Serving McLean and the Area Since 1903

It was like seeing a long-lost old friend again. On television the other night I saw the Barbara Walters interview with former President Jimmy Carter, and I almost cried. To see a man of Carter's intelligence and integrity shelved in the backwaters of the nation's government, to see all that talent going to waste is immensely sad.

Now that the pressure of government has been lifted from his shoulders, Jimmy Carter is very relaxed. If the American public could have seen Carter during the campaign as he was with Miss Walters the other night, he would have won in a landslide.

Carter said during the interview that he had thought deeply about why he lost the election. He attributed the loss to three factors: the high rate of inflation, the hostage crisis, and the vengeful actions of Senator Teddy Kennedy.

In my opinion, Carter was a victim of circumstances. He has been viewed by some as one of our worst presidents, but I feel that history will exonerate him. If nothing else, his achievements at Camp David should be enough to lift him to greatness. His primary failure was in trusting too much to those around him. But he was, and is, a good man, an intelligent man, a deeply-caring man.

Our country is less for having lost him from public service.

Those who attended have told me that last Friday's pep rally was one of the most memorable in MHS history. The football team won the spirit stick!

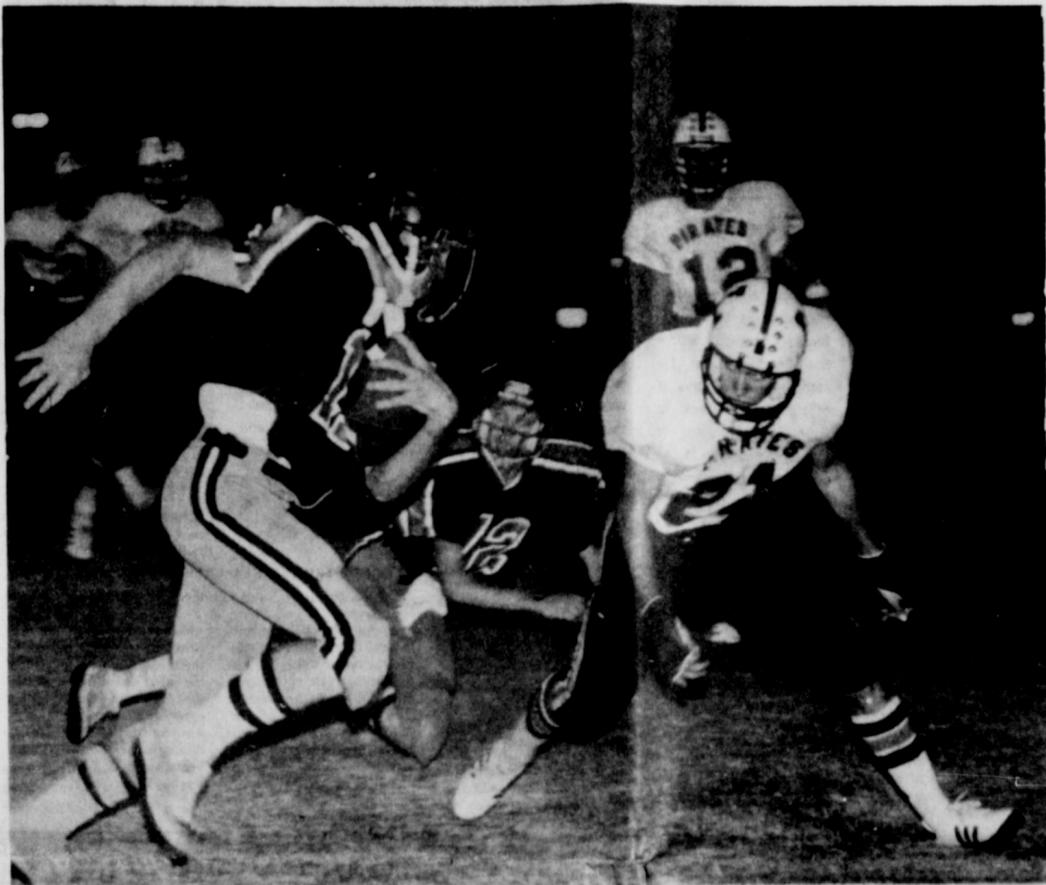

For twenty years, I have sat through MHS pep rallies and watched the team sit glumly as the other students yelled and screamed. I have always disagreed with the practice, but I thought it was because my high school was different. At both

Pirates Top Tigers In District Game At McLean

Last week's pep rally at McLean High School was one of the most exciting ever to take place, according to Tiger football fans. Spirit was at a peak, especially among the Tiger players, who began with newly-created chants in the field house before they arrived at the gym for the rally. Because of their enthusiasm the Tigers were awarded the much-coveted spirit stick, a prize which usually goes to one of the school classes. And that spirit held throughout the day and into the gridiron contest Friday evening.

But spirit wasn't enough against the Lefors Pirates, who took the game 39-10. And spirit couldn't hold Pirate Cody Allison, who garnered five touchdowns and 161 yards rushing in 12 carries.

"Lefors has a good football team," head coach Joe Riley explained. "They have 13 seniors, and talented young men in good skill positions. They also had really decent overall team speed, which was a plus for them."

"Offensively we played better than we have all season," he continued. "And the team was more fired up than I've ever seen them. But poor tackling hurt us in lots of areas. Hopefully we're going to improve that this week."

Lefors took the lead mid-way through the first quarter as Donnie Winegeart stepped off three yards to the Tiger goal line. Tiger Elson Rice blocked the extra-point kick, leaving Lefors at 6.

Three minutes later McLean tackled Monte Baskett in the Lefors endzone to put the Tigers on the scoreboard with 2. McLean took seven first downs in the first half of the game, making a good showing offensively. But Lefors' nine first downs showed the Pirates' superiority in the first half, and Cody Allison's first touchdown of the night, with 3:30 left on the second quarter clock, increased the Pirates' lead to 12-2. Allison's extra point kick was good, and Lefors left the halftime field leading 13-2.

Allison continued to march Lefors strengths, adding another touchdown to the Pirate slate early in the third, as he slipped in from the McLean five-yard-line, bringing Lefors to 19.

McLean tried a comeback late in the third, recovering a Lefors fumble on the Pirate 28-yard line. With that under their belts, a steady drive brought them to the Lefors one, and Tiger Elson Rice stepped in for McLean's second score of the night. Randall Wynn's pass to Billy Corley was good for the extra point, bringing the total to Lefors 19-McLean 10.

That was as close as the team totals would come, however, as Cody Allison claimed the game for Lefors early in the fourth as he began a string of touchdown runs. With 10:44 on the clock, Allison ran in from the 15, then kicked an extra point for a 26-10 lead.

Five minutes later, Allison took the pigskin in from the McLean 20 to raise the tally to 32-10. And with little more than two minutes left Allison returned a McLean punt 70 yards for the killing blow. His last extra-point kick was successful, and the game ended with Lefors on top 39-10.

McLean is scheduled to play Claude Friday night. "We hope to make Claude work," coach Ri-

City Council Considers Consumption Ordinance

McLean city fathers Oct. 12 began consideration of an ordinance to prohibit public consumption of alcohol in the city limits.

