Local Track Girls Win Second At State

The Eaglette track girls outran and outscored 212 of the 214 Class A and AA schools in the state to take second in the state meet. Only class AA Waco Robinson scored more points.

The 440 yard relay team ran the best time an Eldorado girls' team has ever run, but came in second to class AA Eastland. Eastland ran a 49.2 and the Eldorado relay team of Teresa Scott, Carolyn Page, Wally Joiner, and Kathy Page 49.3.

In the 880 relay it was the Eaglettes all the way as they turned in a 1:44.5 clocking. This unit consists of Wally Joiner, Carolyn Page, Irene Garcia, and Kathy Page. By winning at the state meet, this relay team finished the year undefeated. They withstood all the challengers from class B to class AAAA to win their race 16 times without a defeat.

Nursing Home Notes

We have had an active week. Monday and Thursday we had our new social activity, the happy hour. Wednesday found us playing bingo. Our big bingo winners were Frank Reed and Hattie Cox with two games each. Other bingo winners were Flossie Crawford, Ella Casbeer, and Georgia Springstun. Sam McGinnes played dominos with Fred Watson, Dick Bearce and Ben Hext. Sam and Fred won four out of four games. They didn't brag too much because I think they lost the week before.

We had a nice Mothers Day. Everyone looked so pretty. Several of our residents went out for the day. Mrs. Beulah Harris went out and had dinner with all three of her sons. Mrs. Jeff Enochs went out with her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Etheredge. Georgia Springstun stated she really enjoyed her ride with Mary Steen. Sal Marion went to Sonora to spend the day with her daughters. Mae Mercer went to San Angelo to spend the day with her family. Ella Casbeer went out to lunch with her son. Mrs. Delores Gauna enjoyed a day with her family. Mrs. Nellie Christian went out to lunch at her granddaughter's home. Mrs. Rita Ann McWhorter. Mrs. Lizza McCalla went out to her son's house for the day and stated she ate all day long and really enjoyed herself.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Irene Mills daughter of Mrs. Hallie Parker. Mrs. Sally Christian was here to visit her mother, Mrs. McCalla. Mrs. Hixie Potter's family was here to see her. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barnett from Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crump from Abilene. Mrs. Jeffrey's daughter was here to see her. Mrs. Hattie Blaylock had so many visitors we can not really be sure who was who. Mr. and Mrs. Sutton from New York State visited with Sam McGinnes.

Now, doesn't that sound like we had a busy week? We did! That's all for this week. Come see us. —Rep.

Three From Here To Attend Camp In June

Three boys from Eldorado will be given a free, one week vacation this summer at The Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas, according to Orval Edmiston, The Salvation Army Service Unit camp chairman.

Boys chosen to attend the camp this summer are Gene Rojas, Kelly Jack Kerr, and David Doran. They will leave for camp on June 9th.

"This will be an excellent experience for these boys who have never been to a real camp," Edmiston said.

"At Hoblitzelle they will enjoy boating, hiking, archery, horseback riding, fishing, swimming, handicrafts, movies, and baseball as well as worship services and Bible study."

All organized activities are supervised by coaches and counselors. The campers are housed in brick and redwood cabins and receive well-balanced meals in the camp dining hall.

"Each boy's trip was financed by the Eldorado Service Unit Committee with donations from private citizens in our community," Orval Edmiston said.

Camp Hoblitzelle is built on 360 wooded acres with a 30 acre lake and is fully equipped with modern recreational facilities. The Salvation Army operates Camp Hoblitzelle for children and families who could not otherwise have the opportunity to enjoy camp life. This summer over 4,000 are expected to attend camping sessions.

PAR - TEE—

Our congratulations to Ernestine Hext and Mary Robinson for winning the first flight in the Mountain Creek Golf Club's Ladies Partnership tournament at Robert Lee last Thursday.

The bingo party Friday night was a nice success. Watch this column for the next date of bingo.

In the mixed foursome Sunday afternoon 23 players played.

