SWTEC Hosts Annual Barbecue/Business Meeting

SWTEC General Manager Jim Martin gives report at the annual business meeting.

by Eddie Albin

Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative celebrated its 45th annual meeting with a barbecue and business meeting attended by over 750 persons.

The meeting, held on the Schleicher County Courthouse lawn was opened with an invocation, given by Paul Lynn, First United Methodist Minister. A meal of beef brisket, beans, potato salad and fried pies catered by the Grubsteak Caterers from San Angelo, Texas followed. The business meeting, which began at 8:00 p.m., was called to session by Fred Case, Board of Directors President. Following the reading of the minutes from last year's meeting by board secretary Jerry Johnson, the report from General Manager Jim Martin indicated a favorable financial outlook for the Cooperative and their members. He pointed out that the Board of Directors, the Staff and the employees stressed one objective - service to the members.

Non-Operating margins and net margins were up for the years 1989 over 1988 and the management and board reported no anticipated need for a rate increase next year. Jim Martin also noted that the actual cost of electricity is now less than in 1985.

He also reported that our engineers and staff will be working together in order to decrease outage time by severe weather. Other financial statistics were given which indicated the excellent financial condition of the Cooperative.

In other business, Mr. J.B. Miller gave the nominating committee report for the election of three directors. Three incumbent directors Jerry Johnson, Bill Ferguson, and Richard Rungee were reelected to three year terms by acclamation of the voting members.

Seven system employees were honored for long time service to the Cooperative. Director Steve Williams awarded each a gold service pen. C.F. Dacy was honored for 25 years. Steve Snelson for 15 years, Jed Edmiston and Chuck Jones for 10 years, Billy Green, Mario Robles and Roger Dane for 5 years of service.

Door prizes were drawn as the last items of business. The following is a list of prize winners: James Williams, Richard Crane, Charlotte Harvey, Lester Dahlberg, Margaret Kring, George Draper, Matt Brown, Leonard Lloyd, Kathy Doty, Floyd West, Mary Krissko, Wallace Joiner, De Lux, Bobby Helmers and James Owens.

Members left the meeting with a bag of attendance gifts and an appreciation for the contribution their local electric cooperative and the people who make it work.

Historical Society Receives Collection

by Rene Calcote

The Schleicher County Historical Society recently received a "collection" from the family of R.D. Holt. The collection consisted of photos, essays and books. The essays were written by the students of Eldorado, Class of 1928 and 1929. They were used in compiling the first history book of Schleicher County published in 1930.

R.D. Holt, his wife Mildred, and their two children lived in Eldorado from 1927 until 1935. Both children were born while they lived in Eldorado, Nancy 1931 and Roy D. Jr. 1929.

R.D. was superintendent and Mrs. Holt was math teacher at Eldorado School.

Many of the photos of the "R.D. Holt collection" have been reprinted and enlarged by noted San Angelo photographer Rex Enochs.

Rex, a native of Schleicher County, donated these reprints to be displayed in the museum.

The public is invited to come by the museum and see the new photos we have added to our collection.

The Historical Society appreciates the support of citizens like the R.D. Holt family and Rex Enochs family. They help preserve our yesterdays and todays for tomorrow.

Doran Attends Texas Lions Camp

Horseback riding, swimming and camping out are just a few highlights of the camp Krista Doran, 11 of Eldorado, attended in Kerrville, Texas. The Texas Lions Camp is owned and operated by the Lions Clubs of Texas. Krista Doran is the child of Lenette F. Doran and was sponsored by the Eldorado Lions Club. Activities are designed to improve the children's physical function and their self-esteem.

Located on 500 acres of beautiful hill country, the camp serves children with physical disabilities, having ages 7 through 16. Camp programs are adapted if needed, especially for the children. Often special adaptation is not needed. The facility is completely wheelchair accessible.

The Texas Lions Camp is a non-profit organization funded by donors interested in providing tuition-free services so handicapped children can successfully meet tomorrow's challenges. Bequests in a person's last will and testament can also be made to the Texas Lions Camp as a commitment to the future beyond one's earthly existence. These funds are invested and their earnings also pay the cost of providing badly needed services.

