Serving McLean and the Area Since 1903

Volume 79 McLean, Gray County, Texas 79057 Thursday, September 9, 1982 Price 25¢ Number 36

Last week when our young head coach was taken to the hospital, everyone in town was concerned and upset. Not only is Coach Riley a well-liked coach and teacher, he is also a "home-town" boy. Many of us have enjoyed watching him grow up from an enthusiastic, polite youngster to a dedicated teacher and coach. Thankfully, Joe's illness was not as serious as at first was suspected. But I'm sure that those hours of wondering if he had suffered a heart attack or other serious trauma have caused him to do some serious thinking.

I know that it caused me to stop and look at the mad whirl I had allowed in my own life. I couldn't help thinking "What if that had been me?" In my head, I began to list the various jobs, both important and unimportant, that I have committed myself to perform. I thought of all the hours I have spent in frustrating, meaningless tasks, and I wondered why I was wasting so much time doing things I really hated to do.

I finally realized that I had said "Yes" too many times out of a desire to please someone else. In reviewing my priorities, I found that I had allowed unimportant things to consume more and more of my time and emotional energy. So I have made some changes.

The great English poet John Keats, in "When I Have Fears That I May Cease to Be," said "Then on the shore/Of the wide world I stand alone, and think/Till love and fame to nothingness do sink." When you think of time and how little we have to waste, it is possible to realign the important things in your life, and perhaps learn to live more fully.

I hope we don't require another scary emergency to keep us reminded of that fact.

Tigers Lose Season Opener Thursday

THAT MAY BE a tear sparkling in the eye of the McLean Tiger mascot. The Tigers lost their first game of the season to Whiteface Thursday night at Happy. (Photo by Linda Haynes)

Last Thursday's 7-0 loss to the Whiteface Antelopes culminated a day of bad luck for the McLean Tigers. Their troubles began early that morning when new head coach Joe Riley was hospitalized with chest pains and high blood pressure. The lack of reports on his condition did nothing to lift the well-known Tiger spirit.

Then, about ten miles out of McLean, the bus carrying the team broke down and they reportedly were stranded for almost an hour before they could continue their ride to the ballgame. They arrived 15 minutes before game-time, leaving little room for effective warmup.

Senior fullback Brock Crockett was sidelined with a knee injury suffered in the previous week's scrimmage with Shamrock and junior tight end Bryan Smitherman, scheduled for foot surgery, also was not suited up.

"It just hasn't been a real inspiring day for us," said coach Jerry Cook, as he watched the game slip out of the Tigers' grasp. "We tried to reassure them about Coach Riley, but it's obvious that they are all concerned about him." Riley was released from the hospital Sunday, after a battery of tests revealed blood pressure trouble.

The game looked good for the Tigers at the start, as junior Darin Corley intercepted a Whiteface pass in the early seconds of the game, giving the ball back to the Tigers after the initial kickoff.

Then Tiger Tom Milam, after McLean missed a first down by inches, recovered an Antelope fumble, and the ball again was returned to McLean. Still they were not able to make the down, and the ball returned to Whiteface.

And so it went throughout the first half; Tiger defense would reclaim the ball from the Antelopes, but Tiger offense couldn't gain enough turf to claim the down.

After the Antelopes regained possession of the ball Tiger Steven McAnear snared another Whiteface pass, this time on the Antelope 10-yard line.

Still McLean didn't reach scoring territory, and again the ball was the property of Whiteface.

This time an interception by McLean's Randall Wynn put the ball in the Tiger's hands on their own 23.

but still there was no ball movement offensively for the Tigers, and Whiteface again took over.

And as before, Antelope possession was fleeting, as a pile of Tigers managed another Whiteface fumble recovery on the Tiger 22.

By the end of the first half spectators had witnessed three Tiger pass interceptions, two Tiger fumble recoveries, yet only two McLean first downs, to three first downs for the Whiteface Antelopes.

McLean had amassed 35 yards in penalties, while Whiteface totaled 55 for Antelope infractions.

McLean had been within scoring distance once, and had held the Antelopes well, letting them get no closer than the McLean 21.

There still was hope for the Tigers, as second half action saw them grab an early first down in their first possession.

But offensively it was Whiteface's turn, and they took it, racking up six first downs in the last half.

McLean was unable to chalk up any more downs on its slate.

