ELDORADO DEFEATS ROCK SPRINGS IN BASE BALL.

Saturday, the Rock Springs Base Ball teams, both Seniors and Junior teams from the school, came up to try the spirit of the Eldorado Ball teams of the school.

To begin with we will says the visitors got a cool reception, not from the local fans, but the weather man was "putting on airs" Saturday which was very disagreeable to the rooters.

The Juniors were the first to entertain and at the end of the game the score stood 21 to 21. This reminded us of the old pool game 21 or "bust", both sides had a hard time making the 21 scores, but by a little rooting by Ollie B. Page, et al., for Rock Springs, they managed to make their 21.

The High's then locked horns, with Rock Springs leading out out from first inning with 8 but the home boys came in later and passed up the visitors, making a total of 21 scores, and holding the visitors down to 15, with the home boys another bat coming.

After the game the visitors were escorted to the Holland Hotel where pie, coffee and chocolate were served.

HUGHES SENDS NOTES TO ENGLAND, FRANCE, ITALY AND JAPAN.

Washington, April 6.—Secretary Hughes has sent a sharp note to the Allies, England, Japan, France and Italy, that this Government insists in sharing in the rights derived from the victory over Germany.

Dealing specifically with the mandate to Japan over the island of Yap, the note asserts that the mandate was approved without American assent and that the United States "can not recognize the allocation of the island or the validity of the mandate."

C. C. WEST SHIPPED OUT STEERS FROM BRADY.

C. C. West and son Carson returned home from Brady Saturday where they had fattened a lot of steers, shipping the last five cars out last week, the cattle did well in the feed pen and averaged about 1200 pounds on the market, but the market was dull, about $7.50 per hundred.

FRISCO TO EXTEND TO DEL RIO FROM MENARD.

A meeting has been called to meet at Brady May 5th for the purpose of extending the Frisco Road to Del Rio, and all towns are, who may be interested in this extension, requested to have a representative at this meeting.

The Success would suggest that Schleicher County have a strong representation at this meeting, as if the extension is made it will probably come within 15 or 20 miles Southeast of Eldorado and a nearby shipping station could be maintained for Eldorado. This would give our stock shippers a direct run to the Market, Fort Worth is pushing the extension of the Frisco, and now is the time for all towns which will be benefited by this extension to act.

SAVES AND BUYS HOME WITH SAVINGS STAMPS

"There is no place like your own home!" So thought one of the reporters of The Dallas Morning News. From this thought grew the desire to get ahead, to have a home. The picture shows the result. It also shows what Uncle Sam's $5 Savings Stamps and $25 Registered Treasury Savings Certificates, which bear good four per cent interest compounded quarterly at maturity, will do for anyone who wants to get ahead. War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates, bought at the postoffice every pay day, made it possible for this reporter to save and purchase this home, now worth twice the purchase price. "I could not have saved the money except for Uncle Sam and W. S. S.," he says. Thrift and Savings Stamps and $25, $100 and $1000 Registered Treasury Savings Certificates are readily obtainable at our postoffice here.

Friday April 15.

This may be April but it is March weather.

A man was here this week in the interest of pooling wool, but what this country wants to see is a wool buyer.

We had some frost Monday morning but as far as we can tell it did no damage to the fruit crop here.

Some people prefers to trade away from home even if they do have to pay more.

It takes co-operation to build up any community and any institution, so lets all get united and build up a bigger and better Eldorado.

If you didn't get enough pie Saturday it was because you did not have the price, the pies were there.

Sonora is being entertained with a Chautauqua this week, begins Friday and holds over Monday

The old darkey that is supposed to have buried the seal used by the Confederate States and Jefferson Davis, died Saturday without disclosing the secret.

The whereabouts of this seal will probably never be known.

The Success wishes to congratulate the pupils who made an effort to win in the Inter-scholastic League Work, if you entered (and finished the race) you won, even though you did not get first place, the effort was worth much to you, yea, the defeat was worth much to those who lost, we cannot win in every cause, but should enter each with a determination for success and in some measure you will win. So if you entered we congratulate you, for you have won over the one who failed to enter.

