AFTER TOUGH IRAAN GAME

War Eagles priming for Broncos

FOOTBALL FRIDAYS are big news and lots of fun in West Texas. Tommy Prendergrast, injured Eagle all-state candidate, did not lack for attention from well wishers on the sideline during the Eldorado-Iraan game last Friday night. The EHS band and flag corps turned in a magnificent performance at halftime, and the War Eagles defense came out of the lockerroom at halftime ready to play. [Staff Photos]

BY TERRY B. NEILL

Eldorado's Eagles lost a football game last Friday night but may have found themselves in the second half, holding state-ranked Iraan to one touchdown and showing an impressive improvement on offense.

Iraan's speedy backfield and several key turnovers helped put the War Eagles behind, 21-0, at the half, but from that moment until the waning moments of the contest the game was even. Iraan finally prevailed, 27-0.

The Braves pounced on an EHS fumble at the 24-yard line with 5:59 showing on the first period clock and two plays later scored to take a lead they would never relinquish.

Mitchell Bradley led a hard-hitting Eagle defense that really got mean in the third and fourth periods, while transfer sophomore quarterback Bradley Bass came on to ignite the EHS offense in the second period.

Bass' timely passes and key receptions by Jeff Hausenfluck and Craig Gutierrez, plus the darting runs of Russ Dacy and straight-ahead style of fullback Troy Daniels, proved the War Birds can move the football.

Hausenfluck, however, went down with a separated shoulder and will be out of action for the next two weeks, the latest in a growing line of injuries to crop up this fall.

Eldorado will need to be at full speed this Friday when rival Sonora plays host in Bronco Stadium. Kickoff for the contest will be at 8 p.m.

Records usually are thrown out the window for this contest, which is annually Eldorado's biggest game. This season, however, Sonora appears especially solid, posting a 2-0 opening slate and doing so in an impressive manner.

The Broncos have stamped past Wall and Junction, posting an impressive shutout last Friday night in the Hill Country.

"We were proud, extremely proud of our young men against Iraan. They grew up in a hurry in the second half and showed a lot of character," first-year head coach Armando San Miguel said.

"We knew Iraan was going to be big, fast and talented, but when we looked at the films they only had to go 24 and 21 yards for their first two scores. Had we done one or two things

DUE TO LOWER ENERGY COSTS

WTU refunding $5 mill

West Texas Utilities customers this month are receiving refunds and also paying less for the electricity they use.

The double-barreled relief comes from a continued decline in the Company's boiler fuel costs, which by law are passed on to the customers. The company is refunding over $5 million—an average of about $11 per customer—in retail revenues collected in excess of actual fuel costs over the past several months. At the same time, the amount charged customers for fuel is being reduced.

The fuel cost refund is the third within about a year for WTU, thanks mainly to the decline in the price of natural gas, WTU's main boiler fuel. A further decline in fuel costs is expected when WTU's new coal-burning Oklahoma Power Station goes on line late this year.

"The cheaper coal should partially offset an anticipated increase in base rates necessary to pay the plant's construction costs," Don Welch of Abilene, vice president and director of customer services, said.

Welch said the new fuel cost factor, which was set by the Public Utility Commission at WTU's request, brings WTU's standard residential summer rate down below average for investor-owned utilities in Texas.

WTU customer now will pay $72.59 for 1,000 kilowatt-hours, compared to $80.01 under the old fuel cost factor, and $40.55 for 500 kilowatt-hours compared to $44.26. The average reported by the PUC for eight investor-owned utilities in August was $76.55 for 1,000

Local sales slumping ECONOMY OFF 5 PERCENT STATEWIDE

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday sent checks totaling $54.8 million in local sales tax to 1,022 cities that levy the one-percent city tax.

Eldorado received $2,588.55, down from the same period last year when the city collected $4,251.92.

1986 payments to date total $38,918.34, down 7.47 percent from $42,058.50 collected through September of 1985.

