Sniffing out a good time — Goats of all shapes and sizes, along with loads of other fun stuff will be on hand this weekend for the 2nd Annual Elgoatarod Festival.

Elgoatarod '04 promises to be bigger and better

Area residents will be able to forego a trip to the State Fair in Dallas this year and save gas money, by attending the Eldorado Elgoatarod. Festivities will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, March 6, 2004, with a parade around the courthouse square. Activities will continue throughout the day, and the following day, beginning at noon on Sunday, March 7.

On the midway will be a mechanical bull, a giant inflatable slide, an inflatable obstacle course, pony rides, a trackless train, carnival games, a duck pond game and a mixmaster. A mixmaster is a giant cage that participants get into and twist themselves around. On the food side will be funnel cakes, soft serve ice cream, nachos, curly fries, steak sandwiches, Philly cheese steak, BBQ, sausage on a stick, chili dogs, frito pie, stuffed potatoes, smoothies, chocolate dipped cheesecake, hand dipped corn dogs, Texas tators, caramel apple dippers, fresh lemonade, cherry limeade and, of course, a wide array of the normal sodas, tea, coffee, etc.

For the side shows, there will be Sam, the cigarette-eating goat, who will appear both days to do his part to rid the world of cigarettes; the ugliest goat contest and the stinkiest goat contest. There will be best dressed goat contests and contests for other animals to dress like goats. Then there are the goat races, the goat busting rides, goat kissing contest, goat pill flipping contest and the like. A face painter will also be available.

Then there will be the Eldorado version of the craft building including Texas barbed wire art, iron craft, wood carvings, yarn puppets, purses, nightlights, handmade dreamcatchers, sterling silver jewelry, koozies, desert sea salt, sun-catchers, decorated kids t-shirts, sport plaques, novelty toys, handbags, hats, caps, fashion jewelry, watches, sunglasses, wallets, knives, Texas novelties, etc.

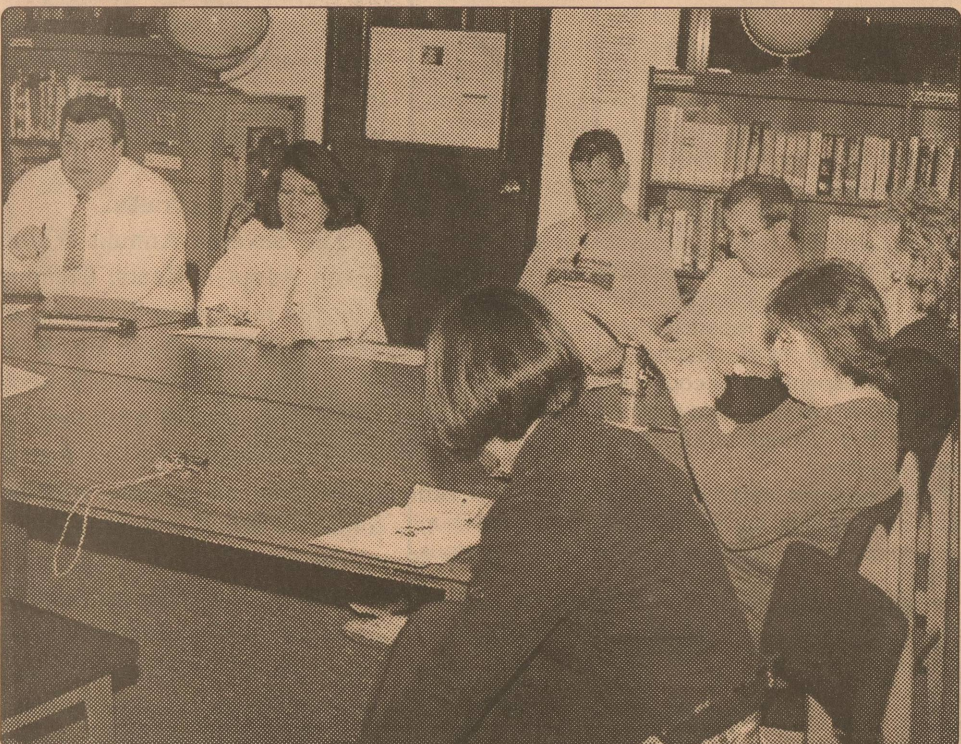

As with the state fair, the Elgoatarod will have its own car show. Cars from San Antonio and San Angelo, as well as area cars will be on display both Saturday and Sunday. Visitors will be able to vote on their favorites. Trophies will be awarded to the favored vehicles.