During the school year, the facility provides educational instruction through its charity supported school accredited by the Texas Education Agency.

For more information, or if you know of someone who can benefit from these programs, call your local Lions or call or write: Texas Lions Camp, P.O. Box 247, Kerrville, Texas 78029-0274 - (512) 896-8500.

Trash! What Is It?

by JoAnn Sproul

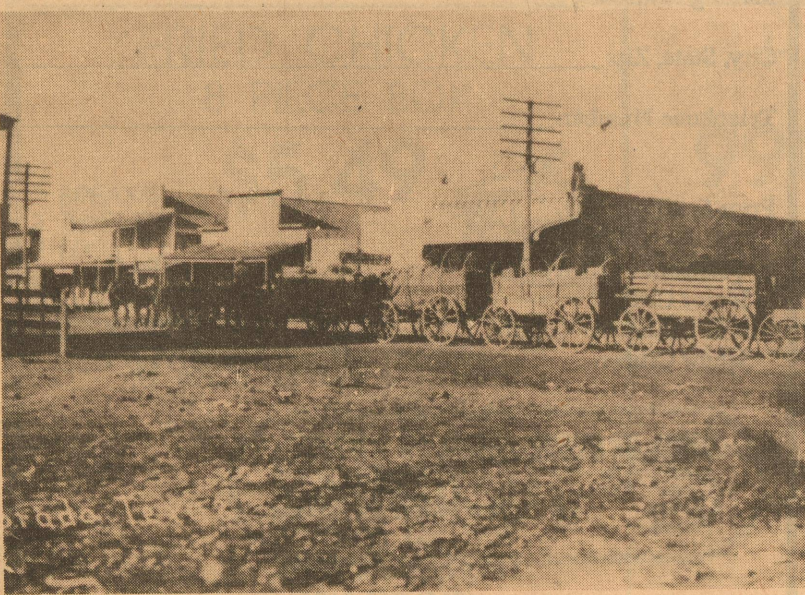

According to Webster's Dictionary, trash is anything worthless or useless: rubbish, broken or torn bits, twigs, splinters, rags, etc. To America, with her thousands of cities and small towns, trash has become a gigantic problem. To Eldorado, it is an ugly barrier to beauty and cleanliness, and it won't go away by itself.

Our trash blows with the wind, hangs on obstacles and then lands anywhere on our streets, alleys and lawns. It builds up in layers on our empty lots, in gutters, or anywhere that is not regularly cleaned. Our trashed is a mirror image of our community, a reflection of what we are. Do we want such an image? I don't think so.

It is impossible for one person to pick up what three thousand throw down. But it is easy for one person to dispose of his or her own trash, or even that of one or two others. Very soon, trash receptacles will be placed around town for you to use. Help by doing your job, as well as anothers. Perhaps tidiness will soon catch on for him or her too. You will earn a star in your crown if you do!

Please join the "E DAY" assault on trash September 15. Your "City of Gold" needs you.

This picture is one of the Museum's many new photos that were recently donated. It was taken in the early 1900's. It was reprinted by Rex Enochs.

Some of the merchandise that was stolen in recent burglaries has been recovered by the Eldorado Sheriff's Department.

According to Chief Deputy Richard Harris, goods from the Golf Course burglaries, the swimming pool burglary and an automobile burglary were seized by the Sheriff's department. The stolen articles were recovered

Monday of this week.

Among the items recovered were several sets of golf clubs, large variety of golf paraphernalia and swimming suits.

Two suspects have been arrested and are presently in custody.

As we go to press, the Grand Jury is in session and indictments are expected. Further details are being withheld at this time.

Life Among The Fishes

by Thomas Giovannitti

Well, it appears that our leaders are once again getting us ready to have a few of the young men of this country die and they haven't considered whether it is in our National interest. I know that many of us think that this Saddam Hussein is a madman with grandiose ideas about his own importance and the need for Arab unity, but is it our job to stop him?

