

Law Center Is Certified By Texas Jail Commission

After three full years of planning, consulting and building, the Schleicher County Court received certification from the Texas Commission on Jail Standards for the new law enforcement center during their meeting Monday.

The final inspection and certification presentation was made by Joe Slater of Sweetwater, inspector for the commission. He presented to County sheriff Orval Edmiston, county judge Johnny Griffin and commissioners Holvey Enochs, David Meador, De Lux and Prissy Paxton.

The certificate will be framed and hung in the lobby of the new facility.

Slater said, "County officials and sheriff Edmiston are to be commended on the splendid accomplishment. This is not due to one person but to all working together. The taxpayers should be proud they have elected officials who have been able to achieve this result at minimum costs.

"Having achieved compliance with the Texas Jail standards and with continued operation at this level, you can be assured that frivolous complaints and lawsuits will not be looked upon favorably by the federal courts. Compliance with the laws of the state of Texas serves to protect you as these rules and statutes have been tested and upheld on numerous occasions by the federal courts," he added.

The court hired an architect exactly three years ago to begin plans for the new building.

Commissioners Take Action On Several Items Monday

Schleicher County Commissioners made several decisions during their meeting Monday.

Dorothy Evans, county tax assessor-collector, met with the court and asked for a reaffirmation of action taken during a meeting June 8. During that meeting, the court had voted unanimously to allow Mrs. Evans to hire a person to replace Mrs. Betty Wilson who had resigned. However, the action was taken during an executive session which was not on the agenda, which, according to state law, has to be passed before the meeting.

Therefore, during the last Commissioners Court meeting, the court rescinded that action and tabled the item until this meeting so that it

Medical Center, Dr Brame Have New Numbers

If you have looked at the new telephone book, you might have noticed that the number for Schleicher County Medical Center has been changed, but if you tried to call it, you got a "wrong number".

The truth is that the medical center and Dr. J.B. Brame, who shared a common number for several years, will now have a separate number, effective Monday, July 20.

They are:
Dr. Brame853-2533
Medical Center.853-2507
Dr. Brame's office is open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday by appointment. If there is no answer to the above number, please dial 853-2507.

Until Monday, the old number, 853-2547, will be used.

could be put on the agenda.

Prissy Paxton made a motion that the court allow Mrs. Evans to hire Lou Ann Turner to work in her office and Holvey Enochs seconded the motion. After a brief discussion, commissioners Enochs, Paxton and David Meador voted for the request, with commissioner De Lux not voting in favor.

Jerry Jones met with the court and discussed building some type of protection for the new fire truck. He suggested closing in the alleyway between the present fire station and City Hall.

County Judge Johnny Griffin and the court discussed with Jones the possibility of building a new building to house all of the fire trucks. Jones told the court plans had been made several years ago to build a new building, but no action was taken at that time. He was asked to bring the plans to the court at their next meeting for further discussion.

Gynna Jay swimming pool operator, met with the court and discussed discipline and repair work on the pool. She told the court the baby pool needed several repairs and painting needed to be done on the inside and outside of the building and pool.

Joe Slater, inspector for the Texas State Jail Commission, met with the court and presented the court with a certificate of accreditation from the Commission.

He told the court the county would be "way ahead" by building the new facility because it would serve the community for many years to come. He said his job was to check jails to check for safety, security, sanitation, segregation, and support.

In other business, the court also:

† Granted the oil and gas bid to Dan Griffin Oil for the coming year.

† Granted the bid for insurance on the new law enforcement center to Meador-Peters Agency.

† Hired Billy Factor as jail custodian for $25 each time he cleaned up the building, not to exceed twice each week.

† Decided not to buy the hanger offered to the county by Floyd West.

† Decided to buy a heating and cooling unit for the library.

† Briefly discussed revenue sharing funds, but no citizens appeared before the court during the hearing.

† Decided to meet for a special session July 21.

