

TEXTILE MILL IS ASSURED FOR ELDORADO; BUILDING FOR PLANT TO START SOON

On The Divide

Here in Eldorado civic-minded men can get their projects put over enthusiastically, provided they are done in the interest of football. This week several of the boys decided that the streets should be cleaned for next Saturday's big game. They argued that in the event of dry weather, the accumulated dirt on Main street would make it so dusty, it would look like a race track and if it rained, some pedestrians might slip down on the mud and break his neck. Business men smilingly chipped in their two-bits and the streets will be clean for Saturday.

An enterprise that might become of unintelligible importance to Schleicher county and West Texas, is the textile mill that will be established here by J. M. Christian. The mill will be comparatively small at the outset, but as the market for its products expand, the mill will be enlarged to meet demands.

In the heart of the greatest wool and mohair producing section of Texas, the mill here will have first choice of highest grade raw materials. By completing the process of growing, harvesting, manufacturing and marketing the woolen fabrics here in our state, young Christian's dreams should be realized.

Having prepared himself by completing textile engineering at Texas Tech., backed up with several years actual experience in eastern mills, the Eldorado is capable of pioneering in the Texas field. It is fortunate, indeed, that Eldorado has been chosen as the sight where the mill will be built.

SECOND GUESSING

(By L. T. Barber)

As far as the football season for the Eldorado Eagles are concerned, the curtains will be drawn down Saturday afternoon following the Bi-District tussle with Iraan.

This game will climax a very successful season for both the team and coaches. The schedule has been among the toughest in the history of the school. Many of the district teams are becoming stronger. The addition of the Mason school brought a very strong team into the district.

Predicting the game Saturday from comparative score would be a matter of a toss up. But we feel that the game is not a toss up. We have seen Iraan in action only once and know they have a very strong team—one that is dangerous from any part of the field. They have two boys who can really scat and might score from any pace. Coaches Carruthers and Huggins have been doing some real head scratching, trying to plan some defense to hold these boys in check. We will not know just how this is going to pan out until Saturday afternoon but we

Home-Town Boy, Textile Engineer, To Operate Plant.

Establishment of a textile mill in Eldorado, the first of its kind in Texas, was assured this week when J. M. Christian, home-town boy, announced plans for opening the West Texas Woolen Mills here. A building to house the machinery will be started next week, it is planned.

J. M. Christian son of J. B. Christian, Eldorado Banker and rancher of more than a quarter of a century, is in charge of operations. Young Christian, a graduate of the Textile Engineering Division of Texas Technological College at Lubbock, has for the past several years been Assistant Engineer of the Southern Textile plants of the U. S. Rubber Company and is well acquainted with textile operations.

Machinery has already been bought and will be housed in a building made of native stone, of a construction including provisions for enlargement as necessary. Original plans for this enterprise include scouring of raw wool; however, the erection of the Central Texas Wool and Mohair Company at San Marcos, Texas, a fully equipped commercial wool scouring plant, has greatly simplified this problem.

Three principal operations which will be carried on at The West Texas Woolen Mills are carding, spinning and weaving. The plant will be equipped for making the finest type of 100 per cent Virgin wool blankets, as well as the ordinary camp and army styles. High grade woolen suiting, yarns and woolen batting will also be produced at this plant.

Advantages of a woolen mill of this type in Texas over those in sections remote from the main wool producing area, are self evident, and this project, the first of its kind in Texas, should enjoy every success.

The Sunshine Grocery, operated by Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Beck has moved from the A. J. Roach building on Main street to the Jones building, adjoining the Postoffice. The store was opened for business in the new location Friday morning.

The grocery firm has been in operation here for some time.

Town Is Dressed For Christmas Season

Donning a brilliant dress of the season's colors, the Eldorado business section is now in readiness for the approaching holiday season. String of attractive and sparkling lights have been stretched across streets at intervals from Hotel Eldo to Lum Davis' Service station on Main street and from Foxworth-Galbrath's to the Self Sere grocery on W. Gillis.

Business firms have also been decorated in various and unique ways to feature the spirit of the season. Stimulation of shopping last Saturday and also this week is additional evidence of the spirit of the season.

Mrs. Whitten Observes 73rd. Birthday Monday

Mrs. J. A. Whitten, for 39 years a resident of Eldorado, observed her 73rd. birthday anniversary Monday. During the afternoon she visited with Mrs. Josephine Leudecke, another pioneer woman who celebrated her birthday the same day.

