TWO NEW RIDES AT SIX FLAGS

New ride called the Jet Set has just been completed at Six Flags Over Texas. The sophisticated electro-hydraulic steering system enables guests to "fly" these scaled-down models almost exactly like regular aircraft by climbing, banking right or left and diving, responding to the commands of the "pilot" working the control stick.

An additional mid-season $250,000 expansion program at Six Flags Over Texas has just been completed with the opening of two new rides.

The rides, dubbed "The Jet Set" and "Spindletop," are located in an area across the narrow-gauge railroad tracks, paralleling the Modern U. S. A. section of the Park, towards Boomtown.

Reinhold Spielfeldner, an engineer from Switzerland, supervised the installation of "The Jet Set." This ride, designed by Intamin Company of Bern, Switzerland, consists of 12 scaled-down airplanes, approximately 10 feet long with a 9-foot wingspread, which operate almost exactly like regular aircraft. Visitors "fly" the craft by an electro-hydraulic system, and the planes, which are attached to steel girders, climb, bank right or left, and dive, responding to the commands of the "pilot" working the control stick.

Intamin Company spent two years on the ride in research and development, and the installation at Six Flags is the first one in the United States.

Adjacent to Boomtown is the new "Spindletop" derrick and revolving drum ride, which operates on a centrifugal force principle. Twenty-five to thirty guests at a time are stationed in a circle standing on the floor inside a huge barrel. The barrel begins to spin slowly and gains speed until about 28 revolutions per minute are attained. Centrifugal force causes the riders to adhere to the walls inside the drum. The floor is then lowered, leaving the riders suspended about 3 feet above the floor. The action is reversed as the ride comes to a close.

Together the new rides can accommodate approximately 2,000 visitors per hour.

The rides are set in about two acres of newly landscaped grounds with beautiful trees, flowers and shrubs as well as 2 lakes and 3 waterfalls.

Attendance this season continues to exceed projections. As of Sunday, August 13, a total of 1,422,205 visitors have attended the Park, a gain of about 58,900 compared to last year's attendance on the same date.

News From ALAN REED

By MRS. CECIL CARTER

Visiting with the F. B. Carters Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Carter and Timmy of Hiwasse, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Leathers of Dallas, Joe Lyn Leathers of Lelia Lake, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Dalton, Brad and Dan of McLean and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carter. Also visiting on Sunday were the Ernest Rose-shuses of Panhandle.

Mrs. M. C. Burdine is confined to a Pampa hospital, suffering a heart ailment.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carter were in Shamrock on business Friday.

Visiting Mrs. Faye Oakley over the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. George Oakley, Wyatt, Jeff and Patricia of Stratford.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ed Sherrod of Lubbock visited the E. R. Sherrods over the holiday.

The Phillip Gibsons had his brother and family visiting Monday.

Filling the pulpit of the First Baptist Church Sunday was Newton Seymour of Fort Worth. He was raised in this locality and still has folks at Shamrock.

On the sick list this past week were Betty Simmons, Donie Burdine and S. T. Greenwood.

The Frank Worshams have moved from our community to the ranch where he is employed. They visited the H. H. Worshams on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddie Hill and Sae spent the holiday in Arkansas. They visited while there with the Warren Carters.

Visiting with Mrs. Jewel Warren last week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and family and Mrs. Oral Smith of Fresno, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Voyné Griffin of Pampa visited here Sunday with the S. B. Magees.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carter were in Pampa on business Wednesday.

Thelma Philips of Amarillo visited her brother and family, the Marvin Halls, Sunday.

5 to 7 days.

2. Heavy gear should be introduced gradually before workouts become strenuous.

4. Players should wear short sleeves, light-weight uniforms and short stockings and keep taping to the minimum required until cold weather. White material (to reflect heat) that is loosely fitting and permeable to moisture is preferable.

5. Provide 15 to 30 minutes rest periods every hour when feasible. During these breaks or at half times, jerseys should be lifted and helmets removed, and cool breezes in the shade should be sought at all times.

6. A chart should be kept with records of individual weight losses. A sweat loss equaling 3 per cent of the body weight may significantly impair work performance and body cooling.

7. There should be no hesitation in providing water, salt and potassium on the practice field and during games to replace the water and minerals, hour by hour, lost by sweating. Adding 1 teaspoon of salt and two small cans of frozen orange juice to a gallon of water used for drinking is the simplest approach.

8. Weight loss should always be minimized, and foods high in potassium such as bananas, cocoa and orange juice should be encouraged so long as salt intake is encouraged.

9. Humidity and temperature should be watched carefully and exposure broken up or rescheduled when either or both are high.

Dr. Johnson concludes his article by stating that these simple measures are only general ones. He adds that knowledge of pre-season conditioning, the appearance of the athlete, the state of his hydration and/or weight loss, the amount of work required, and the cooling powers of the environment must be constantly reassessed in order to protect athletes from serious heat injury.

ADDING LEADS TO FLY LINE

Use a needle to install your leader to a fly line.

Here's how:

Push the needle up through the center of the line and out the side about an inch up the line. Then pull the leader thru the opening and wrap the end of the leader tightly around the line in the same manner you'd wrap a rod.

Prevent Athlete's Heat Injuries

Nonfatal heat injuries, such as heat exhaustion and heat cramps, which continue to occur in athletes "by the hundreds" each year are completely preventable, according to a Texas physician.

Dr. Cone Johnson, of the Department of Physiology at Scott and White Memorial Hospital, Temple, outlines several measures that can prevent heat injuries to athletes in an article entitled "Playing It Cool" in the August issue of Texas Medicine, the journal of the Texas Medical Association.

As athletes begin training for sports events, they are likely to be working during the hottest days of the year. Some athletes have spent the summer working in airconditioned surroundings and others have perhaps been sedentary and lax in keeping fit. Both types are actually unfit to begin football practice in August without certain precautions being taken, Dr. Johnson says.

Some of the general principles he lists for proper protection of athletes include the following:

1. A thorough physical examination.

2. Although daily exertion in the heat will acclimatize most athletes in 12 to 15 days, exposure should begin at least three weeks before the first full practice session, and athletes should wear only T-shirts and shorts during at least the first
