Eagle Band Is Again Sweepstakes Winner

That Goin' Band from Eagle Land did it again. They went to Brownwood Saturday and brought back that Sweepstakes Trophy — meaning a I in Marching, I in Concert and Sight Reading contests under University Interscholastic League ratings.

It has been a rough go this semester but determination on the part of band director and band students paid off.

In Class AA bands only 2 won Sweepstakes, Brady and Winters. In Class A only 2 bands won Sweepstakes, Eldorado and Ranger. Ratings looked like this at Saturday's concert and sightreading: Eden II, III Gorman IV, II Glen Rose III, III Early II, IV, Ranger I, I Bangs IV, V Hico V, V Mason I, II Goldthwaite III, III, Santa Anna III, III, De Leon II, II Baird II, II Cross Plains II, II Sonora I, II, Menard I, II, and Eldorado I, I.

Eldorado is the only Sweepstakes winner in our district.

Congratulations Mr. Mac & Band!

Cancer Drive Is Now Under Way

Ruthie Dacy is general chairman of the Cancer fund drive now under way here and throughout the county. When an ACS volunteer comes to your home in April, remember the goal: "We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime." So, give generously!

Give your check to the volunteer who calls on you, or you may hand or mail it to Mrs. Dacy.

The theme of the American Cancer Society's April Crusade is worth repeating: "We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime."

Those nine words speak volumes: They tell of a trend in the medical attack on cancer which gives reason for hope.

In the late Thirties, fewer than one in five cancer patients was being saved. The following decade it was one in four. And today one of three hit by cancer is saved.

With knowledge now available medical and scientific opinion holds that one of two cancer patients could be saved providing diagnosis and treatment come in time.

The last 20 years have seen important advances in the treatment of cancer resulting from research. There have been improved surgical techniques and radiation therapy. In some instances, drugs have been effective against certain types of cancer. Indeed, many scientists say that we have entered the era of significant development of drugs against cancer.

But there can be little difference of opinion about what is needed for the final conquest of this ancient enemy of mankind. The scientific efforts have to be broadened all along the line. This means more major cancer centers, more money for brainpower and manpower, more money for equipment, training and facilities.

Andy Bosmans continues to make improvement in Seely hospital in Galveston where he underwent brain surgery a while back. Local relatives have visited him there in recent days.

Young People To Meet

The United Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist, First Methodist, and First Presbyterian young people will meet at 5:30 p.m. this Sunday evening, April 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Page. The Junior and Senior High young people will meet for supper and program. Guest speaker at the youth meeting will be Dr. Andrew Edington, former president of Schreiner Junior College and Preparatory School at Kerrville.

After the youth meeting Dr. Edington will bring the message at the joint Methodist-Presbyterian evening worship service at the First Presbyterian Church at 7:00 p.m. Visitors are cordially invited to hear Dr. Edington at this service.

Weightman Mayo Stars At Commerce

Commerce, Tex.—East Texas State track coach Delmer Brown is beginning to realize a return on his big road trip food bill for weightmen John Mayo and Jon Washington.

Washington, from Waxahachie, and Mayo, from Eldorado, scored 22 of East Texas' third-place total of 71 in the Corpus Christi Relays held Saturday.

It was the Lions best performance of the year, but Brown thinks his "Cradle Kids" can do even better.

S. S. Man Here Today

Ken King, Field Representative for the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his March visit to Eldorado. He will be at the County Courthouse on Thursday, March 29th (today) from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Anyone who wants to file a claim, get information, or inspect other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo at 949-4608.

Post Script

On Saturday, April 7th, local voters will go to the polls to cast their ballots in three local elections: for school trustee, for hospital district trustee, and for city mayor and aldermen.

Absentee voting has been going on this past week in all three of the elections.

Candidates for school trustee are Mort Mertz, Buddy White, Clay Meador, and Pat Ragsdale. Two are to be elected.

Three Hospital District directors are to be elected, and the nominees on the ballot without opposition are John Edward Meador, Mrs. Bill McWhorter, and Mrs. Edwin Jackson. Unless someone promotes a write-in campaign, all three should go into office easily.

In the City of Eldorado election, Mayor Eldon Calk has Raymon Mobley as an opponent.

Two aldermen are to be elected and the six names on the ballot are: Richard Kent, Jimmy Doyle, Wm. Rieken, Alvin Farris, Nick Robledo Jr., and Granvil Hext.

At this time, things have remained quiet in regard to the three foregoing elections, with campaigning, if any, on an apparent low key by the nominees.

Next week's issue of the Success for April 5th, will be the final one before the election day, and any campaign advertising by any candidates or their backers will have to be turned in and paid for at our office no later than Monday, April 2.

Anyone who has occasion to visit the local (county) cemetery—and there are constant visitors there every week—all have noticed the chug holes and bad condition of all the lateral roads throughout the cemetery.

Generally the roads (streets?) are regarded as all-weather caliche roads, but no work has been done on them for several years and series of rains have done much damage creating chug holes and bumps and washing off the edges of the "streets" and making it difficult for one car to pass another.

We are not mentioning this as a criticism, it is just the wear and tear of any caliche street over the passage of time.

