Oldsmobile Wrecked Last Wednesday Nite

Mrs. Jay Halbert, the former Norma Kay Mund and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Mund, spent a day in the local hospital as result of a single-car accident last week which resulted in total loss of her parents' 1969 Oldsmobile.

Mrs. Halbert was coming south from Christoval about 9:15 Wednesday night when she apparently dozed and the car went out of control near the county line. The vehicle went off the road, over some rocks and through some brush sustaining major damage, but did not turn over. The Mund's owned the car for about a month and it had 2600 miles on it. It was towed in to Lester Nixon's shop and declared a total loss.

Mrs. Halbert was brought in to the Eldorado hospital by Sarah Hall. She spent a day being treated for shock and was released late in the day Thursday.

Mrs. Halbert is commuting to classes an Angelo State where she is taking a nurse's course. By Monday, she was back in school.

Dr. Edington To Preach Here Sunday

Dr. Andrew Edington, president of Schreiner at Kerrville, will preach here Sunday at the morning service at the Presbyterian church.

Local Presbyterians invite all interested local people to come and hear Dr. Edington as he is an outstanding speaker. About 10 years ago, he spoke here at a men's gathering.

The pulpit committee is still getting supply preachers for their services since Toney McMillan moved away in June. Last Sunday an assistant chaplain from Goodfellow was here to preach.

Window Service Shortened At P. O.

Postmaster Bernard Carr has received instructions from the Post Office Department to begin opening the Post Office at 8:30 each morning instead of the usual time of 8:00 a.m. This ruling goes into effect Monday, July 14.

Two Fire Alarms Here Saturday

The local firemen were called out last Saturday, twice in the afternoon.

One run was to a brush fire near Christoval and the other was to the Richard Jones place.

The cover on rangelands is getting high and dry following recent weeks of over-100 temperatures and the drying winds.

The firemen urge everyone to use caution in burning of trash or in the use of any other fires around flammable materials.

No Increase In Hospital Tax Rate

All Directors were present Monday when the hospital board met in their regular monthly meeting.

Besides approving bills and other routine business, the board set the tax rate for the coming year. A tax rate of 45 cents remains the same as last year.

According to Dr. Brame, the hospital has been "full-up" with patients for the past week or two.

West Side Church Sets Gospel Meeting

The West Side Church of Christ will hold a Gospel Meeting starting Sunday morning, July 13th, and continuing through Sunday, July 20th, with meetings at 3:00 each night. Quinton Gage of El Dorado, Ark., will conduct the Gospel Meeting.

Members invite everyone to any and all services.

Dinner will be served at the Memorial Building both Sundays at 12:00 noon.

SALES PADS for sale at the Success office.

Post Script

For many years, the entire town of Eldorado has been in Commissioner Precinct No. 1, along with the southwest quarter of the county.

This meant that the other three commissioners serving precincts 2, 3, and 4, only had to win a majority of 80 to 100 or so votes in order to win election to office.

Candidates who aspired to win election in Precinct 1 had to work all the town of Eldorado.

Similar set-ups were common in many of these counties in West Texas. That made the Commissioners Courts dominated by the rural interests where the town or city commissioner could be outvoted.

A test case involving Midland went to the Supreme Court, who ruled that the commissioner precinct boundary lines would have to be re-drawn on basis of population. By implication, this applies to all other counties.

Some counties re-districted back in the winter; others will be doing like our own Commissioners Court right here in Schleicher county, that is waiting until the July or August session which is the regular time for the question to come up for consideration.

All four of our commissioners are ranchmen and no doubt they would prefer to continue the old precinct lines, but the Supreme Court decision is mandatory and must be complied with eventually. Why not now!

The Eldorado Eagle Band made a new record this past year, and has sold most of them. A few are still available. See Vida Mercer.

Last Friday was July 4th. And how did Eldorado celebrate Independence Day?

Actually Eldorado was leader than Frank Amen's peacock! Just how dead was Mr. Amen's peacock, comes from a story I heard repeated every so often during the 19 years I lived in Pilot Point, up in North Texas. Here is the story . . .

Frank Amen lived on a 5-acre piece of ground on the outskirts of Pilot Point. He was that thrifty type of German farmer who had a cow or two, a fattening hog and a flock of chickens, as well as a garden and orchard. Included in the poultry flock, he kept a number of guinea hens and a fancy peacock mostly for show. Also included in his large family was one daughter who was generally described as "simple."

