MEDITATIONS

By The Editor

There is little use to mention again the urgent need for donations to the Red Cross Fund. We all know that we have a large amount to raise yet to meet the quota. Let's meet it.

Might make a suggestion something like this: Use your generous pen when you go to make out your check, keeping the stingy one for another occasion.

Sometimes it is hard to comprehend that right now Eldorado has a chance to keep money in this trade territory exceeding any time since the advent of the automobile. Rationing has helped to some extent in keeping trade at home and is helping more every day. We should all "buy at home" if at all possible. It's an old story but one that must be stressed. If you, patronize them. It helps keep in Eldorado, or can get for you, patronize them. It helps keep money at home to go toward financing improvements that will in turn build a better town and county.

Shop through the pages of The Success this week and see what is offered to the people of this area.

Whether it is plow repairing, tractor, and automobile repair, groceries, good food, dry goods, shoe repair, banking, health, drugs and most anything you can think of, merchants are soliciting your trade through these columns and offering you service plus the best stocks available.

Weather has been the main topic of conversation on most corners lately, but not much is being done about it—at least the results have not been as good as was the results of the sack supper at Bailey Ranch last week in raising funds for the Red Cross Drive. Right here and now, we will say that we think those responsible for that event and its success, should in no small manner be lauded.

We shall try to refrain from exaggerations in this column, but we sometimes might be like little Mary who was a model child except for that fault. Her mother reprimanded her repeatedly and at last, said: "Next time you tell a story, I'm going to spank you."

A few minutes later, Mary said, "Mama, come to the window quick and see the big lion running down the street."

Her mother looked but, of course, there was no lion—it was only a dog. So she whipped the little girl, then shut her up in a closed, and said:

"I want you to ask God's forgiveness."

After a little while, she let Mary out and inquired:

"Did you ask the Lord to forgive you?"

Through her sobs, Mary replied:

"Yes."

"And what did He say?"

He said, "That's all right, Mary. I thought it was a lion. Myself when I first saw it."

COUNTY FARMERS SIGN FOR CROP INSURANCE

Monday, March 15, was a busy day at the local AAA Office, as that was the final date for Schleicher County cotton farmers to make application for cotton crop insurance on their 1943 crops.

According to Mrs. Fitzhugh, administrative officer, sixty-one farmers made application for crop insurance covering 72 units, as compared with thirteen applications in 1942.

County League Meet April 10

Schleicher County Interscholastic League meet of the rural schools will be held on the grounds of the Eldorado Schools, April 10, according to E. A. McMillan, director general of the program.

Rural schools of the county are expected to be represented with some 40 students entering into the various activities of the scholastic work.

List of activities includes arithmetic, spelling, declamation, storytelling, choral singing, one-act play, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash and relays.

Schleicher County has produced many athletes and it is anticipated that much interest will be shown in the athletic activities as well as literary events.

PREMEASUREMENT OF COTTON ACREAGES TO BE MADE AVAILABLE

In order for Schleicher farmer to receive maximum benefit from and comply with the provisions of the 1943 Agricultural Conservation Program, the local AAA Office will make available to them, before planting time, premeasurements of the acreages to be devoted to cotton and grain sorghum crops.

Since farmers will not be given the opportunity to plow up cotton planted in excess of their allotments, it is very important that the acreage to be planted to cotton be determined before the cotton is planted. Also, the penalty of $15.00 per acre for failure to meet 90% of the grain sorghum goal make the premeasurement of grain sorghum acreages necessary.

When calling at the AAA Office for this service, farmers are requested to bring accurate measurements for use in acreage determinations.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

PANCHO BRADLEY WRITES FROM AFRICA

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bradley are recipients of a letter from their son, T/Sgt. Frank Bradley, dated Feb. 24, 1942, and written from Somewhere in Africa.

The letter follows:

Dear Mom:

I'm fine and I hope you're all ok. Have you heard from Bob? I hope you have and that he is ok. We haven't been bombed yet. I went to a town close by yesterday and looked around awhile. The country is very interesting. While in town, I attended a dance sponsored by the Red Cross. The girls were mostly French and were pretty nice, but we had to teach them a dance "Americano". The music was played by a U. S. Army band and was strictly swing, so you can imagine how the girls got kicked around until they caught on.

This French music is very colorful and bundlesome. There are quite a few people in this country who speak some Spanish, so I fare pretty well on my limited Mex.