Schleicher county has an efficient road crew and equipment, and it is used periodically in each of the four commissioner precincts. Eldorado has had many of its secondary streets re-caliched by the county, and several years ago they completely rebuilt the runways of the Eldorado airport. They always co-operate with the city.

All we are suggesting is that when the road crews are in this precinct, they will give attention to the cemetery and that they will re-build and re-condition those streets so that travel there will be more comfortable.

Thank you.

Oh, yes, there are some chug holes here in the streets of Eldorado, but we are not going to make an issue of that.

Kathleen Chrisman of 2318 Chestnut, San Angelo, was in Eldorado last week seeking information on relatives buried here years ago. They found all information needed in old files of the Eldorado Success; and had photo copies made of the court house.

New Success subscriber this week is Juan Espinosa, Jr., who is employed by the county as caretaker for the Eldorado cemetery.

Mrs. W. F. Edmiston bought a new subscription recently for Mrs. K. n Rusler, 1235 Hartsdale, Apt. 223, Dallas, Texas 75211.

Trenches are being dug and cast iron pipe is being laid to connect Eldorado's new water well in the south part of town to the city's system.

Marvin McAngus was on the job Monday with the construction crew and said that 2,000 feet of 8-inch cast iron was being laid to tie in to a main line near the woolen mill. The new well dug last year, is rated at 1,000 gallons per minute.

News of building:

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Swift and family have moved to their new house on the Sonora highway, just north of the rodeo grounds. They moved in a ready-built house made by a Lubbock firm and have been busy finishing with plumbing and other things that need to be settled in the new house. The house came in last Thursday and was mounted on foundation.

Gene McCalla has announced plans to put an addition on the south side of his Eldorado Variety store building. It will provide additional space for merchandise. He expects to have John Edward Meador's crew from C. C. Lease at work this week clearing off the lot.

Dr. J. B. Brame's new house is nearing completion north of town and the family expect to move in to it by sometime in April.

Foxworth-Galbraith will launch their big Spring sale of building materials a week from today, on Thursday April 5th, it was announced this week by J. H. (Skeet) Mace, local manager.

Watch next week's Success issue for the big ad giving details.

Local Gin Passes 3,000-Bale Figure

After two weeks delay due to unfavorable weather, Mikeska Gin Monday was busy ginning under clear skies, and Karen Homer, bookkeeper, declared that the season total would be about 3,035 bales — finally passing the 3,000-bale estimate made several months ago. There is still some cotton left in the fields and she specially mentioned Whip Faulk. A few more days of clear weather could bring ginning to a close.

Eaglettes Win Third At Comanche Meet

In what could have been one of the strongest meets held in Texas this past week end, the Eldorado girls finished third behind Waco Robinson and Comanche. The field included 26 schools: Eighteen of these schools were AA, AAA, or AAAA in classification with only eight being class A or smaller.

The Eaglette 440 relay team composed of Debbie Page, Carolyn Page, Wally Joiner, and Kathy Page finished second behind Comanche with a time of 51.6. The 880 relay team members of Teresa Scott, Carolyn Page, Rosellen Maness, and Kathy Page finished third with a time of 1:49.7 (a new school record.) Comanche and Waco Robinson beat the girls in this race. The Mile relay, however, was a different story as the Eaglettes came across the finish line first in the action filled race. The last heat was loaded with all the fastest teams including Eastland, Gatesville, Comanche, Waco Robinson, Stephenville, and Eldorado. Debbie Page, Wally Joiner, Irene Garcia, and Rosellen Maness brought the baton over the finish line first in a time of 4:17.3 just as the rain was setting in.

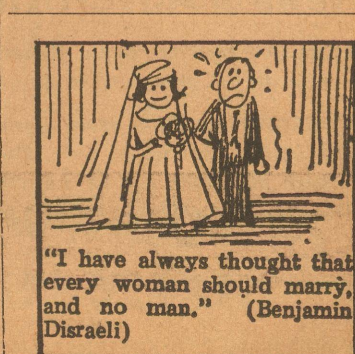

In other running events Kathy Page was sixth in the 100 yard dash as was Wally Joiner in the 220 yard dash. Terri Garlitz finished second Susie Snider, the current state champion, in the shot put with a toss of 36' 4". This throw set a new school record. Wally Joiner also added points in the field events as she finished second in the broad jump and sixth in the triple jump. Charlene Warnock and Sharon Garlitz tied with a Comanche girl for fifth and sixth places in the high jump.

National FHA Week Is Set April 1-7, '73

The Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America will observe National FHA Week, April 1 through 7. Focusing on the theme Explore Roles—Extend Goals, they join half-a-million other members throughout the country in exploring the multiple roles individuals play in family, community and career life.

The results of their efforts are active involvement in home, civic and school projects, growth in individual leadership, team work experience and vocational orientation.

For more than a quarter of a century, the organization through its FHA and HERO-FHA chapters has provided worthwhile experiences which have helped young men and women prepare for the important responsibilities of their future as parents and adult citizens.

Paula Julian, president of the Texas FHA State Association explained why there is a National FHA Week. "We observe National FHA Week," she said, "because we are proud of our organization and wish to develop a public consciousness of some of the values we gain from membership."

