Farm-To-Market Road To Be Completed

Farm to Market Road improvements in Collingsworth County are included in the 1976 Texas Farm to Market Road Program approved recently by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

District Engineer Lewis H. White of Childress said work in this area includes F. M. 3143 from the Donley County line South and East 6.1 miles.

Paving of this section of road will complete the Farm to Market Road link between U. S. Highway 83, thru Dozier, to McLean.

"The project will be let when funds become available," said White. Construction of the Farm to Market Road system is partially financed by a $15,000,000 annual appropriation from state general funds. The projects are selected after consultation by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation with county commissioners courts as to projects and priorities.

Many of the roads included in the system are transferred from local jurisdictions for upgrading and development. The local governments are responsible for furnishing all the required right of way, while the state has the responsibility for construction and maintenance.

Community Service Survey Scheduled

Gray County has been selected as one of 3 rural counties in the Texas High Plains area for a community service research survey starting during the week of June 1. The research will determine community service user-satisfaction and provide a basis for planning future community development programs.

According to Mr. Joe VanZandt, Gray County Extension Agent, this survey is being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, as a part of a five state project.

Interviewers will contact selected households to obtain information that will represent all families of the area. Interviewers will be wearing Texas A&M University name tags and will have identification cards as they call on households in the county. Mr. VanZandt says that while the survey is not of a personal nature, all individual information will be kept confidential.

Each household will be selected by a scientific sampling procedure to represent about 250 other households. For this reason "full cooperation is important to the success of the survey", says Mr. VanZandt.

After interviews are completed by June 30, the information will be analyzed to determine user needs and problems in the Panhandle area. The survey report will be made available to local groups and state and federal agencies concerned with community service programs.

Other counties to be surveyed include Lipscomb and Moore.

New Housing Being Planned

The McLean Housing Authority has proposed the construction of 16 units for middle income families. The authority is seeking FHA financing for the 240,000 dollar project.

As proposed, the units would be efficiency, one, two, and three-bedroom arranged in duplex, triplex and quadruplex. The units would be carpeted. Rent rates would be compiled according to income, however, the units would not be government subsidized. The maximum eligible income would be established.

A location for the project at 5th and Cypress has been given by the city. The city council voted unanimously to grant the site for the housing project.

A survey of 20 local families was conducted for the Housing Authority by the VFW Auxiliary this spring. Sixty rent families were asked if they would rent such housing rather than their current residences if it were available. Fifty-eight of the interviewed responded positively.

Action by the FHA office and other state authorities is expected in several weeks. Mrs. Jim Hathaway, Executive Director for the Housing Authority, said construction might begin in midsummer, if approval is granted.

Mrs. Hathaway also serves as manager of the H. U. D. duplexes located on East Sixth and East 4th. "The ceiling income for occupancy in the existing duplex units are too low to allow use by teachers and nurses," said Mrs. Hathaway. The maximum income for residence in the duplex units is $3,500 and the units are government subsidized.

Market Report

Texas-grown honeydew melons reflect increasing supplies and lower prices in grocery stores across the state-along with cantaloupe and watermelons.

A 50 per cent supply increase is predicted for the Texas honeydew melon crop this year-with prices on the Texas melons more attractive than on those from the West Coast, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reports. Consumers can recognize a mature, ripe honeydew by its creamy-white appearance and its pronounced honeydew aroma.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Other economical fruit choices include strawberries, bananas, oranges and pineapples, while first-of-the-season peaches are on the market with relatively high prices, the specialist added.

Vegetable supplies also show signs of increase as gardens and crops from local truck farms come into production, and if this trend follows the usual, prices will come into production, and if this trend follows the usual, prices will decrease as supplies increase, Mrs. Clyatt explained.

Vegetables to consider are snap beans, carrots, cabbage and corn-along with cucumbers, the late fifties. Currently serving are Carey Don Smith, chairman; Mike Johnson, vice-chairman; and Johnny Mertel, E. M. Bailey, Ted Simmons, commissioners. The Authority acts as a non-profit administrative body (over government-financed housing in McLean).

yellow squash, dry yellow onions, radishes and green onions.

