75TH YEAR

ELDORADO—SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS (76936) Thursday, November 18, 1976

Number 47

by Lyndell Williams
Texas Press Association

Austin, Tex.—How to slice up $2.6 billion to $3 billion in additional state revenues next year dominated discussion at Texas Press Association's briefing on the 1977 legislature.

Governmental leaders made clear there are no shortages of ideas for putting all the money—and more—to use.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said demands for new spending already total $5 billion.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Gov. Dolph Briscoe's $850 million school finance plan and highway aid bill and a $1 billion capital reserve account, coupled with elimination of the sales tax, add up to $2.9 billion.

Briscoe said he still favors socking away $1 billion of the so-called surplus into a rainy day, interest-drawing reserve, as a hedge against an expected future decline in oil tax income. In his presentation to the TPA briefing, the governor also assigned top priority to his $1.6 billion school-highway programs.

Bullock warned that the items he enumerated do not cover funds for inflationary costs of government services or pay raises to state employees and school teachers.

Both Clayton and Hobby jumped on state college building bonds secured by tuition revenues. Clayton termed the bonds "gimmick financing," and promised a bill to pay them off. The bill was pre-filled last week to establish a $170 million bond retirement fund. It would be used to retire tuition and constitutional water development bonds which are subject to call.

Other key legislative problems discussed included crime control bills, medical malpractice insurance, energy matters, tax code reform, and coal slurry pipeline right of way.

Roads Wearing Out

More than 70,000 miles of main Texas roads and streets will wear out within the next 10 years due to a 24% increase in traffic, a former state highway engineer has warned.

J. C. Dingwall, state chairman of The Road Information Program TRIP, said three-fourths of the 94,198 miles of major Texas trafficways should be resurfaced or reconditioned by 1986 to serve 2.2 million vehicles traveling 100 billion miles a year.

Unemployment Down

Unemployment dropped a tenth of a percentage point in September, leaving 9,300 fewer Texans out of work than the month before. Texas Employment Commission said total employment also declined by 32,000.

TEC found 5.4% of a 292,000-member Texas labor force officially jobless, reflecting in part that summer job seekers had withdrawn from the labor force and gone back to classrooms.

Dannheim Boy Injured

Chayse Dannheim, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Dannheim of Sonora, was painfully injured last Saturday night at the Halloween Carnival in Sonora when a game contraption came loose and fell on his left foot. The bone in the second toe was badly crushed and a part of it had to be amputated. Other toes were either broken or badly bruised. He is a 4th grader and is back in school with splints and crutches.

Chayse is the grandson of Mrs. E. H. Dannheim of this county, and of Mr. Frank Reed of the Schleicher County Nursing Home.

Mrs. John Pitts has been a patient in the local hospital.

Jonana and Will B. Doyle visited recently with Mrs. Bessie Doyle. Jerry and Heavia came over the week end and the children returned to Menard with them.

Rev. Garlington will be assisted during the service by other ministers participating in the Alliance.

This annual event is a wonderful time for the Christians in Eldorado to put aside their denominational differences and to worship and praise God together. Be sure to attend this service especially designed to lead all of us in expressing our gratitude to our Mighty Provider.

Most Eldorado churches will dispense with their own services this Sunday night in order for their congregations to attend.

Hunting Season Starts With Few Deer Bagged

Despite near record low temperatures for the opening day of deer hunting season, the deer killing by hunters was apparently getting off to a slow start.

A drive around the business district on Sunday failed to turn up even one pick-up or car with a deer carcass on it.

At Sofge's, Mrs. Mary Sofge reported Sunday that they had not had even one dressed deer brought in to be stored in their new deer storage cooler which was put into operation for the first time this Fall. And that was after the passing of the opening day of the season.

Game Warden Mike Porter said

Sunday that the hunting season was off to a slow start, and that many hunters did not come in to hunt Saturday and Sunday due to the bad weather. He was expecting the hunting to start picking up in the next few days. He added that the deer were in good shape, what there were of them.

The cold, icy weather we had over the week end caused weather warnings to come on T-V about ice on bridges and urged motorists not to drive unless absolutely necessary.

But it was a deer hunter's delight. Local restaurants and package stores displayed large signs, "Hunters Welcome" and they did a brisk business.

Sleet & Ice Set In During Week End

Icy, sleet weather set in over the area during the week end, causing hazardous road conditions and warnings to drivers to cut out unnecessary driving.