But downs don't win a ballgame, and interceptions don't light up the scoreboard, and it looked like neither team was headed for the winner's circle, until Whiteface running back Ricky Jackson caught a short screen pass from quarterback

Rusty Trull, and ran 54 yards for an Antelope touchdown. With only a minute left in the fourth quarter Scott Morren successfully kicked the extra point and the game belonged to the Antelopes.

"I was really disappointed for the boys," Coach Riley said from his hospital bed Friday.

"But Coach Cook and Coach Purcell did great.

It's pretty rough to coach when you're understaffed, as they were Thursday night, and especially when everything seems to have gone wrong.

But we're going to work hard this week, and we expect to be in top form, both physically and mentally, for the game against Silverton.

We'll be ready for them."

Coach Cook added, "All in all, the Tigers executed the plays well, and did some really good work defensively.

But one of McLean's best assets has always been super spirit, and ours was sure running at low tide during this game. We've learned a good lesson from all this though, and I think we'll be extra-ready for Silverton. It'll sure be a game nobody will want to miss."

The Tigers will travel to Silverton Friday night. Play begins at 8 p.m.

Grass Fire Destroys Six Sections Of Pasture Near McLean

McLean volunteer firemen were called out to battle the biggest grassfire of the year Friday at 12:15 p.m. The fire which originated near a burning trash barrel at the Kate MacDonald residence, nine miles north of McLean on Highway 273, scorched about six sections of grass land before it was brought under control, according to McLean fire chief Jim McDonald.

Four units from McLean answered the call and were joined by three units from Shamrock, two each from Mobeetie, Wheeler, and Briscoe, and one from Pampa.

The fire burned about a mile-wide strip about five or six miles long, McDonald said. Hot dry winds, and the lack of rainfall in the area, caused the rapid expansion of the fire, McDonald said.

The smoke from the fire was visible from Pampa, according to one witness. Others reported that the smoke had been sighted as far away as 50 miles.

The fire veered away from tank batteries and other oilfield equipment in the area. No buildings were destroyed and no one was injured in the blaze.

Maintainers belonging to Gray County Precinct 4 and to the Hanson road construction company were used to clear firebreaks to stop the fire. Area ranchers also assisted the firemen.

McDonald said the grass destroyed was on land owned by Jerry Williams, Billy Davis, Kate MacDonald, and others which he has not determined yet.

The fire was the second for McLean firemen during the week. They were called to the J. B. Brown place northeast of McLean Wednesday where they fought the grass fire for about two hours.

Joe Van Zandt, county extension agent, told the McLean News staff last week that the area would probably be plagued with grass fires this fall. "Not only have we had excessively dry weather, but the early rains caused a lush growth of early grass which is now very dry. Because of the poor economic climate, ranchers have not stocked pastures as heavily, and the grasses have not been grazed as much as usual for this time of year," Van Zandt said.

No Traffic Fatalities Reported In McLean Area During Holiday

Department of Public Safety Trooper Ron Shanks and John Holland investigated four minor wrecks in the McLean area last week which caused property damage, but few injuries.

The first wreck occurred Sept. 2 at 8:04 p.m. when Bessie Burrow Stokes of Shamrock, driving a Ford LTD, pulled onto Interstate 40 from Grove Street in McLean. She pulled into the path of a 1979 semi-tractor truck driven by Earl C. Waters of Norman, Okla. Although damage to the car was extensive, Mrs. Stokes was uninjured.

On Sept. 3 at 4:35 p.m. Forest Alvin Weed of Oklahoma City driving a Dodge Van, started to turn left from the middle lane of traffic on I-40 near the Rowe Street intersection. His vehicle was hit by a 1982 Peterbilt truck driven by James Leo Howard Jr. of Yukon, Okla. There were no injuries.

At 7:15 p.m. Friday, Larry Jones of Pampa was driving his 1975 Oldsmobile on the south frontage road of Interstate 40 just west of McLean when he lost control of the car and skidded straight through the curve hitting a road sign which damaged the roof of his vehicle.

Troy Martin in The Canyon News

Fifteen years ago the editor of The Christian Science Monitor told me that the day of the large daily newspaper was on the wane and the community newspaper's star was rising.

I didn't credit it too much at the time, but since then I've learned why he was editor of one of the top newspapers in the world. He knew what he was talking about.

Small businesses simply can't afford the advertising prices necessary for the large regional dailies to pay their costs.

