Bailey Ranch School Notes

TEACHERS ATTEND MEET

Miss Ashmore and Miss Herbert, teachers of Bailey Ranch, attended the teachers meet at Fort Worth.

Unfortunately they missed the train at San Angelo and had to spend the night there. When they did catch a train, one of the wheels ran off and caused a lot of excitement. They spent Friday at the meeting. The meeting was held at the First Baptist Church of Fort Worth.

They saw many exhibits of school work such as, Geometry, Art, Algebra, and etc. They met many school teachers whom they had known a few years ago.

On returning they had to ride the "Peanut" train from Sweetwater to San Angelo.

SERIES

The turning point of the series came last week. The Reds seem to be doomed to lose the series. But just the same they have been improving.

Rather than wait till the end of the series, the Reds gave their entertainment last Saturday night. Everyone seemed to enjoy the cake and cocoa that was served.

Becoming tired of basket ball at least for the present time, the teams have agreed to finish the series in football, which seemed to take hold last Monday.

JOKES

By Waldine Sudduth

Mr. Redford received the following note, which might easily pass for example of notes received in rural schools.

"Please excuse Jack today, he caught a skunk."

***

Edward: "What kind of dog is that Billy?"

Billy: "This is a police dog."

Edward: "It doesn't look like one."

Billy: "Nope but it is in the Secret Service."

***

W. C.: And how was your father-in-law doing the last time you saw him.

Jack: Straight down the barrel.

Andrew: They say you are going to marry her because her aunt has a large fortune to leave her.

J. T. That's a lie. I'd marry her just the same no matter who left it to her.

Sunday School Teacher: All right class, I want each of you to tell me the name of your favorite hymn.

THE ROUGH RIDERS

By Louis Kerr

Ah! here they come, Say, who is that in the lead? Who! Do you not know the major?

Doyou not recognize his steed?

Why yes, its major Christian They say he is worth a million He rides like a monarch On his beautiful white stallion.

***

Now they are filing out In a never ending line, Here comes Lieutenant Whitley On his black charger so fine.

***

And behind him comes miss Whitley Her merry laugh rings out, Followed by many other Gruff boys with hearts and bodies stout.

Next comes Clifton and Calvin They are brothers, these two, And their shouts are heard with the others,

As they bid us all adieu. Here comes Bill McCravy, A buckaroo wild is he, All common calvery men fear him,

Because he is wild as he can be.

OTIS PELT KILLED BY CHARLIE FORTSON AT EDINBURG

The sad news was phoned to Eldorado last Friday from Edinburg, Texas, that Charlie Fortson had shot and killed his brother-in-law, Otis S. Pelt, that afternoon in the courthouse while a suit over an estate was in progress. Both men were well known here, having lived in our midst for several years. The tragedy is deplored by old friends and acquaintances of each, here, Mrs. W. L. McWhorter and Mrs. W. T. Whitten, accompanied by Mrs. Leslie Galbreath, attended the funeral of their brother, Otis Pelt, while Mrs. C. L. Fortson is also their sister.

The trouble grew out of a law suit over the estate of the late J. S. Pelt.

Announcement

A number of our friends have suggested that we make an announcement, as to how those of our community who really desire to use our services can do so, and at the same time get all the other accommodations they might desire.

In the first place we want to say, that if for any reasons whatsoever any one does not want to use our services we are just as glad for them to have what, and whom they want as we are to have our own privilege in what we desire. We do not say this with the slightest degree of sarcasm or reflection, but recognize the rights of every one.

We make no claims as to being a mortician, or an expert in any way, but we do believe with our long experience and observation so closely connected with funerals that we can plan and conduct a funeral with sufficient orderliness and dignity that no one need be embarrassed. We trust this statement is made with modesty, but we believe truthfully. Our equipment is as good as the best, and we shall endeavor to keep it so.

EMBALMING: If, and when any one should desire to use our services, but know they are going to want embalming done, if they will first call us we will make all arrangements satisfactory to the family and with less trouble and expense than you can do it yourself.