"During this week we have an opportunity to express our appreciation to our advisors, parents, school, and community for helping the organization move forward. Because the organization is integrated into the home economics classroom work, it makes learning mean something tangible and affords us many opportunities to make a direct contribution to society. It plays an effective role in educational system by keeping us involved in activities that benefit us not only as individuals but as family and community members. In other words, the organization of Future Homemakers of America serves as a bridge between the classroom, the home and the community and is the key for developing the potential of each individual member for a productive life in our society."

Future Homemakers of America was founded June 11, 1945, as an incorporated, nonprofit organization supported by membership dues. Nationwide in membership and effort, it is co-sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education thru the Division of Vocational and Technical Education and the American Home Economics Association. High school home economics teachers, members of the state home economics education staff and leading home economists serve as advisors to chapter, state, and national youth officers, giving guidance and counseling to the program.

National headquarters are located in Washington, D. C. The annual state meeting of the Texas Association will be held May 3-5, 1973 in the Convention Center, San Antonio. More than 5,000 members and advisors are expected to attend.

The theme of the meeting is "Up, Up, and Away with FHA." Programs are planned to help members have a feeling of accomplishment through FHA activities. FHA is an upward looking, forward moving organization.

Highlights of the meeting include talks by Marilyn Van Derbur, former Miss America and popular youth speaker and Bunny Martin, Belton, Yo-Yo champion and humorist with an inspiring message for young people. Frederick McClure, State Future Farmers of America President, San Augustine, has written and will present an original Ceremony of Allegiance.

Members recognized for outstanding achievement will be honored at a reception on Friday evening.

HEADS LOCAL CHAPTER
Sherrie Lux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Lux, is the current president of the Future Homemakers chapter in Eldorado High. Miss Dana Owens is chapter advisor.

GOLFERS TO ELECT OFFICERS
Members of El Dorado Golf Club will hold a meeting Thursday night, March 29th, at the club house to elect officers for the new year.

STAPLES to fit standard staplers, $2.00 per box at The Success.

We Salute Our

Future Homemakers

More than 64,000 Future Homemakers of America in Texas are celebrating National FHA Week, April 1-7, 1973. The theme of FHA Week is EXPLORE ROLES - EXTEND GOALS. Activities are designed to show that Future Homemakers of America members are interested in exploring the multiple roles individuals play in family, community, and career life.

This national organization of high school home economics students provides opportunities for developing individual and group initiative in planning and carrying out activities that are related to the home and the community.

Throughout the country, FHA members are learning by doing. They contribute to the community by working as volunteers. They assist in local head start programs or with the mentally retarded and handicapped through county health and welfare organizations.

Activities at all levels—national, state, and local—are youth directed. The national youth officers elected yearly help develop and promote the national program of work and plan and preside over the national meetings. The FHA members themselves decide on their goals and purposes, and plan their own activities and projects. This provides an opportunity to develop leadership, express creativeness, and become aware of approaching responsibilities as adult citizens.

YOUR BUSINESS WILL BE APPRECIATED

The Consumer Alert

by Attorney General John L. Hill

Who is "the Consumer?" If you are reading this—the first of a series of articles which are being made available through your newspaper, you already know the answer: "The Consumer" is each and every one of us.

There is no way to break ranks, choose sides, and say, "Those are the consumer, and there are the others."

The difference is only that some consumers are more watchful about their position in the marketplace. They know that their dollars are sought, not only by the honest businessman, but by operators who offer sales and services which they do not, or cannot, deliver.

That is the reason I picked, "The Consumer Alert," as the title for this column.

It is my firm belief that every consumer—whether he or she is a service station attendant, or a secretary, or chairman of the board of a bank—can be an "alert" consumer if he receives adequate information about his legal rights, and that every consumer deserves to be protected when his rights are endangered.

Texas' Consumer Credit Code was enacted in an effort to help protect those rights, but in my opinion it is not adequate for the job that needs to be done.

As Attorney General, it is my job and the job of my Consumer Protection Division to stand at the side of the deceived consumer to enforce the Deceptive Trade Practices Act of that Code, the Uniform Commercial Code, and other laws designed to give the consumer an even break—without breaking the honest businessman.

The assistant attorneys general in the Consumer Protection Division receive between 30 and 40 consumer complaints each week—in addition to those which are lodged with district and county attorneys; local consumer protection agencies, and legal aid groups.

Our investigations show that many of the complaints reflect mere misunderstandings between consumer and creditor. The Attorney General's office is in a good position to "clear up" those misunderstandings, sometimes resulting in cancellation of contracts or refunds to the consumers.

Sometimes, however, legal action is necessary. In those cases, the only legal courses open to my office are (1) a court injunction—in which a judge orders the defendant to cease the practice complained of, or (2) obtaining a court-registered assurance of voluntary compliance, which the defendant does not actually admit to any wrong-doing, but says in effect, "I won't do it."

In either case, the action is tantamount to saying, "Go—and sin no more." There is no avenue for restitution of the money lost by the consumer. In short, there is no real remedy for the injured consumer.

