played one of her best games ever netting 12 carems. Margie Green got 4 rebounds and Betty K. Bradley 1.

The Eaglettes led all the way but never by more than a few points.

Band Receives First And Standing Ovation

The Eagle Band marched into University Interscholastic League Competition at Ranger, Saturday and made it 4 wins in a row for their band and 21 in a row for Mr. McDonald. To top it off, the "Pride of Eldorado" received a standing ovation (a very unusual happening) at the end of their performance from all the spectators and all the competing bands in Bulldog Stadium in extremely windy weather.

Competition started at 8:30 Saturday morning; each band allowed a time limit of 8 minutes to perform in 10 minute intervals. This continued all day until 4:00 p.m. with an hour and a half out for lunch. Two Jr. High bands began the competition, then 14 Class A bands with last, just before the lunch break, then AA and AAA in the afternoon followed by a special performance of the Howard Payne College Yellowjacket Band. Of the 14 Class A bands, 3 received Firsts: Cross Plains, Eldorado and Ranger. Two of Eldorado's entries in twirling competition merged as 1st place winners and received medals. They are Mona Beth Waggoner and Marian Bland.

Each band performance is filmed and taped; and each time the announcer requests, "Please, may we remind you, this band is being filmed and taped, may we have quiet in the stands." Occasionally the crowd applauds during an outstanding performance. Saturday "That Goin' Band From Eagle Land" received applause each time they changed formations, then facing the stands they began "March America" and marched toward the sideline, facing a standing ovation. They bowed their heads to thunderous applause, then with tear filled eyes they marched from the field. Unexpected applause, at contest, is gratifying but a standing ovation is overwhelming.

It was a long day for the band kids—they had gotten up around 4:00 a.m. in order that the chartered buses (financed by the band aides) could be loaded—uniforms and instruments—and ready to leave at 5:00 o'clock. They arrived in Ranger in time to see a few bands perform before they marched on, then after lunch the girls entering twirling competition did their routines and after receiving their ratings, the band headed to Brownwood and supper, then on the road home. They arrived at the band hall about 8:30 to a large "welcome home" party prepared by the proud boosters who had been alerted by a mid-afternoon phone call.

Mr. Mac & Band: We are so proud of you. Now—On to Sweepstakes!

Thanksgiving Is General Holiday
This Thursday—Nov. 27—will be observed as a legal holiday through-out the nation.

Most business houses will be closed for the observance, and the general public is asked to make necessary transactions accordingly so that store personnel and others may enjoy this day of Thanksgiving at home, at their chosen recreation, or just plain visiting with friends and loved ones.

Our public schools are turning out at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 26th, for a two-day holiday. Classroom work will be resumed the following Monday morning.

There are, however, a few places open this Thanksgiving Day. The Chaparral and Eagle's Nest cafes are open Thanksgiving to serve traditional fare to those who don't care to cook a big dinner. Also open are a few service stations. Otherwise Thanksgiving Day finds everything closed.

Be Thankful

As we Americans sit down to our traditional turkey on this Thanksgiving Day in homes across the nation we have much for which to be thankful. True, there are many disquieting factors giving cause for grave concern, both on the domestic and international scenes, but if we look deep enough, we shall find unmistakable reasons for thanksgiving.

Consider the many liberties we enjoy in this nation and be thankful for their existence. But thankful for our freedom to achieve, work and advance; for our freedom to worship; for our right to free speech and free elections.

While we are grateful for a special day when we can join with others all over the country in citing our blessings and thanking God for them, we are still challenged to make every day a Thanksgiving Day as we recall the blessings that ever surround us.

Truly there is much for which we can be thankful. And this overflowing of good should daily remind us to pray for peace throughout the world so that all mankind may live in harmony and enjoy the fruits of a better life.

Capitalist Holiday

The first Presidential Proclamation of a day of Thanksgiving in the United States was made by George Washington, in 1789. The day was set aside for prayers and thanks for the new Constitution. Several states continued the practice, each designating its own day. Abraham Lincoln was the first President to appoint an official Thanksgiving Day, to be celebrated each year on the last Thursday of November. Lincoln issued the Proclamation on October 3, 1863. Since that time the Nation has joined, on one day, saying its prayers of Thanksgiving, and in remembrance of the small band of religious fugitives who landed, accidentally, at Plymouth Rock.

A fact too often forgotten concerning the Pilgrim Fathers is their trial—and abandonment—of the communal system of joint ownership and community labor in the colony. A primary reason for their early hardships on the North American continent was the effort to form a Socialist society.

At first, the young colony seemed to be working, but following the first "Thanksgiving," the colony went into a tailspin. Many found that under the system all shared equally so that not a few began to absent themselves from the fields. Naturally they feigned illness and naturally the number of absentees increased.

The crops failed, and the "starving time" soon followed. Things became so bad in 1623, just three years after they landed, that the best they could provide was a freshly caught fish, a lobster, and a cup of water. It was a disastrous comedown after the bountiful feast of 1621, when they hosted Chief Massasoit and 90 of his braves.

And so it was that in that same year of 1623, Governor William Bradford, at the urging of the governing council, established the free enterprise system, and the Plymouth Plantation began to grow and prosper.

The Pilgrims had learned their lesson the hard way. But, from the agony of "the starving time" there has grown the most productive and most wealthy civilization that the world has ever known. In Thanksgiving, it has shared the product of its hard work with virtually every nation in the world. Thanksgiving is truly a capitalist holiday.