The decree, which is patterned after a Pampa ordinance, would make it unlawful "to consume an alcoholic beverage, or to be in possession of an open container of an alcoholic beverage with the intent to consume said alcoholic beverage upon the public streets, highways, alleyways, sidewalks, and parking lots and a designated public park" in McLean.

Violation of the ordinance would be considered a misdemeanor. Any person convicted of the misdemeanor would face a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $200.

Further consideration of the ordinance will be on the agenda for the Nov. 9 meeting of the city council. "The reason we are considering this type of ordinance," explained Mayor Sam Haynes, "is that we have had numerous complaints about public drinking in McLean. The school and bank parking lots and the city park have been abused by those persons who openly consume alcohol. Public drinking and the resulting litter are problems that we must find an answer for."

Any interested party is invited to attend the next council meeting to discuss the proposed ordinance. In other business, councilmen directed city secretary Stella Lee to complete a pre-application for a federal grant which could bring more than $500,000 into the city coffers. Application for the grant, which would direct funds for city streets and water projects, must be accompanied by a city business survey. Mrs. Lee will contact businesses for help in completing the survey, which will include general information concerning types of employees and salary ranges.

"We need to stress that this is just an application," Mrs. Lee said. "But it sure doesn't hurt to try every avenue to help the city."

The council also voted to send city superintendent Bob Glenn to a water school Nov. 2, 3, and 4.

Attending the regular session were councilmen Charles Milam, G. W. Terry, James Barker, and Dale Glass, Mayor Haynes, Mrs. Lee, Glenn, and Lisa Patman.

Small Group Attends Driving Course

Only 17 students showed up for the Defensive Driving Course Saturday at the McLean Lions Club Building. The McLean Chamber of Commerce offered the course, which usually costs $20, to all McLean area residents without charge. Completion of the course gives the driver 10 percent off his insurance premium for three years, a savings of up to $180 for some drivers, according to Jane Simpson, local insurance agent.

Voting Continues Until Oct. 29

Gray County voters may vote absentee in the general election until October 29, according to county clerk Wanda Carter. Mrs. Carter said that voters may cast their ballots at her office on the second floor of the courthouse in Pampa from 8:30 to 12 and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday and Friday of this week. Next week, the office will be open through the noon hour for balloting.

Mrs. Carter said for the first time voters over 65 may cast their ballot by mail. The registered voter must request a ballot by sending a written application to Mrs. Wanda Carter, County Clerk, Courthouse, Pampa, Texas 79065 as soon as possible. The request must be received in time for the ballot to be mailed, marked and returned by the general election Nov. 2.

Department of Public Safety trooper Jerry Burgdorf got special permission from his supervisor to give the eight-hour course to the small group. A minimum number of 20 is usually required for the course.

Shamrock's Octoberfest Is This Weekend

The fourth annual "Octoberfest" in Shamrock begins Saturday at 9 a.m. The arts and crafts show and sale continues until 6 p.m. Saturday and then will be open Sunday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the National Guard Armory on Highway 83, south of Shamrock. The admission, art show, and parking are free. There will be competition in arts and crafts, needlecrafts, and various children's contests.

Vacant House Burns

McLean Volunteer Firemen were called to a house fire Tuesday morning about 12:30 a.m., according to fire chief Jim McDonald. The fire totally gutted the inside of an A-frame home, located across the street from the Cactus Inn. The home, owned by Paul Middleton, was not occupied at the time of the fire.

McDonald said that he thought the fire originated in the bathroom of the structure. No damage estimate was available at press time.

Smitherman Given Gold Star Award

Bryan Smitherman was awarded the Gold Star award as the outstanding male 4-H member in Gray County during the club's annual banquet in Pampa Saturday night.

Smitherman has been a member of the 4-H for eight years. He is the current vice president of the McLean chapter of Four Clover 4-H club. He participated in the 4-H Citizenship and Heritage Short Course in Washington, D.C. last summer, and has attended 4-H Congress in San Antonio. He placed third in state competition for his record book on electrical energy. Among his projects in 4-H have been electrical energy, electricity, home environment, crops, beef, swine, food and nutrition. The Gold Star award was presented to Smitherman by Ralph Thomas. Smitherman is a junior at McLean High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Smitherman of McLean.

Other winners from McLean included Teresa Woods, who won the achievement award and received the "I Dare You" award from Judge

A Look At The Amendments

Mark Twain once apologized for writing such a long letter to a friend. "I didn't have enough time to write a short one," he said. The lawmakers of the state of Texas obviously don't have enough time to write a short constitution, either, as Texas voters are again asked to patch this lengthy outmoded document.

The current Texas Constitution is six times as long as the U. S. Constitution. It has been padded and mended almost every two years since it was ratified in 1876. Legislatures have proposed 396 amendments, and 242 have been adopted.

Although voters defeated a referendum for a constitutional convention in 1975 to totally revise this leaky document, I think it is time to try that again.

The current crop of amendments are a perfect example of why the constitution needs to be rewritten. Most of the amendments are items which should be governed by statute, rather than by an amendment.

I usually feel that voters should defeat most constitutional amendments until the constitution has been revised. Most of the current crop of amendments, however, are clean-up items; that is, things that need to be taken care of in order to alleviate some legal foul-up.

AMENDMENT NO. 1: State property tax: This amendment repeals the 10c per $100 assessed value statewide property tax supporting construction at state universities. This amendment was written by the second special session of the legislature in June. We recommend a YES vote.

AMENDMENT No. 2: Welfare ceiling increase: This amendment would set the limit for cash assistance programs at one percent of the state budget. That would be the maximum amount the state could pay. This amendment is endorsed by almost all politicians in the state and most human rights groups. Only one state pays a lower Aid to Families with Dependent Children. The standard for a family of three in Texas was set in 1969 at $117.60 per month. "Although inflation has greatly increased the price of goods and services since 1969, the state's payment standard has remained essentially the same," according to the Texas Research League. We recommend a YES vote.

AMENDMENT No. 3: Exempting implements of husbandry from ad valorem taxation. The legislature tried to provide this exemption by statute in 1981, but the attorney general's opinion set limits on the exemption. This amendment would provide the exemption without the limitations. If enacted, all farm machinery and equipment will be exempt from local property taxes regardless of value or the nature of ownership. I believe that the current law is functional enough. We recommend a NO vote.

AMENDMENT No. 4: Authorizing the legislature to provide terms not to exceed four years for members of governing boards of certain water districts and reclamation districts. Information about this amendment is difficult to find. I recommend a NO vote, simply because no one seems to know what the amendment entails.

AMENDMENT No. 5: Abolishing the office of county treasurer in Tarrant and Bee Counties. The entire state must vote on this strictly local issue, simply because of a quirk in the constitution. I do not intend to mark my ballot. Hopefully, the people in Tarrant and Bee counties will vote their preference.

