MRS. SYLVIA PROSSER.

Mrs Sylvia Prosser, (nee Miss Sylvia Brooks) died at Brownsville Thursday night, April 21, at 11:00 o'clock after a few days illness, her father, R. L. Brooks, arrived at Brownsville about the time of his daughter's death.

Mrs. Prosser was born July 6, 1898, and would have been 23 next July, she was reared in Eldorado and graduated from our school in 1918, with honors; She then attended the Alamo Commercial and Business College of San Antonio, and after finishing her work there she secured a position and work for Mr. Marvin Evans of Pharr Texas, until April 1st, 1921, when she was married to Mr. A. Lee Prosser of Harlington, a worthy young Christian man, and secretary of the Vegetable Growers Association, April 1, 1921.

Sylvia, as she is known here was not a member of any church, but her friends testify to her Christian character, and cherish the hope that she rested safely upon the atonement of Jesus Christ. Her cheerful, beautiful, helpful life; her devotion as wife and daughter; her kindness to everybody, will long linger as a fragrant memory in the home which her presence brightened and which death has now darkened. Though she is gone her record has been made, and will remain with you a lasting treasure.

The remains reached Eldorado Saturday night, accompanied by her husband and father and was placed in the home until Sunday afternoon and many of her friends and friends of the family called to pay their last respect to their departed friend. Those who attended the funeral from San Antonio were, Mr. and Mrs. L. Lohrberg, Mrs. Sadie Schirmer and Lee Brooks and wife, Mrs. Merel Rodgers, of Eagle Pass was unable to attend the funeral on account of illness.

Rev. F. G. Clark conducted the services and the body was laid to rest in the Eldorado Cemetery Sunday afternoon, the floral offering covered the newly made grave, the flowers, so typical of the life of her we mourn, mutely speak the pathos of a parting word, and are placed upon the grave by friends who loved the sweet sleeper. On these petals are tears for the parting, and hopes for the meeting beyond the gates.

She leaves a mother, father, sister, three brothers and her husband to mourn. The Success joins with the many friends in extending condolence to the bereft.

Mrs. Jim Willoughby and Mrs. Edward Willoughby of Sonora were guest of Mrs. John Allison the first of the week.—San Angelo Standard.

Mr. H. M. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Clark and family take this occasion to express their deepest appreciation of the numerous kindnesses shown to them by the people of Eldorado, during the recent illness of Mrs. Wheeler, we are glad to announce her rapid recovery.

It is Mr. Wheelers desire to pay all bills that may have been incurred, we should be pleased to have these presented as soon as convenient.

H. M. Wheeler,
Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Clark, and family.

ELDORADO SCHOOL TEAM DEFEATED BY SONORA.

Saturday the Eldorado School Base Ball Team went to Sonora where they played a game of ball, Eldorado getting defeated 22 to 3, the Eldorado team was short three of their best players and will probably give the Sonora boys a better game when they come up here.

JONES-LASSETER.

Sunday morning Mr. Thurman Jones and Miss Irene Lasseter motored to the Methodist Parsonage where they were united in marriage by Rev. Clark.

The happy young couple left immediately after the ceremony for Melvin Texas, where they will make their home. They at one time lived at Kaffir, in this County.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jones now of Melvin Texas, and has many friends in this county.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lasseter, formerly of Kaffir, this county, but now of Abilene, she was visiting her sister Mrs. Felix Miller of Kaffir and was met here by the groom.

The Success joins in extending congratulations to these popular young people from their many friends.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank the many friends who came to us in the dark hours of sad bereavement, you have shown by your words, and acts of kindness, that as far as you could you have, as best you could, helped us to bear our sorrow and grief. Words can not express our heartfelt thanks to you, and may God in his dealings with each of you be your comforter should trouble come to you.

Especially did we appreciate the beautiful floral offering you placed on the grave of our daughter and wife. Accept the words as our appreciations and thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brooks and Children,
And husband, A. Lee Prosser.

Did you read the Amendments published last week, to be voted on, on the last Saturday in July, if not, read them this week and get posted, the people have a custom of voting down amendments regardless of what they are for, don't do that this time, study the issue out for your selves before casting your vote. The Success would like to see each of the Amendments submitted carry, and we must see that the one providing for our Confederate War Veterans goes over with a handsome majority.

Friday April 29.

Well, anyway it didn't frost April 27, you thunder people in February please take notice.

What has become of that oil well, has the blubber bursted from the gas.

Carl Reagan and V. G. Tisdale wouldn't give us one sheep, but we understand sent several car loads to Fort Worth.