The Success crew are in process of printing a new Schleicher County Birthday Calendar for 1970, the first such endeavor here in 14 years. It was compiled by Beta Sigma Phi sorority members.

We expect to have these calendars printed and delivered the first week end (6th) in December at which time they will go on sale.

Mrs. Earl Dean Clark is chairman of the committee that compiled the calendar, and will also have charge of sale arrangements.

No one in this ranch country is ever going to admit that he has all the rain he needs, but I wish it would slack off long enough so the county could finish paving the block between Java Junction cafe and Taylor's service station.

The way it is now you have to wade through mud to get in for coffee.

After recuperating at home last week from a recent illness and hospital stay, James Williams was back on the job Monday at his car market and real estate office, apparently no worse for wear.

His chief regret was that he was unable to attend our final football game against Menard here on the 13th of November.

Postmaster Bernard already has the special 6c stamps with the Christmas theme on sale at the Post Office. These are issued each year by the Post Office Department especially for Christmas cards.

These stamps come 50 to a sheet and a full sheet costs $3.00.

Postmaster Carr and his crew also urge everyone to mail cards and packages as early as possible, with proper postage. Be sure each outgoing piece of mail is legibly addressed with Zip Codes included in each.

The Christmas mail volume this season promises to be the largest ever, and the co-operation of everyone will insure the movement of it as efficiently as possible.

Boosters To Meet

The Eagle Booster Club will meet Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. Last week's meeting was canceled due to several Jr. High games being held here.

Summary Of The 1969 Eagle Football Season

Christmas Parade Set For December 8th

The Chamber of Commerce will again sponsor the Christmas parade on Monday, Dec. 8, and open the Christmas shopping season for our town.

A young lady will be selected from the Senior class to be crowned "Miss Merry Christmas." She will be judged on poise, personality and her ability to relate to the judges her feelings toward a true Christmas spirit.

All community organizations are being contacted and urged to enter a float in the parade. If your organization needs more information, then contact Elnora Love or Pat Sykes.

The parade route will be a little different this year and will begin and end at the City Hall. Four p.m. is the starting time with floats and costumed children lining up in front of the Memorial Building.

Any children falling into the age bracket of pre-schoolers through the 3rd grade are urged to make and wear original Christmas costumes. A $5 prize will be awarded to the one picked by the judges.

Girls Tumble Before Winters Friday Night

Tuesday night Eldorado beat Winters 60-57 but Friday night the Eaglettes could do nothing right as they were licked 62-31 in Eagle Gym by the same Blizzardettes.

Offensively the Eaglettes could not buy a basket as Sheri Roberts was the only one in double figures as she hit 13 and Sherry Davis got 7. At the same time the green was even having trouble at the free throw line as they made only 17 of 31 for 54%. Eldorado made only 7 baskets for the evening.

Defensively the story was not much better because the guards committed too many violations and fouls. Both Lisa Whitten and McAngus went out via fouls but the guards also committed some 16 turnovers. Winters was awarded 46 free throws and made 26. These same two teams will no doubt meet again before the season is over, in tournament play, and the Eldorado girls will no doubt try to be up to the challenge.

Eaglettes are 1-1 on the season.

Teams To Host Rocksprings Saturday

Some excitement should be in the air Saturday night as the Angoras come to town for a boys' and girls' contest.

The girls bring the most experienced and capable team they have had in several years. They have both an inside and outside scoring threat and excellent defense. Their boys' team always is hustling and provides lots of action for the Eagles. "B" girls begin at 5:00 Saturday, November 29, Rocksprings in Eldorado.

These Accompanied Band To Ranger

Sponsors who accompanied the Band to Ranger were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Maness, and Mrs. Bob Bland.

Backing Band

Besides the host of parents and boosters who could not be in Ranger but were waiting anxiously at home, following people made the 400-mile trip to support the Eagle Band:

Mr. and Mrs. Jerroll Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. August Roden, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mercer, Mrs. J. E. Hill, Jim Mercer, Mrs. Billy McCravey, Maureen McCravey, Mrs. Bill Holsey and Cindy, Donald Holsey, Jack Williams, Mrs. Damon Wagoner, Mrs. Ray Hanusch, Mrs. Jim Davis, Mrs. Lee Roy Hanusch, Jim Mercer and Steven Mercer, both of Howard Payne College and Buddy Calk of Angelo State University. —Band Rep.

Summarizing a high school football season always invites the problem of saying in a few words what would require many, many words to say anything remotely adequate. The Eldorado Eagles underwent physical examinations Tuesday night, August 12, and launched a pre-season training routine that produced a 7-win 3-loss season record. The Eagles placed 4th in district standings.

Last August, District 8-A coaches forecast that Sonora would repeat as district champion; that Mason would take second honors; Junction, third; Eldorado, fourth; and Menard and Eden, 5th and 6th respectively. Only error in the forecast was that Junction defeated Mason; but the top half of the district still included the "big three." History of the 1968 season and the coaches' views did nearly repeat themselves.

Interscholastic flashbacks of Eagle activities during the year might start with Wayne (High Velocity) Doyle's fine 66-yard return of a punt in the season's opener against Bronte, currently champions of their own district. Eldorado won this hard-fought contest 39-0.