The Veterans Day program was held as scheduled Friday afternoon on the Court House lawn, and it was closing as the cold norther blew in. By nightfall, we were having sleet and ice forming on trees and power lines; however, there was not enough accumulation of ice to break limbs or lines.

The cold, sleet weather continued through Saturday, the opening day of the hunting season, with a very cold Saturday night. Residents awoke Sunday morning to 16-degree thermometer readings, which was the coldest mid-November in memory. The sun was shining Sunday and Monday so that a thaw set in.

The fall of sleet and snow flurries dropped an accumulation of two-tenths of an inch of moisture in rain gauges here in Eldorado. That will further delay the cotton farmers getting into their fields.

The Neighborhood Center

is now taking any used toys which your children have outgrown. The toys will be repaired and will be given away at the Christmas Party which will be held December 20, 1976. Please take your toys to 400 Dorris Ave. (across from Helen Fay's Beauty Shop.)

Moose Hunting In Canada

Buz and Phil McCormick have just returned from a hunting trip in Canada that took about 2 1/2 weeks.

Driving by car, the trip took them through Montana and adjoining states. They hunted in British Columbia and both of them got a moose. Their trip by pick-up totaled 2650 miles each way.

The boys each got a moose weighing about 800 pounds. Phil was displaying a set of fine horns and both were very busy cutting up the carcasses.

The Board of Directors wishes to thank Otis Deal for his dedication of time and efforts in promoting Soil and Water Conservation in the District."

Current directors of the District are Voy Lee Butts, Herman Allen, J. C. Bumgardner, Walter Pope, and Steve Williams.

S. S. Man Here Today

Nursing Home Notes

During part of this past week the main topic of conversation was the weather! It seems to me that it is a little early to have such a severe spell as we had. It reminded us that winter is here.

Again this week none of the residents are sick, for which we are very thankful.

When we played Bingo last Wednesday morning, the winners were as follows: Carrie Blakeway, Elva Daniels, Maggie Sluder, 2 games; Erna Rexroat, 2 games.

When we played Bingo last Friday morning, the following were winners: Carrie Blakeway, Elva Daniels, Beulah Harris, 2 games; Erna Rexroat, Georgia Springstun, LaVita Brooks, 2 games.

During last week we had four visitors. Gerald Dannheim of Sonora visited Frank Reed. Gerald Nicks of Sonora visited Georgia Springstun. Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Crump of Abilene visited Hixie Potter.

We all enjoy visitors very much. —LaVita Brooks, rep.; Beulah Harris, rep.

Presbyterian Notes

A good number of our young people and their friends left Friday afternoon for the week end retreat at Mo-Ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Page, Mrs. Nancy Powell, and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McCormack accompanied the young people.

The annual Thanksgiving dinner and congregational meeting for the adoption of the budget and election of new officers was scheduled at the church on Wednesday evening of this week, starting at 6:30.

What I Saw In Church Last Sunday

I saw men, women, boys, and girls who know that there is more to life than acquiring a new home, new car, money in the bank, and having fun. I saw parents who love their children enough to prepare them for eternity by taking them to Bible classes and worship. I saw husbands and wives who love the Lord enough to leave an unbelieving mate at home and come to worship alone. I saw many who could have made a hundred excuses as to why they couldn't be there, but didn't!

I saw those who gave as God has prospered them. But there were some there who spent more on cigarettes last week than they gave to the Lord!

I saw older Christians who did not let the pains and discomforts of advancing age keep them from worshipping the God who gave them those years.

I gazed out over a group of people who want to know and do God's will.

Yes, there were a few hypocrites there! There were some who sang, "O How I Love Jesus" with their mouths while denying it with their lives! I saw some teenagers who were talking and playing, but there were others who were there to praise and worship God.

I saw a lot in church last Sunday! But God saw a lot more than I did! When God's eyes fell upon you, What Did He See?

Question: Since there are many hypocrites in the church, am I not justified in refusing to go to church with them?

Answer: Anything that stands between you and God is closer to God than you are! I had rather go to church with them than to go to Hell with them! Why should their wrong cause us to do wrong?

Signed, "The Country Parson." If you have a question about the Bible, send it to: The Country Parson, P.O. Box 91, Eldorado, Tex 76936.

TO CONDUCT SERVICE

First Presbyterian Church, of which Rev. Gordon Garlington is pastor, will have charge of the service this Sunday afternoon, Nov. 21st, at the Nursing Home.

