Oil News

Field Gains Third Well

One Schleicher County field gained a confirmation and a plugging back operation was slated in another.

Tucker Drilling Co., Inc., San Angelo, No. 1-E Thad A. Thomson Jr. et al, third producer and a 1/2 mile northeast extension to the W. J. B. (Canyon gas) field, six miles south-southeast of Eldorado, was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1,600 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 56,000-1. Gravity of the condensate was 58 degrees.

Production was through perforations at 5,811-22 feet.

Slated as a 6,750-foot Strawn wildcat, it was drilled to 6,514 feet. It recovered oil and salt water on a test of the Strawn at 6,454-84 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of 25-A-HE & WT.

Atlantic-Richfield Co., Eldorado, will re-enter and plug back to 3,947 feet and attempt recompletion as a second upper Canyon gas producer and a 1 3/4 mile north and slightly west extension to that pay at its No. 8-A Virgil A. Powell, former Strawn gas producer in the Tillery multipay oil and gas field, five miles northwest of Fort McKavett.

It originally was completed by Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. (now Atlantic Richfield) and produced from 4,003-011 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east line of 2-A-AB&M.

The discovery, a dual Strawn gas producer, was finalized March 19, 1957 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 10,750 million cubic feet of gas per day through upper Canyon perforations at 3,391-401 feet and for 5 million cubic feet daily through Strawn perforations at 3,973-382 feet.

Federal Holiday Set For Monday

This coming Monday, Oct. 11th, will be a federal holiday with the Post Offices and other government offices closed for the day. It is in observance of Columbus Day.

Two weeks later, on Oct. 25th, there will be another federal holiday for Veterans Day.

The latter holiday set for Oct. 25th also coincides with a local school holiday. That is the day of the district teachers' meeting. So local students will also have the 25th off.

The Federal Government has designated certain holidays during the year to fall on Mondays.

Post Script

If Thanksgiving is the traditional time for pumpkin pie, the time for green tomato pie seems to be right at the present time before the first frost.

So this must have been the reason for Mrs. Bob Nellie McKee last Friday to gather and prepare enough green tomatoes to bake up a batch of her specialty—spicy green tomato pies with her own style of flaky crust. She loves to distribute them to her friends and this writer was one of the lucky ones when her daughter, Mrs. Bobbie Killebrew brought one by and said that Mama had ordered her to leave one at the newspaper office.

To say I enjoyed it goes without saying. One half of it disappeared at my first sitting.

Miss Bassinger To Marry In November

NETA BASSINGER

The engagement of Neta Bassinger to Patrick Halton has been announced by the bride elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bassinger of Eldorado.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Halton of Waverly, New York. He is a graduate of the University of Kansas and was recently discharged from the United States Air Force. Presently he is attending graduate school at Texas Tech and will attend pharmacy school at the University of Texas in January.

Miss Bassinger, a graduate of Andrews High School and Hardin Simmons University, is teaching in the Lubbock school system. The couple will be married Thanksgiving Day at Pioneer Drive Baptist Church in Abilene.

Jerry Jones is program chairman for this month of October and he showed slides taken on his recent trip to Alaska.

The date of Tuesday, Oct. 19, has been set for the ladies night honoring the teachers and administrators of the local schools.

Good Attendance At Booster Club

President E. C. Peters reports he has been well pleased with the good attendance at the last few meetings. The Booster members have been busy the past week. Signs indicating the Eagles' name and number were made for all the boys for their front yard, and some of the High School girls helped to get these to the various homes. A large sign was placed on the Court House parking lot. On this sign each week will be given the Booster Club prediction for the coming week's game. The sign for the Iran game was painted by Mrs. Jim Holley, and Mrs. Bill Collins will do the sign for this week. Clifford Schooley and Mrs. Jimmy Danford placed a sign in front of the Gym to serve as a reminder each day for the students—"Think Win." Any suggestions for ways to help Boost the Eagles can be given to any member and will be greatly appreciated.

The Booster Club agreed to help the Jaycees to sponsor the Tag Football game between the Jaycees and a team from the teachers and Coaching staff. Proceeds of this game will be put in a special fund to be used for a special project as deemed necessary by these joint organizations. The Booster Club wishes to thank the Jaycees for the cooperation and help they have given this year. They purchased the uniforms for the Baseball team this past summer and then gave a $100 donation toward the purchase of our weight machine. It is through organizations such as this that our young people are able to continue to have these extra opportunities.

Everyone make plans now to attend this ball game Saturday night. Posters will be distributed with all pertinent information. There will be a concession stand so come share in the fun and make it a success.