Mrs. Whitten was born in Indiana on December 4, 1866 to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morris. She came to this city in 1901 with her husband who was elected county judge soon afterwards. Mrs. Whitten has always been active in church work and for the last 30 years she has taught the cradle roll department in the Local First Baptist Sunday School. She now teaches children of former cradle roll pupils.

She has five children including Mrs. D. C. Royster, Buren Whitten, Lewis Whitten and W. T. Whitten of this city and Chandler Whitten of Fredricksburg.

Streets Being Cleaned

Eldorado streets were being cleaned Thursday afternoon, getting everything in readiness for the football game Saturday. Mud accumulated from previous rains had dried and resulted in very dusty streets.

Merchants put their heads together this week and each contributed to a fund to finance the

SCORES DIDN'T MEAN MUCH IN EARLY ELDORADO GAMES

Papas and mammas ran up and down the sidelines ringing their hands. Poor little Willie would surely get hurt playing that rough game.

It was back in 1922 when Eldorado fans were witnessing their first football game in the field back of W. Ramsey's place in the West part of town. The boys had been practicing hard for about a month and the first engagement was a tussle with the hard-hitting Sonora team. Payne Robinson was referee. Back in those days, but little thought was given the score. In fact, after about the first dozen touchdowns on the local lads, most fans just lost count. During the first two or three years, Eldorado's sluggers did not cross the marker a single time, but no team in West Texas was too large or too tough for them to tackle.

Every football game was a tough fight, in every sense of the word, back in the old, it is recalled by those who participated and

The Dies committee under the direction of Martin Dies of Texas, has been active for the past several years. In recent months the committee's work has gained widespread interest.

Show To Benefit Christmas Fund Saturday, Dec. 16.

Clothing, toys or groceries will be accepted for admittance to a ten comedy show to be given Saturday afternoon December 16, to benefit the Eldorado Christmas fund.

Clothing given should be in good condition. Toys should be in favorable repair and groceries of all varieties will be accepted. The accumulation of the merchandise will be placed in charge of the Christmas Committee and will be properly distributed to less fortunate children of the city on Christmas.

The Christmas program has been carried on annually by the Lions club in co-operation with other clubs of the city for the past several years. Each year many children who would otherwise experience a less plentiful Christmas, are made happy and glad through this program.

Former Eldoradoan Buried In Sonora Wednesday

W. T. Benson, 43, of San Angelo died in the veterans' hospital at Legion Monday as a result of a broken neck and other injuries received two weeks earlier in a car wreck near Miles. Mr. Benson was born and reared here and operated a merchantile store for some time.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Sonora. He is survived by three children, three sisters and two half sisters. Attending the funeral from Eldorado were Mrs. C. C. West, Mrs. W. C. Mund, Mrs. O. E. Conner, Mrs. Joe Tisdale, Mrs. J. E. Hill, and Mrs. Cora Millar.

Game To Climax Interesting Year For Eagles

Climaxing a brilliant season of football, the Eldorado Eagles will meet the Iraan Braves in a game here Saturday afternoon to decide the Bi-District championship. Both teams having won the title of champions of their respective districts, will tussle for the highest pennant offered them as high school football teams.

One of the largest crowds that has ever witnessed a football game in Eldorado will be present for the game here Saturday afternoon. Interest is greatest that has ever been known in Eldorado and from reports Iraan will be well represented on the side-lines. In addition to bands and pep squads of the two teams, other units from neighboring schools have been invited and will be on hand to furnish their part for the entertainment.

Every precaution has been made to assure handling of traffic at the ball field and on city streets during the afternoon. At least six patrolmen have been secured to direct traffic and to police the crowd during the game.

The game Saturday will be a highlight in many respects. It is assured to be one of the best football games of the season. For some of the players, this will be their last tilt with the local high school squad. Approximately eleven of the boys who have lettered will go out this week for their last game. Among this group are; Wallace Cozens, guard, 2nd year man; Gardner McCormick, tackle, 2nd year; Tommie Henderson, tackle, 2nd year; Joe Reynolds, tackle, 2nd year; Willard Newlin, end, 4th year; Lyndon Isaacs, end 1st year; David Williams, end 1st year; Joe Ed Hill, back, 4th year; Bob Williams, back 3rd year; Jack Halbert, back, 2nd year; and Morris Underwood, back, 3rd year man.

Ervin Roberts Badly Injured In Gas Line Accident Wednesday

Ervin Roberts, employee on Schleicher County roads, is in a San Angelo hospital recovering from painful burns received in an explosion when he ploughed into a gas line near the stock pens Wednesday morning.