One day, so the story goes, Frank went out to do the chores and soon came in and announced:—

"Dot dam peacock is dead!"

Daughter: "Why, papa . . . how dead?"

Papa: "How dead? Why he is dead as hell!"

So that's how dead Eldorado was all day on the 4th.

During much of the day my Rambler was the only car parked on Main street, and it wasn't there too long either. Over on the highway during the morning cars came through, many of them trailing boats.

Java Junction cafe was closed for the day, but the Chaparral Cafe was open and it attracted the usual crowd of coffee drinkers.

There was a flurry of activity around the post office at 10:00 o'clock with people getting their morning mail. The three drive-in stores were open, providing service for those who forgot to stock up the day before.

But for the long day as a whole Eldorado was leader than Frank Amen's peacock.

And now you know how dead it was.

Windmill Turned Off; $5,000 Livestock Loss

Let temperatures soar to 108 degrees day after day, and then let the water run dry, and you have a situation that spells tragedy, which was exactly what happened to livestock in a 490 acre pasture some four miles west of Eldorado during the 4th of July week.

The pasture in question was formerly owned by Edgar Spencer who sold it years ago to Dr. Dyer, who in turn sold it to Cris Haines of Sonora, who resides at Ruidosa, N. M. Pasture was stocked with black Angus cows and heifers, sheep and goats, and three valuable mares and colts.

It was Thursday afternoon when Raymond Schrank discovered a dead cow next to the fence and notified Sheriff Edmiston. Arriving at the pasture he found at first count 13 dead cows and three dead mares. Water tank was empty and the windmill had been turned off. Edmiston was joined by George Draper and Patton Enochs and together they worked until after midnight trying to save the remaining weak animals. The windmill was found to be in good working order, but someone had turned it off. The county water truck was brought into play and delivered two truck loads of water.

Some of the animals while still alive, were so weak they were unable to drink. "We had to push their heads into the water," remarked Edmiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Haines were notified on July 4th at Ruidosa where one of their horses was entered in a race.

Returning here over the week end Mrs. Haines reported that 68 head of Black Angus cattle were pastured here, and the count on Monday was 25 head lost. In addition were three dead mares and a new colt.

The new colt was still alive when found by Draper and Enochs, but died soon after. They reported no death loss among the sheep and goats.

Mrs. Haines on Monday estimated their loss at about $5,000.

Why had the windmill been turned off?

No one knows. Cowmen estimate that the cattle had been without water for at least two days.

Texan Ends Year As Leader Of World Lions

Tokyo, Japan.—Amid a standing ovation of more than 12,000 international delegates in the Nippon Budokan Convention Hall in Tokyo, Japan, David A. Evans of Texas City, Texas, ended his travel-filled year as president of Lions International at noon Saturday, July 5. Over 50,000 Lions and their families, including some 500 Texans, traveled to the 52nd Annual Convention of the world's largest service organization to salute Evans, the fifth Texan to lead the world Lions as their Chief Executive.

Lion and Mrs. A. E. Prugel of Sonora, Texas, were among the Texas delegation. Lion Prugel is newly elected governor of District 2A-1.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davis and children of Big Lake are spending their vacation in California.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery has returned home from a two-weeks trip in which she visited Jack Montgomery and family at Angleton, and with her daughter Mrs. Katherine Humphrey in Galveston.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. L. D. Ochsner over the July 4th holiday were her children and families: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scherz and two sons Dorr and Drew of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. George Ochsner of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ochsner and children, Julie, John and Robert, also of Midland.

The firemen answered a call at noon Tuesday to a grassfire on the Mittel ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Newport and Genie were at Buchanan Lake last week, and returned home late Saturday night after attending the annual barbecue held at Paradise Point.

Genie Newport flew to McAllen to spend this week visiting relatives.

O. C. Fisher Approves New Vote Proposal

The 1965 Voter Rights Act, under which 7 Southern states were singled out for special treatment, expires in August of 1970. A drive is on to extend the law for 5 additional years. The Administration, in a surprise move, recommended the extension but thought if the law was good for the south it was good for the entire nation, and asked that it be made to apply to all 50 states.

