Austin, Tex.—First Texas impeachment trial in 44 years is scheduled in the State Senate September 3.

A 10-count impeachment resolution against 229th District Judge O. P. Carrillo was voted by the House of Representatives August 5 by an overwhelming margin of 123 to 16.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe fixed the trial date in cooperation with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, presiding officer of the Senate.

Leon Jaworski, Houston attorney who was chief Watergate prosecutor, will serve as special counsel for the Senate during the expected lengthy trial.

Terry Doyle of Port Arthur will serve as House special prosecutor.

Impeachment proceedings have been voted against only three Texas officials in the last century and just one, former Gov. James E. Ferguson, actually was removed from office and forbidden to run again. A two-thirds vote of the Senate is necessary for removal.

Carrillo stands charged with a variety of wrongs, including abuse of judicial powers, political conspiracies and using county personnel and property for his personal benefit.

Campaign On

Advocates of a new constitution have opened campaign headquarters and named a campaign director for an all-out effort to begin soon after Labor Day.

The election is scheduled November 4.

A rival "Committee to Preserve the Present Texas Constitution" also has filed necessary legal papers with the Secretary of State but has scheduled no activities.

Rep. Ronald Earle of Austin will head the campaign office for "Citizens for the Texas Constitution." Former State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert is in overall charge.

Atty. Gen. John Hill, House Speaker Bill Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby are among strong supporters of revision.

Governor Briscoe said he still has reservations about the legislative and financial articles, but has not decided whether to offer strong opposition.

Comptroller Bob Bullock is opposed to local government and financial articles but backs judiciary, legislative and executive article changes.

The AFL-CIO expressed opposition to judiciary and local government articles.

Jobless Rate Up

Unemployment payments reached another record high last month, with $24.8 million in benefits distributed.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said an average of 21,000 Texans received weekly benefit checks every day. Payments topped $1 million on 19 days of July.

July payments bring to $143.5 million the total jobless aid paid for 1975. This compared with a total of $79.2 million for all 1974.

Highest daily payout in July was $1.3 million to 25,180 persons and the lowest $938,457 to 18,071, according to the Comptroller's figures.

Short Snorts . . .

Liberal Democrats filed notice of intent to challenge the Texas Presidential preference primary law and the 1976 state delegate selection plan.

Stocks of carry-over wheat in Texas are 42% below those of last summer, according to Agriculture Commissioner John White.

Don L. Partridge of Austin and Dr. Jim L. Kidd of Canyon are new associate state commissioners of education.

Highway beautification awards for 1975 will be made September 18 at the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park in Stonewall.

Post Script

Around the business district . . . Mrs. Ann Lauffer was in process this week of buying the former Eldorado Drug building on South Main. She plans to have some work done to it soon. The structure was built in the late 1930's by the late L. M. Hoover to house his drug store.

Mrs. Von Escue is remodeling the former Ratliff store building into location for a dance studio. A partition has been built across the center and the front part of the interior has been repainted.

The foundation slab is in place and structural steel is being mounted for the new Eagle Dairy Mart being built on the Sonora highway.

School starting time is just around the corner here in Eldorado. That also means that a number of young people will be leaving for colleges and universities over the state.

Again, The Success announces that subscriptions for the 9-month school term are available to college students for $4.00. A handy coupon for this purpose is printed on page 5.

A good crowd turned out Sunday afternoon to honor Mr. and Mrs. Gene Edmiston on their 60th wedding anniversary at their ranch home west of town.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

of which Rev. Keith Wyatt is pastor, will conduct the services this coming Sunday afternoon, August 17th, at the Nursing Home. The service will start at 3:30 p.m.

Peggy Hill has graduated from Texas Tech University and has accepted a position at Cotton Center, Texas, teaching first grade. She will commute from Lubbock.

Nimitz Is Now In Big Spring Hospital

Mr. Ernest Nimitz, who has been a patient in Eldorado Nursing Home several months, suffered a heart attack last Friday night. After treatment he was rushed to Shannon near midnight where he remained in intensive care as of Monday morning.

Later Monday, Nimitz's condition had improved to where he could be transferred to the Veterans Hospital at Big Spring for therapy.