ADDITIONAL HELP: If, and when any one should desire additional help for a funeral, but at the same time desire to use a home institution they will first call us and we will talk all this over and can no doubt arrange every thing satisfactory to all, and still the public here can have a substantial saving.

In addition we want to thank the public for the splendid consideration given us since we engaged in this business. Of all the deaths which have occurred in the county we believe we have missed only one, and of the three which have occurred in San Angelo we believe we have missed only one. We are frank to say that this is beyond our expectation.

We fondly hope that the time shall soon come when our community will be glad that there is such an institution in our midst to care for a need that must come to all.

If you have never visited our casket display room, we invite you to do so, and believe that you will like the many others, be agreeably surprised.

Grately and humbly we are yours to serve,

ELDORADO FUNERAL SERVICE

Mr. Johnston lived in Mills county for many years, but sold his possessions there to travel with his daughter for her health, went to New Mexico and spent several years, leaving there he moved to Arkansas, and from there moved to Eldorado, Tex, some 10 years ago. Mr. Johnston joined the Methodist Church at the age of 24, and has remained loyal to the faith and church ever since. The Rev. F. M. Jackson of the Methodist Church at Miles, a friend of 30 years standing, assisted by Rev. W. H. Marshall, local pastor, conducted the funeral service, with the J. L. Ratliff Funeral Service in charge.

The services were held in the First Methodist Church at 3:00 P. M. with burial in the Eldorado Cemetery.

JAMES WALTER RAMSAY

James Walter Ramsay was born at Gonzales, Texas, July 8th, 1907, died at his home in Eldorado, Texas, November 27, 1932, of Myelogenous Leukmia. He was taken ill at Roscoe, Texas while teaching, caused from an infection on his foot. He was given every aid that medical science had, but to no avail.

Walter came to Eldorado with his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Ramsay when a small boy and spent his entire school life in our city, graduating from our school after which he went to Simmons University at Abilene, graduating from there with honors he went to the A. & M. College of Oklahoma where he secured his master degree.

He secured a position in the Roscoe school and taught there about two months. The school was turned out for a month for cotton picking and during the time Walter was stricken from which he could not recover. The Superintendent of the Roscoe school and the President of the school board attended his funeral and each made an impressive talk at the service, showing how he was esteemed even among the people of his short acquaintance.

Services were conducted from the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Paul Ray, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Marshall, with the J. L. Ratliff Funeral Service in charge.

It is very seldom we are called to witness a funeral of this age. He just had passed his 25th anniversary last July, just beginning to bloom into real manhood had finished his education, so to speak, and was ready to make real use of his life that should have been before him, but God in his mysterious way has seen fit to remove him from our midst, the God in whom he put his trust at the age of ten, and to whom he has ever looked for his guidance. He had never given his home any grievances, never made any trouble for the town in which he was reared, in fact he gave to the worth of the community and gave to the value of society in our midst. He is gone but not forgotten.

He was never very strong in body from youth, but the past few years he seemed to be growing in health and stature.

He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ramsay, being the only child.

The remains were laid to rest in the Eldorado Cemetery Monday afternoon in the midst of many sorrowing friends. The floral offering was most beautiful and bespeaks of the high esteem he was held in our community.

Following were the pall bearers: Tom Kent, Kenneth Cheek, Jim Hogg Finley, John McElroy, Edwin Johnson and Dave Williamson, all but Mr. Williamson were his classmates in the Eldorado High School. Also six ladies, part of whom were his classmates, carried flowers. They were: Mrs. S. D. Harper, Mrs. Ervin Munn, Mrs. Lelah Belle Davis Muller, Misses Katherine Hill, Pauline Kent and Herma Lee Hooker.

HUDSON - GRAY

Wednesday night Mr. Ira Hudson and Miss Vivian Gray motored to the home of Rev. J. L. Ratliff and were united in the holy bonds of wedlock.

Mr. Hudson is farming on the Melvin Crabb place west of town and is a brother of Mrs. Ed Finigan.