Then, who can forget Archie Nixon's shattering tackle of Ozona's burly fullback, Greg Stuart? Wayne Doyle romped again in this game as the Eagles defeated the Lions 40-14.

Who can forget the fight Coach Larry Blair's Robert Lee Steers put up against the Eagles although Eldorado took the game 21-14. This was the night that Bob Page and Micky Clark gobbled up Steer territory to down the Steers while Wayne Doyle and Bob Page were "clobbering" literally Steer punt and pass receivers.

There was the night of October 3, when the Eagles wreaked vengeance on the Iran Braves 40-8; and Paul Page and Sam Oglesby intercepted Iran passes while Bobby Sykes, Charles Adams, Steve Sykes, and Roy Jones were jarring Braves loose from the football and latching on to the valuable "spheroid." (This is a really old-time word for a "football.")

The Wall Hawks provided the Eagles their next period of exercise and who does not remember Archie Nixon's passing to Wayne HV Doyle, James Larry Davis, and Paul Page as Nixon completed 15 of 26 passes for 304 yards as Eldorado took this one 40-8.

And who will forget "Heart-break at Mason" where the Eagles suffered their first loss of the year 28-7, and where the predictions of the coaches back in August started "shaping up"? This was the night when Keith Williams demonstrated for all to see that his courage was outstanding. A few Eagle fans experienced some anxiety about the seating arrangements and a few "chiggers" as well as mosquitoes attended the game also.

No football fan could forget the completely outmanned, bumbling, and inept Eden Bulldogs, winless for 15 starts, who had the "intestinal fortitude" and character to appear on Eagle Field and try all the way even while absorbing a 39-0 spanking. Unfortunately, not many Eden fans accompanied these courageous lads with their "bloody but unbowed heads." Anyway, Eagle beginners got to frolic in this

A Truly Wild Thanksgiving

New York (NAPS)—Did you know that Thanksgiving didn't become a nation-wide observance until 1864? It's a fact! And this is just one of many surprising facts about our traditional American holiday.

It was Sarah Joseph Hale who first suggested that Thanksgiving should be a national holiday. For almost 20 years she campaigned through publications and letters to Presidents, state governors and other influential persons. Finally, she was able to win the support of President Lincoln who proclaimed the holiday during the third year of the Civil War.

There's a lot more to Thanksgiving and turkey than meets the palate, according to experts at the Austin Nichols Company, who have compiled some wild turkey-talk, as well as exciting recipes. For a truly wild Thanksgiving, try trotting out these ten tasty tidbits of information and watch your guests gobble them up before, during and after dinner.

1. The first Thanksgiving celebration lasted three days! After the first harvest of 1621, the Pilgrims invited Massasoit and 90 of his braves to take part in the feast of gratitude.

2. The greatest recorded weight for a turkey was for a tom aged 18 months at the International Poultry Show in London in 1964. It weighed 63 pounds 12 oz!

3. The highest price ever paid for a turkey came about a year earlier at the same show. A 60-pound 13-ounce bird was purchased for $784!

4. A "turkey shoot" was the term used during World War II to describe a mass airplane attack on the enemy.

5. While you may praise the distinctive flavor of turkey, Irishmen expect an entirely different taste when they sup on "Irish Turkey"—which is corned beef and cabbage!

6. Turkey feathers were used by American Indian medicine men as charms at sacred ceremonies.

7. The song, "Turkey in the Straw," based on an old minstrel number, has been called by folklore authority B. A. Bodkin the "Liveliest and most popular of American fiddle tunes."

8. Turkey, according to one expert, got its name when merchants referred to it as "tukki," a Hebrew word meaning peacock. Other possible derivations stem from the facts that the wattles of the bird resemble the Turkish fez, that the bird makes a soft "turk, turk" sound, and that the Indians called the bird "furkee."

9. Our national bird is the bald eagle, but if Benjamin Franklin had his way, we might see a turkey rather than an eagle on the reverse side of our 25-cent coins. "I wish the bald eagle had not been chosen as the representative of our country," said Franklin. "The (wild) turkey is a much more respectable bird."

10. Indians of North America told many tales about the wild turkey. The Tewa Indians tell a story —probably a Pueblo version of Cinderella—about a poor girl who is befriended by turkeys. Like fairy godmothers, the turkeys dress her up, give her a beautiful hair-do, and send her to a dance where she finds a suitor. But, alas, the maiden and her Prince Charming do not live "happily ever after," for the girl flees westward with the turkeys, and her mother accuses her of being a witch!

There's more to dish out than turkey facts and fancies, however. A recipe that will tame even the most finicky eater is offered by the makers of Wild Turkey Bourbon. Properly prepared turkey with stuffing can drive holiday diners wild. These are the tempting ingredients:

Racked Roast Turkey Breast Up with Cranberry & Bourbon Stuffing (for a 12-lb. turkey)

To make a delicious Cranberry-Bourbon stuffing for a 12 lb. turkey, chop 3 cups fresh cranberries and blend in 3/4 cup sugar. Blend 3/4 cups melted butter or margarine with 3 quarts small bread cubes. Combine the two mixtures with 1 1/2 cups raisins, 1 tablespoon salt, 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon, grated rind of 2 lemons, 1/2 cup Wild Turkey Bourbon and 1/2 cup broth or water. Mix well. The stuffing should be spooned into the cavity—not packed.