AMENDMENT NO. 6: Increasing the maximum interest rate allowed on state general obligation bonds to a weighted annual rate of 12 percent. This amendment needs to be passed if the State is to stay on a modern footing fiscally. We recommend a YES vote.

high schools I attended, the football boys were always the loudest, most rambunctious participants. I always thought it was good psychology on the part of the coaches to let the boys scream and yell and build their own enthusiasm.

I assumed that the fact that McLean boys sat quietly through pep rallies must have been a part of the Texas macho myth.

But the 1982 Tigers have proved me wrong!

I'm going to the pep rally this Friday just to see this phenomenon! My secret spy tells me that last week was the most exciting pep rally in memory, and I want to see if it can be repeated!

DPS Safety Officer Jerry Burgdorf was amazed that so few people came to the defensive driving course Saturday in McLean. He said that the course is offered every week in Amarillo, and the waiting list to get a spot in the course is very long.

He said that the Chamber's mistake was in offering the course free. Every other place charges at least $20 per student. It was his opinion that people think something free is probably not worth while.

Despite the fact that the course takes eight hours, I found that the time passed very rapidly. The instruction is a nice mix of visual aids with lecture, and the facts were very interesting. I think I learned some things about driving that will help me.

Of course the most frightening statistic is still the fact that we kill more people every year on the U. S.'s highways that were killed in Vietnam in 12 years! Tougher enforcement of existing laws, safer vehicles, and more driving instruction are the only ways this tragic figure will ever be decreased.

If the course is ever offered in the area again, I strongly recommend that you take it. I could be a matter of life and death for you and your family.

Senator Bill Sarpalius

AUSTIN - The last three amendments on the ballot November 2 are not earth-shaking, but are still important.

Amendment No. 4: As a general rule, the Texas Constitution limits terms of office for elected officials to two years. There are exceptions, like the Governor's term. This amendment would create another exception, for water district directors. They presently serve two years, but could serve up to four years if this amendment passes.

Supporters of the amendment say the two-year term is too short for the small communities in and around San Angelo where these districts are located. They say it leads to too many elections and too much turnover on the boards.

Some opponents say it is ridiculous to amend the constitution just to accommodate the three tiny water districts affected by the amendment. Other opponents say we should just vote to do away with the two-year limit entirely, and let the Legislature set the length of terms for public office.

Amendment No. 5: Every county has a treasurer and an auditor. The treasurer keeps the books; the auditor oversees the books. In Tarrant and Bee Counties, voters recently elected treasurers who ran on a platform of abolishing their offices. Abolishment requires a constitutional amendment, plus a majority vote of the voters in the County seeking abolishment of the office.

Supporters say the trea-

Reports

sure's duties are duplicated by the auditor, and the treasurer's office costs money. They say independent audits could compensate for any "checks and balances" lost by abolishing one county financial office.

They say the amendment does not interfere with the right of other counties to hire a treasurer if the voters want to keep that office. The amendment only affects Tarrant and Bee Counties.

Opponents say the amendment would put too much power in the hands of the auditor. They like the system of checks and balances created by having two financial officers in a county. They do not agree that the two offices have the same duties; they say every county needs both a treasurer and an auditor.

Amendment No. 6: The interest rate ceiling on bonds issued by the state is 6 percent. The only exception to this rule is veterans' land bonds, which may be issued at 10 percent. Amendment No. 6 would raise the general interest ceiling to 12 percent.

Supporters point out that the state holds $312 million in bonds it has been unable to sell. They claim the reason the bonds will not sell is the interest rate is too low. They also say the amendment would not force the state to sell the bonds with a 12 percent return; it would only allow the state to sell them for that rate if high interest rates on other instruments made such a high rate necessary.

Opponents generally agree 6 percent is too low, but argue 12 percent is too high. They claim 10 percent, the figure that is the ceiling for veterans' land bonds, is reasonable and should be the maximum the state should pay.

ley noted. "They have a fine football team. They're primarily small, similar to us, with similar experience. Their schedule is much like ours. They played Wheeler to a 7-7 tie last week, which is good ball playing. They execute well offensively. We'll have to play a good defensive ballgame."

Tiger manager Allen Patman added, "We've sure got the spirit for it. If we can keep this fired up for the game, we can beat them. It's been a long time since the football team earned the spirit stick, and longer still since anyone has kept it for two weeks in a row, but I think we can do that. And if we can do that, we've got them licked."

McLEAN BRIEFS

Mrs. Margurite Burgin of Groom visited her mother and brother, Mrs. Jim Wheeler and Dick last week. ...

The Susanna Group of Methodist women met Tuesday at 10 a.m. to continue the study of Hebrews. Those present were Robbie Wilson, Helen Black, Jean Longino, Eva Peabody, Beatrice Foster, Maggie Johnston, and Katy Graham. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 9 at 10 a.m. in the church parlor and all interested ladies are invited to attend.

The descendants of John and Venie Jenkins met October 16 in Mineral Wells for a family gathering. Those attending were Archie and Evelyn Waddell of Brownfield, Cliff and Nell Whitley of Austin, Jim, Mikia, and J. J. Aubrigh of Houston, Dave and Michael Jenkins of Colleyville, K'De Taylor of Colleyville, Arthur and Clara Jenkins of Electra, Judge and Sadie Jenkins of Ft. Worth, Clay Jenkins of Chillicothe, Mr. and Mrs. Mack A. Jenkins and daughter of Burleson, Chris and Tonja Jenkins of Arlington, James Jenkins of Altus, Okla., and Earl and Laverne Brooks of McLean.

Lena Bailey and Sophia Hutcheson of McLean attended a Green Thumb training session in Shamrock Oct. 12. Green Thumb state director Diane Parrish held the training session to let Green Thumb workers know their jobs had been saved by the Congressional override of the President's veto of a supplemental appropriations bill. Approximately 35 Green Thumb workers attending the session.

The Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met October 12 at the American National Bank Hospitality room. After the business meeting, Linda McNear presented a program entitled, "Learning to Earn." Refreshments were then served by Mrs. McNear and Jan Layfield to Jacque Riley, Kathy Reynolds, Billie Kingston, Mary Lou Glass, Jodie Thomas, Donna Hauck, Margaret Milam and Linda Syfrett.

Members of the Youth Choir of the First United Methodist Church in McLean performed at the Gray County 4-H banquet in Pampa Saturday night at the First Christian Church.

They are Louise Dickinson, president; secretary Relia Ayers; mission study Ava Ledinham; mission action, Mary Lou Garrison; mission support Ann Gardner; enlistment chairman Safrona Pettit.

Mrs. Wood presented each new officer with a white carnation. Refreshments were served by hostess Juanita Smith to Carole Abigt, Relia Ayers, Louise Dickinson, Ann Gardner, Mary Lou Garrison, Shella Gibson, Wilma Mangum, Pauline Miller, Safrona Pettit, Susie Trout, Chic Wood, and Ava Ledinham and her daughter.

In The Kitchen

A few weeks ago I looked everywhere for a good recipe for pickled okra. This delicious delicacy tastes wonderful, and is relatively low in calories. However, I was unable to find a recipe that I liked.

Now that our okra plants in our garden have quit producing, I found the perfect recipe in the Gray County Cookbook. I'm saving it for next year.

