VOLUME 75 McLEAN, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1978 PRICE 15c NUMBER 13

Editor's Notebook

Summer baseball for the boys and girls of McLean is just around the corner, and Cecil Reynolds, who is one of the coaches and is greatly involved in the program, brings to our attention several things that need to be done to get the bats swinging this year.

Reynolds, the junior high math teacher, says plans have been made to put new wire on the backstop at the baseball field and to build a new grandstand. Several loads of dirt are needed for the infield, in addition to other work that needs to be done, he says.

Anyone interested in helping can contact one of the coaches, listed in the news story on baseball in this issue, Wesley Swamer, Bob McDowell, or Dub Stokes.

Reynolds says someone last week stole two 2" pipes, more than 20 feet long, from the baseball field. Replacements are needed for them, as well as some 2" by 12" boards for the bleachers.

Some of the game pants for the Little League players are missing, and Reynolds urges anyone who has them to return the pants. The Babe Ruth team is in need of new pants.

The youth baseball program has been boosted much by El Paso Natural Gas Co., McLean Cattle Co., Gray County crews, and others.

Note to readers in Lefors:

If anyone is interested, we will try to start a "Lefors News" column. As far as I know, Lefors doesn't get very good coverage in any area newspaper.

If anyone in Lefors has brief items which you think are newsworthy, please mail them to us or get them to us in some way. We will see how much we get and will consider printing "Lefors News."

Our deadline for Thursday publication is at noon on Tuesday.

Don't miss Leland Myers' cartoon on page 2. He is GOOD!

As the Panhandle begins to thaw out from winter, we'll be seeing snakes of various kinds from time to time, David Blake of Clarendon

Canadian Boy Killed

A 17-year old boy, Ricky Morehead, died Tuesday of injuries suffered when he fell from a moving pickup truck and struck his head on pavement. Morehead had gone to help fight a fire on the Danny Urachel ranch. About 2,500 acres of ranchland were destroyed by the flames in Gray County before they were confined to the marshlands along the Canadian River.

The blaze, which began North of the Pampa airport on Price Road, and extended about 30 miles to the Canadian River, burned for more than eight hours. At one time the fireline extended over 12 miles. McLean firemen were called to aid fire units from Pampa, Miami, Perryton, Lefors, Wheeler, Shamrock, and Canadian.

Northwest winds of 35 miles an hour stymied fire extinguishing efforts by the firefighters.

On Sunday, McLean's fire department was called to put out a small grass fire behind Howard Gipson's home.

In other action Tuesday, firemen from McLean stopped the spread of another grass fire on the Pampa Highway at the Johnny Hines' place.

Two McLean Men Chosen For Training

J.A. Farber and Jim McDonald of McLean are among participants chosen for the first Texas Panhandle EMS Advanced Life Support Training program.

The two local men will join about 25 other people from Panhandle towns in the emergency medical care training.

Farber is a member of the McLean Ambulance Association, and McDonald is the local fire chief.

Major advances have been made in the delivery of emergency medical care in the Panhandle.

The program to begin in April will feature more sophisticated training, leading to paramedic level personnel (as seen on TV's "Emergency").

The Panhandle progressing to an ALS system involves more sophisticated training and operation with skilled field personnel (paramedics) trained to identify and treat life-threatening emergencies at the scene and enroute to hospital.

School Board Election Set Saturday

Incumbents Tony Smitherman and June Suggs and H.D. (Casper) Smith are on the ballot for the McLean Independent School District board of trustees in an election scheduled for Saturday.

Seeking a spot on the board as a write-in candidate is Gerald Tate.

On the ballot for the Gray County school board is M.M. Finney.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday at the school cafeteria.

Five Seeking Positions On City Council

Five men are running for three places on the McLean city council in an election slated for Saturday.

Miro Pakan, an incumbent, Boyd Meador, H. D. (Casper) Smith, G. W. Terry, and Boyd Lee Thompson are the candidates.

Balloting will be at the city hall from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday.

