

Rabies no stranger to Schleicher County

BY TERRY B. NEILL

Skunks star in cartoon strips as stinky but cute little animals or draw wrinkled noses and disdane from most Texans. Actually they should be viewed with caution and considered potentially dangerous.

Skunks are the number one carrier of rabies, as one Schleicher County family discovered this summer. Two members of that family are now taking rabies shots, although neither was bitten by the skunk or family dog it attacked.

Most people do not realize that rabies virus can be transmitted through an infected animal's body fluids -- saliva, blood or urine. "The virus lives in the animal's nerve tissue," Eldorado veterinarian Dr. William Edmiston points out.

The local people had to take the shots because one had an open sore on his feet, and the skunk spray was held down low to the ground that night by damp, humid weather.

"Luckily, rabies virus is not very tough, however. If you think you have been exposed go wash, with lots of soap. This will many times kill the virus before it gets started," Edmiston related.

All domestic animals must now be vaccinated by a veterinarian once each year, according to a new law passed in April. "Texas has a severe rabies problem -- as does West Texas," Edmiston added. "We've sent two cats' heads off this year to be analyzed, and we've heard of several crazed skunks running around on folks' porches in the country."

While skunks are the number one carrier, coons and fox are also dangerous. "Skunks will incubate rabies for up to three years. Of all the skunks killed, probably 50 percent could be found to be carrying rabies virus," Edmiston said.

Skunks are dangerous enough as carrier, but they are dumb and slow animals, while infected fox and coons are triple-dangerous because they are faster and smarter.

Progress has been made on the medical treatment front for humans, however. People no longer have to take the old, painful shots. Now they take four doses, which are extremely expensive ($1,000 per person), but do not cause the painful side affects the old serum perpetrated.

"We have seen one goat blinded by skunk spray from a rabied animal," Edmiston said. The local vet says cases of rabied skunks have gone down in the Lone Star State since the "epizootic" which occurred in 1980. Over 945 cases were reported then in Texas, compared to only 404 cases in 1985.

Treatment for humans has been successful. Rabies in humans has decreased from an average of 22 cases a year from 1946 to 1950 to zero to five cases a year since 1960. However, the likelihood of exposure has risen. Approximately 28,000 persons in the United States and Canada have been immunized.

Rabies has been around since ancient times and is caused by a bullet-shaped virus which

AN EDITORIAL

Leave us alone!

BY TERRY B. NEILL
Leader-Success Editor

This is a request, made on behalf of the citizens of Eldorado, Texas. We hereby ask the San Angelo Standard-Times to leave us alone! If you cannot say something positive, then please adopt the posture you take during football season every year and just ignore us.

Last Sunday's article in our neighboring daily did little to enhance Eldorado's image in West Texas. Two public figures, one elected and the other paid by taxpayers, were quoted saying things that embarrassed anyone who lives, loves or ever cared about our community.

The public officials do not seem to remember making the statements that were attributed to them and maybe they did not. The damage is already done, and it comes at a time when Eldorado can least afford it.

For years we have watched dailies like to Standard-Times jump on bad news--wrecks, murders, rapes, etc. in its smaller sister communities and ignore the many positive things that make life in Eldorado, Mertzon, Christoval, Ballinger, etc. a darned sight better than the Concho City.

From a journalist's standpoint we were horrified that a daily newspaper, and supposedly a responsible one at that, would publish an article complete with quotes and pictures that was researched six months ago.

Things tend to change a lot in six months fellers! One of those Eldoradoans so abundantly quoted has died since the story was researched and he made his quotes.

We realize that big city newspaper folks sometimes have a "we're a little better than you" outlook when it comes to the "podunk" little towns out in the boonies and their papers.

Perhaps it would do Harte Hanks Communications good to realize that its San Angelo newspaper's continuing spiral downward in circulation over the last few years might have something to do with less news coverage and such smug little pieces as was printed last Sunday.

It might also be good for the powers to be to remember that their San Angelo paper has a lot of readers in "podunk" little Eldorado, Mertzon, Ballinger, etc. Most of their advertisers are interested in reaching that market because they realize we spend millions of dollars in San Angelo, Texas every year.

