74TH YEAR

ELDORADO—SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS (76936)

Austin, Tex.—Although the 64th Legislature has done little that is spectacular, it has managed to spend about a million dollars a day on the average during its first month of operation.

Since reporting for duty here on January 14, lawmakers have passed so-called emergency measures totaling $314.8 million. And work on the new biennial budget is just getting started good in House appropriations and Senate finance committees!

A significant part of the total—$123.8 million for increased retirement benefits for state employees and school teachers—is contingent on adoption by voters of a Constitutional Amendment April 22.

The amendment would raise the ceiling on state matching contributions to the retirement systems. If voters won't permit that, the appropriation voted by lawmakers this month will be nullified.

One of the first of the appropriations bills speeded through both houses provides $93 million for immediate pay raises to state employees. More raises will be included in the budget for the new 1976-77 fiscal period.

Another $80 million was allocated as an emergency grant fund to aid school districts which are having a hard time making ends meet.

Another $18 million went to the junior colleges which have been experiencing unexpected growth. A variety of other smaller appropriations measures, totaling several million dollars more, are being acted on speedily.

Highway Funds Freed

President Ford announced he would free $2 billion worth of impounded federal interstate highway funds to help provide jobs and fight the recession.

State Highway Department officials estimated $150 million worth of projects can begin soon when the money is received.

Texas ordinarily contracts for $30 million to $50 million worth of projects monthly, but may take bids on $150 million worth in March and April to get the newly-released funds.

Meanwhile, a federal judge in Washington held the President does not have the power to impound money appropriated to the states for highways by Congress.

Texas and 11 other states filed the lawsuit which brought the new ruling.

Short Snorts . . .

Governor Briscoe, estimating Nacogoches County flood damage at $7 million, requested designation of the county as a major disaster area. Bowie, Deaf Smith, Motley and Ellis counties disaster area designation was also asked.

A bill to lift the $300 million Lower Colorado River Authority bond debt ceiling has been given Senate committee approval as an emergency.

A four-installment Senate committee hearing on a bill to raise interest rates on loans up to $5,000 finally concluded, with the measure (SB 69) referred to subcommittee.

De-Regulation Of State Oil Opposed

(Office of Congressman Krueger)

Congressman Bob Krueger announced today that he has co-sponsored a bill to exempt state-owned oil from the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act (P. L. 93-159). Noting that less than 1% of the crude oil produced in Texas is state-owned, Krueger estimated that the state is losing about $34 million per year, based on 1972 production figures.

"Under our state constitution," Krueger said, "Texas school children are the beneficiaries of the proceeds from public lands. De-regulation of this limited source of domestic crude oil would have very little effect on national prices while contributing significantly to the state funds available for public school financing," commented the new representative from the 21st District.

"Although Texas has a large budget surplus for 1974, we cannot expect large surpluses every year, and the 1974 surplus has many legitimate demands made upon it. De-regulation of the oil from state-owned land would bring some immediate and dependable relief to Texas school districts at no increase in cost to the taxpayer."

Clocks Go Forward One Hour Sunday

This coming Sunday—February 23rd—will mark conversion from Standard Time to Daylight Saving Time—with official change-over set at 2:00 a.m. Sunday.

Daylight Saving Time will be in effect for the ensuing 8-month period lasting until the last Sunday in October.

Only people working the night shift for an oil company or hospital will make the change at 2:00 a.m. Sunday, going to 3:00 a.m. The simplest way to take care of the change-over is simply to set all timepieces ahead an hour before going to bed Saturday night.

School Supt. Guy Whitaker said that school hours will be from 9:05 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. under Daylight Saving.

The new school hours will be in effect Monday morning, Feb. 24.

Farmers & Ranchers Advised Of Tax Deductions

With the March 3 income tax deadline for farmers and ranchers rapidly approaching, particular attention should be given to various deductible expenses.

Each year agricultural producers pay extra income taxes because they fail to deduct certain legitimate business expenses. Every dollar of business expense not deducted will result in a higher income tax bill.