Other area cities and their totals were as follows: McCamey, $8,605.95, down 17.90 percent; San Angelo, $346,110.92, up 1.64 percent; Sonora, $13,819.82, down 19.11 percent; Big Lake, $9,304.34, down 5.2 percent; and Menard, $2,676.96, up 11.70 percent.

Bullock said the 1986 payments to date were down five percent as compared to the payments to date in September of 1985. The decrease in August and September check amounts reflects a downturn in the Texas economy, he said.

Houston's check for $8.6 million was the largest, bringing total payments this year to $108.3 million, down five percent from last year. Dallas' payment was $6.3 million for a 1986 total of $79.8 million, a five percent decrease.

San Antonio received $3.4 million, pushing 1986 payments to $42.7 million, up two percent over 1985. Austin's check for $2.5 million brought total payments this year to $31 million, a three percent decrease.

Fort Worth's payment was $2 million, bringing this year's total to $26.2 million, up three percent. El Paso's September check for $1.4 million pushed total payments to $16.7 million, up seven percent over 1985.

Bullock also sent checks totaling $25 million to the state's six Metropolitan Transit Authorities. Houston's MTA payment of $10.2 million brought 1986 totals to $125.7 million. Dallas' DART check was for $9.2 million, a total of $119.6 million for 1986. Austin's Capitol Metro received a $2.6 million check for a yearly total of $31.7 million. VIA in San Antonio

MADE IN USA?

There's a popular new advertising promotion underway on national television these days advocating that Americans just buy things made in the USA.

Apparently some of our military folks do not pay a whole lot of attention to such ideas. Robert Parker, our neighbor here at the paper and fellow rabid Dallas Cowboy fan, pointed this fact out recently.

It seems an employee of our nearby radar installation recently gave Robert a PAVE-PAWS cap. The cap looks sharp for sure, but it's plainly written in the headband that it's made in Taiwan.

Perhaps it shows off our red neck, but that fact kinda makes our blood boil. Considering the state of the economy in Texas and the USA, such money spending outside this country can do little to help the same folks who pay those Air Force folks' salaries.

THE SHOOTING...

We couldn't help but chuckle two weeks ago when we read the Ozona Stockman's account of a shooting at a bar in Ozona which involved some "exotic" dancing.

Kitty Montgomery, one of our long-time adopted mommas, reported that a female dancer was shot by the wife of one of her male fans. Kitty noted that Ozona is obviously not ready for exotic dancing.

This week her column reveals that she received a phone call from an unidentified woman claiming that her whole story was hogwash.

When Kitty asked that the caller identify herself she reportedly hung up. We doubt that any of the smaller communities in West Texas are ready for exotic dancing Kitty; but when the woman gets well tell her to call 853-3631. (Just kidding!)

THE SUCCESS.....

We've had lots of folks say thanks for adding "Success" back to the Leader's title. Our banker probably hopes it becomes the "Successful-Leader".

A reader recently brought in a section of the Eldorado Success published on Friday, June 23, 1944. The paper's underline at the time said, "Schleicher County's Only Publication-Carry Home News First-A Home County Institution Offering The Best Advertising Medium".

right at the right time it could easily have been 14-7 at halftime," he added.

"To be a championship football team you have to play tough defense, make few mistakes on offense and have a good kicking game. We're playing the tough defense, but our offense and kicking game hasn't come around yet."

"Bradley Bass stepped in and did a good job. He came here from a good program (Pampa) and has the size, speed and arm to be an excellent quarterback," San Miguel added.

"Chad Jackson was another one that got the job done. He hasn't played football in two years and had to fill in Friday night. He made a few mistakes, but hung in there, just like our whole defense did.

"And we'll have to do it again this week. Sonora is big and mean. They have a power football team. They just line up and try to blow you off the ball—nothing fancy just effective," San Miguel said.

The Broncos line up in a Wing-T on offense and the Oklahoma "52" on defense. "They are extremely aggressive on defense, led by Mike Fullen, a 185-pounder that goes sideline to sideline," San Miguel commented.