On the dairy scene, milk production is near its seasonal peak, so consumer dollars used for milk and dairy products are well spent.

At beef counters, supplies continue 'large,' so it's a good time to buy extra family favorite cuts and freeze them for later.

Specials, generally, appear on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef and liver.

At poultry counters, fryer chicken prices are about the same--to slightly higher.

As predicted, prices will go higher with increased demand for family cookouts and picnics.

Consider turkey parts as a budget stretcher, because the supply is adequate and often a featured item in markets.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: Main-dish convenience foods are sometimes a lot more expensive than home-made versions.

According to survey figures on 1974-75 prices, for example, a 79-cent frozen beef dinner

JON NEWTON

Texas Railroad Commission

The Railroad Commission is one of the most powerful regulatory and conservation agencies in America. Two candidates are in the June 5th Democratic runoff election:

JERRY SADLER, 68, who entered politics in the 1930's, was defeated as Land Commissioner in 1970 after an official reprimand from the Texas House for refusal to cooperate in an investigation... bad absentee record in public office... investigated by a grand jury for using a state employee to run his private motel... sued for civil tax fraud by the IRS... in 1969 the Dallas Times Herald declared "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision," and in 1976 the San Angelo Standard echoed, "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

JON NEWTON, 34, three-term House member with solid record of public service... authored the law regulating strip mining... fought for a Public Utility Commission... serves on Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Mining Council of Texas, Governor's Energy Advisory Council, House Energy Resources Committee (vice chairman)... endorsed by major newspapers throughout Texas... described by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal as "the resident expert on energy matters in the State Legislature"... in the first Democratic primary his Bee County neighbors gave him an 85% majority over his seven opponents.

Texas' energy and utility rate problems can be solved only by vigorous, responsible leadership and fresh approaches.

CARL DALLY

Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals

"Carl Dally has been a commissioner-in-aid to the court of criminal appeals for half a decade. He has argued before the U.S. Supreme Court and has had extensive experience in both the criminal and civil branches of the law. His opponent is a man with no judicial or appellate experience in criminal cases. We urge Texas Democrats eligible to vote in the June 5 runoff to inform themselves of the qualifications of the candidates in this and all races. We urge them not to vote for a vaguely familiar name, but to vote for the best man. In the case of the runoff for the criminal appeals court, the best candidate is clearly Carl Dally."

AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls Carl Dally "eminently qualified" and the Houston Chronicle says he is "uniquely suited" to serve on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Dally is also endorsed by newspapers in Dallas, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Tyler, Bryan, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Victoria and Wichita Falls.

Ask your lawyer, your district attorney, any judge, or informed friend about the candidates in this important race. Then vote for the best man.

WE WANT YOU.....

We proudly extend a cordial invitation to one and all to bring their Bibles (if you do not have one, we have one for you) and study with us in our five day Vacation Bible School, June 7 through 11 at 8:00 each evening. We will have classes for every age group, infants through adults. The theme of our study will be "GIVE ME THE BIBLE." In an age that is becoming more materialistic and atheistic with each passing day, how refreshing it is to take God's word and meditate upon it, imbibing of the great spiritual benefits thereof.

This book, the Bible, contains the mind of God, the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, and the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are true, and its precepts are binding, its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe in it to be safe, and practice it to be holy. It contains light to direct you, food to support you, and comfort to cheer you. It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilot's compass, the soldier's sword, and the Christian's charter. Here paradise is restored, heaven opened, and the gates of hell disclosed. Christ is its grand object, our good its design, and the glory of God its end. It should fill the memory, rule the heart, and guide the feet. Read it slowly, frequently, and prayerfully. It is a mine of wealth, a paradise of glory, and a river of pleasure. It is given you in life, will be opened in the judgement, and be remembered forever. It involves the highest responsibility, will reward the greatest labor, and will condemn all who trifle with its sacred contents.

We want YOU to bring your Bible and study with us the wonderful message of God!