Texas A&M University System specialists list a number of commonly overlooked expense items:

1. Allowance for space in the home used as an office.
2. Items in the home used for business—calculator, typewriter, paper and recordbooks, to name a few.
3. Postage.
4. Meals for hired labor.
5. Bank charges and interest on charge accounts.
6. Tax preparation fees.
7. Bookkeeping fees.
8. Cost of purchased livestock that was lost, stolen or died during the year.
9. Auto and truck expenses, such as licenses and insurance, according to the portion used for business.
10. Costs of utilities, telephone service and other service charges that pertain to the farming and ranching business.
11. Subscriptions to farm and ranch and related magazines.
12. Farm organization dues.
13. Expenses incurred on business trips, and that portion of vacation travel that related to business.

The key to preparing an income tax return that most correctly reflects your farming or ranching operation is to have a good record-keeping system. Such records should indicate all items purchased for business. These items should be paid by check whenever possible to have a record of payment.

Gardeners Urged To Conserve Fertilizer

Home gardens are appearing in backyards, flower beds and on patios all over Texas. And with continued high fertilizer costs due to low supplies, homeowners should give special attention to conserving fertilizer.

Sam Cotner, vegetable specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, offers these suggestions:

1. Have soil tested. Many home gardens are already fertile enough to produce good yields of most vegetable crops. Soil samples may be sent to the Soil Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M University. Information is available at any county Extension office.
2. Apply only light applications of fertilizer at planting time. In absence of a soil test, use 1½ to 3 pounds of a complete fertilizer, such as 8-8-8, 10-10-10 or 12-12-12, per 100 square feet of garden area. Thoroughly mix the fertilizer with the soil. Use organic fertilizer and compost whenever possible.
3. If at all possible, use mulch in the garden to aid in moisture retention and to prevent leaching of plant nutrients.
4. If vegetable plants appear to grow slowly or lack good color, sidedress lightly with a quick-acting fertilizer. Sidedress leafy crops such as lettuce, cabbage and greens after they develop six to eight leaves. Fruiting crops such as tomatoes, peppers and squash will respond to light applications at flowering. Avoid over-fertilizing or allowing fertilizer to come in contact with plants or roots.

Home gardening can be expensive and fertilizer is one of the more costly items, points out Cotner. Therefore, it should be used wisely.

Cattle Slaughter Jump Expected

The slaughter of grass-fed cattle, calves and yearlings increased sharply during the past year due to high feed costs and low prices for feeder animals.

Will there be a change in 1975? "The same trend in commercial slaughter will continue, but increases will be even more drastic than in 1974," points out Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Since there will be fewer animals moving to feedlots, beef supplies will come primarily from bulls, cows, calves, and non-fed steers and heifers," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Uvacek expects the slaughter of non-fed or grass-fed steers and heifers to increase a whopping 56% over 1974, while calf slaughter should increase 33% and cow slaughter 32%. The slaughter of bulls is expected to increase 12%. On the other hand, the specialist sees little change in the level of fed steers and heifers available for slaughter in 1975.

A total of 42 million head of cattle are expected to move to slaughter in 1975, an increase of 14% over the past year. An additional four million head of calves will also be slaughtered, up a million head from 1974.

"All this points to a reduction in the nation's beef cattle herd which has grown too rapidly in the past two years. The resulting oversupply situation has been largely responsible for current low market prices," contends Uvacek.

Onions—Food Flavor Enhancers

In spite of certain social hazards there are many who take their onions raw. A big slice of mild, sweet onion does wonders for a sandwich and goes well with black-eye peas and cornbread.

Onions are most prized as a seasoning agent for soups, stews, stocks, stuffings and sauces. They add zest to casserole dishes, too. Onions can stand alone as a side dish—baked, scalloped, creamed, glazed or french fried.

Onions are usually classified as mild or strong, fresh or dry. Dry onions in many colors and shapes, are the most important commercially.

The best formula for selecting dry onions is to pick those that crackle, are bright, clean, hard and well shaped.