Winners of the play was the team of Chuck Adams, Gay Richardson and Gary Warnock after a sudden death play over the team of Mike Nikolauk, Ernestine Hext, Lum Burk and De Lux.

We enjoyed having Burton and Jo Lovehart and Burton's mother from Iran playing in the Mixed Foursome. We have been missing seeing them the past year.

Sunday found several couples from San Angelo practicing for the Couple's Tournament May 18 and 19. I'm sure this week most local couples will be out seeing how they can improve their game.

It was real nice to see Sandy Donaldson out Sunday afternoon watching the Sunday play. We're anxious to have him back hitting the ball again.

Delbert and I were over at Buchanan Lake over the weekend and played at Ink's Lake Golf Course. We played terribly but had lots of fun except losing the balls we did in Inks Lake. What hurt so bad was that three divers were watching us and sure enough they went after our balls. Hope they found them.

Golf is a game—a pleasant recreation that brings one into beautiful surroundings doing healthy exercise with pleasant people.

Happiness is talking long distance with your children on Mother's Day.

The doll that was raffled for the benefit of the Mexican baseball team was won by Margaret Jasso.

Medical Center Initiates Social Care Plan And Activity Program

Under the new rules and regulations recently received from the State Welfare Department there is a requirement for all Nursing Homes to have a Social Care Plan and Activity Program.

A Social Care Plan consists of two main goals. One is to reorientate the resident, keep and resident happy and made to feel that they are a useful and productive part of our community.

Under this new program we will have various activities such as arts and crafts, reorientation classes, physical therapy and an hour that will be called happy hour, which is an hour of singing, dancing and exercises to music.

In order to have an effective program we are in need of several items. A record player and records are badly needed. If anyone has a record player they would like to donate or sell please call us. We can use any items that would be useful in the arts and crafts sessions. All donations for this new project would be greatly appreciated by our residents and Schleicher County Medical Center.

If there are individuals or groups that would like to volunteer to offer their services with our new program they would certainly be welcome. You may bring the items to Schleicher County Medical Center or call Lillian Kroeger Administrator or Ruthie Dacy at 853-2547.

Little League Season Set

The Summer Little League season will get under way June 4th, with Ken Thomas as coach again this year. The team assignments of boys and schedule of games will be given in The Success soon.

A planning meeting for boys and parents was set Wednesday evening of this week at 7:00 in the school auditorium.

The Eagle Band Trip To Six Flags

The Eldorado High Band, our able bodied band director, and five sponsors, left last Wednesday for Six Flags on two chartered buses. We left promptly at one o'clock, reluctantly kissing school goodbye for three days of fun and relaxation.

By the time we reached the Gulf Station most of the eighth grade mothers had been scraped off the back of the bus and we were on our way.

Our first stop was in Brownwood where some of us bought Mothers Day presents like crystal glasses, lamps and even some cut flowers, which the sponsors were asked to hold until we got back home.

There was a small incident on our bus when word got around that we had a streaker. As it turned out Jim Bob had torn his pants and someone was sewing them up with safety pins while he waited in the restroom on the back of the bus. The driver swerved to miss a bumble bee, and threw Jim Bob out and down the aisle.

When we reached our motel in Arlington, we were assigned our rooms and everyone chose roommates. Then Mr. Mac quickly said "no" and separated the boys from the girls. After that we all went swimming, and we observed the 11:00 o'clock curfew and went to bed. That is except for room 425 and 426 where a game of Old Maid went on into the wee hours of the morning. Tim won it all off of Daniel, (Mr. Mac and Coach Quimby could not get in on the game because the stakes were too high.)

At breakfast the next morning we heard some bad news. The official weather forecaster for the Metro-Plex area, who was also the waitress at the coffee shop, predicted a six inch rain for the day, and assured us that our trip would be a dripping disaster. However, we did not get a drop.