Hausenfluck Girls Win In Local Dress Revue

Sisters Patti and Cindy Hausenfluck took the top honors in the senior division of the 4-H dress revue and craft show last week in the Memorial Building. Patti won first in her division and Cindy won second.

In the intermediate division, Michelle Kent won first and Chris Aguilar was runnerup. Kelly Squyres and Larissa Loring were first and second, respectively, in the sub-junior division. Jennifer McCarson won first in the beginner division and Tracey Richards won second. Tracey also won a blue ribbon in the craft show.

The girls were judged by general appearance, suitability, style, color fit and quality of construction of their garment as well as accessories.

Other girls in the sub-junior division were Amy Henderson and Teresa Lux.

In the beginner division, models were Amy Turner and Frances Goodman, and in the intermediate division, others were Anna Aguilar and Belinda Turner.

The other senior model was Joan Schrier.

Merchants Sponsoring Coupon Page

There used to be a time when it was feasible to go to a large city such as San Angelo to buy groceries, clothing or household items. That was when gasoline was inexpensive and when there were not as many shops here as today.

However, if local citizens will take note, there are several new merchants offering new items and many of the established merchants are expanding their merchandise. All of them are stocking new and different items each day.

Now, it is not very hard to find clothing for the entire family, practical and decorator household items. Drugs, makeup, appliances, furniture, automotive supplies, stereo equipment, office supplies, custom framing, all kinds of services, lawnmowers, and many other items are available without the hassle and expense of driving to a larger city.

In addition to that, money spent in Eldorado stays here and is recycled through the community so that everyone gets a portion of it along the way. Also, businesses pay taxes which are in returned to the community through the city, county and state.

That money goes into our public services and educational system and that is most important to the people who live here.

To show local citizens how much they appreciate local support, several of them are sponsoring a coupon campaign on page three of this week's paper. This campaign will run for the next five weeks.

Take advantage of these coupons; they not only help boost local businesses, but they also boost our local community as well.

Jackson Appointed To City Council

Edwin "Rooster" Jackson Jr. was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Rusty Meador as councilman during the meeting of the City Council July 7. Meador resigned because he is moving to Dallas.

In other business, councilmen discussed complaints regarding door-to-door salesmen. City policy is that salesmen must register with City Hall, providing information about their product and themselves and paying a permit fee. All information is given to the sheriff's department. Salesmen are restricted to sales between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Any complaints or questions should be directed to City Hall in the sheriff's office.

The council also discussed costs for replacing gas lines, paving streets and maintaining sewer lines.

Individual contractors are estimating that it would cost over $20,000 for each mile of gas line.

There are about 19 miles of city-owned gas lines in the city limits for a minimum cost of $380,000. Gas line replacement is considered priority because of rising gas costs, safety and existing pavement would be damaged while new lines are being buried.

Costs for paving are estimated at over $5,000 for each 100 feet of pavement. That is 68 x 100 feet with curbing. There are about 20 miles of city maintained streets in the city limits for a minimum cost of $5,280,000.

The city is estimating that there is 14 miles of city-owned sewer lines and 22 miles of city-owned water lines in the city limits to be maintained and operated with revenue from utility sales and tax monies.

The city and county are working together at the present time to pave a street off the old Sonora highway through the city-county work agreement.

Work on these projects would be done by individual contractors because the city crews would not have the time or equipment to do the work.

EHS Faculty Completed

The faculty for the Eldorado School System for the new school year is complete after action taken by the school board Monday night. The board hired Robert Sosa to teach high school math and Marilyn Luce for Title I reading for grades four through six.

During a special session held in June, the board had hired Bill Heath as junior high school coach and physical education and science teacher, Rick Singleton as elementary physical education teacher and Robert Walters as high school math and science teacher.

Also during the Monday meeting, the board agreed on salaries for substitute teachers. Those without degrees will be paid $33 a day and those with degrees will be paid $39 a day.