Miss Gray came here from Knox City and was visiting Mrs. Finigan an old friend.

They will make their home on the Crabb farm.

The Success joins the many friends in wishing them many happy returns and a pleasant voyage across life's sea together

Some excitement prevailed on the street Monday when Kirk, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gregory, fell from their car and the car passing over his ankle, but he suffered no bad effect.

DECEMBER 2 1932

The Churches in our community, accept their membership in the spirit of lifting fallen humanity and raising them to a higher standard of living and a better blessing to mankind. The lowest conditions of man can be received into the full fellowship in our churches by his repenting or confessing his sins. The church will then try and help him on to that higher life that blesses mankind. Other helpful organizations take in men and women who have, or supposed to have, clean records of good behavior and through them build up an organization that will be beneficial to their membership and brethren. They are very useful in their sphere, but the churches reach farther after fallen humanity than any other institution in the earth, and therefore should meet the approval of everyone though he or she does not hold membership in any of them. The Church of the Living God, as through the ages, been the guiding star of every Nation that has wrought good in the world. Then why should not we as individuals support our churches in the same regularity as we do our State and Government. Not only by our financial help but by our constant attendance upon its worship from day to day and from week to week, until our days which are numbered have come to a close.

We want to call attention to our wet advocates that the tax on liquor may not pay all our debts. The United States, the driest Nation on the face of the earth, is able to loan more money to our wet Nations than they can pay back with all their beer and liquor tax. This fact alone demonstrates that the dryer the Nation the more wealthy its people. So don't count on the beer tax paying all our debts, if it come back we will be in a worse state than before.

Now Jim Ferguson has done the expected, thrown a monkey wrench in the wheels of the State machinery, to hold up the road work that the National Government and the State Government has been trying to get underway and have had under way for some time to relieve the unemployed for the winter. Many people will be out of employment if Jim can stop the work until he can get his hands on the money bag.

EFFICIENCY — ECONOMY — SERVICE

In boom times extravagant government is a luxury we can't afford.

In normal times it is a drag on industry and the individual, acting as a barrier to progress that would otherwise be achieved.

In depressed times, it is one of the greatest obstacles we must hurdle in the work of recovery—an obstacle creating more mortgage foreclosures, more business failures, a deeper depression.

Soon Congress will again convene. It will have before it many bills, most of which will deal with the problems of depression. It will have as its duty the advancement of a recovery which has already started. There is no way it could be of greater service to us all than to reduce the cost of government.

It can do that without in the least harming the real, the necessary functions of government. It can eliminate useless and duplicating bureaus, archaic commissions, purposeless departments within departments. It can cut millions from the budget. Doing that would not help only relieve the tax burden—it would set a sorely-needed example to states and municipalities, which cost us a great deal more than does the government at Washington.

Efficiency, economy, service—those are the watchwords of progressive business now. They must likewise be the watchwords of government, in all its branches.

*GARDEN OF EXPERIENCE*

By F. G. Clark

According to scripture, man is, that is, the white man is the youngest, the latest creation of God now upon the face of the earth. The earth itself is of incalculable age since it is recorded that it was created in the beginning. But the white race, according to Biblical genealogy, is about six thousand years old. And this agrees with secular history.

Man's sojourn upon earth is recorded in his works:

According to some so-called scientists, man has been upon the earth for several billions of years. If this be true, how is it that he created no mark of his presence until about six thousand years ago? The ruins of the temple of Carnack are the oldest remains of ancient civilization that the modern world has discovered, and it bears the indisputable marks of its origin. Its age does not exceed five thousand years. The pyramids are much younger. Now is it not strange that if man has been on the earth so many millions of years, that the modern scientists would have us believe, that he never thought to build a house, or write a book, or dig a canal, until he came within the Biblical limit of his age?

