MARCH 31, 1933.

The oil business in East Texas is trying to take the headlines again this week, and threaten to occupy the courts again this week. It seems like the Federal Courts and the Texas Commission cannot understand the laws alike.

With wool selling at 15c before it is sheared, is one of the best signs for this section of Texas, that we have at last gotten around the corner that we have been looking for.

Although chickens and eggs are cheap, old biddie has done her part to helping feed the family and continues to sing because she has such a good job.

We never worry about young folks when they get married, if they don't know what they are doing they can learn like we did. Their joys and troubles will be just as they make them.

The Japanese war has calmed down; the big Roosevelt boom has relaxed; Jim Ferguson's Friday has been rejected by the legislature and the courts but the big argument between "Uncle Bill" and D. M. West is getting more interesting, with "Uncle Bill" absolutely making a confession. We think Bro. West will have him going to prayer meeting before the beer flows.

There are several chickens still roaming around just as if the city did not pass a law forbidding their rambling. These old hens don't seem to realize that they should not run off, and bother their neighbor, and this is a hard time to pay a fine for chicken grazing, but the city needs the money.

ON TEXAS FARMS
 By W. H. Darrow,
 Extension Service Editor

For every dollar spent last year by farmers in fighting insects and diseases attacking field crops in Texas, $12.50 was returned in increased income. A total of 166,452 acres was protected by 6669 farmers with the aid of county agents.

Plenty of home grown feed saves cash, helps the living-at-home program, and makes possible larger livestock profits. Last year 12, 674 men and boys cooperated with county agents in growing 189,858 acres of feed crops by demonstration methods from which they received for labor and investment an average of $70 apiece.

An average return of $250 for labor and investment was made by the 4,397 Texas farmers and 4-H club boys who conducted demonstrations in cotton growing last year. The demonstrations averaged 28 acres.

Childress county pantries are displaying airtight boxes of cookies, peanut butter, and crackers in addition to all the other kinds of food as a result of work by the home demonstration agent. Women and girls have learned to make peanut butter, cheese straws, vanilla wafers, and butter and whole wheat crackers.

Six self-feeders for hogs were built recently by Harrison county farmers for feeding hogs by county agent methods. Hogs are allowed half tankage and half cottonseed meal, and corn, free choice.

Raising 80 bushels of corn on one acre, making another acre produce 1,020 pounds of cotton, raising a flock of 120 pullets which are now producing a monthly income, and on top of all this making his hogs pay him a net profit of $53.00—this is the accomplishment of Alvin Weidener, 4-H club boy of Long Point Community in Washington county.

GARDEN OF EXPERIENCE

By F. G. Clark

The basis of all society is the individual. Society cannot make the individual anymore than the effect can make the cause. A stream cannot rise higher than its source, and the source of all human society is the individual. You can build no structure really better than the material out of which it is composed. A skillful mechanic may disguise rotten material for a time, but the general decay of the building will soon reveal its inherent rottenness. A skillful statesman may lead an inferior people to a temporary success, but, in the very nature of things, the success will be temporary. Hence, a scheme of government that does not plan to improve the personnel of the nation, is sure to end in failure. The primary effort of any institution should be directed toward the betterment of each individual of which it is composed. If the units of any organization were raised to a certain level of excellence, morally and intellectually, a thousand questions that now worry leaders, would automatically settle themselves. For instance, criminal laws could be wiped completely from our statutes, the reason for their existence having ceased, since there would be no criminals to transgress them. And this would lift a huge burden from the shoulders of the tax payers, for crime, which is closely akin to war, is the second most expensive phase of our economic system, war being first.

But the government as such, can do little to improve its members by direct action. Its chief function is to make use of the human material it finds ready to its hand. It is the business of the auxiliary organizations to furnish the government with better material with which to work. These auxiliaries are three: the home, the school and the church. These three, but the greatest of these is the church, since it is thru the church that humanity is able to draw upon the infinite resources of eternity and the God who inhabits eternity. For this reason, the church should be kept completely separated from the state, as to its organic entity. It must be kept above the state since it is the link which unites heaven and earth, connected as it is, with man below and God above. If the church is allowed to sink to the level of the state, or becomes organically united with it, it has lost this connecting function, and as a result both church and state fall into ruin. We must keep our connection with heaven intact, for it is only thru the visitations of God, as the bountiful giver, that we can hope to maintain an increasing degree of wholesomeness in human society. Remember, everybody good and every perfect gift, cometh down from above, from the Father of lights. In these times of stress, let us turn to God, thru the church, and He will not disappoint us. "When on life we're tempest driven, A conscience but a canker, A correspondence fixed with heaven s sure a noble anchor."

