AND-S-AND

The sign & is called the ampersand from the phrase "and per se and" or "& by itself means and." The character is believed to have originated as an abbreviation of the Latin et meaning "and." It is pronounced Am-per-sand.

BODY'S LARGEST ORGAN
Skin is the largest organ of the human body. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, the skin of an adult weighs about six pounds.

Elegant Homemaking

BRIDE'S PRIDE
According to an old saying, every bride is beautiful, and all those beautiful brides probably want a beautiful wedding to remember and beautiful things to help them remember it beautifully.

Some of those beautiful things can only be memories, but some you can take along with you. Few of the loveliest things about your wedding can actually be held in your hand, but if anything captures the splendor of the moment, it's beautiful china and crystal that chimes like a wedding bell.

To preserve for you that special feeling of being the guest of honor at your own table, Fostoria crystal and Pickard China are made with extra care, here in America. Many consider Fostoria the finest American crystal and believe that no other has a greater heritage of quality and craftsmanship.

For more information, see your bridal consultant or write for a color pattern brochure to: Fostoria-Pickard, Moundsville, West Virginia 26041, because a bride could see a lot of beauty in her future if, at present, she does a little crystal gazing.

Camping The Easy Way

Campers are the lucky ones who enjoy the grandeur of the great outdoors as they cook, eat and almost live in all the beauty outside. Part of the delight is when food smells come wafting through the campsite as the chef in charge gets out the skillet and fixes the fire.

An unusual pork and beans scramble is simply delicious, seasoned just as the family likes it. A colorful Mustard and Catsup Set by Tupperware is set outside, so each person can add the condiments he likes. Stacking canisters (in avocado or harvest gold), another modern outdoor necessity, are responsible for the ease of the campers' cooking since they keep foods fresh, crisp and just the way they are supposed to be. Candy, crackers, staples, baked goods and the like are sealed tightly into the 2-quart plastic containers and kept handy in the camper. Nothing spoils! Camping the easy way guarantees delectable dinners, striking scenery and happy holidays for all!

Western Style Beans

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 3/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 3/4 cup catsup
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 16-ounce cans pork and beans

In a 10-inch skillet, brown beef, onions and green pepper. Stir in catsup, mustard and salt. Add beans and heat through. Makes 8 servings.

Easy Way To Mole

The chocolate is a surprise ingredient only to those who are not familiar with Mexico's scrumptious mole.

Perfect for a summer party is this simplified version of Mexico's glamorous national dish, Turkey (or Chicken) Mole.

Almonds are essential in Mexican cookery and contribute their usual crunchy elegance to this colorful main dish.

Mole Norteamericano

- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 cup slivered almonds
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/8 teaspoon cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 oz. unsweetened chocolate, coarsely chopped
- 2 cans (7 oz. each) green chile salsa
- 1 can (15 or 16 oz.) tomato sauce
- 2 cups bite-size pieces cooked turkey or chicken
- 4 portions hot cooked rice
- 1 avocado, sliced
- 1 orange, sliced
- Slivered almonds (additional)
- Dairy sour cream

In oil, sauté almonds, onion and garlic 10 minutes over medium-heat, stirring often. Stir in next 6 ingredients; heat, stirring, until chocolate melts. Purée mixture in blender. Return to skillet, stir in turkey; simmer about 5 minutes. Serve over rice and garnish with avocado, orange, additional slivered almonds and dollops of sour cream.

Makes 4 generous servings.

Cherries Sparkle In Custard Ring

Plump and sparkling Northwest fresh sweet cherries fill the center of a delicate baked custard ring. Served chilled, this refreshing dessert will be a favorite for hot summer days.

The season for fresh sweet cherries from the Pacific Northwest begins in mid-June and continues into August, with the peak supply in July. To keep them at their best, store fresh sweet cherries in plastic bags in the refrigerator. Wash only as they are used.

Because the fresh sweet cherry season is so short, plan to freeze some of these summer jewels for year 'round enjoyment. Simply pack whole washed cherries into freezer containers, leaving pits and stems intact. Cover securely and freeze. Pitted cherries may also be frozen, using either a dry sugar or syrup pack.

