Poor Cotton Crop Faced By County

This year's cotton crop will be the smallest in years, according to gin man Kenith Homer, and the reason for it is, as usual, the weather.

The drought-breaking rains that came in March were too early for planting, and the July-August rains came too late. Mr. Homer reports that only half as many acres were planted to cotton this year as last.

In Reynolds community a number of farmers including Clemens Sauer, planted no cotton at all. Here and there, some who did, are now plowing under the stalks.

Near town, Bill McWhorter had a large acreage with large stalks, but he has shredded it. Insects and weevils were invading it, throwing off what small bolls developed.

Elo Wilde, in Reynolds, told a neighbor that he is watching his crop for another two or three weeks to see how it develops. Others in that area who irrigated have raised a crop but apparently they are all watching to see what the insects will do.

In Bailey Ranch we have Whip Faull who expects to have a first bale at the gin by the end of this week. He has had some pickers and by Monday he had about 600 pounds gathered. Whip estimates he has from 10 to 15 bales now open.

His 100 acres were pre-watered and he has been going through it to see how it is holding up, and he said it is not throwing off.

All over the county a lot of maize has been planted and it is up and is reported to be looking good. But they all emphasize that it is LATE maize, indicating they are not too sure how it will mature.

Jerroll Sanders's new El Dorado Restaurant was scene of a beehive of activity Tuesday afternoon as workmen were scurrying around installing equipment and doing other last-minute work in preparation for the open house Thursday, and the opening for business Friday morning.

Painters were at work, along with telephone installers, electricians, refrigeration equipment mechanics, and the red carpets toward the front have been taken up, patched and repaired, and relaid.

The 240 place settings of the commercial-type chinaware were stacked on a large table, and will be put into their proper storage places.

Sanders expected about two more truck loads of equipment to come in, which will include the tables and chairs.

The Ozona football team are to be served steak dinners following the game Friday night.

Other people from Ozona as well as local ones will "have a night out" at the restaurant before or after the game.

A buffet will be served to the public at noon Sunday, and this may be a regular feature.

Also, on the 29th of this month, the Lions Club will meet at noon that day for their district governor's visit.

So some special events are already lined up for the new restaurant, the newest business enterprise for this town. Mr. Sanders and his crew will have the best wishes for success from the business community.

Band Boosters To Meet September 20

The first meeting for the booster club of the Eagle Band will be held next Monday night, Sept. 20, at 7:00 in the band hall.

The budget for the year will be set and officers will be elected to serve in cooperation with Wayne McDonald, band director.

The organization known as Band Aides is for the purpose of backing the band and everyone is invited to join. You do not have to have a student in band, or even a child in school in order to be a member. If you are proud of the band, the band members would be pleased to know you are giving them your support. And certainly all the parents of band students will want to be present.

—See you Monday night!

Band Elects Officers

Members of the '71-72 Eagle Band have elected band officers for the year. Chosen as president is Brian Holsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holsey; vice president, Eva Stigler, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Stigler; and Patty Page, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Page will be secretary.

These three young people, as officers and Jean Rountree, drum major, will have the responsibility of keeping more than 70 young people "on their toes" ready to give 100% effort to the direction and instruction of Band Director Wayne McDonald.

Teletype Network Links Law Agencies

San Angelo, Tex.—The Concho Valley Council of Governments Law Enforcement Teletype Network became operational recently. Members stations of the network include Coke, Concho, Crockett, Kimble, McCulloch, Mason, Menard, Reagan, Schleicher, Sterling and Tom Green counties and the Cities of Big Lake, Brady, and San Angelo. The cost of the Big Lake station, located in the Reagan County Sheriff's Office, will be shared equally by the City of Big Lake and Reagan County. McCulloch County and the City of Brady will also share fiscal responsibility for the machine which is located at the Brady Police Department.

With the teletype network becoming operational, there should be considerable improvement in communication between law enforcement agencies in the Concho Valley COG area. Until now, only the San Angelo Police Department has had teletype communications in this 14-county region.