PICKLED OKRA

Mrs. T.C. Carter
Mrs. Ewina Cobb
Put okra in pint jars. Mix 1/2 gallon vinegar, 1/2 gallon water, and 1 cup salt. Bring to a boil and pour over okra in jars. To each pint jar add 1 hot pepper, 1 section of a clove of garlic, and 1 t. dill seed. For a smaller amount use 1 cup water, 1 cup vinegar, and 1/8 cup salt (or 2 scant T.). This will cover 2 pints of okra.

Here is a recipe that you can use right now with your green tomatoes. It is delicious!

BAKED GREEN TOMATOES

Mrs. Don Thompson
5 green tomatoes
salt and pepper to taste
3/4 cup shredded cheddar cheese

Cut tomatoes in half crosswise and remove cores; slice halves in 1/2 inch slices and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Layer half of tomato slices in a shallow baking dish and sprinkle with half cheese; repeat layers and cover dish and bake at 400 degrees for 45 minutes.

Loose Marbles

by Lisa Patman

Life is a lot like a piece of wadded up plastic wrap--by the time you get it undone you've either forgotten why you wanted it, or the food's spoiled. A case in point:

A couple of months ago I become the official "stat man" for the McLean Tiger high school football team. I was appointed to this position not because of my enthusiasm for the game (since I was the first to cheer for the football strike), nor because I am a rabid football mother (since I would be the first to run screaming onto the field, "My baby, oh my baby!" should one of mine get hurt), nor for my keen abilities as an observer and mathematician (what?)

I was picked for the simple reason that I said "Huh?" and the coach thought I said "Uh-huh." In other words, I'm the new stat man because I mumble well.

Now, I am, by nature, a peaceable person. I shun wars, child abuse, and cat-kicking. I rarely beat my husband. I believe that atoms should remain unsplit, and that nuclear should pertain to the middle of a cell. Additionally, boxing matches leave me heavy-hearted, wrestling gives me the vapors, and political debates cause me to have acid indigestion.

I am telling you all this because I want you to understand the placid, peace-loving individual that has dwelt in my body for lo, these many years. I want to be absolutely sure that you realize the depth of my passionate tranquility, my abhorrence of hostility, my love of addiction to serenity.

I want you to keep all these things in mind next Friday night when you glance down at the sidelines and see me jumping up and down, frothing at the mouth, waving my arms, and screaming, as I did last week, "Blood makes the grass grow, kill! kill!"

I want to know that it's not really me---it's just my plastic wrap unwadding.

When heat and air make the difference

A crowd gathered in the country square, curious to see the large, strange-looking contraption of paper and cloth. The on-lookers laughed at Joseph and Etienne Montgolfier as the two men ignited the pile of straw and rags beneath their invention.

The unbelieving crowd gasped as heated air began to fill out the paper and cloth of the world's first hot air balloon as it climbed steadily to the then-astounding altitude of about six thousand feet.

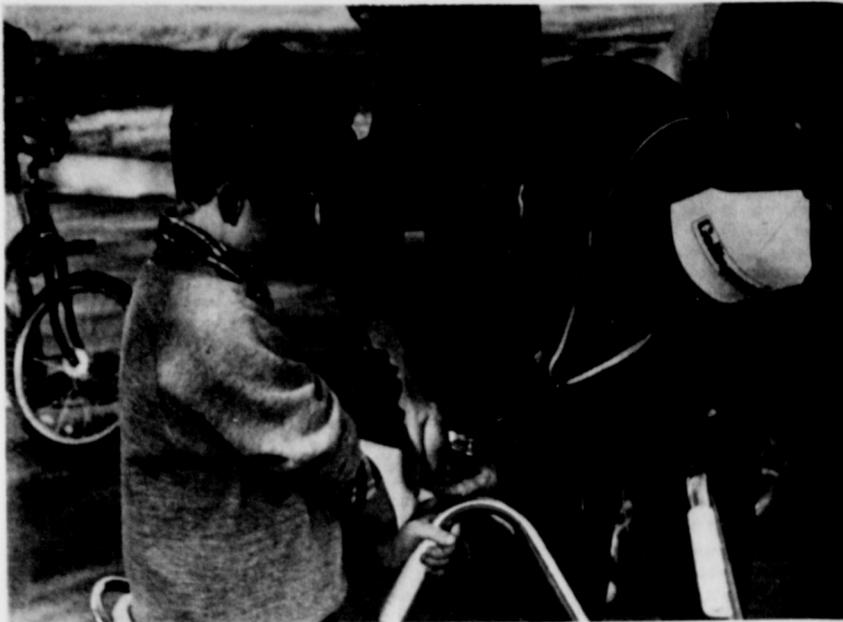

As the inventive partners had managed the dynamics of heat and air to give flight to their idea, you and SPS and the High Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump can make a difference in your everyday management of heat, air and electricity in your home.

When you install a High Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump you increase the heating efficiency of your existing furnace, and add cooling efficiency next summer. You also qualify for a special electric rate from SPS for seven months of the year. Call us to see what your savings could be.

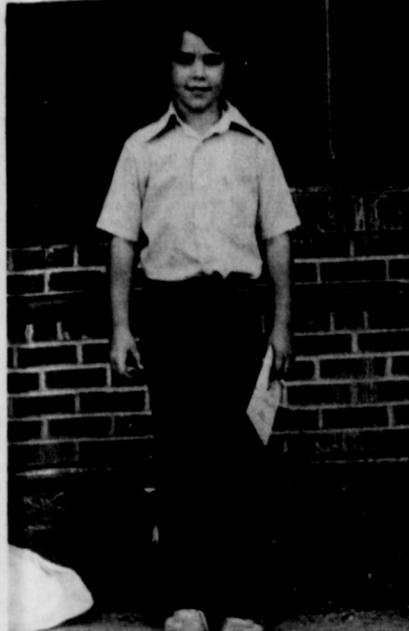

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

Bike Riders Raise Almost $3000 For Charity

Thirty-three bike riders raised $2952.47 in pledges during the St. Jude Bike-A-Thon in McLean Saturday morning. The youngsters rode a total of 341 miles during the three and one-half hour session. Members of the McLean Lions Club laid out a mile-long course beginning at the McLean Elementary school.

The riders had a card punched each time they completed the mile course. Donald Harris rode the farthest distance, with 21 miles to his credit. Keith Robinson earned the most money with a total of $306.75. Second was Tuffy Sanders with a total of $233. Tony Hambright rode the second longest distance at 18 miles.

Participants in the event received prizes for their participation.

Others in the contest were Shava Seymour, Will Shaw, Cash Carpenter, Chris Littlefield, Deborah Cornett, Huey

Green, Robert Sander-son, Daniel Harris, Tina Cummings, Quillian Rutherford, J. T. Haynes, Tanner Hess, Mindy Magee, Jimmy Cummings, Clay Reynolds, Wendi Smith, Shandee Rice, Jason Wheat, Danny Watson,

Dried Flowers For Winter Bouquets

One of the nice things about late summer is the vast array of colorful flowers and native plants that adorn our landscapes. These same plants can also be used to brighten the inside of our homes year-round. How? By making permanent dried arrangements.

