Businesses Show Growth

EDITOR'S NOTE--This is the second of a series of articles about the growth of Eldorado. Since the town has had a boom in oil and gas production, it has also been the site for several new businesses the town has never had before and several old businesses have expanded or re-modeled.

By Donna Garvin

Eldorado has seen some drastic changes in the last few years due to the oil and gas boom of the mid-seventies in and around Schleicher County. Because of the population explosion from 1,446 in 1970 to approximately 2,000 in 1980, the city and county has had to expand its school system, make additions to its hospital, add more law enforcement facilities and add more public housing.

Along with these major projects came new enterprises and remodeling and expansion of long-time businesses.

Plans for a new First National Bank of Eldorado building have been started, according to Jo Ed Hill, president of the bank. Hopefully the building program will begin in the spring of this year. The new building will be located just north of the present bank, on lots purchased and cleared by the bank. It will contain 75 percent more floor space, expanded driv-in windows, and off-street parking. Further information on the building program will be released in the near future.

The Heart of Texas Savings and Loan Association has begun work on a new branch office in Eldorado at the old Gulf Service Station location across from the courthouse. John Sellman, representative for the firm said a modern brick building will be built, with construction to be completed in approximately three months. The firm's home office is located in San Saba, with branch offices in Ballinger, Robert Lee, Sonora, Big Lake, Onion Creek and Oak Hill (both close to Austin), San Angelo, and Winters.

Eldorado Instrument and Controls Company, owned and operated by Bobby Phillips, is planning to move to new facilities later this year. Phillips purchased the old Fina Station across from the Adobe Mini Mart late last year. The building, when completed, will be 50' X 75'. At present, Phillips does not know the date of completion. The company is presently located at 208 S. Divide, across from Western Auto.

Also moving to a new location later this year is Quadra Corporation. Quadra has frank tank rentals, steam cleaning and vacuum truck services. The company has grown to 100 tanks, two steam cleaning trucks, two vacuum trucks and nine tractors, which has caused the business to outgrow its present location on the south edge of the city limits. The new yard and offices will be located one mile south of Eldorado on Highway 277 South. A spokesman for the firm said they plan to be in the shop in May and the offices should be completed by July.

Another grocery store was added to Eldorado this year with the opening of Bautistas Convenience Store on Highway 277, across from the school. The store, owned and operated by Rudy and Vickie Bautista, offers homemade tamales and burritos, fountain cokes and free coffee. Also located in the store is Eldorado's one and only laundromat.

Eldorado received a unique service recently with the opening of Richard Stricklan Photography. With their new dark room, the Stricklan's can process color and black and white film and print their own pictures.

Stricklan's specialty work includes weddings, family portraits, candid, and commercial photography at any location. On request, the Stricklan's will process film and print pictures for the public.

1980 saw many new businesses added to Eldorado, which are now doing well. The Kiddie Korner Child Care Center was opened in March and the Holley House Gift Shop opened in early summer, both also unique to Eldorado.

Eldorado saw the addition of three income tax and bookkeeping services last year with Prissy Paxton Income Tax Service, RLS Services, and Frankie Schrier Income Tax Service.

A new feed and grain store was added by Kenith Homer at the Mikeska Gin last year. Eldorado Feed and Supply opened its doors last May and is managed by Bill Gentry.

Also making changes in 1980 were two local restaurants. The Bar-B-Que House changed owners and remodeled the inside of the building.

Casa Arispe remodeled and made two new additions in 1980 and 1981. The restaurant is presently in the School Board Plans Gym Repair

With several visitors present, the Schleicher County School Board conducted their regular meeting Monday evening.

Gary Donaldson, architect from San Angelo, presented an update on the building program. He discussed several minor problems that are in the process of being taken care of. A multiplication error in the furniture bid from American Desk made the total short of the correct total. No action was taken at this time.

Richard McCarron, high school principal, presented the board with a renovation program for the gymnasium. McCarron and Coach Johnny Clawson had previously toured the gym with Gary Donaldson and discussed the changes needed. After discussion with Donaldson the board agreed to hire him to draw up preliminary plans for the remodeling.