Eagles To Host Ozona Friday, Following 1-Pt. Win At Rankin

The Ozona Lions, always tough opponents for the Eldorado Eagles, come to Eldorado tomorrow night for the 1971 installment of their 45 years of rivalry. The Lions aren't too fancy with their football this year as they will employ the same "Wing T" offensive formation as last year which goes by the term today, according to Eagle Coach Ronnie Stephens, as "Strong Set Right." Coach Stephens said that scout reports lead him to believe that Ozona runs principally to their right side; i. e., they are right handed; but he warned that they utilize a dangerous counter play or run back to the left. This means that the Lions pretend to run right but their QB David Sewell, hands off to Number 12, Gerald Huff who then really runs left behind some effective blocking. Huff is also the favorite passing target for Sewell. Coach Stephens continued that it appeared that the Lions primarily regard themselves as ball carriers, not pass receivers; but they can and will pass; Sewell their QB, drops back to pass to Gerald Huff on longer passes or on occasion to flip Huff a short and dangerous screen pass.

Coach Stephens remarked that the Lions' favorite play, however, is a power sweep to the right with many blockers out front and Ruben Tambunga as the principal ball carrier.

Coach Stephens said the Lions usually employ a five-man defensive front but on occasion they will present a front of four with three linebackers. He said that Ruben Tambunga and Gerald Huff charge in quickly from their corner back positions and are termed "strikers."

Coach Stephens concluded that the Lions had good size, being almost as a team made up of lads weighing 160-170 pounds.

Their offensive line up will probably be as follows:

No.	Name	Pos.	Wt.
84	Randy Crawford	LE	165
70	Freddy Vela	LT	175
55	Ricky Crawford	LG	165
52	Rick Hunnicut	C	150
71	Bill Edgerton	RG	175
72	Gary Mitchell	RT	180
88	Mike Jenkins	RE	190
12	Gerald Huff	WB	165
40	Pete Maldonado	FB	160
20	Ruben Tambunga	TB	167
30	David Sewell	QB	165

Corner backs are Huff and Tambunga with Webster, No. 88 at 155 and Sewell to man the combination defensive halfback-safety positions.

Meanwhile the Eldorado Eagles will utilize their same offensive lineup with a considerable number of substitutions for rest, safety, and information. These lads will include Gene Nixon and Ken Peters at ends; Len Mertz and Oscar Martinez at tackles; Mort Mertz and Gary Danford at guards; Karl McCormack at center; Terry Clingan at halfback; Ricky Griffin at tailback; Bill Hubble at fullback; and Archie Nixon at QB.

Defensively the Eagles will probably start Roy Lloyd and John Ray Powell at ends; Oscar Martinez and Len Mertz with Gary Wester and Manuel Martinez as frequent relievers at these positions; Gary Danford, Mike Manning, and Billy Doc Hubble as line backers; Terry Clingan and Ricky Griffin at corner backs; and Hunter Henderson with Tim Farris at halfbacks.

Game time is 8:00 o'clock and there is good reason to believe that a hotly contested football game is on schedule.

We Lost 16-0 Last Year

On September 18, 1970, in Ozona, the Lions defeated the Eagles 16-0. Ruben Tambunga, 160-pound sophomore, was instrumental in the Ozona win. Today, Tambunga weighs 167 and is a junior. He scored the only touchdown in the Junction-Ozona game last Friday night which game Ozona won 7-0. Tambunga is a tough customer and stopping him will take much exertion and careful attention on part of the Eldorado Eagles.

Memories Of Past Decade To Linger As New El Dorado Restaurant Opens

As Jerroll Sanders opens his El Dorado Restaurant in the building on the Sonora highway formerly occupied by the fabric shop of the woolen mill, he has achieved a gracious blending of the old and new, with promise of a complete restaurant service.

The ivory-colored Spanish Colonial style building will soon have new signs mounted outside proclaiming its new purpose as a restaurant. Inside the front door, on the south side is the "cafe section" and on the north side where the scialles were formerly sold and offices were located, will be the semi-private dining rooms with carpeted floors.

Throughout, Sanders has retained many of the Spanish furnishings and accent pieces and draperies which were used in the woolen mill salesrooms and offices.

There will be subdued lighting, and red plush-backed menu covers, to further carry out a relaxing atmosphere.

