STREET CAR MAN HOME.

W. D. Fuller, Superintendent of Street Car Company Home From Markets.

W. D. Fuller, superintendent of the new street car company, returned Monday from St. Louis and the north where he went a week ago to purchase material and supplies for the new street railway.

E. E. Bailey the president of the company, who accompanied him went to East Texas leaving Mr. Fuller at Texarkana. Mr. Bailey goes to purchase poles and ties. Mr. Fuller stated to the Press-News Monday evening that Mr. Bailey and himself had contracted for the immediate delivery of rails and the necessary power house equipments and that work would now be rushed. He added that San Angelo would get a street car line in a very short time and of that fact there was absolutely no doubt. Mr. Bailey expects to be home the latter part of the week. When he returns some of the material will be humming.—Press-News.

After the meeting Sunday eve, at 4 o'clock a collection was taken for R. V. Lowery and the sum of $128.00 taken in, this evidently speaks for the citizens who heard him preach. It shows that they appreciated his stay with us. There were 25 additions to the Methodist church and between 30 and 35 conversions and recitations. Every body enjoyed the meeting.

F. L. Cozzens started the road grader to work again Wednesday, on the Eldorado and Ozona road. John Fletcher is going to pull the grader with his engine. If the engine is a success it will save the county several dollars. Hurray for Schleicher county and her good roads.

County candidates must notify the chairman of the county executive committee, in writing before the 13th day of June of their desire to have their names placed on the ticket of the party. This law has the effect of cutting out all candidates for county offices after the date named, and no candidate can get his name on the official ballot after that date. If there are others in Schleicher county who intend to cast their fortunes before the primary for office they will necessarily have to act promptly.

How a Retailer Should Advertise

Take a small space in the newspaper which will reach the greatest number of the public from which you expect to draw your business and tell of the good qualities of your merchandise. Speak of the desirability of possessing or purchasing your stock. Draw attention to the superiority of your merchandise. Show plainly the advantages of trading at your store. In all these particulars be sure you stick to the plain unvarnished truth. Tell the same story over and over again in different words.

Never have the same copy appearing twice. Keep it fresh. It's no use sending copy to the newspaper once a month and never changing it during that period.

In your newspaper space you should say things that you would say to the customer who comes into your store. If you are at a loss of what to say just spend a little time each day listening to the arguments used by your salesman. If these are effective in selling goods in the store they will be just as effective in selling goods through newspaper publicity. It is the continual repetition of your story in new words that will eventually impress upon the public the fact that when your class of merchandise is wanted your store is the place for it.

Never let the public have a chance to forget you. Be always at it telling them about your goods and your store. The newspaper of today is only good for a short time. As soon as the next issue comes out the previous one is dead.

Advertising should be store and merchandise news. What would you think of a newspaper which contained the same news paragraphs day after day? It would soon cease to be of interest to you and your daily cent or two cents would be spent on another paper.

A business man in our city stopped me in the street the other day and said: "When I used to get the evening paper I looked for the latest news; but now I always glance first to see what you have to say." Get the public into the way of looking for merchandise news in your space and there will soon be a ready response to your appeals for their patronage. The writing of advertising copy becomes a pleasure and incidently results in extra profit and popularity for the store for which it is got out. It is almost unnecessary to say here that the merchandise and the store must be in line with the advertising. This is a recognized conclusion.—Printers Ink.

ABOUT CONGRESSMAN SMITH

The Colorado Record says: Congressman W. R. Smith is both able and faithful; a true servant in national congress of his people. His high personal standing at home and at Washington give him an influence beyond that of mere ability. He is popular with all classes, but most so with the farmers, largely for the interest he has taken in the postal service. He has aided in the establishment of a large number of rural free delivery routes, serving thousands of farmers and their families. When he was first elected to congress there was not a single rural free delivery route in the district. He will spend next week in the east end of the district and make speeches to the voters over there.—San Angelo Standard.

Every Man His Own Doctor.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family nor can he neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb.

Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.