Moisture at the neck of the bulb indicates decay. Misshapen onions are objectionable largely because there may be more waste.

Canning Supplies For Spring Garden Produce

There's nothing tastier than home-grown fruits and vegetables—but it takes the right canning equipment to preserve their natural freshness for eating during the rest of the year.

Pressure canners for low-acid vegetables—green beans, corn and greens—may be purchased at different prices depending on size.

The 16- and 20-quart sizes are popular. Pressure saucepans with 10-pound gauges are also satisfactory for canning.

High acid foods such as fruits and tomatoes require a waterbath canner of about seven-quart size. Jars, lids and rings, which were in short supply should be plentiful later in the year.

Other useful equipment would include a wide mouth funnel, slotted spoon, cutting board, measuring cups, colander or strainer and basket or blancher for scalding.

Consumer Market Report

Retail beef prices dipped in the past two weeks, and most stores have even lower, "special" prices on various cuts of mature and baby beef, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reports.

Consumers should check ads for family preferences, the consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service advised.

"Best values will appear on round steaks and roasts, ground beef, chuck roasts, calf and beef liver."

Retail pork prices remain at higher levels—with best prices on smoked hams, end-cut rib chops and roasts, the Texas A&M University System specialist added.

At poultry counters, fryer chicken supplies are ample at slightly higher prices. Even so, serving chicken three or more times weekly will likely cut most families' food budgets, Mrs. Clyatt noted.

"Vegetable selections include abundant supplies of broccoli, dry onions and potatoes—with prices on potatoes substantially lower than a year ago.

"Cabbage, carrots, turnips and celery supplies are about the same.

"Canned vegetable prices are not down, but specials are expected on many of these products," she predicted.

Processed fruits also will have special prices—especially canned pears, apple juice, red cherries, cling peaches, pineapple, fruit cocktail and frozen strawberries, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"Good fresh-fruit buys include oranges, grapefruit, apples and winter pears, particularly D'Anjou.

Consumer Watchwords: Buy meat according to cost-per-serving—rather than cost-per-pound.

EASTER SEAL APPEAL LETTERS TO BE SENT BY MAIL THIS WEEK TO CITIZENS

Easter Seal Appeal letters are being delivered this week, according to Raymond D. Hall, the Schleicher County Easter Seal Representative of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. The Representative serves as contact for disabled persons needing Easter Seal rehabilitation services and also serves as Treasurer of the Easter Seal Appeal in the County.

The Easter Seal Society offers physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs, and special equipment loans to enable disabled persons to make the best use of their abilities to overcome handicaps. These services are financed by the annual Easter Seal Appeal and Fall Membership Drive.

The Society finances public education programs, provides scholarships for training of professional personnel to staff rehabilitation centers, and helps provide for National research into the causes and cures of crippling conditions. Hall pointed out that all these programs are important if Texas is going to continue to provide the best in rehabilitation services for its own disabled citizens.

During 1974, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services for 20,152 children and adults who were in need of assistance. Easter Seal services are available to any disabled person who can benefit from help provided by the Easter Seal Society, and who do not qualify for any other assistance. Self-mailing requests for assistance are available through the Representative.

The Easter Seal Campaign will continue through Easter Sunday, March 30th.

TRAVEL TIPS AND TRICKS

FAMILY VACATION FUN

When you're traveling with the husband and kids, there's no need to stick together in museums or shopping markets. Your interests may not be the same. Separate and compare notes afterwards.

Since you will probably send more postcards than letters, buy the cards early in your trip.

address all of them and carry them with you. Then during snatches of waiting time — on a sightseeing bus before the start, at railway stations and airports — you can write the messages.

Enjoy the local atmosphere wherever you stop. At Holiday Inns, you can enjoy native foods and stay in authentic surroundings without giving up the comfort and convenience of an American hotel.

In countries where an afternoon siesta is part of the daily routine, avoid going to sleep immediately after a heavy meal. Walk it off a bit, first.