Maureen Hodges, high school teacher, was granted an emergency leave to work for her master's degree under the direction on Ken Newman. She was granted permission to pay a substitute from her pay.

On behalf of the Ministerial Alliance Rev. Ron Sutto met with the board asking permission to hold a baccalaureate service for the graduating class May 17 in the high school auditorium. Permission was granted by the board for the Sunday night service.

The board adopted the 1980-81 school calendar, with only a few minor changes from the present calendar.

The personnel for 1980-81 was submitted to the board for approval.

Plateau Relays Are Here This Weekend

Eldorado's population will seem to grow this weekend as the Eldorado school system hosts two big track meets, a junior high track meet on Friday and the annual Plateau Relays on Saturday.

Junior high school tracksters from Imperial, Sanderson, McCamey, Big Lake, Wall, Ballinger, Eldorado, Ozona, Sonora and Junction will converge on the school's new track to compete in field and running events. There will be four divisions, seventh and eighth grade girls and seventh and eighth grade boys.

A total of 16 schools have registered to compete in the big Plateau

The personnel included high school and elementary teachers and coaches. The present staff was reinstated by the board.

A discipline policy presented by the athletic coaches was accepted by the board. The policy discusses disciplinary measures to be taken on those persons drinking, smoking and

County Officials Tour New Center

Schleicher County officials were given the okay to move into the new Schleicher County Law Enforcement Center Monday during the regular meeting of the county commissioners, after being given a tour by the architects, Atmar Atkinson and his wife of Atkinson and Atkinson and Associates of Lubbock. Touring the new facility were county judge, Johnny Griffin, county commissioners Prissy Paxton, Holvey Enochs, Billy Gene Edmiston, David Meador, sheriff Orval Edmiston, deputy sheriff Walter Donaldson and county treasurer A.G. McCormack.

After the tour the court made a substantial acceptance of the law enforcement center, with final acceptance of the law enforcement center, with final acceptance within 30 days after moving into the facility, with the approval of the building by Sheriff Edmiston.

Bids for two lawn mowers, steam cleaner, and a dump truck were opened by the commissioners. All bids for lawn mowers were rejected.

Husky Steam Cleaning Company of Odessa received the bid for the taking drugs in the athletic program.

The board passed a resolution accepting the textbooks recommended by the textbook committee.

The certification of the clerks for the trustee election was accepted by the board.

The asbestos ceilings in the high school old elementary wing and steam cleaner for the county barn with a price of $2652.50.

The commissioners accepted the bid from Lacy Truck and Tractor of Ballinger for the new dump truck for $37,238.67. The truck will be an International and according to the two representatives present, it should arrive within six weeks.

Lynn Meador met with the court as a representative for Meals for Friends. The court agreed to pay the program $500 a month through June. It will be made in one payment of $3000. At that time the financing of the program will be reviewed.

The court accepted to lease 2.47 acres of land north of Eldorado to Anderson Petroleum Company of Midland.

The purchase of land for a new airport was discussed. Several county residents have offered land for sale to the county. Judge Griffin will contact the Texas Aeronautics Commission for specifications and guidelines on price of acreage. Sid Rogge, golf course and park custodian, was granted the request to hire a part time employee at $3.35 an hour by the court.

Clay Burleson, county roads supervisor, met with the court to discuss the purchasing of caliche. The commissioners agreed to pay $500 an acre on a one-time basis.

The commissioners voted to tax only commercial vehicles in the county.

Insurance for the new law enforcement center and other county property was discussed. The court agreed to accept proposals from the local insurance companies for the law enforcement center insurance. No other action was taken on insurance at this time.

A.G. McCormack, county treasurer, presented the court with the monthly bills for approval.

Monday, March 16, the judge and commissioners will make an inspection of each precinct.

auditorium was discussed. No action was taken to have the material retested.

The maintenance bills for the school system were approved by the board.

