Senator Sheppard Defends Prohibition

Senator Sheppard, considered Father of the 18th Amendment, delivers address in U. S. Senate, in its behalf and its achievements in 13 years.

"I am a believer in the people's rule and in the right of petition," said Senator Sheppard to the Senate. "Ordinarily, I would favor the submission of any question to the people when ever there is a genuine desire on the part of any substantial number for submission. Indeed I said as much in this Senate when speaking in behalf of the submission of the Eighteenth Amendment, adding that I would vote for submission even if I were an anti-prohibitionist in order that the matter might be decided by the proper tribunal. That situation, however, is no precedent for this. The present condition is the result of paid propaganda and not of any spontaneous movement among the people. I am opposed, therefore to submission under the present circumstances and at the present time. The country has been saturated with such subtle and such vicious misrepresentations regarding prohibition that it would be impossible to secure a fair hearing on the facts at this juncture. A feeling amounting almost to an obsession has been widely established to the effect that the return of liquor will solve the farm problem, conquer the depression, supply the needed revenue, balance the budget and restore prosperity. The treatment of dry speakers by the screaming mobs in the galleries of both the great party conventions at Chicago is a sample of the difficulty at this time of securing a fair and decent hearing for prohibition.

Referendum Ignored

"The so-called referendum submission was held in connection with the State-wide Democratic primary for the nomination of State officials in my home State of Texas last year. The dries ignored the referendum almost solidly. They voted for State officers, but refrained almost entirely from voting on submission. A State-wide meeting of Texas dry leaders advised the dries to take no part in the referendum on the very just ground that the sudden order for the referendum without prior notice and within less than six weeks from the primary in which it was to be held did not afford sufficient time for proper presentation and discussion and was resulting in widespread protest and confusion among Democratic voters. Although practically unopposed

Theives Take Chevrolet Car Monday Night

Thieves entered the J. L. Ratliff garage Monday night and stole the 4 door Chevrolet Sedan Car. They pushed it out of the garage by hand and off on a back street before starting the motor. Sheriff Conner was notified early Tuesday of the theft and is seeking to find the intruders.

The car was later found near Boerne with the tires missing.

ed and left to dominate the situation, submission polled less than half the entire primary vote, or 405,309 out of 973,041. The remaining 567,732 either did not vote at all on submission. Of this last number 450,114 did not vote at all on submission and 117,618 voted against submission. In my judgement it cannot be said that a vote of less than half the participants in that primary for submission was such an indorsement as I am required by the Texas election law relating to Senators to observe. In my judgement a majority of all those voting in the primary for all purposes was necessary before the referendum could be said to have been a representative expression of the will of the primary voters."

The portion of the Texas election law to which Senator Sheppard referred appears in Article 3093 of the revised statutes as requisites of application of persons desiring to be a candidate for United States Senator in the primary election of his party. The fourth requisite reads:

"That he will, during his term of office, if elected, endeavor to truly respect the wishes of his constituency to abide by and support such measures as may be indorsed by the primary voters of his party in this State as declared by their vote at a primary election."

Sheppard Asks Question

Senator Sheppard asks: "Shall this Nation retreat from an ideal, an ideal which has demonstrated its necessity and worth?" Adding that a nation "can not trifle with its ideals." Declaring that beverage alcohol is a menace to human rights and causes physical and mental degeneracy and otherwise violates the rights of society, the Texas Senator discussed the benefits of national prohibition at length. A repeal of prohibition, he said, is to put the right of appetite above rights of life, liberty and happiness in their true significance.

"The danger of the United States of a return to the legalized alcohol can not be overstated," Senator Sheppard said. "The scale on which machinery and enterprise must operate to preserve and increase the widest diffusion of the facilities of modern life any nation has ever known, produces an exhaustion and a strain calling for the most serious attention.

"Liquor propagandists, bountifully financed," Senator Sheppard continued, "capitalized the general dissatisfaction and depression to start a movement against prohibition. This movement was artificial in its character, venal in its origin and false in its representation. As a result of that movement declarations appeared in both party platforms for repeal or alteration of the Eighteenth Amendment and resolutions are now pending in Congress to that effect. These declarations have no place in the party platforms because prohibition is not a party question. I stated during my speaking trips in behalf of the Democratic ticket in the last campaign that I have not changed my views on prohibition, that I was opposed to both Democratic and Republican planks on that subject, that I supported the Democracy on economic grounds. The present movement for repeal obtains its principal impetus from the plethora of pocketbooks of a few millionaires, determined to shift the weight

PRARIE DOG NOTICE

All land owners in Schleicher County are hereby notified, they have from now until March 1st, 1933 to kill out all Prairie Dogs on their lands, according to state laws. If it has not been done by that date, the Commissioners Court has instructed me to do the work and that the cost be charged to the land owners. So I will proceed with the instruction of the court after that date if the land owners have not complied with this notice.

of taxation from their own shoulders to the masses even if it doomed the masses to perpetual poverty and woe.

