AT MERTZON THIS FRIDAY

Eagles opening new grid season

BY TERRY B. NEILL

Coach Armando San Miguel says his football team likes a challenge so it should enjoy this Friday night when the War Eagles meet Mertzon in the season opener.

Mertzon will enter the game 14 point favorites according to the Harris Rating system, the same folks who rank the Irion County school number 12 in Texas among Class A teams.

Eldorado comes off scrimmages with Brady and Ricksprings and the coaches are pleased with most of what they've seen.

"We were outgunned against a bigger and quicker Brady team but our kids hung in there with them and played with a great deal of intensity.

"Against Ricksprings we were a little over-confident going in and that caused some problems. But, once we figured out what we needed to do the kids got after it and did it," San Miguel reported.

The 3A Brady team outscored the Eagles, 5-2, but both first teams scored on each other, while neither EHS or Ricksprings could cross the goal-line. Eldorado did manage a penetration to the eight-yard line.

Eagles drawing special praise from the coaching staff after two-a-days and the scrimmages include Charles Wright, sophomore defensive tackle; Russ Dacy, senior running back and safety; and quarterbacks Martin Espinoza and Bradley Bass.

Bass is a transferee from the panhandle and should be a big asset to the Eagles before the year is over. "He is still learning our system, but he'll help us," San Miguel added.

The first-year head mentor is also pleased with the play of his linebackers—Mitchell Bradley, Ray Terrell and Troy Daniels. "They've been sticking it to people. Our secondary has just not been tested so it's hard to tell about it yet," San Miguel said.

The secondary will no doubt be tested in the 8 p.m. kickoff tilt Friday night. The talented Hornets utilize the talents of 6'1" quarterback Jeff Myers and Jason Honea, who owns the state gold medal in the 400 meters.

"They run a slot-wing attack and like to pitch and sweep and use crossbucks. On defense they play an aggressive Split 6. They'll be a lot bigger than we are and are extremely well coached. Mertzon is a power among Class A schools," San Miguel added.

"Our young men respond well to challenges, however, and we're confident they will play well Friday night," the head coach concluded.

wingback; Troy Daniels, 160, senior, fullback; Shawn Hamilton, 136, senior, fullback; Ray Carroll, 174, junior, guard; Trey Walker, 148, senior, center; Mitchell Bradley, 171, senior, guard; Tony Lopez, 161, senior, guard; Chad Jackson, 170, senior, guard; Ernesto Espinoza, 136, junior, tackle; Dan Shriver, 171, senior, tackle; Brent Thackerson, 163, senior, center; Jody Romero, 175, junior, tackle; Jason Stensby, 159, junior, split end; Charles Wright, 170, junior, tackle; Craig Gutierrez, 132, junior, split end; Jeff Hausenfluck, 131, junior, split end; Clint Griffin, 170, junior, tight end.

Managers this year are Michael Kotsch and David Nolen.

Cheerleaders are Amy Sutto, head; Michelle Moore, Karen Ussery, Sharon Ussery, Sue Dean and Cynthia Mendez.

FOR NEW SCHOOL PROGRAM

VIPS needed in Eldorado

Volunteers are now being sought for Eldorado Elementary, grades kindergarten through fourth, and Eldorado Middle School, grades five and six, for the VIPS program.

"We would like to encourage you to work as a volunteer with the Volunteers in Public School (VIPS) program. Volunteers can play an essential role in filling the many needs of Eldorado Middle School. We need parents, grandparents, and anyone else who is willing to work approximately one to two hours a week to help the teachers meet their demands," a spokesman said.

"We would like to provide many different programs, including the following:

"1. Absentee Calling: A program to protect children's security rather than to check on truancy.

"2. Classroom Assistance: Relieving teachers of nonprofessional duties and/or giving individual help to children. Classroom assistants will work approximately one to two hours one day each week. This extremely important area includes cutting and pasting.

"3. Clerical: Assisting the teacher in general clerical duties; for example, duplicating materials, filing, typing, etc.