The board also signed a depository contract with First National Bank of Eldorado for the next two years.

Board members also agreed that Eckert, Ingram, Tinkler and Oliphant CPAs firm would audit the school budget this year.

Heritage Insurance Managers of San Antonio received the contract for school students and football players.

The tentative budget was discussed. Final approval will be made during the August meeting.

Research and Development Top Energy Priorities

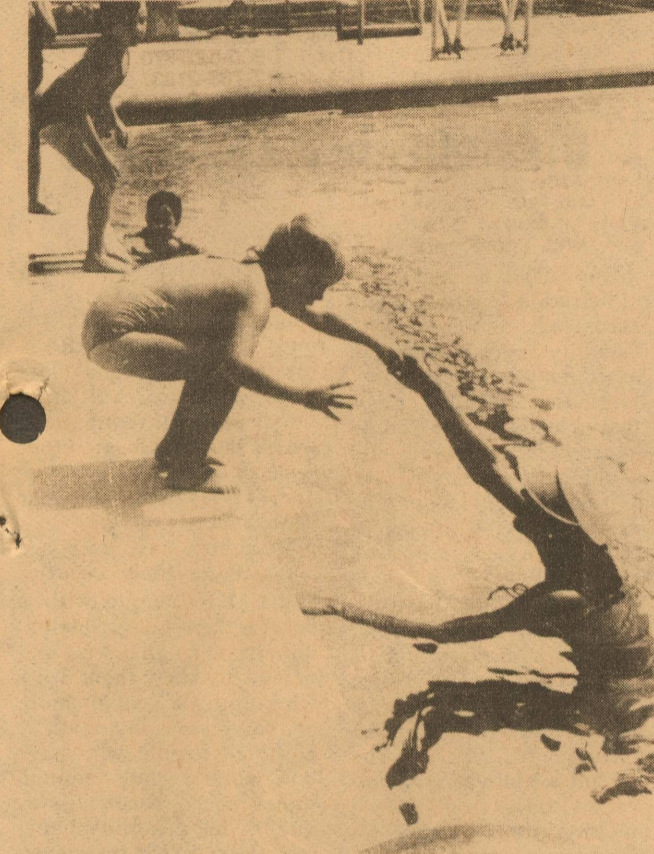

Research and Development are two of the biggest words in the energy business. Glen D. Churchill, president and chief executive officer of West Texas Utilities Company, declares.

In an interview with a reporter, Churchill said research and development, commonly referred to as "R&D", ranks at the top of priorities for companies involved in producing the power needed to keep America running. Nowhere is this more true than in the electric utilities area, he said.

"We're not 'just' interested in new sources of energy, we're 'vitaly' interested," the WTU president said in discussing his company's R&D activities.

Churchill said that when a new, practical source of energy for conversion to electricity, or a new economically feasible method is developed, it will be done by, or at least welcomed by, the investor-owned electric utility industry.

The interest of electric power companies in new energy sources didn't develop overnight. A look at the record shows the num-

TO JUMP OR NOT TO JUMP--Shanna Edmiston, Top, had no qualms about jumping into the pool during swimming lessons last week. However, classmate Stephanie Nolen had a lot of doubts about the idea. After a lot of coaxing from teacher Gynna Harlin, she finally gathered her courage and jumped. And from the look on her face, she is still not sure about her diving efforts.

Texas Summers and Planting Seed

Getting those so-called "winter" vegetable seeds to come up when planted during the heat of mid-summer can be a serious problem. In order to successfully grow a fall garden, many of the most popular vegetables must be planted during high temperature conditions in order to mature during late fall or early winter. If planted too late, temperatures may drop low enough to cause plant damage or even death. However, many of these cold hardy vegetables such as lettuce, carrots, broccoli, spinach and others germinate poorly or not at all during the unfavorable conditions of summer. So, the fall vegetable gardener in Texas is faced with a real problem - trying to get a good stand of vegetables during harsh and unfavorable conditions.