Vendors and/or show cars will be coming from Abilene, Big Spring, Boerne, Center Point, Christoval, Cleburne, Colorado City, Crane, Dallas, Del Rio, Eldorado, Fort McKavett, Fort Stockton, Houston, LLano, Miles, Midland, Monahans, Lakeview, Rocksprings, San Angelo, San Antonio, Seminole, Stephenville, Tioga and Weatherford.

The music building of this fair will be the old 1907 bank Saturday night for a jam session in case of inclement weather. Otherwise, the jam session will be held on the courthouse grounds. Any musicians reading this article are invited to attend an join in.

Criminal cases determined in District Court

Schooley murder trial slated to begin April 19 in San Angelo

A number of criminal cases were presented Monday, March 1, 2004, before 51st District Judge Barbara Walther, including that of James Michael Lowe, 19, of Eldorado. Lowe pled guilty to three counts of burglary of a habitation and was sentenced to six years in state prison on each count, with the three terms to run concurrently. Lowe was also ordered to pay $7,370.50 in restitution.

Lowe was arrested Dec. 16, 2003, and charged in connection with a series of building and vehicle burglaries. At that time he faced charges on 3 counts of burglary of a habitation and 13 counts of burglary of a vehicle.

According to District Attorney Stephen Lupton, Lowe was brought to trial on an "information" and waived his right to a jury trial.

In other cases, Gabriel Alvarado, 50, of Sonora, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance. He received 4 years in Texas Department of Criminal Justice and ordered to pay $140.00 in restitution.

Ivan Iglesias, 18, a citizen of Mexico, pled guilty to a charge of organized crime that had been reduced to a Class A misdemeanor. Iglesias received a 10 month sentence in county jail, suspended with 2 years probation and a $500 fine with $633.45 in restitution.

Otis Layne Babb, 20, of Eldorado, pled guilty to 3rd degree felony charge for theft of livestock. Judge Walther sentenced him to 4 years in state prison and ordered him to pay $12,114.49 in restitution. Additionally, Babb pled guilty to a theft charge and was sentenced to 450 days in prison. He also pled guilty to a 3rd degree felony charge of participating in organized crime and was sentenced to 4 years in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Babb's sentences will reportedly run concurrently.

Among other business before the court, Judge Walther granted a delay in the murder trial of Cliff Schooley, Jr. The case was previously scheduled to go to trial on March 22, 2004. The judge pushed that date back to April 19, 2004 when it will be heard in her courtroom in San Angelo.

District Attorney Stephen Lupton told the Success that the delay came at the request of the defense.

In another case, David E. Hill, 42, of Eldorado appeared before Judge Walther for a pre-trial hearing in his felony theft case. After a couple of conferences between attorneys and with the judge, Hill's case was postponed for another six months.

District Attorney Stephen Lupton told the Success that due to an uncertainty in the law regarding Hill's status as a federal prisoner following a conviction on unrelated charges, and how that status might effect any sentence he might receive in state court, it is likely that Hill's case will not be heard until he completes his current 14-month prison sentence.

Lupton also told the Success that a jury trial has been set for April 12, 2004, in Schleicher County for Malachi David Wren, who stands accused of felony possession/transport of a chemical with intent to manufacture a controlled substance.

Charges were also brought against Timothy Shea Reed, 32, of Coleman for livestock theft, theft of a trailer and engaging in organized crime. Reed had been indicted on those charges by Schleicher County grand jurors on Nov. 7, 2003, but the indictments were not released to the public until Reed could be served with papers. His trial is pending.