The 1965 Act is often referred to as a "reconstruction" measure because of its contents and its limited application—reminiscent of past Civil War days in the South. It outlaws literacy tests for voting in 7 states, but exempts all others—including 13 states which now provide for literacy tests. In addition, it permits the Attorney General, at his discretion, to send henchmen into any of the 7 states at election time, with authority to push local election officials, decide who can and cannot vote, and then count the ballots. But not so with the other 43 states, several of which have been notorious for election scandals in the past.

The right to vote, with reasonable qualifications, should, of course, be protected. But who can say such federal protection should not apply throughout the land if it is to apply at all? Northerners are finding it embarrassing to object to living under the same laws they would apply to others.

The Army is reported to be planning a $677,000 permanent gravesite for the late Sen. Robert Kennedy in the Arlington Cemetery, of which the government would pay $257,000 of the cost, the Kennedy family the balance.

While we all share deep regrets over the tragic assassination, it has been the custom throughout our history for surviving families to bear the cost of burials and gravesite projects for deceased Senators. There seems no reason to apply an exception in this instance. It would seem the Kennedy family, upon reflection, would prefer not to involve the public in this expenditure.

They will arrive at Spokane, Wash., at 9:16 p.m. and spend the night in a church in that city. (If the flight times seem fast, remember that they will cross two time zones, to Mountain time, and then to West Coast time.)

The Concho Valley Scouts will be among the 42,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and leaders encamped. They in turn will represent more than 4½ million Explorers, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts back home. The entire jamboree will be divided into 20 camps.

All the Scouting fun skills of hiking, swimming, boating, fishing, etc., will be provided at the jamboree.

On July 23, the Scouts will leave at 1:00 p.m., stay in the Spokane church again overnight, and take the bus to the Spokane airport on the 24th to start the trip back to Midland, Texas. They will leave Spokane at 7:00 a.m. and reach Midland at 5:20 p.m., coming by way of Boise and Denver.

Court To Take Up Prcl. Re-Districting

The Schleicher County Commissioners Court is expected to take up the matter of re-districting the precinct lines to corner in Eldorado and thus base the voting strength of each precinct on population.

Some preliminary study has been given to this, and the Court is expected to look into it still further this coming Monday at their meeting. They should vote on it either then or at their August meeting, according to County Judge Ratliff.

In the fall, when new poll lists are made in the Sheriff's office for 1970 voting, voters will be assigned to their new precincts.

Kathy Robinson was on a Baptist group tour of Europe, and was also to attend the Baptist Youth World Conference at Berne, Switzerland.

Interest was running high in the cucumber harvest, Ben Keel had about a hundred Mexican laborers at work. Paul Page was in Shannon hospital and David Powell was in the Sonora hospital.

Work was under way on the new brick bulletin board at front of the Methodist church. Ray Jones, 60, died in Oklahoma and his funeral was held there. Buddy Calk, age 13, was leaving for the Boy Scout National Jamboree coming up at Valley Forge. Mrs. R. C. (Lottie) Morgan died in Fort Worth and her funeral was held here.

22 YEARS AGO

Donna Beth McCormick spent the Fourth here with her parents from the University of Texas at Austin. Terry Carlman was employed for the summer by the highway dept. The Dick Preston family were on a three-week trip to Mexico.

35 YEARS AGO
July 13, 1934—This County was on the Emergency Relief List. C. Snell, county agent and Van McCormick, county relief chairman, reported that highway work, livestock feed, and other forms of relief were on the agenda for Schleicher. Also, the government would buy surplus cattle, sheep and goats from the overstocked ranches. Another project set to combat the "hard times" was a cannery. The BYPU started their annual study course. W. O. Alexander was director, Glenn Ratliff was assistant director, and Nell Campbell secretary. A 10-day meeting was concluded at the Church of Christ with Evangelist Paul S. Knight of Booneville, Ark. Reuben Dickens announced plans to erect a new 50 x 100 foot building following his loss in the recent fire. Mrs. Willie Ruth Nicks Johnson was on the honor roll at the University of Texas. Mrs. J. E. Tisdale and Rev. P. S. Connell were in charge of a Vacation Bible School starting at the Methodist church. W. M. Bearce went to Temple for treatment at the Scott & White Clinic. His son Dick went with him. PAR-TEE

We are happy to have Marilyn and Phillip Walker as new members of the Eldorado Golf Club.