That does not offer sufficient protection for the victim of fraud in the marketplace.

And, under present law, even if a consumer takes his individual problem to court, he has to prove injury, and prove that the action to which he objects occurred with intent to defraud, a difficult assignment under present law. And, he still cannot get monetary restitution.

Often, he cannot get legal representation, because most private attorneys are reluctant to add the cost of legal fees to the financial dilemma, since there is no chance for restitution, unless the client just insists on an expensive exercise in justice.

That is the reason your Attorney General has been testifying before committees of the Legislature for a bill which was proposed in the Texas Senate by Senator Oscar Mauzy of Dallas and Senator Bob Gammage of Houston, and in the House by Representative Carl Parker of Port Arthur and Representative Arthur (Buddy) Temple of Diboll.

I feel that if my office is charged with enforcing consumer protection, we must have a fair and firm way of providing a realistic service.

Next time, I'll tell you more about the proposal, and what it can mean to strengthening our efforts to protect the innocent consumer against fraud.

Weekly Market Report

College Station, Tex.—Cheese & peanut butter making inroads on dinner table "welcome" mats have something going for them.

"First class protein" describes them, according to Mrs. Gwendolynne Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

She suggested them as "excellent meat alternates," as well as eggs, tuna and dry beans, during the weeks ahead.

"With food dollars stretched to the limit, it's certainly well worth the time and effort involved to become a good shopper," the specialist added.

"For an economy class main dish, serve a macaroni and cheese casserole, or serve apples and cheese for an easy, nutritious dessert.

"Cottage cheese, a relatively inexpensive protein food, served in one-half cup portions, contains only 120 calories with about the same amount of protein as three eggs or three ounces of meat.

"Peanut butter sandwiches, popular with most kids, served with a glass of milk, provides a goodly amount of protein, too."

Turning to vegetables, Mrs. Clyatt cited carrots an "excellent selection because of the extra plentiful supply on farms in South Texas resulting in attractive prices."

Other vegetable choices include cabbage, potatoes, turnips, beets, cooking greens, rutabagas and broccoli.

"Fruit counters boast first-of-the-season strawberries, usually luxury priced, but looking very appetizing. Economical choices include bananas, pineapples, tangerines, grapefruit, oranges, apples and avocados."

In spite of increased prices, poultry remains one of the better protein buys, the specialist reflected.

"Turkey and turkey parts are featured at some markets, and this meat can be used many ways."

Beef values in general will appear on chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef, round steaks, and beef and calf liver.

Pork values are found on quarter loin sliced, shoulder roasts and steaks, smoked hams and picnics.

Meadows Unworried By Screwworm Increase

If this was the worst February for screwworms since 1969 and one which has been surpassed only three times since the sterile fly program began 11 years ago, how come Dr. M. E. "Cotton" Meadows isn't frowning?

Because he can see better things ahead, that's why.

"In fact the situation looks real good in the Mexico overwintering area," noted the director of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Project. "Way better than last year at this time when, I might add, I was able to announce with complete confidence an epidemic was developing."

The main factor keeping a smile instead of a frown on Meadows' face is the failure of the northward screwworm migration to develop in the Tampico area. "That's where the screwworm fly invasion begins when they swarm into the U. S.," he noted. "Last year at this time our maps of that area were splashed with red, indicating many outbreaks. This year there are just a few isolated patches," he gestured to a case situation map of Texas and Mexico.

"When a real outbreak is in progress you can see the red move north week by week."

Although he credits a cold winter for much of the low incidence of cases to date, there's little question the heavy fly drops from the new Tampico center are helping greatly. So far about 40-million a week are being distributed along the coastal areas of Tamaulipas and northern Veracruz.

Cotton Samples Graded
A total of 8700 cotton samples were graded at the U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Office at Abilene during the week ending March 23, 1973. This brought the season total to 439,000 samples; which compares to 245,000 samples graded by this date last season.

B. B. Manly, of the Abilene Classing Office, states that grades are surprisingly good considering the length of time cotton has been subjected to adverse weather.

Remove Mistletoe From Trees
There's still time to remove mistletoe from trees so that they will be free of the parasitic plant for the coming season.

In most instances mistletoe causes an unsightly condition and disfigurement. However, occasionally it can cause dieback and weakening of terminal limbs.

Mistletoe is frequently seen on live oak, post oak, hackberry and elm trees. It obtains water and nutrients from the tree's conductive systems that would normally nourish the tree.

Control of this parasitic plant is often difficult because a portion of it is growing into the tissues of the tree. Just simply breaking the mistletoe off the limbs is not a satisfactory means of control as it will sprout at the point of removal and produce another clump of growth.

To satisfactorily control mistletoe, remove a chip from the host limb at the point of attachment. Treat the wounded area with a tree paint to keep out wood rotting organisms.

If mistletoe is on small limbs, remove the entire limb about one foot below the area of infection. Her again, the wounded area should be painted with the tree paint.

Mistletoe can be spread by birds as well as other means. Presently there are no chemicals cleared for use that will effectively control mistletoe.