Early voting in party primaries ends tomorrow

Schleicher County Clerk Peggy Williams wants voters to know that they have until 5:00 p.m. on Friday, March 5, 2004 to cast an early ballot in either the Democratic or Republican primary elections. She notes that there has been a good deal of confusion about primary voting and explains that persons voting in either of the two primaries may vote however they want in the November general election. She explains, however, that persons voting in one or the other of the primaries will be prohibited from voting in the other party primary or primary runoff election.

Persons wishing to vote early may do so by appearing in the County Clerk's office on the first floor of the Schleicher County Courthouse. At that time, voters will be asked to pick which primary they wish to vote in.

Voters are encouraged to bring their voter's registration certificate, but they are not required to do so.

Extension Service invites public to attend forum on community issues

by Scott Edmonson
County Agent - Ag

What does our community need? What could be improved? What would make life better for everyone who lives here?

All local residents who are interested in a better future for themselves, their families and our community are invited to participate in the Texas Community Futures Forum at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 9th in the Memorial Building here in Eldorado, said Scott Edmonson, county Extension agent.

The Forum is being conducted in every county as a statewide effort of Texas Cooperative Extension, an agency of The Texas A&M University System, to bring together a diverse group of individuals, groups and organizations to identify issues and concerns.

"We want to get broad-based input into this process so that a plan can be developed for the future of each county and for Texas as a whole," said Dr. Chester Fehlis of College Station, Extension director. "We also want other local, state and federal agencies and organizations to participate. Many of the needs and concerns of people can best be addressed through cooperation and partnerships among the agencies and organizations that serve them."

The Futures Forum process will help

Extension develop its long-range plan for the next four years, 2005 through 2008, Fehlis said. However, he emphasized that the true goal is to facilitate the identification of common needs and define a process for addressing these needs to create a better economic, environmental and social situation in communities across the state.

"We view this as a partnership effort, all of us working together for the future of Texas," Fehlis said.

"We encourage everyone to let their voices be heard in the Schleicher County Forum on March 9th," said Edmonson. "This is your opportunity to speak to the future!"

A weekend of kids, out of staters, a cab & a barge

I knew Friday the 13th would be interesting. I just didn't know how interesting. The Monday before the 13th I learned for the first time that I was expected to speak at the junior high school assembly in Brenham at 9 AM on the 13th. I was also expected to be in Corpus to board a river barge departing that evening and to perform on the 14th (Valentine's Day) during the cruise.

We use our own sound equipment when we do speeches or performances, and because it takes up lots of room, we travel by motor vehicle.

The barge was to leave Corpus Friday evening, cruise the Texas coast and arrive in Galveston Sunday afternoon at 2. We would then drive home 10 hours away so I could teach an 8 o'clock class Monday morning. That was the plan. But when you're dealing with Texas weather, you have to follow one rigid rule: stay flexible.

The Brenham appearance was fun. The auditorium was packed with 800 screaming kids (I asked them to see how much noise they could make) from three different schools. I had half a dozen kids come up on stage with me and tell silly jokes (they had been told to get some jokes ready). Then we all did a nose flute medley. The kids in the audience were attentive and well-behaved. I told them they were in the cradle of Texas liberty but we weren't going to do any Texas history during the show. They loved that.

After the appearance at Brenham, we drove to Galveston, left our vehicle in a parking garage and called the Busy Bee Cab Company. We took a cab to Corpus, 219 miles away. Lloyd, the driver, had never been to Corpus and was used to traveling only on major highways. So my wife Susan, the best navigator in the world, helped him along the route of small roads.

The 5 hour cab ride sounds bizarre, but it was the only way we could get to the barge on time. We got there at 7 PM, just before scheduled departure.

The cruise director told us there had been a change of plans. Because of a storm, the barge would not leave until Saturday night and would not dock until Monday. He said I could perform that night at 8 or not perform at all and still get paid. I said let's do the show. We got everything ready in less than an hour and did our show in the barge auditorium for people from all over the US. They enjoyed our Texas humor.