The city park was filled with young and old this weekend as McLean residents enjoyed the first warm days of spring. Tennis, skateboarding, see-sawing, and all sorts of activities went on. Chuck Pierce follows through on a football throw in the top left photo. At the top right, Christi Coward and Tuffy Sanders pause during their whirl on the merry-go-round. Below, Joy Rhine balances herself and then seems to have gained stability on her skateboard. (Staff Photos by Linda Haynes)

It's Springtime!

McLean Baseball Program To Begin

Little League baseball practice will begin around the first of April, according to Cecil Reynolds, one of the coaches and the McLean Junior High math teacher.

Games are scheduled to begin in May, and McLean boys and girls will be in the same league as last year.

Plans are being made for a Babe Ruth team sponsored by the McLean Cattle Co. for boys and girls age 13 through 15.

The two Little League teams will be the Cubs, sponsored by the American National Bank, and the Cats, sponsored by the Cowboy Drive Inn. Boys and girls aged 9 through 12 are eligible for these teams.

A Pee Wee team called the Kittens does not yet have a sponsor. Youngsters of age 6 through 8 are eligible for the Pee Wee squad.

The 15 players on the Cubs will be coached by C.L. Wynn and Brian Stokes, while Wendell Ridgeway will coach the 15 Cats. Ridgeway does not yet have an assistant coach.

Gerald Reynolds will coach the Pee Wee team, and he also does not yet have an assistant. Cecil Reynolds and George Eck will be the coaches for the Babe Ruth team.

Applications may be obtained from Cecil Reynolds and need to be turned in before April 18. The rosters of the Cubs and Cats will be limited to 15 players each.

Election Not Set

No date has been set for a possible vote on the consolidation of the McLean and Alanreed school districts. It has been learned that the courts must set the date, and the matter currently is under study.

The Cut-Rate Grocery building, one of the first in Lefors, was one which was hit by the 1975 tornado in Lefors. The storm resulted in much destruction, many injuries, and one death. For a look at the rapid rebuilding effort at Lefors, turn to page 6. (Staff Photos by Linda Haynes)

Flying Queens Fall Short Of National Championship

The Hutcherson Flying Queens of Wayland Baptist College returned to Plainview disappointed this week after losing two close games in the AIAW national basketball championship in Los Angeles.

The Queens were upset March 23 by the Terrapins of Maryland 90-85 in a see-saw contest. The same night, UCLA defeated Montclair State 85-77 to make the national finals in an affair between two large colleges for the first time in history.

Saturday, Wayland was involved in another nip-and-tuck battle as they were edged by Montclair in overtime 90-88 in the game for third place. UCLA then won the national title on its Pauley Pavilion home court with a 90-74 victory over Maryland in a sloppily-played game by both teams.

Sheri Haynes of McLean saw little action in the Maryland game. She played at the end of the Montclair game and during the overtime, but did not score.

The Queens' next action will be in May when they travel to Hong Kong for exhibition games and Christian witnessing activities.

caught one of the first rattlesnakes to crawl out into the spring weather on land owned by Jake Heas south of town. The live reptile, which Blake had in a bucket (with a lid) and was displaying in down town McLean last week, was at least four feet long and had three rattles and a button.

Although The McLean News generally doesn't print poetry, I occasionally see something that I want to pass on to our readers in this column. The following is a poem by a McLean resident who asked that his name not be printed:

I stood on the streets, of my town
One fine day,
Why all the hustle and bustle?
I heard one man say,
Up spoke another with a smile on his face,
Why haven't you heard?
McLean's in the race,
After so many years of a slow snails pace
We have finally got going
We're now in the race,
One win brings another
Or so I've been told
And if we all stick together
A winner we'll mold.

EMERGENCY

Support (ALS) level, ambulances may be equipped with intravenous fluids and some form of bio-electrical communication (telemetry). This will enable paramedics with proper physician direction to evaluate the patient, provide treatment, and triage (transport to the proper facility) the critical patient. Standardized treatment with medical direction and regional triage ensures a progressive and continued enhancement of critical care for the patient--from the field to the initial care facility and to the advanced care facility.