For the last several years the Standard-Times has been cutting back on personnel, etc. in the face of declining advertising sales and a worsening West Texas economy.

We respectfully suggest that even San Angelo people might be more willing to buy ads if their paper was a little more optimistic. A "good news" story or two might brighten our day and help us keep our heads above water in troubled times.

At the Leader-Success we are certainly proud of Eldorado and Schleicher County. We have our problems right now, but we are not facing anything that tough old West Texans cannot handle. We would like positive publicity from our neighboring daily, however, not articles written by

'SESSQUICENTENNIAL' THEME ESTABLISHED

Celebration plans firming up

There is something planned for everyone at this year's Sesquicentennial version of Schleicher County Days, planned here Saturday, August 9.

A parade, rodeo, melodrama, and lots of games and good food are on tap, as Schleicher County residents celebrate their Texas heritage.

Sponsored by the Schleicher County Rodeo Association, the 17th Annual Eldorado Open Rodeo will kickoff the events Friday night at 8 p.m.

Bareback bronc riding, team roping, bull riding, girls barrel racing, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding and calf roping will be held.

Books open at 9 a.m. Wednesday, August 6 and close at 2 p.m. on the same date. Skyline Trophy Buckles, valued at $750, will be given for each event. Lester Meier of Fredricksburg will produce the rodeo.

A dance will follow performances of the rodeo on Friday and Saturday night, with music provided by Bob Blandford and the Rodeo Men.

Candidates for Rodeo Queen are also being sought. Interested young women should call Kirk Jones at 853-2497. Candidates must be between 14 and 17 years of age and residents of Schleicher County for at least one year.

They will be judged on appearance and horsemanship and will also sell rodeo tickets. Ticket sales will continue until the Saturday night performance of the rodeo, when the new queen will be introduced.

Eagle schedule for '86 campaign told

While Coach Armando San Miguel's Eagle footballers continue to visit the weight room and work out on their own in preparation for the upcoming season, Eldorado coaches are at coaching school this week.

Eldorado will open its pre-season slate on August 22 when the War Birds host Brady in a controlled scrimmage on the local field. The locals will then travel to Rocksprings for their last scrimmage on August 29. Times for both outings are not set.

San Miguel's squad will open the 1986 campaign September 5 against Mertzon on the Irion County field. The remainder of the non-district schedule is as follows:

Horsemanship will be judged on Thursday night August 7 at the arena, beginning at 7 p.m.

Saturday will be the big day, with events starting at 8:30 a.m. with the "Fun Run". The run will begin from in front of First National Bank and take runners over a two mile course, ending up back at the courthouse.

At 9 a.m. the parade will be held and persons can start setting up their booths on the courthouse lawn. The local American Legion Post will lead the parade with the United States, Texas and Sesquicentennial flags.

Rodeo Association riders and floats entered by the Women's Club, Sewing Club, Historical Society, Schleicher County Library and local sororities will follow. All parade participants should be at the tennis courts near the hospital by 8:30 a.m.

Parade trophies will be awarded to entries for the best overall float, best theme and most original, best decorated bicycle and most unusual antique car.

Floats, old cars, bicycles, boats, trucks, wagons or just about anything can be entered in the parade. People interested in entering should call Bill Hodges, 853-2408, or Bill Dakan, 853-2416. "We would love to have your participate," Dakan said.

Jim Hardy's horses will be pulling a covered wagon.

Games will commence at 10 a.m. on the courthouse lawn, where many booths will also be open to the public. Mens horseshoes, women's washer pitching, the watermelon seed spitting contest and the flag ceremony will be held at that time.

At 10:30 dominoes will begin, along with "42" and the coronation of the Old Settler King and Queen. At 10:45 the town band will play, and women's horseshoes and mens washers will be held.

At 11 a.m. the Little Mr. and Miss Schleicher County contest will be held. Entries should be residents of Schleicher County and between the ages of two and five. No entry fee is required.

The Texas Tumbleweeds Gymnastics team from San Angelo will perform at 11:15 a.m. and from 12 until 1 p.m. the melodrama, a new event for this year's celebration, will be staged.