Official Texas Map Being Distributed

Austin, Tex.—To help nomadic vacationers, as well as other Texas motorists, the Texas Highway Department will begin distribution of one million copies of the 1973 Official Texas Highway Travel Map in incremental stages beginning in late February. The map is free.

Urban dwellers particularly are hitting the road for traveling vacations and three day week ends. People in campers, tent trailers and mobile homes are in search of quiet and an unspoiled spot of nature.

Camping vacationers will find this new map a treasury of information for their travels. In addition to helping with route selection map has charts that indicate specific distances between various major areas in the state and the location of the 69 state parks.

The state parks listing includes specific information of importance to campers planning a vacation itinerary. The parks are indexed to describe recreational, scenic or historical sites, with additional indexing for those parks equipped for overnight stops.

New information available on the 1973 map includes the location of three new lakes. Lake Kiowa in Cooke county near the Red River, Lake Conroe between Houston and Huntsville, and Lake Anahuac near the Gulf Coast between Houston and Beaumont, all should be of interest to vacationers.

And, for those travelers attempting to cover many miles in one stretch, the new map pinpoints an additional 26 new safety rest areas and six new comfort stations to offer a welcome reprieve from tedious driving.

Also, 79 miles of new Interstate and 96 miles of new State and U. S. divided highways have been added to the map, making it easier for travelers to plan the most convenient routes.

For instance, IH 10 now is open from the East Texas border in Orange, through Houston and San Antonio into the Hill Country near Kerrville.

The beautiful Texas Hill Country, always a major tourist attraction, is expected to attract a larger share of campers and other travelers as they visit the birthplace and the family cemetery where the late President Lyndon B. Johnson is buried.

The location of the famous LBJ Ranch is highlighted to help those travelers specifically interested in seeing the homestead of the late President.

For those tourists interested in going into Mexico, the map also outlines various toll bridges and free crossings. To help those tourists coming into Texas from Mexico there is a handy table for converting kilometers to miles and liters to gallons.

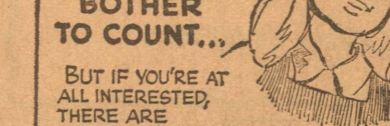

And for those tourists who wish more help in planning their travels in Texas, the map pinpoints the Highway Department's tourist information bureaus and the Judge Roy Bean Visitor Center near Langtry.

Copies of the free map can be obtained at these information bureaus and the visitor center as well as at the visitor center located in the State Capitol in Austin.

More conveniently, the maps can be ordered by the use of post cards available at county tax offices during the 1973 vehicle registration season.

The map also may be ordered directly by sending name, address and ZIP code to the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P.O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78763.

Let's Go Metric

New liquid measuring cup includes metric units.

Within 10 years it is expected that the United States will be converted to the International Metric System. Authorities agree that the first step toward switching to metric is to start thinking metric. One way for the homemaker is with Foley's new liquid measuring cup. It includes the customary cup and ounce measurements up to 2 cups (16 liquid ounces) plus metric measurements to 500 milliliters — a cook's introduction to the metric system.

There are six basic units in the International Metric system. The unit of length is meter, mass is gram, volume is liter, time is second, electric current is ampere, and temperature is Celsius (formerly called centigrade). All other units of measurements are expansions of these six base units. The entire system is based on ten and multiples or submultiples of ten. A milliliter, the measurement used for the new Foley measuring cup, for example, is one thousandths of a liter. A liter is a unit slightly larger than a quart. Five hundred milliliters measure a little more than 2 cups, or a little more than a pint. The new metric measuring cup is made in clear plastic with a convenient long handle and two pouring spouts. It is available with and without a juicer that snugly fits the top.

Bread Winner

Bake "Nectarine Nut Loaf" one day and start enjoying it the next day. It's one of those very delicately flavored breads that actually tastes better the second day.

Made with mashed fresh nectarines and chopped pecans, the loaf is highly recommended for breakfast or weekend brunch or as a snack at any time. Simply slice and spread with butter for a real "bread-winner."

NECTARINE NUT LOAF
2 or 3 fresh nectarines from California
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped pecans or roasted diced almonds

Blanch nectarines, remove peel. Mash enough fruit to measure 1 cup. Cream shortening with sugar; mix in eggs and vanilla. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; add to creamed mixture alternately with mashed nectarines, mixing well after each addition. Mix in nuts. Turn into greased and floured 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan; bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven about 1 hour. Cool in pan 10 minutes; remove and finish cooling on rack. Wrap and store overnight for best slicing. Makes 1 loaf.

HEALTH & SAFETY

SCIENCE, MEDICINE AND YOU

In an era when science and medicine are making tremendous progress combatting illness and disease, it is important to remember that consumers will always play an important role in the maintenance of individual and family health.

March 18 through 24 will mark the 12th annual observance of National Poison Prevention Week. While the statistics are somewhat encouraging, the Council on Family Health reports that some 300 or more children under age five still die each year as a result of accidental poisoning.

The poisoning problem is one area where individual responsibility is essential. The Council, sponsored as a public service by the manufacturers of medicines, urges parents to always read labels on all household products and to store potentially toxic products out of sight and reach of children. Even products with so-called safety caps should be used and stored with care since children, given enough time, can open almost anything.

