Stanolind To Plug In Irion

Wildcat That Cost Quarter Of Million To Be Abandoned

(San Angelo Standard)
Stanolind Oil and Gas Company has ordered that its No. 1 W. H. Williams, deep wildcat in the southeastern corner of Irion County, be plugged and abandoned at 7,425 feet and will write off a loss of perhaps a quarter of a million dollars without having attained its objective of determining whether or not the Ordovician will produce oil in that area.

The failure first to recover and later to sidetrack drill pipe that was lost when fire damaged the equipment on March 11 caused No. 1 Williams to be abandoned. It will be the second deep test in Irion County to be plugged within a month. The first was Plymouth-Benedum No. 1 Sugg, about 28 miles to the northwest, which struck salt water at 8,274 feet, 5,919 feet below sea level. Whether the water was struck in the upper part of the Ordovician or in the Simpson immediately above it was not learned.

No. 1 Williams drilled 4,881 feet below sea level. Its best showing of oil was encountered in April, last year, from 4,163-73 feet in brown, porous lime. The oil was black and sweet, rose 300 feet and was reported not lowered by bailing. Drilling was carried to 6,795 feet with cable tools and a heavy rotary then was installed. It was operated with a marine type twin eight Diesel motor and required a 122-foot tubular steel tower. The equipment was the largest and most modern of its type that had been employed in this section of West Texas up to that time.

When fire damaged the plant in March about 700 feet of four-inch drill pipe dropped to the bottom of the hole. When replacements had been made after a several months shutdown, more drill pipe was run in the hole and made connection with the section of pipe at the bottom. When the pipe was drawn however, an additional 525 feet was left. The hole was plugged back from 6,324 to 5,620 feet with cement and drilling out began in an effort to sidetrack the drill pipe. The bit went out of the cement around 6,175 feet and new hole had been made with difficulty to 6,519 feet, caving frequently, when work stopped early in September.

The wildcat was drilled on a Stanolind block of approximately 18 sections that extends into both Tom Green and Schleicher Counties. The leases have several years to run but it is unlikely that Stanolind will drill on the block again unless production should be obtained in some test nearby, as in Schleicher County. No. 1 Williams is 1,320 feet from the east line and 1,330 feet from the south line of section 1196, T. C. Ry. C. survey, about 13 miles southeast of Mertzon. The Herndon Drilling Company of Tulsa was the contractor.

Stanolind and a number of other companies now are drilling a unit test for the Ordovician on the J. S. Todd ranch in north central Crockett County, in the center of the northeast quarter of section 67, block UV, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co. survey. Drilling plug was scheduled to have been started Saturday noon at 6,108 feet, where 95-8 inch casing was cemented with 1,500 sacks. Total depth is 6,149 feet in black shale.

Miss Marie Stanford In Brownwood Hospital

Miss Marie Stanford who has been in the Brownwood Hospital for the past eight weeks for treatment, was operated on Wednesday, having one of her kidneys removed. She has already undergone two minor operations during the eight weeks. Mr. Stanford left Tuesday afternoon to join his wife, who has been with her for the operation Wednesday. The Doctors informed Mr. Stanford that his daughter was in good condition for the operation and though there would be no danger in the operation. We have received no word from there since the operation.

WHO SHOULD PAY FOR HIGHWAYS

Asserting that highway development and use has grown to such an extent in America that these highways have in fact become a public utility, Charles B. Steward, secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation declares that those who use the highways should pay for them. Mr. Steward analyzes highway development and supports his conclusions in one of the featured articles in the October issue of "Review of Reviews and World's Work," a magazine of national circulation devoted to the discussion of current public questions.

Annual expenditures for highways have reached the stupendous sum of two billions of dollars, declares Mr. Steward, expanding to this figure in but eight years. The official expenditures as shown by government reports were less than $100,000,000 in 1923. In the eight-year period the annual expense expanded more than twenty-fold. For the eight years the total expenditure reached the tremendous figure of almost $12,000,000,000. All of this sum must be paid by taxation in one form or another, the writer asserts, and in the past eight years only 36-1-2 per cent of it has been paid by the users in the form of gasoline and license taxes while property owners and incometax payers have had to pay 63-1-2 per cent.

Mr. Steward's discussion is from the viewpoint of the farmer, who, he declares, has already contributed substantially toward the cost of highway construction and is now continuing to contribute toward maintenance, the amount of such payments having no relationship to the farmers' use of the facility. Proper allocation of these costs would place the expense on the user of the highway and relieve the property owner of unfair taxes he has to pay for them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mathews from Georgia, have returned to Texas and will locate in San Angelo, where they will enter the fish business. Mrs. Mathews is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. DeLong and are here this week end visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Gunn, arrived Wednesday afternoon with part of their household goods, and will make their home on the Gunn ranch near Eldorado. We welcome these good people back to our midst and trust that they will get entirely free from that Oklahoma fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cage of Blanco, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kellam of San Angelo, were in Eldorado Monday and while here made The Success office an appreciated visit.