Due to Basketball Tournaments scheduled in December it was agreed for a tentative date to be chosen in January for the Football Banquet then committees will be appointed to start work.

Boosters for the week are Bill Maness and Bob Bradley.

Coach Helmers gave the report on the Jr. High game stating the boys are continuing to improve and gave a good effort in their game with Sonora. Coach Verner with his B team composed of approximately 17 players was most happy with their performance against Sonora's B team composed of about twice that many boys. The Jr. High and B team travel to Robert Lee this Thursday night with the games starting at 6:00.

Coach Stephens reported on the Iran game and presented the film which showed the progress being made by the boys. A few mistakes still proved to be costly, but the desire and hustle still remained. Let's all be out Friday night and boost the Eagles to a Victory over the Junction Eagles.

Attend the Pep Rally Friday at the Gym and get your First Clue for our Phantom Eagle Fan!

West On Air Tour

Floyd West, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie West, is participating in the All Texas Air Tour. He is representing Southwest Texas Junior College in Uvalde where he is a Pilot Technology student now working on his commercial license. He is flying a Cessna 172 Sky Hawk belonging to the Southwest Aircraft Sales in San Angelo on the tour.

Fifty-six planes involved in the All-Texas Tour touched down in San Angelo Sunday. According to the Jimmie Wests who were luncheon guests of the tour group, it was certainly a sight to be long remembered to see the planes' arrivals and departures. Also the servicing of them by the Southwest Aircraft Sales service. Mr. E. Y. Murphy, owner, had supplied all his working personnel with bright red shirts and as each plane landed there was someone there immediately to clean the windshield and also service the plane and to give directions. When the planes departed it reminded one of an army troop marching in single file.

It was certainly a job well done by the control tower.

The Board of City Development's Aviation committee, of San Angelo, arranged to host the 125 persons with a chicken dinner in the Mary E. Lee park.

The flying tourists arrived at Mathis Field at 11:30 that morning from Big Spring and departed at 1:30 for their overnight stop at Carlsbad, New Mexico. There will be "Howdy" stops in 35 Texas towns during the week's air tour, and overnight stops in seven Texas towns.

The All Texas Air Tour is Typical of Texas. It is the largest fliers' "get together" in the world. At times there might be as many as a hundred or more planes. Some will be able to join the tour for only a day or two. Nine planes started out on a history making tour 16 ears ago. The Air Tour was organized when flying was still a problem in parts of our Lone Star State. H. W. "Bonnie" Bahnaman, then president of the Texas State Aviation Assn., personally flew the first 4200 mile trip ahead of the tour.

This year the Air Tour originated in Temple, Texas on Oct. 2, and will conclude the trip with an awards banquet and overnight stop at the Inn of the Hills in Kerrville on Saturday, Oct. 9th.

The Junction Eagles come to Eldorado tomorrow night for the last of the non-conference tune-up contests for both teams. Junction has suffered a disappointing season to date, having a dismal "no-win — four-loss" record to haunt their dressing room. But a year ago they downed Eldorado 15-0.

There are some additional facts which provide "food for thought" in regard to Junction. For instance, Junction is currently a member of Interscholastic League District 9AA along with Burnet, Marble Falls, San Saba, Llano, and Brady. Of these opponents Llano only might be a likely victim for Coach Brent Rice's variety of Eagles. Certainly, Junction is not anticipating playing host to the tough Brady Bulldogs on October 29. Other contests are at best "tossups" for Junction.

Then again in the continuing rivalry between Eldorado and Junction, since 1961, Eldorado has won five times; Junction, four; and the two teams deadlocked 0-0 in 1962. Before 1961, Eldorado regularly "clobbered" Junction; so not only is Junction one game behind in recent encounters but way behind in the "long haul." Tomorrow night will see Junction's Eagles make a tremendous effort to dispel some of the 1971 gloom that darkens their high school halls and classrooms.

Lastly, Junction Coach Rice casually remarked to Eagle coaches last spring that he intended to show no mercy to Eldorado in this contest. At that time Coach Rice was optimistic about Junction's 1971 outlook. His dismal season to date will only "aggravate" his hunger for a victory and for a hearty ration of vengeance on Eldorado as well.

So the youthful Eldorado Eagles must prepare themselves to meet a set of cruel and merciless adversaries tomorrow night who will if the can, make Eldorado the solace for all their 1971 failures and frustrations. In other words, Junction will, if the can, really "clobber" Eldorado.