For hundreds of years, gardeners have preserved flowers by drying. The so-called everlasting types like strawflower have been most popular, but there are many other annual flowers which can be used.

Summer annuals which are excellent for drying include marigolds, salvia, cosmos, zinnias, coreopsis, and gloriosa daisies also make good dried specimens.

Native flowers and grasses also reach their peak in the late summer, with many drying naturally or producing interesting seed heads. Cattails, dock, oats and the numerous dried grasses make delightful winter bouquets.

Drying flowers is a rewarding experience because it is easy to do. Flowers usually dry remarkably well, and last for many years. Flowers can be preserved in several different ways, by hanging, pressing or with various drying agents.

Hanging -- Air-drying or hanging is the easiest and best method for preserving many flowers. As a general rule, flowers need only to have the leaves removed and to be hung upside down in a warm, dry, dark place until the moisture content is evaporated. An attic, closet or pantry is a good place to hang flowers for drying.

Pressing -- Easy and quick, though the contour is lost and the flowers are flat. For pressing use unglazed paper, such as newsprint or an old telephoen book. Place the flowers so that they do not overlap between several thicknesses of the paper. Weight down with a heavy object. The time required for drying can be anywhere from two to four weeks.

Drying Agents -- Flowers can be dried by burying them in materials such as sand and borax or cornmeal and borax.

These materials are successful for certain flowers, but undependable for others. More recently, a drying agent called silica gel has been used. This compound has the capacity to absorb large quantities of moisture and can quickly dehydrate cut flowers. Flowers, minus leaves are buried in the gel in a

Dentists Say "Enjoy Halloween"...But

Halloween is sweets heaven for children, but don't sweets cause cavities, followed by dental bills? Not necessarily, says the American Academy of Pedodontics, the professional organization of pediatric dentists.

Halloween is the perfect opportunity to teach children that their teeth must be cleaned after eating, and to teach them that there is sugar in an apple and raisins, as well as in candies, sodas, and cookies.

Keeping ourselves clean is a learned ritual from childhood. For the child's dental health, habits begun early in life will ensure only routine visits to the dentist through a lifetime.

Pediatric dentists say that you don't have to put a damper on the child's joy of Halloween, because the revolution in children's dentistry is quite simply, that a clean tooth will not decay. Let the kids return home with their bag of goodies and enjoy them to the hilt. Remember, however, that the frequency of eating is critical. You might want to let the kids binge a bit on Halloween night, followed by a thorough bedtime brushing, and to apportion the treasuretrove, to be eaten following supper over several nights -- always followed by a good brushing.

Today's message from pediatric dentists is that most foods contain sugar in some form or other. Baked goods contain sugar and stick to the teeth as long as candy. The important consideration is to clean the teeth thoroughly at least twice a day. Our teeth must last a lifetime, so guiding, supervising and helping your child to clean teeth properly is a primary responsibility.

In the U.S., tooth decay is rapidly decreasing. In fact, there can be a totally cavity-free generation. Pediatric dentists hope that a child will visit them before the age of three, so that they can guide the parent and the child toward dental health. A pediatric dentist is an expert, by special training and interest, in preventing not only cavities, but the shape the child's teeth and jaw will take. This is called "interceptive orthodontics," and if the child is taken to the dentist early, expensive and sometimes uncomfortable dental treatment can often be eliminated.

ALAN REED BRIEFS

The Alanreed Home-maker's Club met Oct. 8 in the home of Mary Davis. President Mary Davis presided over a short business session. Rose Hall read the scripture from Psalms. Roll call was "A magazine I enjoy," and was answered by Anita Bruce, Lena Carter, Mary Davis, Onie Gibson, Ruth and Brenda McLain, Nell Keese, Polly Harrison and Sophia Hutchison. Minutes were read by Ruth McLain and approved. It was voted to fix a sunshine box for Lucy Goldston in the hospital. A program on the value of plants was given by Anita Bruce. Refreshments of "Impossible Pie", punch and coffee were served by the hostess.

Lucille Keller was in Amarillo on Thursday and visited at the bedside of her sister-in-law Lucy Goldston.

The Robert Bruces were in Pampa several times last week as grandson Paul was in the Pampa Hospital.

Onie Gibson was in Pampa on Friday and visited at the Darrel Gibsons with sister-in-law Mary Baten.

The Dick Bodes' were in California for a family reunion this week.

The Bill Tidwell's had a new roof put on their home this week.

The Bob Fish's were in the process of moving to McLean this week.

Lucy Goldston, who underwent knee surgery in St. Anthony's Hospital last week, was recuperating nicely this week.

Robert Bruce made a trip to Amarillo on Friday.

Visiting Robert Bruce and at First Baptist Church Sunday was Manuel Bruce of Amarillo. Manuel is Robert's cousin, and son of the late Dayton Bruce.

The Carl Bakers visited with Lucy Goldston in an Amarillo hospital Sunday.

Anita Bruce was in Midland over the weekend at Sandra De-webbers', where they celebrated Nickie's birthday.

Visiting with Lena Carter on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Carter of Pampa.

Visiting the Hartley Davis' during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Bircher of Mexia, Tex.

and Mr. and Mrs. Hechler of Alta Loma, Texas.

Kay Hallum and son, Rose Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Davis were in Pampa Saturday for the 80th birthday celebration. Mrs. Hall and the Davis' were recognized for having been here before 1920. They sat at a special table and got a ride in an antique Hupmobile car. They especially enjoyed the fashion show of dresses worn in that period.

Visiting Jewel Warner during the weekend were Bob Dudley and son of Denver, Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. John Parker of Durant, Oklahoma, and Mary Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bednorz and Kristie of Panhandle visited with Onie Gibson Sunday.

Those Amazing Ringlings and Their Circus

Gene Plowden
This excellent book by Gene Plowden covers the circus from its earliest days in the 1880's to the present time, and recounts in wonderful style how the five Ringlings became the kings of the circus world.

The growth of the circus from the struggling little "Carnival of Fun," to the magnificent group which required one hundred double-length railroad cars to move, is a historical bonanza for those interested in this very popular subject.

Plowden has written a complete, authentic history of the Ringling Bros. Circus, and the monstrous task required countless days, weeks, and months of research, plus a personal knowledge of the circus and a friendship with many of the men who made it successful.

The author ate in the cookhouse, rode on the trains, and prowled through winter quarters to learn of the whole complex circus operation, and his experience brings a ring of authenticity far above the accounts written by other circus historians.

Anyone who has ever entered "The Big Top", or witnessed the fantastic acts in a modern auditorium or coliseum, will enjoy reading this expertly written account. "Those Amazing Ringlings and Their Circus" will strike responsive chords in all who have ever attended a circus, and will bring to focus the fascinating behind-the-scenes vignettes not before known. This publication is now available at Lovett Memorial Library.

4-H Corner

Barrow Feeders

Now is the time to make a solid decision as to whether or not to feed a barrow this year.