Paramedics and emergency department nurses under medical control (a physician surrogate in voice contact with EKG telemetry) can provide resuscitation (CPR) and specific inter-ventive measures (e.g., endotracheal or esophageal intubation, intravenous therapy, cardiac dysrhythmia detection, and control with drugs and electrocounter shock).

Improvements in EMS the past two years have resulted from the development of a "systems approach" and integration of standardized vehicles, communications, medical equipment, training programs, recordkeeping, emergency facilities, and critical care unit capabilities. "At the scene" care by physician agents (certified Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT's) and emergency nurses) in radio communication with medical professional is improving care for a wide variety of critically ill and injured patients, especially those suffering from heart attack and vehicular accidents.

Development of an EMS system in the Panhandle began in 1975 with an upgrading of existing resources and resulted in establishment of a basic life support (LS) system. Logical progression is to advanced life support (ALS), where the level of EMS capability permits.

The EMS system is coordinated through a regional organization--The Texas Panhandle EMS System.

The past year's training courses through the Panhandle EMS including Crash Management-Extrication, Emergency Care Attendant, Emergency Medical Technician, and Respiratory Care of the High Risk Infant -- have been extended to hospital personnel as well as to volunteer ambulance personnel throughout the Panhandle. The transportation subsystem has been developed in the context of a hospital/critical care unit categorization program. To enhance transportation capabilities, a MED-A-VAC helicopter service was started in the fall of 1976 to provide transfer by trained trauma teams for the critically ill or injured, the coronary patient, and the high risk infant.

Dry Land Farmer GLENN CONRAD

He drove his tractor over 700 hours last year!

Glenn Conrad has been a full-time farmer all his life except for the time he spent in school and the two years he served in the Peace Corps. He's a farmer's farmer from a family of farmers.

to give Texas agriculture a competitive edge in the marketplace. He will be a positive influence to see that agriculture gets a fair shake in Austin.

While still a little shaver, Glenn was introduced to farming on his dad's John Deere two-cylinder model D tractor. Since then he's been through the good years and bad.

With a degree in Agricultural Economics from Texas Tech and a lifetime of experience in practical farming, Glenn is well qualified to work for the best interests of agriculture and businesses related to agriculture.

He now works about 2,000 acres near Claude, Texas. Part of the land is his, part of it his dad's, and he leases some of it. Last year Glenn planted 700 acres to wheat and 500 acres to maize. The remainder laid out.

He believes that action on the state level can help develop profitable markets for our farm products and pledges to do his dead level best to bring this about.

Hail got about 40% of his wheat crop last year and 20% to 30% of his grain sorghum. And, come harvest, he faced the same low, unfair prices as did every other farmer in the 66th District.

It would, however, be a gross miscarriage of responsibility to neglect other vital state issues with a preoccupation with the national farm program. The representative from this district must also have a thorough knowledge of, and deep concern for, such important issues as taxes, roads, water, energy, and the improvement of our educational system and an equitable plan for funding it. And, he must be concerned with the health care of all people in the 66th District, especially for the welfare of our older citizens. To neglect these vital state issues under the guise of solving the national farm program would be irresponsible.

When elected as your State Representative, Glenn Conrad will continue to farm. But he will be assisted by his brother, so that he can spend all the time needed to represent you properly in the state-house.

Glenn Conrad is a common-sense kind of fellow who won't promise you the moon. But he's not afraid of work, and you can be sure that he'll be in there pitching to get the things done that you need done in Austin.

Even though the State Legislature cannot write a national farm program, Glenn will use the prestige, authority and influence that the office of State Representative commands toward getting a national farm program that provides some equity between the farmer's cost of production and the price he gets for his crop.

Glenn Conrad deserves your vote and whole-hearted support.

Glenn believes that our State Legislature must be careful not to impose unnecessary burdens on farmers. And, that it must do everything possible

PLOWIN' Out The Corners

Last weekend was one of the greatest high points of my last few months. The greatest climax to it all came on Sunday night when I heard Charles Colson, right hand man to Richard Nixon for many years.