But "all is not lost" because the Eldorado Eagles, youthful as they are, make up a pretty potent football team who have gained much self respect recently. The Junction lads can easily make the bad mistake of taking too much for granted in this contest.

Probably this is the starting Junction line-up:

No.	Name	Pos	Wt.
87	John Murr	LE	170
75	Scott Mims	LT	197
61	Noe Martinez	LG	160
50	Ricky Sheppard	C	155
66	Tim Chandler	RG	185
70	Mike Jacoby	RT	210
88	Jim Modgling	RE	151
35	Hector Sepeda	LHB	152
20	Jack Hoggett	RHB	160
41	Allen Lewis	FB	170
16	Dicky Oliver	QB	165

Eagle coaches term the Junction offensive posture as "Wing T." and Coach Wes Verner who has scouted Junction three times says that their most effective ball carrier is No. 41, Fullback Lewis Allen, 170, who carries best on Junction's favorite play, their power sweep. Coach Verner said that No. 83, Jim Modgling, 151, at right offensive end was their best receiver.

Defensively, Junction employs a so called "monster five" with No. 84, Bennie Rathke, 150, as the roving defender. Eldorado Coach Ronnie Stephens says that Junction will have "Monster" Rathke follow the Eldorado wingback and that their linemen will then compensate by slanting their charge in the opposite direction.

Coach Verner remarked that the Junction lads are quick and aggressive, this being particularly true of No. 41, Fullback Lewis Allen who as a linebacker is termed a "headhunter" because of his determined, aggressive, hardtackling treatment of opposing ball carriers.

Eldorado Coach Stephens said Monday that he thought it possible that the Eagle infirmary would have no patients tomorrow night although several Eldorado lads might be slightly susceptible to injury or rather recurrent injury. Coach Stephens reviewed the offensive starters as follows: at LE, Gene Nixon; LT, Lyn Mertz; LG, Mort Mertz; C, Mark Bland; RG, Gary Danford; RT, Oscar Martinez; RE, Ken Peters; LHB, Ricky Griffin; RHB, Terry Clingan; FB, Mike Manning or Billy Doc Hubble; and with Archie Nixon at QB.

Team objectives for Eldorado tomorrow night are quite similar to those for the Iran game. Since the Eldorado lads will be younger and smaller, they must move more quickly and a bit harder.

"Back in the old days" when books were written about brave, strong, good/bad people and not as the foundations for "X" rated movies, Jack London wrote of how things were in the Alaskan Arctic. "Up there" if a dog or wolf—or a man—lost his footing, he was promptly eaten by his friends and enemies alike.

The Eldorado Eagles should consider this as background material for tomorrow night because it is for sure that they had better not lose their footing with Junction.

All Set For Benefit Football Saturday

It will be an unusual game here Saturday night and one worth seeing according to Rony Kerr who is handling publicity for the Jaycees.

Actually what it is going to be is a football team made up of Jaycee members in competition with another team made up of coaches and faculty members. Unusual plans for the game include:

1. High school boys will be referees.
2. Athletic Booster Club members will have the concession stand.
3. Wives of Jaycee members will be cheer leaders.
4. Price of admission has been reduced to 50 cents.

The game will start at 8:00 at the football field and proceeds will be donated to some phase of the school's athletic program.

WTU Women To Meet In Abilene Next Week

Women, Watts and Wits is the theme of the 17th annual Women's Conference of West Texas Utilities to be held in Abilene, Texas Oct. 11, with a pre-conference dinner scheduled for 7:00 p.m. Oct. 10, at WTU Lytle Shores Auditorium.

Registration of guests begins at 9:00 a.m. Monday at the Abilene Civic Center where the workshop sessions will continue until 3:30 p.m. One hundred eighty-five women have pre-registered for the conference to date.

Purpose of the conference is twofold, says co-chairman Mary Wilkerson of Abilene. It is designed to keep the women employees informed about company work and services, and to bring the women into the home offices so they will not lose touch with each other and the progress within the company.

Ola May McDonald from the local WTU office will attend.

An early Fall wet norther dropped about 1 1/4 inches of rain here during the week end. Weather has continued cloudy and cool.

Oil, Gas Production Important To County

Petroleum production continues to play a significant role in the economy of Schleicher county with a direct input of $10,609,697 last year.

According to the latest compilation of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn., the county in 1970 produced 2,104,195 barrels of crude oil valued at $6,943,844 and 25,108,585 thousand cubic feet of natural gas valued at $3,665,853. It ranked 102nd in value of petroleum produced.