World unrest will end when we throw the jazz records in the ash can and start playing "Home, Sweet Home," again, "Jazz is the evil spirit of music," said Dr. Morton of Chicago. "It has unbalanced the mind of humanity. With home swallowed up in the cabaret, the great stabilizing influence of society is lost. Sweet music like 'Home, Sweet Home,' would lull the world back to sanity."

President Harding and his Republican Congress have gone to turning the mill, just what they will gring out is yet to be seen, but we'll wager our type "stick" it's not high price wool.

After reading the new President message, we failed to fine anything unusual about it, Thomas L. Blanton could have done as well.

Steve Murphy, of the Devil's River News, gives us the following re-production last week. "In a way getting married is a good deal like using the telephone. You don't always get the party you want."

The question that puzzles us is, how dose Steve know? When he has never adventured.

Just keep your overcoat out a little longer as you might need it again.

President Harding delivered his first message to Congress Tuesday, like Woodrow Wilson, he appeared in person to deliver his message to the joint session of Congress.

He said he would approve a "declaratory resolution of Congress with qualifications essential to protect all our rights which would end a technical state of war against the Central Powers of Europe." The President declared himself unreservedly against the League of Nations. He further recommends: No separate peace with Germany, "on the assumption alone that this would be adequate. The wiser course would seem to be to engage under the existing treaty, assuming this can be satisfactorily accomplished by such explicit reservations and modifications as will assure our absolute freedom on inadvisable commitments and safeguard all our essential interests. No helpful society of nations can be founded on justice and committed to peace until the covenants reestablishing peace are sealed by the nations which have been at war."

The President says he is ready when other nations disarm. He recommends a revision of the taxes by the reduction of expenditures, he also recommends an instant tariff enactment, emergency in character and understood by our people that it is for emergency only.

ABOUT BASE BALL.

The visitors were a nice lot of youngsters and made a good hit with the Eldorado folks. One of the most amusing things the editor witnessed was, "Jater" Bailey, an amateur Ball player, trying to take care of his $1,000 bat.

About the time Eagle Pass got through throwing stones at Governor Neff about his Ranger force at Eagle Pass, he pulled another "bone-head" and vetoed the West Texas A. & M. Bill, and the whole West from the Rio Grande to the Red River have a sling and five stones in search of the Goliath. We understand that Pot Hole City and Juno have declared for Claud Hudspeth for Governor.

If you want to keep up the price of cotton get the ladies to use more of the fleecy staple in making their close, add a little to each end of the garment, there must be a demand for clothes if the market holds up.

"Love thy neighbor as thyself," says the good book--and especially if she is young and beautiful, says "Uncle Steve."

The man that made the 1921 calander must have mixed up his months, here it is April 15, and we are still having March weather.

The producer must not be the only man broke, we notice the manufacturer is buying wool on a credit.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

I.—DELAWARE

TO DELETE TWARE falls the honor of being the first of the original thirteen states, December 7, 1787, it officially adopted the Constitution and thus was made a beginning of our present Federal government. According to the seventh article of the Constitution, however, it was necessary for nine states to ratify it before it actually came into force. So it was not until the following June, by which time eight other states had accepted the Constitution, that the United States of America actually came into being.

The early history of Delaware was a varied one. It started in 1639 when a small party of Swedes settled at the mouth of the Delaware river and called it New Sweden. In 1655, Peter Stuyvesant, the governor of the Dutch colony of New Netherlands, annexed this territory. But it did not long remain Dutch, for in 1684 the English took possession. When Pennsylvania was decided to the southeast and at his urgent request Delaware was transferred to Penn's proprietorship. From the beginning of the eighteenth century, however, Delaware had its separate legislature, and at the time of the Revolution it became an independent state.

Delaware is next to the smallest of our states, having an area of only 2,370 square miles. Its participation in presidential elections is limited to three electors. This is arranged according to population. Each state is entitled to the same number of presidential electors as it has members of congress, so the influence of the different states in voting for the President varies from Delaware's three electors to New York's 45.

As to the derivation of the name Delaware, this was appropriately given to the state from the river, which in turn was named after the bay and the bay was called Delaware in honor of Lord Delaware, who was governor of the Virginia colony in 1610.