One of the dining rooms is on the north side facing the patio.

In the back is the large banquet room which will be available for large groups.

All the dining rooms can be pressed into service for use by the public, should patronage demand, for a total serving capacity of about 200.

A complete, fully-equipped commercial type kitchen is located in the rear of the building, opening onto the alley. Adjoining the kitchen is the large food storage area and the garbage can storage room. A large walk-in refrigerator, deep-fat fryer, griddle, potato peeler, range, dishwasher, and preparation areas will all facilitate preparation of food.

The building was built in the early 1960's with Knight-Susen as general contractor. Harold Susen has been consultant to Sanders in the conversion and remodeling of the building to its new use.

The last several years were highlighted by visits by an astronaut, the Miss Wool candidates, former Texas Governor John Connally who is now Secretary of the Treasury, and other dignitaries and various groups.

All the people of Eldorado and West Texas wish Mr. Sanders well in this new business endeavor. It should be an asset to this entire area.

A buffet will be served at noon Sunday.

Jerroll Sanders and his family have lived in Eldorado for many years and he recently terminated 21 years of employment with Amco (formerly Service Pipe).

Judge Bean's Court Is Popular Exhibit

Langtry, Tex.—Judge Roy Bean, the "Law West of the Pecos," was likely to handcuff prisoners to a handy tree 'till he could get round to a trial on his front porch. He recited off decisions with the aid of a solitary law book, and backed 'em up with a six-shooter on the table beside him. Then to make it official, he made liberal use of his prized notary seal.

The old judge is long gone, along with the frontier Southwest he so colorfully represented. But his pistol, handcuffs, book and notary seal are now on display at the Texas Highway Department's Judge Roy Bean Visitor Center in Langtry.

The historic items, in private hands since Bean's death, are feature additions at the site where a slice of the old West is preserved in authentic detail. The relics are on view in a special case protected by an electronic security system.

Roy Bean wouldn't believe it. The weathered old "Jersey Lilly," his saloon-courthouse-billiard hall, is just like he left it. The State Legislature, in 1939, named it a historic site and directed the Highway Department to preserve it for tourists. Next door is the department's modern, air-conditioned Visitor Center. Inside the judge would find himself the star of a half dozen dioramas, each with a special recorded program.

With his eye for the ladies, he'd surely go for the pretty travel counselors who are always on duty, especially since their favorite subject is the same as his: Roy Bean. And there, rigged up like the crown jewels—his pistol, handcuffs, law book, and notary seal.

The cactus garden outside would surely perplex the old judge. Nest paths lead to hundreds of cacti, yucca, and other Southwestern plants, each with a label of names and facts. Why in tarnation such bother for those pesky, thorny things?

But it's not likely that Roy Bean's ghost will be roaming the Visitor Center. There's one thing about it he just couldn't abide. It's all free. Imagine, folks dropping in every day of the week—from all over Texas, California, and even Canada—but not a nickel to be made. Thunderation!

Course, he'd probably be pleased that some old friends remember him. They're heirs of W. H. Dodd, a compadre of Bean's from the old days, and they made the Bean relics available to the Highway Department. Among them are Mrs. Pearl Dodd Nicholson of Langtry; Cross Dodd and Mrs. Mary Hall Uzzell, both of Austin; Mrs. Dorothy Hall Freza of Dixon, Illinois; and Mrs. Billie Hall Carey of La Crescenta, California.

Roy Bean says thank 'ee!

Traffic Toll Held Down Labor Day

Austin, Tex.—Governor Preston Smith and Department of Public Safety Director Col. Wilson E. Speir joined today in expressing appreciation to everyone concerned in holding down the holiday death toll in Texas streets and highways over the 78-hour Labor Day week end.

"We are of course deeply saddened by the tragic loss of 41 lives during this holiday period which ended at midnight Monday, (Sept. 6)" they said in a joint statement. "But we are encouraged by the fact the pre-holiday estimate that there would be 52 fatalities fell short. This means that some 11 persons who were statistically destined to lose their lives this past week end are alive and well today.