The wings to body; spoon in dressing; close opening with skewers and lace stuffed carcass shut with cord or heavy thread. Tie drumsticks to tail; grease skin thoroughly with butter. Pour water (depth 1 1/2") in bottom of roaster; insert poultry rack; place turkey BREAD DOWN on the rack; put lid on roaster; roast in 350 degree oven about 20 minutes to the pound. Twenty minutes before turkey is done, turn turkey breast up, remove roaster lid, and brown breast until golden brown.

Another Thanksgiving recipe that packs a punch is for punch. So spice and spike your holiday meal by making sure that your guests are as pleased as punch.

One highly successful formula follows:

Puritan Punch (serves 12)

Juice 6 lemons
2 cups of pineapple juice
1 quart of Wild Turkey Bourbon
1 quart green tea
1/2 pint Jamaica rum
1/2 pint French maraschino ice cubes.
Mix well together and serve in punch glasses. Dress with fruit.

No matter how you slice it, whether it's wild turkey or Wild Turkey, this noble bird can help bring an assortment of wild conversational morsels as well as remarkable recipes to your Thanksgiving table. And no bones about it!

"Enjoy Your Thanksgiving Holiday"

We Give Thanks

Thanksgiving points up the many blessings we have received during the past year. The groaning dinner table is only a symbol of the continual abundance which we have in this country.

We can congratulate ourselves on our industry in providing well for ourselves and our families, but we should cut this self-congratulation short to realize that without the gifts of God's sunshine, rain and fertile soil, our dinner tables would be as bare as Mother Hubbard's Cupboard.

So, it seems to us that Thanksgiving brings home the point that we are completely dependent on His benevolence all year long for everything, even the next breath of air we breathe. But, it also points up that such qualities as hard work, self-reliance, honesty and common sense can be combined with divine gifts to make a good life; that men do have some control over their destiny.

So that our force may spend Thanksgiving with their families, we will be closed Thursday and Friday; open Saturday

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

It is our sincere wish that your Thanksgiving will be a most happy, cheerful day, and may we always think of the many things for which we can be thankful—for if each man counted his blessings daily it would be asking only "one small step for man" and it would reap in this great world of ours "one giant leap for mankind."

The "spinose" ear tick can be a serious pest of cattle and horses. Larvae and nymphs feed deep within the folds of the outer ear fully engorging four times on the blood of the host over a period of one to seven or eight months. Only the larvae and nymphs are important parasites. The adults do not feed nor do they ever live on the host.

Animals infested with ear ticks are listless and dull and may lose weight rapidly. Ear infestation sometimes results from the irritation and inflammation and the animal may exhibit "gotch ear" symptoms. Heavy infestation frequently results in death especially to young neglected animals.

Control of the "spinose" ear tick can be obtained by applying various pesticides into the outer ear. Pesticides for controlling this tick as well as other livestock pests are listed in MP-691 "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry" which is available at your county extension agent's office.

It states that 1/2 ounce of lindane per ear, or 2 ounces of lindane per ear, applied with a spring bottom oiler, are recommended. Avoid contacts with outside areas of the ear.

Statesman: A politician who won't take orders.

The observance of Farm-City Week, Nov. 21-28, calls special attention to the need for better understanding between farm and city residents and how each depends on the other for the economic well-being of all. President Nixon in his official proclamation pointed out that as our society becomes more complex, it also grows more inter-dependent. For example, agriculture serves as a $50 billion customer to our economy. The marketing and processing of food and fiber provide almost 5 million non-farm jobs and a $25 billion annual payroll.

At the same time, technological changes on the farm have so increased agricultural efficiency that record production has been achieved by fewer people. Many rural residents have therefore migrated to the cities. While some have become productive contributors to urban society, many others have been unable to find new economic roles.

"The urgency of providing opportunities for disadvantaged people in both rural and urban areas to participate more fully in the economic life of the Nation should be emphasized during the week," it was said by President Nixon.

The 4-H Clubs, farm organizations, commodity groups, civic and service clubs, women's organizations, business and professional leaders, chambers of commerce, church and educational leaders were participating in different ways in observance.

It's a time, he noted, when we can all lend our support and backing to an effort which helps us all. Understanding and appreciation of the problems of our complex society will add materially to our economic well-being and perhaps to the solution of some of the problems.

Personality: The art of making people admire in you qualities you don't possess.

The time has passed for guessing at what plant food nutrients are needed for top crop and pasture yields. And, there is no need to guess because too many factors are involved.

The best source for getting information on plant food needs is from a soil testing laboratory. Soil scientists who do the soil testing have knowledge of the amount of nutrients removed from the soil by a given yield on a crop. By making certain soil tests they can determine how much of the crop's need can be supplied from the soil and how much must be added thru fertilizer application to get top yields.

Alert farmers test their soil before planting to determine its ability to supply the necessary nutrients for top production. If the soil test shows the soil is short on a certain nutrient, fertilizer of the recommended kind can be supplied before deficiencies show up in the growing crop and yield is reduced.

Low production means a higher unit cost and less potential profit while high yields have the opposite effects upon soil production.

Soil testing is a necessary part of today's agriculture. Maximum yields produced at the lowest per unit cost are a must and the basis for both is a fertile soil.

If you give a man a fish, he will eat once. If you teach a man to fish, he will eat the rest of his life.

1970 Cotton Program

On Friday, November 28, cotton producers will be mailed notices showing the 1970 farm cotton allotment and yield. Also to be mailed on this same date are the marketing quota referendum ballots.