"4. Arts and Crafts: Assisting the teacher with arts and crafts projects throughout the year.

"We are asking you to decide how you wish to participate in this volunteer program. This will be a fun, creative job with a minimum number of hours each week. Your participation will enable our children to receive more individual attention and instructional materials," the spokesman concluded.

Those interested may call Pat Pitts, 853-2770 (elementary); or Abbie McCormick, 853-3206.

4-H Western Fun Day scheduled

Everyone, and they mean everyone, is invited to participate in this year's Eldorado 4-H Western Fun Day, slated September 6 at the rodeo arena, beginning at 9 a.m.

Folks of all ages can pick up their entry blanks at the County Extension Agent's office in the courthouse. Additional information on the activity can be gained from calling Abbie McCormick at 853-3206, Alana Dakan at 853-2591 or Jerry or Lorain at 853-2610.

Those entering must be Schleicher County residents, and five age groups will be included: four and under, five through six years, seven through eight years, nine through 12 years, 13-15, 16-19, 20-39 and the "Over the Hill Gang".

Events planned include staked goat hair pulling, boot scramble, flag race, goat milking, balloon stick horse race, barrel racing, pole bending, calf riding, goat sacking, goat tying and breakaway roping.

Others will include steer daubing, tie down roping, team roping, men and women team goat tying, and the flag race.

THE DOERS.....

We found a jewel in the midst of our exchange papers this week. The following column was written by David Lewis of the Pilot-Point Post Signal, which is a longer name than the Leader-Success, and was stolen by our friend Dan Feather of Menard.

Now Dan and yours truly have been stealing each other's column for years, so why not one more time? At any rate it sums up exactly the way we feel about things, and we couldn't say it better ourselves.

"The human race can be divided into three subspecies:

The Doers - Those who get involved and make things happen.

The Watchers - Those who sit on the sidelines, hoping the Doers make good. Their involvement is limited to patting the Doers on the back when things turn out alright and wringing their hands when they don't.

The Critics - Those who do nothing except criticize. Don't expect the people in this group to pat anybody on the back - ever. Even if things turn out alright, they know there was a better way to do it. And if things didn't...well it was to be expected. People in this category also refuse to accept responsibility when their advice is followed. After all, they weren't in charge.

Now, the Doers may from time-to-time cross over into one of the other two categories, becoming a Watcher in some instances and even a Critic in others. If he's a Doer, he's earned the right - and people generally don't hold it against him if he decides to sit one out or level a little criticism now and again.

But how many times have you seen a Watcher or a Critic become a Doer? Not often - probably never, especially in the case of a Critic. Watchers usually are too timid to get

A gazebo or not???????

Permission for construction of a gazebo has never been granted by the Schleicher County Commissioners Court, according to Schleicher County Judge Johnny Griffin.

Griffin refuted a claim by Eldorado City Secretary Carolyn Mayo in last week's edition of the Leader-Success that the county has approved a gazebo.

"The court has never voted on it, and construction of such a facility would be the responsibility of the Progress Council or Schleicher County Days Committee," Griffin said.

Those interested in the gazebo can turn donations in to Candy Richards, Ron Sutto or Mrs. Mayo, according to Evelyn Stigler, a member of the Schleicher County Days Committee.

The projected gazebo could be used for many activities, its proponents say, including dances, club meetings, outdoor melodrama, etc.

Effective September 8, all subscriptions to the Schleicher County Leader-Success not paid will be terminated

Cotton prices dropping sharply

A drop in U.S. cotton prices has sales moving briskly, and that means farmers need to keep a wary eye on market developments.

U.S. cotton prices dropped about 40 cents a pound at the beginning of August, says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. This, combined with a weaker dollar, is expected to substantially increase world trade, discourage foreign competitive production and increase cotton consumption.

Thus Anderson sees improved prospects for a fairly reasonable U.S. cotton supply-demand balance by the end of the 1987 crop year.

