One of the most pathetic spectables in American life is that of the faded, outgrown wife standing helpless in the shadow of her husband's prosperity and power, having sacri ficed her youth, beauty and ambition-nearly everything that the feminnine mind holds dear -to enable an indifferent selfish, brutish husband to get a starte in the world,

It does not matter that she burned up much of her attractiveness over the cooking stoye: that she lest more of it at the washtub, and in scrubbing and cleaning, and in rearing and caring for their children during the slayery of her early married life, in her unselfish effort to help him get on in the world. It does not matter how much she suffered during those terrible years of poverty and privation; just as soon as the selfish husband begins to get prosperous, fin is that he is getting a long in the world, feels his power, he often begins to be ashamed of the woman who has sacrificed everything ta make his success posible.

It dies not matter that the wife sacrificed her own opportunity for a career, that she gave up her most cherished ambitions in order to make a ladder for her husband to ascend by. When he has once gotten to the top, like a wily, diplomatic politican, he often kicks the ladder down.

And permit us to add that he often kicks himself down, -O. S. Marden in SUCCESS.

R. R. Russell of San Antonio, a arge ranch awner, was in Austin Saturday to rrange the legal steps for the organization of a state bank at Ballinger, to have a captal stock of $100,000. He is hea ily interested in the bank. Mr Russell says that all the stock has been subscribed a d that all no n ecessary is the arrangement of a few legal details and the chartering of the bank. All this is to be completed within two weeks. "Ballinger already has three banks,' said Mr. Russell, "but it is a fine business center and we think it cau support another good bank. The people interested in the bank we are organizing are among the wealthtest ranchmen of the town. Ballinger is one of the largest wa