What do can-can girls, cowboys, Indians and "Jake the Snake" have in common? They will all be starring in "The Saga of Sagebrush Sal".

Tremendous community support was recorded at the play's tryouts. "It was great. We had a super turnout," directors Marcy Willis and Carol Graham reported.

Cast as can-can girls and Indian maids are Frankie Hardy, Vidette Sallee, Teresa Montgomery, Jan Wallace, Lynna Mikeska, Betsy Thackerson, Sheila Prater, Becky Jones, Debbie Joy, Elsa Williams, Louise Burk, and Karen Henderson.

Set to play cowboys are Steve Williams, Bill Dakan, Jacky Willis, Trey Walker and Danny Willeke.

"Jake the Snake" will be portrayed by John Stensby, while Sal will be played by Mabel Blaylock, and Nida Chambers will be Hazeltime. Heartbleed Haymeadow will be played by Lynn Williams, and Michelle Marsh will play the skunk.

Narrators will be Jo Ann Sproul and Jim Hardy. Members of the production crew will be Marcy Willis, Carol Graham and Ginny Lamb.

At 1 p.m. the beard growing contest will be held, followed by costume awards and water polo. The Tucana Band, featuring Jerry Jackson, will play at 1.

At 2 p.m. square dancing will be on tap, followed at 2:15 by the obstacle course and at 3:15 by the egg toss. At 4 p.m. the wet tug of war will be held.

Many booths have already been reserved, including the Overall Cookers, a new "Country Store", cotton candy, fajitas, cake walk, arts

THE SOLUTION....

Sometimes our politicians, leaders and scientists don't look in the right spots for solutions to their problems. For years now they've been arguing about building Stacy Lake, and most recently have postponed it because of the Concho Water Snake.

Happ Doss of Eldorado stopped this columnist on the street last week and offered the best solution to the problem we've heard yet. Happ says that all of those folks who have been going to the environmental impact meetings arguing with those idiots from the Corps of Civil Engineers should use their time more wisely.

"If each one of those fellers would take a stick and go out there and walk up and down that creek knocking those Concho snakes in the head, there wouldn't be no problem," Happ proclaimed.

LOOKING 30....

In the interest of our personal safety we won't say who we overheard saying this at The Diner last Friday, but a couple of local gals had the following conversation:

"I don't think I look 30, do you?" one asked. "No," replied the other. "But you used to!"

In an effort to improve the Leader-Success even more, we have been asking leading citizens what they would like to see in the newspaper each week. Here's what one said:

- My name.
- A front page article showing how crooked the government is most of the time.
- My wife's name.
- A feature story showing 25 ways to cheat on income tax forms.
- My kid's name.
- A local news item about the affair my neighbor is having.
- A classified ad offering a new home for sale for $4,000.
- More news about lawbreakers.
- Less news about lawbreakers. I was picked up last night and I should not have to pay a fine.
- An editorial condemning high school teachers for being too liberal with "Fs".

Letters To The Editor

Dear Terry:

Ever since the "spotlight" on Eldorado in the Standard-Times on Sunday, I have heard, "Did I say that?" from people who were interviewed to "Did you say that?" from people who just read the article. The businesses in Eldorado know who support them, and although the paper said different, a local grocery Parker Foods gets 95% or more of my business!...and I shop at the local merchants on a regular basis, as do most of the people I know. The San Angelo based Standard-Times must feel that Eldorado cannot get along without San Angelo grocery stores, etc.!

Anyone for tar and feathers? Terry, it wasn't your error this time. You will admit to an error, but the Standard-Times doesn't although they ask us on Page 4 of their paper to call errors to their attention. Their article last Sunday was basically a repeat of the attitude they tried to reflect when Pave Paws was considering Eldorado.

They come to town with a negative attitude and project that through their articles about Eldorado. What is more, they wait until the facts are cold before they publish them. They were here in February, and lots of things have changed

- especially the economy.