"Recently announced provisions for implementing cotton certificate programs on inventory adjustment and first handler certificates have added momentum to the potential of a 14-million-bale offtake this year," says Anderson. "This compares to an offtake of 8.4 million bales in 1985. With a new crop potential of 10 to 11 million bales, 1986 ending carryover may decline 3 to 4 million bales from the 9.3 million 1985 carryover."

The volume of cotton certificates to fulfill from the CCC loan during the certificate's nine-month life is sizable, adds the economist. Each of the estimated 2.5 million bales of "free" cotton on August 1 generated a certificate value equal to two to four bales. This "free" cotton alone should boost loan equity demand substantially because it will equal to nearly all the remaining 6.85 million bales of old cotton under CCC loan.

Further, under current world price levels each first handler certificate for a 1986 bale purchased will result in a value of about one to two bales, notes Anderson. On August 1 the adjusted world price of U.S. cotton was 22.37 cents.

Windbreak trees on sale

The Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District is sponsoring a windbreak tree sale. If properly designed and maintained, windbreaks can protect life and property for 40 years or more.

Windbreaks help decrease heating costs in winter and cooling costs in the summer for home and buildings. They also reduce soil erosion and damage to crops, provide shelter for livestock and supply food and improve habitat for wildlife.

Orders are being taken now and the supply of trees is limited. The following is a list of trees and materials available for purchase through the district.

Trees available include Afghanistan Pine, Austrian Pine, Arizona Cypress, Redcedar, Bur Oak, Caragana, Desert Willow, Honeylocust, Russian Olive, Pecan, Little Walnut, Osage Orange (Bois D'arc), and Skunkbush Sumac.

Also available will be plastic drip line and supplies. This line can be connected to a garden hose for watering the trees. Anyone interested call 853-2720 for more information.

School started Tuesday. What a relief. Not that I don't love my children, I do, but there is no good reason why they should have three months to lay around and do nothing

Youth Center meeting set here Sunday

Eagles Point Youth Center members will operate the concession stand at the Schleicher County 4-H Play Day slated for Saturday, September 6 in Eldorado.

The new youth center, now in the Butler building, will open at 8 p.m. on Friday, September 5. Coke parties, sponsored by the Eldorado Eagle cheerleaders, will be held following each game.

All memberships are now due and should be renewed, according to club spokesmen.

Upcoming activities include an important meeting Sunday, September 7. Parents are asked to be on hand at the center at 2:30 p.m., with all members asked to meet at 3:30 p.m.

but eat my groceries and use my air-conditioning and not have to suffer something.

I like the new setup, with the middle school (which is not exactly in the middle). The traffic Tuesday morning was the closest thing to a jam we have had here in Eldorado.

Some people say that all the young people leave town. That can't be true. I know that all those little ones showing up for their first day were not adopted by octogenarians.

I think the reason I liked school so much was the new pencil and pad each child received. Back in New Jersey where I grew up they gave you a new #2 pencil and a pad of paper each month during the school year. Maybe because there were nine of us Giovannitis, my parents didn't buy a lot of school supplies. That free pad and pencil were really neat. They must have had very little to do with our education.

No one ever checked to see if we used them. In fact, a few of the real hard cases, guys I grew up with who will remain nameless, took great pride in saving these pads and pencils unused and unsharpened for the whole school year. Their "tabla-rasa" was as much in their heads as it was on those unused tablets.

That is another story. Anyway, I tell you, one of the best things I like about being a lawyer is that I can buy all the school supplies I want and no-one can stop me. Sure, that may not be too important to you but just fight with eight other siblings for the only pencil with a decent eraser and you'll soon see why it's so important.

My children won't have enough time to come home for lunch and that is a shame. I know that there is only so much time to teach these kids all of the immense amount of information that there is to learn today. I know, though how much I enjoyed going home for lunch, especially in grammar school. There are some things that you just can't take in a paper sack. I mean lunch, of course.