He has served seven months in a federal prison for his part in Watergate. On the cold hard floors of this prison a few men met regularly for prayer meetings. The floor was cold and hard and the beds were little softer.

If I understood it because this was a minimum security they were allowed to be in a small runaround together. It was here, arms clasped and on their knees they started a prayer group. He said he had always hated a senator by the name of Hughes, partly because he had been on the other side on most issues, and that Hughes was a Democrat. One time as they arose from their prayer their eyes met and bid old tears were running down the Senator's cheeks. They fell into each other's arms crying I love you. I can't seem to figure time this morning but as Chuck spoke I thought of my father's favorite Uncle. Naturally he was a preacher, and was preaching for what my father thought was the only church. Only one that was 100 percent right.

One time after supper when this uncle had come to spend the night with us they were talking for awhile. Not only did my father think Uncle Joe knew all the Bible answers, he also thought he was very wise in world affairs. They talked about the government as men do today. They said the world was on its way to getting worse, the Bible even agreed. And after they had discussed all things in general my father's precious uncle rose to his full Irish height. He wore suspen-

X's and O's

By BILL COWARD
Head Coach
McLean High School

This past week has been a full one for McLean High School athletes. Last Tuesday, the Tigerette and Tiger track teams were hosts to Shamrock in a dual track meet. Wednesday found the tennis teams in Clarendon where once again McLean athletes represented MHS. Well, Saturday the McLean Tigers were in the Memphis Relays. Jimmy Killham and Denny Sharber captured fourth place in the junior varsity division by themselves. Monday, the Tiger Golf teams were entered in the Shamrock Invitational Golf Tournament. Robin Smith won second in Girls Singles play and Sally Haynes won third. In boys action, Sam Haynes led the McLean team with a score of 85. This coming weekend the Tigers will be entered in the Canadian Relays while part of the Tigerettes will be in Amarillo Relays on Friday and the rest will be entered in the Groom Tiger Relays on Saturday. Next Monday, the Tigerette tennis teams will begin competition in district tournament play. The matches will be held in Canadian as Higgins is hosting this year's district tournament.

scrimmage with the ball turning over to the opponent a la National Football League. Of course, to fulfill this rule, the ball must actually travel beyond the scrimmage line.

2. A change in the rules about intentional ground now states that there must be an eligible receiver in the area of the pass. The previous rule allowed eligible or ineligible receivers to be in the area without intentional grounding called. This practical approach to the rule should be much easier and fairly administered.

3. The rule making it a 15 yd. penalty for an ineligible receiver to touch the pass downfield has been changed. The new penalty now makes the violation a 5 yard penalty but also includes a loss of down.

4. The NCAA is attempting to eliminate the delay of game which results when the crowd noise becomes so severe that the snap must be withheld until the crowd quiets down. In doing so, it was decided the onus of responsibility should be placed on the defense, whether the defense was the home team or not. In theory, the referee will issue a warning to the defense anytime this occurs. After two such warnings, the third stoppage will result in a charged time-out to the defense. If the defense does not have any timeouts remaining, they will be penalized for delay of game—five yards.

"Talent is God-given, be humble;
Fame is man-given, be thankful;
Conceit is self-given, be careful."

The popularity of bridge spans to the 1880's. The game was then known as "Biritch" or "Russian Whist." Auction bridge (highest bidder names trump) was introduced in 1904, but was swamped when contract bridge was devised by Harold S. Vanderbilt on a Caribbean voyage in 1925.

Tornadoes! - A Panhandle Hazard

What actions should you take for personal safety when a tornado threatens?

The National Safety Council says a storm cellar, cave or underground parking facility or a subway offers the greatest protection.

However, since most people do not have access to such areas at once, they should do the following:

1. If you are at home and do not have a basement, get under some strong furniture against strong inside walls and cover yourself with a rug.

2. If you have time, open the door and windows on the sides of the house away from the storm to help prevent explosion-like damage. Stay away from the door and windows. Do not go outside, and do not get into a motor vehicle.