In addition, the county received the stimulation of 1,326,212 in royalty payments to landowners and others with mineral interests.

"Schleicher was one of 187 Texas counties that had petroleum production valued at more than $125,000," says Kenneth E. Montague, Texas Mid-Continent president. "Its ability to produce helped Texas meet a record demand with record production of both oil and gas in 1970. This demand has again diminished Texas petroleum reserves as additions failed to offset withdrawals. In Texas, we only drilled 8,114 wells—the smallest number since 1946."

Texas state government benefited from the county's petroleum, receiving $319,417 in production taxes on crude oil and $274,939 on natural gas.

Drilling expenditures in the county totaled $2,869,800 with $1,161,899 being lost on dry holes. Drillers completed 12 oil wells, 7 gas wells and 17 dry holes. Sixteen wildcats were drilled with nine of them dry.

Also adding to the economy were the county's two natural-gasoline processing plants with 61 million cubic feet daily capacity.

The Texas Employment Commission shows 130 persons were directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county with an annual payroll of $1,282,368.

Austin, Tex.—The State Legislative Redistricting Board, ordered by the Supreme Court to reappoint the House of Representatives as well as the Senate, is in the process of writing its bill under deadline pressure.

Indications are there will be no special session now until June, 1972, after the primary elections. The five-member Redistricting Board held a hearing Sept. 30 and heard only testimony of big-city residents debating the merits of single-member vs. multi-member (or countywide) House districts.

Governor's Race Warms There is official competition in the governor's race with the entry of Uvalde rancher and banker Dolph Briscoe. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes announced last June he would run.

Eagles Lose To Iraan Braves 21 - 12

Although the score board last Friday night read, "Iraan 21—Eldorado 12" a look at game statistics leaves a lot of honest admiration for the Eldorado Eagles.

Table with 2 columns: Eldorado and Iraan. Rows include First downs, Yards rushing, Yards passing, Total yards, Passes att./compl., Interceptions lost, Fumbles lost, Punts & av., Penalties for 45 yds.

It would be hard to "bad mouth" the Eagles for last Friday night. An team made up of six seniors, seven juniors, and 16 sophomores that can rack up total yardage of 401 and do this against a team which is made up of older and man pounds heavier opponents has earned the right to self respect and the respect and commendations of friends, patrons, and parents as well.

The diminutive Eagles actually sent two big Braves limping to the Brave bench while suffering some minor injuries themselves. Manuel Martinez, 115 pounds, for the Eagles received a painfully bruised knee, Billy Doc Hubble nursed his sore ankle all night and Archie Nixon hurt the point of his right shoulder when he was slammed against the outside fence on the Iraan side of the field.

SCHLEICHER COUNTY RAINFALL RECORDS SINCE 1936

Table with columns: Year, Jan, Feb, Mar, April, May, June, July, Aug, Sept, Oct, Nov, Dec, Total. Rows list years from 1936 to 1971 with corresponding rainfall data.

Terry Clingan carried for Eldorado 10 times and racked up 50 yards. Billy Doc Hubble, nursing a painful but not disabling sore ankle, carried eight times for 81 yards and was probably stopped more by the sore ankle than the Braves.

It is the "up front" lads who while long on bruises are short on fame; but these are the men who give their ball carriers their start. Len Mertz, Oscar Martinez, Mort Mertz, Gary Danford, Ken Peters, Mark Bland, Gene Nixon, Robert Parker, John Rae Powell carried out one game objectively and that was the one to move more quickly than their ponderous opponents.

The fumble-conscious Eagles dropped the ball six times but recovered five times for a net loss of only one. The bulky Braves fumbled three times and alert Roy Lloyd and Gary Danford or Ken Peters grabbed off two. Result was that the Braves lost more fumbles than the Eagles.

The game ended with Iraan with in the Eagle 10-yard line; but the Braves couldn't penetrate the determined Eagle defenses and the game ended with Iraan out front.

Plant Variety Protection Act

In December of 1970 the Plant Variety Protection Act became law. This law makes it possible for plant breeders, companies or institutions to obtain a certificate of Plant Variety Protection for varieties that are novel and were developed after the above date. The owner of a plant variety protection certificate has the right to control the production and sale of seed covered by the certificate. He may exclude others from selling seed of the protected variety or he may charge a royalty for all seed of the variety that is sold. Legally, the Plant Variety Protection Certificate is the same as a patent.

One provision of the Plant Variety Protection Act specifies that a variety may be sold by variety name only as a class of certified seed. All seed sold by the variety name must be either registered or certified seed.

