Mixed Weather Causes Grass Fires

Mixed weather was the problem in Schleicher county Monday afternoon with heavy clouds, sharp lightning flashes, which touched off grass fires in many areas.

The first fire alarm in Eldorado was at 3:00 p.m., when they were called out to the S. D. Harper ranch some 18 miles out on the Mertzson road.

Another alarm soon followed and they were called to the R. L. Henderson ranch on the Divide. From then on, Eldorado firemen hardly got a chance to rest until after 9:00 p.m.

They went from one fire to another as blazes were reported on the Eldorado-Mertzson highway. One was on the Dick Preston place and another on Williams.

Still later Menard firemen helped put out a fire on Oran Enoch's place.

Assisting the local firemen were units from San Angelo, Ozona, Sonora, Mertzson, Big Lake and Christoval. One fire in the Huldale area reflash later in the evening and local firemen were called back.

Krueger Cites Need For Screwworm Control

Following the recent report of screwworm cases cited in the Texas Hill Country and parts of Southwest Texas, Bob Krueger, Democratic nominee for U. S. Congress, announced his support early this week (Monday, July 29) for "an active and vital screwworm eradication program that helps protect our ranchers' valuable investment."

Krueger's remarks on the tick-caused screwworm infestation were delivered (on Monday) to a group of agricultural supporters in his hometown of New Braunfels. Krueger is an independent businessman and rancher who entered politics for the first time when he bested five opponents to win the Democratic nomination in his campaign to succeed retiring U. S. Rep. O. C. Fisher.

"The hard work of men like Gov. Dolph Briscoe paved the way for an effective screwworm eradication program in 1962," Krueger pointed out, adding, "But our current Republican administration curtailed the funds for this valuable program two years ago."

In the fall of 1973, a heavy infestation of Gulf Coast ticks in South Texas predisposed many animals for screwworm infestation.

"And now cases are being reported in the Hill Country as the screwworms continue their seasonal northward migration," explained the rancher and Democratic candidate.

LIONS HAVE BUSINESS SESSION

Post Script

On Thursday night, July 25, I made another trip to Cecil's Country Store in Reynolds.

(Any reports I pick up on these visits appear a week later in this paper which will be Thursday, Aug. 1st.)

Well, anyway, on this trip I learned that Cecil had spent only one week at home, but on Saturday July 20 he had had a bad night and Gertrude had entered him again in San Angelo in St. John's hospital.

Now she reported that he was raring to come home again, and that he hoped to make it by Saturday, July 27.

On my visit there Thursday I bought a bag-full of new Irish potatoes, and was waited on by Gertrude and her 12-year-old granddaughter, Cindy Atchley, who is just as friendly and attractive as ever. She expects to remain and help her grandmother until school starts in Odessa.

As a news item, Gertrude reported that Mrs. W. J. Davis and Ray of Abilene were week-end visitors.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT
Mrs. Susie (Bob) Faught has been having extra good success with her garden this year, and Monday she pulled a cantaloupe which she believed was a prize. She carried it to the house and weighed it and it came out FIVE POUNDS!

In addition she had a cluster of three large ripe tomatoes which came to 4½ pounds.

News of building:
Dan McWhorter's new house has been framed up and partly closed in on the northwest edge of town. The remodeling of the Presbyterian church is continuing. New front doors were installed recently and new windows are to arrive in the near future.

The old garage near the sheriff's house and jail has been torn down. The county has had plans drawn for a new garage and will call for bids before long.

Caliche pads have been laid and utility line work has continued on the new mobile home park in the east part of town. It is being set up by Milton Jones of Sonora.

First-time visitors to the Schleicher County courthouse often wandered around before finding a certain office. Now a new directory for the building has been installed in the hall of the first floor. It indicates offices and their occupants on all three floors. Lettering is on a black background and the frame is aluminum. It is a distinctive and helpful addition to the Court House.

Mona Beth Wagoner's new address is 204 S. Edison in Fredericksburg.

Scattered Rains Fall

While grass fires were going on Monday, some isolated spots actually did get some rain—one-half inch for Victor Kent in Bailey Ranch.

Modell Tisdale got two inches and Carrol White ranch got 1½.