Bride-Elect Honored With Shower

On Thursday afternoon, October 27, Mrs. E. C. Hill and Mrs. C. M. McWhorter were hostess of a Miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. C. M. McWhorter in honor of Miss Margaret Tisdale, who is to be married to Mr. Dobie Tinning of Hutto, Texas, on November 16, 1932.

The home was beautifully decorated carrying out a color scheme of autumn and the symbols of Halloween. The guests were asked to register on entering. A slipper was produced and the one found to wear the slipper was to light candles which were placed about the room. As it happened, Miss Tisdale was the only one present the slipper would fit, so she was asked to light the candles. The last candles to be lighted happened to be in a large pumpkin-jack-o-lantern. As Miss Tisdale removed the lid to her surprise she found a bountiful supply of lovely and useful gifts of all descriptions, given for her by her many friends.

After admiring the many useful gifts, Miss Tisdale expressed her sincere thanks to all and delicious refreshments consisting of salad, sandwiches, cake and tea were served.

The ones invited to the shower included only the guests attending the announcement tea from the hour of 3 to 4 at which the hostesses poured tea.

J. J. JONES DIES IN SAN ANGELO

Mr. J. J. Jones was carried to San Angelo Monday morning for medical treatment, but died Tuesday morning about 10:00 o'clock.

Mr. Jones, 78 years of age, came to Schleicher county about 30 years ago, and filed on some school land in the Mayer country, where he ranched for many years and served as a County Commissioner from his precinct for several years. For the past several years he has been making his home with his sons, who live here, Mertzon, and San Angelo.

The remains were carried to Mason for burial, in the family lot there.

Surviving him is six sons and one daughter, namely, A. L. Jones, of Eldorado; Leslie and Barney Jones of Sterling City; Louie and Bert of San Angelo; Frank Jones of Eldorado and Mrs. Katherine Pirett of Sterling City.

Mrs. Ida Burchett, formerly Miss Ida Bates, was here Thursday visiting her old friends. She lives in Arizona, and has been at Ballinger where she brought her mother for burial.

Mrs. Burchett was accompanied by Mr. Burchett and her youngest daughter.

Miss Victoria Jones who has been visiting in Dallas, returned home Tuesday of this week.

Sheep & Goat Men In Meeting

The Sheep and Goat Raisers meeting is in session Thursday as we go to press in our city, about 100 visitors are here. This being a meeting of the executive committee and officers of the Association.

The meeting was called to order about ten thirty, Judge J. A. Whitten presiding. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. J. D. McWhorter and the welcome address was made by E. C. Hill.

The Lions served the visitors with Barbecue for the noon hour and the ladies furnished the sweets, together with other entertainment for the visiting ladies.

SWEATT - NEWLIN

Saturday, October 29, Mr. Earnest Sweatt and Miss Bernice Newlin, were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock.

Mr. Sweatt has resided in Schleicher County all his life and is well and favorably known by most of our people.

Miss Newlin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Newlin, who have resided in our midst for the past ten years and is loved and admired by her many friends. She has been teaching school near Sheffield but has given up her school work for housekeeping.

They will make their home in our city where the groom is engaged in business.

The Success joins their many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes.

NOVEMBER 4, 1932

Saturday was another busy day with our business men, especially in the afternoon. The local citizens should try to do their shopping either Friday or Saturday morning as the town is overrun with cotton pickers Saturday afternoon, and it is almost impossible to give prompt service. You can get waited on promptly in the forenoon. Let's cooperate.

The negro minstrel that was given at the High School Auditorium Friday night drew a large crowd, and the program given by local talent furnished much laughter for the audience. They repeated the play Saturday night. The proceeds from the play will go to pay for the new bath house recently built at the school house. The new bath house will be paid for from plays by the High School, Lions Club and Parent Teachers Association.

Some of our friends and publishers term us, or call us, a republican. Yet those same guys are tearing their shirts off for Jim Ferguson, who has been voting everything but a democratic ticket since 1914. We admit he votes in the Primary but when he wants to vote otherwise in the general election he does so. That's his privilege, we think he ought to, but it is real amusing to hear him preaching loyalty to the party this season. Untrue to his party, untrue to his trust, he was tried and convicted by his friends, impeached from office and now wants to come back in his wife's name, whom his own supporters admit has no qualifications for governing. So friends call us republican, if you want too, we had rather be classed as a Republican, than a darn Jackass.