Tempt Dessert Lovers with Plum Pandowdy

Here's a special old-fashioned dessert to please everyone. It's a simple deep-dish pie made with fresh California plums.

Invented by a thrifty colonial cook, pandowdy is a perfect way to enjoy plums... now and later. That refreshing plum tartness is perfectly complemented by a buttery sugar crust and fragrant spices in the filling.

When shopping for red, green, yellow or blue fresh California plums, select fruit that is firm and full-colored. A slightly soft tip end is a good indication of ripeness. If not quite ripe, leave plums at room temperature for a day or two. But, watch carefully. Fresh plums ripen quickly. Refrigerate ripe plums to keep them fresh and juicy for several days.

With the colorful parade of fresh plums now in our markets, now's the time to enjoy them in all our favorite ways... and to preserve some of that plum goodness to enjoy all winter long.

CALIFORNIA PLUM PANDOWDY

1½ cups flour plus 3 tablespoons 1½ pounds fresh California plums, pitted and quartered (about 9 plums or 4½ cups quartered plums)
 ½ cup powdered sugar
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
 ½ cup butter or margarine
 3 tablespoons milk

Into mixing bowl, sift together 1½ cups flour, sugar and salt; add lemon peel. With pastry blender, cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse meal. With fork, lightly mix in milk. Set aside. Turn plums into 8-inch square cake pan. Combine remaining 3 tablespoons flour with brown sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg; sprinkle over plums. On lightly floured board, roll pastry into 8-inch square. Place over plums; crimp edges. Slash steam vents in top; sprinkle with sugar, if desired. Bake in 425 degree oven 30 minutes or until golden brown and bubbly. Serve warm with heavy cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Another I-H 10 Stretch Is Now Open To Traffic

The stretch of I-H 10 extending to Copperas Bridge approximately 14 miles west of Junction was officially opened to traffic Wednesday morning.

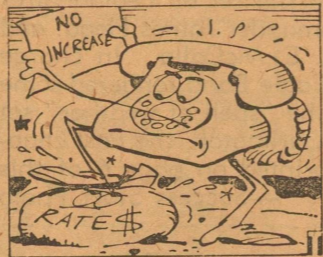

Work on the section was begun in December, 1972 by Mid County Asphalt Co. of Dallas. Paving was completed by Dean Word Construction of New Braunfels. —Junction Eagle.

Keeping Phone Rates Down

Next time you pick up your telephone to make a call, think about this: telephone rates may be going up and the price you pay for other essential services along with them.

Why? Legislation is being pressed that would grant American Telephone and Telegraph (AT&T) and its allies an absolute telephone monopoly in the United States and virtually exempt the Bell System from many forms of rate regulation and antitrust action.

Many experts believe that this action, meant ostensibly to help the people who use the telephone services, would actually hurt them. For example, the legislation might result in consumers paying higher prices for telephone equipment and data transmission services. This would indirectly increase prices of food, utilities, health services and transportation as higher costs are passed on to consumers.

A lot of people who really care about the American consumer believe that making the telephone company a monopoly would monopolize the consumer's rights.

Home Ec Classes Share The Health

Community involvement is the name of the game for students returning to home economics classes this year. The Fleischmann's Yeast Share the Health Contest (formerly The Fleischmann's Yeast Menu Planning Contest) offers students the chance to play an active role in their local community and win valuable prizes, while learning about good nutrition, menu planning, and budget management.

The contest is open to all junior and senior high school home economics classes in every state and the District of Columbia. Basically, each class must choose among eight community groups and analyze that particular group's nutritional needs, while planning a week's menu to meet those needs. The menus should consist of a variety of dishes, including yeast breads and rolls.

The eight groups eligible are: pregnant women, senior citizens, children ages six to twelve, low-income families, athletic teams, the overweight, adolescents, and manual laborers. Each class should actively involve itself with their chosen group, sharing what they've learned.

The 1976-77 national winning class flies to Boston, Massachusetts for a one-week expenses-paid holiday. There, they will attend the American Home Economics Association Convention, tour the city's historic sites, and enjoy a real Boston clam bake. For detailed information write: Standard Brands Educational Service, Drawer A-Contest, Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Beta Sigma Phi Meets

Beta Sigma Phi holiday plans were discussed during the regular business meeting last Tuesday night.