This is one year The Success is in favor of having a big barbecue, we are overstocked on fat sheep and carted and no market. Let's eat 'em up.

The Tom Green County road this side of Christoval is getting in a bad condition according to those traveling it, they have quit working the old road and have never opened up the new one.

When the Brady Standard, Brownwood Bulletin and San Saba News get through with the Division of Texas, we will still be in the land of the Golden West.

Don't grouch around so much because business doesn't start to boom like a gold strike. Even a locomotive doesn't start off at full steam. Changes that come gradually are more often the kind that come to stay.

It is going to be hard on those merchants who are not getting into the band wagon and taking their inventory losses with the rest of their fellow merchants. Misery loves company, and they will have a lot more fun taking their losses when every one else is doing the same, than if they wait and take them "all by their lonesome."

The ranchman, the farmer and the laborer seem to be riding on the same band wagon.

Some months ago a woman came to Eldorado, with her baby, in search of a "war husband" who had up until a few days of her coming worked near here, but left for San Angelo a few days prior to her coming. The young woman with the babe went back to San Angelo, and we understand gave her babe away, she fell into temptation and pit-falls of the unfortunate, and at last became a prisoner in the Schleicher County jail, here compassion was had, the good Samaritan appeared, the big hearted ranchman, whom she wronged, upon her confession and restoration as far as possible, declined to make complaint. Eldorado made up the necessary money to return her to her home and whether she goes or not we have done that which is pleasing to us and to God. The jail door was opened and the little woman went free. The man, the father of her babe, is no doubt enjoying a blifful, butterfly life, and at the same time drinking damnation to his soul.

We can't compliment our school team that went to Sonora on extra good playing, but we can hand them a bouquet on not using any curse words during the game, this was excellent, and speaks well for the boys.

NOTICE.

HARDLY EVER FELT FIT, SAYS THOMAS

After Suffering 21 Years Tanlac Put Him In Splendid Health, Gains 18 Pounds.

"Thanks to tanlac, I am now in splendid health after twenty-one years of suffering and am eighteen pounds heavier than I ever was before," declared John W. Thomas, the well-known proprietor of Thomas' Meat Market and Grocery Store, located on Chestnut St., Fort Gibson, Okla.

"If over a man went through the rubbers, I did," said Mr. Thomas. "After a meal I would hardly get up from the table before my food soured, I bloated up with gas and began to feel miserable. My nerves were shattered and I would roll and toss all through the night and get up with a sick stomach and a weak, tired out feeling. I had no appetite to speak of, and fell off in weight until I was almost a living skeleton and hardly felt fit for anything. No medicine I could find seemed to reach my troubles, and my condition went from bad to worse until I became seriously alarmed.

"Last year I started on Tanlac and before I had finished the first bottle my appetite picked up and I began to take on new life and energy. I kept right on with my Tanlac and now I am like a man made over. My appetite has come back in full force and what I eat agrees with me perfectly. I sleep like a boy and get up mornings feeling just fine. My friends all say they never saw anything to equal the way I have recovered my health. It's all due to Tanlac, and I will verify this statement personally to anyone who doubts it."

Tanlac is sold in Eldorado by L. M. Hoover (Adv.)

DOMINANT WOMAN

"THERE'S much truth in the old saying that a bachelor is merely half a man," observed the professor. "I suppose you are trying to take it all out of me because I don't get married," said the low-browed man. "It may be true that a bachelor is only a half a man, but when he accumulates a wife, he's usually only a quarter of a man or maybe one eighth. The more I see of married men, the more thankful I am that I have never loomed up at the altar with an orange wreath on my head.

"Old Doolittle has been married a long time, and he's got so used to being bossed by his wife that he doesn't know what to do when she isn't around. If you offered to lend him $5 he'd say he'd have to consult Eliza Jane about it. One time, when his wife was away, visiting, he ate about a peck of green cucumbers, and the colic shut him up like a folding bed. It was the worst case I ever saw. I heard him yelling for the police, and when I rushed over there and saw him on the floor, with his feet clasped across the back of his neck, I phoned for a doctor at once. We put him to bed, and the agony that man endured was sickening. And as he rolled around there, expecting to go off the hooks every minute, he kept saying, 'What will Eliza Jane say when she hears I called in a doctor?'"

"After his wife came back, I was over at their house one night, and she roasted me to a crisp for sending for a doctor. She said that if I had the first instincts of a gentleman I'd pay the bill, for I wasn't authorized to call in a sawbones, and she didn't want one in the house. Doolittle sat there and heard his wife roasting me until my whiskers curled and, although he knew the doctor saved his life, he never said a word.