In almost every market the circulation of regional and big city newspapers is on the decline.

The romantic call of "Extra! Extra!" by the old-time news bunch died with the birth of television and sophisticated electronic media.

The last extra of The Amarillo Globe to hit the street as my memory serves me was when the killer of Tex Thornton, the famous Amarillo oil well shooter, was apprehended.

Television news, thanks to satellites, for big stories is instantaneous whether the story breaks in Denver or Beirut.

Viewers who want more depth can turn to news magazines for the complete story along with analysis.

For a time local television enjoyed great popularity. You could buy three stations simultaneously in the Amarillo market and get almost blanket coverage with your message.

Enter cable television. Exit blanket coverage with local television.

If you want to be sure of getting anywhere near saturation TV coverage in Canyon you would have to buy simultaneous advertising on Channels 3, 4, 7, 10, 11, 12 and 13. The cost and inconvenience would be staggering.

Cable may have to turn to something other than entertainment television if it is to remain commercially viable.

Have you noticed the over-sized wash basins sprouting in backyards in rural areas and sometimes in cities and towns?

They are electronic contraptions known as dishes. They pull in signals from satellites in such vast and growing quantities as to render cable as a means of receiving faraway television pictures almost obsolete.

This newspaper only recently carried a story telling of a family with a dish that pulls in 80 television channels from all over the world.

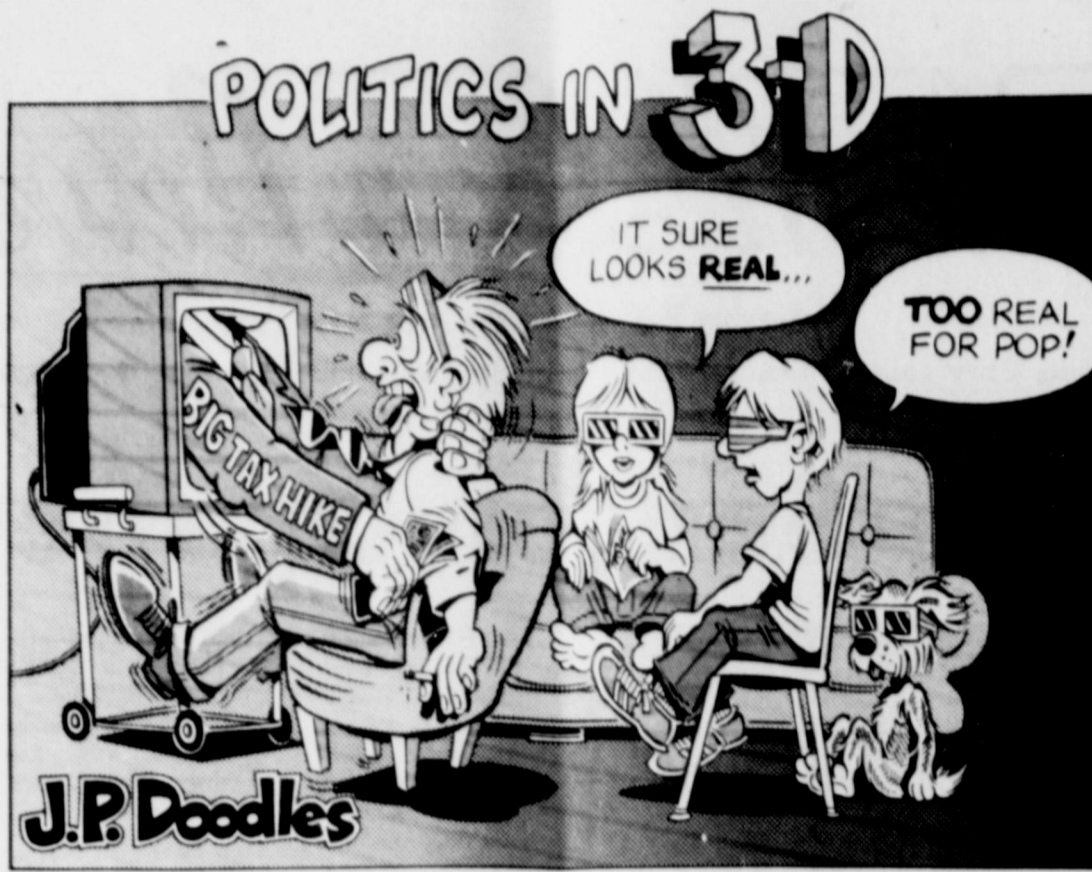

These pieces of equipment usually cost upwards of $2,000 but the day is not distant when kits will be sold for $200 with which a dish can be assembled that will be just as effective as the higher priced ones in use today.