Ministerial Alliance Elects New Officers

The Eldorado Ministerial Alliance met for its regular monthly meeting Saturday, August 2, at 10:09 a.m. at the First Baptist Church. Those present were Dean Brigham, Gordon Garlington, Gene Stark and Keith Wyatt. A tentative date for a community religious census was set for the week end of Saturday, September 6, and Sunday, September 7.

A special planning meeting was scheduled for Saturday, August 10 at the First Baptist Church. The Alliance voted that Keith Wyatt serve on the Neighborhood Center Board of Directors if a representative from the Alliance is desired.

The Alliance also made some plans for future regular activities for the Fall. The Union Thanksgiving Service was set for Sunday, November 23, at the First Methodist Church with Gene Stark preaching.

The Alliance also voted to sponsor the annual Christmas cantata. Mrs. Bob McWhorter has accepted the Alliance's request that she direct it again this year if scheduling during the holiday season permits.

New officers for 1975-76 were elected with Keith Wyatt serving as president, Dean Brigham is vice president and Gene Stark as secretary & treasurer.

Outgoing officers for 74-75 were Gene Stark, pres.; Thom Elliott, vice pres., and Gordon Garlington, secretary-treasurer.

On Saturday, August 10, the Alliance met for its special Community Religious Census planning meeting. The town will be divided among the four participating churches, First Baptist, First Christian, First Methodist and First Presbyterian. The Alliance urges the community to make this endeavor a success by graciously responding to a census taker when he seeks information from each household in Eldorado. The census date was kept as previously decided, Sept. 6-7.

S. S. Benefits Total $67,000 Per Month

Social security benefits were being paid to residents of Schleicher County at a rate of $67,000 a month at the close of 1974, Franklin Upp, social security manager said today.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in Schleicher county, 275 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 100 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died, and 60 are getting benefits as disabled workers or their dependents.

Mr. Upp pointed out that although most social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under age 60. In Schleicher County, 85 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. Nearly 40 are under age 18, receiving payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits. Most of the 5 beneficiaries in Schleicher County between 18 and 22 years of age are getting student's benefits under a provision in the social security law permitting the continuation of a child's benefits beyond his 18th birthday, and up to age 22, if the child is attending school full time.

Also in the 18-22 age group, Upp said, are some other types of beneficiaries, illustrating the broad family protection that the social security program provides workers of all ages. Some are children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 22 and who will probably never be able to work and become self-supporting. The monthly benefits of these young people, severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely. Benefits are also payable to the mother if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Upp said that another relatively small but significant group of youthful social security beneficiaries are those who are receiving benefits as disabled workers.

Beginning with the checks beneficiaries received in July, 1975, Upp said, social security benefits have increased 8%.

The Schleicher County native was a ranch hand, then with Brown and Root before being employed by Southwest Texas.

TEC is the statewide service organization of Texas' 80 electric cooperatives. It has central offices in Austin, along with a transformer plant and data processing center. It also operates a pole treating plant at Jasper for its member-cooperatives.

McGinnes and wife Mary have two children; Lynda Marie McGinnes of Lovington, New Mexico, and Garland Wayne McGinnes of Eldorado.

McGinnes is a member of the Methodist Church and participates in several civic organizations.

Almost 1,000 delegates & guests took part in the association of Texas Electric Cooperatives' 35th annual membership meeting August 6-8 in Amarillo. ### Nursing Home Notes

Last week was a rather quiet week for I was gone part of the week. I think a lot of the residents spent most of the week playing dominoes. We played Bingo Tuesday. Erna Rexroat had a lucky streak and won two games; other winners were Beulah Harris, Ebbie Donaldson, Flossie Crawford, Elva Daniels and Carrie Blakeway.

Hixie Potter celebrated her 94th birthday, Thursday, August 7th at 5:45 in the Dining Room. Those present were her two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Teele and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barnett of Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crump of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Strieler of Sonora, Miss Dana Owens and some of the residents were guests. Miss Owens served punch, and Mrs. Striegler served the cake. We all enjoyed the afternoon and Mrs. Potter enjoyed all of her pretty gifts and the beautiful flowers and would like to thank everyone.

Mr. Gunstead enjoyed a visit from Dr. and Mrs. White from Sonora, Mr. and Mrs. McNeil from Odessa came to see Mrs. Flossie Crawford, and Mert Ferguson from Sterling City visited with Wren Jackson.

