by Lyndell Williams
Texas Press Association

Austin, Tex.—Campaigns for and against the proposed new state constitution already are generating lots of heat.

Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association and Texas Association of Broadcasters got a broad introduction in a day-long pro and con seminar here last week.

A day later, Citizens for the Texas Constitution, leaders of the revision change, held their statewide kick-off meeting launching a six-week public information effort before the November 4 election.

The opposition group, Citizens to Preserve the Texas Constitution (the present one, that is), already was doing lots of kicking. Its state-wide steering committee broadened steadily, picking up such members as former Gov. Preston Smith and Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr.

Former Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, head of the revision forces, summarized arguments for the new constitution:

Eight proposals on the November 4 ballot modernize Texas' basic laws and "provide benefits for the people which cannot be achieved under the old document."

Further, argued Calvert, the revision submitted by the legislature would "go a long way to stop wasteful spending in state government and provide equity and relief for the individual taxpayer."

No so, countered Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler for the opposition. The new document would "lead to new taxes on an unprecedented scale," contended McKnight. Further, he maintained, it would give the legislature "power to do about anything it wants at the expense of the people."

Much opposition, as anticipated, centered on proposed annual legislative sessions and a commission to pass on legislator's salaries. Tax provisions also came under heavy opposition fire.

Highways Slated . . .

If costs keep going up and income doesn't, the State Highway Department says in another six or seven years it may have barely enough money to maintain the present 71,000-mile road system.

Major new construction could be out of the question if the state hasn't the cash to match federal building funds. Gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration income, which traditionally increased at six or seven per cent a year, is no longer growing much. Meanwhile, construction costs have doubled since 1967.

The Highway Department, as explained here previously, is studying its manpower needs with a view to reduced payrolls. Some districts already have reduced their work forces.

Mowing along highway rights-of-way also has been reduced to save money.

Short Snorts . . .

More than 800 Texas cities received $34.4 million in August city sales tax rebates from the state.

Loans will be available January 1 for medical students who agree to practice to rural areas—through the State Rural Medical Education Board. The program pays $100 a month to approved students.

Former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr urged a U. S. Senate investigation of possible connections between presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald and the FBI or Central Intelligence Agency.

A Republican legislator, Rep. Al Koriath of Farmers Branch, will offer a resolution in the next legislature urging a national convention to write an anti-busing amendment to the U. S. constitution.

UNITED PENTECOSTAL CHURCH will have charge of services this coming Sunday afternoon, Sept. 28, at the Nursing Home. The service will start at 3:30 with Rev. Walter Ford in charge.

Post Script

The Big O Theatre in Ozona reports a change in their program for the coming week. The corrected schedule is on page 4 of this Success issue.

Around the business district . . . New carpeting has been laid in McCalla's Department store. The work was done last week end.

Workmen Monday were repairing the collapsed awning on the front of the Kempsey building, across from the Court House. The Fashion Boutique occupies the building.

Blake's Electric is now relocated in the building on the Angelo highway, north of Kent's Automotive. B. L. Blakeway vacated the Jeff Enoch's Estate building on the Menard highway, across from the post office where he had been for a number of years.

75th Anniversary For Foxworth-Galbraith

JOHN JUSTICE
Local Manager

Observance of the 75th year at Foxworth-Galbraith is drawing to a close. John Justice, manager here in Eldorado, comments: "It is sort of like an important personal birthday because you hate to see it pass."

The lumber yard established in Stratford, Texas, in 1901 was the forerunner of today's Foxworth-Galbraith Building Materials Centers now serving a four-state area. The recently published company brochure points out that lumber deliveries in those days were either in ox-drawn or mule-drawn wagons.

Today's employees of Foxworth-Galbraith fall themselves "people-helpers" and that seems to be a large part of their success story. Justice notes, "the customer demand during the first oil boom created the initial surge of expansion for the company, and we have stayed to serve those and other communities with building materials. We opened a yard in Arizona as early as 1919," says Justice.