Interest has been shown in having a Junior High and High School Boys Golf Tournament. A sign sheet has been placed at the club house for you guys to sign up. Qualifying rounds must be played by July 18th. This will be a 9-hole tournament with entry fees for club members at $1.50 and entry fees for non club members at $3. Entry fees must be paid by July 18th and qualifying round score posted. Pairings will be posted on July 19th and matches can be played on that date. Carroll Ratliff is the tournament chairman so you may pay your entrance fee to Mr. Ratliff or Ernestine Hext. Trophies will be awarded to winner, runner-up and consolation winner of each flight.

We had 75 persons to eat Barbecue and enter into the Fourth of July celebration at the Golf Course. Winners of the Point Team Tournament were:

1st—Jack Hext and Rose Doyle with 26 points;
2nd—Paul Page and Gerald Childers with 22 points;
3rd—Arch Mittel and Bob Bland with 19 points;
Winners of the Scotch 2 Ball Point Tournament were:
1st—Ralph Waldron and Mary Robinson with 22 points;
2nd—Jack Hext and Eddy Kinser with 21 points;
3rd—Jerroll Sanders and Gerald Childers with 17 points.

The bridge game was still in full swing when I went home so I don't really know who emerged victorious in that session.

We had 18 players for the mixed team play Sunday afternoon. Jack Hext, Bob Bland and Rose Doyle defeated Buddy White, Dr. J. B. Brame and Ernestine Hext on the first hole of a sudden death play off to take the winners circle for the tournament. It was a pleasure to have Dr. Dale Hayter of San Angelo join us in this play. Dr. Hayter was a guest of Mayor Eldon Calk.

As of today, Tuesday, only two of the teams in the Mixed Team Tournament have turned in final scores.

The team of Carroll Ratliff, Ted Short, Penfield Barker and Eddy Kinser finished with a low ball total of 165 (9 under). The team of Jack Hext, Pat Wester, Weatherly Kinser, and Mary Robinson have a low ball total of 167 (7 under).

The following teams have played two rounds and posted the following scores: Cecil Pearce, Gary Derrick, Jerroll Sanders and Rose Doyle have a low ball total of 100. W. G. Godwin, Gerald Childers, Eldon Calk and Ernestine Hext posted a low ball total of 101. Vernon Rogers, Arch Mittel, John Pitts and Dorothy Ratliff came in with 103. Delbert Taylor, Bob Bland, Charlie Hahn and Nell Wester are on the board at 105.

Next in line at 108 is the team of Buddy White, Granvil Hext, Pat Enochs and Randy Yates.

One team composed of Wilson Page, Ralph Waldron, C. L. Martin and Gladys Mittel have played only one round and posted a 54 (4 under.) All matches are to be completed by this week end so looks like that little Golf Course will be a busy place the rest of the week.

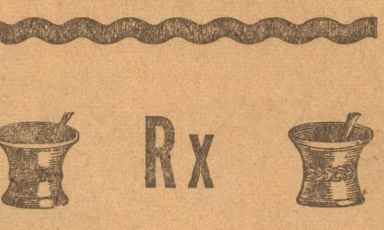

Duplicate Bridge will meet Thursday night (July 10) at the regular time and place.

A word of caution to you golfers—you better watch Ben Hext. He has started making at least one par each round he plays. Just think what he will do when he gets a set of clubs of his own and doesn't "borrow" some. He may start wearing two pairs of pants to the golf course just in case he gets a hole-in-one.

Sunday, July 13, Mixed Team Play at 2:00 p.m.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

A new day. This is the beginning of a new day. God has given me this day to use as I will. I can waste it or use it for good. What I do today is important because I'm exchanging a day of my life for it. When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever, leaving in its place something that I have traded for it. I want it to be gain, not loss; good, not evil; success, not failure—in order that I shall not regret the price I paid for it.

Eight Rules for Office Workers in 1872. The attached were quoted in the Jan.-Feb., 1969, Harvard Business Review. These are interesting and amusing.

Most discussions of labor are concerned with factory or mill workers. What about the white-collar workers? This section should indicate something of his (or, rarely in those days, her) status in 1872. These "rules" by the way, are not invented or even exaggerated; plenty of offices had just such working conditions.