Sweet Cherry Custard Ring

- 2 cups Northwest fresh sweet cherries
- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups milk, scalded
- Mint, for garnish

Store fresh sweet cherries in plastic bag in the refrigerator until time to use. Wash just before serving. For custard, combine eggs, sugar, salt and vanilla. Cool milk slightly and add to egg mixture. Pour into buttered 3-cup ring mold. Place in shallow pan containing 1/2-inch hot water. Bake at 325 degrees for 40 minutes.

Summer Entertaining

by Martha Logan

The outdoor covered grill makes summer entertaining easy and important, too, when the menu features a golden brown roast turkey. Using the grill keeps the kitchen cool and lets the cook be outdoors.

The outdoor feast can be completed by serving summer vegetables cooked in foil on the grill. A casserole of sliced zucchini squash, tomato and onion will require about 45 minutes. Favorite breads and fruits will balance the meal.

After the feast, what's left may be no problem. A good way to use the leftover meat is in a cucumber cool turkey salad. It makes a refreshing luncheon dish for family or guests.

Cucumber Cool Turkey Salad

Yield: About 4 cups

- 2 cups cubed roasted Butterball Swift's Premium Turkey
- 1 cup chopped cucumber
- 1/4 cup sliced pimiento olives
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- 3/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- Blue cheese, optional

Toss together turkey, cucumber, olives, green pepper, celery and eggs. In a small bowl blend mayonnaise, onion, salt and lemon juice. Combine with turkey mixture. Chill. Before serving, crumble blue cheese over the salad, if desired.

MANAGING YOUR FAMILY'S FINANCES

By Dr. Carl F. Hawver

Q. This has not been a good financial year for my family. Everything seemed to go wrong and now I'm pretty far in debt. I haven't panicked, but I just don't know what to do. What do you recommend?

A. Well, you've made a good start by recognizing the danger signals. First, have a family conference. Everyone old enough to understand should be told that the family has a financial crisis. They're a part of the action and they need to be told the truth.

Your family should, of course, immediately stop any new credit use. You can't borrow yourself out of a crisis. Next, develop a bare bones budget. This will permit you to meet basic necessary expenses and to begin paying off those credit obligations.

Finally, contact the creditors. Tell them your problem and that you are facing up to it. Advise them what you are able to do with respect to the debts you owe, but don't promise anything you can't deliver. If you are serious, they will likely accept a part payment while you are getting organized. If your debts are not too substantial, and your credit is good, they may offer you a consolidation loan to lower your monthly payments. Remember, be honest with yourself and with your creditors — and develop a plan for recovery.

Dr. Carl F. Hawver, Executive Vice President of the National Consumer Finance Association, is a widely recognized counseling expert in family money and credit management.

Serving A Berry Cheesy Quick Bread for dessert is one way to help your family meet its daily bread requirement. Prepare the coffee cake with "enriched" flour and everyone gets the benefit of three essential B-vitamins - niacin, thiamine and riboflavin - plus that important mineral, iron.

Virus Diseases Bring

Garden Problems

Many virus diseases occur in the home vegetable garden, and there is little that can be done to control them once they occur.

Although viruses attack many plants, those commonly afflicted include beans, tomatoes, peppers, potatoes, Southern peas, squash, mustard and turnips.

Viruses can be identified by mosaic of the leaves (mottled appearances), ring spots on the foliage and sometimes on the fruit, yellowing of the foliage along with possible bronzing and reddening, and stunting of plants.

Virus diseases in home vegetable gardens are primarily spread by insects. Aphids and leafhoppers are mainly responsible. Therefore, insect control is important to the prevention of virus diseases.

Virus diseases can also be spread by contaminated clothing or hands. Tobacco mosaic can be spread to tomatoes by someone who has smoked recently.

Other viruses are spread by contaminated seeds, so the use of certified seed is important.

Weeds can also serve as hosts to viruses, so a year-round weed control program is important to reducing virus infestations.

Proper attention to maintenance practices around the home garden, including the control of weeds and insects, will go a long way in reducing virus problems on vegetable crops.

Harvest Vegetables On Time

After putting a lot of hard work into that vegetable garden, it's important to harvest crops at the proper time.