"They will be tough but our kids are excited and looking forward to playing them. I just can't say enough good about our young men," San Miguel concluded.

Bike-a-thon scheduled

Riders for the Saturday, September 27 St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels For Life Bike-a-thon are asking Eldorado citizens to pledge a contribution for each mile they ride.

earn money bringing us closer to a cure for cancer. The life-saving study of childhood cancer at St. Jude has become critical to children all over the world," said Bike-a-thon chairman Becky Sterling.

"Every mile our bikers go this cause," Mrs. Sterling said. "Your generous pledge encourages riders. After the event, help them get the money to us quickly."

The ride starts at the high school at 9 a.m. and the kids will ride to the "Big Tree" and back. "If you haven't been asked to sponsor a rider, but are interested, please call 853-2932 and a rider will contact you," Mrs. Sterling said.

"Each rider gets a lap card at registration," Mrs. Sterling said. "Every time riders pass the checkpoint(s), we initial the card. At the end of the ride, we check and sign it to show that the rider earned what the sponsor pledged." Riders return to sponsors to collect the pledge.

Women's Club begins year

The Woman's Club began its 1986-87 club year in the Club Room of the Memorial Building.

The Hospitality Committee composed of Charlene Edmiston, Shine Spigarelli, Linda Carol Deere and Florence Williams planned and served a delicious brunch before the meeting began.

New officers for the year were presented with Ora Deal new president, presiding. Etta Merle Hausenfluck led the opening prayer followed by pledges to both flags.

Minutes were read by Florence Williams who was substituting for the newly elected secretary, Ethel Ehteredge.

Federation Counselor, Gladys Mittel, gave an interesting article on how to be a good club member.

In the business session it was voted to pay Kathy Smith for typing and duplicating the yearbooks. Covers were printed in Sonora and members put them together.

The theme for this year is: "Tis the Set of the Sail". Roll call was answered with types of ships.

Jewel Bailey, program leader, gave an informative talk on importance of ships and gave a poem entitled "Tis the Set of the Sail".

Mary McGinnes presented the yearbooks as The Ship's Log with a review of the entire year's programs, activities, committees, projects and calendar of events.

There were 21 members present including three new members.

TAX REFORM WILL HELP

Most farmers and ranchers will likely benefit from the tax reform bill currently awaiting approval in Congress, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Top of The Divide

BY THOMAS GIOVANNITI

Put down that cigarette, stop drinking that beer and listen! Hear that! That is the sound of our children being tempted by drugs.

There has been several events focusing on the drug problem in America. The President himself wants us to say "No" and wants our children to do the same. Law enforcement personnel are overworked, going undercover, making midnight raids and using whatever other tactic will hopefully stem the tide of drugs in this country.

Some say more money is the answer. Others think education is the answer. We are looking everywhere for the solution in hopes that the drug crisis will dissolve. What we are not doing is looking where the real problem lies.

This is only one man's opinion but it seems to me that we should look to the source of all problems in our lives (and I mean our community lives too) first within ourselves.

How can we lecture to our kids about the evils of drugs while we are downing a six-pack of beer or smoking two packs a day? On top of that we take a "pill" for every little ache or pain. We ingest all kinds of chemicals to help us lose weight or give us more energy. These are just the over the counter remedies not to mention the amount of prescription drugs we take, that show our children that drugs can't be all that bad.

All the hoopla about this new war on drugs obscures the real issue and that is the example we set for our own children. I know, we feel we are entitled to those beers or an aspirin or two and maybe we are, but we better take more time explaining that to the kids if we want them not to take their pacifier of choice.

I am pretty sure that children can tell the difference between use of drugs for legitimate purposes and use of these things as tools of escape or indulgence.

We are a nation of over indulgent escapists. Drugs are just one of the ways to indulge or escape in a whole list of substitutes for what we all really need. This current drug binge is a symptom not a cause of our problems.

I can maybe understand why some one with absolutely no future might want to lose himself in a few moments of a high caused by ingesting some drug, but I can't understand why so many others do it. The stories of personal tragedies brought on by the use of drugs by persons with jobs, educations, futures makes no sense at all. The answer must lie in what these people are searching for.