After the Pave Paws article, I personally wrote the Standard-Times and told them that their article was negative. Admittedly, Eldorado folks were not jumping up and down in anticipation of Pave Paws, but we were all glad to hear that Pave Paws was moving our way. The Air Force was not encouraging us to roll out the red carpet because they could not make any projections as to how many people might move our way. So far, I know of one new person who has moved to Eldorado because of Pave Paws, and he left not too long ago! Hopefully, there will be some jobs available to our local folks who have been laid off from their oilfield jobs.

So, Eldorado, those of you who know me already know that I am an avid supporter of Eldorado - being one of the organizers of Schleicher County Day which promoted business in Eldorado, the Super Santa Celebration, and the Youth Rodeo. I have worked with Beta Sigma Phi on community service projects during the past few years. Several others who were interviewed are also supporters of Eldorado, although the reporter twisted, pulled out of context, etc. anything they said, so that it sounded like we wanted to stay little and not progressive.

We must be supporters of Eldorado - having pride in our community on a day to day basis. This means supporting the local businesses, supporting the school functions, the Youth Center, service organizations, etc. One thing is for sure - the Standard-Times article gave the coffee shop group and some others something new to discuss besides the hot, dry weather!

Thank you, Terry, for your support of Eldorado and giving me this opportunity to air my feelings.

Carolyn Mayo

Dear Editor,

#1. Eagles' Point is not a local government project. It was started by concerned parents and citizens for the youth of our community. It was started by donations by these parents and concerned citizens and then, local governments were asked for their funds to insure yearly operational costs which included maintenance, rent, insurances and salary for the supervisors.

Given documentation and feasibility reports, our local governments found Eagles' Point to be a worthy project deserving of their financial support. Our local governments chose to give Eagles' Point funding.

Eagles' Point is a non-profit organization. It is not operated by the county or school or city or state. It is operated and run by local parents and citizens (the Adult Council) and by local kids (Youth Council) all members of the Eagles' Point Youth Center. They make all decisions involving the progress and interests of E.P.Y.C. They have done a commendable job.

#2. "Those on hand", who thought that the center's rent of $400 per month plus building upkeep and insurance was extremely high, must have forgotten about who made the lease agreement and who wanted it and who accepted it. No wrenching of arms!

In fact E.P.Y.C. adults approached the owners with the idea. Local governments knew all this, and they still gave money. They all agreed (save one or two officials) that everything was okay.

#3. This building was not rented to government entities. Again E.P.Y.C. adult council rented this building for the kids.

#4. As far as taxes are concerned, I don't know how much is owed, but ask Ray Ballew. He knows that the owners have in good faith made payment to bring their taxes up to snuff.

In fact, Johnny Mayo took the time to check it out and even verified the efforts. I don't think taxes owed exceed a hand full of other property owner's who haven't paid taxes in years. No issue made on them; but then they probably are not government funded.

#5. Everyone involved knows the owners. They happen to be hard working, community minded parents, who have, time after time donated their time, talents and money to support all sorts of community projects from school to city to county and yes, even to district and state projects.

They have done a lot for our community. They are kind, generous, caring people who have chosen to keep their home in Eldorado even though the head of household has had to 'go where the work is' out-of-town; even though the wife works 11 hours a day with two jobs since 'oil field' has closed their business. They are our friends, my dear friends.

#6. It makes me sick to think that my friends, Eldorado's friends, were belittled so, even though no names were mentioned. How dare you, our governmental leaders, and E.P.Y.C. adult council, allow such an insult when you know there is more to the story than what was reported in the paper last week?

#7. The problem is that we have to make cuts in our budgets. Local government can't afford to continue the financial support they initially approved.

Make the darn cuts, or don't fund E.P.Y.C. at all! Let's not "pass the buck" by saying the rent is too high or that back taxes are owed making my good friends, your neighbors, the heavies.

If E.P.Y.C. is to survive, they will, whether local funding is available or not. E.P.Y.C. will continue as long as there are caring parents and citizens of our community; as long as the kids want it too!

#8. Our local governments fund other projects which have been in the budget longer than E.P.Y.C. These funds are applied and approved annually. Some projects are more worthy than others.

It might be worth while if this paper printed copies of what governments fund what project and how much each gets if not distributed equally. Maybe, "we the people" should become more involved and find out just exactly what it is we, the tax payer, the "bread and butter" of our community want.