Maybe it was different for some of you but my Mom had the best lunches ready. We had fried bread dough, or whatever vegetable was in season, with eggs and hard bread. In the winter it was always something warm and steamy. In the spring it was always fresh and green. Ask me about my Mom's dandelion salad sometime.

I wonder if, with all the advantages we are giving our children we may not be leaving some very important things out of their lives.

'42' Club meets

Mrs. Zelma Henderson acted as hostess when the "42" Club met last Thursday afternoon at the Eldorado Restaurant.

The guests were Evelyn Stigler, "Jake" Spencer, Lois Ehteredge and Viola Finnegan. Members present were Maudie Bassinger, Bessie Clifton, Etta Ruth Dannheim, Louise Logan, Lillian Mikeska, Opal Parks, Jessie Sudduth and the hostess.

During the progressive games the players munched on crackers, cheese and pickles. Afterwards they enjoyed Carrot Cake and coffee.

involved, and Critics are too busy carping.

A Critic is the Doer's curse. Anybody who's ever attempted to do anything knows what it's like. The Critic never lifts a finger to do any work, buy he's always there, ready to criticize or point out what's going wrong and why.

Many Critics feel they are performing a needed task by complaining. Just because they are griping doesn't mean they don't care about their community or their church or their neighborhood. They feel that, by pointing out what's wrong, the Doers may take care of it.

So the following is dedicated to all our community's Doers, who we hope keep on doing:

It is not the critic who counts, nor the man who points out how the strong man stumbled or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes up short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who at worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly; so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither defeat nor victory."

Senior Ambassadors go to Sonora play's debut

Forty one Senior Ambassadors from First Baptist Church of Eldorado attended the Summer Musical, "The King and I", Thursday night in the Sonora High School Auditorium.

They rode the bus and had dinner at the Commercial Restaurant before attending the Musical.

The "King and I", with music written by Richard

Rogers and lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein, is a story based on Anna, a teacher, sent to Siam to teach the children in the King's Palace of Siam and the King of Siam.

All of the characters were portrayed beautifully and superb acting by each one.

Many Sonora citizens were involved in the performance, including the cast, director, producer, choreographer, Scenic designer, master carpenter, piano accompaniment, stage managers, technical director, lighting designer and house manager, plus many others including publicity, ticket sales and many other crew members who were helpers behind the scenes.

The ambassadors are planning at least one more overnight trip this year.

Sonora site for '86 Circus

The Tri-City Shrine Club will be hosting the Shrine Circus in Sonora on Saturday, September 13. Two performances are set for 2 and 7 p.m.

This year's event will be dedicated to the late Les Robertson of Sonora. Shriners from Eldorado, Sonora and Ozona make up the club, which is a member club of Suez Temple in San Angelo. The Suez Temple includes 32 counties in West Texas and 2600 members.

Shriners are best known for their funding of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, which have been assisting more than 300,000 burned and crippled children since 1922.

During the 63 years the hospital system has been in existence, the Shrine of North America has spent approximately $988 million operating Shriners Hospitals and nearly $214 million on construction costs.

Since the first hospital opened there have been approximately 383,208 operations performed, 7,089,669 physical therapy treatments given, 372,095 braces and prosthesis applied, 4,522,525 x-rays and photographs taken and 3,009,230 clinic visits reported.

Children eligible for the treatment should not have reached their 18th birthday. The treatment is 100 percent free of charge, paid for by the Shriners' various fund-raising activities such as the circus, etc.

"If you know of a child that would benefit from such treatment, please contact any shiner and please attend our circus," a local Shrine spokesman said.

Family event set at church

During the month of September, First Baptist Church, Eldorado, will be "Celebrating the Family". As part of the month's activities, families from the congregation will be involved in both the morning and evening worship services.

Sermons during the month will focus on the vital role the family plays in physically, emotionally, and spiritually nurturing individuals. Also scheduled is a presentation of a new series produced by the Christian Life Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention entitled "Help for the Family". These will be viewed on Sunday evenings at 6 p.m. The public is invited to attend. A nursery is provided.