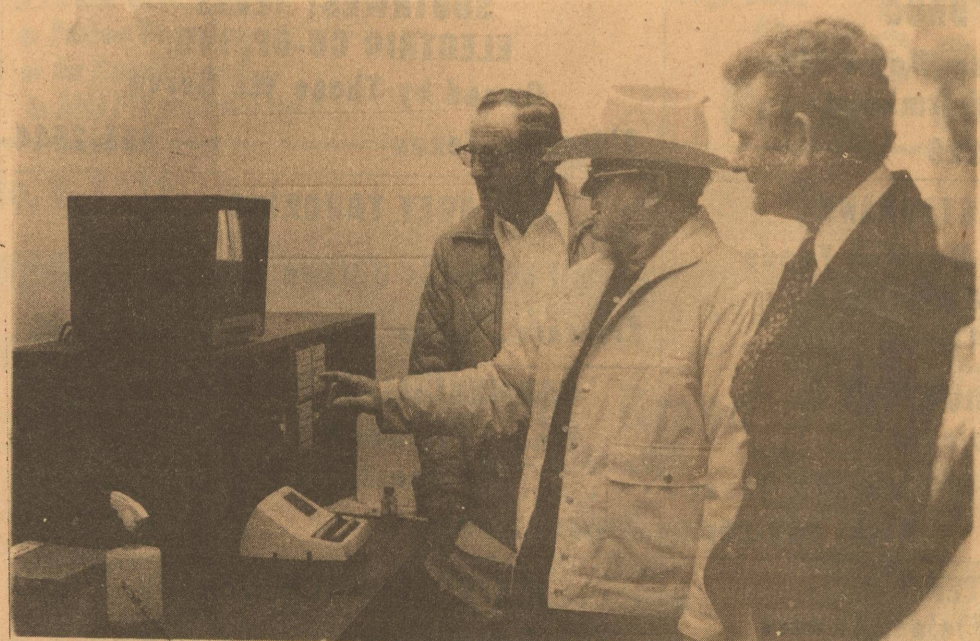

The next school board meeting will be held April 13 in the school administration building.

He explained that the military has four or five routes over Schleicher County.

Detailed plans for the "TRASH, TRINKETS AND TREASURERS" sale was the main topic for the meeting of the Schleicher County Medical Center Auxiliary March 5. The sale will be Tuesday, March 24 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Memorial Building.

A committee was formed to make and place posters in various public places in the city. A telephone committee was designated to request donations for the sale. If anyone has something to donate and cannot bring it to the Memorial Building, they should call Mrs. J.T. EL SALVADOR: Testing Ground For U.S. Determination Administration officials, from the President on down, have been issuing strong warnings to Moscow about this country's new determination to draw the line on communist-inspired insurgency around the world.

The first real test of whether we mean business is taking place now with regard to El Salvador.

This small central American country has become the focal point of our hope to assure stability in the region. Past Administrations have supported aid to El Salvador as internal crisis has swept one government after another out of office over recent years. Aid has become even more critical for the current government in El Salvador. Criticized for its inability to bring about the reforms it promised, the junta in power now nonetheless offers the best hope for eventual democratic rule. For this reason, the Reagan Administration is providing both economic and military aid.

The situation now, however, has become critical. Intelligence reports confirm the fact that Soviet and Cuban-supplied weapons shipped through neighboring Nicaragua, are being funneled to leftist guerrilla camps in El Salvador.

Any hope of stabilizing the government in El Salvador — and the region as a whole — hinges on bringing these weapons shipments to a standstill. As long as they continue, El Salvador is a tinderbox of revolution that could explode, threatening all of Latin America — in fact, the entire Western Hemisphere.

The Reagan Administration has made no bones about it. These arms shipments must stop. And they must stop now.

Up to now, economic and military aid to El Salvador seemed to be sufficient. Since October 1979, the United States has provided some $82 million in aid. It will total $63 million in fiscal year 1981. As a result, the government and the forces of moderation appeared to be stemming the violence and terrorism of extremists. The Marxist led guerrillas were also being held in check.

But in January, the Marxist forces launched a major offensive. Our own intelligence confirmed that the guerrillas were being supplied with substantial quantities of weapons from abroad, including grenades, recoilless rifles, and mortars. These weapons are still being supplied.