Through the years, we have made it a point to help 4-H exhibitors select their barrows, if we were aware of the need for help.

If help is wanted in selecting barrows for the coming year, please contact Joe VanZandt at the County Extension Office by calling 669-7429.

A $25 deposit will be required for each pig that we are asked to buy. A check for this amount should be made payable to Gray County 4-H. The deposit requirement is necessary to guarantee acceptance of pig bought for 4-H'er. The deposit will apply toward the purchase price of the pig. We need to know immediately if help is needed in getting barrows because we will be able to attend only a few sales. The Pampa pig sale will be Oct. 18 starting at 6 p.m.

Please let the Extension Office know when you do get a barrow so we can begin checking progress.

Food Show Dates Set

The dates for county and district food shows have been set. The Gray County Food Show will be November 13, and the District Food Show will be December 4. It is not too late to get into a food group. If interested, call the Extension Office at 669-7429.

4-H'ers Create Awareness

Young people often take the lead in creating awareness or solving community issues, and 4-H'ers are no exception. Youth enrolled in the 4-H leadership program, conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, are stepping up and speaking out on issues affecting their communities.

Two such 4-H'ers are Jill Prindiville of Missouri, who conducted a successful campaign to create a new state park containing relics, and Elyse Bowers of Georgia, who investigated community needs and found that good child care was not available to all children. Both youths were national winners in the 4-H leadership program supported by Reader's Digest.

Other 4-H members are involved in various community fund-raising campaigns, serving as officers of community and civic groups or working with younger members on their projects, demonstrations, speeches and exhibits.

Awards and incentives provided by Reader's Digest through the National 4-H Council are available to 4-H members who excel in the program. Included are a trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago and an opportunity to win a $1,000 scholarship.

Contact the County Extension Office for more information on the 4-H leadership program plus other 4-H programs and activities.

Whichever method you choose, the use of dried flowers for "permanent" arrangements can be colorful and rewarding and surprisingly inexpensive.

After you've dried your flowers, put a two to four-inch section of No. 2 florist's wire through each flower's head, securing the wire by bending it into a hook at the flower-head end. This short wire can then be attached to longer wire which becomes the stem. The final step is to wrap all wire with green floral tape and then make your arrangement.

The McLean Junior High Cubs found themselves on the short end of the stick after battling the Claude Colts on McLean's Duncan football field Oct. 14, losing 28-0.

Plagued by poor weather and a strong Claude offense, the McLean youngsters were unable to stop the Colts. Claude's first score came with their first drive of the first quarter, thus setting the rhythm for the evening. By halftime, the score was 14-0 and the Colts weren't through yet. A score in the middle of the third quarter and another at the beginning of the fourth found Claude 28 and McLean 0.

The Cubs are scheduled to play Miami at 6:15 Thursday at Duncan Field.

Southwestern Bell Celebrates Century Anniversary

Southwestern Bell celebrated its 100th anniversary

The company was formed in 1882—only six years after Alexander Graham Bell invented his talking machine. The initial formation came from consolidation of small companies in Kansas and Missouri.

Texas was added to Southwestern Bell operations in 1920, with 173,737 telephones served statewide. Southwestern Bell now provides service to 9.3 million telephones throughout 506 towns and cities in Texas.

Since becoming a part of the company, Texas telephone service has expanded to account for more than 50 percent of the Southwestern Bell operations in Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri and Texas.

"A projected $1.5 billion will be spent throughout the state in 1982 to expand and improve telephone service for our 5.4 million customers," according to Gary Stevens of Southwestern Bell. Stevens said the company's first 100 years has been devoted to providing quality communications services to all who desire them.

"In Texas today, there are 53,997 dedicated Southwestern Bell workers with that as their goal," he said. "Also significant is that, today, Bell workers' productivity gains on a national average are four times as great as all U.S. industry in general."

Stevens acknowledged that Southwestern Bell's second 100 years will be vastly different than its first.

"The ground beneath us is shifting as we start our company's second century," Stevens said.

"Today's technology is allowing the range of telecommunications to go beyond our imagination. Happenings in the judicial, regulatory and legislative arenas have also altered the direction of our future courses, and will continue to do so in the immediate time ahead.

"Although we are entering a new environment, our keystone commitments to Southwestern Bell customers will remain unchanged—that is, to provide the best possible service to all our customers."

NEWS OF HEALTH

Emotional Stress And Sudden Cardiac Death

Emotional stress can be harmful to the individual susceptible to heart problems. Economic worries, friction in a marriage or career, and work deadlines can be detrimental.

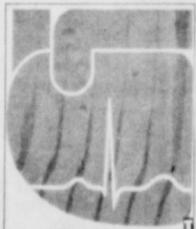

Modern-day stresses affect everyone now and then, but constant stress can be responsible for chronically high blood pressure, a primary factor in heart disease.

Besides increasing blood pressure, stress can increase heart, breathing, and metabolic rate, as well as blood flow, all of which put greater demands on the circulatory system.

Certain personality types are also more susceptible to stress than others. A competitive, impatient, aggressive, short-tempered kind of person, or what physicians refer to as a "type A" personality, is much more prone to be adversely affected by stress than a "type B" personality, who is more low key and relaxed.

Stress, according to some doctors, can also be linked to arrhythmias, electrical accidents in the heart that can result in sudden cardiac death.

Cardiologists say there are a number of ways to reduce stress, a first of which is learning to cope. Venting tension and hostility through regular exercise and sports is effective, as are rest, relaxation, and other leisure activities.

Doctors are increasingly recognizing the value of meditation techniques in reducing stress. The important thing is to find out what works best for you and then fit it into your daily routine.

No one is exempt from talking nonsense; the misfortune is to do it solemnly.

SPS Announces 1982 Earnings

Southwestern Public Service Company today reported 1982 earnings of $2.02 per common share, representing a 5.8% increase over the $1.91 figure for the previous year.

The electric utility reported $588.9 million gross revenues for the year ended August 31, 1982, up $55 million or 10.3% over 1981. The year's earnings applicable to common stock totaled $67.3 million, a 19.8% increase over the $56.1 million posted in 1981.

Net operating income for the period rose 10.0% to $84.9 million.

Berl M. Springer, the Company's board chairman, said the revenues gain resulted primarily from increased cost of fuel recovered through revenues and increased base revenues. He said base revenues for 1982 were $278.3 million, an increase of $18.1 million, or 7.0% over 1981, reflecting rate relief and a moderate increase in KWH sales.

He also said construction expenditures for fiscal 1983 have been budgeted at $131 million, which includes outlays on Tolk Station Unit No. 2, a 561,000-KW coal-fired unit, scheduled for completion in the summer of 1985.

Tolk Station Unit No. 1, also a 561,000-KW unit, recently went on-line, raising the Company's electricity generating capacity from coal-fired power plants to approximately 45% of total capability.

Southwestern Public Service primarily provides electric service to a population of more than 1 million in a 45,000-square-mile area of the Panhandle and south plains of Texas, eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the Oklahoma Panhandle, and southwestern Kansas.