According to reports received here, he was riding a motorcycle when he collided with a Volkswagen. His wife, Patricia "Tissie" was also riding on one while the couple were on a trip with a group of other motorcyclists.

Hauan sustained severe head and internal injuries and was confined early this week in Lutheran Hospital in Denver. He was in critical condition, but by Monday was reported slightly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Enochs left here for Colorado upon being notified of the accident.

Directors Elected At 30th Co-Op Meeting

The 30th annual meeting of members of Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op was held as scheduled Tuesday evening on the Court House square with the usual good crowd in attendance.

J. D. Strauss presided at the business session in which he, along with Peyton Cain and Jerry Johnson were elected to three-year terms to the board of directors. Their election was by acclamation following motion by Dick Bearce. The directors election was presided over by Vice President R. A. Harrell.

Manager Elton McGinnes gave his report in which he cited the increased fuel adjustment costs as major factor for the higher power bills being paid by Co-Op members. He stated that the Co-Op had paid West Texas Utilities $257,000 in fuel adjustments.

The heavy rains last fall which flooded areas between McCamey and June, along with the December ice storm which set in Christmas Day were factors causing unexpected expenses during the preceding year, cited by Manager McGinnes. Manager McGinnes paid tribute to the memory of the late Victor Kent, who died July 9th following a long tenure as Co-Op employee.

McGinnes awarded service awards to employees as follows: Fred Butler, 15 years; Bill Hubble, 15 years; Sherrill Dannheim, C. F. Dacy, and A. T. Turner, each 10 years.

New History Book Will Finance Reconstruction Of Fort Mason

The Mason County Historical Commission and the Mason County Historical Society have undertaken publishing a county history and reconstructing the Officers' Quarters at Fort Mason as Bicentennial projects. Kurt Zesch is chairman of the reconstruction and book committee chairman is Wilburn Shearer.

Mr. Shearer said, "We want to include family data on each generation that lives or has ever lived in Mason County." Families are requested to send histories of not more than 500 words per generation and pictures (which will be returned) to Mrs. Oliver Langehennig, Box 702, Mason, Texas 76856 or write her for additional information.

The book will contain memorial pages; prices on the various sizes are available on request. Feature stories and pictures on churches, schools, organizations, rural communities, business, etc., will also be included in the book.

Since the cost of printing must be paid in advance, a pre-sale of the books is under way. Copies will be $15 each plus $1 if they are to be mailed. Books may also be ordered from Mrs. Langehennig.

The deadline for submitting family histories and ordering the historical book is September 1, 1975.

Proceeds from the book will be used for the reconstruction, which is already well under way. When construction started, only the foundation of the building was found, but walls are up now and much interest in the project has been shown. Work thus far has been financed by private donations of money, materials, and labor.

Fort Mason was among the forts which protected early day settlers from Indians. It was established in 1851 and was used intermittently until 1869. After it was abandoned, the buildings were dismantled and materials used for private construction.

Mohair Directors To Meet August 14th

The summer directors' meeting of the Mohair Council of America will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday, August 14, at the Inn of the Hills Motor Inn in Kerrville.

James T. Hunt of Sonora, Council president, said the meeting will be one of the most important sessions this year. He said the meeting is open to all mohair growers and he urges them to attend.

"We have some very important matters to discuss and we need the thinking of our members on the proposed mohair referendum and on the development of new promotion programs for mohair," Hunt said.

The Council, which will celebrate its 10th birthday later this year, is the official promotion and advertising organization for mohair growers in the United States. Its new budget, recently approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, calls for expenditures of $300,000 for mohair promotion during fiscal 1975-76.

Easter Seal Society Provides Services

The Texas Easter Seal Society, a voluntary health agency operating in the state of Texas since 1929, helps to provide direct services for physically handicapped persons who cannot afford to pay all or part of the costs involved, and who are not eligible for help from any other resource—public or private.

According to such sources as the United State Public Health Service, the American Speech and Hearing Association and the Texas State Department of Public Welfare, the physically handicapped in each 1,000 population is estimated to be 135 persons. By definition, physically handicapped includes orthopedic handicaps, arthritis, speech and hearing handicaps, strokes, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, cleft lip, palate or both, muscular dystrophy and Parkinson's Disease.