Over the years, America's health services delivery system has grown from the days of individual private physicians working alone in their own communities to the present complex, interdependent network of physicians, clinics, laboratories, hospitals, emergency medical systems, and public health agencies. Not too many years ago, the only contact most people had with the health system began when they became ill, and ended with a visit to their family doctor. Now, at least in the larger metropolitan areas, people can choose from an array of private, public, and semi-public health services, not only to treat illness but to prevent it.

The system, however, has grown with virtually no coordination or planning. Thus some areas have more services than the public can effectively use, while other areas--especially rural areas--still lack even the barest minimum.

The National Health Planning and Resources Development Act of 1974 is intended to overcome some of these problems by providing for a degree of coherent direction. Last year, the Texas Legislature designated the Texas Department of Health Resources as the State's health planning and resource development agency.

Robert O. Humble, Director of the Division of Health Planning, explains that the State Agency will operate primarily as a coordinating body for a network of 12 Health Systems Agencies. He says, "The Health Systems Agency is intended to provide health planning and resource development at the local level. These agencies will be responsible for developing plans for improving the health of residents of their areas, and they will be responsible for implementing these plans.

Each of the Health Systems agencies will serve a specific geographic area. There are twelve HSA's for the entire State and each agency covers a large territory. Because of sparse populations in some areas of the state, there is wide variation in the number of people that each HSA SERVES. Humble says "The HSA's range, in terms of population from less than 300,000 all the way up to almost 3 million.

This concept supports and complements the Department's development of Public Health Regions, which has been in process since 1970, and is predicted upon the same reasoning. Eight public health regions are currently in operation, two more will be activated in September of this year and an additional two are planned so that an ultimate total of twelve will exist and function within the same geographical areas as the Health Systems agencies as required by Section 1.08, Texas H. B. 2164, 64th Legislature and P. L. 93-641.

All of the HSA's are organized along similar lines; several have been established by the existing councils of government. Each HSA has a governing body, or board of directors, and a pro-

News From ALAN REED

Professional staff. According to Humble, guidelines have been developed to ensure that the governing bodies include broad community representation. He explains, "The governing body will be comprised of at least 51 percent, but not more than 51 percent, but not more than 60 percent, consumers of health care. Of this body, one-third can be elected local public officials."

"The remaining members of the governing body--anywhere from 40 to 49 percent of the membership--will consist of providers of health care. These members typically would include physicians, nurses, dentists, hospital administrators, and others who are directly involved in providing health care services to the public."

With overall guidance from the Texas Department of Health Resources, the hope is that the newly-founded Health Systems Agencies throughout Texas will be able to ensure that some day every citizen will have ready access to the health resources he or she needs.

Violations Are On The Increase

There were 43 percent more hunting, fishing and state park violations in April 1976 than for a similar period in 1975, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, whose game wardens are charged with enforcing game and fish laws in the state.

Recently completed figures show 2,799 arrests in April, compared to 1,956 in April 1975. Convictions also registered a 17 percent increase, from 1,147 to 1,341.

Led by a whopping 66 percent increase in water safety-related violations, categories covered range from illegal harvesting of game animals to fishing without a license.

Most water safety violations were by boat operators who did not have a life jacket for each person aboard.

County Agricultural Agents
Texas A. & M. College
Extension Service

By Joe VanZandt

We have recently received a new fact sheet-Insect and Mite Pests of field corn, L-1417. The leaflet discusses the biology and control aspects of the southwestern corn borer and spider mite complex associated with corn. Pesticides labeled for use on corn for the control of the southwestern corn borer and the spider mite complex are also covered in this fact sheet.

If you want to receive a copy of this fact sheet when we get our office supply in, please call the office, 669-7429, to reserve a copy. We will mail your copy when we receive the office supply. I would think every corn grower would want to order a copy.

Also we have recently received information about the new herbicide "Roundup". If you have some questions about this, call or come by the office.

Have any of you irrigation farmers ever had trouble with frogs and salamanders getting into tail water pumps? I asked some of our extension specialists and they came up with a reasonable solution-use 100 pounds of anhydrous ammonium per acre foot of water in the pond or lake. This would also kill any fish present in the water.