They are searching for the same thing that the ghetto youngster is looking for and that is at least a few moments of feeling good, free, and the center of some ones attention.

Maybe our children won't be attracted to drugs if we make them feel good about themselves, free them from watching us destroy ourselves and give them our real attention once in a while...

FORMER ELDORADO RESIDENT REVEALS

'Dead reckoning' is secret

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following article is reprinted from the Bryan Press and concerns Alvin Luedecke, a former Eldorado resident, and brother of Mrs. Johnny [Thelia] Mayo. [TBN]

When Maj. Gen. Alvin R.

Luedecke (ret.) shared experiences extending from a Depression-era ranch kid to responsibility for development of this nation's atomic energy he cited February 20, 1934 as his "day to remember" for two reasons.

"It was graduation day from pilot training, but Uncle Sam didn't have the money to commission us for active duty, or even into the reserves," he explained. "The same day President Roosevelt defied the airlines' demand for higher subsidies (or strike), and ordered the Army Air Corps to fly the mail."

Air mail stamps were six cents, and two cents (maybe three) by train.

"There was confusion. We were pilots, but not officers, so the top brass didn't quite know what to do with us," he recalled. "We went on duty as cadet pilots at $75 a month, and that was soon cut 15 percent."

And Salt Lake City, with mountains, snow and treacherous winds, was a long way from home in Eldorado for Luedecke who said he'd "never been further west than El Paso".

"We were flying in everything that had wings and propellers, and would hold a sack of mail-fighters, bombers and transport," he added. "I was on the Salt Lake City to Los Angeles route, and later Salt Lake City to Cheyenne."

The general scoffed when chided that he probably had computers, radar, automatic pilots and other "pilot's helpers" to "get the mail through".

"We didn't even have brakes or flaps, just a tail skid.

We had a small compass, check points (pilotage by landmarks), and the railroads were too winding to follow," he remarked. "We'd also use 'dead reckoning' - stay on a compass heading at a given speed for a given period of time and 'pencil in' our location on a map."

What went through the young pilot's mind? "Getting the airplane on the ground". That was before publication of the World War II ballad "Coming in On a Wing and a Prayer", too.

"We lost a lot of pilots to accidents and weather," he said. "I don't know how much practical know-how I had, but I learned to outguess to stay alive."

This was only the beginning of an envious career for the 110-pound graduate of Texas A&M who worked a short while for "two bucks a day" before becoming one of 100 selected from 600 applicants to enter pilot training at the swank new "West Point of the Air" Randolph Field at San Antonio, and to graduate at nearby Kelly Field.

As happened to many pilots, Luedecke was assigned a "desk job" as an assistant air attache for five South American countries, but was "itchy" to get airborne again. Pearl Harbor got him there.

Duty included command of a B-24 Bomber Group on the West Coast, and later deputy chief of operations and plans for all air units in the China-Burma-India (Far East) theatre of war.

In addition to being a pilot, planner and engineer, Luedecke had to be a "diplomat", in one instance trying "to keep the peace" between England's Lord Louis Mountbatten, Free China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, and the U.S. Gen. Carl "Toohy" Spaatz during an "allies meeting".

"You think the United Nations has a communications problem," he remarked with a wry grin. "Those three!"

It was during duty in the Far East Col. Luedecke was promoted to brigadier general, and at 33 the youngest "flag officer" in the U.S. armed forces.

"Logged my last 400 hours flying time (he has some 9,000 hours), during that time," he remarked. "Quite a transition - from World War I vintage to the big jets. I always flew the airplane."

Post war duty centered in and around Washington, and as the U.S. became "deeper into nuclear energy research" Luedecke pursued his intense interest in nuclear weapons, and their impact upon the military.

At one time he commanded Task Force VIII which conducted tests on Eniwotok and Johnson Island in the Pacific, and later was in charge of small nuclear powered machines development, including power of satellites. He also witnessed several "space shots".