Such a broad range of possible disabilities undercores the need for supporting an agency such as the Texas Easter Seal Society which provides direct services in these cases.

Should you have any specific questions, please contact your Schleicher County Easter Seal Representative, Raymond D. Hall at The First National Bank in Eldorado.

Additional information may be secured by writing the Texas Easter Seal Society at 4429 North Central Expressway, Dallas, Tx 75205.

Eating On The Run

Do you anticipate a good deal of "eating on the run" for your family this summer?

Here is a series of tips from the Tupperware Family Foods Council that could help make vacation mealtimes more fun, and more nutritious, too —

Before You Start

1. Consult your state maps for the location of roadside rest areas, and for state or even national parks along the general direction of your route. A few minutes of checking the maps could assure you of a cool and inviting roadside haven for your picnic lunch or dinner.

2. Consider other routes than interstate and super highways. With a national speed limit of 55 you'll not lose much time, and some of the less traveled routes can turn up some welcome surprises in scenic vistas, interesting landmarks, and some unusual opportunities for good eating. Remember, at least a sub-theme of the trip is probably to "relax and see the country."

3. Plan ahead for food breaks. Besides complete meals this would include the all-too-frequent snacks that mark vacation-time automotive travel. Don't permit the trip to become an opportunity for family members to load up on non-nutritive foods which curb the appetite at the expense of furnishing a caloric overload.

Fruits, for instance, curb the cravings for sweets. Hard boiled eggs furnish protein and occupy little space for the traveling family. Carrot sticks, an excellent source of Vitamin A, are a lot less expensive than candy sticks.

4. Plan for food storage. A portable cooler can be a great idea, and it doesn't occupy much space, but all-too-often it becomes the repository for canned drinks only. Be sure to insist it also carry some fruits and milk to provide some balance to the inevitable snacking.

For easy handling of items not requiring refrigeration — such as sugar, bread, flour for pancakes, and cereal — take some sealable plastic containers. They can be fitted into a car's nooks and crannies, and they'll help keep the foods fresh over the trip. They are ideal for pre-mixed fruit and other drinks, too, because they can be washed quickly and returned to their place in the car so easily.

On The Road

1. "Eating off the land" was routine to travelers just a generation or two ago. Stopping at a farmhouse for tomatoes, corn, or even a frying chicken was routine. People didn't travel as fast, partly because that super fresh food was so delicious.

But consider this route to some exceptional eating experiences as well as an opportunity for your family to observe the farming lifestyle. Biting into a warm, vine-ripened tomato could prove a rewarding experience for a youngster and possibly have a worthwhile effect on his nutritional future.

2. While "eating on the run" is a familiar routine for Americans who want to cover as many miles as possible on a given day, try to ease the tension for your family with at least one combined meal and rest stop. The old cliché that the food will digest better is true enough, and if the food is prepared by you, chances are it will be better for your family, too.

3. There's a tendency to eat all the time while driving, but the Family Foods Council suggests that homemaker vacationers not worry about it—particularly if the snacking can be limited to food groups that are relatively low in calories and high in nutritive content. Fruits, fresh or dried, nuts, cheeses, cold chicken — even pretzels — will probably take the edge off appetites, particularly for the youngsters, but because this type of snack food is in itself nutritious the eater has not been deprived of worthwhile food.

THE ROAD TO ROMANCE

Visit the ancient walled town of Rothenburg (left), full of timbered towers, flowering window boxes, iron Gothic inn signs, noble houses unchanged by centuries, charming shops half-timbered in Renaissance style and quaint cobbled streets. Then see the medieval multi-towered Emperor's Castle high above Nuremberg's "Old Town" (above) as you drive through Germany's famous Romantic Road.

There's good news for everyone who has ever longed to return to the days of walled towns and cobbled streets, window boxes on gabled buildings, bustling market squares and peaceful pastures. It's now possible to see all that, without losing out on modern conveniences, by taking the Romantic Road through Germany.

This 180 mile route encompasses an extraordinary collection of towns and villages whose medieval character has been carefully preserved.