The fact is, that the earth has grown from a small germ to its present size and development. If you could cut the earth thru to its center as you can an apple, you would find it has rings of growth, like a tree. These rings of growth are called geological strata, and each of these has the remains of life forms, which existed in that age. As each ring of growth was completed, God created a form, or order of life suited to the environment that ring furnished. As each succeeding ring was more mature than the preceding one, it furnished a congenial home for a higher order of life than the preceding one, until at last the maturing earth was ready for the habitation of man, and this was six thousand years ago.

There have been great changes in the earth since man's creation. For two thousand years, Adam's descendants never saw the sun, and he lived nearly a thousand years. With the breaking up of the fountains of the great deep, that is the falling of the immense ring of vapor that surrounded the earth and cut off the sunshine, and thus causing the flood. A great change came over the earth, and with it a change in man with the coming of sunlight and the changing of seasons, man's life became shorter and more intense.

Since man's residence is on the earth, the great changes seem to be meted out in two thousand-year periods. From man's creation to the flood, two thousand years. From the deluge to Christ, two thousand years. If the second coming of Christ should follow this order, our descendants may experience a great cataclysm within the next hundred years.

ROADS ON THE BARGAIN COUNTER

In pointing out to highway officials and engineers the importance of the Tenth Annual Asphalt Paving Conference, to be held in New Orleans, December 5-9, T. H. MacDanold, Chief of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, said that roads are on the bargain counter today.

He observed that roads are almost the only "commodity" which can be built now without glutting the market, and that the Bureau of Public Roads is now interested in three angles of the low-cost road movement: First, extending the mudless and dustless road mileage; second, protecting the investment in grave roads by the addition of bituminous binders; third, the increased safety resulting from road improvement.

It is the Bureau's opinion that a road should not carry an expenditure beyond its own earning power—in other words, that it should not cost more than traffic surveys show it can earn through motor vehicle and gasoline taxes. Even when all types of road are amazingly cheap, as at present, the need for scientific selection of materials and methods is great. To build a twenty-thousand-dollar a-mile road where a five-thousand-dollar one will do is to throw fifteen thousand dollars of tax money away. Further, to continue to maintain old dirt and gravel roads at great expense when inexpensive surfacing would lower maintenance costs is a useless extravagance.

The farmers are the greatest sufferers from inferior roads. They need mudless dustless arteries that will permit inexpensive and fast transport at all seasons of the year. With roads marked down for immediate purchase, now is the time to build.

We are offering from now until the holidays our line of John B. Stetson Hats at bargain prices. You only have to wear one of these hats to appreciate them in their fullness. See Williams Man's Shop for prices and the Hats that give satisfaction always.

WHY TRY TO MAKE LIFE WHAT IT REALLY ISN'T

Mary Dell Williams
Is life to you what you think it should be? If it isn't do you know why? Are you trying to make life an enjoyable one or not?

There is the point, for it surely is what we ourselves cultivate it to be. If you continually have on your mind the idea that no one cares for you, that no one likes or tries to make you happy and that there isn't anything in this world for you, it will grow worse each day, and soon you will always look on the gloomy side of life. Do you not see that life to you is just your attitude toward things? If you look on the bright side of things and try in every way to brighten them, then life is more than an empty vessel drifting aimlessly along.

Should life be joyful or sad? Surely, there are disappointments in life but it was not intended for every thing to be happiness and sunshine. These are our lessons and they are sent just for a trial and examination on our part. Take life as it comes and do your best to make your life peaceful, enjoyable, spiritual, happy, and Christ like one and surely it will mean more than a down-trodden, unhappy, and unconcerned world to you.

What is life? Just what do we mean when we speak of life? It is a living spirit placed upon this earth for no set or definite length of time. A gift from God to the human being, fashioned and molded according to the desire, ambition, and will of the individual.

If we do our very best here, then certainly our life is a happy and beneficial one, not only to us but to those with whom we come in contact during our time here on earth.