I am sorry but I am just not impressed with arguments that he is another Hitler. He doesn't have the population base to attempt world domination even if all the Arabs agreed with him, which it appears they do not. Secondly, gasoline seems to be going up in price very quickly even when we stopped him from taking over Saudi Arabia. It appears that the only people in this country who seem to benefit from this new military action by our government are the major oil companies. Even the rise in crude has not yet created more Texas jobs.

I am not so sure that this invasion of Kuwait was enough reason for our President to put so many American lives at risk to help keep Gulf, Exxon, Texaco, and a few other big international oil companies making even more money than they were already making.

I realize that all of the automatic weapons owners and NRA members are tickled pink about seeing all of that fire power gathering in Saudi Arabia, but to me, it looks like someone else other than all of the American people are going to gain from our military intervention in the gulf region. I don't want to pay high prices for my gasoline either, but should we get young Americans killed so we can keep the price of gasoline at a dollar? I want a better reason for risking the lives of young men. We were in one of those limited wars with limited goals and it split this Country in two, 58,000 men lost their lives and we never did achieve our stated goal. I sure hope the President and all of his men aren't trying to put "Humpty-Dumpty" back together again!

Laugh and Live

by Gary Smith

"Patience is bitter but its fruit is sweet."

Lady just loved her "Little Fluffy". "Little Fluffy" was her cat. Seems that she wanted to take a vacation, so she asked her husband to please, please take care of her "Little Fluffy".

After she had been gone for a day, she called her husband and asked, "How's Little Fluffy?"

Husband answered, "The cat is dead. Got hit by a truck."

The wife screamed, "Why you cruel, inhuman, insensitive beast. You didn't have to tell me like that. You could have broken it to me more gently. You could have said something like, 'Little Fluffy was up on the roof playing with his little, red, rubber ball and the ball fell off the roof and Little Fluffy jumped after it.'"

Husband said, "Oh! I'll try to do better next time."

Wife said, "How's my mother?"

Husband answered, "Well, she was up on the roof, playing with her little, red, rubber ball..."

No matter how it is said or how colorfully it is phrased, it looks like we are going to war. To me and a few other Viet Nam Era Vets, all of this sounds vaguely familiar.

'Til the next time...

MAY GOD BLESS.

An Apple A Day

by Lee R. (Smokey) Taylor, R.Ph.

Treating Endometriosis: Endometriosis can affect as many as 30% of infertile women between 30 and 40 years of age. The primary symptoms are pelvic pain, infertility, or a large ovarian mass.

Because the disease requires estrogen to progress, there are four methods of treatment -- surgical removal of the ovaries (for severe cases); medical treatment that lowers estrogen levels or increases testosterone levels; and induction of the pseudo-pregnancy with birth control pills.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

On behalf of all the participants in the Range Ram Sale held on August 4, we would like to publicly say "Thank You" to Super S grocery store and the Eldorado Wool Company for their generous donations to our lunch.

Proceeds from the lunch were donated to the Meals on Wheels Program and the Concho Valley Home for Girls.

We are grateful for the support that made it possible to make these contributions.

Sincerely,

The Participants of the Range Ram Sale

Dear Editor,

We would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped get the school calendar changed.

Thanks to everyone who signed a petition or talked to a school board member. Group efforts do work!

Thanks to Dr. Blair for working so diligently to find a plan that would benefit the majority of the students.

Thanks to Terry Green, Lynn Williams, Tip Finley, Dobs Lively and Phil McCormick for voting yes on the new calendar.

Dear Editor,

It seems to me that we seldom take time to consider the things for which we have to be thankful. In the past two issues of the Success I have read three letters to the editor that give me pause to count my blessings.

One thing for which I am thankful is that I am not the one who has to try to convince the citizens of this county to vote for Ann Richards. Mr. Holsey has written twice to indicate his strong dislike of Republicans. He mistakenly believes that electing Democrats will solve all of Texas' See LETTERS on Page 3 problems. I respectfully submit to you that Texans have been electing Democrats for years and that Democrats by and large are the problem, not the solution.