JV Tigers Lose To Wheeler JV In Gridiron Action Thursday, 25-6

The McLean High School Junior Varsity travelled to Wheeler Oct. 14 to tangle with the Wheeler Junior Varsity. Although the Tigers lost the contest 25-6, coach Frank Purcell feels the game was a good experience and proved to be a morale booster for the team.

McLean's only score came at the closing of the first half. With no time showing on the clock, Martin Gately intercepted a Wheeler pass 3 yards inside the Mustang's end zone and following an opening block from teammate Russell Littlefield, ran 103 yards to paydirt. The PAT was unsuccessful leaving the score at 25-6.

After making some adjustments during half-time, McLean came back and managed to hold Wheeler's powerful offensive line scoreless during the entire second half.

"We need to remember that our team consists of 10 freshmen, two sophomores and only one junior," Purcell noted.

"The teams we've been playing against have had age and experience on their side. I am really pleased with the way our young men handled themselves, and feel they made a good show against Wheeler."

The Junior Varsity is scheduled to meet Canadian here Thursday night at 7:30. The game will follow the Junior High game against Miami.

GRAY COUNTY GARDENING

One of the most prolific summer-flowering landscape plants available to many Texas homeowners is the crepemyrtle (Lagerstroemia spp.). A multi-stemmed shrub or simple-stem small tree, the crepemyrtle has been recognized for its long-lasting summer blooms in colors of red, pink, lavender, and white.

The crepemyrtle is native to Southeast Asia and Australia. It was introduced into the United States during Colonial times, but not until the last two decades has extensive hybridization and selection taken place. Presently there are three varieties available - upright, dwarf, or weeping.

The upright variety of crepemyrtle is characterized by the common Lagerstroemia indica, which has become the most extensively cultivated species for the southern landscape. Growing to heights of 25 feet, or more, and blooming all summer long, this tree was a natural for accenting the gradiose plantation or rural southern homestead. Research initiated in 1962 by the U.S. National Arboretum in Washington, D.C. hoped to produce six cultivars with powdery mildew resistance, true color, recurrent flowering, more desirable shrub and tree growth habits, and autumn foliage coloration.

The cultivars introduced as follows:
 'catawba' - compact crown and dark purple blooms.
 'Cherokee' - open spreading habit and red flowers
 'Conestoga' - lavender flowers and open branching habit
 'Potomac' - a strong upright grower with medium pink flowers
 'Seminole' - bright red blooms and an upright spreading habit

'Powhatan' - medium lavender blooms and open branching habit

Each of these cultivars seemed to be only somewhat mildew tolerant.

The next hybridization attempted was between Lagerstroemia indica and faurieri. Lagerstroemia faurieri was introduced in 1956 by the New Crops Research Branch, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture and provided the first mildew-resistant germplasm for development of disease-resistant cultivars. In addition, this species was a rapid grower, reached heights of 30 feet or more, its trunk peeled annually to expose a mottled dark burgundy - cinnamon inner bark and it was slightly tolerant of freezing temperatures.

From selections made of these hybridizations, two new cultivars were introduced - 'Muskogee' and 'natchez'. At the same time these hybrids were being developed, seedlings with characteristics intermediate between L. indica and L. faurieri were discovered in Texas and given cultivar status - 'Basham's Party Pink' and 'Tinsley'.

The cultivar 'Muskogee' has multiple stems, peeling bark, red autumn coloration, is highly mildew tolerant, and produces light lavender flowers from July to September. 'Natchez' has multiple stems, a beautiful cinnamon-brown, peeling bark year round red or orange autumn coloration, is highly mildew tolerant, and flowers prolifically with white blooms from late June to September.

These upright cultivars of crepemyrtle may be propagated by softwood, hardwood, or root cuttings. Transplanting is best in late spring or early summer when the plant is actively growing. Crepemyrtles need full sun for optimum flower production and to reduce powdery mildew infestation. For continuous flowering in late summer and fall, prune off the old, faded flower heads before seed forms - leaving as much foliage and stem as possible. New growth will appear and flowers will be formed on it in six to eight weeks. A regular program of fertilization and watering will also increase flowering intensity.

Dwarf crepemyrtles are the result of ten years of research at Louisiana State University by Dr. David Chopin. Through cross-breeding and hybridization, ten varieties and colors have been developed. The dwarf crepemyrtles reach a height of from 18 to 24 inches and may be used as border plants, ground cover, or as indoor potted plants and hanging baskets.

The dwarf crepemyrtles bloom throughout a five-month period from May to October. The removal of green seed pods in late September will result in even more prolific flowering next spring.

Hines Wholesale Nursery recently purchased the patent and marketing rights for the dwarf crepemyrtle. In fact, they are presently growing one and two-gallon sizes at their facility outside Houston. So, be on the lookout for this new type of crepemyrtle on the nursery shelves.

The crepemyrtle has truly found its niche in the Texas landscape. For flowering beauty when most other plants are just trying to survive, it can't be beat!

Beef Cattle Meeting

A meeting to discuss the economics and feasibility of stocker cattle for wheat pasture grazing will be held Thursday, October 21, at 7:30 p.m., in the meeting room of the Gray County Show Barn (Clyde Carruth Livestock Pavilion).

Dr. John McNeil, Extension Beef Cattle Specialist, will lead the discussion. Topics include: Economics of wheat pasture cattle; what about feeding grain to wheat pasture cattle; which ofifers most profit, potential steers or heifers; and which implant do I use. There will be ample time for your questions and you can see how a stocker cattle budget analysis looks to you.

Cull Open, Late-Calving Cows

Despite a weak cattle market, it's wise to "clean up" herds by culling open cows and more attention to a controlled breeding program by culling late-calving cows.

There's no need to put expensive winter feed into unproductive cows. Culling the cow herd now will also help you plan on feed supplies for the winter months.

Also, pregnancy testing cows this fall may be a more profitable management tool than ever before.

Since it's difficult for a cow to produce a calf large enough to pay her annual maintenance bill and leave some profit for the producer, we know an open cow is surely losing money. In addition, cows calving during the summer months wean calves 30 to 90 pounds lighter than their herd mates which calve at other times. For this reason, it's advisable to cull cows which will calve late next year and buy a replacement which will calve early.

Whoever does the pregnancy diagnosis (usually your veterinarian) will be able to estimate the calving date on each animal and make it easy to identify next year's late-calving cows. Your definition of a late-calving cow should change every year until your calving season has been reduced to 60 days preferably, and certainly no longer than 90 days.

Removing barren and late-calving cows from the herd will increase both the herd's reproductive potential and pounds of calf weaned.

Tax Practitioner Workshops
 The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is cooperating with the Internal Revenue Service in offering 38 Tax Practitioner Workshops across the state. The nearest workshop to our area will be held in Amarillo on the 29th and 30th of November. These two-day workshops are specifically designed for tax practitioners who work extensively with farmers and ranchers.

Topics to be covered in the general workshops are: What's New; Economic Recovery Act Changes for 1982; IRAs; Tax Effects of Bankruptcy and Repossessions; Capital Gains and Losses; New Operating Losses; and a Potpourri Session.