Jim Ferguson called the Democrats Jack-asses. Now if you vote for Jim you will make his word good. He has become the leader, or the big Jack-ass of the democrats, or the Jaskasses as he terms them.

In another column in this issue of The Success will be found a clipping from the San Angelo Standard in regard to the W. H. Williams well No. 1, which promised to be a deer test. A real sudden change has taken place, the test will be plugged, and the hope of the ranchmen and landowners in the northwest portion of Schleicher county is just another bubble burst. This test is using one of the best rigs built in America, which indicated the companies finances were unlimited. They have spent a quarter-of-a-million dollars on this well. They penetrated oil at 4,163-72 feet, which was black and sweet, rose 300 feet in the well and was estimated at the time to be as good as 500 barrels per day, in fact it was reported at the time that it could not be lowered by bailing. They were not looking for shallow oil, but had set out from the beginning to drill to the Ordovician. The well has been shut down some time and very likely will

F. G. CLARK.

The Methodist itinerant wheel has revolved once more, by means of the power of the Annual Conference. By doing so Bro McWhorter is removed from this charge to another and Bro. Henry Marshall has been appointed to the pastorate here, and of course was removed from the place he has been serving. Now, this is no reflection on either of these men. In the Methodist economy, it is sometimes necessary to remove one pastor, in order to give place to another, for the Bishop and cabinet must bear in mind the welfare of the whole conference as well as the individual in charge. And in doing this, sometimes a seeming hardship is worked on a charge or pastor or both. This cannot always be avoided. It is an unavoidable outcome of the working of our itinerant machinery. Our economy has its faults, but take it all in all it is the best scheme yet devised, for the government of a great church.

It has been my good fortune to know Henry Marshall intimately for several years. He is a member of a family of preachers. The oldest brother is an honored member of the Texas Conference and Charles Marshall is at present our beloved pastor at Brady.

Henry is the youngest of the brothers, and like them, is a success in his work. Since it seemed necessary for Bro. McWhorter to move, to the sorrow of his many friends here, we are fortunate to have sent to us as fine a young preacher as Henry Marshall.

Every pastor must submit to the appointing power of the Bishop and his cabinet and every loyal Methodist must acquiesce and cooperate with their decisions. Upon this cooperation of pastors and members, depends much of the prosperity of the Church, and the failure of the local church is about the worst disaster that can happen to us. "Now is the time for all good Methodists to come to the aid of the church". And if each one will do so, we will have a great year in the church. We need a revival. The membership needs a refreshing from the presence of the Lord, and there are many unsaved who can be brought to Christ, besides our growing children must be raised in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, if we are to fit them for future usefulness.

Let every one rally around the new pastor and God's blessing will rest upon us.

Mrs. Will Eaton visited her sister in San Antonio this week.

never even test the showing they passed through. Those who began to blow golden bubbles on April 1931, when they struck oil in the W. H. Williams No. 1, will throw away their straws and dream of the big pool underlying their lands for future happiness.

Three tests drilled in this county within 18 miles of each other, including the Williams well which is just over the line in Irion, has been very promising and shows strongly that an oil pool lies near Eldorado extending 18 miles northwest. Someday it will be developed.

THE VALUE OF AN EDUCATION

The economic advantage of the individual in proportion to his education is an added argument that the schools are an ally to business. The November 1931 Rotarian says: "There is a barrel of sermons in the findings of a survey made a few months ago of a thousand jobless persons being supported by Milwaukee taxpayers. This investigation revealed that nine hundred had less than an eighth grade education; only seven were high school graduates; none had been to college. If conclusions ever are justified, it would see that, imperfect tho it may be, public schooling is a distinct aid to the individual in adapting himself successfully to his basic problem—earning a living."

Everett W. Lord in an article "The Relation of Education and Income," says: "The average untrained man with elementary education goes to work as a boy of 14, reaches a maximum earning power at the age of forty of about $1,700. His total earnings from age 14 to 60 amount to about $64,000. More than 50 out of every 100 untrained workers are dependent upon others for support after the age of 60. "The high school graduate goes to work at 18 and reaches a maximum earning power of about $2,800 at the age of 50. His total earnings from age 18 to 60 are about $88,000. The $24,000 more than that earned by the elementary school graduate represents the cash value of a high school education, about $6,000 for each of the four years of the course."

"The permanent earnings of the average college or technical school graduate who has a bachelor's degree, begins at the age of 22. His income rises steadily until it reaches approximately $6,000 at the age of 60. Total earnings from 22 to 60 are from $160,000 to $200,000. The $72,000 more than that earned by the high school graduate represents the cash value of college training."