MORE 15-CENT WOOL IS SOLD

(San Angelo Standard-Times)

The wool market continued to show its firmness in West Texas yesterday when Tom Ritchey, wool buyer for A. W. Hilliard and Son, paid 15 cents a pound for 70,000 pounds of Talpa wools.

The wool came from the ranches of Beck and Horn and will be shorn in May.

Mr. Ritchey paid 15 cents a pound for 100,000 pounds of wool on contracts in Menard county last week to lift the wool market two cents a pound at one time.

He also bought about 25,000 pounds of 1932 wool from P. C. Dutton of Brady at 14 cents for the ewe wool and 15 cents for the lamb.

In Crockett county D. E. Hughes of Studley and Emery was reported to have offered 15 cents a pound for some wool still on the sheep.

GASOLINE TAX EVASION MUST STOP

AUSTIN, Texas, March 27.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson concurring with both houses of the legislature in the view that tax evasion must stop in order to draw into the coffers of the state every dollar of available revenues, drove the last nail late last week into the coffin of the gasoline-bootlegging industry.

Tuesday she had signed the Metcalfe-Harmon bill, making gas tax evasion a felony, with heavy fines and prison sentences. Thursday she added the final blow against the huge "racket" which has grown up in the peddling of tax-free gasoline, when she signed House Bill 246, amending the Texas Food and Drug Act, and observers at the capitol were saying during the week-end that everything possible has been done to recover the $4,000,000 yearly lost by evasion.

While gasoline is neither a food nor a drug, the new law was deemed necessary in order to curb the blending of kerosene, naphtha and other tax-free lower fuels with gasoline, and selling the whole mixture to the motorist, plus the tax. Under this, the commonest method of tax evasion, the car owner often paid money which he believed was tax, but the state didn't get it.

This new law contains several drastic provisions for the protection of the public. First it gives the chemical analysis of gasoline, and forbids the use of the word "gasoline" on any motor fuel falling below that standard. All such fuels must be labeled "Inferior Motor Fuel" on all pumps which contain them.

Another provision is that every truck or carrier of motor fuel must be plainly labeled with the name of the distributor or maker, and every place where such fuel is stored must be marked in the same way. The new law also forbids sale of second-hand or used motor oil except when it is plainly labeled, "Re-conditioned Motor Oil."

The law gives every Texas peace officer the right to inspect any vehicle hauling motor

VERMONT HOME CLUB

The Vermont Home Demonstration Club met with Miss Howell at the home of Mrs. Doc Kerr on March 22. There were 14 ladies present, one new member, Mrs. C. H. Taylor. Miss Howell gave a demonstration of a cutting bed. Mr. Kerr, Mr. Calcutt and Mr. Mettle helped make the bed. After a short business meeting the club enjoyed a social hour. The club was favored by a reading given by Maxine Wilton and a song given by Sonny Taylor after which delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

VALUELESS DOLLARS

It probably never occurs to most of us that there is such a thing as valueless money. And it isn't counterfeit either. Millions of honest and legitimate good dollars in this country are now absolutely valueless and useless.

This is the money that drops out of circulation. It is hoarded money. Its owners keep it in safe deposit boxes or in teapots or buried in the back yard.

Money has no intrinsic value—its value is determined by what it can do when it is working. When out of work, it is as useless as would be a number of similar sized pieces of tin. It isn't paying taxes or meeting dividends or employing labor or buying supplies. It isn't doing its part in keeping the wheels of enterprise turning.

There are two distinct ways of putting money back into circulation. One is depositing it in commercial or savings accounts in banks, or purchasing government or other high-grade securities. The other is by buying needed articles or effecting necessary repairs. And this way is the best of all. The money spent serves a double purpose. It provides employment and alleviates distress—and it obtains for the spender the supplies and repairs at the lowest prices since pre-war days.

Put at least part of the dollar into furnace renovation, into a new roof or other house repairs or paint, into some labor saving appliance, into plumbing or yard work. You'll get about twice the value you'd have got three years ago—and you will have helped the cause of recovery.