"It is impossible to attribute this to any one specific reason, but we feel it is reasonable to assume that mass public awareness of the added hazards of high volume holiday traffic was a major contributing factor.

"The credit for the low Labor Day holiday toll must go to everyone who contributed in any way to the safe driving—or 'Drive Friendly' program. We especially appreciate the efforts of the individual drivers themselves, as well as the broadcasters and newspapers of Texas who went above and beyond the call of duty in hammering out the vital message of safe driving to the general public.

"Much credit also is due to the numerous organizations, both public and private, who joined in the most concerted public awareness program ever undertaken in our state.

Ecology Should Start At Home

Most advocates of a better ecology concentrate their activities on outdoor environmental improvement and neglect to stress the importance of creating a more comfortable, beautiful and liveable atmosphere in the home, according to J. L. Foxworth, president of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas, an 85 year non-profit trade association.

The Texas Senate and House passed a Concurrent Resolution, which was signed by Governor Smith, designating July, August and September as "Keep Texas Homes Beautiful" months, a program to urge the continuing need for home beautification both inside and out.

"This campaign serves two purposes," Foxworth stated, "one is to promote home improvement for better living, and the other to help the homeowner protect his investment. Many people would rather 'improve than move' in order to preserve their close relationships in their chosen neighborhood," he added.

"Better ecology should start in the home," Foxworth stated, "and the members of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas will continue their year-around efforts to assist homeowners to keep homes beautiful and investments protected."

Austin, Tex.—A major court decision last week left up in the air the question of how Texas is to achieve a valid reapportionment act for both houses of its legislature before next year.

State Supreme Court agreed with an August 2 Austin district court finding that a House redistricting bill passed this year is unconstitutional because it unnecessarily split up 23 counties.

The decision left unanswered how the bill should be corrected or if it should be redone before 1973. Basic questions are these:

—Should House reapportionment and state Senate redistricting (left untouched by the Legislature) be the subject of an emergency special session?

—Should the five-member constitutional Legislative Redistricting Board take on the job, since no valid reapportionment was done by the Legislature in the first regular session after the 1970 census?

—Should the Legislature forget about reapportionment before 1972 elections and wait until the 1970 census statistics are all complete and published?

Gov. Preston Smith and Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin once more are on opposite sides of a controversy.

Smith says the Redistricting Board has the "duly constituted responsibility" under the constitution to redistrict, and a special legislative session on reapportionment would be unnecessarily costly. Martin stated in a brief before the Supreme Court a special session "would seem the only correct possibility, but this, too, could become the subject of litigation."

A High Court ruling in another case challenging the Redistricting Board's authority may hold the key as to whether it can proceed, whether the Legislature must take over now or check the task until 1973.

A note of urgency is injected into the issue by the fact the Board is directed by the constitution to do whatever it is going to do by late October. Furthermore, legislative candidates appear to face a November 7 deadline for establishing residence in the district they choose to represent.

Anti-Pollution Permit Used

Texas Air Control Board has put into operation a far-reaching construction permit system to help control and prevent air pollution.

Since August 30, any industry that will emit air contaminants into the atmosphere must get a Board permit before starting any construction. Similar permits are necessary to modify or change existing contaminant causing facilities.

Permits apply to specific, individual manufacturing processes, not entire industrial plants or complexes. Exceptions for minor contaminant causing plans will be listed later. Applicants have 60 days after construction is completed to apply for operating permits.

Health Study On

New studies to find ways of meeting health service, staff and facility needs of Texas' rural population will be undertaken by the Research Institute for Systems Development at Texas A&M University.

The study will be conducted in the West Central Texas area, centered around Abilene which has both rural and urban characteristics typical of many regions.

Fewer than half of Texas' 492 hospitals meet federal medicare requirements for health and safety, so the project will focus on health facilities and services considered below medicare standards. Texas has more than twice as many qualified hospitals as any other state.

Appointments . . .

Carl E. F. Dally of Houston and District Judge Tom G. Davis of Vernon are new commissioners on Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Six directors and two assistants to the executive office of Texas Parks and Wildlife Department were named this month. They are:

Macklin Jr., director of personnel and administration; Richard A. McCune, director of information and education; Samuel W. Kendrick Jr., director of support services and Clayton T. Garrison, director of finance and data processing.