Since then, the United States has supplied to the junta in El Salvador an additional $5 million in equipment and services. It has included some urgently needed arms and ammunition, and the loan of six American-made transport helicopters.

El Salvador is more than just another Central American country struggling to overcome internal chaos.

It is a testing ground for future stability throughout the hemisphere. If the Soviets — or their Cuban proxies — can continue to export their brand of Marxism to countries such as El Salvador, it could touch off an irreversible chain reaction throughout Latin America. Castro's grand strategy for insurrection and influence in third world countries will take a giant step forward if he is successful in toppling the fragile government in El Salvador.

Only the United States can make a difference. Without our assistance, it is unlikely the junta can withstand outside influences encouraging and arming opposition factions in the country. The government in El Salvador needs our continued assistance, and the time necessary to bring about reforms promised the people.

The real issue is one of recognizing our true interests. We can act decisively, as the Administration is doing. Or we can do nothing and invite the inevitable. As we have learned, painfully, in such corners of the world as Afghanistan, the price for inaction is paid many times over — in regret.

Comptroller Rep. Sets Visit

State Comptroller Bob Bullock will have a representative from his San Angelo office in Eldorado on March 20, 1981 to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Esther Esparza will meet with local taxpayers in the Memorial Building from 9 to 10:30 p.m.

"If Eldorado area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing state tax forms, Ms. Esparza will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

Poor Soil Hurts Gardening Results

EDITOR'S NOTE- This is the third article in a 13-part series about gardening in Eldorado. Provided as a public service from county extension agents Nancy Lester and Jerry Swift, the series will run weekly in the Leader.

I think it's safe to say that absolutely nothing can be more discouraging at planting time than poor soil. Gardeners all over the county are constantly amazed at what they are expected to grow their garden vegetables in. There are good soils and poor soils in Schleicher County although most are not that bad for gardening if prepared properly.

Regardless of the type of soil in your garden, it can be improved by adding plenty of organic matter. This is one of the real keys to growing successful vegetables in your backyard.

If your soil is a heavy clay, adding organic matter will improve drainage and aeration as well as allow for better root development. If you have a sandy soil, liberal amounts of organic matter will help it hold water as well as nutrients.

Where do you get organic matter? This magical stuff, which does all the above things plus serves as a source of food for soil fungi and bacteria, comes in the form of peat moss, compost, hay, grass clippings, barnyard fertilizer, shredded bark, leaves or even shredded newspapers.

When adding organic matter to soil, be sure to apply enough to physically change the soil structure. Ideally, at least one-third of the final soil mix in your garden should be some type of organic material. To accomplish this, spread a 2- to 4-inch layer of organic material over the garden surface and till it to a depth of at least six to eight inches. Apply the recommended rate of fertilizer over the garden surface at the same time and till it in along with the organic material.

This is also a good time to treat your soil for nematodes if they have been a problem in the past. More about that later.

Last time I talked about working up the garden soil and mentioned using rototillers. I indicated they weren't absolutely necessary for gardening, but they sure do make soil preparation a lot easier. Many local gardeners prefer the shovel or spading fork to the rototiller and really enjoy getting out and working up the ground. But I know there are many who look for a simpler and easier way to handle this chore. For you folks who own rototillers or those of you thinking about renting or buying one, here are some tips to make the tilling job a lot easier.

1. Tilling the garden will be easier if you leave a row untilled between passes. There are two reasons for doing this: wide turns are easier to make with a tiller than "about faces," and the machine won't be pulling itself and you toward the next row (which it will do if you even come close to overlapping rows).

2. In tilling heavy clay soils or breaking up ground for a new garden, reduce the engine speed of the tiller so that it will dig better and buck and bounce less.

3. When tilling ground for the first time, don't try to work it to its maximum depth in the first pass. The first time around, set the brake stake half the depth you desire. Then set it to full depth and go over the ground a second time.

4. It's important to till only when the soil is somewhat dry and friable. Tilling when it's too wet will leave behind large clods which will become rock hard when dry. Also, mud clumps clinging to the blades of the tiller will upset its balance, causing undue wear on you and the tiller.