Tuesday morning brought heavy clouds and occasional sprinkles—and cooler weather. By Tuesday afternoon a slow steady rain was falling on Eldorado, giving hope that the long dry spell may be easing; but much moisture is still needed.

Gonzales In Hospital Following Shooting

Walter Gonzales, 45, was in San Angelo's Shannon hospital early this week after suffering gunshot wounds around 11:00 p.m. Sunday here in Eldorado. Gonzales is proprietor of the Java Junction Cafe. The local sheriff's department was investigating.

List Of Stock Sprayers Is Being Compiled By Sheriff's Department

With the continued dry spell and high cover on rangelands posing a fire hazard, the Sheriff's Department is revising their list of stock sprayers on Schleicher County ranches.

They ask that all ranchers having sprayers available for use please call their office and list them. They stated that the sprayers are a big help to firemen when they are called out to a range fire.

PAR-TEE

Due to the extended drought, the course is closing at 8:00 p.m. in order to water the fairways and greens.

Thursday at noon we had a nice surprise. Agnes Hanes from Uvalde called to chat. Jack was in New York on business. They were wondering when any Eldorado golfers were coming to see them.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Paul Page Jr. and Ray Lewis Ballew as new members of the Eldorado Golf Club. We hope to see them out often.

On Saturday morning, July 27, 19 men showed up to work, and believe me they all put in several hours of hard work.

In the afternoon we had a special play and 6 foursomes were entered.

Winning first place with 4 under par was the team of John Pitts, Arch Mittel, Mike Nikolauk, and Lum Burk after a play-off on the cards over the team of Carroll Ratliff, Billy Donaldson, Ben Hext, Jerrold Sanders.

Winning third place was Delbert Taylor, Ernestine Hext, Mike Rieken, John Cheatham.

At 7:00 p.m. we all enjoyed a barbecued chicken supper cooked by A. G. McCormack and Weatherly Kinsler. Those two guys are really good cooks and everyone enjoys their barbecue. Many thanks to them for donating their time for our pleasure; 59 members attended.

Sunday afternoon was regular mixed foursome and 26 players turned out.

Winning first place was the team of Vernon Rogers, Ronnie Sauer, Juanita Taylor and Sandy Donaldson with 3 under par.

Winning second place was the team of John Nikolauk, Mike Nikolauk, Bill Rieken, Mike Rieken, and Karl McCormack. After a play off with the team of Delbert Taylor, Steve Whitten, Eddie Kinsler and Pete Peters.

This was two good days of golf and fellowship and was enjoyed by all.—Rep.

Gas Discovery In County

Pennsylvanian discovery has been assured in Schleicher county with the flowing of 78 barrels of 51.5 gravity condensate in an unreported time, plus gas at the rate of 1.45 million cubic feet daily, and gas-oil ratio of 18,315-1, at I. W. Lovelady, Midland, No. 1 Byars, in T. J. Allcorn No. 79½, one mile northeast of Huldale, 3/4 mile northwest of the Huldale (Pennsylvanian) field, but separated by depleted producer, and ½ mile south of the depleted 5650 Strawn opener of the Huldale, North field, but separated by a 5,702-foot failure.

Flow was through perforations at 5,470-90 feet. Operator was preparing to take four-point gauges.

Gas surfaced in 4½ minutes, flowing at the rate of 8 million cubic feet daily, and oil and mud in 25 minutes, no gauges, on a previously unreported drillstem test, time unreported, at 5,449-5,920 feet, using ¼-inch and 1/8 inch chokes. Recovery was five feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 256 feet of 40 gravity oil. Flowing pressure was 1,250-1,82 pounds; 60-minute initial shut-in pressure was 2,264 pounds and 120-minute final shut-in pressure, 2,254 pounds.

The Huldale, North opener, Wesley W. West No. 1 F. M. Thompson, was finished Sept. 22, 1963, for 81.78 barrels of 41 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 8,186-1, through a 10-64-inch choke and perforations at 5,649-652 feet. It became depleted in October, 1969.

Harlan Endorsed By American Cons. Union

The American Conservative Union, a national, non-partisan organization of some 75,000 members, has given its endorsement in Texas' 21st District Congressional race to Republican Doug Harlan.