His "uniformed" career ended when he was asked to resign his commission—then a major general—to accept full responsibilities as general manager of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission—a civilian job he held for six years.

"It was pretty awesome, pretty scary, this responsibility," he concurred. "But, after 'getting Surveyor to the Moon', Dean Fred Benson of A&M's engineering program asked me to head up engineering research."

After the death of A&M President Earl Rudder in 1970 Luedecke was named acting president. He continued Rudder's policy against campus turbulence and demonstrations, and readily assured that he "had a lot of good help from student leaders."

As "the general" reminisced, he said "making it into pilot training" was probably his most satisfying achievement, and "getting a commission - finally!"

Although Luedecke "wrote the book", several times, on technical subjects, he assured he's "too busy" to write one about his career, but rather he is enjoying his life with his wife Isabele on their farm near Bryan.

INSURE SMALL GRAINS BY SEPT. 30

Farmers have until September 30 to insure their 1986-87 small grain crops, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Producers who insured their small grains last year will have their contracts renewed automatically unless they cancel them.

tal August 19, 1986 at 9:45 a.m. weighing seven pounds two ounces and was 20 inches long. He was joined at home by two older brothers Tony and Roy Jordan.

SET WATER HEATER LOWER

If you're searching for ways to reduce your utility bill, don't overlook the hot water heater. Although heating or cooling air consumes the largest share of home energy, hot water heating accounts for 18 percent of the home energy bill, says home energy expert Dr. Susan Quiring. "Heating water over 110 degrees Fahrenheit, which is about the hottest the human body can tolerate, doesn't make much sense," she says.

Grandparents are Helen Fay and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Guerrero. The proud father awaits the chance to see his new son because before John arrived Floyd was shipped off to Fort Benning, Georgia for Army Basic Training.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1986

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among the counties in which the property of the railroad is located for purposes of property taxation, and would delete the requirement that the Comptroller participate in making the allocation. To comply with both statutory and constitutional law, the apportionment currently is being made by the State Property Tax Board in conjunction with the Comptroller.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among counties for purposes of property taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment that would replace the constitutional requirement that the subject of a bill be expressed in its title with a mandate that each house of the legislature adopt rules of procedure that would require the subject of each bill to be expressed in its title in a manner that gives the legislature and the public reasonable notice of that subject. Determining compliance with the rule would be the responsibility of the legislature. Currently, a law is invalidated if a court finds its caption is defective. The amendment would provide that past and future enactments may not be held void on the basis of an insufficient title.

The amendment also would eliminate the suggestion that the state's laws be revised every ten years, and instead would provide for continuing revision of state laws.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment requiring each house to include in its rules of procedure a rule that each bill contain a title expressing the bill's subject, and providing for the continuing revision of state laws."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT
House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to authorize any county, city, town, or other political subdivision to use public funds or credit to pay insurance premiums on nonassessable life, health, or accident policies. Due to the prohibition in the constitution against the lending of credit and granting of public money, political subdivisions currently are prohibited from becoming shareholders in associations such as mutual-insurance companies, in which policyholders are shareholders. A nonassessable mutual insurance policy does not allow a company to raise capital by assessing the policyholder an extra amount on a premium. This amendment will allow mutual insurance companies and stock companies to bid for life and health group policies of political subdivisions. Public liability will be limited to the payment of premiums specified in the contract.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment allowing political subdivisions the opportunity to engage in and transact business with authorized mutual insurance companies in the same manner as with other insurance companies."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would repeal the prohibition against branch banking by state banks and would allow state banks and national banks domiciled in this state to establish and operate banking facilities at locations within the county or city where they are domiciled. The amendment would also authorize the Legislature to permit a state bank or a national bank domiciled in this state to engage in business at more than one place if it acquires a failed state bank or national bank domiciled in this state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to provide that a bank may offer full service banking at more than one location within the city or county where its principal facility is located, subject to limitations and restrictions provided by law."