3. Keep a battery-powered radio with you to listen to weather information so you'll know when the danger is passed.
4. If you're in the city take shelter in a modern, steel-reinforced office building and stand in interior hallways, preferably in the basement.

5. In schools, go to an interior hallway on the lower floor. Avoid auditoriums, gymnasiums, or other structures with wide, free-span roofs. Make sure you learn your school's emergency procedures in advance of any impending emergencies.
6. At a shopping center, stay away from large glass windows and parked automobiles. Take shelter in one of the stores on a lower floor, and if possible, get beneath a counter.

7. A car can be a dangerous place to be, but it is possible, in some cases, to escape by driving at right angles to the tornado's path. Except when driving in metropolitan areas, especially on expressways and freeways, it is safer to abandon the car and seek shelter in the nearest depression. Avoid culverts that may suddenly fill with deep, rushing water if you are trapped in flat, open country, staying in the car can be better than no protection at all.

8. If you are afoot in open country and there's no time to escape, take cover in any kind of depression—ditch, ravine, or excavation. Lie flat. Edited From The Associated Press

Allen Ayers To Serve In California

Navy Aviation Structural Mechanic 2.C. Allen L. Ayers, son of Fern M. Hines of Lefors, has reported for duty with Attack Squadron 122 at the Naval Air Station in Lemoore, Calif. Ayers joined the Navy in August, 1965.

Defensive Driving Week Set

A simple but frank motto that "Defensive Driving Saves" highlights Texas Defensive Driving Week April 2-8. Gov. Dolph Briscoe has signed a proclamation for the week with a request for the participation of all drivers in a personal commitment to safety on the highways in a unified effort to reduce traffic accidents.

Texas joins a nationwide observance of Defensive Driving Week, to focus attention on the techniques of avoiding accidents before they happen. These skills are taught in the National Safety Council's Defensive Driving Course, an eight hour comprehensive course taught by over 500 agencies in Texas.

Antique Show Set For April 7-8

There will be an antique show April 7-9 at M.K. Brown Auditorium in Pampa. The show is sponsored by the Twenty Century Cotillion Study Club, and proceeds will go to a student loan program which assists students throughout the Panhandle. The show will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday (April 7-8) and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday (April 9). Admission will be charged.

Numismatic Show Set

More than 50 dealers from six states will show $2 million in coins and other numismatic items at the Amarillo Coin Club's Spring Show. The two-day event will be Saturday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Villa Inn Tropical Room at Interstate 40 and Grand.

The show offers collectors, dealers, and the public an opportunity to show, sell, trade, and view a large number of coins under one roof. There will be a drawing for two gold pieces and hourly drawings for silver dollars. Admission is free.

Stones were a matter of money on the Yap Islands in the western Pacific. A medium-sized stone, for example, was worth one wife or a canoe. Sometimes, the massive stone discs weighed up to 185 pounds.

REBUILDING FROM A TORNADO TRAGEDY IN 1975

Story and Photos by Linda Haynes

THE TORNADO SLASHED THROUGH THIS AREA OF LEFORS

MARCH 26, 1975 - The weather was strange all day. Heavy fog was filled alternately with blowing dirt or driving rain. Tornado watches were posted early in the evening, but by 11 p.m. the weather had settled, and most of the people of Lefors went to bed.

At 12:40 a.m., with no warning, a tornado screamed across the North Fork of the Red River south of Lefors and struck the southeast corner of the town. It curved into the townsquare and raced across the northeast corner of the community.

Many residents were awakened by the noise of the wind just seconds before the walls of their homes collapsed around them.

Mr. and Mrs. Elzie York had just gone to bed when the roar of the storm awakened him. Mrs. York woke up as her husband shoved her off the bed. He began wrapping a blanket around her.

"I thought he'd gone crazy," she laughed, "until I saw the stars where the ceiling should be."

When the storm was over, nothing was left of their home but the front wall.

Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Minter lost practically everything they owned.

"My wife and I tried to get to the cellar, but we didn't make it. The roof of the house across the street was ripped off and dumped on top of the cellar, caving it in," he said.