The next morning (Saturday, Valentine's Day) we took a cab from the barge to the Corpus airport, rented a car and drove to Galveston (219 miles away) to pick up our vehicle. Susan drove it and I followed her to Hobby airport in Houston to turn in our rent car.

By now it was about 5 PM on Valentine's Day. Susan had been such a good sport I wanted to do something special. I told her we would drive to Round Top, get a good meal at Royer's Round Top Cafe and spend the night there in one of the B & B's. I prayed we could do it.

I was afraid the Cafe would be crowded. It was. A dozen people were waiting outside. I asked Bud Royer if he could work us in and he said sure. We then called our favorite B & B in Round Top which had a cozy cottage with a bedroom upstairs. We had a perfect ending to an interesting weekend.

Committee hears pros, cons of workers' compensation program

AUSTIN — The next regular session of the Legislature is still 10 months off, but the law-making process already is well under way with consideration of various issues in interim and standing committees.

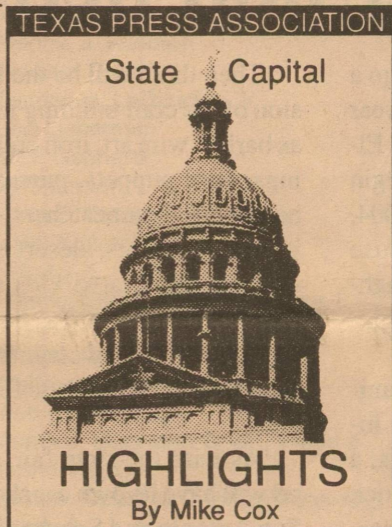

An interim Senate committee charged with taking a look at the worker's compensation system in Texas heard its first witnesses last Thursday.

The committee, chaired by Sen. Todd Staples (R-Palestine), will be making recommendations on the quality of worker's comp, how much it costs, the ease of getting care and other issues.

An attorney who specializes in worker's comp issues told the committee that in the private sector, workers have grown leery of health coverage provided by an employer. The attorney's view was that the worker's comp system has deteriorated with those who have suffered an on-the-job injury having trouble getting care.

From the employer standpoint, other witnesses said coverage costs have skyrocketed.

Sen. Robert Duncan (R-Lubbock) said many employers not required to have worker's comp coverage are dropping out of the system due to high costs.

Staples pointed to the health care plan the Legislature set up for public school teachers and suggested that might be the solution for the worker's comp problem.

Budget cuts cost federal dollars...

Legislative budget cuts in Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program will cost Texas about $1.6 billion in federal funding, Comptroller Carole Keeton Strayhorn said last week.

Environmental Commission sets hearings...

The Texas Commission on Environmental Quality began a series of hearings across the state to get the public's view on how the agency is doing in its enforcement of environmental laws.

"We are performing an in-depth review of the enforcement process at the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality," TCEQ Chair Kathleen Hartnett White said.

The hearings began Monday night in Arlington, with others scheduled in Midland, Harlingen and Houston. For details, check the agency's Web site at www.tceq.state.tx.us.

Talking trash...

The Seventh Annual Winter Texan Adopt-A-Beach Cleanup removed more than three tons of trash from South Padre Island.

Eighty-plus volunteers collected 6,825 pounds of trash ranging from a crematory tag to a feather pillow. On the up side, someone found a $10 bill, a little salty but still negotiable.

The annual clean up is sponsored by the Texas General Land Office and the South Padre Island Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Since the state agency began the program in 1986, 5,800 tons of debris has been hauled off from Texas beaches.

For information on the spring cleanup, call 1-877-TXCOAST.

Beta Sigma Phi Report

by Barbara Jackson

Several warm days were followed by a cold front and low that produced two inches of rain in Eldorado on Monday and Tuesday as Preceptor Kappa Delta chapter of BSP met on Tuesday, February 24, 2004. Our hostess was Dorothy Dacy as members, Geneva Wade, Flora Hubble, Kim'et Nelson, Mary Nolen, and Barbara Jackson were present for a short business meeting and program.