The explosion occurred when he plowed into the pipe with a grader while working on the road near the stock pens. Although Mr. Roberts received burns on his arms, neck, face and back, no part of his clothing was scorched. It is thought he will be able to leave the hospital within another week.

PROTEST TRADE PACTS

Protests against the reciprocal trade policies of our State Department are becoming more numerous, and many have an important influence on the next session of Congress. The National Grange, representing nearly a million farmers, has just voiced its unalterable opposition to any curtailment of excise rates on commodities of which the United States has surpluses.

A national cooperative association of 350,000 dairy farmers has filed from arguments against a proposed trade agreement with Argentina. Labor, through its international union of mine, mill and smelter workers, has added its protest against State Department generosity to cheap foreign competition.

Attacking a proposed reduction in the four-cent cooper excise tax now protecting the American mining industry, the mine workers contend that the only result of a reduction in the amount of the tax would be to reduce the price of copper and to reduce wages and employment in domestic cooper mines, wages being geared to the price of copper.

It is charged that zinc, cattle, lumber and petroleum have been "traded", and that copper and other domestic items which are competitive against foreign production are threatened.

As one recent writer puts it:
"Charity begins at home—and here we have millions of unemployed and millions in need. Opening our trade gates to foreign dumping will not make jobs for American labor."

MINE STORY DOUBTED

American military experts are inclined to scoff at the story which has been going about to the effect that Germany has a magical "magnetic" sea mine which is attracted to its target by the steel hull of a ship.

It is pointed out that the "pull" of a magnet decreases very rapidly as distance from the attracted object increases; also that magnetic impulses are not readily transmitted through water.

They recall that during the World War a government board of experts, headed by the late Thomas A. Edison, to study ideas for new weapons, explored the magnetic mine theory and pronounced it impracticable.

Even if some such mine could be made to work, it would almost certainly endanger a vessel that attempted to plant it, as well as those which might come along later.

Most navies do have types of electric mine, however, which are equipped with long "feelers" or antennae attached, so that the bottom of a vessel brushing against them will automatically set off the explosive. The Germans may have an improved type of this sort of mine.

The greatest barrage of sea mines ever planted consisted of 70,000 laid in the North Sea by the British and American navies during the World War. Less than one-half of them were recovered after the war.

Army recruiting was stimulated by modern advertising methods to make a peace time record of 50, 836 enlistments in the period between July 1 and November 9, according to Col. Lloyd B. Magruder of the recruiting service.

AUSTIN—Old Age pensions seekers in Texas, who have followed demagogues' glittering promises through various elections, and seen their hopes fade, may get some genuine pension aid in 1940, and from a man who has never made a promise or asked a vote on the grounds of what he was going to do for the old folks.

He is Tom Connally, Junior United States Senator from Texas, and a real statesman who has won the admiration alike of New Dealers and conservative Democrats during his two terms in the Senate. During the closing days of the last regular session of Congress, Connally sponsored an amendment to the Federal Social Security act which would obligate the Federal government to put up $10 of the first 15 of grant to each pensioner, and match state funds dollar for dollar up to $40 total for each pensioner. Thus, for maximum pensions of $40 a month, the Federal contribution would be $22.50, and the State's part $17.50.

Connally secured passage of his amendment in the Senate, but it failed to pass the House and was dropped by a conference committee. He will push for its enactment again during the next regular session of Congress, beginning in January. Reports from Washington indicate it has an excellent chance of passage next time, and it will materially aid Texas Pensioners.

Allred Conviction

Repercussions from the action of Federal Judge James C. Wilson, who dismissed seven counts in the hot oil indictments against Rennie Allred, Jr., brother of the ex-governor, and Neal Powers, and found them guilty on three counts, imposing a fine of $1000 each, may have an effect upon the continuous campaign which has been carried on by Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, to bring about Federal control of oil production. Ickes issued a statement, bitterly criticising Judge Wilson's action, charging that it was improper to halt evidence in the case while Government prosecutors still had many witnesses to present, and without any agreement by the prosecutors to the court's action. The court dismissed the indictment alleging conspiracy, which is punishable as a felony by imprisonment, while the conviction was on misdemeanor courts, carrying fines as the penalty.

Papers For The Truth

"Schools should teach students to depend on newspapers for information, rather than on current events magazines and the radio, which are likely to carry propaganda", declared Dr. Howard Anderson, of Cornell University, addressing Dallas District Council for Social Studies, made up of public school teachers, in Dallas this week. "Too many people know the meaning of words, but don't know how to read, because they don't know how to oranzize ideas", he added.