Perhaps our government leaders could approach problems better with our voiced concerns. (I for one, am putting a feather in Johnny Mayo's hat for his efforts in getting down to facts and checking on taxes paid by the owner of E.P.Y.C.'s building. He is our commissioner Precinct 1.)

There may be some others who feel the way we do and confront you. I don't expect you to print this letter in your editorial. It's too long and choppy. My purpose in writing this is not to berate the Leader nor anyone else. I'm sure that the article was written from factual first hand observation.

However, obviously, if I had been at the meeting I would have brought up the rest of the story and then your article would have not focused so on pointing the finger at the owners of E.P.Y.C. building.

There are several others who feel as I do, as I've said. Maybe an interview from us would be appropriate. If nothing else, a more positive light might be thrown on the issue.

And if nothing else is done or said, at least I'll be satisfied that I have spoken for my good friends' name and reputation, and that now you know that "there is always more than what meets the eye."

Sincerely yours,
Janece Lacy Finley

Dear Editor,
Re: Eagles' Point Youth Center.

As owners of this property, I would like to point out several things that were excluded from your article.

(1) E.P.Y.C. came to us to rent/lease said property. For the rent, they have the building which is 60' X 90' plus the fenced in lot next to it to do as they wish.

(2) This past 12 months we have paid a total of $2800.00 in property tax to Ray Ballew and Dorothy Evans. Feel free to call and verify this.

(3) We were never under the impression nor did we ever deal with any politician or governmental body on this matter.

(4) A one year rent/lease was signed April 3, 1986.

As the owners, we fully intend to stand behind our word and our part of said lease. We refuse to be a political scapegoat.

Thank you,
Owners of E.P.Y.C. property

Dear Editor,

When I opened the Sunday paper was I surprized! Eldorado all through it; great pictures, good opinion, and genuine love for Eldorado expressed by our citizens.

It was great because I feel the same way. I love Eldorado! The best place in the world to live; good schools, churches, hospital, and businesses.

I was disappointed in a couple of opinions that didn't support our economy, especially since they seem to expect it to support them. We need support now too.

Oh sure, we don't have a Sachs 5th Avenue, but then you might look a little funny sitting in church on Sunday outfitted from Sachs. God's not "pickey" about your dress as long as you're present.

We sure don't have a big chain grocery store, owned by foreigners, stocked with every junk or fast food made. Of course, if we did have, we sure would need weight watchers!

Oh yes, we don't have a neurological surgeon or a cardiovascular surgeon, luckily you probably won't need one for a common cold or stomach ache.

Look around in Eldorado, you might be surprised what you do find. An original hand made gift, fresh meat and produce, good bargains, and best of all - good friends who need our support.

Thanks.

Vandals damage equipment

One morning recently the crew of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) reported to work early. They were seal coating RM 2596 in Schleicher County Southeast of Eldorado.

What the crew did not know was that someone had visited the job site the night before. As they got the equipment ready, the work of the visitors was discovered.

The visitor or visitors were gone but they had left 12 tires slashed on some of the equipment. Were they mad at the Department? Their girlfriend? Had the Department of Public Safety Trooper recently given them a ticket? Or perhaps they were "just having a little fun."

"We will probably never know. Regardless of the reason for their actions the cost to the DHT in new tires and labor, including overtime because of the delay, totaled just under $3,000. This is taxpayers money that should have been used for the maintenance of the highways," a spokesman said.

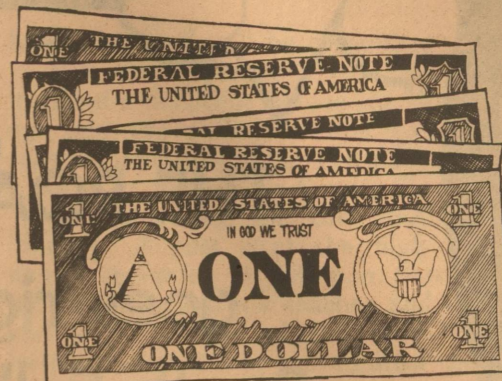

"Vandalism costs everyone money. If it is against the government (federal, state, county or city) we all pay taxes to repair the damage. If it is done to a merchant then the price of his merchandise must be raised to pay for the damage. If an individual is the target then because of insurance claims all our homeowner or automobile insurance premiums will increase.