At Six Flags Mr. Mac and Coach Quimby bought some good looking hats to protect Coach Quimby's bald head from the sun. It was awfully hard taking orders from someone wearing a red beanie.

Benjie threw darts all day and really impressed the chick who was running the place by winning 22 tiny snopy dogs. John Ford proved that all it takes to make a kid happy is a balloon. He bought $4.50 worth of them. (It sounded like Tiny Tim had invaded us.) Daniel, who is famous for his winning ability at carnivals throughout the Southwest, carried home 158 lbs. of stuffed toys. The baseball throw quickly closed down when they saw him coming. Jay bought some foot long cigars to "take home to Daddy," but the next day we could not locate any of them. He said he sold one of them to Bill and the other one just disappeared into thin air. We believed him because the thin air sure had a strong cigar odor. Derrick and Larry bought some cool looking sun glasses and a small bat to fight off the girls.

Janis, Vicky, and Toya found some groovy platform wedgies that made them taller than anyone at Six Flags. The next time we saw them though, they were barefooted. Jill and Eva Jo bought beautiful picture hats and Mr. Mac and Coach Quimby modeled them while we took pictures. Crowds began forming and people from other schools began to take pictures too. Then someone said to Mr. Mac, "Now, what did you say your name was, sugar?" and that was the end of it.

The sponsors had nothing but praise for the kids. They never did see anyone do anything wrong. (One broke her glasses, two of them lost their contact lenses, and the carpet had to be ripped up in the motel room before they could find one of them.)

They woke the kids up every morning at eight by banging on the doors, and it was only the last day that they realized they had been waking up a man in room 410 who wasn't even with our group.

Jill got her ears pierced. She was very brave. It only took Debbie, Vonda, Eva Jo and two maintenance men to hold her down while Margo did the job. She looked pretty pale but her fever never got above 103, and we all decided it was worth it.

We started home and everyone went to sleep. We stopped again in Brownwood and this is where tragedy almost struck. We nearly went off and left Jim Bob. After waiting 20 minutes he finally showed up. Mr. Mac couldn't get too mad though because he had been looking for a Mothers Day card for Mary Ann's mother. Wasn't that sweet? !!

And that is just what all these kids are—SWEET. —Rep.

The Unusual Are Common At Texas Fair

Kerrville, Tex.—How long since you made a slingshot or watched a sheep being sheared? Remember how Grandma used to spin her yarn and make her lye soap? Have you ever seen a blacksmith at work? Or a saddlemaker? Or a gun engraver?

All of these crafts will be demonstrated during the Texas State Arts & Crafts Fair on the campus of Schreiner College in Kerrville May 24-27.

Grouped into one large area bounded by gently flowing Quinlan Creek and shaded by a multitude of spreading oak trees, craftsmen from such diverse Texas localities as Cumby, Edom, Devine and Leander demonstrate how our pioneer fathers made items of beauty, necessity, comfort and pleasure.

An old-fashioned quilting bee reminds visitors of a social at Grandma's house. Knit makers at work alongside a gunsmith, demonstrate how tools of survival were made by our ancestors. A sheep shearing demonstration shows the first step to the weaving process. The intervening steps, carding, spinning and dyeing are all part of the "Cycle of Fabric" demonstrations.

Tin-type photographs are taken on-the-spot, ala 1874. Spurs, dulcimers, sourdough bread and even authentic Indian arrowheads are made for visitors to the Texas Fair.

Take a trip to nostalgia. Come to the Fair. You are sure to be reminded of a simpler time and relive history if just for a day.

On Sales Of Meat By Bulk Dealers

(by John L. Hill, Attorney General)

Austin, Tex.—Our Consumer Protection Division has received several reports from other states about some deceptive practices regarding the sale of meat by bulk meat dealers.

Some of the described tactics were observed in Texas during last year's meat price crisis and they could turn up again.

One tactic complained of in other states is the "bait and switch" technique, in which consumers are drawn to a store by low advertised prices. When they respond to the ad, the seller shows them very fat, old, or generally unattractive beef. The consumer then is shown better looking beef and urged to buy it at much higher prices.