"The controversy over prohibition involves more than the immediate merits of prohibition itself. It involves the ability of this Nation to make the most of the machine age in the interest of the people. If prohibition is repealed and the liquor traffic restored economic and industrial advancement can not be resumed on a scale of its former hope and promise. Repeal will mean the definite arrest of human progress."

The Texas Senator quoted Evangeline Booth, commander in chief of the Salvation Army in the United States, in opposition to return of the liquor traffic and referred to conditions in Great Britain. He quoted Lord Rosebury, "That if Britain did not rule the liquor traffic, the liquor traffic would rule Great Britain."

"Ownership of brewery and distillery stock," Senator Sheppard added, "is too widely distributed among persons of influence and position in Great Britain that no attempt to end the trade in that country has ever made any serious head way."

He added that in the United States the liquor traffic had become the largest political power in America.

"Members of the social set speak of their little coteries as if they constituted the Nation," Senator Sheppard continued. "Because they see drinking in their own circle they think the whole world drinks."

Senator Sheppard quoted statistics to show that drinking in the colleges had not increased since prohibition based upon information from 237 college presidents in 45 States in 1930. Forty-four said there was no drinking among the students, 47 that drinking among students was almost unknown, 146 that there was less drinking than before prohibition, 8 reported drinking was about the same and 7 said that conditions were bad. Only 3 declared that conditions were worse than before passage of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"Let the movement for repeal be resisted," Senator Sheppard concluded, "by every element in America that would preserve the essence of our freedom, the meaning of our history, the basis of our advancement and the character of our most sacred obligations to humanity."

Lions Club Holds Luncheon

The Lions Club held their regular meeting Wednesday at noon at Hotel Eldo with 19 members present. The committees and visitors to the district meeting at Ozona made their report, also the committee that went to Sweetwater Saturday reported they got the $850.00 check for relief work.

A committee consisting of C. E. Knight, R. D. Holt, W. F. Meador and Grady Parker were appointed to draw up rules and plans for the distribution of the money received Saturday and present them to the next regular meeting which is next Wednesday for consideration, as to how and where the money would be spent.

Several projects were offered Wednesday, all worthy and would require a good return for money expended. Something definite will probably be done next week.

Some of the projects discussed Wednesday were the building of the sidewalk to the school house. This would require an additional fund from the home people to buy some of the material, much needed work.

Another was to improve the street to the Depot, another much needed work which would practically all be labor. And others suggested to spend the money on road to Cemetery also a worthy work badly needed. But it will be next week before a definite plan is adopted.

Oglesby Says Better Wool Market In Offing

Stocks in Boston Lower Than In Several Years

(Morning-Times)

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 16.—E. O. Oglesby, San Angelo, Texas, addressing the 47th annual mid-winter convention of the Arizona Wool Growers' Association here today, predicted a stronger wool market.

Oglesby is in charge of South west operations for the National Wool marketing corporation.

"Since Jan. 1, there has been considerable inquiry for wool," he said. "This is indicative of a substantial movement again.

"If this movement develops substantially, as indications promise, prices will improve. "Stocks of wool in Boston are lower than they have been in years at this season. It is very possible that before the bulk of the 1933 crops is ready to market, manufacturers will have used up all available stocks.

"Some dealers also predict it will be necessary to import some wool to tide them over until the new clip is marketed.

"This situation makes it more favorable for an advance in our market because it is estimated any dealer or manufacturer would have to pay at least 60 cents per clean pound to import wool."

SHERIFF OFFICE BUSY

Sheriff O. E. Conner and his deputy, C. A. Graves, arrested six men last week, charged with drunkenness, H. M. Staggs, C. A. McDaniels of Wink, Texas, A. V. Kennedy and Brother Barton of Sonora and Arch Jeffries and Clyde Meador of Eldorado. All of them but Meador pleaded guilty and paid their fines, and were released Monday.

Local Lions Attend District Meet At Ozona

J. C. Carr, E. C. Hill, C. H. Taylor, W. H. Marshall and A. T. Wright attended a District meeting of Lions Clubs at Ozona Monday. Delegates from San Angelo and Sonora were there also, Ballinger and Sterling City not represented.