One direct way to avoid this problem is to set out transplants. Finding a good, healthy transplant of recommended varieties at the right time may be a real problem. This problem can be overcome by purchasing seed of your favorite fall vegetables and growing your own plants. Seed most fall and winter vegetables can be started in flats, coffee cans, milk cartons, peat pots or peat pellets in areas where they can be protected from summertime conditions.

This is all fine and good if you are interested in going through the process of transplanting. But often, the most gardeners prefer to germinate process start-seed vegetables directly in the garden and then thin sown, instead of covering them to a proper stand at a them with garden soil, use later date. That is, if they germinate and come up. If you've ever seeded lettuce or carrots in your garden during mid-summer then you know exactly what I'm talking about.

Believe it or not, this problem of poor seed germination during the heat of summer can be overcome by simply modifying the seeding area in your garden. A simple way to do this is to mark off the desired rows in your garden. In most areas of Texas it is important that the soil be bedded prior to seeding or planting. This is especially true in fall gardens and in areas where excess rain occurs during the gardening season. After the garden has been bedded and the rows marked off, take a hoe handle or stick and make your seed furrows. The seed furrow will vary in depth but it is usually about 1 inch or so deep.

Next comes a very important step. After the seed furrow has been made, take a watering can or watering hose and apply the water directly into the seed furrow. Apply sufficient water to wet the loosened soil to a depth of 4 to 6 inches. In some cases, this may necessitate that you apply the water several times rather than in one application.

After the water has soaked in, scatter the seed evenly along the seed furrow. (Always plant more seed than needed.) Soak through the process of ing the seed in water overnight will help get the most germination process start-seed vegetables directly in ed. After the seed has been the garden and then thin sown, instead of covering them to a proper stand at a them with garden soil, use a material such as compost, potting soil, peat moss, or vermiculite. By using one of these media as a covering material, you will provide a better environment in which the seeds can germinate and grow. Problems associated with soil crusting, which is very common after a summertime rain, will be eliminated. If you use a light colored material, the seeding area will be cooler due to its reflective nature.

With a material like compost, depth of seeding is still important but not nearly as critical. Small seed such as lettuce or carrots planted a little too deep will still come up. Depending upon the crops planted, but certainly within a few days, the seed should germinate and begin to emerge. It is especially important during this period of time that you not allow the soil around the young emerging seedlings to dry out. Additional water should be applied as needed.

Once the plants have emerged, you might consider applying a protective shade or cover on the west side of the row to protect the plants from the intense afternoon summer sun. This protection can be in the form of a board, cardboard, or some type of shade cloth. Once the plants are an inch or two tall they should be thinned to the proper stand. From this time on most crops will continue to grow and thrive and produce a highly productive crop of tasty fall and winter vegetables.

Weeds-An Age-Old Problem

There are two things common to every garden in Texas. These include, not necessarily in order of quantity, bugs by the millions, and weeds. The bugs have to be controlled as they appear, but the weeds can be avoided.

Weeds in a garden compete with your desirable plants for water, nutrients, sunlight and air circulation. They also serve as a breeding ground for disease and insects which attack garden plants.

Old writings show that weeds have plagued man since earliest times and that most societies would, quite literally, try anything to rid their crops of weeds. Over the centuries, farmers have resorted to prayers and charms, mechanical means, fire, seed steeps, and chemical control. Meanwhile, authorities enacted legislation to punish farmers who allowed certain weeds to flourish in their crops.

Most societies had dieties which they prayed to for the general health and success of their crops. There were specific gods such as Spiniensis, whom the Romans would invoke to keep thorns out of their fields. Charms and magic were sometimes used, and Roman farmers placed sea-shells or tiles with the figure of Hercules strangling the Nemean lion at the corners and center of infested fields. Other methods for keeping crops free from dodder and bindweed were to soak the seed grain in the blood of a rooster, or a virgin with unbound hair carried a yellow and black rooster around the fields.

