PARTY FROM CROSSPLAINS IDENTIFY CAR.

Monday, Dr. Tyson of Crossplains and his son-in-law, Mr. Williams, also of Crossplains, were here to claim the car recently sold Frank Bradley by John Baucom of Christoval, who had purchased the car from Drew Garrett of Ranger, but formerly of San Saba, Mr. Williams owner of the Ford car, made such an accurate description of it that the car was declared his by Sheriff Luedecke and Duckworth, and the car was restored to its rightful owner. The engine number had been changed, the tool box taken off and a small pipe taken off from underneath the car, was the only efforts made to change the identity of the car.

Mr. Bacom is making good the price he received for the car and in turn is trying to get recourse on the parties he purchased from, several arrests have been made and something like 24 cars in West Texas are held for identification, the headquarters for the thieves seems to be at Ranger.

LOHMAN-BROWN.

A pretty tho' simple home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown Monday morning August 1, 1921, when Mr. Lewis Lohman and Miss Ola K. Brown were united in the holy bonds of wedlock, Rev. G. E. Kemp pastor of the Methodist church officiating.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Sudie Wier, Miss Eda Brown and John Saunders entered as maid of honor and best man. They were followed by Master Joe Speer Brown carrying the wedding ring in the heart of a pink rose, and little Miss Lillian Cage and Hazel Lindeman dressed in airy pink and white organdie, carrying pretty baskets and strewing pink and white rose petals for the bride and groom.

The wedding party stopped in front of a bank fern and pink roses, where the happy couple were made husband and wife, while soft music was rendered by Miss Wier.

The bride was dressed in a suit of navy blue with accessories to match and carried a lovely bouquet of pink roses and fern. The groom was dressed in the conventional black.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown and well known here this having always been her home. She is a graduate of our school making good records and had been a successful teacher in Kingsville the past two years.

She is popular with the young people and has many friends to wish her all happiness.

Mr. Lohman is a successful young business man of Kingsville and holds the highest esteem of his many friends.

Miss Francis Alexander was successful in catching the brides bouquet.

Amid a shower of rice and good wishes the happy couple left immediately after the ceremony for San Antonio and Corpus on a short honeymoon and then to Kingsville to make their home.—Blanco Courier.

BIG PRAIRIE FIRE BURNS ABOUT 15 SECTIONS.

One of the most destructive prairie fires that burned in Schleicher County in several years, broke out Monday morning in the Reynolds pasture 12 miles west of town, and before the flames could be checked had burned about 10,000 acres of grass. Some on the Reynolds, Davis, Bell and Ramsel ranches.

The fire was supposed to have started from a sheep camp. People who help to fight the flames said the only thing that prevented the whole country between Eldorado and Mertzon from burning was the calmness of the weather. The grass in some places was almost knee high and excellent every where.

Ralph Murphy was up from Christoval Monday on business.

We learn that other sections of the State is as dry and hot as we are, yet that gives us no relief.

Did you every see a thoughtly ignorant man who admitted his ignorance. And haven't you seen plenty of wise men who will admit theirs.

A good article, a good advertisement, and plenty of stick-to-tiveness are a combination that always will win.

We have no objection to the ladies wearing trousers, provided they fit well.

We thought we saw a man get out of a car, but we didn't, it was only a man's trousers.

The last government report on cotton situation estimates a great shortage in this years crop, the people of Schelicher county did not need any such information the present drought is sufficient evidence.

The new highway No. 4, is bringing lots of travelers through Eldorado, for there is hardly a day passes but that there is from one to four cars stop to inquire the way to San Antonio Ozona or Sonora, No. 4 highway is becoming known.

Recently the treasury department offered $300,000,000 worth of shortterm certificates of indebtedness bearing 5 1-4 and 5 1-2 per cent interest, according to maturity date.

They have been oversubscribed more than 200 per cent, the total subscription being about a billion dollars.