These plans include a Thanksgiving dinner on November 22, honoring BSP husbands, a progressive dinner and gift exchange in the month of December and on December 31 the sorority will sponsor a dance with all of Eldorado invited to ring in the New Year with them. The sorority hopes to bring back "Sierra Light" from Baird to play for this dance.

A report on the proceeds from the Halloween carnival was given by treasurer Fayla Cheatham and Barbara Jackson reported that the carnival was a big success with all organizations reporting good profits this year.

The program for the night was "Public Relations and the Press." Hostesses were Nelva Martin and Tommie Boswell. —Rep.

Sheep, Lamb Production Decline In Texas

Austin, Texas.—Sheep and lamb numbers in Texas continue their steady decline as evidenced by the 31% decrease in totals reported on feed from a year ago, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said today.

While the Nov. 1 total of 70,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter was 3% above the previous month, it is still well below the number being fed a year earlier, White pointed out.

Placements of animals into Texas drylot sheep feedlots with a capacity of 2,000 head or more totaled 33,000 head in October. At the same time, sheep and lambs marketed for slaughter during October totaled 31,000 head, 6% less than intended marketings, and 28% less than marketings during October, 1975.

Current intentions to market the 70,000 head on feed Nov. 1 are: November, 22,000; December, 20,000; January, 14,000; and 5,000 at a later date.

"December and January intentions are incomplete at present because additional lambs could still be placed on feed and marketed during these months," White explained.

Of these animals on feed Nov. 1, 11,000 weighed in at under 70 lbs., 12,000 at 70-79 lbs., 24,000 at 80-89 lbs., 12,000, 90-99 lbs., and 11,000 head at 100 lbs. or over.

You could have diabetes without any of the symptoms. Indeed, anyone at any age, can become diabetic. Those most likely to get it, however, are relatives of diabetics, and people who are over 40 or overweight.

The earlier the disease is discovered and proper control is established, the better the diabetic's chances are for living an active life. It is therefore in your best interests to be tested periodically for diabetes.

It is also important to be able to recognize the most common symptoms: excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, loss of weight, itching, tiring easily, changes in vision, and slow healing of cuts and scratches.

November is National Diabetes Month. If you have not been tested lately, do so now. And learn all you can about this major health problem that is expected to affect one in five of us by the time we are 70.

DON'T LET THE HOLIDAYS GET YOU DOWN

We should all look forward to the Holidays. And yet, it is amazing to note how many people can hardly get through them without a great deal of stress and exhaustion.

The fast pace of modern living seems to make people almost frantic in their approach to the Holiday season. Pressures build for both the business person and the homemaker as they seek to fulfill all social, business and family obligations in a short span of time.

ENJOY YOUR FUN—Don't let festivities keep you from feeling fit.

What many of us don't realize is that the way we feel under pressure (mentally and physically) depends to a great extent on our overall health. No one can feel relaxed, pleasant, and capable of coping with a busy schedule if his body is not functioning properly.

Even under normal circumstances, there is a difference in the reactions of those individuals whose health is up to par and those whose health is less than should be expected. Add to that the overindulgence in food and beverage during the Holiday season, the drain on mental and physical capacities, and the result is more obvious. Since the central nervous system influences every part of the body, stress shows up in extreme fatigue, nervous tension, and lowered resistance against disease and disablement.

It's easy to say "slow down for the Holidays," but your doctor of chiropractic offers some sound advice based on his health care experience and training.

1. Before you jump on the merry-go-round of activities, pull out and pitch all the non-essential projects that were time-consuming and wasteful the previous year.

2. Concentrate on essentials, and pace yourself. Make up a list of projects to be done by priority and allow sufficient time for them.

3. Don't try to get all your entertaining into the Holidays. If you "owe" someone dinner or social response, try to schedule it after the Holidays. Since other people suffer the same frustrating schedule as you do, they might also appreciate an invitation when the pace slackens.

4. Resist the temptation to over-eat or to indulge in an excess of rich foods.

5. Get plenty of sleep and relaxation.

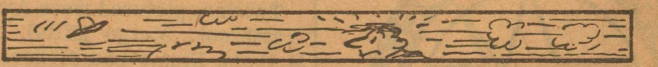

6. Keep an important place on that calendar of busy activities for periodic health examinations, including a spinal examination.