Minter was in bed, but not yet asleep, when the storm hit.

"When we heard the roar, my wife looked out our east door and started back into the bedroom to tell me we should go to the cellar. But before we could get out of the bedroom, the entire south wall blew in and knocked us to the floor," he said.

Minter said he and his wife fell between two overstuffed chairs they keep in the bedroom, and the chairs kept the wall from falling all the way to the floor and crushing them.

"It happened so fast," he said, "that neither of us knew where the other was or if the other was alive. Miraculously, we were right beside each other on the floor."

When the tornado roared on into open country, it left behind more than $3 million dollars in damage, with 148 homes and many businesses destroyed. About one fourth of the population was left homeless, with 40 people injured and one child, three-year-old Stephanie Ann Anzaldua, dead.

Lefors had no lights, water, electricity, gas or telephone service.

Constable Ben White alerted Pampa, and within eight minutes, ambulances from the neighboring city arrived.

Help from all over the Panhandle poured in during the night. By daybreak, an emergency center had been set up in the gymnasium, with Red Cross and Salvation Army crews dispensing clothing and food.

Minter said, "The young people were out all over town that night, but they weren't looting.

That's what might have happened somewhere else, but here they were looking for injured and homeless and patrolling the town, using CB radios to keep in contact."

Rescue and cleanup operations were hampered the next day by a freak snow storm and icy temperatures.

Mobile homes provided by HUD began arriving in a few days, and the people of Lefors began putting their lives back together.

Three years later, new homes and mobile homes dot the path of destruction of the tornado. A new city hall, a new post office, a new civic center, and a new credit union building have been completed.

Some debris has not yet been cleared, but a stranger to the town probably would never guess the extent of the destruction three years ago.

Perhaps the most subtle damage left by the night of terror is an emotional one. Everyone in town has a story of where they were when it hit, and most still shake their heads in disbelief that so few were injured or killed. Many residents date everything either "before the tornado" or "after the tornado."

Many residents feared at that time that the town was finished, that the people who had been financially wiped out would move away. But only half dozen families did not return, and despite declining school enrollment, Lefors never has looked more prosperous.

Mr. And Mrs. Bill Cash Travel Around The World

By LISA PATMAN
McLean News Staff
What for most of us remains the dream of a lifetime has become reality for Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cash of McLean. Early this year they traveled around the world on a three-week, 35,000 mile tour. The Cashes left Jan. 24 from Los Angeles, arriving in Papeete, Tahiti, the following day. In Tahiti they basked in the tropical climate while viewing the exciting Tahitian atmosphere -- a blend of French fashion and perfumes with the crafts of French Polynesia. While there they toured a lagoon in a glass bottom boat, seeing hundreds of multi-colored fish and flowerlike coral formations. Tahiti is the island featured in the book "Mutiny On The Bounty." On Feb. 9 the Cashes flew to Sydney, Australia, where the seasons are the reverse of ours; summer starts in December; autumn in March; winter in June; spring in September. It also is the land of Koalas, Kookaburras, and Kangaroos. The Cashes visited a sheep ranch where they saw the sheep-shearing process, as well as a boomerang-throwing. On Feb. 13 they visited in Singapore, where they took a starlight tour aboard an authentic Chinese junk, seeing the lights of Singapore, ships and fishing villages. After docking, they were chauffeured through the streets of the city in bicycle rickshaws, called trishaws, as they viewed night bazaars, old shop-houses, narrow alleys, and the hustle and bustle of the marketplace. After Singapore came Bombay and lots of Indian cuisine, and Indian craftsmen in bazaars, small shops and street markets. Next was Nairobi, where the temperatures rarely fall below 50 at night or rise above 77 in the heat of the day. Here they went on an African safari where the only shooting was done with cameras. On this excursion they saw lions, hyenas and giraffes and were charged by an angry rhinoceros. Later they camped in tents at Kichwa-Tembo, spending the night in the African wilderness. On Feb. 19 the Cashes arrived in London to the shock of cold weather, which seemed even colder after their travels in warm climates. In London they traveled to Hampton Court, where they visited the grounds of Royal Palace, en route of Windsor, about 20 miles up the beautiful Thames River. They also saw Runnymede, of Magna Carta fame, and at Windsor saw the Royal apartments and castles. Then on Feb. 22 they flew home to the United States landing in New York at John F. Kennedy airport leaving traveling companions to return to their Texas friends in McLean.