Winning Ways With Wool

TIPS TO HELP YOU MAKE A BETTER BUY

How can you sew up your place in the fashion scene without spending a small fortune? If you know how to sew you can often save 50% or more by making your own clothes.

Since you can save so much by doing the labor yourself, you can afford to use quality fabrics you may not be able to afford in ready-made garments. The cost can often be just two or three dollars more per garment to get a much finer fabric.

Most wool fabrics come in 54" to 60" widths—so you get more fabric for your money. And wool is easy to work with—it lies flat, drapes well and eases well to give better contour and fit. And some Woolmark and Woolblend Mark fabrics are washable for easy care. Here are some tips to give a professional look to your projects.

1. Show your individuality by choosing the fabric and style that says "you." Wool fabrics come in a myriad of colors, patterns and prints and a weight that's right for every season and every climate.

2. If your fabric is washable, make sure you use washable linings and findings.

3. If you use a napped fabric, be sure the pattern pieces are all placed in the same direction.

4. And of course, be sure to match plaids and stripes at seams.

You put a lot of time and effort into the clothes you sew, so why not get the most and use a quality fabric like wool. It's in a class by itself.

People once thought that the liverwort fern was good for the liver.

The Irish once believed that children and animals could be bewitched by a spirit that would rhyme them to death.

In Korea, headaches were supposed to be cured with chrysanthemum roots.

In parts of England it's believed that a person who picks marigolds will take to drink.

The Spanish Inquisition burnt its victims because it believed it's wrong for the church to shed blood.

Somebody's trying to take something that belongs to you.

Right here in Texas

In fact, somebody's trying to take something that belongs to all of us: freedom of speech. Somebody's undermining your right to communicate, to listen, to have all available information on a given subject.

Somebody's trying to tell certain Arkansas companies they may not advertise their services.

But advertising is just another word for communication. It is public information; it gives you a choice. It encourages new and better ways of doing things and helps continue the development of newer, better and more economical consumer goods.

Now, however, the right of certain Texas companies to communicate with their customers is in danger. This could ultimately have more far-reaching effects on free speech as we know it.

Right now, we want you to think very long, very hard and very deeply about advertising and about the good it does in America. We want you to think about its effect on business, on your own entertainment, on radio, television, newspapers and magazines, on your right to know.

We want you to think about the effect advertising has on your company's sales, and how the sales of your company affect your own life-style.

Right now, we want you to think very long, very hard and very deeply about the issue of free speech. Then we want you to write Governor Dolph Briscoe, State Capitol, Austin, Texas 78711, and your legislators and your friends and tell them how you feel.

The ball is in your hands. It's up to you not to drop it.

Advertising is everybody's business.

There are many labels for excellence in every corner of the world. Right here in America the most popular cocktail is the gin martini and an increasing number of Americans who recognize and appreciate excellence are ordering a Beefeater martini, which is made from a superb distilled dry gin imported from London. Interestingly, the martini has found an increasingly new popularity among young adults, particularly in Southern California.

Helpful ideas from the International Lutheran Laymen's League

WIN FRIENDS 3 WAYS

The real secret of an attractive personality is to offer other people the food they're hungry for.

Here are three basic hungers that all normal humans have. You might call this the "Triple-A" technique for winning friends. For when you use these three "A's," with an understanding of what is behind them, you'll find more and more people automatically warming up to you.

1. Acceptance. Accept people as they are. Allow them to be themselves. Don't insist on anyone being perfect before you can like him. Don't fashion a moral strait jacket and expect others to wear it in order to gain your acceptance. Above all, don't bargain for acceptance. Don't say, in substance, "I'll accept you if you do this or that, or change your ways to suit me."

2. Approval. Look for something to approve in the other person. It may be something small or insignificant. But let the other person know you approve that, and the number of things you can sincerely approve of will begin to grow. When the other person gets a taste of your genuine approval, he will begin to change his behavior so that he will be approved for other things.