Your doctor of chiropractic reminds you that having a happy Holiday depends on staying healthy, being energetic, and being free of pain and illness.

Persistent or recurring aches in the back and limbs may suggest a possible spinal or pelvic problem. This often requires a structural correction of the cause in order to relieve the condition. Although drugs may hide the pain temporarily, the spine and sacrum must be aligned to the proper position for normal function.

Some people believe that a green ivy leaf placed in water in a covered dish after dark on New Year's Eve and left until Twelfth Night will tell the future.

A wind of 231 miles per hour was recorded in 1934 at Mount Washington, New Hampshire.

Some people believe that a fern growing in a tree can cure stomachache.

An Inspiring Declaration
The Declaration of Independence, adopted on July 4, 1776, was submitted to Congress and signed by the members present on August 2 that year. The quality and importance of this document was enhanced by the cotton fiber, or rag, content of the paper it was written on.

Today, most executives prefer corporate letterheads on cotton fiber paper because it reflects corporate strength, character and a pride in being the best.
The original document of the Declaration is still around, preserved in a helium-filled glass case in the National Archives Building in Washington, D.C.

The highest denomination of paper currency ever authorized in the world is the U.S. gold certificate for $100,000 bearing the likeness of former President Woodrow Wilson!

The highest quality paper made today contains cotton fiber. Each sheet has a crafted uniform beauty that makes type or printing look better. Each has a recognizable "snap" and crisp feel that says unmistakable quality!

A language of the highest quality is English, which contains about 490,000 words, the most of any language. But it's doubtful if any individual uses more than 60,000!

One of the most valuable postage stamps today is the one-cent black on magenta issued in British Guiana (now Guyana). Only a single specimen exists, and it's worth about $300,000!

Plan To "Travel" With Spring Decorative Fabrics

Take a trip around the world for Spring '77—with the help of curtain, drapery and decorative fabrics. Both traditional and contemporary fabrics reflect the colors and patterns of South America, North Africa, India, the Far East, Scandinavia and the Middle East.

Oversized scenes on multicolored grounds show the oriental influence. Also, floral patterns paired with geometrics and stylized florals on silk and silk-like fabric give an oriental flair. Tapestry patterns and small scale flower and plant prints show a Far Eastern look.

North African Berber tribes have influenced almost every new line. This means that textured weavings in natural colored, woven casement cloth with slubbed and brushed surface detailing—multiple yarns—earth tones such as sand, spice and granite alone or paired with brights and embroidery treatments will be available.

Tapestry styling, oversized florals, border prints and unusual panel and block prints will bring the influence of the Middle East. Burgundy, gold, red and green will be the most popular colors along with beige, pewter grey and brown.

Other things to look for are scenes, bold, contemporary artist designs, softened graphics, animals and ecological motifs.

Avoid Mail Order Fraud

If you read ads like "Make easy money at home, send $3 for details," do you obey their command.

If so, you may be defrauded. This type of ad may be one of many that defrauds consumers seeking to supplement their incomes at home.

Dishonest ads for business opportunities may promise payment for at-home work only to send the hapless consumer a letter on how to start his own mail order business or inform him he must pass a test or pay a registration fee before qualifying.

Frequently the victims are homemakers with young children at home, shut-ins, elderly persons and the unemployed.

Unfortunately, many consumers who fall prey to these schemes never complain because of the small amount of money lost. But these small amounts add up when there are tens of thousands of responses.

Before investing in a work-at-home opportunity, be cautious if:—the advertisement promises large profits for little work.

—the ad requires you to send money to receive further information.

—the ad tells you that no experience is necessary.

—the company will not supply the names of other employees so that you can check on their experience.

—you are required to buy and then resell a product at a profit; the item may be of poor quality and unsaleable.

Consumer Food News

College Station—Meat values highlight economy buys at Texas grocery stores—with poultry leading the field currently.

More roasting chickens have feature prices, as well as fryer chickens and turkey, Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist reports.

"Also, beef specials include a great variety of cuts—namely chuck roasts, ground beef and liver.

"Beef steaks at economy prices are sirloin, round, rib and T-bone."

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Moderate-to-low prices continue on pork—with values on Boston butts, loin cuts, end chops, smoked picnics, some brands of bacon, and roll sausage."

Egg prices are steady—with larger eggs offering the better value, Mrs. Clyatt said.

Dairy features include sour cream and yogurt, along with process cheese loaves and slices.