1. Office employees each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys and trim wicks. Wash windows once a week.

2. Each clerk will bring in a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's business.

3. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to your individual taste.

4. Men employees will be given an evening off each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go regularly to church.

5. After 13 hours of labor in the office, the employee should spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.

6. Every employee should lay aside from each pay day a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.

7. Any employee who smokes Spanish cigars, uses liquor in any form, or frequents pool and public halls or gets shaved in a barber shop, will give good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity, and honesty.

8. The employee who has performed his labor faithfully and without fault for five years, will be given an increase of five cents per day in his pay, providing profits from business permit it.

(According to the Boston Sunday Herald of Oct. 5, 1958, a Boston office manager, cleaning out a file in preparation for his firm's move to a new location, came across these office rules for 1872. He wanted to read them to his office force, but the members all were out on one of the day's several coffee breaks.)

People are lonely because they build walls instead of bridges.

A good loading ramp can add efficiency to a cattle production enterprise.

Heavy losses occur each year from cattle bruises and in some cases to broken legs. Such losses can largely be prevented since most are caused during loading and unloading.

The ramp should be strong and sturdy since nothing causes cattle to balk more than a shaky chute or ramp.

The loading facilities should be located near a road or highway for convenience to trucks and trailers. Concrete for the walls which form the base of the ramp is suggested. The concrete floor is laid after the earth is compacted in place. The floor should have a rough finish to prevent the animals from slipping. Heavy treated wood posts should be used to support the side walls which should be built with two-inch plank lumber. The posts should be set in the ground and securely anchored to the concrete walls.

An elevated catwalk along one side of the chute or ramp is suggested as a convenience to loading and unloading.

Lights should be included if cattle are moved at night.

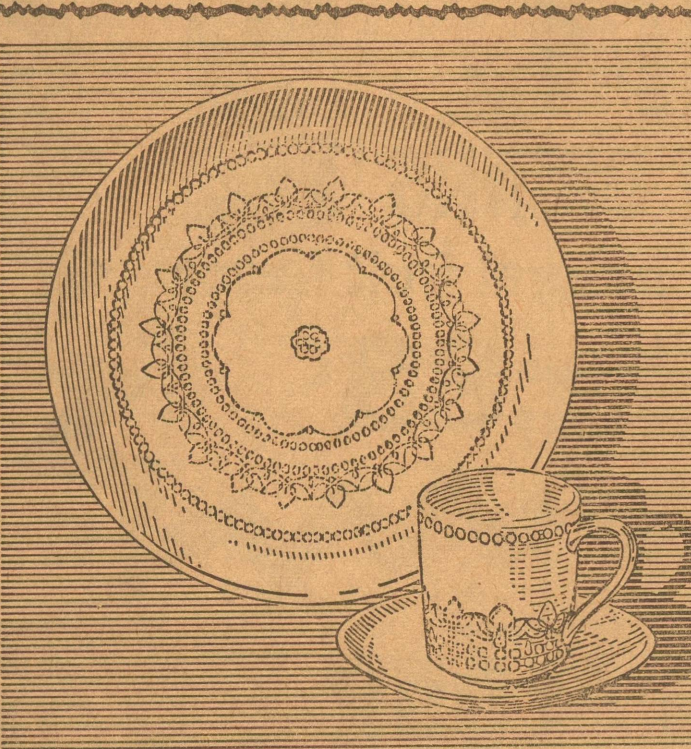

Grant that I may not criticize my neighbor until I have walked a mile in his moccasins.

The "spinose" ear tick is one of the major pests of cattle and horses. The larvae and nymphs feed deep within the folds of the outer ear of their host. Animals infested with ear ticks become dull, listless, and may lose weight rapidly. Deafness or loss of equilibrium and coordination may occur. Ear infestations some times result from irritation and inflammation and the animal may exhibit "gotch-ear" symptoms. Heavy infestations frequently result in death, especially to young neglected animals.

The ear tick is not an important vector of animal diseases. It can transmit Q fever which apparently does not affect animals but may be contracted by slaughterhouse workers and others.

"Spinose" ear ticks can be controlled by applying certain pesticides in the ears of the infested animal. The materials used and rate of application for control of ear ticks are given in the "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry." This guide is available at your County Extension Agent's office.