Geneva Wade gave a very interesting program on her travel adventures and how to pack for travel. Once she went to Amarillo and was advised to pack warm winter clothes. When she got there the weather turned warm and she had to shop for cooler things to wear. On another trip to Galveston she was caught in a hurricane. The farthest trip she has made was to Hawaii.

The hostess served hot wings, chips, vegetables, tuna salad and cookies. Flora Hubble won the Sunshine gift and will bring a gift as we next meet in the home of Kim'et Nelson on March 9th. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. instead of 7:00 p.m. since two of our members are working in the Texas primary elections that day.

Eagles baseball squad at 3-1 early in season

Eagles 9 - Yellowjackets 1
 A wet field turned what was supposed to be the Eagles home opener into a road trip to Menard on Monday, Feb. 23, 2004. Once there, however, the Eagles took advantage of a nice sunny day to pound out 9 hits, behind the strong pitching performance of Frankie Arispe and handed the Yellowjackets a 9-1 defeat.

The Warbirds drew first blood in the top of the 1st when a RBI single by 3rd baseman Alan Dykstra drove in Trey Chavez. The Eagles scored again in the 3rd when Arispe reached 1st on a pitching error and was brought home when center fielder Trey Chavez doubled to right center. Chavez then scored on 1st baseman Joey Hernandez's single up the middle to make the score 3-1 after the 3rd inning.

The Eagles struck again in the 4th scoring three runs. Second baseman Jared Grubbs was hit by a pitch and Chavez followed with a walk. Both scored on a Joey Hernandez double to left center. The other run came when Dykstra scored on passed ball later in the inning making the score 6-1.

Another run was scored in the 6th with Arispe doubling to right center and scoring on a Chavez sacrifice fly to center to make the score 7-1. In the top of the 7th the Eagles scored their final two runs on a single by Homer Hernandez and a Frank Edmiston double off the left field fence. Edmiston then scored on a ground out to third by Grubbs.

Nine runs was more than enough for pitcher Frankie Arispe who threw six strong innings and dominated the Yellowjackets. Arispe struck out seven on the way to his 1st win of the season.

Ryan Cathey came on in relief in the 7th and baffled the Yellow Jackets with his curve ball, striking out the side.

Junction 13 - Eagles 5
 Eldorado fell to the Junction Eagles who combined some timely hitting with a poor defensive effort on behalf of the Warbirds to post a 13-5 win last Thursday in the opening round of the Sonora Baseball Tourney. Junction notched up eight hits while Eldorado tallied 10 errors in the game.

Eldorado's Eagles did show some life in the bottom of the 1st as Frankie Arispe lead off with a single followed by a Jared Grubbs walk. They were both plated by a Trey Chavez double and Chavez would later score on passed ball to give the Warbirds their only lead of the game 3-2. The other two Eldorado runs came in the 7th when Jared Grubbs lead off with a sharp single to left and Chavez followed with a hard hit ground ball to the 3rd baseman for an error to advance Grubbs to 3rd. Alan Dykstra drove in both players with a double to account for the Eagles 5 runs.

Senior Homer Hernandez took the loss on the mound for the Eagles. Hernandez had a strong pitching performance striking out 5 and walking only one in going the distance for the Eagles. Of the 13 runs given up only 3 were earned.