I traded an Arab 2 bars of Lux, packs of Luckies and 2 bars of candy for seven eggs this afternoon so maybe me and my bunkmate (we sleep in pup tents) will have eggs for breakfast if they're not all rotten. I'd like to have a camera, but the one I sent home would be a little bundlesome, I'm afraid.

I hope you can make this out. These pup tents weren't made to write in.

Tell everyone hello and I hope you are all well.

Love,

PANCHO.

Mrs. Rex McCormick received word Thursday that her nephew, S/Sgt. Joe Stanley Smith has been reported a prisoner of war and is being held by the Japanese Government.

Word of any kind had not been received from Sergeant Smith since February, 1942, until Thursday of this week by Eldorado relatives and friends.

County Farmers Terracing Farms

Schleicher County farmers are constructing level closed end terraces in order to increase production by holding rainfall on the land.

Since large equipment is not available at present, farmers are building terraces with one-way plows and small terracers operated by the farmers own tractor power. The Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District has a six-foot and an eight-foot blade which are available for loan to District Co-operators without charge.

Farmers who have used these blades include F. B. Gunn, Truett Stanford, Mrs. Ruth Green, J. Tom Roach, Victor Sauer, W. G. Powell, W. W. Sudduth, Bob Faught, and W. J. Steward. Other farmers have used the blades to widen their present terraces sufficiently to permit proper cultivation with four row equipment.

Soil Conservation Service technicians, who are assisting the Eldorado Divide District, have run more than 125 miles of terrace lines in the county, and have planned an additional 275 miles. E. B. Keng, Work Unit Leader, said this week, "Terracing is only one phase of a complete conservation plan, but is vital in holding water on cultivated land."

The Department of Agriculture, realizing the vital part that conservation of moisture will play in our food production plans, made some important changes in the 1943 AAA program in an effort to encourage terrace construction. The new program allows $42.24 per mile for every mile of terraces needed on a farm or ranch, and this amount may be earned above the normal soil building allowance for the place. This permits the farmer to do the entire terracing job in one operation rather than doing it "piece-meal."

An effort is being made to secure the service of a terracing contractor in Schleicher County, Keng added. Farmers who through land which will be planted through land which will be planted to cotton in 1943 are urged to plant a strip of hegar, cane, or sudan approximately 40 feet wide on these lines. These trips will mark the terrace lines and will greatly help in slowing up and spreading out runoff water. In case heavy machinery is secured for construction work, feed could be harvested from these strips in mid summer, and terraces constructed without damaging the cotton crop.

Sixteen other Eldorado students are listed in the yearbook. They are: Elizabeth Ann Barkley, Jo Ann Bearce, Dorethe Jane Belk, Wanda Dannheim, Marilyn Jane Diekey, Dinky Meador, Jane Meador, Edna Lou Meador, Howard Mittel, John D. Mittel, Jack Ervin Munn, Pauline Nixon, Winona Sudduth, and Bobby Whitaker.

Bailey Ranch School "sack" supper sponsored by the Schleicher County Home Demonstration Club under the direction of Miss Mary Lewis, home demonstration agent, held at the Bailey Ranch school house Friday night of last week, "went over the top" in raising funds for the Red Cross drive that is now under way.

"A fine co-operative spirit exists throughout that community, and when they start a thing, they put it over in a big way," stated Miss Lewis.

Net proceeds of the sale under the auction hammer of H. T. Finley amounted to $138.65, one sack selling for $7.00.

At the close of the sale supper was spread in picnic-fashion, and a genuine fellowship and feast was enjoyed.

A small admission fee will be charged, the entire proceeds going to the Red Cross Drive.

Hold the date open to see this hilarious event. One group of the players are to be dressed as women, it was intimated this week.

Red Cross Field Directors Solve Soldiers' Problems

Thousands of U. S. fighting men last year accepted the invitation to discuss their personal problems with Red Cross field directors who accompany troops to all parts of the world. This picture, taken in London, shows everyone happy after the field men had satisfactorily solved the problems of the two soldiers at the desk. Contributions to the Red Cross 1943 War Fund, now in progress, make this service possible.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The soldier stormed into the Red Cross office at a southern Army camp. His mouth was set in a hard, straight line; his eyes were cold, determined. His wife trailed him as he strode across the reception room; her face was red and swollen from crying. They were not over 22.