This referendum is being conducted by mail on December 1-5 to determine if cotton marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1970 crop.

If quotas are approved, a cotton program providing price-support loans and payments will be available. If quotas are disapproved, only price-support loans at 50% of parity will be available for growers staying within their cotton allotments.

Haynsworth Rejected For Supreme Court

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

The process of changing the complexion of the Supreme Court has been proved to be no bed of roses. By a vote of 55-to-45 the U. S. Senate turned thumbs down on Judge Clement Haynsworth, a Nixon nominee to fill the vacancy on the Court.

Haynsworth, recognized by associates and by the American Bar Association as one of the most able jurists in the country, had three things running against him: 1. He was from the South—North Carolina. 2. He was not acceptable to the AFL-CIO. 3. He was objectionable to the NAACP.

Haynsworth as Chief Judge of a Federal Circuit Court had shown some independence in decisions affecting these special interests, and that made his unacceptable. Such pro-labor liberals as Goldberg, Marshall, and Fortes were approved without much argument.

In those instances conservative-minded Senators did not choose to make issues out of known convictions and liberal ideologies of those appointees. But when the shoe was on the other foot it was a different story.

One veteran observer said: "Senators can use all sorts of excuses, but the one compelling and decisive reason why most of them voted against Haynsworth was because of the political power of AFL-CIO—which pulled out all the stoppers. They could not stand that heat."

An amazing and surprising thing was the failure of so many Republicans (including the Senate's Republican leaders) to support the President of their own party, preferring instead not to offend the unions and the NAACP.

Opinion around the Capitol seems divided as to the political effect on the anti-Haynsworth, pro-AFL-CIO Senators. Some think the adverse reaction will be brief, while others insist some heads will roll because of the importance attached to the strong public demand for a change in the complexion of the Supreme Court which would provide a better balance.

The question now arises of who the President can nappoint who could be expected to do a good job and also be acceptable to AFL-CIO and the NAACP. It will not be easy.

Mrs. Goens Presides At DAR Meeting

The El Dorado Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met in the Memorial Building last Thursday with the regent, Mrs. Ernst S. Goens, presiding.

Following the call to order, Mrs. Walter Ramsay read the appropriate Scripture, gave the invocation, and led the patriotic rituals.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Luke Thompson, Sr. They were approved as read.

It was announced that the Christmas Luncheon, December 18, will be hosted by the Social Committee: Mmes. William Gunstead, Luke Thompson, Sr., and J. E. Hill.

A Thanksgiving message by the President General, Mrs. Erwin Frees Seimes, was given by the regent.

Miss Ruth Baker, National Defense chairman, gave a very meaningful report. She distributed material to the members sent to her from the National Defense Chairman.

Immediately, as lader for the program of the day, she very graciously presented Mrs. Mary Davis Coupe, who with Colonial Cookery brought Thanksgiving into being and through fantastic recipes and magic wrought in the kitchen has made it the Family Holiday. Mrs. Coupe made a whole lot of years come to life.

Hostess, Mrs. Ramsay, together with Mrs. Ernest C. Hill, who served for Mrs. Montgomery as she was with her seriously ill sister, Mrs. Hedlund, served a most delicious refreshments. —Rep.

Farm-City Week, Nov. 21-27, 1969

Farm and city people alike benefit when they protect and wisely use our soil, water and other natural resources. National Farm-City Week is being observed November 21-27.

"Dead and unproductive acres," do not pay for groceries, gasoline, cars and farm equipment. So it seems almost self-evident that city folks should have and should continue to have a deep and abiding interest in soil and water conservation activities; for the financial welfare of the farmer and rancher depends upon the productivity of his soil, which can be achieved only by intelligent land and water development and management. Business should be interested in conservation because it pays. Farmers and ranchers who use their land well are customers not only for the things needed to help produce their products, but are customers for everything else that they purchase.

For many years, consequently, hundreds of business concerns have worked with the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in promoting the objectives of soil and water conservation to the best of their abilities and opportunities. As a matter of fact, hundreds of thousands of dollars are being invested annually by business concerns in advertising, publications, radio and T-V programs, movies, and literature of many kinds supporting soil, water and plant conservation programs.

Each year, Farm-City Week is celebrated in many different ways in each part of the United States. In some communities, Lions Clubs head up celebrations. In other activities are under the direction of farm groups or in the hands of a local Farm-City Committee.

Some ways in which the week has been observed: Businessmen have toured local farms and ranches, farmers and ranchers have visited city factories, and in some areas farmers and businessmen have made joint visits to agricultural areas, attended banquets, and held barbecue and field days.

In these and a host of other ways business concerns have tried to communicate the message of conservation. Wise use and management of land and water. These highlights illustrate the business and industry's abiding conviction that "rich and abundant though America's land may be, our natural resources must not be carelessly used, but we must replace what is taken away in the cycle of agricultural production."

And, conclude District directors, Farm City Week is a nationwide effort aimed at helping rural and urban people to better understand and appreciate the problems of each and to give each a clearer image of the other.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

The Food Sale sponsored by Home Demonstration Club members on last Thursday, was a huge success. Approximately $115 was realized within a two or three hour period of time.

Club members are grateful to their loyal buyers and the council and I are grateful for the generous contribution of foods prepared and brought in by Club members.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Edmiston, owners of the Handy Hardware, gave space for the foods to be sold and in general made everybody comfortable and welcome and for this we all are appreciative.