Our next column will deal with controlling soil-borne diseases.

Mrs. Lois Annette Ragsdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pat Ragsdale has enlisted in the United States Air Force.

Miss Ragsdale, 17, is a graduate of Eldorado High School and will be a dental specialist.

She and other enlistees will attend a six week Basic Military Training Course at Lackland AFB in San Antonio.

PLAQUE PRESENTATION--Volunteer firemen Jerry Jones, right and Robert Parker present a plaque to Mrs. Fred Riley at City Hall last week. The plaque is in honor of her husband and is "in appreciation for many years of dedicated service to Eldorado Fire Department." Mr. Riley who died January 25, was in the Fire Department for 20 years. Jones is president of the fire department and on the pension board. Parker is secretary.

Desk and Derrick Hears Harle

The Tri-Cities Desk and Derrick Club held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, March 3 at the HNG Building.

Members in attendance were Candy Nelson, Sherry Barton, Joyce Reber, Frances Dodd, Joyce Vaughn, Sylvia Gamboa, Jeanne Lee and Denise Joseph.

Also in attendance were prospective new members Rose Berry of Pool Co., Toyah Gilly of TIDCO, Wanda Dews with Blue-ridge in Ozona and Cyndie Cargel with O.J.B. Inc. of Ozona.

Bill Harle of S&S Casing Crew was guest speaker for the evening and he spoke of casing crews as his topic.

He explained to the group the services casing crews perform and the necessity of casing for an oil or gas well.

Following Mr. Harle's talk, we held a business meeting to discuss several important future events.

We will be holding our 1st Annual Golf Tournament at the Sonora Golf Club, March 21, 1981.

Tea off time will be 8:30 A.M., but we would appreciate that teams arrive early so we can begin on schedule. A Bar-B-Que and Awards Presentation of Trophies will follow the Tournament.

All entries may make up their own 4-man teams, leaving us the option, however, to replace a member should your team appear to be stronger than others. We want everyone to have a good time, but also an equal opportunity in the Tournament.

As we are limited to 16 teams, we can accept only the first 64 entries submitted by men or woman over the age of 18.

The entry form must be accompanied with the entry fee per person before we can place you on the list. These may be mailed to: Tri-Cities Desk & Derrick Club, P.O. Box 1672, Sonora, Texas 76950.

The preceding night (Friday, March 20) a cocktail party for all players will be held from 5:30-9 p.m. at the Strawberry patch. Teams will be made at this time.

It is our hope that enough money will be raised to defray the cost of sending one or possibly two members of the Tri-Cities Desk & Derrick Club to the Association Convention to be held in Los Angeles, California this year.

We also discussed the Region V Regional Meeting in Odessa, on April 3, 4, and 5, 1981. It will be a time to learn what is happening in Region V and a time to enjoy being a member of Desk & Derrick.

Two field trips have been planned for us. The first will be to OIME, who will give us a tour from start (Engineering Dept. for the design work) to finish (the rig-up yard where drilling rigs are finally assembled).

The second will be to the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, which I am sure will prove exciting for those who have never been before.

Reservations for the Holiday Inn must be received no later than March 20, 1981. Also, indicate which field trip you would most like to attend.

Although the meeting is open to all club members, only one member can vote per club. Nominations were made for delegate and alternate. To attend as delegate will be Joyce Valughan, CRC Wireline, and as alternate, Candy Nelson, Oil Patch Anchor Service; Well Head Safety Control.

Junior Troop 225 Watches Play in Angelo

"...and you can even see them working," Bungle, the cat commented about her braininess at every opportunity. Bungle was a character in Patchwork Girl of Oz, a play which was attended last Thursday evening by Junior Troop 225 of Eldorado.

The play which was designed for a junior audience was delightfully done with fantasy from the land of Oz.

The nine girls shared pizza from Shakey's before seeing the play and enjoyed songs and games on the trip back from San Angelo.

Troop 225 attended the Baptist Church services as a group to start off the activities of Girl Scout week March 8-14 in the most appropriate manner.