Hunting for a Deer Lease? Contact Eldorado City Hall

Sometimes it is hard for someone wanting to lease land to hunt deer to find someone who is wanting to lease his land to deer hunters.

That problem may be remedied, however, by either of the two parties contacting City Hall, according to Carolyn Mayo, city secretary.

Mrs. Mayo reports that she has on file letters from persons wanting to lease land for deer hunting, bow and arrow hunting, turkey and quail hunting, etc.

Landowners are welcome to go through the file during working hours and hopefully this problem of getting landowners and hunters together will be alleviated.

Social Security Increases

Disability Investigations

The Social Security Administration is significantly increasing its continuing disability investigations of disability beneficiaries.

Continuing disability investigations are conducted to determine if a person is still disabled. The stepped-up reviews will eventually result in a review of most of the disability cases now on the rolls.

Under the 1980 disability amendments, the social security administration is required to review most disability cases at least once every three years, starting in 1982. The present initiative is an important first step toward meeting this review requirement.

About 350,000 cases are now to be reviewed in fiscal year 1981. Then in 1982, over 500,000 cases will be reviewed. The agency will

IRS Office Hours Change

Office hours for taxpayer assistance in San Angelo will be changed effective July 13, 1981, the IRS announced today. Counter service will be available every Monday between 8 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. and from 1:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. The office is located in the Federal Courthouse Building at 33 E. Twohig Ave.

Taxpayers may receive telephone assistance 5 days a week during business hours by calling toll-free 112-800-492-4830. Information and tax forms may be obtained by telephone, the IRS said. Persons with inquiries about tax refunds should call this number also.

For further information, contact Director's Representative Frank Strickland at (915) 653-0082.

base the initial cases selected for review on studies which indicate those cases most likely to result in recovery. Additional data is expected to result from the disability investigation which should indicate other types of cases where immediate review would appear warranted.

Disability payments are made under social security and SSI to people with a severe physical or mental impairment that is expected to keep them from working for a year or more or to result in death. Disabled people who have not worked long enough under social security may qualify for disability benefits under SSI if they meet the income and resource eligibility requirements. Currently 2.9 million workers and 1.8 million of their dependents are receiving social security disability benefits; another 2.3 million persons are on the SSI disability rolls. Both programs provide for a formal appeal process. The notices sent to individuals advise them if they do not agree with the decision made in their case, an appeal can be filed with the local social security office.

April Oil Figures Released

Texas crude oil production totaled 74,062,276 barrels in April, according to a preliminary report released today by the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division.

The figure compares with final compilations of reported March 1981 production totaling 77,400,736 barrels and April 1980 production of 77,376,009 barrels.

Texas oil production averaged 2,468,742 barrels daily in April 1981, down from 2,496,798 barrels daily in March 1981 and down from 2,579,200 barrels daily in April 1980.

The April 1981 allowable totaled 107,326,199 barrels. The preliminary April summary indicated Texas oil production was 30.99 percent under the allowable for the month.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

What Is The Holy Ghost?

1 John 5:13: These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

verse 18: We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not, but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and the wicked one toucheth him not.

Verse 19: And we know that we are of God and the whole world lieth in wickedness.

If people are going to live for God they will dedicate their mind to God.

You will come to the understanding that nothing matters except Jesus.

In verse eighteen you read, if you're born of God you sinneth not.

Jesus named baptism and receiving the Holy Ghost as what it takes to keep people from sin.

I pray that I never get a place where I won't preach against sin, but Lord help me to tell people how to keep from sinning. The Holy Ghost is God in you. The Holy Ghost comes with speaking in tongues. Some people tell me they feel the Lord is so near or the spirit is upon them. It's not enough. That spirit has to be in them with the evidence of speaking in tongues. People are receiving the Holy Ghost around the world with the evidence as it was on the day of Pentecost. In Jackson, Mississippi just in the last few days, seven hundred fifty have received the Holy Ghost. It could happen here in Eldorado.