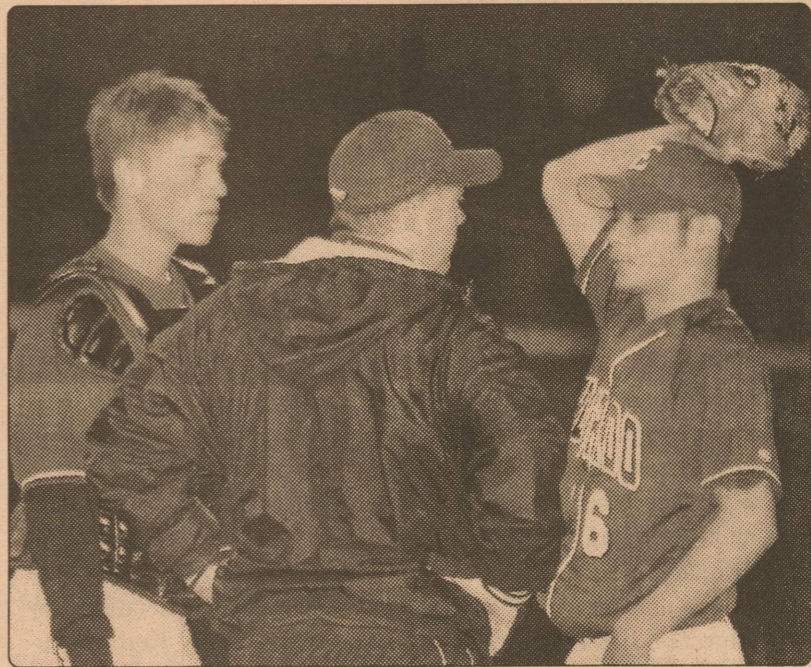

Eagles Down Crane 6-3
 The Eagles bounced back quickly the following night to defeat Crane 6-3 on a very chilly evening in the second round of the Sonora Tourney. The win gave the Warbirds the opportunity to play in the consolation championship game.

A loud group of Eagles fans were on hand to see the victory and they didn't have to wait long for the action to heat up. With two outs in the 1st inning, catcher Caleb Nixon singled to right before pitcher Frankie Arispe crushed a two run homer to left field to stake the Eagles to a 2-1 lead.

In the 3rd the Eagles struck for 3 more runs. A single by Alan Dykstra and walk to Homer Hernandez put runners in scoring position as Andy Mejia singled to right field to score both players. Later in the inning Arispe singled home Mejia to make the score 5-1.

The Eagles final run came in the 4th when Alan Dykstra and Joey Hernandez had back to back singles and Dykstra scored on a Homer Hernandez RBI single up the middle.

The Warbirds tallied 14 hits in the game and could have easily had several more if it weren't for some outstanding defensive plays by the boys from Crane. Frankie Arispe got the win on the mound for the Eagles improving his record to 2-0 with a dominating performance. Arispe kept Crane's batters off balance all night, striking out 13 with a blazing fast ball and a great curve, in only 6 innings of work. Arispe only walked two batters the whole night.

Eagles Pounce Owls 17-7
 Saturday the Eagles beat the Reagan County Owls 17-7 to win the consolation bracket at the Sonora Tournament. The Warbirds were led by the great pitching efforts of Alan Dykstra and Ryan Cathey.

The Eagles first run came in the bottom of the 1st after Frankie Arispe singled to left and stole second. He was plated by a Jared Grubbs single to left to tie the score at 1-1. Eldorado fell behind 7-1 because of some sloppy defense but would fight back in the 4th to take the lead.

The 4th began with a Vic Escobar walk and an Arispe double over the center fielder's head. A single by Trey Chavez, a double by Alan Dykstra and a monstrous home shot over the left field fence by Joey Hernandez sent the Eagles on to a 10-7. It was a lead they would not relinquish.

The Warbirds scored seven more runs in the bottom of the 5th to put the game out of reach. The inning began with Luis Hernandez walking and Arispe singling to left. Jared Grubbs drove in Hernandez with a single to left and two batters later after a Chavez single Dykstra doubled in two more runs. Joey Hernandez singled in another run on his way to a four RBI day and the rout was on. Andy Mejia ended the game on a hit to left which plated Hernandez and Seth Taylor to give the Eagles a ten-run rule victory at 17-7.

Alan Dykstra got the victory pitching four strong innings striking out five and walking only one. Ryan Cathey relieved him and pitched a strong 5th striking out two batters gaining the save.

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the Editor express the opinions of their author. They do not necessarily reflect the views or opinions of the staff, management or ownership of the Eldorado Success.

Dear Editor:

When our country was established as a democracy, Thomas Jefferson worried that the judicial arm would overstep their authority and instead of interpreting the law would begin making law...an oligarchy...the rule of few over many. The very first Supreme Court Justice, John Jay, said, "Americans should select and prefer Christians as their rulers. How, then have we gotten to the point that everything we have done for 220 years in this country is now suddenly wrong and unconstitutional?"