During their meeting Tuesday, they prepared a picnic lunch to be taken to the Scout get-together after the community cleanup project this afternoon. They will be cleaning up then join the other Scouts in the park for supper, games, and songs.

The Girl Scout Leaders of Eldorado will be attending an arts and crafts training session Saturday in San Angelo. They are constantly searching for new and exciting activities the girls will like to do.

Contracts Raise Questions

by Jay Cash
As teacher contract time nears, several questions have been raised concerning criteria for hiring new teachers and renewing contracts.

Supt. Guy Whitaker explained that to be hired a person must have certain basic qualifications: (1) at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited university or college, (2) certification (that is a sort of guarantee of competency required by the state) in the area of teaching being applied for, (3) the applicant must be of high moral fiber. Other requirements include good health, sufficient references and a neat professional appearance.

Veteran teachers' contracts come up for renewal in mid-March. Consideration is based primarily on written reports submitted twice a year by the two principals. These evaluations contain information on competency and acceptance by students, parents and other staff members.

Contracts in this school system are for a one year term. At the end of this period, they may or may not be renewed. Renewal is not automatic even if the teacher has taught several years in this system.

Families Are Needed

by Brad Thomas
For the past three years, Eldorado families have hosted students from foreign countries through the American Field Service (AFS) program. Frank Boulmer from France lived with the Kenith Homer family in 78-79; Luis Rosas from Brazil stayed with the Frank Williams family in 1979-80, and Mia Kuikko from Finland is presently living with the Duwain Sauers.

Next year's AFS student is going to need a home and a family. A family can have fun and gain invaluable experiences by hosting a foreign student. The host family does not have to have a child the age of the AFS student. That is helpful, however, in helping the new student find friends when he or she arrives.

Hosting an AFS student is not only enriching and fascinating, but it is a low cost adventure. The money spent to keep a foreign student is tax deductible. While the host family pays for food and lodging, AFS pays for transportation to Eldorado from his country, as well as any medical expenses incurred during the year.

Families interested in finding out more about hosting an AFS student should contact Mrs. Ilse Williams, Route 1, Eldorado or by calling 915-853-2460. Mrs. Williams, a native of Germany, is the President of the local AFS chapter.

Several articles have appeared recently in the San Angelo Standard Times headlined "Wall ISD in a class of its own." The articles praise Wall's special reading times, computer mathematics and career education.

Feeling a bit left out, we wondered how our schools compared and why Wall received so much good publicity. According to several school officials, Wall was written about, "primarily because they're so close to San Angelo." According to Supt. Guy Whitaker, "EHS is as good as any school in Region 15." Principal Richard McCarron also said, "Eldorado has a good school system. I'll put our scores up against theirs anytime."

The newspaper article reported that Wall students had scored well on the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) Test. According to Mr. Whitaker, only three Eldorado students, other than those in special education, failed to make a satisfactory score on the TABS exit-level test given to ninth graders, one in reading and two in math.

New Ruling Is Viewed By Coach

by Mike Wilks
Last week the UIL ruled that a transfer student does not have to sit out a year before participating in sports on the varsity level. "This ruling will definitely help our football program in the coming years," said Coach Johnny Clawson.

"The reason for the old transfer rule was that during the thirties, some big schools like Odessa and Breckenridge made a practice of hiring oilfield workers who had athletic sons. I don't think any of the towns will try to recruit players now. Regulations are such that they'd have to do an awful lot of lying if they did," Clawson continued.

The old transfer rule has been in effect for the last fifty years. "There's no telling how many good athletes have had to sit out a year as punishment for something their parents did," he added.

Cindy Velez-

Four or 16?