"I need help," the soldier told the Red Cross field director at the desk. "And I need it fast."

The Red Cross field director smiled, but the soldier did not return it. "All right, soldier, let's see what's the trouble."

"If I don't get help I'm going over the hill," he blurted. "I'm on alert now—due to move out almost any minute. But I'm not going—and leave my wife with no place to stay."

Further conversation developed that the young bride was an expectant mother. She was unable to go home because of her stepfather. Her husband had no relatives with whom she could stay. And the allotment he had made to his wife had not yet come through.

Two hours later—after much conversation and planning—the soldier was shaking the hand of the Red Cross field director.

The Red Cross man had arranged that the soldier's wife spend the night at the Army camp guest house. Preparations had been completed with a nearby Red Cross chapter for her transportation back home. The Red Cross chapter in the girl's home town had agreed to see that she had proper care until the baby was born. By that time the allotment would be coming through.

In every United States military establishment, at home and abroad, the American Red Cross maintains a field director and staff to help Uncle Sam's fighting men work out such personal problems. More than 1,000,000 servicemen passed through the offices of the Red Cross field directors last year. Their problems covered all phases of life—families needing financial aid, allotments, illnesses, deaths, loss of contact with the home folks. These and other problems are unfolded in a never-ending panorama before Red Cross field directors. Almost always they are solved.

The Red Cross field director is ready to furnish information, counsel, and assistance as needed to men of the armed forces. Reaching into every county in the United States through local Red Cross chapters, these workers and local home service chairmen act on behalf of the men of the armed forces and their families in matters affecting the welfare of either or both.

In addition to the servicemen aided by field directors, more than 500,000 families of men in the service received help through Red Cross chapters and branches.

Contributions of the American people to the Red Cross during the $125,000,000 War Fund appeal now in progress will help to keep and expand these services to the nation's fighting men.

Varied and often unusual are the other demands made of Red Cross field directors. Field Director William Fluharty, stationed in a remote Australian area, traveled down to a railroad junction to bring back 6,000 pounds of American magazines for troops to which he was assigned. Returning on a train, he was asked to help deliver a baby for a native woman, belatedly en route to a hospital.

Red Cross Field Director Albert S. Campbell and two assistants, David S. Oman and John J. Clancy, Jr., distributed clothes, cigarettes, soap, razors, tooth brushes, playing cards and other articles to American fighters during one of the most furious Solomon Islands battles.

Whatever the welfare and personal problems of American fighters at home or abroad, the field director, backed up by 3,755 Red Cross chapters and 6,000 branches, is the serviceman's best friend in time of need.

AAA FARM NOTES

The approved date for beginning the deferred grazing period in Schleicher County for 1943 has been set at May 15. The operators participating in this practice will have the option of choosing a date for the beginning of deferred grazing on their individual ranches, the date to be within a 30-day period following May 15. The duration of the nongrazing period shall not be less than 5 consecutive months from the beginning of the practice on the ranch. Each operator must submit to the county committee in writing the designation of the deferred grazing acreage and the date for beginning of the non-grazing period prior to the initiation of the practice.

Agricultural Conservation payments amounting to $60,977 have been received by Schleicher County farmers and ranchers participating in the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program, all contracts having been paid, according to the County AAA Office.

All farmers and ranchers who have not signed their 1943 farm plan sheets are urged to call at the AAA Office at their very earliest convenience and give the production data requested.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

The late Hick Halcomb, a picturesque individual if there ever was one (and a good friend of mine), used to tell about a candidate for district attorney who came to him for advice in a hard-fought campaign. Hick said, "Why don't you ask your opponent where he was on the night of March 19, 1936?" The candidate inquired, "But where was he?" Hicks replied, "Thunder, I don't know—but he won't remember, either."

Nomination for the world's worst joke:

He was a musician—but his monkey died.

The loan shark problem in Texas is nearer solution as the result of a unanimous report by a House of Representatives committee in favor of Rep. W. W. Bridgers' constitutional amendment giving the legislature authority to pass a statute regulating the small loan business. Most State have enacted such a statute but a constitutional amendment here is necessary first. Then individuals needing small, personal loans will not have to pay 240 per cent interest or more to foreign-owned chains that drain Texas of $30,000,000 a year in extortionate interest. Soldiers, sailors and war plant workers are being victimized and public sentiment is strongly in favor of ending this vicious, unpatriotic racket.