The "time" traveler can stop, for instance, at Rothenburg ob der Tauber. Thirteenth century walls surround it, opening at turreted gates for access to narrow streets and half-timbered buildings clustered within.

An annual festival called Der Meistertrunk (the master drink) commemorates the capacity of a 16th century Buergermeister who averted the city's conquest by accepting a challenge to drink a 3 1/2 quart goblet of wine in one draught. His achievement is also celebrated on the town clock that shows, when it chimes, the buergermeister quaffing and would-be conqueror looking amazed.

Another stop is Augsburg, founded 2,000 years ago by the Roman emperor Augustus. It has the world's oldest housing project, a complex built in the 16th century by a wealthy banking family for the deserving poor. It is still occupied, and the tenants pay the same annual rent they have for 450 years: about 72 cents!

Slightly to the east of the Romantic Road is Nuremberg, with its Altstadt, or old town, a cluster of houses and municipal buildings dating from the Middle Ages. In spring and fall, the market square becomes a flea market and a month before Christmas it's the Christkindlmarkt, appropriately set in a city famous for its toys.

A Nuremberger inspired Wagner's opera "Die Meistersinger" and a modern Meistersingerhalle presents music from classic to pop.

Anyone who wishes to visit these romantic spots will find it easy to do so with the help of Lufthansa German Airlines, which can arrange for flight arrangements, as well as prepaid accommodations, and an Avis self-drive car with unlimited mileage. All of these are included on the Medieval German Countryside Tour of the Romantische Strasse. They can set you on the right road to another age.

Because it can be used for tools and weapons, copper was often more highly prized among early people than gold!

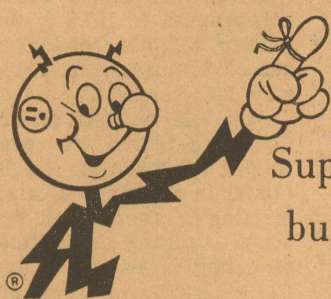

In the Celebes it is necessary to have the image of the god of iron in the smithy or the soul of metal will depart during the forging and it will become brittle and unworkable.

Six Flags Schedules Sedaka Performance

Arlington, Texas—Neil Sedaka has been scheduled to appear at Six Flags Over Texas on August 15, his first local performance since his re-emergence as a recording favorite last year.

One of the most talented and successful forces in the music industry, Sedaka has sold over 20 million records as a composer-performer. Of the over 500 songs he has written, more than 100 have been hit songs. As a performer who writes his own material, he was a forerunner of the trend that dominates the music scene today.

Sedaka's career began as a concert pianist. In 1956 he was chosen as the best pianist in the New York High Schools, and this led to a full scholarship to the Juillard School of Music. However, his desire to write and perform the music of his generation led his career away from the classics.

By the time he was 20, Sedaka was recognized as an international star, having written songs that were best sellers in every country. Some of the classics of that era were "The Diary," "Calendar Girl," "Happy Birthday Sweet Sixteen," and "Breaking Up Is Hard To Do."

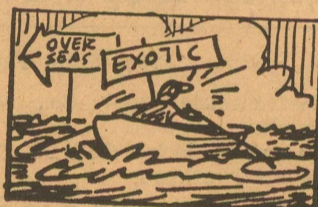

Sedaka began composing for other artists, and his works were successfully recorded by such top stars as Tom Jones, The 5th Dimension, and The Friends of Distinction. This part of his career produced more hits, including "Working On A Groovy Thing," "Puppet Man," "One Day In Your Life," and "Rainy Jane."

In 1971 Sedaka decided to record and perform his own songs and released the album "Emergence," which immediately won rave reviews. The LP soon re-established Neil Sedaka as one of the top recording artists in the world.

Today he is in even greater demand. His most recent hits include "Laughter In The Rain," "The Immigrants," and the current tune, "That's Where The Music Takes Me."

Six Flags Over Texas will feature Neil Sedaka at 8:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. in the Music Mill Theater.

The park will be open on Friday from 10:00 a.m. until midnight.

According to word experts, the only thing exotic about anything exotic is that it's literally, "from a foreign land."