Billy Gene had a micro-wave oven on display and if everyone is as interested in this newest kitchen appliance as I am he is likely to have some return visits just to find out more concerning the new oven.

Unfortunately for me, I was not at the food sale. All the Home Demonstration agents of District 7 were in San Angelo for a training meeting on November 21-22 and I had to miss the fun.

I forgot something when I wrote of Martha Godwin's delicious "Heavenly Pie" a week or so ago. Martha said to serve the pie with either whipped cream or ice cream. I forgot to say so.

The pie I made was so good I did not need either one, but a scoop of lemon ice cream was very, very good on a part of it.

I managed to save back a small piece of the pie and sure enough, it was as good after standing 36 hours as it was when very fresh.

Chow-time aboard an orbiting space craft calls for new ideas on food preparation and preservation. Space food technology which has been superceded by rocket technology in order to land man on the moon, was a subject discussed recently at a Food Technology Conference held at the University of South Florida in Tampa.

Food fatigue was expressed in dissatisfaction with the foods served from the Gemini and Apollo flights as well as in the experimental ground laboratory. The astronauts did not like to eat their food from the baby bottle type squeeze bags. They would prefer to have the foods more like the foods they are accustomed to eating on earth.

Plenty of food must be taken on a flight but the volume and weight must be limited. There is no power for cooking and refrigeration. The squeeze type container is used primarily to keep food particles from being scattered and floating loose in the cabin. Also, the diet must be low in residue with the caloric distribution ranging from 27 to 34% fat, 10 to 15% protein and 50 to 58% carbohydrate.

Dr. M. C. Smith of NASA said that the Apollo food pack was basically a collection of lunch packs to be eaten in flight and between heavy work assignments. He also noted that the drinking water was a by-product of the fuel cell operation which gives an unpleasant flavor when used to re-hydrate freeze-dried foods or for drinking.

Future foods for Apollo missions will be packed in zippered bags and eaten with a spoon.

It is predicted that future flights will have larger crews and bigger ships. This condition will allow the time and space for the astronauts to prepare and enjoy familiar foods.

It is being talked that the microwave oven; which I spoke of in a previous discussion in today's column, will be one day aboard an orbiting ship and baked potatoes can be turned out in 1 minute flat.

Turkey takes the spotlight at most Thanksgiving dinners.

Butter-Roasted Turkey With Foil allows for a high roasting temperature. Rinse turkey with cold water, then pat dry. Fill neck area with stuffing, then fasten neck skin to back with skewer. Stuff cavity lightly. Push drumsticks under band of skin at tail, or tie them to tail. Brush skin with melted but-

Topmost on the list of blessings we count at this Thanksgiving time are the pleasant relations we enjoy with all our friends.

We cannot let this Holiday go by without expressing to you our appreciation and wishing you a Thanksgiving Day that will be most pleasant and happy.

game in which Eagle coaches commendable took it as "easy" as they could against the hapless Bulldogs.

Next game was time for the Eagles to "face up" to their powerful and merciless adversaries, the Junction Eagles. This was the night when Bob Page carried 118 yards in 26 times and Eldorado made 294 total yards to Junction's 286. Eldorado led 12-0 at halftime too. Biggest crowd of the year saw this one.

November 7 saw the Sonora Broncos demonstrate their formidable defense and hold the Eagles scoreless for the first time of the season while their overshadowed offense ground out three touchdowns over the outmanned Eagles. This contest saw Roy Jones stand-out against the Sonora offense with 18 tackles of Bronc runners.

Last of the 1969 games saw Menard's Yellowjackets step out on Eagle Field very aggressively only to fold under Eagle pressure; so that again the Eldorado "youth movement" could get some experience. Was this the game that Jim Martin took over as QB and engineered an Eagle touchdown? Anyway, Eldorado took the contest 41-0. Ricky Griffin got his chance to run and he did too for 31 yards with a "purloined pigskin" under his arm. And this was the night that Jim Martin, James Larry Davis, Micky Clark, Wayne Doyle, William Edmiston, Bobby Sykes, Sam Oglesby, Robert Wilson, Paul Page, and Bob Page wound up their high school football playing, each with a well-deserved commendation for his efforts.

One fact for the year stands out: In nine of 10 games for 1969, the Eagle line was outweighed from 5 to 30 pounds average from end to end and more individually. Not once did these lads down front behave faintheartedly or in such fashion as to embarrass their dads; and this is something the most "fire-eating, leather-popping" father should not forget. These lads include Robert Wilson, Jimbo Overstreet, William Edmiston, Dobs Lively, Bob Whitten, Bobby Sykes, Sam Oglesby, Robert Hibbitts, Walter Speck who bore the disappointment of a badly sprained ankle all season almost, Roy Jones, Charles Adams, and Paul Page. It takes some good old-fashioned "guts" to take stance only a football's length away from a guy just as old or older and 20-50 pounds bigger. For example: Bob Whitten weighs 140 pounds; Jim Elliott, Sonora, weighs 200. Incidentally, Whitten did manage to block Elliott at times, or other Broncs about as big and tough.