When this happens the effect on local television stations and even the networks will be devastating.

Their viewing audience may well be so fragmented as to make them useless as an advertising media.

It is ironic that media started in this country in the form of the community newspaper. Technology took us soaring to million circulation newspapers, color television and satellites.

Technology has brought us the full circle, the point at which the community newspaper again is the best source of local news and the most cost-effective medium for local advertising.

Homemaker News

Have you noticed the number of new babies in the Gray County area? Population is definitely on the increase. With new babies comes the need for educating mothers about the importance of baby's diet.

Baby's first food is, of course, milk. The baby's mother has a very important decision to make before the baby is born concerning how the baby will get milk - by breast or by bottle.

The most perfect food for infants is mother's milk. Infants have special nutritional needs. The nutrients in human breast milk tend to be digested and absorbed more easily than those in cow's milk. The decision to breast feed or bottle feed, however, rests on several factors.

Nutritional Considerations

Mother's milk is best suited to the growth needs of the baby. In addition, some antibodies and immunity factors may be passed on to baby in colostrum and human milk. These antibodies from the mother do help the baby in preventing colds and illnesses especially diarrhea.

Many formulas are available which approximate the composition of breast milk. Special formulas that meet baby's nutritional needs may be bottle fed if the mother is in poor health or if the baby is allergic to cow's milk. None provide the immunological benefits of human milk.

Economics Considerations

The latest cost comparisons of milk will give mothers something to think about when making a decision between breast and bottle.

Breast Milk (includes cost of extra food for mother) - Cost per day for 27 ounces of milk - 56c; Cost per week - $3.92; Cost per year - $204.40.

Evaporated Milk - corn syrup formula and vitamin drops - Cost per day for 27 ounces - 81c; Cost per week - $5.67; Cost per year - $295.65.

Commercial Formula Concentrate - Cost per day for 27 ounces - 99c; Cost per week - $6.93; Cost per year - $361.35.

Commercial Formula Ready to Serve - Cost per day for 27 ounces - $1.29; Cost per week - $9.03; Cost per year - $470.85.

Figures for formulas do not include the costs for bottles, caps, nipples or equipment needed for sterilizing formulas.

Psychological Considerations

A feeling of intimacy develops when mother nurses her baby. Baby responds to this love and security which develops into a warm relationship between mother and baby. The same feeling of intimacy can exist when a parent holds the baby and feeds from the bottle. In addition, other family members can share in this experience.

Social Considerations

Breast feeding has gained acceptance. Since the 1960's breast feeding has become a more common practice among upper middle class women in the United States.

Bottle feeding may offer more flexibility for the professional woman. Bottle feeding may be more desirable if mother must return to work shortly after baby is born. However, other arrangements may be made for the nursing mother who returns to work such as hand pressing the breast.

The ostrich, largest of living birds, weighs 300 pounds or more.

Remember, infants do have special nutritional needs. During the first year of life, the growth rate is rapid. Help give your baby a good start nutritionally.

How do you know when your engine needs a tune-up? The Council lists the following symptoms:

1. A noticeable increase in fuel consumption. Keep a running record of fuel consumed versus mileage driven to be aware of increasing consumption.
2. Rough idling or roughness on acceleration.
3. Hard starting.
4. Dieseling or "run-on", where the engine continues to run a few seconds after the ignition is turned off.
5. Knocking or pinging, especially under load.
6. Noticeable drop in power or performance.

Strake Talk

PROPERTY TAXES—GOOD INTENTIONS AREN'T ENOUGH

I want to talk this week about taxes and good intentions. As I travel around Texas, I notice that what's known as the Peveto Bill is the subject of much talk and controversy. This bill, named after state representative Wayne Peveto, is a tax reform law: legislation of the best intention.

The law was designed to end confusion and unfairness in the way property taxes were assessed. Property was often on different tax rolls at different values. Older properties went years, sometimes decades, without being revalued or updated. New construction and newly sold property was on the rolls at more correct values and so people who owned it paid a higher share of taxes. Some property was simply left off the rolls entirely. The system was confusing and inequitable.