This District voted to invite Junction and Rocksprings to join as they are in another district.

Those present made some good reports of the good work being done in each town where there is a Lions Club. The clubs being the principal organization that have been sponsoring most of the charity work.

And from many of the reports some noble work has been accomplished.

The Luncheon Monday was held in the Hotel Ozona and about 100 people were served. Harmon Neill, our President of this group, was unable to attend on account of a bad case of the flu.

The Eldorado group all got back home alive, much to their surprise.

PARENT-TEACHERS HAVE MEETING

The Parent Teachers Association met in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. R. D. Holt, President, presided. Twenty-seven persons were present. A short program was given. Grade four sang a song which recalled old school day memories for those present. Miss Willie Allen discussed the subject: How to cultivate Truthfulness. Miss Grace Karr played beautifully two selections of piano music.

It was decided that the Parent Teacher Association would offer a prize to the grade which has the largest percentage of parents present at the regular meetings for the rest of the year. There will be three meetings, and thus there are three prizes to be awarded.

The next meeting will be February 21. Anyone who is interested in the children of the community is invited to attend. You need not be a member of the Association, but your presence means much to the members.

WOMANS CLUB MEETS

A special feature of the last regular meeting of Womens Club of Eldorado January 10 was the election of officers. Mrs. E. C. Hill was elected to the presidency to follow Mrs. John Rae. Mrs. C. M. McWhorter was elected as First Vice-President. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Joe Edeus, second vice-president Mrs. Will Eaton, Secretary; Mrs. C. E. Poer, Treasurer; Mrs. D. C. Hill, Parliamentarian; and Mrs. R. D. Holt as the additional Trustee of Scholarship Fund. These officers will assume duties in September.

Another feature of the days program was a lecture on "Capitals of Texas," given by Mr. R. D. Holt. This was informational and interesting to the club members as the study course for the year is Texas History.

Bible Day was observed in the program, Mrs. D. C. Hill being the leader. Roll call was answered with a Bible quotation and Mrs. Hill read and commented on the 13th chapter of First Corinthians. Mr. E. C. Hill conducted parliamentary drill which closed the program.

Mesdames Holt and Poer were hostesses with 16 members present.

JANUARY 20, 1933

The warm weather the first of this week is bringing up many winter weeds and grass and the stockmen will likely have a light feed bill.

The leaders of our sheep industry are predicting better prices for wool and lambs this spring, in fact we are already receiving a better price than the early days of 1932, excuse us for mentioning 32, but we forgot ourselves.

The war clouds are hanging heavy over China. The Japs are adding new territory to her wanted possessions and even saying ugly things about other nations, who might offer a word of sympathy to the Chinese. Has even made some ugly accusations about our own Uncle Sam.

Now we have two governors instead of one. Ma, she's in and Pa is the acknowledged it.

In another column of the Success you will find a speech made by Senator Morris Shepard in the U. S. Senate on the 18th amendment. It is worth your reading. Will the people of the United States surrender to the liquor traffic, or will they renounce its master. The time is coming soon when you will be called upon to face this question with your own ballot.

We believe it pays to advertise. The Methodist Minister thoroughly advertised his last Sunday's text and had a house full of both morning and evening services. And the Minister made the woods ring with good thoughts from the text. The morning text was especially adapted to our present National life, as we struggle with the liquor traffic.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES

Brady has a newly established creamery that is now in operation.

One month's production of salt from the mines near Grand Saline, Van Zandt County, totaled 420 carloads.

Refinancing of the paper mill at Orange is announced by its owners. It will manufacture different kinds of paper from Southern raw materials.

The Tem-Tex Dairies, Inc., plant at Temple, recently damaged by fire, will be rebuilt as soon as possible, according to announcement from A. E. Clifton manager.

A new paper, with 75 per cent of its content raw lint cotton, has been put on the Texas market. It has good printing qualities, is strong and, while too new definitely to know, looks to be as durable as rag-content paper. Wide use of the paper would measurably increase the consumption of cotton, for every 2,000 pounds of the paper accounts for the use of three standard-sized bales of cotton.

GARDEN OF EXPERIENCE

By F. G. Clark

There are three steps that a conscious human being must take, in order to arrive at his highest destiny in this life, and to fit himself for still higher position in the life to come.