Buck Bailey is, and has been for years, line coach of Washington State. When I knew him, he was a young athlete, starring as catcher of the Brady baseball team a long time ago. Managing the club was Bert Maxwell, who had pitched for Brooklyn. Naturally all the players had a profound respect for the ability of the former big leaguer—but Buck went beyond this and believed implicitly anything that Maxwell might say so long as the manager kept a straight face.

Former Rep. Bailey Jones of Austin (who was on the Brady team) relates that one day as the club came in for its last time at bat, Brady was two runs behind and Buck Bailey said, "Well, coach, it looks like they've got us." Maxwell said solemnly, "Not at all—Jack Hampton is going to lead off with a single; Bailey Jones will hit a double and then you'll bring them both in with a home run, giving us three scores and the ball game."

Buck said, "That would do it all right." Hampton didn't open the inning

TEXAS OPTOMETRISTS HONOR DR. FRED BAKER

Dr. Fred R. Baker, first optometrist to open an office for practice in San Angelo 36 years ago, has been named an honorary member of the Texas Optometric Association for life. He received the notification just recently.

The doctor formerly was at the head of the state association and served as national vice-president. He led the fight for the optometry law in Texas and was a member of the first board of examiners—serving on that board for three years.

Notice of honorary membership from J. E. St. Clair, secretary of the Texas Association, expresses his "appreciation for sacrifices that you made in years gone by for the advancement of organized optometry."

Dr. Baker was a caller at the Success office the past week and stated that he was making regular trips to Eldorado in the interest of his profession.

with a single but he did get a base on balls, and that amounted to the same thing. Jones smashed a two-bagger and there were the two runners on base, just as Manager Maxwell had said. Buck strode to the plate, swinging three bats; tossed two of the sticks aside; planted his feet firmly, swung at the first pitch—and knocked it over the fence to score three runs and win the old ball game.

As Buck completed his trot around the bases, he looked over to the bench and yelled, "Well, Coach, it Worked, didn't it?"

When life hangs by a wire!

IN HOSPITALS throughout West Texas (and close up to battle lines all over the world) a blue-white light blazes down on the tense little group. ... A suction machine hums quietly. ... Skillful fingers poise an electric knife. ... A human life hangs on the smooth, even flow of electric power.

Electric equipment of many kinds serves the modern hospital. Busy doctors and nurses use it every day for diagnosis and treatment, without even pausing to think of the constant supply of electricity that keeps it operating.

But electric power didn't just happen. The hard work, training and experience of West Texas Utilities men and women have made it dependable.

They've made it plentiful, too—so that West Texas communities have not been hindered by any power shortage while joining in the Nation's war effort. And they've made it cheap—so that the average West Texas home enjoys over twice as much electricity for the same money it paid about fifteen years ago.

These are the results of practical business management under public regulation—part of the system of business freedom in which millions of Americans have put their faith and their savings.

NEVA JO STEWARD LIEUT. S. W. HAVER, JR. WED IN BIG SPRING

In a single ring ceremony read at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the Big Spring Bombardier post chapel, Neva Jo Steward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Steward of Eldorado, became the bride of Lieut. Frederick W. Haver, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Haver, Sr., of Pueblo, Colo.

Chaplain Patterson read the ceremony. The bride was dressed in an aqua blue dressmaker suit and had black accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

The bride's attendant was her sister, Mrs. Walter Weems of Big Spring, who dressed in a fushia suit and had a corsage of white gladiola. Lieut. Bob Haver of Roswell, N. M., brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The chapel was decorated with greenery and on either side of the altar were floor basket of calla lilies, orchid iris and blue delphinium. Centering the altar is a basket of calla lilies, iris and roses. Candelabra were on either side of the altar.

Mrs. James R. Cunningham played "Because" as the pre nuptial music and the "Wedding March" from Lohengrin by Wagner for the processional. During the ceremony Mrs. Cunningham played a melody of soft music.

Jane Haver, dressed in a blue suit with a corsage of pink roses and iris, and Jean Steward, sister of the bride and bridegroom, lighted the candles. Miss Steward wore a beige suit with a corsage of pink roses and iris.

Ushers for the wedding were Lieut. Benjamin C. Fahrman, Lieut. Grover W. Ferguson, Lieut. Leroy C. Train, Jr., and Jasper Haver of Austin.