In an attempt to correct these problems, the Peveto Bill created property tax appraisal boards for each Texas county. These boards were charged with the responsibility of setting all property at its full value—as residential or commercial property or as land used for agricultural purposes. Taxes could then be levied on this accurately assessed property according to the needs of the taxing entities.

It sounded good, but it hasn't worked. The biggest problem is that the people on the appraisal boards are appointed, not elected. They are not accountable to the taxpayers. So now we have a new, faceless bureaucracy to deal with. It amounts to taxation without representation.

My opponent has been on both sides of this issue, first supporting the bill in the legislature—then doing an about-face and calling it bad legislation after it was passed.

The Peveto Bill, though well-intentioned, has created problems which must be dealt with in the next legislature and as your next Lt. Governor, I will do just that. If you have any thoughts on this subject, please write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, 78705.

Dr. Roderic Fabian, Sondra Hill Marry In Morning Ceremony Saturday

DR. AND MRS. RODERIC H. FABIAN

Dr. Roderic Fabian and Sondra Joy Hill exchanged wedding vows Saturday morning at First United Methodist Church in McLean. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hill of Gulfport, Miss., and the groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Fabian of McLean.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Robert Brown of Amarillo.

Mrs. Ida Hess played a piano prelude, and Mrs. Joyce Haynes played the traditional wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn. Mrs. Hess sang a selection from "The Family of God" before the vows were exchanged.

The altar of the church was decorated with two chevron seven-branch candelabras and two spiral candelabras. The couple exchanged vows in front of an archway which was ornamented with greenery, white roses, and baby's breath, and topped with white doves. A large bouquet of white gladioli was centered behind the arch.

The pews of the church were capped with lemon leaves, fresh stephanotis, white roses, and white lace bows.

Attending the ceremony was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Edith Redmond of Gulfport, Miss.

The bride's aunt Mrs. Saucier wore a toast lace dress. The groom's mother wore a teal blue crepe trimmed in lace.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle Captain William Saucier, USMC Ret. of Saucier, Miss., the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza. The dress, which was created by the bride, featured a sweetheart neckline on the lace bodice. Sheer organza formed a high neck, and extended into straight wrist-length sleeves, accented with lace at the wrist. The bodice and lace on the sleeves were decorated with seed pearls. The full organza skirt was edged in lace and swept to a chapel-length train. The headpiece and veil, also created by the bride, featured hand-sewn pearls over lace on a pill-box cap. The veil of illusion ended at the waist in the back. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, white roses, white orchids, stephanotis, ivy, myrtle, and baby's breath.

Attending the bride was her maid of honor, Ruth Ann Wilz of Long Beach, Miss. Bridesmaid was Kathleen Chauvin of Picayune, Miss. Junior bridesmaid was Annell Fayard of Gulfport, Miss., cousin of the bride.

The attendants were attired in floor-length teal blue gowns of moire taffeta. The dresses featured a fitted waist. The stove-pipe sleeves were worn off the shoulder. Each attendant wore a headpiece of teal blue net and silk flowers, and carried nosegays of teal blue and white.

Attending the groom were the best man, Dr. Gregory Fabian of Houston, brother of the groom, and groomsmen Dr. Calvin Olmstead of Galveston and Dr. Frank Peltier of Lake Jackson. Ushers were Thacker Haynes and David Haynes.

Following the ceremony, the groom's parents hosted a wedding reception and breakfast in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was decorated with a silver candelabra holding the bride's bouquet, and was covered with a white lace cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped by white doves. Punch was served from a Fostoria crystal bowl.

The groom's table was topped with a brown cloth and featured a bird of paradise bouquet. Chocolate cake was served from milk-glass serving pieces, and coffee was served from a silver coffee service. The breakfast buffet table was topped with white lace cloth.

The egg and bacon casserole, miniature cinnamon rolls, fruit balls were served from silver serving pieces. The guest tables were topped with white lace table clothes with teal blue ribbon runners and bouquets of white and teal blue flowers.

Serving at the reception were Jan Coleman Roberts, Regina Lamb Jones of Amarillo, Michelle Bell of Pampa, and Beth Smitherman. Assisting at the reception were Margaret Milam, Marie Cummings, Sharon Haynes, Lisa Patman, Ida Hess, Mary Dwyer, Ruth Magee, Linda Haynes, Katie Graham, Susan Barker, Von Winegart, Jodie Thomas, Nelda Kirk, Cindy McDowell, Pat Guill, Wanda Bailey, Monta Jean Smitherman, and Janet McCracken.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Galveston.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Robert W. Brown of Amarillo, Lawrence S. McBee of Torrance, Calif., Mrs. Wendy Olmstead of Galveston, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fish of Alanreed, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dwight of Wellington.