Ronald B. Dear, executive director of the ACU, announced the endorsement in a letter to Harlan received Friday. Accompanying the letter was a check for $1,000 from the ACU-allied Conservative Victory Fund.

Literature on the Conservative Victory Fund states that it contributes money "only for conservative candidates for the House and Senate in both parties."

Dear noted in a phone conversation with Harlan staff that the ACU endorsed and contributed to incumbent Congressman Dale Milford, a Dallas Democrat, in his primary race.

"We have also worked closely in the past with Congressman (O. C.) Fisher," Dear said. Fisher is the retiring incumbent in District 21. "Our goal with the Conservative Victory Fund for 1974," Dear added, "is to stop big labor from gaining the 'veto proof' Congress the union bosses are aiming for."

Market Report

College Station, Tex.—Cost of "convenience" in convenience food has risen more than cost of the food itself, one expert said this week.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt cited use of completely prepared convenience foods as one of the reasons for higher food costs today.

The consumer marketing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said consumers can counter this trend with selective shopping.

"One way to shop selectively is to change from a higher cost grocery list to one with lower costs," she said.

"For example, on the higher cost list, consumers might include frozen carrots with sugar glaze, fresh whole milk, boneless ham and instant rice.

"Also, ready-to-eat cereal, ground chuck or round, a cut-up fryer and rolls."

Mrs. Clyatt said a similar list with lower costs, instead, would include home cooked carrots, non-fat dry milk, smoked picnic, regular rice, cooked cereal, ground beef, a whole fryer and bread.

Consumer Watchwords: "Impulse items" usually aren't a problem to informed shoppers.

These shopper know where to look for items on shopping lists—and won't be as readily attracted to the message of an impulse purchase.

Loafing Through Summer

As every mother knows, this is the season when children run in and out of the house all day every day. Usually their route takes them through the kitchen on a quest for food. Rather than spend your own time being a short order cook, why not teach the children to feed themselves?

Sandwiches are probably the staple of a child's daytime diet. By all means, encourage your children to make their own. The Spreadables meat salad sandwich spreads from Carnation are simple for even a small child to use. They come in three delicious varieties: ham salad, chicken salad and turkey salad.

To make sandwiches even more interesting, start with homemade bread. Kids love the chewy texture and rich, dark coloring of homemade pumpernickel. What they'd like best of all is helping Mother make it—and why not? They're home all day; so they can participate in every stage of the bread making.

First show them how to mix the ingredients and then how to knead the dough. When this is done, send them out to play while the bread rises. An hour or so later when it's ready to punch down and shape into balls, call the children in to help again. After the two dough balls are shaped and placed on cornmeal, the helpers can be excused while the pumpernickel rises a second time. Now let the children place the loaves in the oven.

When the bread comes out to cool, filling the kitchen with its delicious earthy aroma, you can bet the helpers will be clamoring to start making sandwiches with it. Hand them the fixings and stand back. This is the year you loaf through summer.

ing to start making sandwiches with it. Hand them the fixings and stand back. This is the year you loaf through summer.

Pumpernickel Bread

- 2 1/2 - 3 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1/3 cup cocoa
- 1 package active dry yeast
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 tablespoons caraway seeds
- 12 ounce can beer
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 2 cups unsifted rye flour
- 2 tablespoons cornmeal

Combine 1 cup all-purpose flour, cocoa, yeast, salt and caraway seeds in large bowl. Heat beer, molasses and shortening to very warm (120°-130°F.). Gradually pour into flour mixture while beating at low speed with upright or portable mixer. Scrape bowl. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1 cup all-purpose flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in rye flour and enough all-purpose flour to make soft dough. Turn onto floured board. Knead 10 minutes or until smooth and elastic, kneading in remaining flour as necessary to keep from sticking to board. Place in greased bowl, turn to grease top. Cover; let rise in a warm place free from draft until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down. Divide into two equal parts. Shape into balls. Sprinkle large baking sheet with cornmeal. Place dough balls on cornmeal. Cover; let rise in warm place until doubled, about 45 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 to 60 minutes or until done. Remove from pan and cool on wire rack.

Serve sliced homemade pumpernickel bread with canned ham, turkey or chicken salad sandwich spreads.