Why try to make of life what it really isn't? It is a beautiful joyful, inspirational, and wonderful as well as perfect reality if we make it thus. While, on the other hand, it can be just as disappointing as this is beautiful if we term to make it so. Each day let's endeavor to make

Gordon Williamson
The following history is one of the first to appear in this paper which we hope that you will all enjoy as much as we hope you will. The Seniors of 1932-33 are a handsome bunch as you all know and we are sure that you will all laugh at some of the incidents in their past lives as well as some that happen now. An article of this sort will appear in this section every week until we have told you about those stuck-up Seniors. Then perhaps the Freshmen will get a chance at a little publicity!

Frances Mills
When I was a small child, about two years of age, my father was employed by the railroad company at Clinton, Oklahoma, where I was born, but they moved him to Fletcher, Oklahoma.

I was much too young to go to school then but my two brothers began immediately. Two girls who I lived near my home were very fond of me, however, and took me to school with them quite often. As soon as I was large enough to understand anything, they taught me songs and taught me to play some of them on the piano.

By the time I was old enough to go to school I could read as well as any first grader and could spell and work arithmetic easily. I was a favorite with all of my teachers and especially with the superintendent of the school. I can remember many times when Mr. Tripp would come into the first grade room and ask me to read for him.

Mr. Tripp was very fond of children. At noon and recess he would go out on the school ground and play with the little children as if he were a child himself. The little girls that I played with were always glad to see him coming because he was such a help. All of us girls enjoyed playing on the acting bars but none of us were tall enough to reach them. I can remember plainly Mr. Tripp lifting each girl and setting her on the bar and then helping her down to keep her from falling.

Mother seemed to think I was a mean girl when I was a small child, but I did not think so. I liked to take my dolls to my one of my friends', who lived only a short distance, and play. Sometimes Mother would not let me go and I would slip off and go anyway. As soon as she missed me she would get a long switch and come after me. I would hide until she got in the house and slip out the back door and beat her home. But I never failed to get a whipping.

The railroad company kept on moving continually. We left Fletcher in 1924 when I was eight years of age and moved six times before we moved to Texas in 1927. I began my high school career in the Rankin High School.

My freshman year in school was the most extraordinary. Each one in the class felt that he had accomplished something great. Consequently the lower grades were pestered all of the time. The Freshmen did as they pleased on the school ground. While I was a Freshman I began going to parties and having boy friends. Mother and Dad, however did not approve of my having boy friends so young, for I was only twelve, but since the other high school girls had boy friends I thought I should have them, too.

My first "date" was with a Freshman boy about my own age. He was very bashful and did not wish to come into the house but since I was not ready to go to the show, he had to stay awhile. The boy was very nice looking and I was really thrilled over the "date". But mother and dad teased me so much, I began to feel that I did not do so well with my first beau.

When I was a sophomore one of my brothers, who had been working for several years, started to school again. He was also a Sophomore. This was my happiest year in school. My brother was a pal to me and where one was the other was near. We were attending a school largely composed of Germans who had lived there all of their lives. They seemed to think we were very different from them and we were soon leaders of our crowd. He led the boys and I the girls. In school, if we began any meanness or anything good, which seldom all of them followed, regardless of the punishment that came. There were only three high school teachers and they were all our pals.

The memory of the April Fool during my Sophomore year will remain in the minds of many boys and girls of Sagerton High School. Mother and Dad gave my brother and me permission to remain out of school that day if we wished. We went to school in the car that morning and he recess we had several ready to leave with us. We left with about half of the high school in three cars and spent the day on the river.

But the next day was not so pleasant. Each student that was absent was asked to bring a written permit from his parents. Some of them could not get a permit so my brother and I wrote permits for them. We were certainly tired when we finished, but we had saved our fellow classmates from punishment.

My Junior year in Eldorado High School was rather dull. During the first semester I was always ill and seldom felt like taking part in the school activities. About Christmas I was operated on for appendicitis. I had to miss several weeks of school and when I started again there was no time for foolishness because I had to work hard to pass the course. About this time my brother stopped school and was married. It seemed that all the interest in school had vanished with him.