The first step is to become initiative that is to achieve the power to think for oneself. It is the use of this power that has enabled America to lead all other nations in the march of human progress. In the past, Americans have been compelled to think out their own life plans. If these plans were good, they succeeded, if bad, they perished. Sink, swim, live or die, survive or perish, seemed to be the heartless code of the new world.

But by being compelled to use his brain power, in the struggle for existence, his ability to think grew apace. And this enabled him to take the next step, and become an individual. That is he is able to think independent of all previous man conceived ideas, or as Grover Cleveland put it, he is freed from the tyranny of preconceived opinion. All human institutions tend to discourage individuality. Some great mind thinks out a new scheme of action, and it is so good that it appeals to others who join him in attempting to execute it. So far so good, but no sooner has this scheme secured a place for itself in the affairs of men than it insists on tyrannizing over the rest of its members. All thinking is done at headquarters, and handed down to the subordinate members, who are expected to carry out these preconceived plans with out question. Theirs not to reason why, theirs not to do and die, expresses it finely. If the humble member submits to this, he ceases to be an individual and becomes a cog in the institutional machine.

Let this state of affairs continue and individuality gradually fades out and the being becomes a nonentity—a cipher that puts some one else in the tens column.

We are all tempted to conform for it takes much of the friction out of life and makes temporal living much easier. By conforming, we avoid persecution and all of its attendant evils.

But if we wish to walk the path that leads to life eternal, we must, at whatever cost, break the shackles of form and step forth an individual.

Having done this we are ready for personality. This is the third step on the pathway and must be taken, or all else fails. Beyond personality is the infinite.

Into personality is poured all the riches that lifes experiences has yielded us, and we go to lay them at the feet of our only real Master.

"HUMORGRAPHS"

By Thos. E. Pickerill

The History Of Prohibition Chapter One

Seeing work of deil
Many strongly feel,
And concerned of weal
It became zeal;
They wanted to heal.
So always leal,
They kneel,
Make big appeal.
They make deal
And have big seal,
And all seemed real.

Chapter Two

But many kept up reel,
Even some steal,
And would conceal,
And seldom squeal,
Tho had much to reveal.
So they make strong appeal
To repeal.
Will repeal
Heal?
Or run us down worse at the heel?
(End of reel)

Of course, what they meant was "beer by next Christmas."

The bandits, too, are complaining of the small hauls in this depression.

Love is a great word if it doesn't cost you too much.

"I ain't much perticklar bout this here Technocracy an' shorter workin' hours, but I would like t' see somethin' to bring shorter dirty work hours," said Uncle Elmer this morning as he hobbled around the block after a bum check artist.

Too Much Of It
Skirmishes and battles between Chinese and Japanese are so numerous nowadays that they have somewhat ceased to be "news." And when wasn't news it must be either a pretty bad one, or a tiresomely drawn out affair.

Dr. Albert Einstein upon his arrival in the United States the other day, told newspaper men that "if well meaning and influential people would only organize to fight for peace, much would be accomplished."

And there we have a great sermon in a nutshell. As the careless linguists would have it, Einstein "said a mouthful."

Organize for peace! Why not? The American people have already organized to fight for peace in divers ways and manners. They are determined that no unnecessary struggles shall embroil the nation and dissipate its resources and its manhood.

And Einstein is the man who only a few weeks ago was embarrassingly questioned by our immigration authorities as to his political and social views! This is one of Einstein's theories we can understand.

Don't forget your New Year Resolutions, even if you have broken them all before you read this.

WHY SUPPORT YOUR SCHOOLS?

Can We Afford To Educate Our Children?

"Texas considers itself poor, but in reality it is rich. It is rich in its natural resources and in the inherent quality of its population but both sorts of resources are largely latent through lack of development. The state will never become really great until its useful citizens are given a real opportunity to gain intelligence through education, for trained brains are essential to civic progress." —(Editorial in Dallas News.)

We are practicing economy in the schools as much as possible and at the same time not too greatly lessening the efficiency

Got Over Weak, Painful Condition By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Barranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I shrewly am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all." For over 50 years, Cardui has been helping women just as this Texas lady describes above. Cardui is sold at all drug stores.

TRADE AT HOME

AND BUY AMERICAN
By Thos. E. Pickerill

The "Buy American" movement, which has already made great headway, is simply an appeal to loyalty on the part of the American people. It received its greatest impetus, perhaps, after the attitude of some of the European nations concerning war debts was known.

What is this principle and how does it work? It has the same relation as does loyalty to home, to family, to friends. There is just as much, if not more, reason why the people of Eldorado should patronize local institutions as there is reason why we should buy American made goods. Both are correct in principle and wholesome in result.