OKLAHOMA MAN

NOW ENDORSES IT.

Welch, Aged 66, Tells How Wonderfully Tanlac Built Him Up.

"The way Tanlac fixed me up two years ago is something I will always remember," said J. T. Welch, well-known retired business man of Fort Gibson, Okla. Mr. Welch has been a resident of Fort Gibson for twenty years, was town marshal at one time and is one of the most prominent citizens of the city.

"I was not what one would call exactly sick, but am getting along in years and felt my usual good health and strength slipping away. My appetite failed and even what little I did eat seemed to do me no good. I suffered from a sluggish liver and constipation, became very weak and nervous; in fact was so weak I couldn't walk a few steps, especially upstairs, without giving out completely. My condition seemed to get worse and I became greatly disturbed about my poor state of health.

"In looking around to find something to set me right I got hold of Tanlac and it struck the spot exactly. My appetite picked up almost from the start, and in a little while my strength and energy came back to me and I was feeling fine. Since then I've been in good shape, and now I can run up the stairway if necessary and it doesn't tire me, either. I don't at all mind walking all day, for I feel good and can enjoy it. I'm in good condition in every way and am glad to say a good word for Tanlac." Tanlac is sold in Eldorado by L. M. Hoover. (Adv.)

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE II.—PENNSYLVANIA

THE second state to adopt the Constitution was Pennsylvania. Its area of 45,126 square miles is larger than the combined New England states, except Maine, with New Jersey thrown in for good measure. Its name means "Penn's Woodland" and was so named by King Charles II, who granted this territory to the Quaker, William Penn, and named it in commemoration of Penn's father, who had been a distinguished admiral and on terms of peculiar friendship and intimacy with the royal family. This grant was made in lieu of £16,000, which the king owed Ad miral Penn. On this basis it originally cost about $2 a square mile.

Pennsylvania has assumed such an important place among the states that it is often called the Keystone state. This term was probably derived originally because her name was carved on the keystone of the bridge over Rock creek, between Wash ington and Georgetown. Later on it was applied on account of the great importance of the state in national elections. Its delega tion to congress totals 33, sec ond only in size to that from New York, and Pennsylvania accordingly has 33 presidential electors.

William Penn first came over to America in 1682. The follow ing year he laid out the city of Philadelphia, or "Brotherly Love," which was named after a biblical city in Asia Minor. As Pennsylvania was the only col ony without a seacoast, Penn obtained from the duke of York the control of Delaware, and until the Revolution these two provinces were under the same proprietary government. Quarrels with Maryland over bound aries caused a formal survey to be made by two surveyors, Mason and Dixon, and it was this which became famous dur ing the Civil war as the Mason and Dixon line, the dividing mark between the slave and the free states. When the San Antonio, Rock springs & Western Railroad get under construction and builds into Eldorado things will be on move, all the different railroads are headed for this great section of country that is practically yet undeveloped, but we are going to give our cream, (what the Orient didn't get) to the first one that will put up operation.

It pays to read advertisements as well as it does to advertise, in reading the Brady Standard this week we came across this ad, "for sale some bee gums" A. D. Wright. We at once ordered a supply, and of course will take our own good time to pay for same thus we consider it was worth 5 bee gums to read that ad. But we'll let him tell how it pays to advertise.

Most people get what they go after." The reason for the fail ures is that they don't go after everything. In nearly every case, the spirit back of a man's efforts is reflected in the results he obtains. And none of us are able to judge the success of our fellowmen. Possibly this one or that one may not seem to us to have achieved very great suc cess, but his humble station may be the station he went after. Perhaps he realizes that there he can gain the greatest happi ness for himself, and be of the greatest good to others.

Our friend Jeff Enochs who has made good in the farming business has sold his farm and moved to town, has entered a public business and a public life; and the public has a right to talk some and we expect he will hear from some one.

The trouble with us is, how we are going to find out just how much abuse the new proprietor of our water works will stand.

Uncle Walt's Story

MATCHMAKING

"NOW that Miss Favorite is coming to spend a few days with us, I think I'll invite Charles Augustus Terwilliger to dinner," said Mrs. Jamesworthy. "I have always thought they were intended for each other, and they should be better acquainted."