West Texas Boys Ranch Horse Sale Set Aug. 14

Jim Prather, 1975 West Texas Boys Ranch Roundup Chairman, has announced a special horse sale will be held in Brady at the Heart O' Texas Livestock Commission Company on Thursday, August 14th, as a special feature of the annual roundup. "We held our first horse sale in Brady year before last, and it was quite successful," Prather said, "we hope with enough advance publicity to have an even better sale this year. I cannot stress the importance of this year's sale too much," the Roundup Chairman continued, "things have been tight for all of us and especially charitable institutions. West Texas Boys Ranch needs your help. You can help by donating that kid's pony you don't want to feed this winter, or any horse, mule, donkey, or colt."

Miers Johnson at Heart O' Texas Livestock Commission Company is conducting the sale and will not charge commission on horses donated to West Texas Boys Ranch. All donations to West Texas Boys Ranch, either cash or livestock, are tax deductible, Prather pointed out.

Horses may be delivered to Brady on the day of the sale, or will be picked up in advance if you call West Texas Boys Ranch at (915) 949-1936. Donors may contact their area Roundup Wagon Boss if they prefer.

It's Superlative!

Diamonds are, chemically, pure carbon. But it was no carbon copy that actor Richard Burton bought in October, 1969, for Elizabeth Taylor, then his wife. It was a 69.42-carat flawless diamond ring and he paid $1,200,000 for it, making it the highest-priced diamond ever sold at auction.

The most valuable metal used for engagement and wedding rings is platinum.

It's rarer, harder and heavier than gold, and because of this many women prefer it for rings. They also like the fact it's so tough it resists nicks, scratches and corrosion. And platinum is so strong it's the most secure setting a diamond can have.

The world's most expensive sugar bowl is probably the one on display in New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art. Made in 1786 by the Parisian master-smith Marc Etienne Janety, it's 7 inches long, 5 1/4 inches high and, except for a glass liner, made entirely of the purest platinum.

A theater's green room was the off-stage sitting room used by the actors, and gets its name from the fact that its walls were often painted green to rest the eyes exposed to bright stage lights.

Peppers For The Fall Garden

If you're planning a fall garden, give some thought to growing peppers. Plant peppers 12 to 16 weeks before the average date of the first frost.

Six to eight plants satisfy the needs of the average family. So it's generally easier just to buy pepper plants than to try to grow your own from seed.

When selecting varieties, major attention should be given to disease resistance.

Peppers are of two general types—hot and sweet. Top sweet pepper varieties are Keystone Resistant Giant, Yolo Wonder, Bell Ringer and California Wonder. Hot varieties that do well are Anaheim Chili, Fresno Chili, Hungarian Yellow Wax and Jalapeno.

Set the plants 18 to 24 inches apart in rows 30 to 36 inches apart. Use a good starter solution to insure vigorous growth. When the first blooms appear, make a light application of a complete commercial fertilizer. Thorough watering is important as water stress from lack of moisture at flowering will cause blossom drop. Peppers will be ready for harvest from 70 to 80 days from transplanting.

Fall as well as spring peppers are often bothered with various types of insects and diseases. So plants should be checked closely at regular intervals.

Fruit set occurs in a rather limited range of night temperatures. Blossom drop often occurs when night temperatures are below 60 degrees or when they go above 75 degrees. Plant smay drop some of their blossoms during the early stages of growth, but this often is advantageous as overloading of the plant will reduce fruit size and quality. Small fruited varieties are more tolerant to high temperatures than the larger ones.

Pick peppers when they ripen to increase production. Peppers are ready for picking when they are firm and crisp to the touch.

If gardening space is limited, we suggest raising peppers in containers, such as bushel baskets or five-gallon trash cans. Peppers are well adapted to growing in containers and can produce bountiful yields.

Texas No Longer "Hog Cholera Free"

With a second case of hog cholera confirmed near Hereford in the Texas Panhandle during the month of July, Texas has lost its "hog cholera free" status.

The state was declared "hog cholera free" about a year-and-a-half ago but has now lost its designation as the dreaded swine disease has spread in the area where it was first detected on July 4.

Since the disease can remain undetected in a herd for a number of months, officials with the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service will be keeping a close check within a 100-square mile area that is under state and federal quarantine.

The infected herds have been destroyed along with 23 additional herds that were possibly exposed to the infected animals. Five herds have also been destroyed in Oklahoma due to possible exposure to the diseased herds. Producers are indemnified on the basis of an appraisal.