Coaches Sherwood Barker, Norman Roberts, and Jack Bell with their scouts and statisticians have kindly provided the material for the following facts and figures concerning what the Eagles did individually and as a team this just-ended season. A glance at them shows as well as substantiates the whys of most of the preceding glimpses of Eagles and their efforts. For instance: which team got the most distance with its punts for the year? And why did Eldorado draw the most yardage in penalties? The answer to this one is that a 140-pounder has to get pretty well "riled up" to compete with the "big boys."

These revealing figures go as follows:

THANKSGIVING DAY

The Celebration of Thanksgiving is as old as the ancient Greeks and Israelites. Yet today it is as American as the 4th of July. No people in all time have had more reason for thanksgiving.

In 1621 the remnants of Governor Bradford's colony celebrated the bounty of this land. But it was not until two years later, after the utter failure of their communal Socialist system, and their resort to free enterprise that they had real cause for thanksgiving. It is for that the Pilgrims deserve remembering and our thanks.

Thanksgiving as a national holiday began with the proclamation of President Washington, just before the adjournment of the first Congress, in thanks for our Constitution.

So on this Thanksgiving Day, in our thanks to Him, let us give solemn thought for the Pilgrims' abandonment of socialism, for the free enterprise system, and for our Constitution.

It is to these—our asserted right to the fruit of our labor, our rights as free men as provided and protected by our Constitution, and to the providence of God—that we owe the greatest bounty and opportunity that man has ever known. Thanksgiving is a great day for rejoicing!

EAGLE'S NEST CAFE

LOCATED ON HIGHWAY ACROSS FROM THE SCHOOL

Mrs. Jack Hibbits

Austin, Tex.—A "State of emergency" exists for reducing Texas' traffic toll, Gov. Preston Smith warned in addressing some 700 safety-minded persons who answered his call to attend a public support conference to discuss the problem and how to solve it.

Result is a new statewide safety campaign. It got under way immediately and is focusing efforts on the holiday periods—Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years. These are the times when accident frequency is unusually high.

Smith reminded the conference of community leaders that 10 Texans a day die in automobile accidents. Figures provided by the Texas Safety Association reveal that last month alone the loss—dollarwise—amounted to $77 million. Crashes in Texas' urban areas account for $50 million of this figure.

Causes? Higher speed limits, abolishing the old merit-rating insurance plan which called for higher premiums on bad-risk drivers and a 1965 law which allows judges to probate misdemeanor sentences including traffic offenses were blamed for the climbing death rate.

Whatever the cause, 3,481 died last year, 217,000 were hurt and $875 million in economic losses chalked up. Department of Public Safety statisticians indicate 3,700 will die this year unless holiday safety campaigns are a remarkable success.

"The grim reality," said Smith, "is that one out of every seven motor vehicles registered in Texas was involved in an accident in 1968. The certainty of 10 Texans losing their lives on the highways of our state each and every day is more than tragic. It constitutes a crisis—a crisis that, in my mind, is a state of emergency."

Oil Allowable Rocketed

State oil production allowable zooms to a near record 62.7% of potential for December under a Railroad Commission order.

December figure is highest set under present formulas except for last June's 63.5%. It will authorize a maximum 3,770,319-barrel daily production. This is 472,051 more than November which was limited to 52.7% allowable. Estimated daily production during December is expected to average out at 3,194,476.

Five of 14 major crude oil purchasers asked for an allowable increase. Eight asked retention of the November level, and only one sought a reduction.

Education's Investments

Moving more heavily into equities instead of debt investments, the Texas State Board of Education has decided to put 60% of its income into corporation stocks. It may increase that to 70% if it finds bargains in the stock market in November and December.

Board took this action after two vice presidents of the Chase Manhattan Bank, the board's fiscal advisors, suggested heavier investments in common stocks. Voters of Texas have removed the constitutional limit that the fund's money must go 50% into municipal and government bonds.

Board of Education buys from $4 million to $5 million worth of securities a month. It put the $4.1 million it got from cash bonuses on oil and gas leases on Nov. 4 mainly into U. S. treasury bills. This was timed so as to fill in the gaps in the year ahead and hold average buying to about $4 million.

Courts Speak

State Supreme Court in a major will contest held that 22-year-old Army Sgt. Albert Buckman Wherton III is sole heir to the $45 million oil-ranching estate of Electra Waggoner (for whom the town of Electra was named).

High Court set arguments for December 17 in a case which will determine if private clubs in dry areas can hire agents to buy liquor for "locker system" pools.

Four months ago the Third Court of Civil Appeals holding against the State Liquor Control Board, said such a procedure is legal.

Sixteen-year-sentence of a 17-year-old Dallas youth for possession of marijuana was reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals on the grounds that there was no evidence the boy was ever in the room where burned marijuana was found.

San Antonio discount stores have filed a motion for reconsideration of a split Supreme Court decision on upholding Saturday-Sunday closing law's constitutionality.

Attorney General Speaks

A Court order stating that a person with a suspended driver's license can drive under certain conditions with an "occupational license" must set out the actual hours of the day that driving is permitted, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin.

Martin concluded an earlier opinion to reflect that those seeking "occupational licenses" need only a court order and proof of insurance (or its equivalent) under the Texas' Safety Responsibility Law.

The Attorney General is warning Texans to be on the lookout for lottery punchboards currently being mailed into the state. Letters accompanying the boards attempt to induce people to sell chances on the punchboards to win merchandise. Martin pointed out that selling chances on the punchboards is a violation of the state lottery law.

Auto Inspections Down

Auto inspections are 30% behind the number last year, according to Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of Texas Department of Public Safety.