John D. Townsend has been named assistant commissioner for planning and coordination for the State Department of Public Welfare.

Governor Smith named James D. Eppright of Dallas to the Texas Tourist Development Board and reappointed Dan Sanborn, McAllen. He appointed to the State Board of Dental Examiners Dr.

College Station, Tex.—Atomic energy and its applications will be demonstrated Sept. 17 at Eldorado High School.

A program titled "This Atomic World" will acquaint Eldorado students with basic principles of nuclear energy, its sources and role in agriculture, industry, medicine and research.

Orlan L. Ihms (sounds like seems) will conduct the program, part of the Atomic Energy Commission's traveling educational series.

Ihms will use student terms to explain structure of atoms, nuclear reactor operation, radiation, fission and fusion.

He will use special equipment to demonstrate sources of radiation and how nuclear energy is harnessed to generate power. Use of radiations for life processes, study, diagnosis and treatment of diseases will also be graphically portrayed.

A chalkboard talk to Eldorado High science classes will provide more detail on atomic structure, radioactivity, radiation biology and nuclear science careers.

Texas A&M University will present the program in cooperation with Oak Ridge Associated Universities, a non-profit educational and research corporation of Southern colleges and universities.

Ihms trained in AEC and ORAU labs at Oak Ridge, Tenn. He has bachelor and master's degrees from Texas A&M.

They are Jimmy Dean Company of Plainview, Levi Strauss and Company of Amarillo; Spryberry Handbags Inc. of Clifton; Gorman Peanuts of Gorman and Vintage Homes Inc. of Breckenridge.

D. A. Study Penal Code

District and county attorneys have launched their own committee study of needed changes in the penal code. They fought a sweeping, controversial revision of the code during the legislative session this year.

District Attorney Tom Hanna of Beaumont was selected as chairman of the committee in the first meeting last week. Prosecutors indicated they prefer a simplified, "more responsive" new code to the version introduced in the 1971 Legislature which had been five years in the making.

Organic Matter Aids Soil Conservation
College Station, Tex.—Because organic matter makes so many contributions to the productive potential of soil, practices to maintain its level should be included in a balanced soil management and soil conservation program. Now is a good time for producers to think about such practices since they'll be faced with crop residues following the harvest season.
"Organic matter plays an important role in the physical make-up of a soil," says Dr. Charles Welch, soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Although the actual organic matter content of most mineral soils is less than 5%, it has a great influence on soil properties and plant growth."
Welch points out that the loose, friable condition associated with highly productive soils generally is the result of a relatively high organic matter content. Through its beneficial effects on soil structure, organic matter increases the rate at which water enters the soil as well as the amount of water the soil can hold.
"As the rate at which water can enter the soil increases, the rate of water run-off decreases," he explains. "Therefore, the erosion

Constitution Week To Start Sept. 17th
This is Constitution Week, September 17 through 23. Designated by an Act of Congress in Public Law No. 915 passed Aug. 2, 1956.
The Constitution of the United States of America was adopted September 17, 1787, ratified June 21, 1788 and went into effect March 4, 1789. This year marks the 184th anniversary of its adoption.
All citizens are requested to observe this week as proclaimed by President Nixon.
The Daughters of the American Revolution remind you that freedom is not free. We can never take it for granted. Our freedom of living and worship is envied by the world. We must pay the price of eternal vigilance to keep it.
All citizens are urged to fly the flag of the United States of America at their homes and their places of business through Constitution Week.
MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS, To accord official recognition to this memorable anniversary, and to the patriotic exercise that will form a noteworthy feature of the occasion, seems fitting and proper;
NOW, therefore, I Eldon T. Calk, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of Eldorado in the State of Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of September 17 through 23, 1971, as in the City of Eldorado, and urge all our citizens to pay special attention during that week to our Federal Constitution and the advantages of American Citizenship.

Constitution Week
In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City to be affixed on this 14th day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventy one and the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and ninety-fifth.
Eldon T. Calk, Mayor.