DO WE REALLY EAT TOO MUCH MEAT?

For years Americans have thought of themselves as big meat eaters, but new ways of measuring meat consumption show that isn't the case. Until last year, annual per person red meat consumption was figured by the U.S. Department of Agriculture on the basis of carcasses sold.

Ranch Field Day planned

The Irion County Livestock and Range Committee have planned a Ranch Field Day at the Schlinke Ranch on September 23. The program will begin at noon with a chili and beans dinner provided by the committee.

Jerry Cowley, Beef Cattle Specialist, will discuss herd bull conformation and selection, using six of Schlinke's Hereford bulls, along with performance records, feeds and the latest on the brucellosis situation.

Dale Wade, Predator Control Specialist, will cover the latest in how to control or trap predators on the ranch. He will also demonstrate how to set traps and snares, and Jake Landers, Range Specialist, will cover preparation for prescribed burns, bromweed and bitterweed problems and forage quality testing. "It should be a good program and you'll also see a new set of pens designed to work sheep and cattle at the Schlinke Ranch," a spokesman said.

T.G.I.F. is on the first Friday afternoon of each month from 4 to 5:30 and all kids from the ages of three to 12 are welcome.

What is T.G.I.F.? It is an hour and a half of Bible stories, singing, puppets, object lessons, crafts, refreshments and much more.

Also as a special attraction Shadrach, the clown, who always has something special for all the kids. "So moms, bring the kids on over, this Friday, September 5, for a lot of fun," a spokesman said.

Party fetes Mrs. Annie Speck here

Mrs. Annie Speck was honored by her granddaughter Connie Hansen of Dallas, on her birthday last Wednesday, August 27, with a luncheon at the Dairy Mart.

Other family members present were Fred and Sue Speck from Rock Springs; Henry and Joyce Speck of Eldorado. Friends present were Zelma Henderson, Lillian Mikeska, Bessie Clifton, Louise Logan, Lois Etheredge, Jessie Suduth, Etta Ruth Dannheim, Maudie Bassinger, Wilma Topliffe and Jewel Van Dusen.

After the luncheon, the guests were served birthday cake and coffee and enjoyed watching the honoree open her gifts and cards.

EDITOR'S NOTE - Mrs. Annie Speck is a patient at Saint John's Hospital. She was transferred there from the Schleicher County Hospital on Monday.

RECOGNIZING REAL BREAD

Some consumers mistakenly think that all brown bread is whole-wheat, when it's not, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist. Dr. Alice Hunt explains that by law, bread that is labeled "whole-wheat" must be made from 100 percent whole-wheat flour.

THE WHOLE-GRAIN ADVANTAGE

Milling wheat to produce white flour removed nutrients from the bran and germ, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist. Dr. Alice Hunt points out that enriched breads replace the lost iron, thiamin, riboflavin and niacin.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,
As you know there was some strong statements said about Lyndon La Rouche in Readers Digest that don't make sense for a man who is trying to save America from the Soviet thermonuclear war blackmail.

The paranoid hate-fantasy of Dennis King High Times magazine are that Mr. Methvin has admitted that he consulted with Dennis King on this matter of "Lyndon La Rouche's Raid on Democracy". Whether King wrote the article, I do not know. I personally don't understand why Readers Digest and Mr. Methvin would publish such an article that down plays the strongest drug fighter

U.S.A. has today.
Until this article, I had thought that Mr. Methvin was opposed to drug trafficking and the Readers Digest too. Obviously someone at a high level is saying that La Rouche is taking his drug profits away with the saving of lives that would have died with drug and aids."

Tell your senators that William Weld family which controls White Weld Securities has been engaged in drug money laundering in cooperation with such institutions as Credit Suisse of Zurich Switzerland.

Weld gave only a slap on the wrist of five hundred thousand on 1.2 billion unreported cash transaction of laundering 1.2 billion unreported cash transaction of laundering drug money.

If you want war on drugs hot, then you must tell your senators to keep Weld out of the Justice Department.