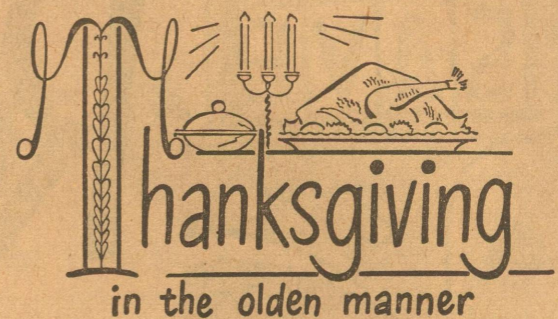

Unless things pick up, forecasts Speir, car owners are going to be waiting in some mighty long lines at garages and service stations around the April 15 deadline.

During the state fiscal year that ended August 31, 6.3 million vehicles were inspected. Since Sept. 1, only 538,000 have gone through the required check. All inspection stickers issued after September 1 will expire 12 months from date of issue. All new stickers must be displayed before April 15, however. The stickers this year will go on driver's side of windshield.

Valley VISTA's Yanked

James W. Griffith, new Southwest Regional Office of Economic Opportunity boss, announced withdrawal and reassignment of 15 VISTA anti-poverty workers in Cameron and Willacy counties.

Griffith charged that Volunteers in Service to America were made "scapegoats of local political disputes" and subjected to "harassment, uncertainty and threats." He said the VISTA group in the two counties were responsible people and there was no evidence of improper action on their part. Griffith lashed Cameron County commissioners for again requesting the governor to remove them after a 90-day truce period had been agreed on for reassessing VISTA work. There is, Griffith concluded, a shortage of such workers, and

Eaglettes' Season Starts With Thriller

It looks like the 1969-70 basketball season is off to an exciting start as the Eldorado girls, a decided underdog, came up with a big over-time win over Winters last Tuesday in Winters. The score was 60 to 57 in a see-saw battle that kept the crowd continually excited. Winters had 3 senior forwards who were excellent scorers getting 26, 18 and 13 points at the same time Eldorado was putting together a consistent scoring attack and playing very tough defense.

Kathleen O'Harrow, a junior and Eldorado's leading scorer last year, got off to a fine start dumping in 35 points and she made an amazing 21 of 23 free throws. Loretta Schooley, a sophomore, played a consistently good game hitting 17 points while Sheri Roberts a senior, added 6 points and was particularly outstanding in her floor play. Sherry Davis, another sophomore, added 2 points to the cause. These forwards hit 35% of their floor shots which needs improvement, and an excellent 77% from the free throw line.

The guard department was everything it should have been except for a short period of excitement in the fourth quarter. Mary Lynn McCalla and Lisa McAnus had 9 rebounds each, Lisa Whitten and Claudia Meador 5 each and Gay Lynn Richardson 3. Each guard made some outstanding play, sometime during the game.

Eldorado took a 17-12 lead in the opening quarter and had a 32-29 half-time advantage. A weak 3rd quarter saw Winters pull up with a 41-41 tie and from there the teams traded points. Eldorado held a 51-49 lead with a minute to go and had the ball; however, the Eaglettes committed a violation and Winters scored to close regulation play 51-51.

The three minute overtime then saw Winters go ahead 53-51 before a foul which saw Loretta Schooley tie it up with 2 free tosses. Winters failed to score on their possession and Eldorado again had a chance at two foul shots which Kathleen made, making 55-53. Before the blue could take it down court Eldorado intercepted it and again made 2 free throws sending it to 57-53. Kathleen O'Harrow sank a left-handed hook shot with 30 seconds remaining after Gay Lynn stole the ball and the final score read 60-57.

These two fine teams met again here last Friday night. Congratulations, Eaglettes on a good start. Keep it up.

B Girls Win 35-29

The younger Eaglettes trailed a couple of times but came back strong to win 35-29 Tuesday of last week over Winters "B". Rosellen Maness came through with 5 field goals and 6 of 9 free throws for 16 points while Jeanne McCravey added 11 points. Barbara Robledo gave 3, and Patti Olson and Judy Hanusch collected 2 each with Patsy Page adding a free throw.

Patsy Tampie pulled in 13 rebounds, Margie Green 8, Jean Rountree 6, Gail Robinson 2, and Betty K. Bradley 1.

These girls hosted Winters again last Friday at 6:30 p.m.

Boys Play Angelo

The Eldorado boys' basketball team opened their 1969-70 season with a trip to San Angelo to play the San Angelo Central Sophomores. Game time was set for 6:15 Friday, Nov. 21.

Eldorado's basketball Eagles return all the lettermen from last year's team with the exception of two who graduated.

In the scoring department Sam Oglesby was the team's second leading scorer with 134 points and had the best free throw percentage. Paul Page had 125 points last year and was the team's leading rebounder with 145. Bob Page hit 97 points and was a 58% free throw shooter. Mickie Clark and Wayne Doyle each scored 92 points. Jerry Baty played only half the games but did score 85 points and Charles Adams put 50 points in the score-book while also only playing half the total games. Roy Jones was moved to the varsity later in the season and notched 15 points.

There are also these boys out for the 1969-70 version of the team: James Larry Davis, Archie Nixon, Billy Hubble, Ricky Griffin, John Roe Powell, Hunter Henderson, John Rosford, William Tampie, Karl McCormack and Chris Pena.