On Friday night the groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner in the church's fellowship hall. Assisting at the dinner were Isabel Cousins and Thelma Hill.

Loose Marbles

by Lisa Patman

This is the time of year when all of us gather our odds and ends and offer them to the first bidder at a garage sale. At the Marbles household we have done likewise. However, since we are not fortunate enough to have a garage, I am using this column to inform you of the marvelous bargains we have available. Among the valuables the Marbles family is offering are:

1. A thin, sickly cat who confuses carpeting for kitty litter.
2. Several almost full bottles of room deodorizer, carpet deodorizer, and upholstery deodorizer which are effective on everything but the odor produced by the aforementioned feline.
3. A large plot of sturdy weeds which, due to the wonders of chemical science, have developed an immunity to all types of weed killer known to modern man.
4. A medium-sized pile of rocks, each perfectly indistinguishable from the other, collected as souvenirs on vacation trips in various parts of the country.
5. A broken trophy for third place in a greased-cow catching contest.
6. An amazing pair of boy's socks which, even if the wearer put them right into the dirty clothes hamper, somehow manage to end up in the middle of the living room floor. These will be offered free with the purchase of a child who cannot explain this mystery.
7. One woman, recently re-strung out, capable of many uses. A real bargain hunter's delight. Will sell cheap. Would make a nice door stop or paperweight. Don't miss this one-of-a-kind sale, which begins immediately and continues (sob) while supply lasts.

In The Kitchen

by Linda Haynes

Last week, several friends of the family helped prepare an egg and bacon casserole for a wedding breakfast. I heard so many comments about how delicious the dish was, I thought I would share the recipe with you. I think it would be a perfect treat to prepare the day before and serve on Christmas morning.

Bacon and Egg Casserole
1 dozen eggs, boiled and sliced

1 pound bacon, fried crisp and crumbled

4 cups white sauce

(To prepare white sauce, melt 8 T. butter, stir in 8 T. flour, and salt to taste; blend until smooth. Stir in one quart (4 cups) cold milk gradually, and cook over direct heat until sauce boils and becomes thick and smooth. Add pepper to taste, and 3 teas. Worcestershire sauce.)

Layer eggs and bacon in casserole. Cover with white sauce. Top with thin layer of grated bread crumbs. May be refrigerated overnight at this point. When ready to serve, heat in 350 degree oven until hot.

More Indian Disturbances

A friend just from the up-country informs us that the Indians are troublesome again. A few renegades from many tribes in the neighborhood have had a horse stealing frolic. The scoundrels killed two men in the outskirts of Austin, and attacked a teamster between Austin and Bastrop -- waggon found in the prairie and driver and horse missing; they also stole 40 horses belonging to the town. Burleson was on their trail with 160 men two days after the affair and ere this has probably paid them handsomely for their territory. In this instance the positioning the seat of government at Austin has probably saved the lives of 20 families or more.

Colorado Gazette and Advertiser March 28, 1840

THE TEXIAN STAR and the Journal of Commerce and Trade -- Believing that the establishment of a press within the jurisdiction of Texas, would be a valuable auxiliary to the cause of independence, and being anxious to have a medium through which to communicate with the citizens of the United States, and funds being necessary for the establishment and maintenance of a press, those who may contribute but 25 cents would aid in the diffusion of civil and religious liberty. A contribution of 5 dollars will ensure the paper for one year, which will be published weekly or semi-weekly, as the amount of patronage shall determine. The columns of the STAR shall contain accurate geographical and topographical information of the country, manners, customs, &c. of the republic of Texas and the adjacent states, and also of the different tribes of Indians, most or all of which information will be valuable to the citizens of the United States. In addition to which, it will detail the movement of the armies, and the different battles, furnish a correct list of killed or wounded, together with the most important incidents which may occur, and those who distinguish themselves shall receive, in addition to the applause of the present generation, a more lasting memento, through the STAR, which, it will be the endeavor of the proprietor, to make worthy the title of history's text-book.