This proves three things—that there are still a lot of people who aren't broke, that they have unlimited confidence in Uncle Sam's financial integrity, and that as long as taxes stay where they are rich men will not use their money to develop the country but will hide it in tax exempt securities.—San Angelo Standard.

It has always been that the average people paid the taxes.

There's two kinds of discontent in this world, the discontent that works and the discontent that wrings its hands. The first get what it wants and the second losses what it has. There's no cure for the first but success, and there's no cure at all for the second.—Gorgon Graham.

"A man's reach should expect his grasp, else what's a hand for." When he wrote these lines Browning knew the emptiness and dissatisfaction of a life that has achieved its goal too early.

We presume the people over at San Angelo know by this time that friend Kellis is a real live wire in this Representative district.

Well the legislature is about to adjourn and what have they accomplished.

A few weeks ago a man came through the country buying ranches and cattle in large quantities, but the checks he gave for said were no good, consequently the men who sold to him only had a good feeling for a few days the buyer later called up from Harper and said if the authorities wanted him he was in that country.

PROFITS BY WHAT HER MOTHER DID

Little Rock Woman Induced To Take Tanlac Throughgo Parent's Restoration.

"Tanlac restored my mother's health so perfectly that I began taking it, too, and just two bottles have helped me wonderlully, said Mrs. Goldia Bird, 316 1-2 E. Markham St., Little Rock, Ark.

"A shrot time ago I seemed to have a genral break down," she continued. "My stomach became so disordered that nothing tasted good and I just didn't won't to eat a thing. I fell off in weight and became weak and rundown. My complexion was pale and sallow and my back ached so I could hardly lift my baby. I took little orno intrest in anything and was going from bad to worst. "But I think Tanlac is just wonderfully to have helped me so in such a short time. I have only finished my second bottle but already I feel like a different person. I enjoy what I eat and am gaining in weight. The pains have about all gone from my back and I have been built up so I feel better and stronger in every way. I have nothing but the highest praise for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Eldorado by L. M. Hoover. (Adv.)

THE DESIRABLE HUSBAND

"JEMIMA BINSWANGER was ir luck when she captured Tobias Todmarsh," observed the druggist "Tobe will make a perfect husband or I miss my guess. He has no bad habits, and he is a moneymaker, with out being a tight wad. She will be able to bask in the lap of luxury the rest of her days."

"Of course that ought to make her happy," commented the village patriarch, "but I doubt whether it will. I have heard a lot of people speak of the marriage of these two, and they all take the same view; Tobe is a good citizen and a moneymaker, and consequently he ought to be a first-class husband. Some of the citizens who talk this way are venerable married men, and they ought to know better."

"Of course a woman likes to have plenty of money, and unlimited credit at the stores, but the man isn't properly educated who assumes that she will be satisfied with that. I am not the official forecaster, and I haven't my goosebone with me, but I venture to predict that the marriage will be a dismal failure. Tobias, with all his excellent qualities, is the most close-mouthed man in town, and if he ever had an emotion he probably took it for a chill, and began doting himself with quinine. There's as much sentiment in a concrete hitching post as there is in that man."

"Jemima, on the other hand, fairly slops over with sentiment. She's a languishing sort of girl, who looks upon herself as a vine, and will want her husband to be a sturdy oak, so she can wind herself around him, as it were. She will expect Tobias to tell her, four thousand times a day, how much he loves her; and every time he takes a chair she will climb on his knees and push her topknot into his face, and expect him to assure her in burning language that he simply couldn't live five minutes without her."

"When that sort of a girl gets the right husband, my friends, she is an excellent wife. She would make any sacrifice for him. She wouldn't care a picaune about the size of his bank account. She'd be perfectly willing to live under a bridge with him, and wear a burlap gown, if he'd only keep on telling her that she is the entire solar system where he is concerned. It is a tragic fact that this sort of girl seldom does get the man she ought to have. She should splice up with a half-baked poet, or a hungry artist with long hair, but there is much irony in human lives and destinies, and so she usually marries a man who is strong on mathematics and short on sentiment."