Many people do not know that the U. S. Department of Agriculture requires that all meat be coded as to freshness.
Some bulk meat dealers sell meat by "hanging weight," without explaining that the term refers to the entire side of an animal, including all fat and bones.

Consumers should find out what the cost per pound is for take-home meat after trimming, boning and wrapping. Sometimes edible meat may amount to only half the hanging weight, so you would be paying twice as much as the advertised price for the meat you can eat.

If you're buying from a bulk meat supplier you've never traded with, it's a good idea to watch while the meat is trimmed, cut, and packaged, to make sure what you paid for is what you'll be taking home. Reports from other states indicate that dishonest dealers sometimes switch meat orders on customers.

In most of our columns—like today's—we concentrate on alerting the consumer to deceptive trade practices such as these that he should be on guard against.

The perpetrators of such schemes are a very small percentage of the business community—a percentage that the honest merchant deplores as much as the public and our Consumer Protection Division.

But instead of focusing only on the minority of merchants who deliberately TRY to confuse or deceive the public, we'd like to call attention now to an example of an entire industry that is attempting to CLEAR UP consumer confusion.

The National Live Stock and Meat Board has responded to requests from consumers who were having a hard time identifying such meat cuts as "New York" steak, "Delmonico" steak, "his and her" steaks, or "charbroil" steak.

With a total of more than a thousand such different names for beef cuts being used across the country, the problem was widespread.

The NLSMB set up an advisory committee to study the problem and recommend solutions. The committee found that a single cut of meat now can be labeled with as many as a dozen different popular names, depending on the store and the part of the country you're in.

As a result of the study, the NLSMB has adopted a new set of meat identity standards that may be used by up to 80% of the nation's supermarkets within a few months. These standards reduce the number of meat names by more than two-thirds, to around 315.

They require that each label on packages of meat in supermarkets identify the kind of meat, the wholesale cut that tells what part of the animal the meat is from, and the retail cut that consumers buy.
So you might find that the "Pike's Peak" roast you've been buying for years may soon be more accurately labeled as "Beef Chuck—Under Blade Pot Roast." But locally popular names such as "Pike's Peak" can also be included on the label, in addition to the required information, says the NLSMB. This will enable people to find their favorite cut under the new labeling system.

The committee also recommended that all hamburger be called "ground beef," that its percentage of lean to fat be shown, that only skeletal beef meat be used in it, and that an optional descriptive name (such as "Chuck" or "Sirloin") could be included on the label. A complete label might be "Ground Beef Chuck—Not Less Than 75% Lean."

Although these meat labeling standards are not mandatory, the NLSMB expects that they will be adopted by a large majority of meat suppliers.

This voluntary self-regulation by an industry is a good example of the business sector itself recognizing an area of consumer confusion and moving to remedy the situation.

If you should have a consumer problem with a business or individual, try first to talk it over. Then if the problem persists, consult our Consumer Protection Division, your local Better Business Bureau, or your county or district attorney.

Austin, Tex.—With the primary elections out of the way, the race for House Speaker is getting hotter by the day.

At least three candidates for the speakership claimed legislative races May 4 turned out in their favor, and they are now in the lead.

One, Fred Head of Troup, contended he already has the speakership won with 80 votes. During the last week, he released names of 19 representatives backing him.

Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur laid claim to having gained seven votes in the primaries—enough to give him a total of about 55.

Rep. Bill Clayton said his pick-up in the primaries "clearly established" him as the leader.

Rep. David Finney of Fort Worth hit all the claims as "phony bandwagon publicity," and urged support of his candidacy as a modern compromise.

Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville said he doubts outcome of the first primary appreciably changed the order of the candidates, and he maintained the race remains wide open. The four candidates—Head, Parker, Clayton and Finney—already have received more than $100,000 in contributions and spent about $62,000 on their campaigns.