3. Appreciation. To appreciate means to raise in value, as opposed to depreciate, which means to lower in value. Let other people know that you value them. Treat other people as if they were valuable to you. Don't keep them waiting. Thank them. Give them "special," individual treatment.

For a free pamphlet called "Three Cheers," based on a sermon of radio's "The Lutheran Hour," write to: Room 220, International Lutheran Laymen's League, 2185 Hampton Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63139.

The Board of Directors of the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District in their regular monthly meeting, Thursday, February 6th, received and approved a $25,000 Great Plains contract on the Mark McLaughlin ranch, and assigned three Great Plains applications to medium priority on 5,873 acres.

Directors discussed Soil Stewardship Week which has been set nationwide for the week of May 4-11, 1975. Soil Stewardship Week is sponsored by Soil and Water Conservation Districts throughout the United States. Directors made plans for ordering stewardship material for churches in Eldorado and Christoval to use during the week of May 4-11.

At their monthly meeting, directors in cooperation with the Texas Conservation Awards Program, read and placed the top three essays that were written in the Eldorado and Christoval high schools. The district gives local prizes of $15 to the first place winner, $10 to the second place winner, and $5 for the third place winner. Three prizes are given locally each year to the first three place winners in the Eldorado & Christoval schools. The winners this year are as follows:

- Eldorado—
 First Place .....Britt Bunguardner
 Second Place .....Maria Cavuoti
 Third Place .....Karen Rountree
 Christoval—
 First Place .....Cary Baker
 Second Place .....Bentley Kennedy
 Third Place .....Irma Hernandez
 The directors judge their own local essays and the best essay is submitted to Fort Worth for state-wide competition. A $100 cash award and a trophy is awarded to the state champion. Britt Bunguardner was the overall winner in this district this year. His essay is being sent to Fort Worth.

"Conservation Key To The Future"

By Britt Bunguardner
 The first question that comes to my mind is, what is conservation? After thinking on the subject, I believe I have arrived at a satisfactory answer. I think conservation includes many things. Conservation is preservation, protection, reproduction, restoration, and utilization. Conservation involves research, conservation is good citizenship applied to the use of natural resources.

Now, our nation's natural resources are being used faster than they are being rebuilt. The Soil Conservation Service estimates we are letting 500,000 acres of cropland erode into ruins each year. We have ruined one-fifth of our original tillable land, badly damaged one-third, and one-half of the remainder is in danger.

The main part of the timbered areas have been decimated; the tall grass prairie is practically extinct. Everyone is acutely aware of the many shortages; farmers, and ranchers, in particular, have been plagued by shortages of needed materials.

Now, for the first time the trend has been reversed. Americans have been convinced that our natural resources do have a limit and must be protected.

Different types of conservation and resource management departments have sprung up only to discover that they cannot work only for their own prime interests; they must cooperate with other departments to obtain their goals.

They have found that each figure in the environmental picture is dependent upon the other phases of nature. Soil and plants require water; water depends upon soil and vegetation to maintain an adequate supply. Wildlife cannot live without the whole complex; the environment requires wildlife to maintain a proper balance.

A quote from Governor Briscoe must apply to our position on natural resources in the future. His words were, "We must waste nothing."

Many Malays firmly believe that their king possesses a personal influence over the works of nature, such as the growth of the crops and the bearing of fruit trees.

In Ireland, a necklace of 9 elderberries was once considered a cure for epilepsy.

Some people say that buttercups mixed with salt and hung from the fingers will cure toothaches!

Which CRUMBLES First?

Here stands what remains of a Grecian temple dating to 300 B.C.

Which crumbles first — the civilization or its religion? Do spiritual foundations collapse because a culture is in trouble? Or do cultures deteriorate because their spiritual foundations are collapsing?

To historians it's like the question about the chicken or the egg.

My main concern is our own civilization. This involves my family and the contribution we can make. We have a Bible — we read it! We have a Faith — we try to live it!

My religion makes me conscious of the dangers of today's civilization. Yet, I am an optimist . . . especially on Sunday when my family is at church . . . and when we see your family there too!