"At produce counters, fresh fruits at the most reasonable prices are tangelos, apples, bananas, cranberries, grapes, oranges and pears," the specialist added.

Economical vegetables are cabbage, carrots, dry yellow onions, rutabagas, cucumbers, squash, cooking greens and potatoes.

Consumer Watchwords—Prices are high—and quality varies—on new-crop pecans now available to consumers.

Vegetables have a different texture and taste when served raw instead of cooked—and you get a bonus of vitamins and minerals, as none are lost in cooking.

County Extension Agent's Column

Farm Inputs Plentiful

College Station.—Despite the many problems facing farmers and ranchers today, agricultural inputs remain generally plentiful, notes an agricultural economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Wayne Hayenga points out that the availability of farm and ranch inputs is a bright spot in an otherwise bleak outlook for agriculture.

For example, fertilizers will be ample to meet farm and ranch needs this fall and next spring. But, prices can be expected to increase slightly in the near future.

Pesticides will probably also go up in price, primarily due to more cotton, soybean and sorghum acreage, although supplies should be sufficient.

As far as machinery is concerned, farmers can expect a slight shortage of machinery ahead and costs will inch upward. "If you are going to buy machinery soon, it makes sense to hop to it now," contends Hayenga. "There is a good selection, and you will qualify for investment tax credit by buying this fall."

The fuel situation should remain stable unless there's a long, frigid winter or an oil embargo.

Although farm income will be off this year and farmers' debts continue high, they can still rely on a fairly steady rate of credit in the coming months, adds the economist.

Beef Producer Profits Hinge On Prices

College Station.—A livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says that beef producers shouldn't worry too much about the amount of beef they supply to consumers, but neither should they expect profits to increase unless retail prices go up.

Dr. Ed Uvacek points out that beef per capita consumption in several foreign countries is considerably higher than that of the U.S. "We, therefore, are probably nowhere near our ultimate limit in U.S. beef consumption," he contends.

Uvacek notes that higher prices paid for beef by U.S. consumers do not necessarily constitute a profit for producers unless consumption levels are maintained or increased. "Producer profits can only come from increased consumer demand for beef and higher retail prices," points out the economist.

Marketing costs are cited by Uvacek as a key factor inhibiting producer profits. "Marketing costs have and will continue to increase at a fantastic rate. Thus, more dollars cannot be returned to the producer until the number of dollars spent are increased."

The specialist says that U.S. consumers will eat all the beef this nation can produce. The question is, at what price will they consume it?

McKay Named To Krueger's Office

Washington, D. C.—Congressman Bob Krueger has announced the appointment of Mike McKay, formerly of his Washington staff and a native of Crane, Texas, to fill the position of office manager of Krueger's San Angelo office.

McKay, who is a graduate of Angelo State University, will be in charge of a 13-county area which includes the following West Texas counties:

Coke, Concho, Crane, Irion, Menard, Glasscock, Reagan, Runnels, Schleicher, Sterling, Tom Green, Sutton, and Upton.

According to Krueger, constituents should direct their inquiries for assistance or information to the San Angelo office if they live in one of the above counties.

McKay, who has served on Krueger's Washington staff for the past year, will also be doing substantial traveling throughout the District, Krueger said. "I have found Mike McKay to be thoroughly reliable and dependable while in Washington," Krueger said, "and I know he will do a good job for the people of West Texas. I hope they will extend to Mike the kindness and courtesies they have shown me."

THE BICENTENNIAL KITCHEN

Hoedown Bars Made With Ranch Staples

For such a diverse cuisine, American cooking had simple origins. Except in a few wealthy homes, food was hearty, but basic, with little spicing or sophistication. This was due to the fact that people had to rely to a great extent on crops and other foods available locally. The advent of commercial refrigeration and modern transportation drastically changed and broadened our food habits.

Until the turn of the century, a large percentage of the population still lived in rural America on farms and ranches. Most people at least had a small garden where they grew their own fruits and vegetables. Home canning was a way of life in order to insure food throughout the winter. Fruits were also dried to preserve them for later use in pies, cakes and puddings.

In spite of the limitations of good preservation and old wood stoves, American ingenuity prevailed and some of our favorite American dishes are a hundred years old. Many of us have treasured family recipes which have been handed down from one generation to another. Texas Hoedown Bars is an excellent example. This old-fashioned recipe is updated with modern ingredients including rich, buttery Blue Bonnet Margarine.