Now I am a Senior in the Eldorado High School. There are many things of interest in the school to keep one out of mischief and it is time to think of the days after school days are over. Some boys and girls do not go to school unless their parents make them but I would not, if I could, sell the memories of my school days for any sum of money. The memory of my school days is the sweetest memory of my life.

THE TYPEWRITER

By Hassell Ratliff
The typewriter is a funny machine. It writes most every kind of word. But when a beginner starts his typing it usually looks absurd.

The typewriter is hard to handle. It makes you pull your hair, But if you try right hard for months, You'll sit in the golden chair.

My typing class is nearly over, But still I hear the ring of brass. Of the ever busy typ-writers And the soft droll of the steno class.

Thelma Taylor
The study hall bell is ringing To English class I must go, To hand in this short poem Of typewriters worn our years ago.

PERSONALS

Thelma Taylor
Eli McAngus, more commonly known as "Legs" was visiting the home folks during the Thanksgiving holidays. I presume that he was visiting the home folks, but he spent most of his time at the Keeney residence although I can hardly see what he should be doing there!

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF SCHLEICHER: By Virtue of an Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Schleicher County, on the 4th day of November 1932, by the Clerk thereof, in the case of Alien Manufacturing Company, Ltd., versus M. O. Shafer No. 473, and to me, as Sheriff, directed and delivered, I will proceed to sell, within the hours prescribed by law for Sheriff's Sales, on the FIRST TUESDAY in December A. D. 1932, it being the 6th day of said month, before the Court House door or said Schleicher County, in the City of Eldorado, Texas, the following described property, to-wit:
Lot Fifteen (15) in Block One (1) in the Glendale Addition to the town of Eldorado, Texas.
Levied on as property of M. O. Shafer to satisfy a Judgment amounting to $2,261.60 in favor of Allen Manufacturing Co., Ltd., and cost of suit.
Given under my hand, this 10th day of November 1932.
O. E. Conner, Sheriff

Albert McGinty (the guy we all call "Bull") was riding a bicycle through our town and stopped off for a few days visit. He attended the Sonora game and gave the boys a "little pep talk at half which seemed to cheer them up a bit. As you all know Albert is attending the Texas Technical College at Lubbock. See you again Christmas, Bull.

Robert Milligan and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milligan visited friends and relatives in Santa Anna. Roberta reports that turkey was plentiful there as they had one every day for four days. Sounds like. Thanks-giving all right.

Evelyn Anderson visited with her grandmother during the week-end about thirteen miles from Menard. She also reports a big dinner and a grand time.

Neil Campbell spent the Thanksgiving holidays on their ranch. She must have had a good deal to eat too as she has gained about five pounds.

Jim West says that he was a good little boy for once in his life. The only place that he went was from the station to home and from home to the station.

Iola Haines took a big holiday. She wasn't satisfied with four days so she took ten. Well, the old saying still holds true, "If you give a person an inch he will take a mile." Anyway she enjoyed her time spent with her parents at Mills, Texas.

Do you recognize the writing above? Not Well, it is representing Shorthand, believe it or not. The class of shorthand pupils are very proud of the fact that they can write a little shorthand (very little) even if no one but themselves can read it. If you want to save time in taking notes, etc. then just learn your shorthand and your troubles are over and the skies are blue.

Lucille Oglesby, an ex-student in shorthand, visited the '32-'33 class last Monday a week ago. She was the best pupil in the '31-'32 class and she is still a fair reader and writer when the chance is given her to prove it. She says that she couldn't do without shorthand in college because it helps her out so much in taking down lectures.

If you want to see how our class is progressing come up and visit the Home Economics room during the first period on any day except Sunday or Saturday.

—E.—H.—S.—

THAT SEAM IS NOT STRAIGHT

Thelma Taylor
The Home Economics class of 1932-33 is not as large a size as the one of 1931-32 but it is just as happy. The girls get a better opportunity to use the machines than the larger class did. There are six machines for ten girls. The class consists of seven Freshmen: Jetty Grace DeLong

Margurite Chick, Wenona Enochs, Margaret Powers, Mildred Willis, Inez Bruton, Mary Jess Roy, One Junior, Minnie Logan; One Senior, Thelma Taylor, and one ex-graduate: Iola Haines.