Lawns
Don't get into the habit of following the same route each time you mow your lawn. Such a routine can make a lawn less attractive, as tracks tend to become fixed. High and low spots may become worse, and there may be a tendency for the lawn surface to develop a wavy appearance. Change your pattern of mowing if you want few irregularities and more uniform and neater lawn.

Screwworms
Crockett County had a confirmed screwworm case last week. Texas has recorded 123 cases this year.

With late summer and fall seasons traditionally the most likely for screwworm outbreaks, all producers are urged to continue on the alert for screwworm cases. They should check their animals periodically and treat any wounds found, collect larvae from wounds and mail the samples to the Mission Screwworm Laboratory for identification. The mailing address is Box 969, Mission, Texas. Collection kits and vials are available from the County Agricultural Agent. Spraying of herds is also recommended.

Webworms
Webworms generally feed by eating leaves, sometimes in concentrated areas. Some web within, or build a "web-tent" in crotches of limbs or feed together in large groups without making a web. Caterpillars vary from 1 to 2 in. long. Also, vary in color, but usually striped, multicolored and hairy.
Control:
Spray (a) Carbaryl (Sevin)
(b) Chlordane
(c) Malathion
(d) Toxaphene.

Iron Chlorosis
Iron chlorosis is a condition that results when the green coloring matter in plants, chlorophyll, fails to develop or is destroyed. It normally appears first on young leaves. The leaves of chlorotic plants range from light green to yellow to almost white. Iron is necessary for the formation of chlorophyll. When iron is unavailable for plant use, chlorophyll fails to develop properly, and plants exhibit chlorosis. Iron chlorosis is most prevalent on members of the grass family (such as St. Augustingrass, Johnsongrass and grain sorghum, certain fruit trees (citrus and peaches), many vegetables (particularly beans) and many flowers and ornamentals. Most soils on which iron chlorosis occurs contain iron, but in a form unavailable for plant use.

Control: Iron chlorosis control calls for treatment of soil so that iron becomes available or addition of supplemental iron as a spray or soil application. Application of large amounts of well-rotted organic material on a regular basis tends to make the soils less alkaline and the iron more available. Well-decomposed compost, plus 1 pound sulfur per 100 square feet, can be used to make the soil less alkaline. Acid peat also can be used.
To control chlorosis by addition of iron, use iron sulfate (copperas) or iron chelates. Its use should be restricted generally to spray application. If iron sulfate is applied to an alkaline calcareous soil, the iron may become unavailable in a relatively short time.

Eagles Down Rankin By Score Of 20-19

After holding the scoring lead for 46 minutes, it was Rankin's time to make the "big mistake" this season; and they did under the relentless pressure the Eldorado lads applied to the Red Devils. But the final margin between the two teams was a narrow one-point difference in favor of Eldorado, the game ending 20-19 for the Eagles.

Statistics show that the Eagles had a tough time indeed in trying to stop or hold to their prime objective: stopping No. 32, Tom Bloxom. They did not stop him completely but they did interfere with him so effectively that he did not win the game.

The statistics go like this:

Eldorado	Rankin
16	First downs	17
120	yards rushing	231
117	yards passing	0
237	total yards	231
10 of 17	passes att. & comp.	7/0
1	passes intercepted	1
2	fumbles lost	1
7 for 55	pen. & yds. lost	6 for 40