Study School Needs

Governor O'Daniel's general educational committee, including 150 Texas educators, named to formulate recommendations concerning the needs of the public school system in Texas, will begin its labors this month, following an organization meeting in Austin this week. The governor told the teachers it appears more money is needed, which must be furnished by the State, to insure a first-class educational system, and urged them to submit recommendations to improve the system, and legislation to effect the improvement.
He told the committee no consideration should be given by it to the affairs of the institutions of higher learning, and none were wanted as to how to get the additional money.

Food For Thought

There is food for thought for thinking Texans in an editorial which appeared this week in the Austin Daily Tribune, millionaire Jim West's new capitol newspaper. Captioned "Peace Among Ourselves", the editorial says, in part: "The first condition of our security, our influence in the world—perhaps our survival as a great nation—is peace among ourselves. Desirable at all times, it is indispensable now. The need of the hour is for a united people.
The guerilla warfare of self seeking groups, the 'feuding' of factions, the conflicts of classes, must be given over in the interests of the general welfare.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Love of the Cradle "Laid Him in a manger". Luke 2:7

In our love of the Cross, we sometimes overlook our love of the Cradle. We forget that our Lord endured the weakness of death and the weakness of infancy no less. He whom the heaven of heavens cannot contain did not abhor the Virgin's womb. Giving earth one eternal lesson, that all souls lived with God before birth and they were not born into this world, but sent into this world. Thus we say, "The spirit or soul, returns to God who gave it." He could not have given it had it not been with Him. Therefore, He who is from everlasting to everlasting, will save the soul that trust Him in the Cradle and on the Cross.

A NOTED EDUCATOR
Speaks...

Dr. Homer P. Rainey, President of the University of Texas, has analyzed Texas' future possibilities in repeated public address. These statements express his thought:

"The next stage in the progress of Texas lies in the development of our great industrial and commercial possibilities."

"A program of industrial development centers around the manufacture of raw materials into finished products."

"American industry is moving closer to its raw material sources. We in Texas can capitalize on this movement if the opportunity is grasped."

"Our great highway development, coupled with industrial progress, will greatly aid the Texas farmer in his marketing problem."

"The best measure of the importance of an enterprise is the employment it creates and the income it produces."

"Our need for increased employment requires the keenest intelligence in solving the problem. Our boys and girls must be trained in highly efficient schools to meet the growing needs of farm and business."

"Our Universities are dedicated to a program of scientific training and research which will create employment and build industry to use our raw materials at home."

"Repeated failures did not stop our hardy pioneers in the building of our present empire. The same spirit must prevail for a successful future."

The Texas oil industry recognizes the soundness of these broad principles. They underlie present employment and provide for expanded future employment for our Texas people. The vital part oil plays today in putting these principles into actual practice will be portrayed in a series of advertisements to follow in this publication.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties. BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep. So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders. You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

Positive . . .
Comparative . . .
Superlative . . .

If you've forgotten what your teacher told you (yes, so have we), here's a practical way to remember: go to the nearest Humble Station. In one pump, you'll find a gasoline called Thriftane—a good gasoline at thrifty price—that's positive! . . . In another, you'll find Humble Motor Fuel, a better gasoline at regular price—that's comparative! . . . In a third, you'll discover Essó, the best motor fuel you can buy—and there's no doubt about Esso being superlative! . . . And at this point, ladies and gentlemen, we find ourselves squarely in the middle of the story of our three LEADED gasolines: there's one for every car, every gasoline budget, under the Humble sign. One's good—one's better—one's best . . . So, whatever the car you drive, whatever the price you pay for gasoline, you'll find a LEADED gasoline for your car, at (or very near) your price under the Humble sign . . . Fill up with Humble!

Laughing Around the World
With IRVIN S. COBB

His Motion Caused a Commotion

By IRVIN S. COBB

THEY were holding a special meeting of the directors of the bank to pass on a request for donations in behalf of the starving Armenians.

The chairman of the board outlined the proposition. He began by reading a letter just received from the generous persons who were raising the fund. Then he spoke at some length and with deep feeling of the sufferings of the natives of far-off Armenia.

"I realize, gentlemen," he continued, "that of late years there have been many drives in behalf of many charitable causes both at home and abroad. We have all done what we could; we are tired of being called upon for contributions. But here is a thing which should appeal to our best instincts. We must do something to show where our sentiments and our sympathies lie in this matter. So now then, gentlemen, the question is what should we give for the starving Armenians?"