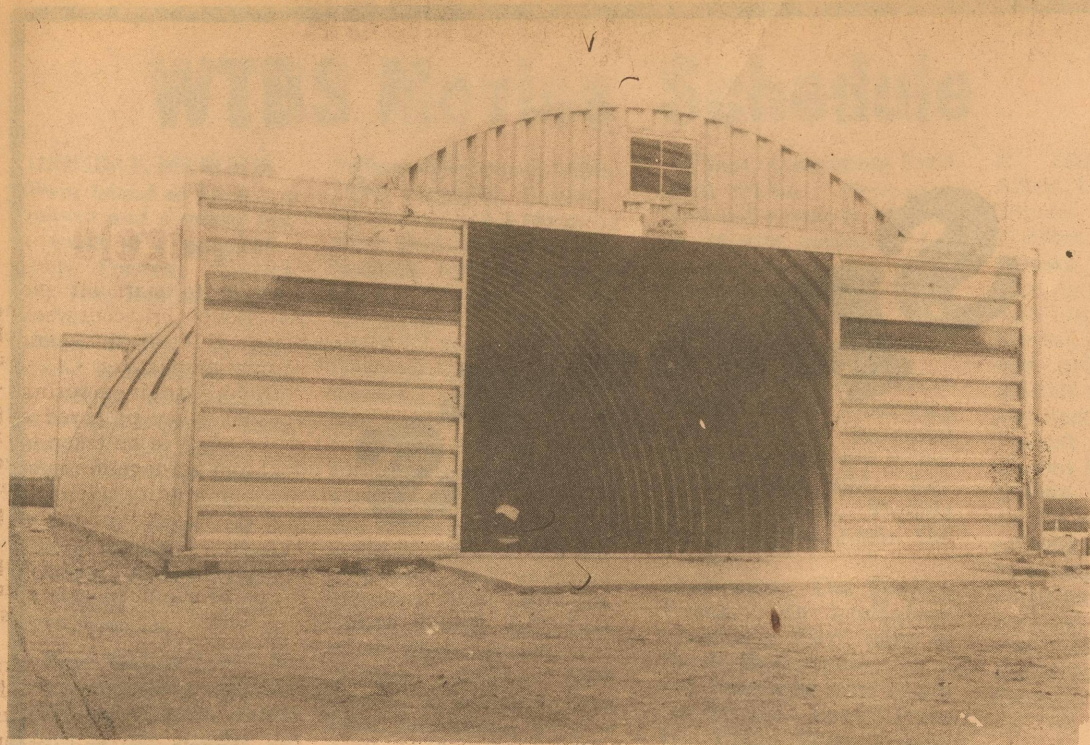

by Lamar Hardee
Junior Cindy Velez was surprised to find out that she's the only leap year baby at EHS.

Asked when she celebrates her birthday, she said, "On February 28, which is also my sister's birthday. My sister is 23."

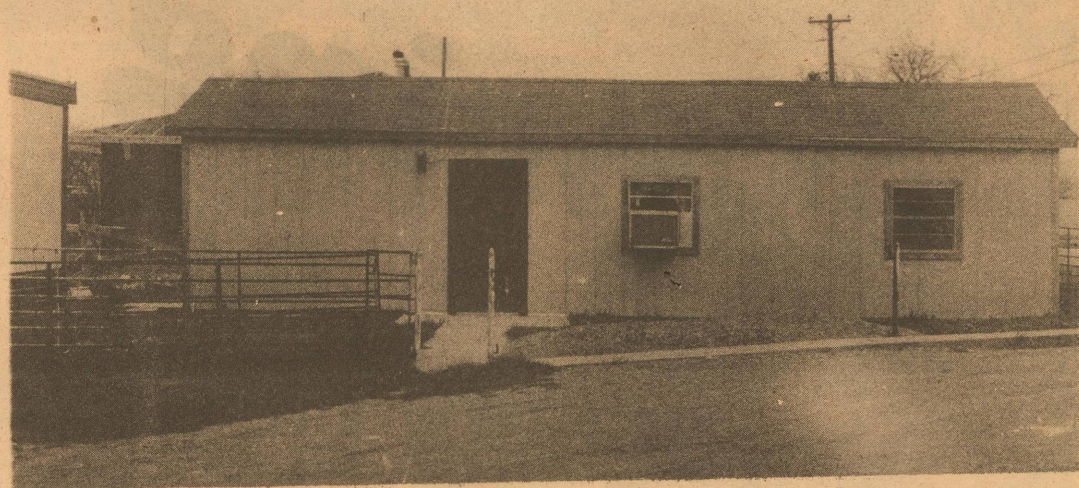

Cindy said that it is fun being a leap year baby. She also explained that if she lives to be 100, she'll only be 25. Her parents honor her with a big party on the leap year at which she has a lot of fun, she added.