Medicines which are essential to good health can only be effective when properly used by consumers. The Council advises you to always read labels and package inserts before using any medication. The label, for instance, may advise against driving an automobile for several hours following the use of a certain medicine. A label or insert may also caution against overuse or advise you to consult a physician if certain side-effects should appear.

How Appliances Guard Your Health

Most families look upon modern appliances as necessities or conveniences, but few probably realize their value in promoting good health.

Yet the same technology that has eliminated so much household drudgery also has contributed significantly toward the improvement of health in the family as well as the community.

Rose Franklin, a staff home economist with the General Electric and Hotpoint Consumers Institute, cited in a recent speech some of the numerous health benefits to be derived from the use of automatic dishwashers, food waste disposers, automatic washers and the household refrigerator and freezer.

A dishwasher, Miss Franklin pointed out, not only eliminates a time-consuming chore, it actually does wash and dry dishes hygienically cleaner than dishes washed and dried by hand. Ultraviolet tests, she said, show that more food soil is removed from dishes washed in an automatic dishwasher than is removed from dishes washed by hand in the sink or dishpan.

One of the reasons automatic dishwashers do a better job of cleaning is that they are designed to use water as hot as 140 to 150 degrees, whereas human hands can barely stand water temperatures of 110 to 120 degrees—even with rubber gloves.

The dishwasher also eliminates the need for a dish towel, Miss Franklin pointed out, which often is used for a lot of other household clean-up chores and which may become contaminated and spread germs.

The food-waste disposer pro-properly and with concern for the family's well-being relates to mental health. Since the drug abuse problem touches so many young people, it is important to show your children that you respect and appreciate good health. They are likely to carry your example with them throughout their lives. And you want that example to be a healthy one.

The new booklet, "The Care and Safety of Children," discusses the importance of child care and what parents should know about safety and health. For a free copy write to: Public Relations Dept., Council on Family Health, 201 East 42nd Street, New York, New York 10017.

Interior Secretary Morton . . .

Announces Expanded Johnny Horizon '76 Campaign

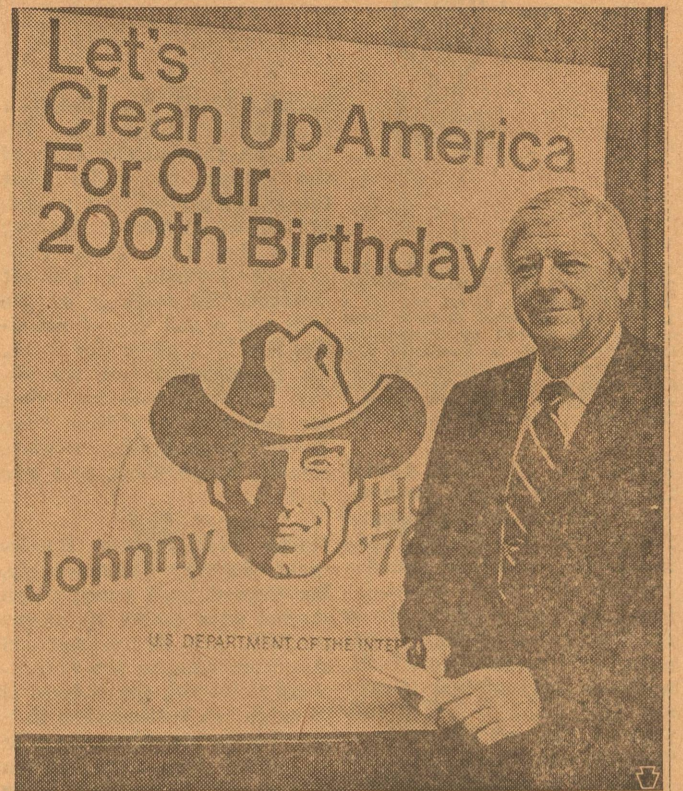

Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton has announced completion of the expansion and redesign of the nationwide, environmental action campaign, Johnny Horizon '76.

With the goal to "Clean Up America For Our 200th Birthday," Johnny Horizon '76 appeals to all citizens to embrace an "I'll help, too," attitude to prevent litter, minimize pollution and use natural resources wisely.

Supported by an Act of Congress, Johnny Horizon '76 is an expansion of a program launched in 1968 by Interior's Bureau of Land Management. It became part of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior in July 1972. On October 1, 1972, Andrew F. Wahlquist, formerly of U.S. Steel Corporation, was named national coordinator of the program.

Several government agencies have joined the Department of the Interior as cosponsors of Johnny Horizon '76 and to date there are more than 1500 other sponsors. They include chambers of commerce, schools, churches, youth groups, and conservation, civic and commercial organizations.

Citizens have responded to the campaign with a wide range of on-the-ground, action projects such as cleanups of inner-city and suburban streets, homes, rural and recreation areas, beautification projects, conservation efforts and the establishment of resource recovery centers.

With the help of Johnny Horizon '76 environmental education kits, more than 30,000 teachers throughout the country have organized classroom ecology projects, school and park cleanups and helped introduce their students to ecology.