Major general M. Hunt, being fully satisfied with the integrity of the publisher, and being solicitous for the success of the enterprise, has consented to lend his aid to the furtherance of the object. Those who may wish to contribute, can do so personally, or by mail, post paid, to general Hunt, or any one of the leaders of emigrants under his command, who are authorised to receipt for the same; or when money is raised by contribution or subscription of one or more, it may be placed in the deposit banks, at the following places, subject to the order of general Hunt, or one of his authorized officers, viz: Charleston, Norfolk, New-York, Nashville, Memphis, Louisville, and New Orleans.

If a sufficient number of subscribers should not be obtained, (of which there is little doubt) the money will be appropriated in the same manner as other donations, but subject to withdrawal by the donors.

The Star will be edited by an association of gentlemen competent to the task.

Persons will be particular in writing their names and that of their post office legibly so that no mistake shall occur.

Since the prospectus of the Texian Star was first issued, the subscriber has received encouragement sufficient to insure its publication, the first number, it is expected, will be issued before active hostilities shall have again commenced.

W.M. SAVAGE P. S. Remittance made (post paid) to the subscriber, will be attended to, prior to the 15th September, or as above directed, previous to the date.

Papers friendly to the cause will please insert the above as often as convenient.

How to Cook Cucumbers We have a recipe to cook cucumbers somewhat after this fashion.

Take the cucumbers, and after cutting off the rind, cut them into slices, then cut up a few onions with them, pepper and salt them to your liking, and add vinegar to them -- and then, -- open your window and throw them away.

This is the usual way for preparing them for the table, and doubtless the recipe is so worded as to impress the idea of their unhealthiness, and we must confess, that we are among those who have esteemed them. But if cooked as below stated, we conceive them not only to be wholesome, but among the most palatable vegetable dishes with which the table can be garnished.

Our method is this: Pare off the rind, then cut the cucumber into slices lengthwise, dust either sides of these slices with corn meal or wheat flour, pepper and salt them to please your taste; this done, fry them brown, and you will have one of the most delicious dishes that you can imagine, combining in their flavor, those of the oyster plant and the eggplant. Of their healthfulness, thus cooked, there can be no question, and of the palatableness; it is only necessary that you try them, to say with us that they are exquisite.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
GENERAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 2, 1982

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that prohibits any state ad valorem tax. Receipts from previously authorized state ad valorem taxes that are collected after the effective date of the proposed amendment shall be deposited to the credit of the general fund of the county collecting the taxes and may be expended for county purposes. Taxes collected before that date shall be distributed by the legislature among educational institutions eligible to receive those funds under prior law. The proposed amendment also repeals a section of the Constitution levying an ad valorem tax for a construction fund for 17 state colleges and universities.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment repealing the state property tax."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 62 as amended by Senate Joint Resolution 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would eliminate the $50,000,000 ceiling on state welfare aid during any fiscal year.

The amendment would set the state welfare spending limit at $160,000,000 for the 1982-1983 biennium. The amendment further provides that, for each subsequent biennium, the maximum amount spent for state welfare shall not exceed one percent of the state budget.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide assistance through the appropriations process to needy persons and to place a ceiling on payments for needy dependent children at one percent of the state budget."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment that would exempt machinery and equipment used in the production of farm and ranch products from taxation. No dollar limits would be imposed and the exemption would apply to corporations and partnerships as well as to families and individuals. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment exempting implements of husbandry (agricultural machinery and equipment) from ad valorem taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 77 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Legislature to set a four year maximum term of office for board members of certain water districts and conservation and reclamation districts.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide terms not to exceed four years for members of governing boards of certain water districts and conservation and reclamation districts."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 119 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize Tarrant and Bee counties to hold county-wide elections to abolish the county treasurer's office by majority vote.

Should the county treasurer's office be abolished, the duties, powers, and functions of that office would be transferred to the county auditor or the successor to the auditor's functions.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county treasurer in Tarrant and Bee counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would raise the constitutional interest rate limit on state general obligation bonds from 6% to 12%. The new 12% ceiling does not, however, apply to bonds issued by the Veterans' Land Board.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment increasing the maximum interest rate allowed on state general obligation bonds to a weighted average annual interest rate of 12%."