This year advance programs will be offered in Abilene, Austin, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio, Weslaco, and Wichita Falls. Topics to be discussed in the Advanced workshops are: What's New-A Review of Revenue Rulings and Procedure Changes; Corporations (Sub C and S); Corporate Fringe Benefits; and Taxation of Income from Trusts and Estates.

The Tax Practitioner educational program has been highly successful.

Last year about 3,000 people participated in this state-wide series.

These practitioners reported filing more than 665,500 tax returns. For additional information, please contact the Gray County Extension Office for a brochure explaining more about the program and registration information.

Accent On Health

Texas Department of Health
 Robert Bernstein, M.D., Commissioner

Those hot dogs you munch at baseball games may satisfy your hunger, but too many of them and other fatty foods can cause you to strike out nutritionally.

"Government regulations permit no more than 30 percent of a hot dog's weight to be fat," says Ms. Nancy Gay Robinett-Weiss, a registered dietitian who is Director of Nutrition Services with the Texas Department of Health. "But it's important to know, however, that 80 percent of the calories in a hot dog come from that fat."

She said that hot dogs are not only fatty food, but are also an expensive source of protein. "A recent Consumer Reports evaluation showed that a pound of protein from hot dogs costs $14.87.

Too much fat in a diet is unhealthy. Cholesterol, a fat-like substance in the blood, is linked to atherosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries. "Since heart disease is the number one cause of death in Texas, we recommend that people reduce their dietary fat intake to 30 percent," said Ms. Robinett-Weiss.

Fat is the most concentrated source of calories, having nine calories per gram. Carbohydrates and proteins have only four. Because excess calories may contribute to excess weight - another risk factor for heart disease - limiting the intake of fats can be beneficial.

Ms. Robinett-Weiss advised preparing meat without the use of additional fat by broiling, baking or roasting. Select lean cuts of meat. Poultry and seafood are lower in fat than beef, pork, and lamb. All have about the same amount of protein, but those lower in fat are naturally lower in calories.

Saturated fats of animal origin increase the level of blood cholesterol. Saturated fat comes from butter, bacon, cream and meat fat. "Many people don't realize it, but saturated fat is also derived from the vegetable fat coconut oil," Ms. Robinett-Weiss said.

Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Gary Stevens, Community Relations Manager.

Preparing for major industry changes

Two changes are coming up which will have a significant impact on how Southwestern Bell provides telephone service to its customers.

First, there's the decision by the Federal Communications Commission (which regulates telecommunications on the national level) that AT&T (the parent company of the Bell System) should set up a fully separate subsidiary to market telephone equipment.

This subsidiary, called American Bell, is expected to begin operations on January 1, 1983.

Southwestern Bell will continue providing telephone equipment after that date. Under current plans, all business or residential equipment on our customers' premises or in Southwestern Bell's inventory will be regulated by tariffs filed with the Texas Public Utility Commission. Beginning January 1, equipment provided by American Bell will not be subject to such regulation.

Competition Offers Customer Options

Competition in providing customer equipment has been an established fact for several years now. The introduction of American Bell into the picture will provide one more option for customers when it comes to selecting a vendor for such things as telephones, PBX's and other communications equipment.

An even bigger change is slated for January 1, 1984. That's the target date for Southwestern Bell being divested from AT&T.

After this divestiture, Southwestern Bell will be primarily a local telephone company. Most of our long distance calling facilities will remain with AT&T.

The 22 divested Bell telephone companies, like Southwestern Bell, will be reorganized into seven regional units. Southwestern Bell will be one of these seven units.

After divestiture, we'll continue to provide basic local phone services, Custom Calling Services, Yellow Pages and special network services. We'll also be allowed to offer telephones and other terminal equipment.

Now I don't pretend to have all the answers on how these two major developments will affect your service. But you can rest assured that as more information becomes available, I'll certainly pass it on.

Free Booklet Explains Anticipated Trends

If you'd like a free "Let's talk" booklet, which tells more about anticipated changes in our industry, just send your name and address to: Southwestern Bell, "Let's talk", P.O. Box 225265, Dallas, Texas 75265.

Bell Statewide Service Commitment Continues

While the structure of the Bell System may soon be changing we're not changing our service ideals.

For more than a century, Southwestern Bell's driving goal has been to provide the best possible service at the lowest possible cost - and to improve that service with the introduction of new technology.

You can count on that same commitment remaining undiminished in the future. Southwestern Bell... at your service for 100 years.

By Donna Brauchi

Our current economic situation demands or encourages consumers to become creative and active in developing strategies for winning the battle of increasing prices, limited resources and unlimited needs and wants. It is in this manner that the marketplace alternative of barter is once again gaining popularity.

Bartering is recognized as a method for developing job related skills and self-confidence in addition to coping with inflation. It is estimated that fifteen percent of all business today is done through barter.

What is Barter?

If you have been dying to have your bathroom wallpapered, the shutters repaired, a dead-bolt lock installed, or the endless pile of mending done, then this information will be of interest to you. Barter, as discussed here is an exchange of skills, services, or materials without exchanging dollars. Examples might be: (1) minding the neighbors children in exchange for using their truck to haul a load of soil; (2) planting a garden in exchange for lawn mowing; (3) swapping a rare book or piece of artwork for legal advice; (4) clothing repair in exchange for plumbing repair; or (5) carpentry work exchanged for music lessons. Often we do not think of an exchange or a swap as a means of confronting inflation of even as barter.

Why Use Barter?

The advantages of barter outweigh the disadvantages. First, barter is inflation proof. It is a value for value exchanged which does not fluctuate. The value is in the eyes and minds of the barterers, not on the price tag.

Barter increases cash-flow and buying power. Obtaining goods and services without a cash outlay means that cash can then be expended or saved for other needs and wants.

Barter extends resources. Barter can provide what you need but cannot purchase. It can extend goods, services, and skills to those on low or fixed incomes.

Barter taps typically wasted talents and resources. Skills and possessions which are normally not saleable items are useful barter items. It encourages an active and useful lifestyle because it demands personal involvement. Individuals must personally make an agreement with another individual in all barter situations.

Barter involves all household members. Children can perform and exchange services equally as well as adults.

Barter builds a more self-reliant, self-sustaining, and vital person by reducing the effects of isolation, discrimination and unemployment. The emphasis is on obtaining needs and wants which people can supply not on the dollars needed to purchase the product or service.

Bartering Reminders Misunderstandings can and will occur. The value of the exchange should be established and agreed upon prior to the exchange. Also, any material expenses should be paid before services are rendered and usually are paid by those receiving the services as goods. These arrangements should be well understood and taken care of to avoid possible misunderstandings.

Barter And The IRS
The best key to remember in terms of barter and the IRS is: "Where there is no gain, there is no tax. It will be up to the IRS auditors to prove or disprove the value of the exchange. It should be noted, however, if bartering is conducted on a large scale a complete record of the various transactions should be maintained."

The New UNDERSTANDING

is a free course to help teach high school students their tax rights and responsibilities, including how to prepare a tax return. Interested in having an Understanding Taxes course in your children's school? Contact your IRS office for details.