Estos son los informes explicatorios sobre las enmiendas propuestas a la constitución que aparecerán en la boleta el día 4 de noviembre de 1986. Si usted no ha recibido una copia de los informes en español, podrá obtener una gratis por llamar al 1/800/252/8683 o por escribir al Secretario de Estado, P.O. Box 12887, Austin, Texas 78711.

The paper was interesting reading and answered a question we've had for a long time concerning the actual age of our newspaper. The issue carried a "Forty-Third Year" statement, meaning that now we should be in our 87th year. And boy do we feel it this week!

The paper also contains many interesting articles concerning local folks, including one headline proclaiming, "Sergeant Jack Whitten Is 'Discourager To Zeros; Receives Order of Purple Heart for Combat Wounds'".

The paper has so many goodies we're going to reprint two or three of the old stories in this column over the next few weeks. Maybe we can all learn something.

received $1.8 million, increasing this year's payments to $23.4 million. Fort Worth's MTA check for $494,670 brought the city's total this year to $6.2 million. Corpus Christi's MTA check was for $473,628, bringing total payments for the year to $4 million.

September checks represent taxes collected on sales made in July and reported to the Comptroller's Office by August 20.

KWh and $40.72 for 500 KWh.

WTU's average rates for an entire year now are even lower. Including both summer and winter rates, the 12-month average would be $68.84 for 1,000 KWh and $38.67 for 500 KWh. The summer rates run from May 1 through October and were established by the PUC to encourage energy conservation during hot weather.

Coal deliveries are now being made to the Oklaunion plant, which is nearing completion eight miles southeast of Vernon. WTU's share of the plant's generation will be equal to about one third of the Company's total existing generating capacity, which comes from eight major gas-fired power stations.

The first newspaper printed on a train was the Weekly Herald, a single sheet, printed on both sides. It was issued by Thomas Alva Edison and the first known issue was dated Port Huron, Michigan, February 3, 1862.

Birthday girl honored at nursing home

The September birthday party at the Schleicher County Medical Center Nursing Home was held in the dining room Thursday, September 11.

The only honoree this month was Pearl Edmiston. Birthday cake, baked by her daughter, L.G. Edmiston, was served to residents and guests along with punch.

Entertainment was furnished by Carol Graham who played three beautiful numbers on her flute.

WHAT ABOUT DATES?
While "sell by" or expiration dates are not required on egg cartons, they do tell the consumer something about the freshness of the product. Most companies use a two-week or three-week period (from pack date to expiration date) for Grade AA eggs and three to four weeks for Grade A eggs.

Sorority sponsoring Cowboy ticket contest

Beta Sigma Phi will soon have tickets for a $1.00 donation for the chance to see the Dallas Cowboys-Washington Redskins game.

The winner of the drawing will leave on October 11 for Dallas on a chartered bus. This trip entitles the winner to see the Broadway play "Cats" on Saturday, spend the night in Arlington at the Hilton, and go to the game on Sunday. They will return on the bus Sunday night.

This round trip is for two people and the approximate price of this prize is $300. All sorority members will soon be selling the tickets. "This is a project we have sponsored in the past and seemed to be greatly received. Try a shot at seeing the Cowboys play - by a chance! The Cowboys are making their comeback," a spokesman said.

"Departure times were unavailable at press time but we will be letting everyone know as soon as we can. The drawing will be held October 5 at our regular meeting," the spokesman concluded.

MAINTAIN WATER HEATER

Maintaining your water heater, especially in hard water areas, can increase energy efficiency, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service housing specialist. For hot water heaters under a year old, Dr. Susan Quiring recommends starting regular maintenance by completely draining and refilling the heater once a year. In addition, a bucket of water should be drained from the heater as often as every other month in problem water areas.

The Irion County Extension Homemakers entertained with an International Dinner in the Community Building Monday, September 15.

Ten Eldorado Woman's Club members attended.