I am writing to inform you that Supreme Court arguments will probably begin soon after mid-March to decide whether or not "under God" in the Pledge of Allegiance is constitutional.

The case began when Michael Newdow sued an Elk Grove, California public school saying his daughter should not be led by a public school teacher in saying such words. The 9th U.S. Circuit court of Appeals agreed with him in a June 2003 ruling that has sparked much controversy. Mr. Newdow is separated from his wife and his daughter spends most of her time with her mother, who does not object to her daughter reciting the pledge in its present form.

If the Supreme Court decides in favor of Michael Newdow, what would be next - our national anthem, our national motto?

I would urge you to begin praying for the Supreme Court Judges - Clarence Thomas, Sandra Day O'Connor, David Souter, John Paul Stevens, William Rehnquist, Antonin Scalia, Anthony Kennedy, Stephen Breyer, and Ruth Bader Ginsburg.

Jo Callison

A&M lists fall Honor Roll

Texas A&M University has named its honor students for the 2003 fall semester, recognizing students for outstanding academic performance.

The Dean's Honor Roll recognizes students taking at least 15 semester hours or first semester students taking least 12 semester hours who have maintained at least a 3.75 grade point ratio (GPR) out of a possible 4.0 during the most recent grading period.

Among those recognized for the Dean's Honor Roll list were:

Ben Russell Edmiston, a 2001 Eldorado graduate, major Business Administration. Ben is the son of William and Darlene Edmiston.

Mayci Nicole Schwiening, a 2003 graduate, major Nutritional Sciences. Mayci is the daughter of Susan Lively and Bryan Schwiening.

Shannon Lance Mitchel, 2000 Eldorado graduate, major Bachelor Of Science Animal Science. Lance is the son of Larry and Randy Mitchel.

A second designation, "Distinguished Student," recognizes students who earned a 3.25 to 3.75 GPR while taking at least 15 hours or 12 hours for first semester students.

Among those recognized for the Distinguished Student list were:

Courtney Rene Sauer, a 2003 Eldorado graduate, major Nutritional Sciences. Courtney is the daughter of Hyman and Gina Sauer.

Georgina M Maritz, a 2003 Eldorado graduate, major, Biochemistry. Georgina is the daughter of Samuel and Cynthia Caldwell.

Please let me take this opportunity to encourage all registered voters to participate in the primary election process on Tuesday, March 9. The right to vote is one of the greatest privileges of living in a democratic society. Most of us never stop to think about why we elect rather than appoint officials. A major reason is that those who are elected serve at the will of the voter. A person who does a good job can be re-elected. A person who does a poor job can be voted out of office.

I believe in this system of representation and service. I want to be the elected official fulfilling all the duties of Tax Assessor/Collector. It would be an honor and privilege to be responsible to you, the citizens of Schleicher County. I will appreciate your vote in the Democratic primary on Tuesday, March 9.

Thank you, Jeanne Snelson

HARVEY HILDERBRAN

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

HARVEY HILDERBRAN IS THE CONSERVATIVE LEADER WE NEED TO KEEP

For over 10 years, Representative Harvey R. Hilderbran has led the fight for West Central and West Texas in the Texas

House of Representatives. Honoring veterans, protecting seniors and education, and looking after the future water needs for our region have been his priorities.

Texas House District 53 was changed during the 2001 redistricting and now has 15 counties and extends more than two hundred miles east-to-west and over three hundred miles north-to-south. It's a big district—Harvey's driven over 60,000 miles traveling the district and learning your viewpoints on local issues.

As the vice chair of the House Republican Caucus, Harvey helped lead our statewide effort in 2002 to elect a republican majority in the Texas Legislature. In 2003, he was appointed Chairman of the Cultural & Recreational Resources Committee which has oversight responsibility for Texas Parks & Wildlife, the Arts Commission, the State Archives & Libraries, the Historical Commission (courthouse restoration & main street program) and Texas tourism industry.