Mr. Holsey implies that he doesn't know what companies Clayton Williams has founded. Well, there are Claydesta Communications, Claydesta National Bank, Williams Oil & Gas Co., and Clajon Natural Gas Company as well as farming and ranching interests.

Mr. Holsey contends that Ann Richards is qualified to be Governor because she is a career politician. I disagree. There is no substitute for practical business experience. Clayton Williams has that experience and I feel he should be our next Governor.

Mr. Holsey brought up the subject of leadership. He indicates that we need Democratic Leadership at the top levels of government. Let's look for a moment at the leaders the Democratic party has to offer. Nationally there are Michael Dukakis and Jesse Jackson. Closer to home there are Ann Richards, Jim Hightower, Lloyd Doggett and Lester Dahlberg. I think I will stick to the proven leadership of Republicans like George Bush, Phil Gramm, Lamar Smith, Kay Bailey Hutchison, Rick Perry and Harvey Hilderbran. I submit to you that President Bush is providing excellent leadership. I shudder to think how Michael Dukakis would handle the current situation in the Persian Gulf.

Mr. Holsey insinuates that the Republicans are trying to buy an election. I find it strange that anyone affiliated with a party that takes huge sums of money from special interest groups ranging from Labor Unions to the Gay and Lesbian Alliance would want to talk about campaign financing. I suppose the Democrats have been spending other peoples money for so long they don't know what to make of someone like Clayton Williams. Someone who believes strongly enough in his ideas that he is willing to spend his own money.

Finally, Mr. Editor, there was an omission at the end of Mr. Dahlberg's letter last week. He is the Democratic nominee for State Representative District

67. I can't help but wonder if this was an error on your part or an intentional omission on his part. If so, I can't say as I blame him.

Respectfully yours,
Randy Mankin, Chairman
Schleicher County
Republican Party

To Those Concerned,

Seven years ago a few concerned parents met and organized a group for "War on Drug," which developed into Eagle's Point Youth Center. After a great deal of physical and mental labor from both parents and youth, we had an opening night at Eagle's Point Youth Center, at which about 300 parents, youth and concerned citizens attended.

The concern and enthusiasm has dropped in the last couple of years to the point that funding became a problem and has now ceased. This being the case, Eagle's Point Youth Center has also ceased to exist, as of August 7, 1990.

As the last president of the Adult Council, I would like to say a large Thank You to all of those who have contributed their time, money, donations and moral support to the County for monies in the past and present building, the City for monies and support, and the school for their monies and support. We could not have done without you.

For those who have not been involved, as yet, maybe you will have another chance to help our youth at a later date when interest is again aroused.

Sincerely,
George L. Spinks

The ABC's of Back-to-School

The lazy days of summer are over and the back-to-school race is here.

Running to school in the morning or from school in the afternoon, children run the risk of injury.

"Head injury is among the most dangerous of injuries, especially for children," according to Dr. James Wasco, medical director for the New Medico Head Injury System. "Any injury to the brain can significantly impair a child's ability to learn, concentrate or remember information and this can have a damaging effect on a child's development."

Before you send your children back to school, outfit them with a few safety reminders.

Walking to School

Most pedestrian accidents are the fault of the walker, not the driver, according to the National Safety Council, so:

- * Be sure to allow enough time for your child to get to school without rushing.
- * Plan your child's walking route to minimize the number of street crossings.
- * Teach your child always to use sidewalks and to cross at crosswalks. Where there are no sidewalks, have your child walk facing traffic, so the child can see oncoming cars.

Riding the School Bus

Although school buses are much safer than family cars, statistics indicate that 40 students die and 7,000 are injured each year in school bus accidents. The majority of these accidents occur outside the bus, when students are boarding or exiting.

- * Have your child wait for the bus to stop completely, then board carefully, using the handrail.
- * Tell your children to take their seat quickly and stay in that seat for the entire ride - never putting head, arms or hands out the window.
- * Teach your children to cross at least 10 feet in front of the bus so the driver can see them.