What is the effect of the unemployment situation on public school attendance in the forty-eight states and how do the schools improve this situation in school attendance alone?

Dr. Maris M. Proffitt, consultant and specialist in guidance and industrial education in the Federal Office of Education, submits a pertinent statement based on the relative ratio per cent of school attendance to population for persons sixteen and sev-

Quality and Service

WHAT IS THE ANSWER

A few reasons why government should keep out of business:

1. Because government in business opens the flood gates of public expenditures at the taxpayers' expense; many of the expenditures being for special services to a limited number of persons from which services the general taxpayer, who must pay for them, can derive no benefit.

2. It creates new classes of political agencies and gives them unlimited power to incur debts, levy taxes and spend public money.

3. It discourages industry and prevents the investment of private capital in new enterprises because a private citizen cannot compete with tax-free, government-owned projects.

4. It invites the worst kind of political gerrymandering for promotional schemes at public expense.

5. Each time the government goes into business, it removes taxable property from the tax rolls and loads the taxes thus lost onto remaining taxable property, plus additional taxes for new governmental ventures into the field of industry.

The question of the government in business in competition with its private citizens should be considered from the standpoint of the principle involved, rather than from the interest of any particular line of business. The business it self is incidental to the principle. If we subscribe to the theory that public ownership is good for any business, even in a small degree, we should be honest enough to go all the way and sanction complete public ownership and control of the means of production and distribution. We should not single out one line of business to stand the burnt of such unfair and killing competition.

Government competition might better apply to the local meat market, grocery store, or clothing store, than to ocean shipping, insurance, public utilities, railroads and banking, for it is much more important that the average family get the first three items at cost than it is that they get the latter items at cost.

THE SUCCESS

Politics makes strange bed-fellows, two uncertainties freely predicted. They are: Texas will elect a republican Governor and California will elect an independent Senator.

The Rev. Bob Shuler, Methodist Minister, led the field in the primaries in California and is freely predicted a winner over both republica and democratic candidates on Nov. 8th. His Democratic opponent being William Gibbs McAdoo.

Many people predict Texas will witness the worst upheaval ever known in politics, and elect a republican governor.

Rev. J. D. McWhorter, who was transferred to other fields will not get away until next week, as the move is a long one. Bro. Marshall will remain at his place until Monday and will reach here about next Wednesday. The truck bringing his household goods will take Bro. McWhorter's back next week.

TENANCY AND HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

(This Week's Opinion)

Exemption of $3,000 of the assessed value of homesteads from the state a dvalorem tax is proposed for the reason that it will increase home ownership. From the agricultural viewpoint, it is espoused because it will decrease tenancy. Tenancy, of course, is so extensive in Texas as to be an acknowledged handicap in the development of the state.

Many tenants, the Houston Post asserts, do not even have a hog or cow. The presumption is that they raise cotton, and buy their foods. They live on the land, but not from the land.

If Milam county may be considered as reasonably typical of the agricultural areas of Texas, we have his picture: the average farm is assessed for taxation at $1826. The state ad valorem tax on that average farm is $14.20.

How far will this $14.20 go toward eradicating tenancy? Would it make the down payment on a homestead? Would it make the yearly payment on a homestead? Or would the tax which must be levied on commodities that a farmer buys, so increase his cost of living as to wipe out the $14.20 saving, and perhaps some more?

The truth of the matter is that exemption of the homestead is so inconsiderable an item, either for a city home owner or the rural farmer-owner, that it is ridiculous to read in it any hope for decreasing tenancy. If that is the purpose in mind, we approach the problem from the wrong side. For the way to decrease tenancy is to teach the economy of living at home, to reduce interest rates to take some of the advantages from the sellers' end and remove some of the disadvantages from the buyers' end.

Tenancy can not be ended by presenting the prospective farmer-owner with an annual dote of $14.20 on the one hand and increasing the cost of his living $15 or $20 on the other. Yet that is the sort of fallacious reasoning which has been injected into the move for exempting the homestead from the state ad valorem tax.

The Parent Teachers Association will stage a "Howling Success" Tuesday night, Nov. 8th, at the Theatre.

This play has been received most enthusiastically by organizations all over the U. S. A. It is a Burlesque Baby Clinic, and is a Howl from start to finish—hence the name "A Howling Success."

There will be several boosters out in front to start early, show begins at 6:00 o'clock. Sandwiches and other eats served at small cost. Two shows: early show at 7:00 o'clock, second show at 8:30. "A Howling Success." Election returns given out at show every 15 minutes.