TEXAS HOEDOWN BARS

1-2/3 cups unsifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder

1/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons yellow cornmeal
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 cup Blue Bonnet Margarine
1 cup light brown sugar
1 cup mashed sweet potatoes
1/4 cup frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
1/4 cup honey
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup chopped Pecans
1/2 cup raisins
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
Confectioners' sugar

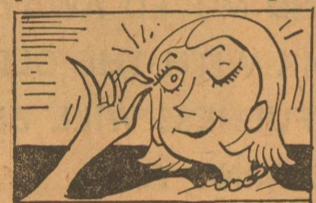

ing powder and salt. Add cornmeal and cinnamon. Set aside.

In a large mixer bowl cream together margarine and brown sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in sweet potatoes, orange juice concentrate, honey and eggs. Blend in flour mixture. Fold in Planters or Southern Belle Pecans, raisins and melted chocolate. Fold until ingredients are well mixed. Pour into a greased 13 x 9-inch baking pan.

Bake at 350°F. 25 to 35 minutes, or until done. Mark into 24 bars. Cool. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. Cut into bars. Remove from pan. Makes 2 dozen.

DO YOU MAKE THESE COMMON EYE SAFETY BLUNDERS?

Half of all blindness can be prevented! That's the good news from experts at The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Do you know the basics about protecting your eyes? Do you rub your eye when a speck of dirt gets in it? Never rub. Gentle blinking or lifting one eyelid over the other and letting tears wash the particle away is the safe procedure.

Do you mow the lawn and do home repair work without any eye protection? This is dangerous. Safety eyewear is very important, since such jobs involve eye hazards too severe for ordinary street-wear spectacles.

Do you often leave very young children to play alone? Don't! They may begin to play with potentially dangerous objects. Remember that three-fourths of eye injuries occur when play is unsupervised.

REV. GORDON GARLINGTON
Pastor, 1st Presbyterian Church

Let us pray. O God, our Father, we lift our hearts to you, the God of our Country, and the author of our liberty. We confess that too often we take our blessings for granted and do not honor you, and are prone to forget the cost of our heritage as a free nation in the sufferings and supreme sacrifice of our heroes. We thank you for all that we enjoy as Americans and all the great blessings which you have bestowed upon us as a nation. We are grateful for your providence which has preserved us in the past and pray for your guidance in the future. We are grateful for the opportunity to live in a free land, wherein we may dwell in liberty. We give thanks for all of our fellow citizens who have laid down their lives in the service of their country. Unite all the people of this nation in a holy purpose to defend the freedom and brotherhood for which they lived and died. Grant, we ask, that the liberty they bequeathed unto us may be continued to the generations to come. May we realize that the preservation of freedom will depend upon our faithfulness and the manner in which we practice and proclaim it throughout the land. Guide us in this task and we pray that peace may abound for our land and to the blessing of all the nations of the earth.

Through Jesus Christ, our Lord, we pray. Amen.

Patriotism is a noble sentiment. The main objects of our loyalty are God and Country. There is no limit to the noble aspirations which the words, "my country," may evoke. Patriotism has the power of calling into activity the best that a man or woman can give.

Patriotism should extend throughout the year, but it is well to keep it alive by remembering on specific occasions and by patriotic exercises on national holidays. Such occasions are the Fourth of July, Memorial Day, and Armistice Day.

Today we honor those in our historic past who have made the supreme sacrifice in all the wars in which our nation has been engaged.

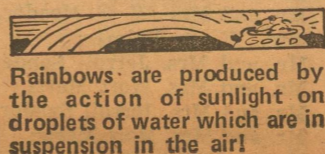

On Armistice Day we particularly remember those who gave their lives in the First World War, the Great War of 1914-1918, in which our nation was engaged in 1917 and 1918, and ended in the armistice signed at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month. On the plaque at the front of the Memorial Building in Eldorado are listed among others the names of those heroes of World War I. The men of Schleicher County who made the supreme sacrifice serving their country in World War I were: Thomas L. Ballew, Roach H. Holland, Neal Kelly, Bev McCormice, Sam I. Nicks Jr., and Roy Stevenson.

It is well for us today to dedicate ourselves anew to the ideals and principles for which these men gave their full devotion, the principles of democracy, justice, and freedom. At this time let us stand for a minute of silent prayer and tribute to all those who have made the supreme sacrifice in the service of our country.