Hog cholera is a highly infectious disease usually fatal to swine. However, it affects no other livestock and is not transmissible to humans.

We urge swine producers in the county to keep a close check on their herds and to report any suspicious disease signs to a local veterinarian or animal health official.

Signs of hog cholera include high fever and loss of appetite. Other signs may include abnormal death losses among young pigs or possible abortions. The disease can spread rapidly and deal a severe blow to the swine industry unless producers keep a close on their herds and report any sick animals.

Grain Sorghum Midge Control

Adverse weather conditions at planting time and the use of grain sorghum as an alternate crop on cotto acreage that was diverted o grain sorghum production because of poor stands and unfavorable-projected cotton prices have produced a variety of grain sorghum maturity dates. Older grain sorghum plantings have escaped extensive damage by the sorghum midge, but midge populations were able to increase in these older fields and midge adults are now emerging. Later planted sorghum will be particularly susceptible to sorghum midge damage.

Sorghum is susceptible to sorghum midge damage only during the blooming period. During this stage of plant development, midge adults deposit eggs within the developing spikelets where the sorghum seed will develop. The larval stage of the midge feeds on the developing seed producing a blasted head. Producers are encouraged to inspect their sorghum production on a daily basis to determine if control of the sorghum midge is necessary.

Neighborhood Center Meeting Held Thurs.

Minutes of Called Public Meeting, August 7, 1975. Schleicher County Neighborhood Center. Order of Business: Election of Advisory Members.

Some 45 citizens of Schleicher County gathered the evening of August 7, 1975 in the Neighborhood Center in answer to a called public meeting for the purpose of electing a new Advisory Committee for the Community Center. Cause being the expiration of terms of all former Advisory Members as of April, 1975.

The County Judge, Robert L. McWhorter serving as Acting Chairman, called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m. The first order of business was to determine the number of members desired to form the committee. The motion was made and carried that the body be composed of six members.

The Acting Chairman then announced the city-county appointees as Mr. Robert Jay and Mrs. James Head. The community members found present, elected Mr. Reuben Minor and Mr. Pete Torres as the one-third members "at large." Mr. Nick Robledo Jr. and Ms. Thelma Bosmans were elected as representatives for the "varrio area," thus completing the six member board. There being no further business this meeting was adjourned. There were 45 citizens of Schleicher county present of the meeting. Mr. Albert Torres, Mr. Guy Whitaker and Rev. Gordon Garlington assisted with the balloting and Mrs. Thelma Bosmans served-as translator.

Immediately following the closing of business, 43 citizens remained and fell into open discussion of the needs of "the varrio" (term, members of community have in preference to "target area"). Each person in attendance was given a Priority Form with explanations of the three basic areas, Education, Civic and Community Improvements and General Services.

The participants asked for equal and more realistic educational opportunities. Namely, more emphasis on head-start programs; skilled job training to be taught in the public school system; Day Care Center; qualified school counselor and mentor or intermediary to assist parents in solving their school children's problems. They also mentioned the need of Study Hall with competent and willing assistance and more personal tutoring when necessary.

In the area of Community and Civic Improvement, Sewerage Disposal, having been the top priority for the past seven years remains in that position. Improved road system; clean up by city and community and completion of the recreational area with the planting of shade trees, playground equipment and picnicking facilities, to be followed in order given.

Probably, due to more pressing areas of distress or perhaps satisfaction with general services offered, there was no discussion in this third portion of programs other than a hearty approval of the possibility of the Consumers Advocacy Program.

Again, Thelma Bosmans served as co-ordinator of the discussion period. Participants present were again asked to complete and return their signed and dated Priority Forms by August 19, 1975. The new Council Members should be formed by that date and be able to review and present their findings to the Advisory Members. Ninfa Fuentes, Secretary.

Firemen Make Runs

During the past week, the local firemen made runs to Sandy Donaldson, B. F. Blaylock, and Fred Case.

The latter run was made at about 4:00 Tuesday afternoon out on the Mertzon highway.

All the runs were to grassfires. The grass and cover on city lots as well as out in the county is beginning to get a little dry and precaution should be taken in burning of trash, as the past several days we have had some wind, and it could carry a spark from trash burning.