Texas faces some very important issues. We have an upcoming session on school finance. Harvey is working on a plan to lower property taxes, abolish Robin Hood, and improve our education system.

Harvey is a family man, an outdoorsman, rancher, and businessman. His love of Texas and Texans is obvious in every legislative endeavor.

Most important at this time in our region's history, we need Harvey's leadership in the Texas House. And Harvey wants your vote.

Planting the right tree in the right place.

The right landscaping requires careful planning. Trees and shrubs planted in the wrong place can cause power outages or other hazards. Make sure you plant trees that won't grow into overhead power lines. Keep shrubs at least 10 feet away from electrical equipment and call the local underground line locating service before you dig. Planning ahead helps keep your power flowing safely. AEP is there, always working for you.

For more information about electrical safety, visit aep.com. To locate an underground line call 1-800-245-4545.

Annual Ram Performance Field day and Sale set for March 19

by Steve Byrns

SONORA—The Annual Ram Performance Test Field Day and Sale conducted by the Texas A&M Agricultural Research Station here is set for March 19. The station is 28 miles south of Sonora on Highway 55.

"When I look at this year's test animals, I think of peas in a pod," said Dr. Dan Waldron, San Angelo-based Texas Agricultural Experiment Station geneticist and the test's coordinator. "This set of Rambouillet rams is more uniform for final weight and staple length than any we've had in recent times. Breeders have been selecting sires to improve certain traits in their flocks and the uniform quality of the rams on this year's test is evidence of their success."

A brief educational program will precede the 2 p.m. sale. The top 30 percent of the animals completing the test will be eligible for the sale. Waldron said all the eligible sale animals should make excellent stud ram prospects for the registered or commercial operator.

"The recently released USDA statistics show that Texas sheep numbers increased by 6 percent over 2003," he said. "This increase in numbers backed by a continued strong lamb market, suggests that now is a good time for producers to invest in genetic improvement for the future."

Participants are invited to inspect the rams and their performance data during the morning of the field day. Lunch will be served from 11:45 a.m. After lunch, the afternoon's formal program will be directed by Pascual Hernandez, Texas Cooperative Extension agent in Sutton County.

Dr. Gary Svetlik, of Georgetown, USDA/APHIS, will open the program with an update on the results and plans of USDA's Scrapie Surveillance Program. Ronald Pope, with Producers Marketing Cooperative Inc at Mertzon will follow with a talk on the technology available for adding value to a wool clip.

Waldron is scheduled to discuss "The National Sheep Improvement Program-A Genetic Improvement Program To Complete Ram Test Data". He will then be joined by Dr. Chris Lupton, San Angelo-based wool researcher to comment on the 2003/2004 Ram Test.

Burk Lattimore of Levelland, secretary of the Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association, will conclude the program by awarding the certified ram certificates to the owners of the qualifying rams.

The day concludes with the sale of the performance tested animals under the direction of Dr. Frank Craddock, Extension sheep and goat specialist at San Angelo.

For further information contact: Waldron or Craddock at (325) 653-4576 or call the Sonora Station at (325) 387-3168, or visit the test's website at: <http://sanangelo.tamu.edu/genetics/ramtest.htm>.

Senator Duncan announces launch of virtual district office

AUSTIN - Senator Robert Duncan, R-Lubbock, announced today the launch of his new website, www.senatorduncan.com, which will serve as a virtual district office for his constituents in the 46 counties of Senate District 28.

"My hope is that www.senatorduncan.com will give quick access to information and news that will empower West Texans and enable them to stay ahead of the legislation and issues that affect them," Duncan said.

The website features sections on Duncan's latest news, the many communities of Senate District 28, an option to view and download photos, plus information on contacting the senator and his staff.

Visitors to www.senatorduncan.com are encouraged to register for the senator's newsletter and periodic news updates.

"This is an important step toward ensuring the people of this district understand how government affects them, and I hope it becomes a valuable resource for my constituents," Duncan said.

The website will be updated regularly with both news from the Capitol and throughout the regions that compose Senate District 28. Duncan's newsletter will be posted and emailed to registrants this month, and will be followed with a new issue each quarter.