The dining room had tables set up for each country with decorations representing each one. Checked cloths in differ-

CONSUMERS EATING MORE CHICKEN

According to consumer information specialist Beverly Rhoades, production efficiency has helped control costs so that chicken prices have risen much less than food prices in general over the last 15 years. Health and fitness concerns have also spurred chicken consumption, since chicken is a nutrient-dense food that's high in protein and low in calories.

As each flight was called guests were ushered into the dining room where they had salad at one table, entree at another and dessert at the last one. "It was a fun dinner as well as delicious. It was catered by Southern Seas of San Angelo," a spokesman said.

A RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT: MANAGING THE PUBLIC TRUST

GARRY MAURO is a problem solver. Where some see only problems, he sees solutions. He sees empty state coffers and he finds ways to fill them. He sees Texas schoolchildren with dreams of higher education and he finds ways to pay for those dreams. He sees falling oil and gas revenues and he figures out ways to increase them. He sees the West Texas desert and he creates ways to farm it. GARRY MAURO thinks solutions. And he backs up that thinking with action.

GARRY MAURO — TEXAS LAND COMMISSIONER

* Collected more than $2 billion from the state's oil and gas leases to defray the cost of public education since taking office in 1983. Last year, Land Office deposits into the Permanent School Fund meant that Texas taxpayers paid an average of 7.2% less in state school taxes and 3.2% less in local property taxes.

* Modernized the Texas Veterans Land Program so that the last four years have been the most productive four year period in its 40-year history.

* Created nearly 25,000 Texas jobs and billions of dollars in economic activity across the state by creating the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program — all without costing Texas taxpayers a penny.

* Managed the public lands so that land income was up by almost 25% (or $326.3 million) while all other sources of state revenue declined.

* Has a vision for the future that includes: raising another $120 million in never-before-collected, non-tax revenues for Texas; starting a $500 million loan program to keep alive the Texas tradition of the family farm and ranch; using Israeli farming techniques on state land to make it more valuable and more productive.

Texas Land Commissioner Campaign In Full Swing

MAURO KICKS OFF FALL CAMPAIGN

San Angelo, August 27 - Mauro kicked off his fall campaign in San Angelo by saying, "It takes more than a famous name to be Texas Land Commissioner," and he charged that his opponent M.D. Anderson, Jr. was "hiding behind his initials in Seven Points, Tx."

Mauro pointed out that both Democrats and Republicans had endorsed his candidacy because they know that managing the public lands of Texas is a question of "good government, not politics."

Mauro said that he has managed the General Land Office like a business and cited as proof the fact that land income is the only source of state income that increased this year, the GLO produced over $800 million for education on only a $12 million budget, and the past four years have been the most productive four years in the 40-year history of the Texas Veterans Programs.

Mauro finished out the week by taking his campaign to Big Spring, Abilene, Lubbock, Plainview, Levelland, Amarillo, Pampa, Borger and Stinnett.

ONLY TWO MONTHS LEFT TO GO

Austin, September 4 - Moving into the fourth quarter of the election season, the Mauro campaign is on the road to victory in November. The campaign now has county co-ordinators in all but 14 of the 254 counties. We even have two co-ordinators in Loving County, which is the smallest in Texas.

During the months of September and October most county co-ordinators will be phone banking, sending direct mail pieces, putting up signs, mailing postcards to their friends, and purchasing newspaper and radio ads.

Also, during the next two months, Garry will make over 140 stops. He will be traveling to the thirty largest counties at least three times between now and the election. Garry will also be making at least 50 stops in smaller counties. Attached please find a tentative schedule for the remainder of the campaign.

ANDERSON REFUSES TO DROP OUT

Seven Points, TX. -August 10 - M.D. Anderson, Jr. the man with the famous name and infamous background, refused to quit his race for Texas Land Commissioner amid charges that he was once arrested for felony drug dealing, showing pornographic movies in his nightclub, and failing to take action on several federal tax liens which were filed against him.

Anderson had explanations for all the charges. He said that the drug charge was trumped up by his estranged wife who was dating a narcotics officer, that the pornographic movies "could have been X rated or XXX" for all he knew, and he had no explanations for his federal tax liens.