How's Your Child's Eye-Q?

You may not know it, but poor vision is frequently the cause of reading problems, lower school achievement, and in some cases leads to anti-social behavior and even serious delinquency. That's why a child's vision should be tested frequently—with a professional eye examination before age 3 and annual eye examinations between the ages of 6 and 20. Many eye problems, if detected early, can be corrected either with lenses or exercises, so it's important that children have professional eye tests. In fact, 1 in 100 children between 3 and 5 has amblyopia, sometimes called lazy eye, which can be corrected if detected in time. Eye tests conducted at school are not at all sufficient. They only measure a child's ability to read an eye chart 20 feet away. Vision at reading range is not measured nor are coordination of both eyes, focus, astigmatism and eye disease. Sometimes eye problems lead to school or social problems, so be alert. If your child is having trouble with school, arrange for an eye check-up. It may not lead to the answer. But there's a pretty good chance it will.

When fortune knocks, be sure to open the door.

Consumer Food News . . .

Turkeys are sporting good values this week with frozen turkeys available in most markets at reasonable prices. However, fryer chicken supplies are less plentiful due to a heavy demand, resulting in slightly higher prices.

In spite of this, fryer chickens are termed a good protein food choice, and consumers can find a few special values on whole fryers and mixed parts.

Although eggs remain an economical protein choice, their prices are higher.

Nectarines are a fruit counter highlight—with a greater supply, lower prices and excellent quality. Also recommended are early crop apples now on the market—for pies and applesauce.

Several different plum varieties are at their peak, and prices are moderate. Other fruit choices are peaches, cherries, watermelons, grapes, bananas and oranges—and Hawaiian pineapple, which excels in sweetness.

Vegetable buys this week include broccoli, purplehull, cream and blackeye peas. Also, carrots, yellow and zucchini squash, corn, cucumbers, green peppers and cabbage.

Dairy features concentrate on low-fat milk, sour cream and cheese slices.

Consumer Watchwords: To control food costs, plan menus, understand food ads and know which foods are in good supply during the current season.

Jim Nugent Hosts School Finance Seminar August 1st

Austin, Tex.—Almost 90 county and school officials met Friday, August 1, at the Texas Tech Center in Junction to discuss school finance and taxation.

The seminar, sponsored by Representative Jim Nugent, was attended by officials from a 12 county area. A team of experts from the Texas Education Agency were on hand to discuss implementation of new school finance legislation and W. R. Baker, superintendent of the Knox City I. S. D., explained the tax impact of the ad valorem tax. Following his presentation, Mike Moeller, former director of the Legislative Property Tax Committee, commented on new legislation which would tax rural land on productivity rather than market value.

Nugent closed the meeting by polling the audience on the kind of tax they would prefer if an alteration in the kind of state taxation became necessary. The overwhelming response was against further ad valorem taxes and in favor of a higher sales tax.

Officials from Eldorado and Schleicher County participating in the seminar included Mrs. Ernestine Hext, Judge Robert McWhorter, Orval Edmiston, Thomas R. Jones, Joe Christian and L. E. McCalla.

Hospital Auxiliary

The Hospital Auxiliary met Aug. 7th with Mrs. Arch Mittel presiding. Five members were present and it was reported that there is $676.64 in treasury, with $27 in memorials and $43.75 from gift shop sales in July.

A birthday watermelon party was given for Nursing Home patients in July, and an ice cream party will be given Aug. 19th.

Mr. Winnie Jackson, Mrs. Rance McDonald and Mrs. Henry Moore were appointed nominating committee to nominate officers for the new year.

Next meeting will be Sept. 4th at 9:30 a.m. —Rep.

peace
GOD

It isn't easy to explain how the Church can help you find strength and comfort. You can't prove it by mathematical equations, but once you experience it, you have no doubts. And, having felt it, you want to share this deep, abiding peace with others.

No matter how stormy it is outside, in the Church you can find peace. Isn't it wonderful to know that you can take all your cares and worries to God and feel His peace and quiet? Then, having found this peace, you can carry it with you wherever you go. Through the Church you can help others find it.

Peace — God's peace — the Church — God's Church. Are you acquainted with them?