If you need more information about head injury and rehabilitation, call the New Medico Head Injury System at 1-800-CARE-TBI, ext 3070.

"Going to school without parents is a sign of a child's independence," said Dr. Wasco, "but children must learn that practicing safety is a prerequisite for independence."

PAC Contributions To Senators Totaled $96.3 Million in '83-'88, Group Says

reprinted from The Wall Street Journal

U.S. senators collectively received $96.3 million in campaign contributions from political action committees sponsored by corporations and labor unions in a recent six-year period, according to a study by Common Cause.

The study, released the same week the Senate is expected to begin debating ways to overhaul the campaign-finance system, showed that 44 senators received more than $1 million each from PACs during 1983-1988, the period studied by the self-styled citizens lobby group.

The Senate's leader in PAC contributions was Sen. Lloyd Bentsen (D., Texas), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, who received $2.5 million. Three other senators - Pete Wilson (R., Calif.), Slade Gorton (R., Wash.) and Phil Gramm (R., Texas) - also received more than $2 million from PACs.

"Special-interest PACs have contributed tens of millions of dollars to obtain special access and influence," said Common Cause President Fred Wertheimer.

Financial-services industry PACs, including those sponsored by savings and loan associations, were the biggest corporate contributors, giving senators more than $8.5 million. Banking Committee Chairman Donald Riegle (D., Mich), the subject of an ethics inquiry because of large contributions he received from savings and loan executive Charles Keating, was the Senate's top recipient for such PACs, with $344,133.

The second highest recipient from financial industry PACs was Sen. Alfonse D'Amato (R., N.Y.), who received $309,433. Sen D'Amato is the subject of a Senate ethics inquiry that focuses in part on campaign contributions he received from executives of Drexel Burnham Lambert Inc.

also under investigation for his ties to Mr. Keating, received $209,195 from financial-industry PACs and ranked ninth among beneficiaries of such groups.

PACs representing oil and gas companies, utilities and other energy interests gave senators more than $7 million. Sen. Gramm was the top recipient with $382,103. The Texas Republican also led in PAC contributions from real estate and construction industry PACs, which gave hi $193,874 out of a total of $4.8 million contributed to senators.

Insurance industry PACs gave a total of $45.7 million. Sen. Bentsen was their top recipient with $213,900. PACs representing food, restaurant and liquor associations gave a total of $4.5 million; Sen. Gorton led with $147,182. Medical and health industry PACs gave nearly $4 million, with Sen. Dave Durenberger (R. Minn.) the top recipient with $156,061. Pro-Israel PACs contributed $4.9 million and gave their largest contributions to Sen. Paul Simon (D. Ill.) who received $297,786.

PACs sponsored by labor unions gave more than $14 million to senators. Their top beneficiary was Sen. Thomas Daschle

(D. S.D.), who received $510,999 from such PACs in the six-year period.

Under current law, Senate candidates may receive a contribution of up to $5,000 from any PAC in a primary election and the same amount in a general election. There is no overall ceiling on the amount of money a candidate can receive from various PACs.

Deep Divisions

Proposals to limit the role played by PACs are among the most contentious items in the highly partisan fight over campaign-finance. With seven senators facing pending ethics inquiries, the Senate is under intense pressure to reduce the role of special-interest money in politics, but lawmakers are split over how to do so.

can receive. President Bush has proposed changes that would, in effect, abolish corporate and labor PACs, while other Republicans advocate lowering the contribution limits from $5000 to $1000.

Steven Stockmeyer, who represents a coalition of business Sen. Alan Cranston (D., Calif.), Historically, Democrats have enjoyed higher levels of PAC support and have been less cordial to proposals to limit them. However, a bill introduced last month by Sen. David Boren (D., Okla.) would place an aggregate ceiling on the amount of PAC money a Senate candidate PACs, opposes all such proposals. "PACs are as diverse as America is," he says. "To artificially limit them limits that diversity."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

Schleicher County
Hospital District will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1989 by 7.86 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property. 6:30 pm Schleicher County
The public hearing will be held on Aug. 27, 1990 at Medical Center.