"That's the mistake Jemima is making. Why does she marry such a hard-headed individual as Tobias? Because, like all her kind, she is a dreamer of dreams, and she has given him attributes which don't belong to him. She has framed up a character for him and it isn't a bit like the real goods. When she has been married a little while she will see that her blueprints and specifications were all wrong, and the disappointment will make an old woman of her, and her temper will become warped and she'll be so disagreeable in every way that her husband will spend most of his time thinking up excuses for staying away from home."

"That's the way with a sentimental girl; if she happens to marry a man who appreciates the poetry of her nature, she is the best thing that ever happened. She looks young when she is seventy years old, and her whole career is one long basket picnic. But if she marries the wrong man, which she does in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, she loses her grip as soon as she finds that her dreams were all moonshine, and then she develops into a shrew."

"Why does Tobias marry Jemima? That's the real problem. He's so clear-sighted in most things he should be able to see that she isn't the wife he needs, but men have blind staggers when they think they are in love."

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XXVIII.—TEXAS

The ill-fated expedition of Navarez was responsible for the first interest in Texas. This large expedition was wrecked at the mouth of the Mississippi in 1528. Four members including Cabeza de Vaca were captured by the Indians and spent eight years wandering through the country eventually reaching the Gulf of California. It was their accounts of rich Indian villages which led the Mexican governor to send Coronado to explore this country. He returned after a two-years' trip without discovering the reputed riches which he was seeking.

To counteract the aggressions of the French settlements in Louisiana, the Spanish established many missions throughout Texas, the most important being at San Antonio. When the United States negotiated the Louisiana Purchase from France they considered that Texas was a part of this territory. Over this question war was nearly precipitated but finally the United States withdrew their claims in exchange for Spain's withdrawal of claims to the Oregon region.

Many Americans began to settle in Texas, among them General Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin. Mexico became alarmed at this rapid increase of American pioneers which threatened to crowd out the Mexican population. Oppressive measures were adopted and caused the Americans to rise in rebellion in 1836. During this uprising occurred the gallant defense of the Alamo by a handful of Americans and their slaughter by the vastly superior numbers of the Mexicans. "Remember the Alamo," became the Texans' slogan. General Houston decisively defeated the Mexican forces at the battle of San Jacinto and the Republic of Texas was launched with Houston as president. The flag contained one star, and from this has come the name the Lone Star State. After considerable opposition from the North, Texas was annexed to the Union and became the twenty-eighth state.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XXVII.—FLORIDA

FLORIDA was considered America's first health resort. It was the search for a mythical Fountain of Perpetual Youth that led Ponce de Leon, the Spanish explorer, to land near the present site of St. Augustine. His rediscovery of Florida in 1513 was on Easter Sunday, hence the name, which is from Pascua Florida or Flowery Passover, which is the Spanish for Easter Sunday.

The French were the next settlers, founding a colony on the St. John's river. Spain promptly took action to maintain her ownership of this region and sent over an expedition which erected a fort under the leadership of Menendez at St. Augustine in 1565 and exterminated the Huguenot colony. St. Augustine is the oldest city in the United States. There followed a period of hostility between the English colonists in the Carolinas and the Spanish in Florida. By the treaty of 1763 Spain ceded Florida to England in exchange for Havana, which England had captured a few years previous. It remained an English colony until the last years of the Revolution when Spain recaptured it.

There were two provinces, East and West Florida. As the Spanish ruled Florida with a very loose form of government, this region became the refuge of pirates, smugglers and lawless characters. Such an element together with the unruly Seminole Indians naturally caused a great deal of trouble. To overcome this, President Monroe purchased Florida from Spain in 1819 for $5,000,000 or about eleven cents an acre. It was organized into a territory and in 1845 was admitted to the Union.

Florida is sometimes called the Everglade State on account of the vast swamp-land in its southern part. It is also known as the Peninsula State and is the southernmost State of the Union. Its area is 58,860 square miles.