Currently there are over 50 Foxworth-Galbraith Building Materials Centers from East Texas to California and their 75th anniversary celebration will soon be concluded. Special merchandise features continue at present, and copies of the company pictorial brochure, "The 75th Year" are still available at the local store.

"Anniversaries pass quickly," says Justice, "so we'll just start working on the next 75 years."

Gladys Gunn had her three sisters visiting here for a week: Mrs. R. R. Roseman, Long Beach, Cal.; Mrs. Cleo Macon, Stamford, Tex.; and Mrs. C. R. Carlan of Snyder.

Nursing Home Notes

Nursing Home Council Formed

The first meeting was held in the Dining Room at 2:30 p.m. last Thursday. Eleven members attended and officers were elected. They are as follows: Chairman Ruthie Dacy, Vice Chairman Beulah Harris, Secretary Elva Daniels, and Parliamentarian Maggie Sluder.

Some of the purposes of this organization are: 1. To make suggestions and issue complaints regarding the Nursing Home. 2. To suggest new ideas for activities. 3. To elect a Nursing Home employee of the month. 4. To answer any questions on any subject that is of interest to the resident.

Other business was discussed and punch and cookie were served. John Hawkins made the motion that the meeting be adjourned. The meeting will be held every first Friday of each month.

Other Nursing Home news this week was our Bingo Winners. They were as follows: Gertrude Nixon, Elva Daniels, Maggie Sluder, Erna Rexroat, Hattie Blaylock, Carrie Blakeway, Beulah Harris, and a special prize went to Erna Rexroat for Black Out.

Out of town visitors included Mrs. Dick Jackson from San Angelo, and Mrs. Charles Jackson from Big Lake and Richard Jackson from Houston all to see Wren Jackson. Wren went for a ride and seemed to enjoy his visit. Watch for a history of Wren Jackson's life in Schleicher County to be coming out soon.

Mr. Sam McGinnes had as his guests Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McGinnes and Kyle and Kristi Crosbyton, Texas, Saturday and Sunday. Certainly you can't fool all of the people all of the time. Quite a few of them are fooling you. — Ruthie Dacy A. D., Beulah Harris, Rep.

Reception Honors New Citizens Last Week

Community members met in the Schleicher County Neighborhood Center, September 15, 1975 at eight o'clock in honor of the following new citizens of the United States of America. The three most recently naturalized citizens were Mrs. Paula Arispe, Mr. Longino Pina and Mrs. Juanita Robledo and the three earlier recipients were Mrs. Delores Espinosa, Mr. Juan Espinosa, Sr., and Mrs. Eulalia Castro.

Mrs. Sally Head, class instructor and the grandchildren of the new citizens, presented the program which included singing of patriotic songs and reading of the American Creed. The six new citizens recited in unison the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. Head pinned the honorees with red carnations and lapel pins in the shape and color of the American Flag.

There was much joy as the six proud citizens received warm congratulations from their families and friends. Mrs. Golla Pina made and decorated a tremendous cake, using the traditional colorings and bearing American Flags and the inscription of "Salute To The New Citizens." Refreshments of coffee, punch, cakes and cookies were served to the six honorees and 47 friends and family members.

It should be noted that Mrs. Head is now on a volunteer teaching basis and it would be difficult to determine who is the more proud—teacher or participant! She is continuing classes on a twice a week basis with four new individuals seeking their naturalization.

Yankee Doodle Dandy Is State Fair Theme

Dallas, Tex.—Yankee Doodle, whose legend in a lulling song has carried on through 200 years, inspired the theme of the State Fair of Texas bicentennial celebration, October 3-19.

The "Yankee Doodle Dandy" lines, "Mind the music and the step and with the girls be handy" are in the merry mood of the 17 days of entertainment.