About Warranties And Guarantees

(by John L. Hill, Attorney General)

Austin, Tex.—A warranty, sometimes called a guarantee, is an assurance concerning the quality of something you buy. Since warranties are designed to protect consumers it's important to learn about and use them. There are two kinds of warranties, express and implied.

With an express warranty, the seller of merchandise actually gives assurances, by words or actions, about the quality of what you are buying. Here are some examples: —Description. Such specifications as size, model, and color, if stated, guarantee that the product will conform to the description. A sale form which states "left hand door" for a refrigerator warrants that the door will swing to the left. —Performance. Such claims as "free of defects," "uses no oil between changes," "will cool a room of 1800 cubic feet" are legally binding.

—Sample. A swatch of cloth or carpet from a bolt or roll creates a warranty that the merchandise purchased will be like the swatch. —Model. A miniature aluminum window or door used by a salesman for demonstration warrants that the real thing will be like the miniature. A demonstration model of anything creates a warranty that the one purchased will perform the same way.

Implied warranties, on the other hand, depend on law-created assurances of quality regardless of claims or actions on the part of the merchant. Here are some examples of implied warranties: —Appropriateness. If a consumer asks a hardware dealer for a product to strip paint from a chair, the law implies a warranty that the product sold will remove the paint.

—Merchantability. A merchant assures a consumer that goods are merchantable, that they work, and that they are "fit for their ordinary purposes." A car that won't steer or a kitchen stove that won't cook are examples of products that are not merchantable. —Who gives warranties? Sellers of goods are the main dispensers of express and implied warranties. In Texas, manufacturers also give implied warranties, and the law also creates an implied warranty from persons who provide services.

What are a consumer's legal remedies if warranties are not fulfilled? A warranty and a remedy for the breach (or violation) of a warranty are not the same. For example, the express warranty connected with a new toaster may be that it will be free of defects for one year. The remedy offered may be that it will be repaired or parts

WEST SIDE CHURCH OF CHRIST will have charge of the service this Sunday afternoon, Aug. 4th, at the local Nursing Home.

Young Men Must Still Register At Age 18

Young men are again reminded of their obligation to register with Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday. If for any reason a young man has failed to register he should do so immediately to escape the penalty of Federal law.

Failure to register may result in a fine, imprisonment, or both, under provisions of the current Selective Service law.

A young man may go to Mrs. Helen Carlman in the Courthouse who is the volunteer Registrar for the Eldorado area. She will assist him in the simple steps of registration.

The draft has ended and can begin again only after the Congress grants authority for induction—but the requirement to register with selective service is still a part of existing Federal Law.

Pasture Soils Have Low Fertility

Results of a recent summary of soil samples tested for pasture fertilization indicates that pasture soils are usually lower in native fertility than cropland soils.

Nearly all pasture soils need nitrogen to enhance forage growth and quality. Nitrogen also improves drought tolerance and water efficiency.

Phosphorus is needed on most Texas pasture soils; however, the need for potassium varies throughout Texas. Fertilizer requirements for potassium are highest in the eastern part of Texas.

The main reason for low fertility pasture soils is that many pastures are going on abandoned cropland. When cropland soils become infertile or unprobable for cultivation, the tendency is to turn the soils into permanent pasture. Also, pasture soils may have limited water holding capacity.

Pasture fertilizer demonstrations are being conducted in a number of counties, and these will provide specific information on fertilization needs to produce high quality forages on pastures. Information on these demonstrations is available at the county Extension office.

Crapemyrtle—A Multipurpose Plant . . .

Texas home owners are planting more crapemyrtles each year. Some cities and towns have adopted them as their official "beautification tree" and are promoting their planting in large numbers. Few plants offer as much beauty for so little care. Large spikes of brightly-colored blooms adorn the plant for long periods of our hot Texas summer. Colors range from purple, lavender, pink, red and white with many variations.

Although planted abundantly over the entire state, crapemyrtles sometimes freeze to the ground in the Panhandle area. They will usually sprout up from the roots the next spring and provide their usual summer show of color.

Some of the newer dwarf varieties are being used for mass planting and in areas where larger plants are not appropriate. These dwarfs are frequently pruned heavily during the winter which tends to make them bloom more profusely.