America needs more jobs, and

WHAT THE CO-OPS

HAVE DONE

In considering the farmers' difficulties, one wonders how much worse they might have been, so far as prices and marketing conditions are concerned, had the institution of the cooperative never been conceived. The cooperatives have faced, with courage and aggressiveness, many problems, many issues. Through them farmers have struggled to keep together in a time of discontent and uncertainty, and to keep their energies bent toward the desired end. They have fought for permanent markets and better prices at a time when markets and prices for all kinds of products, farm or factory, were crumbling. They have sought to build a sound organization for the future while meeting the exigencies of the present.

The cooperatives have not done all they hoped to do. But whatever justified hope the farmer has for a more prosperous tomorrow may be laid largely to them. They really have laid the ground work. They are developing the power that is essential if the producer is to meet the buyer on a fair and equal basis. And it is an inescapable fact that, for the most part, the market has been best for those farm products which are handled through long established, loyally supported cooperatives. Prices haven't been at a point where the producer could show a profit—but they have been a good deal higher than they would otherwise have been.

Yes, the cooperative movement is making headway, in the face of odds. It is succeeding. And if the farmers of the country stick with it, work for and with it, it will eventually achieve the degree of success it deserves.

less charity. It needs more spending—wise spending, that gets honest and permanent values in return.

Remember that right now "investment and employment are cheaper than charity."

FARM AND HOME

DEMONSTRATIONS WORTH $14,689,315 IN 1932

COLLEGE STATION, March, 20.—Scientifically planned living at home, introduced or further developed on 200,000 Texas farms last year was the largest single contribution to the welfare of rural Texas by the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College in 1932, according to its annual report, just issued by O. B. Martin, director. A total of $14,689,315 in savings, profits or increased land values from a large variety of demonstrations in better farming, ranching and home making, was reported by 304 white and 47 colored county farm and home demonstration agents serving 199 out of the 254 counties in the State. Nearly half of these values came from increased living at home activities, the report shows.

The 116,356 men and women, 4-H club boys and girls who cooperated directly with farm and home demonstration agents in conducting 242,023 demonstrations increased their incomes or their properties by an average of more than $100 apiece last year, Mr. Martin points out. Their work followed four main lines: making farms self-sustaining, cutting costs of production, conserving natural resources, and opening up new sources of income.

Crop production, including terracing, led all others with 79,838 demonstrations worth $7,768,549, followed by gardens, pantries and orchards with 78,042 demonstrations valued at $4,459,325. Other demonstrations in order of net values created were poultry raising $935,273; dairying $549,641; clothing construction $335,032; livestock production $333,161; interior home improvement $59,990; and home industries $42,755.

"The farmer's table is his first market," declares Mr. Martin. "Every member of his family is a consumer, and every one, except the babies, should help rustle for the contents of the pantry, smokehouse and barn. More folks did that very thing in Texas in 1932 than ever before in history.

"The Extension Service changed what otherwise would have been a mad scramble for food in-

A PLACE FOR SERVICE

By Thos. E. Pickerill

Liberty of thought and action is the basis of all freedom. Any uninvited force that tends to direct the legitimate activities of the people contrary to their will meets with resistance. With in the bounds of reason, it is a thing a man WANTS to do, plus the right to do it, that determines whether or not he is enjoying man-made or natural freedom. And while the exercise of choice is a dear privilege, his manner of action may be criticized.

Organized effort, whether in religion, politics, education, government, public development, business and social intercourse, requires the undivided attention of the people for true accomplishment. If a man "belongs" to an organization, he should be more than simply on the roll of members. His membership should be more than merely on paper. There are too many "paper" members of worthwhile organizations, members in name only.

No matter what needs support—Masons, Elks, Odd Fellows, the church, political party, charity, chamber of commerce, business men's association, women's club, service club, or civic commission and committee—there are always a few who do more than their share, and many who do less than their share. Perhaps it would be necessary to change human nature in order to try to change this condition. Such a task we do not undertake. But we can urge upon our people the fact that any organization prospers and renders good service in proportion to the ability and the loyalty of its individual members.

There are comparatively few people that are able to make very many interests their objects of service, because this takes time, money and effort, no one of which they can well spare. But nearly everyone can make some one thing—some one channel of service—the major objective for the advancement of the community. Each individual member of society has a place in it—a place he can fill best. That place may be in the home, or in the church, the club, the lodge, the Legion, the public

How Cardui Helps Women

"Mal-nutrition" means that your body is not getting enough to keep it up, so that what it has to do is not done well. You may not be eating enough to keep up the work of the body, or there may be something wrong that keeps you from getting full value from the food you eat.