When the phrase or slogan "Buy American" is broadcast thruout the country, people tend to follow it primarily as a species of patriotism. The idea sweeps the country and, when it gets strong enough in its effect, it involves a question of public or national ethics. Yet people will follow this "buy American" plan with exaggerated allegiance and at the same time jump in their automobiles and buy articles in some town other than their home town.

If we are going to "buy American" why not also "buy Eldoradoan?" For purposes of growth and development, a community is, indeed, a commonwealth, because our "common weal" is always at stake when the matter of trade is in some instances, merchants themselves do not "trade at home" as much as they should; or perhaps it is better put to say that merchants often buy things out of town that could be and should be purchased at the stores of their brother-merchants.

It may be said that this sounds well enough, but it is a question of price. There are two answers to this proposition. The first answer is that it is not always a question of price. The second answer is that it is some times a question of price whether we "buy American" or "buy foreign," yet who, in the light of such patriotic appeal, would quibble over the price of an article when their country's welfare is at stake?

Remember, good people, our community is likewise at stake. Buy American—everything you can, made in America—but also buy in Eldorado—everything that can be sold in Eldorado.

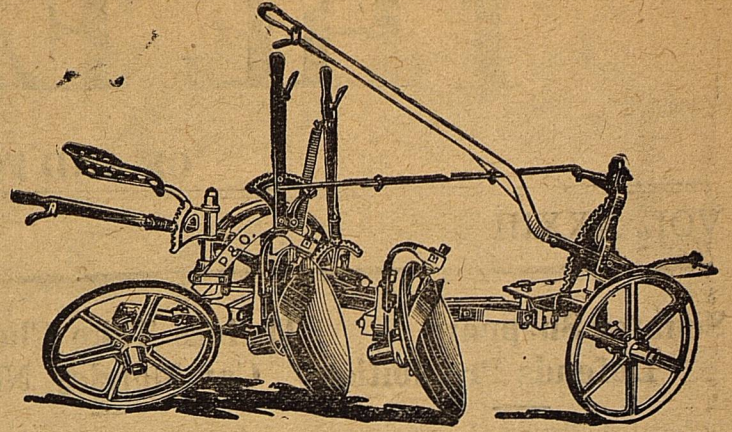

of the school system. In Eldorado this year the cost per student in all grades is $47.02, or 24 cents per day. The annual cost per day over the entire nation is 51 cents per student per day. The average annual per capital costs in 1930-31 for students in state college of West Texas (Texas Tech, Sul Ross, West Texas State Teachers, and the El Paso School of Mines) was $249.22, which is below the average cost per student in colleges over the nation. Can we afford to educate our younger children when we are paying such sums each year for college education?

We are wasting millions on self-indulgent and even harmful practices each year. Expenditures for liquors, tobacco, cosmetics and harmful amusements are staggering far greater than is spent for all education. Ignorance and vice are not the foundations for a democracy. In the words of President Sam Houston, the benefits of an education are essential to the preservation of a free government.

In 1926, in good old pre-depression days, Texas spent $65,128,019 for elementary and high school education in the state and at the same time spent $190,315,730 for certain luxuries. In 1928 Texas spent 40.3 per cent as much for education as was spent for certain luxuries, including tobacco, soft drinks, jewelry, etc. In 1930 the nation spent $2,615,068,177 for all public education and at the same time spent $11,817,700,000 for passenger automobiles alone.

Does this indicate that we are spending too much on education?

Recently a metropolitan news paper, in making an appeal not to cut the school budget, furnished statistical data which divided the dollar as follows:

THE LAMP AND RING OF ALADDIN

Hollys Alexander
 A few nights ago a play Aladdin was given in the High School auditorium. Many of you saw it or have heard the fairy tale of Aladdin

Aladdin came into possession of a wonderful lamp and ring. This lamp and ring would bring treasure to his feet. A little genii would build palaces and everything for Aladdin.

Our school offers each of us a lamp and ring in the form of education and training that will place at your command more powerful geni than those of Aladdin. Our nation's wonderful resources make it possible to carry on almost every form of human activity in its more than three million square miles of territory. No other country can produce so many things and do it so easily.

America offers one not only opportunity unequalled elsewhere, but choice of opportunity previously not thought of even in this country.