"After I left the house, he sneaked out and overtook me, and told me he was sorry for what had happened, but experience had taught him that it's no use to but in when his wife has the floor.

"Gooseworthy came over this morning while I was feeding the cows, and told me a tale of woe. His wife has about five hundred female relations, aunts and stepsisters and cousins and such people, and she keeps the house full of them all the time. He has to sleep on a sanitary couch in the hall, while his own feather bed is occupied by an aunt who weighs about 400 pounds. He has a comfortable rocking chair he bought for his own private use, and now he never gets a whack at it. His wife's step-sister, who brought her tortoise-shell cat along, is always using it. He said he was getting plumb disgusted with such a condition of affairs, but he didn't know what to do.

"I asked him why he didn't read the authorized version of the riot act to his wife, and tell her to ship all those relatives out of the house. He seemed shocked at the suggestion. 'You don't know what you're talking about,' he said. 'You've never been married.'

"The queer thing about it is that Gooseworthy is a great stickler for his rights when he's away from home. He's as sassy as a bobcat, and will fight at the drop of the hat if anybody tries to impose on him. He walks with his head back and his chest out in front of him, but as soon as he reaches his own front gate he begins to look so blamed abject that the neighbors pity him.

"Then, there's old Major Sendoff, who distinguished himself on many a crimson battlefield. He has courage enough for three regiments. But he married the Widow Bankum a couple of years ago and she makes him do the family washing, and hang the clothes on the line, and I suppose he does the ironing, too. I could tell you of a hundred such cases."

"I suppose you could," sighed the professor, "but I don't care for sensational fiction."

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
V.—CONNECTICUT

CONNECTICUT stands unique as probably the first state which was created in the world by a written constitution. It was really an offshoot from Massachusetts, for in 1636 there was dissatisfaction over the form of government among the Puritans in Cambridge, Watertown and Dorchester, the three towns surrounding Boston. A large part of these three towns, therefore, decided to journey to the Connecticut valley, as they had heard that there was to be found excellent farm land, and the Dutch from New Netherlands had been forced out the previous year by the erection by the English of a fort at Saybrook at the mouth of the river. The Cambridge people, under the leadership of their pastor, Hooker, founded Hartford, the Dorchester people settled Windsor, and those from Watertown established Wethersfield. For a few years they remained a part of Massachusetts, but early in 1639 the people of these three towns met and drew up a written constitution and agreed to govern themselves. Meanwhile, in 1638, a large company of colonists under the leadership of John Davenport arrived from England and settled the town of New Haven, later spreading to Milford and Stamford. These two distinct colonies were later united and took the name of Connecticut from its principal river. This is an Algonquin Indian name meaning "long river." It became the fifth state to join the Union when it adopted the Constitution on January 9, 1788. It is sometimes called the Land of Steady Habits, but is more popularly known as the Nutmeg state from the humorous accusation that its peddlers were accustomed to palm off wooden nutmegs to their customers. The area of Connecticut is 4,965 square miles, the third smallest of our states. Its population, however, entitles it to seven electoral votes for president.

VI.—MASSACHUSETTS

MASSACHUSETTS was an Indian word, massa-wachusset, which means "at the great hill." It was used by the Algonquins to designate the tribe living near Blue Hill in Milton, now a state reservation near Boston and the highest hill in the eastern part of the state. This name was later applied to the great bay which Blue Hill overlooks. It was from this bay that the state was named. In fact, until 1692 the colony was called the Massachusetts Bay colony, and after that the Province of Massachusetts Bay until the Revolution made it a commonwealth. Even today it is often called the Bay state. It was Capt. John Smith who first made a map of the New England coast and named the Charles river in honor of "Baby Charles," who afterward became King Charles I. Other captains visited the coast from time to time, but it was not until the fall of 1620 that the Mayflower brought the first permanent settlers to the Massachusetts shore. The landing of the Pilgrims at Provincetown and Plymouth three hundred years ago was recently celebrated. Of the original one hundred passengers on the Mayflower more than half died during the first winter. But the sturdy survivors, with indomitable courage, soon became firmly established and from their beginning, augmented by the Puritan settlements of Salem and the towns around Boston, grew the state of Massachusetts, which now extends over 8,238 square miles. In proportion to its area Massachusetts is second only to Rhode Island in population and has eighteen presidential electoral votes. This makes Massachusetts one of the six most important states from a political point of view.