Recently, statewide Johnny Horizon cleanup campaigns were held in Oregon, Utah, New York and elsewhere. In announcing the campaign's expansion, Secretary Morton said, "There is no greater challenge today than the challenge to clean up and protect the environment. I urge all citizens to join the Johnny Horizon '76 campaign and help clean up America for our 200th birthday — then keep it clean."

The Dreams of Spring

In a way it is too bad Tennyson gave the world his classic verse about a young man's fancy. The dreams of Spring are not only for young men . . . and they're not only thoughts of love.

In many ways Spring awakens new hopes in every heart. The surge of life is renewed. Old frustrations are forgotten. The targets of happiness seem nearer. This is particularly true during Lent.

It's a good time to think. And from our thinking to plan how best to pursue the goals we really cherish.

Spring, and Lent, is a good time to go to church . . . or to go back to church if you've been away awhile . . .

Spring is a good time to seek the Source of resurgent living.

Austin, Tex.—A widely-publicized ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court relaxed pressure on the Texas Legislature to overhaul school finance laws and the property tax system this year.

Predictions are the major revisions will be undertaken in special session—if they are undertaken at all before the 1975 regular legislative meeting.

The High Court, reversing a San Antonio three-judge federal court ruling of December, 1971, upheld property tax financing of local schools and concluded education is not a right assured by the Constitution. The lower court had invalidated the Texas system of financing schools on grounds it varied quality of education from district to district rather than fixing it on the basis of state wealth.

Gov. Dolph Biscoe and Atty. Gen. John Hill emphasized that inequities must still be abolished in public school finance. House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. and others agreed the heat on the Legislature to "act now" has been turned down by several degrees.

Bills are pending in both Houses backed by Texas Board of Education and Texas State Teachers Association to revamp finance formulas.

The bills are slated for House Education Committee hearing April 4 at 6:00 p.m.

Under the Board of Education bill, the state would assume virtually all basic education program cost over a five-year period.

TSTA's proposal calls for local districts to pay 30% (instead of the present 20%) of program costs and would require the local school districts to meet state standards for assessing property and setting tax rates.

With the heat off, legislators are not expected to rush into anything so far-reaching and controversial as school finance.

Altered Press Bills Advance

Weakened versions of open meetings and newsmen's privilege (called the "free flow of information bill"), measures moved forward last week.

HB 3—the open meetings bill—advanced to the Senate calendar with Jurisprudence Committee approval in a form criticized by the Texas Joint Media Committee and Common Cause.

Amendments to the measure are being prepared to tighten the sections on real estate transactions and attorney-public body meetings. These amendments should make the bill more acceptable to the Senate, media groups, House sponsors and other supporters of public access to information.

The "free flow of information bill" HB 10, to protect sources of information from forced disclosure was due for Jurisprudence Committee consideration after winning sub-committee approval.

Critics noted that an amendment to the open meetings bill permitting closed deliberations on "negotiated contracts" and real estate sales covers a lot of territory never contemplated in the original House bill.

The shield law as it cleared sub-committee on a 4-0 vote would permit the State Supreme Court to order source and information disclosure if it can be obtained by no other means and if withholding it would cause or threaten "substantial cause or injury, endanger public health and welfare or cause substantial injustice."

Spokesmen for the Texas Joint Media Committee said this was a "qualified" privilege, but better than the present common law that gives no privilege at all.

Reform Bill Killed

Senators crushed one of House Speaker Daniel's top reform measures—to limit powers of spending and taxing conference committees by statute—on a 10-21 vote.

L. Gov. Bill Hobby and ranking senate members maintained the conference limitation is best handled by legislative rules, and senators approved joint rules containing the recommended controls.

However, Daniel claimed failure of the bill (HB 5) "dealt pocket-books of the people a stunning blow." He said millions of dollars are written into appropriations bills at every session not approved in original House and Senate budget measures.

Senators opposing the bill argued it would open the door to a myriad of nuisance lawsuits challenging tax and budget bills.

Courts Speak

The U. S. Supreme Court held for Texas in a long-standing lawsuit over boundaries of the Sabine River between Texas and Louisiana. The Court ruling that the boundary is in the middle of the river means millions of dollars to the state and the cities of Port Arthur and Orange in oil lease revenues.

Third Court of Civil Appeals found unconstitutional the state law ordering tax payments on stolen cigarettes. That Court also upheld licensing of wholesale dealers under the liquor control act.

In a Texarkana case, the State Supreme Court upheld lower courts that a city is not liable for damages due to sewers backing up even if it is negligent.

The High Court found a murdered woman's survivors benefits under workmen's compensation insurance should go to her estranged husband.

Reversing a Tyler drunk driving conviction, the Court of Criminal Appeals held a jury couldn't alter a verdict reading "guilty" in one section and "not guilty" in another without consultation with all parties.

Appointments . . .

Governor Biscoe appointed-Louis Stumberg of San Antonio and John Green of Beaumont to the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Biscoe also announced these recent appointments:

Garrett Morris of Fort Worth to the State Board of Public Welfare. Dr. Ervin E. Baden of Austin and Raymondville as acting director of the Office of Comprehensive Health Planning.