The Music Hall will feature two distinct types of American entertainment. Singer-dancer Juliet Prowse and her troupe will entertain with her sparkling Las Vegas Revue, October 3 through 12. The Johnny Cash Show, featuring June Carter, the Carter family, Rosanne Cash, Rosey Nix and the Tennessee, will open October 13 for eight performances.

Outdoor stages will vibrate with free daily multiple performances. On Stage 7 the 30-member Trinidad Carnival Band will entertain with pulsating calypso music on steel drums. The Pat Roberts Show of pop music will share time on the Big Tex Stage with breathtaking aerial acts. Strolling visitors can watch local dancers, folk singers, high school bands and variety entertainment on these stages hour after hour.

Also free are the four nighttime Cotton Bowl Spectaculars with fireworks finales. The Parade of Champions, October 6, 6:30 p.m.; a super marching bands contest for high school students; "I Am Old Glory", October 9, 8 p.m., a historical pageant of narrative and song; East Texas Day, October 13, 8 p.m., honoring city queens with stage entertainment, and La Fiesta Mexicana, October 14, with colorful costumes, native dancing and music.

With clowns, high-wire artists, animals and acrobats, the Dr. Pepper-Morton Food Colossal Circus will repeat its popular three rings of free entertainment several times daily.

Resplendent in red, white and blue Big Tex will set the patriotic mood for the brass bands of the U. S. Armed Forces who will march with esprit de corps, entertain in free concerts and at daily retreats.

Beginning with the opening downtown parade the U. S. Marine Drum and Bugle Corps and Silent Drill Team, Washington, D. C. will present daily afternoon concerts in the Marine Corps Square and participate in Cotton Bowl Spectaculars during the first 10 days.

The U. S. Navy will send three Corpus Christi variety groups to appear in concerts and ceremonies. The Cattle Country Mariners will open on October 3, 4, 5 and 6. The Sons of Dixie follow, October 7-19 and the Southwest Armada, October 7, 8 and 9.

The 60-piece "Air Force Band of the West," Lackland AFB, an official Air Training Command unit, will appear October 10, 11 and 12. Well-known throughout the South as a super field marching band, the U. S. Marine Air Wing Drum and Bugle Corps, New Orleans, will perform October 13-19.

Sunday afternoon concerts will be a Cotton Bowl innovation for Country and Soft Rock music devotees. Charley Pride, Waylon Jennings and Jessi Colter will entertain at 3 p.m., October 5, and Seals and Croft at 2 p.m., Oct. 12.

Sports minded visitors will follow their gridiron favorites in four major college Cotton Bowl games, courageous champion cowboys will thrill in the State Fair Rodeo and fine horses will compete in the State Fair Horse Show in the Coliseum.

With high-stepping high school and elite military bands, patriotic theme floats and city queens the Torchlight Parade will wind thru the park as a round-up of daily events in the "dandy" 90th State Fair celebration.

Oldsmobile 1976.

An Olds for everybody. And good mileage in every size.

THE 98 REGENCY. Proof that the world of luxury doesn't have to ignore a concern for gas economy.

DELTA 88 ROYALE. All the solid dependability of a family-sized Olds. Yet the 88 gets good gas mileage for a car of its size.

STARFIRE. Who says you can't get good gas mileage in a sporty car? Check out Starfire, Starfire SX, and the available Starfire GT option—Oldsmobile's supercoupes.

CUTLASS S. Restyled front end and sides. The new look is bolder, sportier. All this... and surprising gas economy, too.

CUTLASS SUPREME BROUGHAM. The first mid-sized car to have an interior inspired by the famous 98 Regency. The gas mileage is pretty inspiring, too.

YOUR LIFE INSURANCE

Prepared by the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the national society of life insurance professionals who have earned the CLU designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. I bought my life insurance policy two years ago, but that was before I had a brother-in-law. He says he can get me a better deal somewhere else. Do I lose anything if I change policies?

A. You might. If somebody suggests you drop your old policy and get a new one, get the proposal in writing. Then talk to your own agent. See if your old policy can be changed to suit you.