"The vandal may get a few moments of pleasure but the general public has to pay for the damages done. Think twice about the total results of your acts and if it will hurt others then refrain from the temptation," the spokesman concluded.

Eagle Boosters organize

An organizational meeting of the Eldorado Eagle Booster Club was held last Friday night. Projects for the upcoming year and a new slate of officers was discussed.

Eagle head mentor Armando San Miguel opened the meeting by stating that he believes a booster club is needed, and explained some of the University Interscholastic League rules that apply to boosters.

Goal for this year's club as established at Friday's meeting will be to support all Eagle athletes during the 1986-87 school year, both boys and girls.

An All Sports Banquet, sponsored by the Eagle Boosters, will culminate the club's year. Each EHS athlete receives a free ticket to the fete, where all will be recognized.

Projects discussed for the new year included a barbecue before the Brady scrimmage and the selling of ads for the football schedule and programs. The club will also have a booth at Schleicher County Days.

Next meeting for the boosters will be Monday, August 4 at the high school field house, beginning at 7:30 p.m. San Miguel will introduce each of his coaches and their wives, and guide a tour of the new field house. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

"The booster club welcomes anyone who would like to be a member. The only qualification needed is to be an Eagle supporter," a spokesman said.

Eldorado boys attend Basketball camp

Dusty Barton, Stan Meador, Chris Meador, Matt Lloyd, and Jamie Belk attended Mark Adams' All Star Boys' Basketball Camp at Wayland Baptist University in Plainview, July 13-18.

Dusty Barton and Chris Meador were members of the runner up team in the finals.

Dusty Barton was elected to the Senior All Star Team, won the Defense Award, a Hustle Award, and the free throw competition.

Stan Meador was also elected to the Senior All Star Team, won a Hustle Award, and the lay-up competition.

Coach Mark Adams gave special recognition to all the Eldorado boys attending and commented that he was looking forward to good things from these boys in the future.

PROGRAM SIGNUP

Texas farmers will have an opportunity to bid additional cropland into the government's Conservation Reserve Program during the signup period of August 4-15. This will be the third signup this year for the five-year, nationwide program that was created as part of the 1985 farm bill, points out a solid specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. So far, U.S. farmers have enrolled 3.8 million acres (300,000 in Texas) in the program.

42 Club meets

The "42" Club is still active and playing twice a month as they have since the "20's". The charter members have passed on or resigned but new members take their place.

The secretary has not been so active for the last year since undergoing cancer surgery and two attacks of phlebitis, therefore the actions of the Club have gone unreported.

The players met July 25 at the home of Virginia Griffin, who acted as co-hostess with Lois Etheridge as hostess. There were nine members playing while Gladys Gunn, Edith Shaw and Mary Etta Strickland were guests.

During a brief business meeting presided over by Louise Logan, president, Lois Etheridge tendered her resignation which was accepted with regrets.

Others present were Bessie Clifton, Etta Ruth Dannheim, Zelma Henderson, Maudie Bassinger, Jessie Sudduth and Jewel Van Dusen.

The hostesses served a Chocolate Marshmallow dessert with coffee and lemonade.

Top of The Divide

Well, the temperature has been pretty high of late. It may have taken summer little time to get here but it did. Not a moment too soon either. How many of you remember these summer months "BA", before air conditioning. Those were the days when lemonade was made from lemons. I remember my parents had those cardboard fans (where I grew up they had religious pictures on them).

The old folks, I think saved them from funerals or weddings, depending on the picture. Those fans had little wooden handles. Mom kept them in a side-board. I have other fond memories of side-boards. My aunt Jenny kept surprises in the big side-board in my grandfather's house. That side-board was so big I could crawl inside and hide in there for hours. Any way I have gotten off the track a little; it must be the heat.