Head raised and spent the most, $38,875 in contributions and $32,045 in expenditures. Clayton is second with $30,000 in donations and $10,208 in expenditures. Parker has raised about $20,000 and spent about $10,000, Finney $13,000 and $10,000.

Incumbents Favored

The May 4 Democratic primary was a great day for incumbents.

Not only did Gov. Dolph Briscoe win a landslide victory over Frances "Sissy" Farenthold (by nearly 70% of the disappointingly-light vote of 1.5 million), but there were no upsets of any officials in statewide or congressional primaries.

Further, only three state representatives and a single state senator were defeated in 77 House and eight Senate contests.

Republicans will make their most determined statewide bids in the governor's race with Dr. Jim Granberry, 41, of Lubbock as the nominee. Ex-Prisoner of War Nick Rowe is the GOP nominee for comptroller who will take on Democrat Bob Bullock.

Baby Clothing To Be Sorority Project

Presenting the program were Mrs. Jim Martin who spoke on grooming and Mrs. Don Scott who spoke on exercises in thinking.

New officers for the year, who were installed during the club's Founder's Day meeting are Mrs. Monroe Dacy, president; Mrs. Sam Ingle, vice president; Mrs. Leroy Hanusch, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Harris, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Williams, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. C. Berry, extension officer; Mrs. C. F. Dacy, Sunshine Girl; Mrs. Delmer Jackson, telephone girl; and Mrs. Jim Martin, parliamentarian.

Members were assigned to committees.

Mrs. Flora Hubble was named girl of the year and Nelva Martin was named pledge of the year during the Founder's Day celebration. —Rep.

Soil Stewardship Week Set For May 19-26

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's responsibility to protect and conserve oil, water, and other natural resources, will be May 19 to 26 this year. Voy Lee Butts, chairman of the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District, announced today.

This year's theme, "A Different Place," emphasized how the many changes now occurring in the nation affect our continuing responsibility to be good stewards of the land, said Mr. Butts.

Several churches in the district have planned special Soil Stewardship services during the week and a conservation tour for ministers is planned for Friday mornings, May 17, 1974.

District director Butts cited the energy shortage, environmental pollution, and the growing concern over land use as examples of changes and developments affecting the use of America's natural resources.

"We hope," said Mr. Butts, "that during Soil Stewardship Week, millions of Americans will pause for a moment to consider their responsibilities for the protection and use of the Lord's earth."

The district provides churches with programs, bulletin inserts, and copies of this year's observance booklet. This material is prepared by the National Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee of the National Association of Conservation Districts. The advisory committee is composed of churchmen of different faiths.

Nineteen seventy-four will be the 19th consecutive year that the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District, along with some 3,000 other districts throughout the nation, has sponsored Soil Stewardship Week. The custom of setting aside special "Rotation Days" for this purpose began more than 1,500 years ago in France, when French peasants prayed for help after crop failures had brought widespread hunger.

Market Report

College Station, Tex.—Egg prices skidding downward should make consumers happy this week, one authority predicts.

"Grade A, large-size eggs offer the best combination of quality and economy," according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Other economical poultry products are fryer chickens, with an increased supply of 3 to 5%, chicken hens, turkeys and turkey parts.

"At beef counters, many markets are featuring round steaks and roasts, ground beef, chuck roasts, beef liver, and perhaps rump and rib roasts.

"Pork values include shoulder roasts and steaks, hams, picnics, end-cut loin roasts and chops and pork liver. Features may offer center chops, quarter-loins cut into chops—and some brands of bacon."

Fresh fruit and vegetables in good supply at economical prices are oranges, bananas, grapefruit and pineapple, the specialist said.

"Also, cabbage, carrots, broccoli, celery, mustard greens, dry yellow onions, green onions and radishes. Asparagus is available at moderate prices, and watermelon supplies are heavier, but prices vary considerably. Since weather affects strawberry quality and price, select them carefully."