If you don't speak in tongues or your church doesn't have tongues in it which is the evidence, call me and I will help you in your home or your pastor. I will come to your church and speak to your church on how to receive the Holy Ghost.

June Discoveries Announced

Texas operators reported 110 gas and 53 oil discoveries in June 1981, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division announced.

In the year-earlier month, 110 gas and 51 oil discoveries were filed with the state's energy regulatory agency.

Gas discoveries in the sixth month of the year included 24 in deep South Texas, 23 in Southeast Texas, 20 in the Refugio area, 17 in West Central Texas, six in the San Antonio area, five in North Texas, four in East Texas, three each in the San Angelo and Midland areas, two each in the Panhandle and Lubbock areas, and one in East Central Texas.

three in the Panhandle area.

In June, operators reported 321 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes. New applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests totaled 3,704 in June, compared with 2,572 in the same period of 1980.

Applications to drill, deepen, plug back and for service wells in June amounted to 4,014 against 2,639 a year earlier.

Operators filed 833 amended applications to drill. A year earlier they submitted 636 amended requests.

Oil discoveries included nine in Southeast Texas, 11 in the San Angelo area, eight in North Texas, six each in the Midland and Lubbock areas, five each in the Refugio area and West Central Texas, and

Duplicate Bridge Winners Announced

Annie Parker of Ozona and Mary Lois Brown of San Angelo won first in Duplicate Bridge last week. Vivian Meiers and Lottie Puckett of Sonora won second and Evelyn Wimer and Bernice Sweatt won third. Fourth went to Sammy Espy and Ethel Olson while Clay Porter and Ina Lambert won fifth.

All American Washer Pitch To Be Held Aug. 1 in Sonora

The Sonora Jaycees are now making plans for their newest bash, the All American Washer Pitch, scheduled for Aug. 1 at the Sonora Sutton County Community Park Rodeo Grounds.

"We're expecting over 100 entries in the singles competition and hopefully that many in the doubles," Jaycees President Herb Jones said.

He said the Jaycees hope to make the tournament an annual event such as they have done with Sutton County Days and the Hooten Holler Barbecue Goat Burning.

Entries have already been received from Austin, Kerrville, Hunt, San Angelo, Menard, and Junction he added.

Entry fees for the contest are $25 for singles and $50 for a double team. Guaranteed prizes are 50 percent of the entry fees for first place plus trophy buckles. 25 percent of entry fees for second place will be awarded and 15 percent of entry fees for third place.

The tournament will be double elimination and entries must be received by Friday, July 31. An individual may enter once in singles and once in doubles.

Entry fees should be sent to Jones at Box 584, Sonora. For more information call 387-3635.

Rules and regulations for the contest will be:

1. Washers are 2 inches, cups are 2 1/2 inches set 21 feet apart center to center.

2. First player will pitch 5 washers followed by his opponent. They play or team who scores will then pitch first the second round.

3. Scoring will be 5, 3, and 1 point increments. A ringer is 5 points. A leaner is 3 points. If there is no ringer or leaner, the 1 point each is awarded for the player whose washer(s) are nearest the cup.

4. Should the first player pitch a ringer and have it covered up by the second player, then that will cancel each ringer point. If the first player pitches two ringers and the second player pitches only one, then only one ringer is cancelled and the other ringer of the first player counts. Same holds true with leaners.

5. Singles and doubles games are played to 21 points.

6. All points are awarded on the final resting place of the washers.

7. Pitcher's foot may not extend beyond the cup.

8. The interpretation of the rules and regulations will be left up to the course judge and/or the tournament judge.

Nugent Released Manual Describing Utility Issues and Procedures

Railroad Commission released a new manual Chairman Jim Nugent describing gas utility issues and procedures in Houston July 2, calling it "a modest step toward returning gas utility regulation to local governments."

