Morris Davis, Golden Spread Irrigation, did a good job in discussing types of irrigation sprinkler systems, and how they should perform. He gave some very fine advice on what a person should expect of a sprinkler system. He warned of the problems of a poorly designed system. Davis said, "Sprinkler irrigation was set back 10 years because many systems were sold 10 to 15 years ago that were designed impropertly."

Bob Rose, well drilling contractor in the Pampa area, gave some very good information on problems in well drilling. Rose warned farmers that trying to get by too cheaply on installation would many times cost more in the long run.