What I was leading up to was this sort of loss of enjoyment that comes with technological improvements. Air conditioning is a good and helpful thing. For many people it is probably a lifesaver. It is just that some how the cold things don't seem to satisfy as much. That little cardboard fan seemed a read "God-send". Even the sun going down had more significance when it signaled some relief from the sun's relentless heat. Air conditioning keeps us inside too long. We don't see our neighbors as often. No one faints in church anymore. I am sure that the people who fainted are glad about that, but what of the opportunity those occasions presented for people to minister to one another.

I am only raising these questions to see if anyone else has even noticed. We have managed to make our lives so comfortable that we may have also lost the ability to know when others need us.

Not so here on the Divide. We better be on the lookout though. Progress is a very insidious thing and has a way of making it even to such remote corners of this land as here.

I give you the spread in Sunday, July 27 San Angelo paper. With that sort of notoriety soon all the jet setters will be down upon us like flies. It would be nice to see a few businesses in Eldorado...but...God save us from boutiques!!!!!!

has a preference for nervous tissue -- nerves of the body and brain.

The virus travels up the nerves to the brain of an animal or human bitten at a rate of three millimeters per hour. From the brain it travels down all nerve trunks and salivary glands.

Infected dogs are especially dangerous, Edmiston believes, because they are "friends" of the family. "Dogs are normal to our environment, accustomed to being around people, especially children."

The rabies virus can be present for three to eight days in a dog's saliva before any signs appear, Edmiston added. Signs of rabies exposure include restlessness, a depraved appetite, excitement, unprovoked biting, extra salivation, general paralysis.

"Dogs usually show a change of temperament, are apprehensive and hide and shun company," Edmiston said.

Should a person be bitten, Edmiston says there are three things to do immediately. First identify and confine or kill the biter so that his head can be submitted for testing, wash the wound with soap and water and consult your physician, he added.

Bill Dakan and his chuckwagon cooking talents will be showcased and a jail will be operated for men who do not have a beard or moustache.

Anyone who has interesting quilts, afghans or any handiwork with an interesting background is asked to bring it to the Memorial Building on August 8 to be displayed there.

Tickets for the Sesquicentennial quilt are still available from Mrs. Ben Isaacs. Elton McGinnes has Texas flags for sale and Evelyn Stigler and the Leader-Success office are selling t-shirts.

someone trying to stir up a controversy.

Everyone has to pull together in Eldorado. We can ride out the hard times with the right attitude--both from our residents and public officials.

Earlier in the week this editorial would have been a little differently written. We, like our merchants, were genuinely offended at several statements in the article. But how are we to be sure they were made? Statements made when coats are needed to ward of the blustery February air tend to lose a little credence.

In closing we would like to challenge the Standard-Times to do another story....talking to people now, looking at our community now, not six months ago.

A horse focuses its eye by changing the angle of its head, not by changing the shape of the lens of the eye as humans do.

THANK YOU

A CARD OF THANKS
I want to express my heart felt thanks to each and every one of you who remembered me during my recent stay in the hospital.

A special thanks to those who sent flowers, cards, letters and made phone calls. And also for your prayers, I believe they helped a lot. "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much."

Also a great big thanks to Ronnie, Ron and Duwain Sauer and Steve and Leon Williams for tending to my things and plowing and planting my fields. May the Lord bless each one of you.

The family of Clemens and Winnie Sauer And girls Christabel, Linda, Nan and Phyllis. (1X-7/31/86-pd)

THANK YOU

There are no words that can adequately express what we would like to say to the many friends of Mark who have in so many different ways expressed their love and caring. Just know that we love and appreciate each of you and are grateful for each life Mark touched. To his family Mark was a special son and brother - bright, articulate and loving. The void he left will never be filled, nor will the hurt ever subside, but we are so grateful for the job which Mark gave to us and to so many of you. We are incredulous at the out-pouring of love and caring words and deeds that have surrounded us during this time. It is apparent to us that although he spent such a short time with us the impact of his life on so many couldn't be greater if he had lived much longer. His life, although short, was full - due mostly to all those he befriended.

Special thanks to Rev. Chris Graham who delivered God's special message for all of us.