Right now she is 16, but by leap year calculations, she is only four.

Two new health facilities have been added to the businesses in Eldorado. John Callison has put in the Eagle Spa in back of the Eagle Willeke. Similar to the Eagle Spa, it is located on north street next to the Willeke home.

And Eldorado continues to grow. Within the coming year. Western Company will be adding a cement department, which will add approximately 35 more employees.

In recent years the interest in flying has grown in Eldorado and several residents own their own planes. Because of this growing interest, the county is out-growing its airport. The county commissioners are in the process of finding and purchasing land to build a more servicable airport for local residents as well as oil company planes and hunters.

When discussing the growth of Eldorado with bank president Hill, he definitely attributed the expansion of our city to the oil and gas boom of the seventies.

He feels Eldorado will continue to grow and expand with the increase in drilling and exploration in this area. He said there are plenty of jobs in and around Eldorado for those who are capable and willing to work.

Hill also commented, that due to the economic growth, bank deposits have increased 250 percent since 1974.

Next week, Eldorado's housing problems will be discussed.

Dear Friends and Fellow Citizens,

I have resided in Eldorado and have opted to try to do my part in bettering the conditions of our small community. During my residence in this city, I have befriended many people and met the majority of the community.

As being in business here, I have been confronted with many of the problems of our community and have had these problems expressed to me by many of our citizens. I must also express my understanding that none of these problems are major, but are longstanding problems not dealt with in the past.

I forsee Eldorado as a thriving community with a stable economy that will continue through the years, mainly because of the diligence and understanding of our citizenry. It is for these reasons that I have filed in the race for a seat on the City Council of Eldorado, I wish to express my gratitude to you for taking the time to read this message and your vote will be deeply appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Texas Fails To Reach One Million Mark

Preliminary tabulations indicated that Texas crude oil production amounted to 931,078,275 barrels in 1980, the second consecutive year the state's production failed to reach the billion barrel mark.

The preliminary total was contained in the December 1980 production report that was issued today by the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division.

Crude production in 1979 totaled 978,544,145 barrels. In 1964—the last previous time that Texas oil output was under a billion barrels—production totaled 989,525,000 barrels.

Texas crude output last year indicated a 4.9 percent drop from 1979's total volume.

The 1980 decrease reflected an appreciable slowing in the rate of decline in Texas oil output. Production in 1979 was down six percent from the previous year, while 1978 output decreased by nearly 5.5 percent from the preceding year.

Today's production report also indicated actual output in 1980 was 27.23 percent under the legal monthly rates assigned by the Commission during the year.

Texas crude oil production totaled 76,918,883 barrels in December 1980.

The figure compares with final compilations of reported November 1980 production totaling 74,984,413 barrels and December 1979 production of 80,691,051 barrels.

Texas oil production averaged 2,481,254 barrels daily in December 1980, down from 2,499,480 barrels daily in November. The December allowable totaled 109,714,756 barrels for the month.

The preliminary December summary indicated Texas oil production was 29.42 percent under the allowable for the month.

Crude production in four Railroad Commission districts of North and West Central Texas increased in 1980. Production in other areas of the state dropped.

Landis won first in the 100 meter dash and Douglas Ussery won first in the 1600 meter run. In the 800 meter dash, Douglas Ussery won first, Clint Bumgardner won second and James Cathey won third.

In the 200 meter dash, Ron Landis won first and Jeff Harlin won fourth.

Ashley Niblett won second in the high hurdles.

In the field events, Niblett won second in the high jump and Cathey won sixth.

Gene Edmiston won second in pole vaulting and Woodward won fourth.

"The boys did an excellent job this early in the season," grinned Copeland.

The varsity boys, meanwhile, won fifth out of 18 schools at the meet.