Score by quarters—

Eldorado	6	6	0	8-20
Rankin	6	7	0	6-19

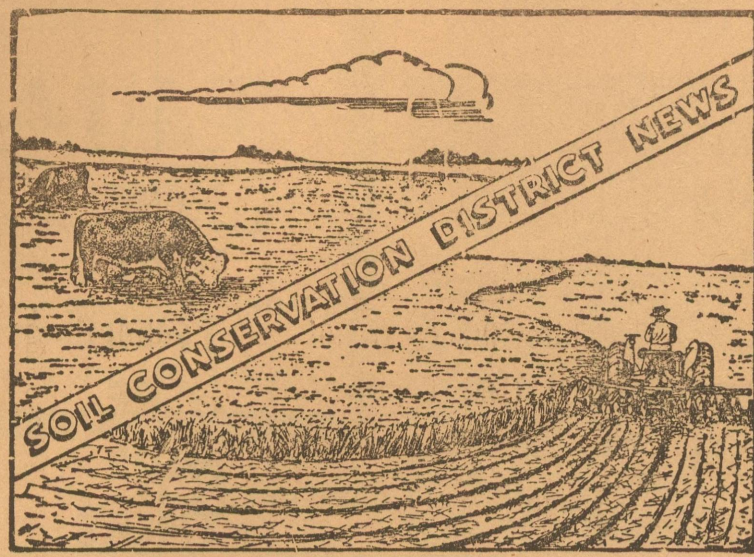

Crucial and decisive moments in the game came when Tim Farris received a punt and fumbled after a fine 10-yard runback. This gave Rankin the ball on/about their own 40-yard line. Soon, Tom Bloxom for Rankin broke away to Eldorado's left and was in the clear heading for the score that would have spelled disaster for Eldorado. But Tim Farris retrieved himself completely as he caught Bloxom from the back and hauled him down not too far from Eldorado's 35-yard line. Eventually, this failure turned out to be "it" for Rankin as they did not manage to score.

Next and real turning point took place in the last quarter with Eldorado behind 19-12. The Eagles had driven to the Rankin 20 when Archie Nixon suffered his only pass interception of the night. Rankin captured the pass on their own two-yard line. Eldorado was off side on the play. But Rankin elected to keep the ball. This would have been a tough decision for anybody because they were really in a dilemma. To have taken the penalty would have given Archie Nixon, head of the Eagle Air Force, two more chances to score; and the Red Devils had already suffered one bombing and could not afford another.

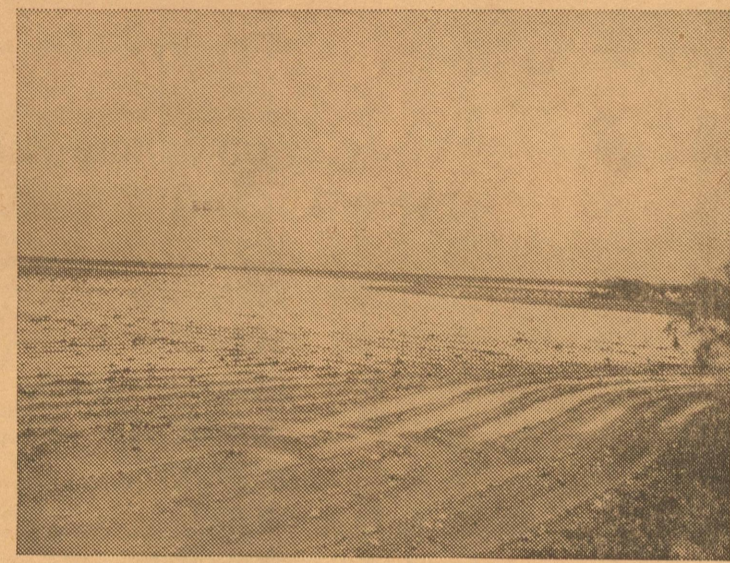

So Rankin took the ball. They bogged down against a determined Eagle defense; and facing a third-down-long-yardage-needed situation they attempted a pass which Terry Clingan as an alert corner back on that side snatched from the intended Rankin receiver and 10 yards and about 1 1/4 seconds later, the score stood Eldorado 18, Rankin 19. This happened with just two minutes and 12 seconds remaining on the clock.

Then the Eagle Air Force went into action. The Rankin Red Devils, horror struck by the previous Archie Nixon to Gene Nixon bombing runs, failed to guard Terry Clingan in the end zone corner and Nixon laid the ball in Clingan's arms for the two points. This put the Eagles out front 20-19 and gave them the lead for the first time all night.

The rest of the game saw Eldorado kick to Rankin and then the fired up Eagles stopped the Red Devils almost in their tracks. Mike Manning bulldogged Rankin's Tom Bloxom on Rankin's final sortie to give the Eagles the ball on downs. Eldorado took over and with about a minute to go, QB Archie Nixon had no trouble from the clock or the yards for the rest of the game.