Produce that is picked too soon can be either too tough or too tender and often lacks in flavor or substance. That which is harvested too late may also be tough, fibrous or squashy, depending on the crop. Once produce passes its peak of maturity, its flavor begins to decline.

Many vegetable crops should be harvested on a regular basis as they will mature over a period of time. Certain crops such as okra, squash, tomatoes, beans and cucumbers can be harvested every two or three days.

All vegetables can be easily picked or snapped off the stalk or vine. However, care should be used not to damage the plants. It may be best to use a knife when harvesting certain crops such as okra and eggplants. Also use care to avoid stepping on vines or breaking stems when harvesting vegetables.

We advise harvesting vegetable crops when the foliage is dry to avoid spreading disease spores that may be present. Wilted plants should not be harvested since harvesting creates wounds which increase water loss from the plants.

Freshly harvested vegetables should be moved to a cool location and preferably placed in the refrigerator. They should be used as soon as possible, whether they are to be consumed as fresh vegetables or are for canning or freezing.

To get the most enjoyment from home grown vegetables, harvest them on time for a taste-satisfying delight.

A change of fortune hurts a wise man no more than a change of the moon.

Consumer Scene

Tips On Home Food Preservation

There are so many inflation-conscious consumers these days that a shortage of canning jars and lids in many areas threatens to put a crimp in the home canning plans of some families who have carefully nurtured an Anti-Inflation Garden to the harvest season.

But there is an alternative way to put up that bumper crop of vegetables—freezing. And many home economists feel it is not only easier but safer than canning.

Here is a quick checklist on food freezing from General Electric's Consumers Institute:

- Be selective. Choose only top-quality fruits and vegetables at their peak of ripeness. Freezing maintains quality, but cannot improve it.

- Plan ahead. Some foods are better wrapped in individual-sized portions, others in family-size.

- Wrap it well. Wrapping material should be moisture and vapor proof to prevent drying; be careful not to puncture the wrap.

- Label packages to show quantity, intended use, and date.

- Check freezer temperature. Food should be frozen at a temperature near zero and stored at a temperature that is maintained below 8° F.

- Don't freeze too much at one time. Overloading will raise the temperature. Add only about 1/10 the capacity of the freezer each day. Place the foods you intend to freeze at the sides and back. Use oldest foods first.

- Most fruits and vegetables can be kept frozen 8 to 12 months without affecting flavor or quality.

If you're one of the lucky ones who have the necessary equipment for canning, the Consumers Institute offers these guidelines:

- Don't experiment! Use only tested, approved methods. Follow all time and temperature specifications precisely. If in doubt, err on the side of higher temperature or longer cooking time.

- Use only jars, cans and lids made specifically for home canning. Don't try to reuse old peanut butter or mayonnaise jars.

- Do not reuse sealing lids; the rubber may deteriorate, preventing proper seal. Rings can be re-used.

- Do not overpack foods; trying to get too much into a jar may result in under-processing and spoilage. Leave one inch of "head space."

- Before using canned foods check for leaks, bulging lids, off-odors, off-colors, or any sign of mold. When in doubt, throw it out! Never use any canned foods showing any sign of spoilage. Whatever you do, don't taste-test!

- To be extra safe, boil home canned vegetables for at least ten minutes before serving.

Oil Price Controls

WASHINGTON—If a hostile foreign power wished to cripple our efforts to attain energy independence, it would be hard pressed to do more damage than the liberal majority in Congress already is doing.

America has become dangerously dependent on foreign sources of oil. We have to import about 40 per cent of the crude oil we use, and the $25 billion we have to pay OPEC to get it is depressing our economy, worsening inflation and wreaking havoc with our balance of payments.

What Congress should be doing to keep this bad situation from getting worse is to provide incentives to increase domestic production of energy, and to take measures to curb energy use.

But Congress instead has mounted an assault on common sense and elementary economics that began in March with the virtual repeal of the oil depletion allowance.

The result of THAT folly already is clear. Drilling activity in Texas and other oil producing states has dropped off sharply. Oil rigs which at this time last year were probing the earth for new sources of oil are standing idle. The major oil companies have announced sharp cutbacks in domestic exploration. The high risk capital needed to finance "wildcat" expeditions is drying up.