FOR the proposal: George Gower, Raymond Mittel, Jerry Jones, C.R. Sproull, De Lux, Bobbie Sanders, William Edmiston, Jr.

AGAINST the proposal: NONE
PRESENT and not voting: NONE
ABSENT: NONE

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on Aug 2, 1990. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$17,970	$18,310
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	none	none
Average taxable value	17,970	18,310
Tax rate	.4650/$100	.4650/$100 (proposed)
Tax	$ 83.56	$ 85.14 (proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $ 1.58 or 1.89 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would not change compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Pack A Safe Lunch For School

More than 23 million American children will start taking their lunches when school opens soon, and whether the food is safe to eat may depend on how it's prepared.

A nutritionist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says that food-borne illness is a bigger problem than most people think. Between 24 and 81 million cases of this disease are reported each year.

"The best defense against food-borne illness is safe food handling practices," Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten said. "This means taking precautions every time food is prepared."

Sweeten advises those who pack lunches for school, work, trips or other events to follow these tips:

* Keep everything that touches food clean. Stop and wash utensils, bowls and counter tops -- everything that touches food -- in between working on each dish.

* Use a fork, not your hands to mix meat, macaroni, egg, tuna or green salad. Your hands continually pickup bacteria and other germs that get into fingernails and in the creased skin of the hands. Only a vigorous washing with hot, soapy water prepares hands to safely deal with food.

* Cook food thoroughly. For complete safety, raw meat, poultry and fish should be thoroughly cooked, following package or cookbook directions.

* Refrigerate lunch fixed the night before. Pack your bag with perishables -- meat or poultry sandwiches, hard-boiled eggs -- and refrigerate it. Add chips and cookies and cold drinks the following morning.

It is always best to refrigerate your lunch, but since most children have no way to refrigerate their lunch at school, Sweeten suggests following these tips to keep food cold:

* Put something cold in the lunch bag. This could be a frozen cold drink, a small, plastic refrigerator dish filled with water and frozen, or one of the new commercial gels. Also, some lunch boxes now come with freeze pack inserts.

* Freeze sandwiches. This works best with coarse, textured breads that won't get soggy when thawing. The sandwich thaws in time for lunch, and it keeps everything else cool in the meantime. Sandwich extras -- lettuce, tomato and mayonnaise -- don't freeze well. Pack them separately.

* Use a thermos to keep milk or juice cold, or try the new fruit juices in wax paper cartons that need no refrigeration.

* Keep your lunch in the coolest place possible. Never leave it in direct sun or on a warm surface.

Sweeten said some foods are safer to take along for lunch than other. Commercially prepared and ready to eat meats, such as corned beef, salami and bologna, are good lunch box choices because they keep well.

"Canned meat and poultry, which can be opened and eaten immediately, are also good choices," she said. "Before you buy these, make sure the cans are properly sealed and not rusted, bulging, or badly dented."

Fruits and vegetables go well with any lunch, Sweeten said. Wash them before packing or remove soil, bacteria, viruses and insecticide sprays.

"It's also important to take care of your lunch-container," Sweeten said. "Wash lunch boxes and laminated totes thoroughly every night to keep bacteria from growing inside." A weekly wash with baking soda eliminates odors.

Use only new, clean bags,

Sweeten said. Bags that have carried groceries can pass insects or bacteria from other food to your lunch. Wet or stained bags carry a lot of germs.

1990-91 School Lunch Prices

by Mildred Phillips

Lunch prices for the 1990-91 school year will be as follows:

- K-3 - $1.00
- 4-6 - $1.10
- 7-12 - $1.20
- Adults - $1.60
- Guests - $3.45

Reduced price lunches will be 40c.

Breakfast prices will be:
Students - 50c
Adults - 75c

Reduced price breakfasts will be 25c.

Lunches need to be paid in the morning in the Cafeteria between the hours of 7:30 and 9:00 a.m.

A simple method for paying is to place the check or money in an envelope with the child's or children's name, the grade and teachers name on the outside. Have the child bring it to the cafeteria and leave it at the desk and they can go on to class and not have to wait in line. Encourage the child to go to the cafeteria with the envelope as soon as they arrive at school, so they don't lose it outside.