Reception was held following the wedding in the home of Mrs. Cunningham for members of the Wedding party and Lieut. and Mrs. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Haver, Jane and Ann Louise Haver, all of Pueblo, Mrs. Steward and Jean Steward.

The bride was graduated from Eldorado High School and attended TSCW at Denton. Lieut. Haver graduated from Pueblo high school and attended Colorado university. He is stationed at the Big Spring Bombardier school as a pilot.

The couple will be at home at 506 Goliad.

Mrs. Helen McIntyre and Mrs. Cunningham entertained for the bride with a pottery shower Thursday night at the Settles Hotel.

Refreshments were served and present were Mrs. W. J. Steward, Mrs. Walter Weems, Jean Steward, Virginia Trott, Nellie Gray, Carrie Byler, Frances Matthes, Marie Dunham, Mrs. June Han-

Come Now,
Let's Be Sensible

In the last few days since the shoe rationing program was announced, there has been some frantic "grab" buying in other departments in our store. This in spite of Government admonition.

We are sincerely sorry to see this and hope that it will quickly subside. For this kind of buying is the result of rumors which are always poor reasons for doing anything and can be dangerous, as well as demoralizing in wartime. Besides, the more abnormally you buy now the quicker we rush toward inflation, hastening the day when rationing will spread to other things.

Some people walking through Eldorado and seeing the unusual crowds may think that we relish this kind of sudden rush business. Being merchants and only human, we welcome all the solid business we can get if it is based on normal needs. Any other kind of business is unhealthy. Buying what you do not need often results in unsatisfactory purchases.

So we would plead with you to buy sensibly. Now, more than ever you will need to choose with care and to buy in a reliable store.

P. S.: And while we are talking about buying sensibly remember that the best "buys" on the market today are War Bonds.

Various denominations of Eldorado were drawn close together Friday afternoon of last week when "World Day of Prayer" was observed at the Methodist Church with the following program:

Mrs. F. B. Faust opened the meeting with a short history and explanation of the meaning of "The World Day of Prayer."

"Out of the Depths" was presented by Mrs. J. E. Tisdale, assisted by Mrs. G. R. Marshall, Mrs. Keno Ogden, and Mrs. L. Wheeler. "Glory be to Thee" was given by Mrs. Ed Finnegan. "O, Lord Forgive" was presented by Mrs. B. A. Jonas, assisted by Mrs. Henry Mittel and Mrs. Sid Boothe.

Mrs. Leo Spears (colored) represented the church of the colored people of Eldorado. She gave, "Love Never Fails."

Mrs. Kelly Neal gave the paper, "We Offer Unto Thee."

A free will offering was taken which will be used for four objectives: Christian literature, Indian Government students who need financial help in securing an education, migrants, and union Christian colleges in the United States and in the foreign countries.

"The Lord Reigneth" was given by Mrs. Edwin Jackson, assisted by Mrs. Bert Page and Mrs. F. B. Gunn.

WORLD TIME-TABLE ON DISPLAY

The clock-board shown above is now on display in the show window of the local Wm. Cameron & Co. Store. Each of the clocks shows the time in one or more nations around the world. Comparison of the time between this city and the other nations is shown by arrows running from the local time clock to those showing the time of other nations. By indicating the difference in time through a system denoting plus hours or minus hours it is easily determined whether the compared time is ahead of, or behind, our local time. The clock-board will remain in the Cameron window through this week.

P.-T.A. HAS MEETING TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Local Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday afternoon in the high school auditorium with seventh grade pupils in charge of an interesting program on "Teamwork", under the direction of Miss Annie Herbert.

The fourth grade and the senior class won the room count at the previous meeting.

In business session the association voted to buy a $25.00 war bond and also to pay $33.00 on the picture projector which relieves the debt incurred.

Association President, Mrs. S. D. Harper appointed a Summer Round-Up committee, including Miss Thelma Ellington, Mrs. John Williams, and Mrs. Jerry Pennington.

It was also voted to send Mrs. S. D. Harper as delegate to the district meeting to be held in San Angelo April 19 and 20th.

Next meeting will be held the night of April 20th, with a style show by the Home Economics Club, together with a movie and singing by the choral club.

Rev. F. B. Faust addressed the meeting on "Boys and Girls Together," stressing the importance of training the mind, body and soul of our boys and girls together in order to best fit men and women for tomorrow.

"Training of the mind and body without the training of the soul is tragic, or vice versa," said the Rev. Faust.