One of the most attractive features of tree type crapemyrtles is their trunks. After they are several years old the trunks begin to have an almost sculptural quality. This is especially apparent during winter when the branches are bare. When tree type crapemyrtles are planted heavy pruning should be avoided with only small branches removed to allow the attractive structure of the plant to be more apparent. In many areas of Texas crapemyrtles provide excellent fall leaf color in addition to their other assets.

Although adaptable to a wide assortment of cultural and environmental conditions, crapemyrtles thrive best in sunny locations having good, well-drained soil. Annual applications of a complete fertilizer will promote faster growth and profuse blooms. The ruggedness of these plants may be witnessed by the fact that handsome specimens are often found around abandoned home sites where they have received no attention for many years.

Powdery mildew is probably the worst pest of these plants. Spraying with Actidione PM or Bonomy are recommended controls. Mildew is usually less of a problem when plants are located in sunny areas. Little or no blooming is sometimes reported by home owners who have planted crapemyrtles in shady places.

Crapemyrtles are easily propagated from cuttings taken in early winter and placed in a moist media. Transplanting presents no special problems. Large specimens are easiest to move while dormant, but container grown nursery plants may be moved at any time provided proper care is provided.

There is currently some interesting research being conducted to evaluate the new hybrids resulting from crosses between the common crapemyrtle and a recently found Japanese crapemyrtle that is mildew resistant. Some of the objectives of this research are to obtain plants that will provide more vigor, faster growth, larger mature sizes and powdery mildew resistance. Nurserymen, home owners and landscape architects all agree that crapemyrtles are a nearly-ideal plant and current research should result in their being even more valuable.

Higher Oil, Gas Prices Aid County Economy

Current higher prices for crude oil and natural gas produced in Schleicher County point to a significant jump in 1974 income for county land and royalty owners who last year received $1.1 million as their share of the county's output, according to a study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

"With the average price of Texas crude oil now at about $6.70 a barrel, compared with the 1973 average of $3.84 a barrel, and with some newly discovered natural gas selling intrastate for more than $1 per thousand cubic feet, the outlook for the economy of producing communities is encouraging if prices hold up," according to Sherman Hunt, Dallas, Association president.

"Should price rollback schemes and other tax-and-control proposals now under way in Congress be successful, current economic gains will evaporate," Hunt said.

The Association's study shows that crude oil and natural gas produced last year in Schleicher County was valued at $9 million, ranking the county 114th in the state. Crude oil production of 1.3 million barrels was valued at $5 million and 21.3 billion cubic feet of natural gas at $4 million.

State-wide, crude oil prices for 1974 are estimated to be some 74% higher than 1973. This expectation has stimulated a revival of drilling in Texas, with well completions the first five months of 1974 at 4,013, a 19% jump over the same 1973 period.

From the county's 1973 output, the State of Texas collected $228,998 in oil production taxes and $303,091 from natural gas.

Also adding to the dollar flow in the county last year were these factors:

—Drilling activities, on which producers spent $2.5 million in drilling 37 wells, $771,210 of which was lost in 18 dry holes. Successful completions amounted to two oil wells and 17 gas wells.

—Operation of other oil and gas facilities, including two natural gas processing plants with 61.5 million cubic feet per day capacity.

Under 72's Should Report Estimates

Working people under 72 who are getting social security payments should report any changes in their 1974 earnings estimates as soon as possible, according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

"Social security payments to people 72 and over aren't affected by their earnings," Mr. Talbot noted. "But, earnings can affect payments to people under 72. They should report any change in their work or earnings on the post-card sent to all people who work and get social security checks."

If the post card is lost, the report can be taken care of by a visit or a phone call to any social security office, he said.

People who find they are earning less than they originally estimated may get additional social security payments during 1974 if they report the change, according to Mr. Talbot. "But, people earning more than they originally estimated who don't report the change may get social security payments not due them and have to pay back some money at the end of the year," he said.

Social security payments are not affected by earnings of $2400 or less for the year. Payments are reduced $1 for each $2 earned over $2400. "But, no matter how much people earn in a year," Mr. Talbot said, "they can get their full social security payment for any month they neither earn over $200 nor do substantial work in their own business."

To make a change in estimated earnings contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas. The telephone number is 949-4608.