Chairman Nugent made the announcement in a luncheon speech before the Public Utility section of the State Bar of Texas which is holding its annual convention at the Shamrock Hilton.

The Railroad Commission designed the manual to help cities understand the issues involved in natural gas utility rate-making and to help them make fair rate decisions at the city level.

"Under Texas law the local city councils have original jurisdiction in utility rate cases," Nugent told the assembled attorneys. "They come to the Commission only when problems can't be fully resolved at the local level."

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

According to the 12th century writer Ibn-Al-Awam, farmers in Muslim countries believed that land weeded with a copper fork that had been tempered in the blood of a billy goat would remain weed-free. Ibn-Al-Awam also recorded the construction of a magical talisman from wax, mummy dust, and sparrow blood for selectively killing weeds and thorns in infested crops.

Goats and copper are too expensive, and virgins with in-bred hair are too much in demand to be used for weeding. Home gardeners are now using mechanical removal, mulching and chemical control to eliminate weeds.

Mechanical removal, which often means simply chopping the weeds down with a sharp hoe, controls only those weeds present at the time of hoeing, and therefore it must be repeated several times during the growing season. It is best done when the ground is moist but not wet, and when the weeds are no more than 2 inches high.

Garden weeds should be shaved off with a sharp hoe while gently breaking the crust of the soil. Digging deeply into the soil in order to remove weeds may damage established plants and may also bring a fresh crop of weeds to the surface.

While mechanical removal controls weeds after they have appeared, mulching has the advantage of helping to control weeds before they break ground by preventing light from reaching the weed seedlings. Mulches are especially effective for controlling annuals and are helpful for controlling some perennials (weeds which grow from underground plant structures every year).

Organic mulches are good because, along with controlling weeds, they return organic matter and nutrients to the soil and improve soil tilth. Straw, leaves and dry grass clippings are suitable organic mulches.

Chemical control can save a great deal of time and labor in the garden. This is especially true for a large garden.

Use of naturally occurring substances were suggested as a practical weed control method by Democritus in the 5th century B.C. He considered that trees could be killed by treating their roots with a mixture of lupin flowers soaked in hemlock juice. Similarly, Varro, a Roman agriculturist writing in the first century B.C., noted that vegetation was killed in the vicinity of olive presses. He suggested that the amurca, the watery residue remaining after the oil had been expressed from the fruit, could be used to kill weeds.

The killing of plants by use of salt, from the sea or mines, has been known since biblical times. Salt was applied to the fields of vanquished enemies to destroy their crops and desolate their fields for years to come. Many homeowners still annihilate houseplants and damage growing areas by watering with softened water that contains sodium salts. The fields of Carthage were thus treated by the Romans in 146 B.C. The specific use of salt as a weed killer in England appears to date from the latter part of the 16th century. During the 17th and 18th centuries, experimentation with the control in fields and gardens. Salt was also used to control weeds on summer fallow. This was the primary weed-killing chemical until the widespread use of man-made chemicals in the 20th century.

The use of chemicals for weed control has since advanced to a highly technical, very sophisticated state. Herbicides are wide-

New Traffic Signs Coming

Drivers in Eldorado will not have an excuse to disobey traffic signs if the City Council signs a contract with the state to purchase new traffic signs for the city.

The proposed contract would call for the city to purchase 390 traffic signs made by inmates in Texas prisons for $6700. The state would reimburse the city for the signs, but the city will have to pay the labor and for the poles.

A rough draft of a city map and the proposed types and placement of signs is at City Hall. It was made after several studies concerning traffic here were made by the state. Anyone interested in making suggestions about the types and placement of signs is welcome to look at the map and make a suggestion to city secretary Carolyn Mayo or city council members.

The proposed contract will be reviewed and possibly signed during the first council meeting in August.

Mrs. Mayo said that some funds might be available to replace some of the city street signs, but no plans were being made at the present time to replace them.