"I never could understand why married women are always matching up the young people of their acquaintance," remarked Jamesworthy. "Most wives insist—at least to their husbands—that matrimony is a pronounced failure."

Every time you see an old maid you turn green with envy, and you have told me a million times that a woman sacrifices her liberty and independence the minute she inveigles a man to the altar, and vows to love, cherish and protect him. You have said in my presence that the spinster is the only woman who is her own boss.

"It doesn't take the ingenuity of a Sherlock Holmes to deduce from your remarks that you consider matrimony a total loss. Why, then, Mrs. Jamesworthy, are you forever trying to beguile your friends into that condition of misery? Of course, you can't explain; neither can any woman explain. Matchmaking just comes natural to all of you."

"When I am looking for all kinds of plain and fancy trouble, I'll begin matching up the young men and women of my acquaintance. But not until I am suffering for an invoice of grief, I might persuade my friends to invest in a western silver mine, or buy patent rights in a revolving churn, but you'll never see Elijah Jamesworthy boosting matrimony in your indiscriminate way. If two young people got married through your ring generalship, and they found that each had drawn a gold brick, they would hate you as long as they lived, and would always speak of you as an old busybody with a nose too long for legitimate purposes, and they'd make faces at you whenever you met them on the street."

"Do you ever think of your responsibility when you try to boom the orange blossom market? Does it ever occur to you, at such times, that you are pushing in where angels fear to tread?"

"Now, just consider Sarah Jane Favorite and Charles Augustus Terwilliger, who will be railroaded to the altar if you have your way. I admit that they make a handsome pair. Sarah is a blonde with a pug nose, and Charles Augustus is a brunette with a nose like a Roman senator. They afford a pleasing contrast. But appearances count for little, Mrs. Jamesworthy, when the real business of married life begins."

"Sarah has basked in the lap of luxury all her days, and she has the idea that money grows on vines like cucumbers. I don't suppose she ever knew what it means to need fifty cents a dollar. When she wants anything she goes to the store and gets it, and it's charged to her father. If there's one word in the dictionary she isn't familiar with, that word is retrenchment."

"Charles Augustus on the other hand, had hard studding all through his boyhood. As a result of his experience he has an exaggerated idea of the value of a kopeck. He is the sort of man who will walk eight miles through a thunderstorm rather than cough up carfare. Whenever he parts with a nickel he has to take a bromo-seltzer to steady his nerves. His reverence for money increases every day, and it will keep on increasing as long as he lives."

"Yet you, Mrs. Jamesworthy, in your feeble-minded matchmaking enthusiasm, would use your vote and influence to join these two people in the holy bonds. Just take the advice of your swartbacked husband, and let such people work out their own destinies, and everybody concerned will be happier."

Takes Sall Behind Halibut.
Uncle George Butler of Ellsworth, Me., now in his eightieth year, hooked a halibut while fishing off Sisters Ledge, and casting off his anchor rope, which he had fastened with a toggle, he enjoyed a sall about the bay, with the halibut for power. After a while the halibut got tired and Uncle George hauled it in. It weighed 200 pounds.

Ancient Perfume.
It seems strange to us today to read of saffron as a perfume; one of the romances about it lies in the story by Hakluyt of a pilgrim smuggling, at the risk of his life, from the Levant a head of saffron in a hollow made in his staff.

THE FAILURE

He was a failure. Let's study his case;
He entered and then didn't finish the race.

Somebody passed him that he couldn't catch,
And so, in despair, he dropped out of the match—

Quit trying, and worried and heartsick and sore,
He decided that he wouldn't run any more.

He got a position and made a mistake—
As everyone living is certain to make

And so they discharged him.
But right there and then

He made up his mind he was doomed among men;
He put on his hat and went out the door,

Deciding that he wouldn't think any more.
He was a failure. And yet he possessed

That self-same equipment
God gives to the best:
It wasn't lack of two legs and two arms and a brain

That made all efforts seem useless and vain—
He failed not because he was really unfit,

But because he was always so ready to quit.