A. J. Kemp of Fort Worth and J. Fred Buncy Jr. of Dallas and Judson F. Williams of El Paso (re-appointment) to the board of regents of Texas Tech University, Lubbock.

Fred S. Nail of Austin is associate director of the new Texas Center for the Judiciary.

Chick Morris, deputy press secretary.

Mary Nell Carlson, special assistant to the press secretary.

Attorney General's Opinions

Attorney General Hill held the new Constitutional Revision Commission is not bound by appropriations bill limitations on employee salaries or members' expenses.

Hill said the group can obtain office space, equipment and supplies either through the Board of Control or by contract.

In another recent opinion, Hill held proprietary school sureties on closing of a school for financial

The Department of Public Safety reported traffic accidents last year rose to 432,998, a 10% increase over 1971.

A record 3,639 died in Texas street and highway accidents. Another 128,158 were injured. Rural areas led in traffic deaths, but the cities had the most injuries.

Total economic loss from the accidents came to an estimated $1.35 billion, according to the new DPS report.

Types Of Ground Beef

Most meat departments offer consumers a variety of ground beef at varying prices and qualities.

Before choosing, consumers should consider ground beef differences and use. Ground beef differences range from hamburger to chopped sirloin.

Hamburger generally combines lean beef from lower grades of meat with trimmings—or fat cuts—from higher grades.

Although it usually contains the most fat and sells for the least price, hamburger makes good spaghetti, chili, meat loaf and casseroles.

Ground chuck, on the other hand, has less fat, more lean meat—and shrinks less during cooking. It creates excellent beef burgers and Salisbury steaks.

The third type is ground round. Since fat is closely trimmed, it's especially good for weight watchers. Also, it's more expensive than either hamburger or ground chuck, and, with its low fat content, ground round may be less tender and juicy than other kinds.

Ground or chopped sirloin is the most expensive of four ground beef types offered.

Noted for excellent flavor, it's often featured in special recipes and deluxe burgers. Generally though, many consumers find chopped sirloin very similar to ground chuck.

Shoppers should consider how they plan to prepare and serve ground beef.

In many cases, a less expensive type is just as suitable as a more expensive one.

Handling Ground Beef

Handle and store ground beef carefully to insure best cooking—and eating—results.

Select ground beef—and all meat—just before checking out at the grocery store. Refrigerate it as soon as possible—that means don't leave it in a warm car too long.

Ground beef stores well—either frozen or simply refrigerated. If it will be used within a day or so, ground beef can be safely refrigerated by wrapping it loosely—allowing air circulation around it.

To freeze, wrap tightly in moisture resistant material—such as heavy-duty aluminum foil or freezer paper. Frozen ground beef keeps for two to three months with little quality loss.

To thaw, simply place package in refrigerator. If faster thawing is desired, put in a watertight wrapper and place in cold water.

Both methods minimize bacteria growth. When preparing a ground beef dish, mix it as little as possible.

First blend seasonings and binding agents—such as eggs, evaporated milk and bread crumbs—in a mixing bowl.

Then crumble in ground beef. Toss lightly together for a well-seasoned, tender food.

Home Fashion's Bright Note

Home fashion's bright note is lighting. Good lighting—like all good decorating—doesn't necessarily have a high price tag. It takes more planning and knowledge than money, with emphasis on placement and direction of light, rather than amount.

Two major types of lighting are general and local.

General lighting lets us see all of a room and brings equal attention to the room and its furnishings. This type of lighting can be direct or indirect.

It's usually monotonous and seldom bright enough for reading or work, so it's often combined with the second type, local lighting.

Local lighting provides illumination in specific places for activities such as reading, sewing or cooking.

A third type—special effects lighting—achieves a decorative accent. Examples are candles, fixtures with many small bulbs that simulate candles, or fixtures which filter light through small holes.

All lighting fixtures should be appropriate in size, scale and character to the home's decor.

Proper lighting can add richness to furniture woods, sparkle to the dinner table and depth to fabric textures. It can make rooms appear more spacious and create interesting shadows or special effects for mood and atmosphere.

Ideal lighting gives the kind and amount where it's wanted or needed and enhances the home and furnishings.

Easter Seal Appeal Is Going Well

Schleicher County's Easter Seal Representative reported today that the 1973 Easter Seal Appeal of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults is going well. Raymond D. Hall serves as Easter Seal Appeal Treasurer of Schleicher county.

The 1973 Easter Seal Appeal will finance the Easter Seal Society's rehabilitation program for crippled children and adults in Texas. Last year the Society helped 16,572 disabled persons through its program of assistance in finding and making effective use of services for the disabled and their families.

The Easter Seal Society helps support 18 treatment facilities in Texas where children and adults not eligible for other assistance are treated. These centers offer physical therapy, medical diagnosis, speech and hearing programs and related services to help the disabled build happier and more useful lives.

As Easter Seal Representative, Hall is the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society. He can be contacted at First National Bank, Box 757, Eldorado.

When contacted for services, Hall will provide the request to the Easter Seal Society to investigate the needs of the disabled persons. The Society will advise the handicapped person of the best resources available to help him.

Hall added that contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal should be sent to him as soon as possible.