Conditions Cause Bitter Tasting Cucumbers

Bitter Cucumbers
Well, it is happening again! After getting through some seemingly impossible early garden problems such as planting too deep, too much rain, and dropping blooms, things finally got better. Cucumber plants started growing normally, and producing some food for the dinner table. Now, however, another problem is cropping up all across the state. The cucumbers which were doing just great are now producing bitter fruit just when gardeners are getting ready to do some pickling.

Does this sound familiar? It should because it happens about this time each and every year. Bitter tasting cucumbers are just about as predictable as spider mites on tomatoes.

First of all, the bitterness is not due to planting Tennis Club To Meet July 20

The Tennis Club is urging all members and anyone else interested in playing tennis to meet at the courts Monday evening, July 20 at 7:30. We will have a play night and will be discussing upcoming club activities. If you are a tennis player or would like to be, bring your racket and join us Monday night.

with the wrong sign of the moon, improper variety selection, poor pollination or that the cucumbers are crossing with squash or pumpkins. If you will think about the sequence of events which lead to the bitter cucumbers, you can determine the cause of this phenomenon yourself. Chances are the bitter fruit did not show up until well into the season, perhaps bitter. Eggplant often produces bitter fruit towards mid-summer when temperatures are high and moisture is lacking. Fortunately, with eggplant the plant can be pruned back, re-fertilized and therefore rejuvenated with the result being a second crop of high quality fruit.

Remember, high temperatures in combination with other factors which slow or inhibit plant growth can result in a bitter flavor or off taste of many garden vegetables. Planting at the right time so that the vegetables will mature during ideal conditions along with providing them with adequate fertility and moisture can delay or avoid many problems associated with poor vegetable flavor.

two, three, or even four weeks after the first harvest. You should ask yourself this question, "What has happened between the time I began harvesting good cucumbers until they started to become bitter?" Well, the answer is two things: the plants have gotten older and the weather has gotten hotter. These two conditions without doubt can be directly related to the bitter tasting cucumbers.

Thoma Recipient of Carr Scholarship

Viki Forlano Thoma, a sophomore pre-medicine major from Eldorado, is the recipient of a $1,000 Carr Academic Scholarship for 1981-82 at Angelo State University.

This scholarship has been awarded to Ms. Thoma on the basis of her outstanding academic record and personal achievements through funds provided by the Robert G. and Nona K. Carr Scholarship Foundation.

She is one of approximately 200 currently enrolled students who have been selected to receive Carr Academic Scholarships for 1981-82. More than 200 additional Carr Academic Scholarships for 1981-82 also have been awarded to incoming freshmen students who will attend ASU this fall.

This distinctive scholarship program was created by the late Mr. Carr to provide academic scholarships to assist worthy and deserving students to pursue their education at Angelo State.

ABC Tournney Winners Announced

Buddy White, Tip Finley and Jerry Thompson were first place winners during the Eldorado Golf Club's ABC tournament last Friday. Jo Ed Hill, John Mitchell, Avis Anderson and Sid Rogge won second while third place went to John Callison, Don Curtiss, Jim Squyres and Eddy Mae Kinser. After the play, everyone enjoyed a hamburger supper cooked by Delbert Taylor and Louise Williamson.

The ABC tournaments are played at 6 p.m. each Friday. Suppers will be given at different times during the month and will be announced ahead of time.

May Drive Termed Successful

Ms. De Lux raised $316.50 in the May drive benefitting the Mental Health Association in Texas.

Bellinger workers collected house-to-house during May, Mental Health Month.

Proceeds benefit the non-profit, non-governmental agency whose members are dedicated to fighting mental illness while working on behalf of the mentally ill and their families.

"The Mental Health Association exists entirely on donations, such as those raised in the May drive," said Al St. Peter, state president.

St. Peter thanked Lux and the Bellinger workers in Eldorado, calling them an important team in the movement to promote mental health in the state.