In order for your lamp and ring to be useful it is necessary to take interest in your school life. Your success depends largely upon your government and school. In America nature provides the opportunity, and the government and the schools encourage seizing it. There has been no despotic law to prevent men from rising from poverty or obscurity to a position of great wealth and leadership. In seizing opportunity, the boy or girl with superior training and education has the advantage over those who lack such training. The present and future offers even greater opportunity than the wonderful past has afforded, but likewise the competition for a place in the sun will be keener. To succeed to your fullest capacity you need Aladdin's lamp at a ring in the form of proper education and training.

EAGLES GO INTO FINALS AT OZONA

The Eldorado basketball team of five players and Coach Williamson journeyed to Ozona Friday, January 13. The first game was with Ozona in which the Eagles were defeated 34-18. The boys couldn't get used to the indoor court until the last half, when it was too late.

They had a chance for the consolation cup, and played Barnhart Saturday afternoon in which we won 36-22. McCamey drew out so we went into the finals with Sherwood. We were defeated 21-18 after having to play with only 4 men the last three minutes after Jack Kerr had gone out on personal fouls. The Ozona people were very nice to our team, keeping them in their homes during their stay.

RECEIPTS FROM ALADDIN

Elnora Andrews
 The play "Aladdin" was a success, especially from the standpoint of the cast, as their performance was a good one. The crowd, though small, seemed to appreciate the play very much. The play was very humorous, mingling the mode of speech in Aladdin's time with our modern slang and humor. This mixture resulted in humor that was very good—very similar to the type of humor found in the picture "The Connecticut Yankee" as played by Will Rogers.

The total receipts from the play amounted to $16.00. The athletic fund received seventy-five per cent of this amount, or $11.50 which will be applied toward paying for the new bathhouse.

PRODUCE EGGS at LOW COST!

—and make good profits
 regardless of egg prices

WHEN egg prices are low, that is no time to cut down on feed; what you need is BETTER feed, to produce more eggs and larger profits.

RED CHAIN EGG NUGGETS produce plenty of low-cost eggs. The superior quality ingredients are compressed into NUGGET form — and every NUGGET is a balanced ration. This new and efficient feed insures more laying hens, more eggs per pound of feed, reduced labor (feed once-a-day), no feed wasted or lost.

IS EDUCATION WORTH WHAT IT IS COSTING?

We are not spending too much for education and we cannot decrease to any appreciable extent the amount expended without crippling and impairing our school system. The source of support should be radically improved upon in the matter of taxation; unquestionably property taxes bear too great a burden and should be reduced.

Taxation should be devised whereby all would share more equitably in the maintenance of public service and welfare. All state funds of whatever character should be derived from some other source than a property tax. This would appreciably relieve the situation in each community.

In education as in any other service or commodity we get just about what we pay for. If we lower our education costs we will receive a depreciated service.

Necessarily the largest amount in the budget for education goes for the salaries of teachers. The better trained and qualified teacher is capable of rendering a more efficient ser-

SICK HEADACHE

Many cases of SICK HEADACHE are due to constipation. If you have headache that is due to constipation, take Theodor's BLACK-DRAUGHT for refreshing relief.

"I have taken BLACK-DRAUGHT, when needed, for about 15 years," writes Mr. J. W. Cooper, of Longview, Texas. "I first began to use it for sick headache that seemed to come from constipation."

"I would suffer about twenty-four hours with these headaches. I found out that BLACK-DRAUGHT would help me, so that is what I took. I am glad to recommend it to others, for this trouble, for it will give relief."

Theodor's BLACK-DRAUGHT is a purely vegetable laxative, preferred by thousands of men and women because it is so effective and economical.

Our people are committed to an abiding faith and ideal in public education. In the future as in the past, public education will continue to advance.

So long as we follow wisely along economical and efficient lines and see that no extravagance is committed, public education is fully worth all that it is costing.—Forth Worth Star-Telegram.

Better Lighting Will Ease Your Budget Worries

There are budgets that really will work . . . budgets that will show how to bring expenses within income! But they weren't created at a dark and gloomy desk . . . they were the result of calm and intelligent analysis under the cheering atmosphere of good light.

It's surprising what a difference adequate lighting makes! . . . Troubles take on a less terrifying aspect when subjected to the clear, eye-soothing brilliance of the modern electric light. It's not only much easier to work, but the absence of eye-strain keeps your mind clear and alert.

Next time you sit down to plot out the month's expenses, or to write a letter, be sure your light is adequate. You'll find the difference amazing!

A trained employe will be happy to inspect your home-lighting arrangements. There's no obligation, of course . . . and chances are that a simple rearrangement of your present fixtures, or adjustments giving you adequate sized lamps where they're needed, will be all that's necessary.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?