Because of mal-nutrition, some women have aches and pains every month. Such pains should not be neglected.

Take Cardui to give you a better appetite, to give you more strength from the food you eat—to build up and increase your feeling of well-being. Aches and pains go away as you build up with the help of Cardui.

WORK DONE BY THE HEART AND CAUSES OF TROUBLE

AUSTIN, Texas, Mar. 27.—Pumping fifteen gallons of blood an hour is the astonishing work done by the heart, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. The heart is about the size of a man's fist it never sleeps, loafs or takes a vacation from the beginning of life to the end. The only rest it gets is between beats. Yet with all the work the heart has to do it does not give out suddenly unless it has been injured or ill-treated.

Under the pressure of work the average person neglects his heart and unwittingly abuses it. The chief causes of heart trouble, aside from deterioration of old age, are rheumatic fever, acute infectious diseases, chronic infections, syphilis, too abrupt return to activity after a serious illness, too strenuous exercise, and overweight may be a factor.

Many of the signs which you may think mean heart trouble can be caused by some other disorder. Indigestion, lung trouble or nervousness may cause pain near the heart, shortness of breath, fainting, and irregularity of beat. If you have any of these symptoms, do not try to diagnose the condition yourself, but go to your doctor for an examination. He will be able to find out what is wrong and may tell you that your heart is sound. Have an examination every year and follow your doctor's advice.

An Industrial Necessity

A dependable and adequate source of electrical energy is not only a vital convenience to your home and business life—but a definite advantage from an industrial standpoint.

Major industries contemplating changes in location (as many now are doing) are looking toward the progressive small city as the ideal factory site.—And those cities which are assured an adequate and constant source of electric power—distributed over an interconnected transmission line system from strategically-located main generating stations—will be the choice of industrial engineers.

The West Texas Utilities Company is aiding industrial growth, through the rendering of this dependable, and inexpensive power supply, in 161 progressive West Texas cities, towns and communities.

"Cash must be forthcoming from the major farm enterprises if the farmer is to stay in business," continues Mr. Martin, "and to show ways of providing cash, thousands of demonstrations repeated over and over the story of how to cut costs of production. Thousands of other demonstrations showed how to increase income and permanent values by terracing, improving native pecans, wise handling of farm woodlands, and by farm and home manufacture and sale of many commodities. These examples of good farm management under trying conditions had a steady influence on Texas agriculture, for they showed how to escape disaster.

Exchanging beef for rubber, a Pecos county home demonstration club family has re-shod its auto without employing cash. The family furnished the beef and did the canning, and the tire dealer furnished the cans. Both are pleased.

Every time Roy Gamblin of Yantis, Wood county, feeds a sack and one-half of cotten-seed meal, which cost him $1, as supplement to home grown feed, he sells $10 worth of milk, so he tells the county agent. This is all the feed he buys. He has a trench silo, a barn full of pea vine and sorghum hay, and crushes whole ear corn to feed his cows.

More than 500 farm families will be added to the rural population of Harris county this year as a result of city unemployment, the county agent estimates.

Of the 4,000 containers of food canned with the canning equipment of Mrs. W. F. Myers of McCauley Home Demonstration Club in Fisher County, more than half the amount was done by farm women whom Mrs. Myers was helping to live at home. It was a part of the expansion work of local home demonstration clubs, and consisted of planning the food supply, working out canning budgets and canning by proper methods.

To cut feed costs and increase milk flow Guadalupe county dairymen have pooled orders for 18,000 pounds of sudan grass seed and are preparing for one acre of sudan pasture per cow, as recommended by the county agent.

Sub-irrigated cutting beds have been made by 53 Tarrant county home demonstration club women recently as a help in propagating shrubbery for yard improvement at low cost. Concrete tile made at home at a cost of about one cent per foot are used in these beds, as in sub-irrigated gardens.

Since the Democrats are in control, the forgotten man has turned out to be just a forgotten Republican.

Well, we got the banks open; and now the next things to get open are the socks, mattresses, tobacco cans and deposit boxes.

They got the beer bill, but we're still pretty tired of drinking ginger ale without anything in it but ginger.

Anybody who thinks the present generation has a better time than we did in the good old days must remember that for the last twenty years we haven't had anything but a world war followed by a world depression.

A democracy is a country where everybody is organized but the people.

3.05 beer. The 3 is what you get drunk on; the .05 is the kick.