It is hard to imagine a blow more damaging to domestic oil production than the repeal of the depletion allowance, but Congress has come up with one: the Petroleum Price Increase Limitation Act of 1975.

Up until now, we have had a two-tier pricing system for domestic petroleum. While the price of "old" oil has been held artificially low, the price of "new" oil has been allowed to rise to freemarket levels. This two-tier system has introduced distortions into the oil market and has hampered development of energy resources.

In order to spur domestic production, President Ford plans a step-by-step reduction of controls on "old" oil. A recent federal study indicated that decontrol would increase our domestic oil recovery by 10 billion barrels per year, which would reduce the amount we would have to pay to OPEC by $8.5 billion per year.

But Congress seems determined to see that OPEC will get not only that $8.5 billion, but a lot more as well. The Petroleum Price Increase Limitation Act not only would bar the lifting of price controls from "old" oil, it would slap controls on "new" oil as well.

It follows logically that if controls on old oil limit production, controls on new oil will limit it further. It requires no great expertise in economics to see the relationship. But Congress, alas, has no great expertise in economics.

Fluorescent Light Saves Money And Energy

Well-planned fluorescent lighting in the home is a boon to money and energy conscious consumers.

For years fluorescent lighting has been standard in commerce and industry because of its efficiency. Now recent tests in a model home which used more efficient fluorescent lamps instead of incandescent lighting showed a 45% savings in electricity costs.

Tests in this model home, designed by the National Association of Home Builders with the help of a lighting specialist, measured electricity costs in each room where fluorescent was used. These were compared with a similar incandescent lighting system.

Savings realized from the use of fluorescent lighting ranged from 29-66% per room—for an average of 45%.

Previous consumer complaint about fluorescent lighting are aesthetically related and can usually be attributed to a poorly designed installation or improper choice of light color.

Most of these can be corrected merely by using the more flattering colors of fluorescent lighting—deluxe warm white and deluxe cool white.

Considering advantages and savings of fluorescents can help consumers in planning new homes or in remodeling existing housing.

Getting The Freezer Ready

Freezers need defrosting and a thorough cleaning before storing the new crop of fruits and vegetables. Consumers should consult their freezer use care booklet. If it's misplaced, here are some suggestions:

Unplug the freezer and remove all frozen food. Store the food in a cardboard box or wrap newspapers around it to prevent thawing.

Place clean towels in the bottom of the freezer. Pour cold tap water along the sides to thaw the frost. Using a wooden spoon may help loosen the frost, but don't use metal because it will scratch the lining of the freezer.

As the towels absorb the water, wring them out and replace. When all frost has been removed, wash the inside with one quart warm water to which one tablespoon baking soda has been added.

Rinse with clean water and wipe dry. Replug freezer and wait about 30 minutes before replacing the food.

Turning to other freezer use reminders...

Take an inventory of food and place the packages which have been stored longest at the top or front. Now is a good time to match up polyethylene freezer boxes with their lids. Then when it's time to package the foods, this job is done.

Most homemakers prefer using the plastic freezer bags with cover boxes. This protects the bag from getting holes in it during storage and freezes in a uniform shape for a better fit.

This season may be a good time to purchase a blancher. Since it's necessary to use one gallon of water for each pound (pint) of vegetables, a large blancher may be the best kind to buy.

A water bath canner is suitable also. Some homemakers use a deep fat fryer basket or improvise a blanching bag from a clean white cloth.

Sports fans may find their title in controversy. Some word experts say fan comes from fanatic, others that its from fancy, the gentlemen who frequented prize fights in bygone days.

It is possible to go wrong in many ways, but right in only one. The former is thus easy and the latter difficult.

PICNIC MORNING

Happiness is a picnic morning. Happiness is a day spent with the family. Happiness is walking and talking and sharing the fun and beauty of God's world with those you love.

A picnic is always a happy idea. Somehow, just getting away from the daily routine does wonders. The sound of a cool waterfall, the rustle of a bird on the wing, the warmth of a friendly sun: all of it makes you "come alive" with a new kind of freshness.

There is another place where we all may renew our strength for the times we live in. The atmosphere, fellowship, and inspirational teachings of your church will do much to keep you walking happy. Spend next Sunday morning in church.