FRUIT SALADS PLEASE EYE AND PALATE

The refreshing flavor of fresh fruits and berries is one of the special joys of summer. This is the time of year to enjoy the luxury of colorful fruit salad plates on beds of crisp lettuce. Arrange generous cuts of juicy melons, peaches, pears, apricots, purple plums, strawberries—any combination of fruits in season—in colorful compositions to delight the eye and tempt the palate. Besides being delicious and lovely, fruit salad plates that include melon, banana, strawberries and citrus fruits are also important sources of essential vitamin C. Nuts, halved or chopped, are always a good addition to fruit salads.

And over such salads, serve flavorful dressings especially created to complement the fruit flavors. The two fruit salad dressings given here were developed in the Hellmann's/Best Foods kitchens.

Banana Salad Dressing: Mash 1 banana (about 1/2 cup). Stir in 1 tablespoon orange juice and 1/2 cup Real Mayonnaise. Add 1/4 teaspoon minced onion, if desired. Makes about 1 cup dressing.

Lime Cottage Cheese Dressing: Mix 1/2 cup Real Mayonnaise, 1/2 cup small curd creamed cottage cheese. Stir in 2 tablespoons milk, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon dried lime rind and 1 tablespoon lime juice. Makes 1 cup dressing.

A RECIPE TO RELISH

When it's time to put up tomatoes, consider turning some of the crop into Tomato Relish. The recipe here calls for light corn syrup which gives the right amount of sweetening without watering the mixture.

TOMATO RELISH

- 3 pounds ripe tomatoes
- 3 medium onions, chopped
- 1 large green pepper, chopped
- 1 cup Karo light corn syrup
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 cups cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon mustard seed
- 1 1/2 teaspoons whole cloves
- 1 1/2 teaspoons celery seed
- 2 (3-inch) sticks cinnamon

Dip tomatoes in boiling water just until skins are softened, about 1 minute. Remove skins and stem ends; coarsely chop. Place tomatoes, onion, green pepper, corn syrup, salt and vinegar in 4-quart saucepan or kettle. Tie mustard seed, cloves, celery seed and cinnamon in cheese cloth; add to vegetable mixture. Bring to boil over medium heat; reduce heat and boil gently, stirring occasionally, about 2 hours or until mixture thickens. Remove spice bag. Leaving 1/4-inch head space, ladle into clean hot 1/2 pint jars with 2-piece metal caps. Seal following jar manufacturer's directions. Process in boiling water bath 10 minutes. Cool on wire rack or folded cloth. Label and store in cool dry place. Makes about 5 (1/2 pint) jars.

Young Men Must Still Register At Age 18

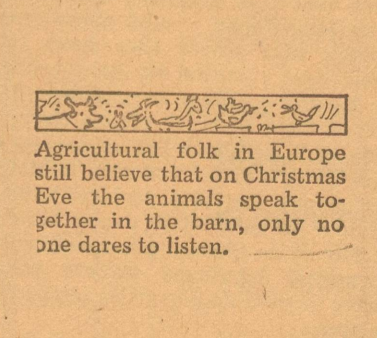

Young men are again reminded of their obligation to register with Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday. If for any reason a young man has failed to register he should do so immediately to escape the penalty of Federal law. Failure to register may result in a fine, imprisonment, or both, under provisions of the current Selective Service law. A young man may go to Mrs. Helen Cariman in the Courthouse who is the volunteer Registrar for the Eldorado area. She will assist him in the simple steps of registration. The draft has ended and can begin again only after the Congress grants authority for induction - but the requirement to register with Selective Service is still a part of existing Federal Law.

Peppers and Spaghetti Please Summer Appetites

Peppers perk up all kinds of food; meats, pastas, rice, chicken, fish, even other vegetables. There are limitless varieties. Mexicans use over fifty different kinds of peppers or "chillies," as they call them. Combined with tomatoes and basil the milder types season numerous Italian dishes. Full of flavor and high in Vitamin C, inexpensive in season, these versatile vegetables serve as natural containers for other foods. Here's a summer switch, try filling the common bell or sweet pepper with pasta instead of the traditional rice mixture. We've cut down on shopping and preparation time, too, by using a boxed spaghetti dinner which contains the pasta, sauce, and tangy cheese. Offer your family this new easy version of an old standby, and know you're providing them the best in taste, and nutrition, for a low price.