This small amount of anhydrous should not be enough to cause extensive corrosion of aluminum pipe. However, there is a possibility corrosion could develop. The injection of an inhibitor such as sodium polysulfate will clean the pipe and prevent corrosion. One product that could be used is Calgon at the rate of one pound per 100 pounds of ammonium.

I thought this information might be useful to a few farmers who have had this problem. I would be interested in hearing the results if anyone tries this method.

Last week, we had foot rot diagnosed in a wheat sample brought in by Wiley Reynolds. The affected wheat was in spots scattered across one field that had been in continuous wheat for several years. The wheat was stunted and yellow. I would guess that these spots will be dead in about two more weeks.

Foot rot is a fungus disease that lives in the soil on decaying organic matter. If you suspect foot rot in any of your fields, call me or bring a sample by the office. Foot rot affected wheat will have a weak root system (can be pulled up easily) and the base of the stems will be dark brown, having a rotted appearance.

You should rotate your land and plant something else for a few years. Every field of wheat root rot I have seen has been on land in continuous wheat for several years.

Home gardeners should be watching the soil temperature closely as they prepare for this season's plantings.

Experienced gardeners know that soil temperature controls the rate of vegetable seed germination and the early development of many vegetable plants.

We have just come through a period of declining soil temperature. It is probable that the soil temperature will slowly rise in the next few weeks to near optimum. Growers who wait to plant until the average soil temperature is at least 65 to 70 degrees at the four to six inch depth know that their temperature sensitive vegetables will produce earlier fruit and higher total yield than earlier seedings made when the soil is cold.

The snap bean, which has large seed and a tender seedling, is a good example. If the soil temperature is 59 degrees Fahrenheit, snap bean seed will germinate in about 16 days, whereas

The Worst Is Yet To Be... Down Again... Crying Time Again... Don't Forget.

Screwworm infestations are expected to be increasing throughout the state from now through summer. Recent rains, lack of a cold winter, and warmer weather are all reasons for the expected onslaught of screwworm problems this season.

Fly officials at the fly laboratory in Mission continue to urge livestock producers to:

1. Check your livestock regularly.
2. Treat wounds on livestock with approved screwworm-control remedies.
3. Delay surgery on livestock as long as possible.
4. Submit suspected samples to the fly laboratory at Mission for their verification.

In doing these things, livestock producers will be doing their part to hold down infestation at as low a level as possible.

TEXAS' SPRING ONION CROP prospects are up again. Based on May 1 prospects, the forecast is 45 percent above a year ago and three per cent more than the April 1 projection.

The state's summer onion crop is estimated to be 6,600 acres for harvest; this is 27 per cent above the 5,200 acres harvested last season.

The 6,600 acres for harvest include both crops in the Trans-Pecos and on the High Plains but excludes late onion varieties that will be harvested after July 1 in South Texas.

DON'T FORGET TO APPLY for the Family Land Heritage Program. This honors farm and ranch families who have owned and operated the same land continuously 100 years or more through the family's descendants. Complete information may be obtained by writing the Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

emergence will occur in about eight days.

The rain this week is going to cause wheat farmers to be concerned about weeds. Most dry-land wheat is rather thin and doesn't have enough ground cover to prevent weed growth if sufficient moisture is present for weeds. Wheat can be sprayed with 2,4-D when it reaches the soft dough stage without danger of yield reduction.

Letter To The Editor

(Editor's note): J. L. Allen, a former resident of McLean has been ill and he wants to share this letter with his friends, so they will know how his condition is.)

It is true I have had angina pectoris, which is the heart muscles complaining that they are not getting enough oxygen. This occurs when your heart is working a little harder than usual.

Usually Angina is caused by narrowed opening in the coronary arteries, which makes it difficult for the blood to travel freely into the heart muscles.

With medication and rest and a slower pace of work I hope to be back in normal health in three months.

I am planning on hooking some fish while I am regaining my strength. We say hello to everyone and would love to hear from all of you.