Best man was Bryan Duvall, the groom's brother. The bride is a graduate of the University of Houston at Clear Lake City, and the groom is a graduate of Southwest Texas State University.

Lovett Memorial Library Notes

By LISA PATMAN
McLean News Staff
April 2 through April 8 has been designated as National Library week, and it is a good time to note all the services Lovett Memorial Library provides. Aside from the regular lending of books, there are several outstanding features that everyone should know about. You may all know of the inter-library loan and reciprocal borrowing program, but if you don't just remember that if Lovett Memorial doesn't have a book you want, it can borrow the book for you from another area library, so your selection is practically limitless. Another service that has been around a while is the story time for pre-school children. This is a great time to introduce toddlers to the wonders of books. Story time is every Thursday morning from 11:15 until 11:45. This is a year round project, so don't fail to tell any pre-schoolers you know to go to story time next Thursday. Another feature for youngsters is the summer reading club.

RELAXATION ODDITIES-HELPFUL TIPS

By Joy Miller
If you win the bid and are playing the hand, a good general rule to follow is to start playing your trump early. This is known as "dumping your trump" and will force your opponents to discard their trumps, too, leaving you in a better position during the game.

While we all hope for that perfect hand (all 13 cards in one suit) the mathematical odds against this are 158,753,389,899 to 1.

UNCLE ZEB

ders, and his stomach protruded like most preachers who eat lots of good food. He leaned back as he often did in the pulpit, and ended the conversation.
"Well Roy, this old world won't ever get any better unless God in His way changes man's nature, and gives him a desire to treat his fellow man better." My father told me many times what Uncle Joe said, and from then on I believed it. "Unless God changes the heart of man..." He repeated.
I have never read Mr. Colson's book. I didn't read the write-up the next morning, but I have thought about it ever since. He said in effect that some 12 men met in prayer, on a cold, hard prison floor and begged God to take over their lives and our country. God did change their hearts, right there. They arose with Christ in their heart and love for each other. Their hearts had been touched by The Master... Just like my old uncle said.

I don't remember anything Chuck said about Mr. Nixon--good or bad. I do remember that he said his father told him he could go to the top. He got there--only one person with more power.

He went from the bottom to the top, and stayed there long enough to understand.

He went from there to the bottom, disgraced, away from his family, and sleeping on a prison cot.

Most of all, and please, my friend, remember this as I hope I can--The greatest thing of his life, and the thing that he thanked God so often for, was that as the Philpian jailer, there in the prison his heart was changed.

I broked into tears, as he said; "I thank God for what happened to me, and the change that came into my heart. I understood because from the lowest point of my life Christ touched me, and Hell, or the world has never been so hot again."

He is going back up the ladder. God may give him greater things as he did Job. I'm sure Chuck is well cared for. I am sorry for him physically. I am proud for him spiritually.

WHAT WILL YOUR CHILDREN REMEMBER ABOUT HOME?

WILL THEY REMEMBER . . . .
That their father and mother loved each other and were kind to each other?
That home was a happy place--respected and revered by the law of love?
That each child was treated fairly, deeply loved, and required to obey both parents?
That home was a place where God was loved, respected and obeyed?
That Sunday was a happy day looked forward to as a day when everyone went to Bible study and worship without question?
That absolute truth abode there; no earnest questioner, however young, was put off with evasion?
That the Bible was the law of God that settled everything--and that it was read and studied every day?
That although father and mother worked long and hard every day, they still took time to read the Bible and pray?
That home was a place where friends and friendships were dear, but where truth and right were dearer?
These are some of the things that make home dear! For some it may be too late. For some it may be that the children's remembrances of home may yet be changed--for the better! "And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord" (Eph. 6:4).