Water held by this terrace will be beneficial to next crop

The harvest of maize is well under way in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District. Due to dry condition up until the last of June, the acres of early maize is below average. With the exception of a few acres, all the early maize is on land benefitted by water held by terraces.

This year's moisture has been two extremes, for ideal crop yields. Rainfall received early in year was too little for dryland crops and too much for a short period of time beginning the last part of June. However, there is some good early maize immediately above terraces and late maize is looking real good throughout entire district.

Maize yield on Clemens Sauer's would have been way below normal if he had not received the good rains in June, July, and August. "The only maize I would have made would have been on about 20 rows above each terrace. From about 20 rows above terraces to next terrace above, maize would not have been good enough to combine. The rains changed my prospects of a maize crop from Eagle friends, moms, dads, and other Eldorado partisans found the game climax greatly shortened the 99 miles back to Eldorado.

Sunday afternoon, September 12, Coach Ronnie Stephens had some guardedly pleased comments about the performance of the Eagles in the game. He praised defensive backs Hunter Henderson and Tim Farris for their work. No passes were completed over them or in front as for that. Coach Stephens complimented Ricky Griffin for his offensive as well as his defensive efforts. Griffin's fine pass-run combination set up the first Eagle score. Billy Doc Hubble carried over for the final three yards.

Coach Stephens also complimented the Eagle Air Force composed of QB Archie Nixon and receivers Gene Nixon, Ricky Griffin, Billy Doc Hubble, and Terry Clingan. Gene Nixon caught six Big Brother Archie passes for 79 yards the second Eagle touchdown. Griffin caught one and converted it to a 57-yard improvement to Eagle fortunes. Hubble caught one pass for eight yards while Terry Clingan completed one for eight yards, intercepted the Rankin pass for the final touchdown, and finally completed the two-pointed to administer the final blow to the Red Devils.

Coach Stephens also complimented Mike Manning for making 17 tackles; Tim Farris for nine including the one which stopped "Runaway Bloxom"; and finally Ricky Griffin, Gary Danford, and Roy Llod for seven tackles each.

Coach Stephens concluded that the Eagles had only partially succeeded in carrying out their objectives for the Rankin game but ended his remarks by saying that he was happy that the Eagles never let up and eventually downed the stubborn Red Devils.

poor to good on late planted maize," Sauer stated last week.

Due to lack of moisture, Sauer did not plant cotton. Late maize was planted on cotton land and came up to a poor stand before rains in late June. After rains in June more of the maize came up making a good stand. In a conversation with Lloyd B. Johnson of the Soil Conservation Service Sauer said, "The prospects of high yields on my late maize looks real good."

Terraces and contour farming has been a part of Sauer's Soil and Water Conservation plan for many years. All terraces have been constructed and maintained on all land that was cropland when Sauer first became a cooperater with the Eldorado-Divide S.C.D. Terrace maintenance was carried out this past spring before crops were planted. Even though terraces had been maintained in good condition, some breaks occurred following the last big rain in August. If terraces had not held water from big rains none of my maize would be as good as it is," Sauer stated.

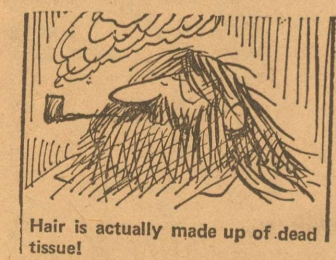

Terrace construction, maintenance and farming on the contour are considered by Sauer to be essential in producing good crop yields. However, he emphasizes that a good conservation cropping system and all other needed conservation practices are equally as important.

The moisture held on the land from rains of the past three months will also be beneficial to next year's crops. As one farmer said, I can make a crop next year on water held by my terraces and contour rows from these good rains.

Farmers and ranchers realize that they must take the rain when it does rain and in the amount that is received. All the water can not be held on the land where it falls from rains of too large amounts and high intensity. However, the maximum amount that is possible to hold can be held on land by applying and maintaining all the needed soil, water and plant conservation practices.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assist all land users in planning and applying needed conservation practices on their land. Cost share assistance is available for farms and ranches from the Great Plains Conservation Program, administered by the S.C.S., and from the Schleicher County, Rural Environmental Assistance Program.