In the show window of Wm. Cameron and Co., of Eldorado, is a most unusual display. It is a large octagon shaped clockboard showing the faces of ten electric clocks. The center clock shows Eldorado time and the others show the time of more than a dozen important cities in every part of the world. Flags of the various nations flank the clocks, and by a simple method of plus hours and minus hours painted on the clock-board it is easy to see which cities and nations are ahead of Eldorado time, and which are behind.

W. M. Patterson, Jr., manager of the Cameron store urges everyone to see this world time-table as it is most interesting and informative. It will remain at the local store through this week.

TO THE PEOPLE OF SCHLEICHER COUNTY

It is with regret we hear of the dissention caused by the fact our son, Joe Reynolds, classification by the Local Board of Schleicher County was appealed to the District Board.

Having lived in your midst for 25 years or more, and knowing the people of Schleicher County as I do, know they stand for what is right, and for that reason alone will consider our reasons for this action before forming an opinion.

There has been no dissention of ill feeling between the Local Board and ourselves. They have at all times been fair and considerate and we have the highest admiration for them. They have a hard and thankless job. We know that the rules and regulations they go by are being thru necessity constantly changed. This makes them lots of extra work which is performed without a murmur.

Appealing this case was their suggestion, they repeatedly told me it was human to make mistakes and if I thought one had been made it was my privilege and right to appeal it to the District Board. That was what the District Board was for. There were five men on the district board and three on the local board. We talked this matter of appealing over and it was understood if I did so elect it would be a friendly action and would be so considered by them and us. And to the best of my knowledge it has been.

Thru the fact so many men had left the farms, thru enlistments, better jobs, and the draft. Congress passed a law deferring certain workers in this field. The Secretary of Agriculture was asked to define what workers should come under this new classification. It was worked out in units by them. And it is by understanding this is the rule by which the District Board determines the classification of men. According to this law we have sufficient units to ask for the deferment of several men and have asked for but one.

This matter has been investigated, closely and from December there has been a great deal in the newspapers and over the radio concerning this. Purportedly from Congress and the National Selective Service Headquarters. It has been stressed that it was misplaced patriotism not to seek ce-ferment for one in this occupation. There was a serious food shortage and agricultural workers were wanted frozen to the job.

Taking all this in consideration it seemed to me the right thing to do. In as much as this boy and myself, had before the war, and were now taking care of 400 acres of farm, and 13 sections of grazing land, stocked with cattle and sheep, with a minimum of outside help. This boy had grown up in the business and was more valuable to me in this work than anyone I could possibly secure and knowing the set up thru years he could take the pace of several. I understand the question has been raised if he worked. That question can be answered by any one that has helped us and we would welcome an inspection of our place by anyone to see if our stock are neglected and to see what is what.

Joe wanted to join the Army last Fall and went so far as to get the required papers from his Draft Board to do this. For some reason he waited too long, and after the cry went up about the impending food shortage and the importance of farm workers to stay on their jobs. For people to increase their production. I knew if he left I would be forced to curtail our production, for I couldn't do it all myself and as we all know it is next to impossible to secure any one to help us with any experience and if so, could not count on keeping them any definite time. For these reasons I persuaded him to let the Government place him where they thought he would be of most help. Being his father he listened to me and any and all criticism should be directed at me, not him, as I am the one responsible for the action.

Hearing of the dissention and ill feeling, I went to Angelo and talked with the officer in charge of the Recruiting Station for the Army. Explaining the situation and that it might be best for the boy to enlist, and could he? He told me he couldn't and that the Army didn't want him. They were doing all they could to keep the farm boys on the farm, furthermore, the Army was worried more over the food situation than the men, for they could get them out of the cities and that the war could be lost quicker on the home front thru lack of food than any other way. The United States had to feed herself, her allies, and every na-

A Field of Texas Roses

Above is shown a Texas field of roses growing near Tyler, Texas, from where The Success is getting bushes to supply orders given to us. If you have not placed your order for these bushes yet, take advantage of this opportunity to secure these hardy bushes now.

To those who mailed in their orders last week we want to say that their bushes are being shipped from Tyler and should reach you soon.

Only a short time remains to secure and transplant these bushes this season. But if done so immediately they will supply a profusion of blooms under normal circumstances.