There is a very important exception to the above restrictions of protected varieties. Any farmer may save seed of protected varieties and plant it on his farm or sell it to other farmers provided there is no advertising by the variety name and the sale complies with the State and Federal Seed Laws.

This year there are at least two varieties of wheat for which plant variety protection has been applied and each specifies the certified seed option. These varieties are Centurk and Tamwheat 101. Centurk was developed by the Nebraska Station and the USDA. It was released jointly by eight states including Texas. It has an outstanding record in both dryland and irrigated tests. Tamwheat 101 was developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and has performed well in irrigated tests on the High Plains of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. It has a better yield record than Sturdy, Caprock or Scout 66 in these irrigated trials.

The requirement that the variety name can be used only if the seed is certified is in the long term interest of farmers who will be assured seed of excellent purity that is properly identified.

1972 Wheat Programs

Farm programs for 1972 begin the second year of a change in direction for farm program policies—toward a market-oriented agriculture. The new direction for farm policies was made possible by provisions of the 1970 Agricultural Act. One of the key features of the Act is that rigid acreage allotments and bases have been eliminated as production controls.

With allotments and bases no longer dictating production patterns, farmers have the opportunity to grow the crops they can grow most efficiently. They will be better able to react to demands and changes in the market, as well as to market prices. They can seek better prices and higher sales volume and reduce their costs, for higher incomes. With this year's crop, many wheat growers will have their first opportunity to take advantage of new decision-making freedom provided under the present farm programs.

October Garden Check List

1. Dig and store only disease free Caladium tubers. Store in dry peat or in perlite packed in boxes so the tubers do not touch each other. Store in a dry warm area where temperatures remain between 55 to 60 degrees F.
2. Scale insects on Camellia, Gardenia Holly, and Eucalyptus can be effectively controlled with dormant oil, Malathion or Diatinoxon. Use oil only when temperatures are sure to remain below 85 degrees and above 40 degrees F for at least 48 hours after using.

3. Keep fallen leaves raked from lawn area. Leaves make excellent material for composting but must be moistened thoroughly to hasten decomposition.

4. Plant spring flowering bulbs and bulb like plants from now through November. Make sure Tulip bulbs are pre-cooled or chill them yourself for 60 days or more at 35 degrees F. Plant Tulips in Central and South Texas after Dec. 1 and treat as annuals using new bulbs each fall.

5. Prepare the beds for those tulips being chilled for later planting.

6. Fall caterpillars can be controlled with Sevin.

7. For spring color plant seeds of Drummonds Phlox, Cornflower, Larkspur, California Poppy, Bluebonnets, in early October.

8. Prepare pansy beds to receive transplants in late October or early November when plants become available.

9. Don't forget the fall application of fertilizer for Bermuda and St. Augustine lawns in mid October. Use 15 to 20 pounds of 8-8-8 or equivalent per 1000 square feet.

10. For dried arrangements don't forget to collect those dried seed pods, pine cones, grass plumes, and other interesting materials, before it is too late.

11. Stake tall mums to prevent wind and water damage.

12. Make notes of winter gardening chores that will need to be performed before spring.

13. For optimum flower production keep Christmas Cactus under cool night temperatures of 55 degrees F.

Statewide Meeting Of Soil Conservation Districts Set

The role of conservation districts in environmental improvement is the theme of the 31st annual statewide meeting of conservation district directors to be held in McAllen October 19-21.

Voy Lee Butts, vice-chairman of the board of the local Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District, said plans are being made to send a delegation from the local district. The annual meeting is sponsored by the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

"Our district is involved in a wide range of activities which benefit the environment," Butts said. "Conservation measures reduce sediment, the state's biggest pollutant. Sediment fills lake, streams, bays and estuaries; it kills fish and ruins their spawning grounds. Treatment of land subject to wind erosion cuts blowing dust, the state's worst air pollutant. We also try to tailor our work to enhance wildlife habitat, outdoor beauty and recreation."

Butts also pointed out that upstream watershed protection projects sponsored by conservation districts, counties and cities have vast environmental benefits.

Floods not only damage homes and other property but they also kill people, wildlife and livestock. Conservation districts are trying to step up all environmental activities. Voy Lee said he hopes the discussion at the annual meeting will point up ways this can be done.

The Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, one of the state's oldest conservation organizations, will also meet and elect officers during the state meeting. Ben Sims of Paint Rock is a director of the organization.