He paused, awaiting a response. It was an elderly gentleman of large means but with a reputation for conservatism in money matters who broke the little silence. He cleared his throat.

"I move," he said, "that we give three cheers for 'em."

CHILDREN WILL CONTRIBUTE TO WARM SPRINGS CENTER

GONZALES, Dec. 8.—With construction now under way on the first unit of a Texas warm springs center for crippled children, school children the state over are being asked to contribute ten cents each toward the construction of other units on the 40-acre location, ten miles north of Gonzales.

State Superintendent L. A. Woods in a letter to all city and county superintendents urged that school children be given opportunity to have a part in building the center, which is sponsored by the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, chartered under state laws as a non-profit, charity organization.

"The Warm Springs located near Gonzales are a God-given instrumentality for the treatment of crippled children," Supt. Woods said. "It is fitting that we as citizens use the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation as a facility for the treatment of crippled children. The need is evident when it is considered there are between fifteen and twenty thousand crippled children in Texas."

"I can conceive of no greater service that could be rendered to the children now attending our public schools than to teach them of their obligations under a representative democratic government, nor can I think of any more tangible manner in which this lesson could be taught than by requesting of them contributions

PRESIDENT ENDORSES TUBERCULOSIS SEAL SALE CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—The campaign against tuberculosis, made possible by Christmas Seals, merits the support of all people, President Roosevelt said today in praising the activities of the National Tuberculosis Association.

The 33rd annual Christmas Seal Campaign of the National Association and its nearly two thousand affiliated groups throughout the country starts on December 1.

"As the Christmas Season approaches, my mind is drawn to the fact that it is again time for all of us to give our support to the sale of Christmas Seals," President Roosevelt said.

"This is such a well established custom in the United States that it seems hardly necessary again to call the attention of the people to its importance.

"Tuberculosis still menaces the lives of all our citizens and it leads in the cause of death of those between the ages of fifteen and forty-five. The fine work that has been done by the National Tuberculosis Association in the prevention of this dreaded disease merits the continued support of all the people of our country."

ROACHES HAVE OKLAHOMA GUEST

Mr. and Mrs. John McChesney of Paul's Valley, Oklahoma and Mr. and Mrs. Harvy Henson of Wichita Falls are visiting in the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Roach. The men went hunting the first of the week to Edwards county. Mrs. McChesney is an aunt and Mrs. Henson a sister of Mrs. Roach.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Menges and daughter, Peggy, spent last week end in Ozona.

Second Guessing

believe the defense will be strong enough to keep them from running wild and with the last three games the Eagles have played, they have shown the spirit that it takes to be a winner. The Eagles are the better conditioned ball club and if the Braves from the oil field can be held in check for the first part of the game, this column is going to stick its neck out and predict the Eagles to bring in the bacon after a very hard struggle.

Watching the boys in practice this week, makes the bystanders feel very good. They have been going through their assignments with plenty of pepper and have been doing some real blocking and tackling. They appear to be ready and if we are any judge of a team that is rearing to go, the Eagles are just that team.

All the cripples seem to be coming around well enough and once again the coaches will be able to start a line up that is not hampered with injuries. Halbert, who has been nursing an injured rib is at the old job again and has been doing some real scampering in practice. McCormick is back after a few days lay off from an injured knee and has been cutting up like a young colt. The only ones seeming to be worried is the coaches. The boys are not over confident but they have the confidence that it takes to win and with this and their co-operation we are going to see some real football Saturday afternoon.

Brady got a real break when the District dads eliminated Wink from the top slot and gave the district title to Pecos. We have not seen Pecos play but have seen Wink and know that it would have been rough on the Brady boys had they met Wink in the Bi-District affair. This will be a real battle down Brady way today and might be well worth a trip down to witness this battle. We cannot predict the inner of this game on any reasonable grounds, but are going to throw up a toss and take Brady.

Everything turned out well last week in the Southwest Conference. All the teams came through that were supposed to and most of them completed their regular schedules. Only one game is left for this week and that is between Rice and S.M.U at Dallas. Rice gave Baylor a real battle before going down 10-7, while S. M. U. was having some trouble with their old rivals the TCU honored frogs. Rice has not won a conference game this year and from here we can not see them breaking their losing record. S.M.U. by at least two touchdowns.

Miss Oleta Casbeer of Ozona visited here Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Spurgers.

RETURNED FROM HUNT

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Page, Dutch Ohlenburg and Claude Meador returned home Tuesday from a hunting trip to Madena Lake. Their prize was a flag tail buck. Mrs. Page visited a brother in San Antonio.