There will be no charging for grades 7-12 and only five charges in grades K-6.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL TIME

Safety Tips...

For Drivers

1. Never pass a stopped bus when it is picking up or dropping off children.
2. Watch for children in residential areas and around school zones.
3. Obey speed limits - especially in school zones.
4. Obey all traffic lights and traffic guards.

For Children

1. Cross only at designated school crossings.
2. Walk across streets - DO NOT RUN.
3. Look all ways before crossing.
4. Do not cross between parked vehicles.
5. Obey the safety patrol.
6. Where there are no sidewalks, walk on the shoulder of the road, on the left side - facing the on coming traffic.
7. Never accept rides from strangers.

Pure clean breezes blow through this little city high above sea level. Eldorado sits on the "Top of the Divide", where its night lights can be seen for miles from any direction.

On February 28, 1878 the future town section, which is now Eldorado, was granted to the Houston East and West Texas Railway Company. In March of 1878, the land was transferred to J.R. Brackenridge. In August of 1882, it was transferred to George Brackenridge who sold the land to Joseph Warner and C.R. Callender that same year.

On May 15, 1895, an undivided one-half interest in section 49, Eldorado town site, was granted to W.B. Silliman. Section 49 was an ideal location, near the center of the county, level ground on high elevation, perfect for a new little city.

A Touch Of History

To promote capital, Silliman formed the company composed of W.L. Gray, M.H. Murchison and W.B. Silliman, and the first store was established.

In the spring of 1895, Silliman began the surveying and plotting of the streets of the town site. The plans were made so that the streets did not follow a course due north or south but, lie northwest and southwest, or southwest and northeast. The purpose being, the wind would not strike a house squarely from the north or west.

The center of the town site was a 400 foot square for the courthouse. A 150 foot wide street would enclose this square. All other streets were 100 feet wide.

The streets were named after owners, early settlers and trees. Two important streets were Callender and Warner, named after the California owners of the land.

Silliman wanted to express the dreams and visions he had for this new little town. He decided to name it Eldorado, which means "The Gilded" or "Land of Gold" in Spanish.

Originally the name "Eldorado" was two separate words, but on maps and postal guides, it was shown as one word, and was adopted to one word.

The Schleicher County Chamber of Pride Committee has adopted the theme "City of Gold" for their beautification plans for our town. Golden colored flowers located throughout Eldorado are symbols of her founder, W.B. Silliman's dreams for the future greatness of this little city.

Each citizen can be a part of this beautification, cleaning their property, planting golden flowers, and making improvements.

SCISD Board Held Meeting

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees of Schleicher County Independent School District was held on August 13, 1990 at 6:00 p.m. in the Administration Building.

After the SCISD 1990-91 budget was reviewed, the Board voted to adopt the 1990-91 budget. The tax rate for the year set at $1.1393 per $100 of value.

To fulfill part of the mandates of Senate Bill 1, the Board adopted a district-wide educational improvement council policy. The policy deals with regulations for obtaining teacher in-put into the district planning process.

As final action, board members approved Great American's proposal for administering SCISD's Tax-savings benefits plan. This plan allows staff members to have certain expenses subtracted from their salaries before taxes.

The meeting was adjourned at 6:40 p.m.

This is a picture of the first store established in Eldorado. It was formed by W.B. Silliman, W.L. Gray and M.H. Murchison to promote capital.

PLANNING A NEW HOME?

First ask your builder how a WTU Energy Saving Plan home can save you money.

An E.S.P. home is designed with energy saving features like double pane windows, extra caulking, weatherstripping and insulation and proper ventilation of unconditioned air space.

You'll also find high efficiency cooling and heating equipment like an all-season electric heat pump for summer cooling and winter heating.

Every feature of an E.S.P. home helps to keep your cooling and heating inside and nature out. So you can save energy and money. And remember, when it's time to sell, your E.S.P. home will have a higher resale value.