The grades on the first project ranged from B plus to C. The girls have started their second project which is a wash dress. The variety of dresses is very great and a chapel program will be put on when they are completed. If you want to see some one to do your sewing, please communicate with one of the girls listed above. We will appreciate your cooperation.

JOKES

J. R. Conner
Miss Allen: Junior, how does Longfellow's famous poem read Junior Isaacs: Under the Spreading blacksmith's tree the village crenut stands!

Coach: Jack what is a triple threat man?
Jack Shugart: A football player that can stumble, fumble and fall.

Maybe professors just seem absent-minded because they give football stars 94 instead of 49.

Some people are so stingy that they won't even pay their respects unless there is something in it.

Mr. Holt (to boy who had just told him the truth): Give me your hand, my boy. I'm proud of you.

Pancho: No siree! I may want to use it tomorrow.

Jetty Grace (referring to some rick-rack tape which she should have put on the yoke of her dress and had forgotten): Oh! Miss Turney, I forgot to put on the zig-zag.

This article will concern only the San Angelo High School and the Eldorado High School and will be a description of both of these schools. Of course everyone knows that the San Angelo High school is much larger than Eldorado High but that should have no effect on the way each is conducted. If anything, the Eldorado school should be better as a whole because there are not so many pupils to be looked after. But to get on with the comparison, here you are:

Eldorado has the second story of the school building for a High School, while San Angelo has a larger building which is entirely dedicated as the High School. That is what should be expected of a town the size of San Angelo. She has more people and therefore more taxpayers to keep the school going. The High School of Eldorado is adequate to the needs of the Eldoradoans.

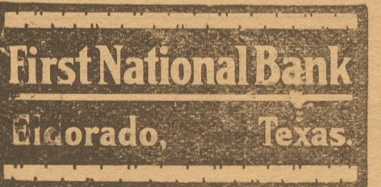

Next, San Angelo High does not have department which would be a drawback to them if they did. We say this because there are too many pupils there to be able to remember just which one threw this spit-ball and which one pulled Mary's hair. In Eldorado this is a very different story as there are not so many pupils and they are easy to keep up with.

Physical Education in the San Angelo Schools is required and has a set time for each pupil to attend gymnasium each day. In Eldorado physical education is required but is taken during the noon hour in playground baseball, tennis, or basketball. One teacher has charge of Physical Education in San Angelo while one has charge of each sport in Eldorado.

The pupils of the San Angelo High Schools are not allowed to go home for dinner but have their choice of bringing their dinners or eating in the school cafeteria. They have only twenty-five minutes for noon while we have one hour and can go home for dinner if we choose.

One good point about Eldorado Schools that the San Angelo Schools do not have is that it has only seven periods a day while San Angelo has eight periods and a ninth period for misbehaviors. Eldorado has an eight period for failures and misbehaviors combined. San Angelo does not have an extra period for failures, which scores another point for Eldorado in raising the standard of our school.

BAILEY RANCH SCHOOL NOTES

Then "Mike" comes yelling out
On his paint mare so fleet
He reminds us of some apache
Who rides only with his feet

There's Andrew, the famous stunt rider,
Who never fails to come,
Can jump off his horse backwards,
Then catch him before he can run.

Miss Florence Nixon counters out
With her riding quirt in hand
Oh no, you needn't laugh,
For she can ride good as any man.

Where is that wild Jack Meador
Yes, yonder he is holding his rein!
A few more minutes and he'll be gone
He rides alone, but its all the same.

At last here comes Noble
He is very quiet and slow,
Until he takes a sudden notion
To make old Dolly go.

As they pass out the gate,
On their homeward way,
We never feel lonesome,
For they'll be back next day.

On Wednesday of this week
Miss Herbert's room entertained with a Thanksgiving program.
Some of the children's parents were present and every one enjoyed the program.