SEE THE SIGHTS EAST OF SUEZ

Where else can you visit a world of modern cities, ancient ruins, serene gardens, and boisterous bazaars, burgeoning with bargains?

Persia, India, Turkey and Afghanistan, are enchanted lands where East really does meet West. More and more Americans are meeting both East and West on three different two-week tours described by Lufthansa German Airlines as a magic carpet to the Middle East.

All start in Persia, now Iran, with the capital city of Teheran. There you can see the crown jewels and fabulous Peacock throne. Then you'll go on to Isfahan, where the artistry and color of the serene mosques delight the viewer. Isfahan's artistry is also seen in its shops and covered bazaar and in the fine workmanship of its craftsmen creating treasures of gold, silver, turquoise, copper and bronze and hand-weaving wonderful carpets. Next you'll see Shiraz, a desert town filled with parks and flowers.

From the elaborately inlaid minarets of Teheran, to the classic ruins of Persepolis, Iran can be a place of wonder and excitement for the entire family.

From there it's a short ride to the famed ruins of Persepolis, a dynastic shrine dating from 521 B.C.

You can then go on to Istanbul, the one-time capital of three empires, see the Byzantine splendors of St. Sophia. Ottoman remains, colorful bazaars and other Turkish delights. This entire trip, including air fare, costs $1344.

If you prefer, you can fly to India after Persia, and enjoy a day in Delhi, home of one of the world's architectural wonders, the 800-year-old, 200-foot-high Kutub Minar tower. In Agra, you'll be treated to a visit to the magnificent Taj Mahal, said to be the world's most extravagant memorial. In Jaipur, you can ascend to an ancient fort on the back of an elephant.

Instead of India, the third alternative includes the little-known land of Afghanistan. In Kabul, you can view the historic ruins of Bela Hissar Citadel and the beautiful imperial gardens. In Kandahar, you can see the ruins of the 11th century capital and in Herat, shop in fascinating bazaars.

In India's ancient New Delhi, where almost everyone speaks English, you can watch primitive oxcarts travel beside the most modern of motorized transportation. For more details on this eastern adventure, consult your travel agent or Lufthansa, the people who do all they can to make your vacation as exciting as the Arabian Nights.

Canucks is the name given in the United States to Canadians generally, but in Canada it means French-Canadians, and it's thought to be a corruption of the word the French-Canadians called Irish immigrants.

SCOTLAND'S PRIVATE ARMY

Only one man in the whole of Britain is allowed to keep a private army and he is a Scot. He is, in fact, the Duke of Atholl and by law he can keep a standing army at his ducal seat, Blair Castle in Blair Atholl, Perthshire.

The origins of this private army are lost in the mists of antiquity, but all Clan Chiefs had their own army at one time. The Atholl Highlanders were allowed to continue as an army long after the Clan forces had been banished.

They wear full Highland regalia and the Duke of Atholl himself is their Colonel. They drill regularly and make ceremonial appearances, but have yet to fire a shot in anger. This private army numbers around 100 and each soldier must be at least six feet in height.

On special occasions the Duke of Atholl treats his army to a taste of one of Scotland's most unusual drinks—Atholl Brose. According to Teacher's Scotch Information Centre, the recipe for Atholl Brose is heather honey, oatmeal and Scotch whisky. It is drunk from an old Scottish drinking vessel called a quaich, which is a shallow cup made of wood or metal.

Atholl Brose is not recommended to amateurs in the drinking line. It is enjoyed most by a man of spirit.

THE SECRET

In another moment he will be getting up and walking toward you, eager to tell the secret of his calmness and strength. Will you listen?

He has solved many problems, overcome much grief and temptation, been able to meet the conditions of every-day living, all because through the Church he has come in contact with the Source of all power. In the Church he has found companionship. Its worship services have brought faith, peace and serenity. Its activities have furnished an outlet for his creative abilities and energy. The Church has been a part of his life from boyhood. Through its various departments the needs of his life have been met. He has enjoyed the fellowship there and, looking back, he is able to trace his own growth.

Have you learned his secret? Wouldn't you like to know it?

What the Church has done for him it can do for you. If you are young, it will help meet your problems. If you are older, it will bring satisfaction and peace.