It hurts us deeply to know we have offended our fellow citizens. What we have done was with no thought of hurting anyone and we did not, and do not now have a quarrel with anyone. We believed we were doing the right thing and doing our duty as we saw it, a privilege which I believe we will all agree is the right of every American citizen.

In conclusion, please let me state that our son, Joe Reynolds, stands ready and willing to take his place wherever his country says he will be of most value; and is ready at all times to answer the call of the Selective Service. Respectfully submitted for your consideration.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
J. M. Hays, Pastor

If you are a member of a church do you support it by attending its services? Do you support it by your daily living? Do you support it by putting its principles first, or do you always put them second or third. The people who call themselves Christians would do well to remember that one example is worth a thousand testimonies.

Christianity is a positive religion and if we think of it as negative in principles and practices we need to reshape our thinking and attitude; and get in to the thing that will make life the most satisfying and useful, as well as the largest and happiest.

Our Spring revival will start

April 4th. The preaching will be done by Rev. G. B. Bradshaw, Bro. Bradshaw is one of our State evangelists, and comes to us highly recommended by all who know him.

We hope all of our people will begin now to make plans to attend these services, there will be two services daily. The first Sunday evening, the service will be an ordination service. The church has elected two of our members to be ordained as deacons; and they will be ordained at the evening service April 4, at 8:30 o'clock. We have secured the pastor at Bailey Ranch and the deacons of that church, with our own deacons, and Dr. Bradshaw to form the ordination council.

We urge all of our people to be present at our services Sunday and Sunday night. The Sunday School hour is 10:00 and the preaching hour is 11:00 in the morning; our evening services; Training Union is at 7:30 and preaching is at 8:30. I feel that no one can do his or her best without using the Lord's day as it was intended. "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is," Heb. 10:25.

We were gratified to know that there were eighteen of our ladies to attend the circle meetings of the WMU Monday afternoon. The topic was: "Building a Righteous Nation." "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people."

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Whitten spent the week-end in San Angelo, Texas.

Seaman Gunner's Experiences Recalled Again

Following is a recounting of the experience of Naval Gunner Wesley McAlpine which appeared in State paper's again this week. The Success is publishing the article for the benefit of its readers who failed to hear, see or read of this hero's experiences before.

Naval Gunner Wesley McAlpine, 22, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McAlpine of Eldorado is one of the war's fortunates who barely missed death, but has lived to tell the story.

Young McAlpine was serving on a merchant vessel sunk in the Caribbean at 4:45 a. m., May 28, 1942, and has been commended by the Navy for "inspired leadership when the ship on which he was serving as a crew member was attacked and sunk by an enemy submarine."

Having spent thirty-three days adrift with six others on a 7x10-foot life raft gave the seaman an agonizing chapter for the young man to write in his life history.

An account of the attack is as follows:

One torpedo struck the merchantman and in little more than two minutes she had gone down. Machine gunners aimed tracer bullets in the direction from which the submarine had fired the torpedo and McAlpine trained a large gun in the same direction, but the attacking submarine apparently had dived on losing its torpedo.

With the ship sinking rapidly, McAlpine clambered down its side and jumped into the waiting life raft. One lifeboat, carrying most of the ship's officers, overturned and its crew was pulled under by the suction caused when the vessel sank. Of the crew of 59 men, only 22 were rescued. Fifteen men in a lifeboat were lashed to the raft, but during the first night the line parted and the two groups of survivors were separated. The men in the lifeboat were picked up within a week.

McAlpine's group of seven men sighted several planes and four ships before they were picked up by a British vessel. The men believe two of the ships sighted them but feared a trap, yet they never despaired of eventual rescue, McAlpine said.

During the first week adrift the seven began the practice of starting each day on their knees with prayer and hymn singing services. "I had been praying silently even before that and I know that several others had too," McAlpine related.

They are carrying out the Victory Demonstrator's Pledge by buying all the war savings stamps they can. The Victory Demonstration is the war-time program of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

aptry was transformed from a hardened, whisky-loving character to a prayerful, penitent man, he added.

The thought of raw fish at first was repulsive to McAlpine, but he learned to eat them without any difficulty.

Life and death played with their flimsy craft as ships passed near enough to spot them, but failed to halt. Three days before rescue they sighted land, made an improvised sail and attempted to navigate the raft. Wind and current slowly carried them away and clouds were cutting down their visibility on the third day after sighting land.

It was that day they were rescued by the British ship. McAlpine is again at sea.