A Yam Dish You'll Invite Back After The Holidays

Ranking in popularity with the gobbler, yams are synonymous with the holidays. While it's true that the vegetable is an important basic food for our southern states and among many ethnic groups, for the majority of Americans, yams are seasonal specialties — essential to the Thanksgiving menu and other holiday feasts.

Now is the time to begin thinking about how to prepare the important side dish this year. The home economists in the Kraft Kitchens suggest this recipe for Yam 'N' Apple Bake as a family and guest pleaser. Fresh apples and orange juice contribute the natural flavors we seem to crave in the fall. A struessel-like mixture adds crunch. And miniature marshmallows top off the casserole with just the right amount of sweetness and an attractive finish.

Besides being delicious, Yam 'N' Apple Bake is so easy (it takes only 20 minutes to make it oven-ready), you'll want to invite it back to your table even after the holidays.

Yam 'N' Apple Bake
2 17-oz. cans yam halves, drained
3 cups peeled apple slices
1/3 cup Kraft pure 100% pasteurized orange juice
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of salt
1/4 cup Parkay margarine
1/4 cup chopped nuts
1-1/2 cups Kraft miniature marshmallows
Place combined yams and apples in 8-inch square baking dish. Pour juice over yam mixture. Combine flour, sugar, cinnamon and salt; mix well. Cut in margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs; stir in nuts. Sprinkle over yam mixture. Bake at 350°, 45 to 50 minutes or until apples are tender. Top with marshmallows; broil until lightly browned. 6 to 8 servings.

Dreaded Questions

WASHINGTON—There are two questions that politicians dread.

The first is: how much does it cost?

The second is: who is going to pay for it?

It is important that you ask these questions in any election year, but it is especially important that you ask them this year. Because never before have so many extravagant promises been made, with so little likelihood that they can be successfully carried out.

There is no such thing as a "free" government service. Government has no resources of its own, and thus has nothing of its own to give away. All that it has is what it takes from somebody else, and that somebody else, in most instances, is you.

Most people substantially underestimate the cost to them of government services. Opinion surveys reveal that the underestimates run as much as one-half to two-thirds of the real costs.

In other words, if the actual cost of a government service to a person in a particular income bracket was $1,000 a year, that person believes that the cost to him was no more than $330 to $500 per year.

The widespread misconceptions about the true cost of government has led to an artificially high demand for government services. These misconceptions have been fostered by vote-seeking politicians who have artfully contrived devious means by which to conceal the true cost of government services from those who have to pay for them, which is to say the taxpayers, which is to say you.

The behavior of voters in opting for even more government programs is understandable. If I believed I could buy filet mignon for $1.25 a pound instead of $3.50, I'd eat steak for breakfast. So would you.

The behavior of politicians is equally understandable, although reprehensible. The vote-getting benefits of the promises they make is in the present, while the costs of those promises in taxes and inflation is deferred until sometime in the indefinite future. Very often voters do not make the connection between the programs and the taxes they have to pay.

Americans pay a great deal for the government they have today. Government at all levels now consumes 37 per cent of the gross national product, up from about 10 per cent in 1929. A single proposed new program—the national health insurance scheme—would raise that to 45 per cent.

The great bulk of this increase has come in spending for social services. Between 1952 and 1972, the budget for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare jumped from $1.9 billion to roughly $100 billion, and increase of 4,837 per cent.

Americans have been paying more and more for government services, and getting less and less in return. It is time for a sober reassessment of these programs, to see if they are worth what they cost. That assessment will take place all the more quickly if voters will ask politicians how much their proposed new programs will cost, and who is going to pay for them.

GET UP... AND GO

Does the alarm clock get you up? No, it merely tells you it's time to get up. Whether you get out of bed is a matter of discipline.

Church bells don't bring anyone to church. They simply remind Christians where we ought to be on a Sunday morning. The rest is a matter of discipline.

Such discipline, whether it calls you to work or to worship, is fundamentally a trait of your own character. It begins with earnestness, it is strengthened by habit, it is directed toward any responsibility or opportunity which you value.

The value a person puts upon God and his own soul usually determines whether he worships each Sunday, or now and then. Put another way: the man who knows what worship and inspiration can mean in his life never is hesitant to get up and go.

And, of course, discipline has special meaning for a Christian: those who lived and worked with Christ were DISCIPLES.