Conservation districts are local sub-divisions of state government. They utilize and coordinate assistance from the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and other local, state and federal sources. Their goal is to conserve and develop land, water, forests, wildlife and related resources for maximum benefit of all citizens.

The meeting at McAllen will feature a "Night in Mexico" event staged by the host group, the Southmost Soil and Water Conservation District. Ladies attending the meeting will also be treated to a lunch-

Railroad Hearing Held Sept. 29 In Menard

Whether or not the area west of Brady has all railway traffic discontinued was to be decided at public hearing at the Menard County Courthouse Wednesday, Sept. 29. Representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, D. C., were hearing the case put forth by the railroad officials in an effort to halt all railroad traffic west of Brady.

This hearing was final step in the procedures necessary for a railway to discontinue service. The federal Interstate Commerce Commission is the only board having the authority to close railroad and discontinue service completely.

Santa Fe filed application to abandon the two branch lines that run west of Brady to Eden and to Menard as unprofitable. Those rail lines were laid back about 1911.

Santa Fe also around the first of this year applied to abandon their 65 miles of track between San Angelo and Sonora.

That stretch of track passes through Christoval and Eldorado and was put into service in 1930. Santa Fe's petition for abandonment cites loss of revenues and profits for their action.

Early this year, governing groups in Sonora, Eldorado and Christoval wrote Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington D. C. protesting Santa Fe's abandonment.

NEWS OF ECOLOGY

PAPER AND THE ENVIRONMENT

Paper is a true product of the forest. Once used, it either ends up as scrap paper or is broken down — by burning or by plowing it under — into components that can be used again by forests to grow new wood. American industry already re-uses 20% of the paper in paper products, and would like to use more!

Professional forest management can reduce forest fires. By doing so, foresters insure better harvests and help preserve the base upon which depend almost two million forest products industry jobs.

Improved forest management is just one way in which the forest products industry is changing. In another case, sawmill odds and ends, once discarded, now provide up to 25 percent of the paper industry's raw materials. The industry as a whole uses one pound of used paper in the making of new paper products for every four pounds of pulp obtained from trees. Many individual operations are using even greater quantities of waste paper.

For many companies, getting high-grade waste paper to mills where it can be recycled is a major problem. Most mills are located in forest areas, far from urban centers. Even though Scott Paper Company's Detroit plant is relatively close to sources of clean high-grade waste paper, it has taken $2,000,000 worth of special new equipment to put the operation on a paying basis.

But more efficient use of raw materials and recycling paper are just two facets of a complicated business. Pollution control is a third. Scott, for instance, has earmarked about $100,000,000 for strictly environmental purposes. This great sum will be spent between now and 1978 for new air and water treatment facilities and does not include operational costs. Other paper producers now have similar environmental programs.

Paper, unlike gas, oil, coal, and minerals, is a renewable resource. It can also be used and reused if care is taken to keep waste paper like paper cartons, newspapers, books and magazines separated from other kinds of waste, and if a real effort is made to deliver it to the processing plants. When it's broken down to its basic fiber and combined with fresh virgin pulp, paper can be built up again by the same natural process that formed it in the first place, and is a growing resource in this nation's scientifically managed commercial forests.

Paper is one natural resource that keeps on growing. Regardless of whether it is burned, buried as land-fill or digested in a sewage treatment plant, paper, which is made out of vegetable cellulose, ultimately decomposes into the simple substances out of which trees make the pulp that makes paper — carbon dioxide and water. By this cyclic process of buildup and breakdown, the basic building blocks of last year's newspapers may well be used by trees to furnish "natural" forest that is "tree-tomorrow's."

Since 1960, commercial foresters have planted over three billion new trees. When added to the many more billions of natural seedlings, this makes for a lot of new paper pulp, and a lot of trees. In Maine, for instance, where Scott Paper Company has extensive holdings, tree growth exceeds harvesting by 50%. New generations of forests regularly replace old ones, and nearly every acre Scott harvests was cut at least once by some former owner during the past 300 years.

Woodlands serve man's recreational needs as well as his material ones. The two are not in conflict in today's professionally managed forests. Scott and other paper companies encourage the use of their forests for recreational purposes wherever possible — for hunting, fishing and camping.

Well-managed "commercial" forests generally provide an even richer woodland experience than many a "natural" forest. Anyone who has seen the rotting hulks of dead and fallen trees on the floor of such a forest has probably seen a "natural" forest that is "tree-locked" — that is "asleep" and may fail to provide enough food for its birds and game animals and whose dry wood is an ever-present invitation to forest fire.