The reason for all this is that the longer you hold whole life policies, the more valuable they get. With a new policy, you might lose value. Also, when you buy a life insurance policy there's a contestable period, two years during which the company can question the statements you've made in your application. So, you'd have a new contestable period in your changed policies.

If you think your old policy doesn't suit your needs anymore, your agent can help you adapt it. And it's best not to change your policy without his advice.

ABOUT YOUR Glasses

There are wrong ways of cleaning glasses—like wiping them with your tie or any dry cloth (left). And there is the correct way—like allowing faucet water to run over them and then wiping with a facial tissue.

TAKING CARE OF YOUR GLASSES

by Ralph Drew

"I can never keep my glasses clean!" Most people say this. They were probably told how to keep their eyewear clean, but that was some time ago. It's hard to remember these things.

Think in terms of taking care of your glasses, not just cleaning the lenses. If you do this properly the glasses will look and work better, and it won't be so hard to keep the lenses clear. Here are some hints for you:

- Begin by handling them properly. Most of us tend to be a little too rough with glasses, which is bad for them. Use a case whenever you can; don't shove glasses caseless in a pocket or purse where items like keys can damage them.
- If you can help it, don't yank glasses off with one hand or they won't keep their shape. Use two hands. Take them off with a forward and downward motion.
- If they are the on-and-off kind, like reading or sunglasses, be extra careful. Keep the inside of the case vacuumed clean, and use it.
- It gets awfully hot in a parked car. So don't leave glasses exposed near a window, especially if the frames are plastic. Heat tends to warp them.
- Never put glasses anywhere with lenses face down. Leave the side pieces open, the way you wear them. But never with lenses face down.
- Cleaning glasses is important and easy. Remember, the enemy of any polished surface is grit and dust. Rubbing the lenses dry makes tiny scratches which, you may be surprised to learn, weakens them. Once a day let tepid faucet water run over the glasses (the frame, too), then wipe them dry with soft cloth or facial tissue. Take extra care if the lenses are of soft plastic.
- Lens polishes cost very little, and they do protect the washed lens surface. Treat glasses like your car: wash first, then polish. Both stay clean longer.
- For comfort and good vision, have your eyewear specialist realign your glasses at least twice a year, or at the intervals he suggests. Never try doing it yourself!
- In this way you'll keep your glasses clean and comfortable. Do it for them, they do a lot for you.

Dollar-Wise Decorating

DO-IT-YOURSELF AND SAVE

By Joy Miller

A leaky faucet can cost upwards of $15 to get fixed — 5 cents for the rubber washer and $14.95 for the plumber (when you can find one) to install it.

You could have probably done it yourself and saved. All it takes is a little time, a little initiative, and a little knowledge. And that's the way most household repair and remodel jobs are.

Of course, it's proper to render unto the professional that which is the professional's. Few homeowners are competent electricians, for example, and major plumbing jobs are the province of those who really know what they're doing. In most communities local codes make certain a professional is called for those types of jobs.

For the weekend handyman (and handywoman) there are any number of tasks that, if approached right, aren't tasks at all... they're fun. The secret is in being prepared.

When you're painting, select a good quality latex or oil base paint. Follow the manufacturer's directions scrupulously. Specifications for a certain type of brush and the always-present recommendation to stir frequently, to name two instances, are there to assure that the paint performs as you'd expect it.

Carpet and vinyl flooring installations used to be

"hands off" areas for do-it-yourselfers, but not anymore. According to Armstrong, which manufactures a wide range of home interior products designed to be installed by the homeowner, do-it-yourselfers can save a lot of cash on those projects. And, in the bargain, they also enjoy the personal satisfaction of having done it themselves.

Economically speaking, we're hearing that the worst is behind us and that there are brighter days ahead. But the enterprising do-it-yourselfer — who has taken the old "A penny saved is a penny earned" motto to heart — is apt to say, "Brighter days ahead? Today looks fine to me!"