Turning to processed vegetables, Mrs. Clyatt noted that supplies are "quite small and prices have slowly increased on many items. This trend is likely to continue, since processors probably will pay more for upcoming crops and increased packing costs."

Consumer Watchwords: If there's a seven cents—or more—spread between egg sizes, the smaller size will give you more egg for the money.

Fiddler's Contest Set At Texas Fair At K'ville

Kerrville, Tex.—An Old-Time Fiddler's Contest is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Sunday, May 25 on the grounds of the Texas State Arts & Crafts Fair, Schreiner College, at Kerrville.

Located in a special area of the fair site, bounded by gently-flowing Quinlan Creek and shaded by a hundred oak trees, the contest is expected to attract approximately 35 contenders. Three judges, all approved by the Texas Old Time Fiddler's Association, will determine winners in four divisions. The top five fiddlers in each category will win trophies and prize money with $50 going to each divisional winner.

Winners will then compete for the Grand Championship, a trophy and $250. The champion will then be invited to play a duet with Chubby Wise at the evening concert of the Kerrville Folk Festival and take home another $100.

The "Fiddler's Feud," as the contest became known last year, will be free entertainment to all Sunday visitors at the Texas Fair. Admission to the grounds is $1.00 for adults and 50c for children under 12.

The 1973 Grand Champion, Dick Barrett of Pottsboro, Texas, is expected to be on hand to defend his title. Visitors can expect to enjoy some of the country's best foot-stomping, fiddle playing ever assembled at one place.

Miss Heaner was born while her father was pastor of the Methodist Church here in Eldorado.

Candidate Wolff Cites Ties To The Land

Nelson Wolff of San Antonio has continued his active campaign for Congressman of the 21st District after he emerged one of the top two contenders in the May 4th Democratic Primary. He said:

"My life has been attached to the land. My family and I know what it is like to try to make a profit in our ranching operation. In our lumber business I know what it is like to make a payroll when things are tough. I know the problems of raising a family with rapid inflation eating away at paychecks.

"I have voted in the Texas Legislature to preserve our free enterprise system by voting against a personal income tax and voted to put a limitation on welfare.

"It is time our government realizes that the American farmer, American housewife, American businessman and American consumer come first instead of currying favor with foreign powers whose admitted purpose is to compete with us both economically and militarily. We have seen the adverse effects of the Russian wheat deal which robbed the American farmer of the value of his crop and the American consumer of the value of his pay check.

"Congress is no place for a beginner. I have had four years experience in the Texas Legislature. I will provide a common sense, conservative approach to government."

Bob Krueger Visits Here Last Friday

Congressional candidate Robert (Bob) Krueger returned to Eldorado on Friday (May 10) to remind local voters that he is "the only conservative choice left in the race for U. S. Congress."

Krueger, a Hill Country native, ran first in 18 out of 32 counties in the 21st Congressional District to place him in a runoff against State Sen. Nelson Wolff of San Antonio. "More than 80% of the voters rejected the candidate of the San Antonio power establishment," Krueger told local supporters.

"It's important that we select a man who has the background and experience to represent all 32 counties in this district," emphasized the independent businessman and rancher.

Krueger, who has been emphasizing the need for all candidates to be completely open and candid with the people they hope to represent, says he will continue the same style of campaigning that earned him 35% of the votes in the May 4th Democratic Primary.

"I am the only candidate who released numerous copies of my income tax returns for the past three years. I also distributed over 300,000 copies of an eight-page, self-written newspaper supplement to let the voters know exactly where I stand on 10 important national issues," Krueger explained.

IT ENDURES!

Man can build skyscrapers and miles of highways—even go to the moon. But he can't create a tree.

A tree withstands the summer heat and the cold of winter. How many windstorms have buffeted it? How many times has it lost its leaves in autumn, only to be reborn the following spring?

A tree like this has much in common with the Church. It too has endured countless storms and has stood the test of time. And like a giant tree, the roots of the Church go deep. Stability—you can depend on it.