The Dust Bowl Men, Dirt and Depression

by Paul Bonfield

Those of our population who lived through the infamous days of the dust bowl no doubt have indelible memories etched in their minds about the horrors accompanying those dreary days. All of us who can remember the gigantic clouds which engulfed portions of Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, and Kansas will find this book interesting as it will bring those days back to focus and remind each of us how much better it is today.

Later generations of Americans do not realize the magnitude of these horrible displays of nature, and no doubt have taken with a grain of salt the stories told them of these dust-filled days. Bonfield's book will no doubt raise their eyebrows, as it not only gives accurate accounts of the happenings then, but also has numerous photographs to corroborate the stories that have so often been told.

Accounts are chronicled in this edition which show the destruction of millions of acres of farmland and rangeland by the howling "rollers" which engulfed large areas of the aforementioned states, and accounts and photographs also show the improvement attained by soil conservation practices sponsored by the federal government which after being practiced brought destroyed areas back to production again.

The most famous of all the black dusters, which occurred April 14, 1935, is shown by photograph and described by written account in detail, during which many people thought the world was coming to an end, animals suffocated in the all encompassing dirt cloud, and lights were turned on as they would have been in the middle of the night.

If you were present during the making of the dust bowl, you will enjoy reading this book. And if you were not, it will no doubt be a revelation to you and will perhaps make you extremely thankful you lived in a later day. "The Dust Bowl" is now available at Lovett Memorial Library.

Gray County 4-H'ers to receive awards will by Cydney Morriss, Keziah Rucker, Tammy Greene,

Laura Horne, and Sabrina Parker. A Look at 4-H Membership

Some 140,000 Texas youth between the ages of 9 and 19 are members of the action-oriented, "learning by doing" program called 4-H.

4-H is the youth share of the educational efforts of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, established in 1915 to diffuse among the people practical information relating to agriculture and home economics.

However, 4-H goes back farther than that. 4-H actually had its beginning in 1908 in Jack County when a boys corn club was organized.

4-H in Texas has grown from an organization for farm boys and girls to one that is quite diverse in its makeup.

Girls now consistently outnumber boys in the program. Current figures show 71,129 girls to 67,653 boys. And about half of today's 4-H'ers -- 68,783 -- come from towns and cities larger than 60,000 people. More than 33,000 still live on farms and ranches while some 37,000 live in small towns and rural non-farm areas. Of these 4-H'ers, more than 66,000 are active in about 2,000 community 4-H clubs. The remaining 74,000 4-H'ers participate through a number of different programs.

Assisting county Extension agents and the Texas 4-H staff to carry out effective learning activities and programs are some 15,000 volunteer leaders. Volunteer leaders organize many 4-H activities and conduct worthwhile learning experiences for 4-H boys and girls. They are a vital cog in the total program, from recruitment to providing expertise in teaching various subject areas. Any interested individuals are invited to join the ranks of the 4-H volunteer leaders.

4-H continues to be a vibrant organization that is leading the way in helping youth learn practical skills and gain a knowledge of their environment that will make them better citizens and leaders of tomorrow.

Contact the Gray County Extension Office for more information about the local 4-H program.

We get a lot of phone calls and office visits for assistance. Many times we are out of the office or tied-up with someone else when you may call. I make a sincere effort to return phone calls when the numbers have been left with our secretary.

However, sometimes I have difficulty in ever finding anyone at the phone number. After I try calling a number several times over a period of two to three days, many times I give up and quit trying to call.

If you do have to leave your name and phone number, call back in two or three days if I have not reached you. I want to help everyone with their problems but at times, I just get snowed under, and it takes a few days to dig out. Please call me back if I have not contacted you in what seems a reasonable time - I may be trying and just miss catching anyone near the telephone.

Clean Till Wheat Land

Wheat streak mosaic virus (WSMV) is transmitted by the wheat curl mite. The mites and the virus must have year round living plants (wheat, native grass, volunteer wheat) for survival. If these host plants are destroyed either by a tillage operation or freezing weather the mite and virus soon perish. Since frost does not kill volunteer wheat plants, they must be cleaned tilled in order to destroy this important host of the mite and virus. Those producers that plant early for grazing should not only destroy the volunteer wheat but also leave a 200-300 foot border of cleaned tilled ground between the planted wheat and potential mite and virus native grass hosts, especially on the south and west borders of the field. This cleaned tilled border would serve as a barrier to the migrating mite and reduce the potential for WSMV. The cleaned tilled border could then be planted after frost had killed the native grass.
