Methodist Revival Making Satisfactory Progress

The revival meeting being conducted at the tabernacle under the auspices of the Methodist church is the chief topic of local interest these days. Evangelist F. M. Neal of Amarillo has succeeded in getting the attention of the people as few men have been able to do. He is interesting enough that the circus Tuesday did not make the crowd any smaller, which is unusual, especially in a town a circus has not visited for two years. Rev. Ira Huckabee, who leads the song services, did not arrive until Tuesday morning. He is an excellent singer and choir leader. Rev. Huckabee has expressed himself as being delighted with the piano music by Miss Ethel McCurdy, for he says he is seldom fortunate enough to have the assistance of so good a musician. Miss McCurdy is an artist with few equals in this part of the state.

Shell Morgan of Wingate came in Saturday to visit a McLean girl whose looks he likes very much.

Mrs. J. A. Bogan of Stanley, N. M., is visiting in the W. E. Bogan and J. S. Morse homes this week.

Tom Perry and family of Tipton, Okla., came in Friday for a visit in the Tom Bird home.

John Haynes of Pampa spent Sunday with his father, A. W. Haynes and family.

EVANGELIST F. M. NEAL

Malcomb Smith of Hillsboro visited in the R. S. Jordan home last week.

W. P. Rogers and wife motored to Amarillo Thursday of last week.

Mrs. J. W. Kibler and daughter, Miss Orma, motored to Clarendon Thursday on business.

Aron Duncan of Pampa, was among our visitors Sunday.

S. E. Boyett Seriously Ill

Information reached McLean this week that S. E. Boyett, who, with his wife accompanied a crowd of vacationists to Colorado some three weeks ago, is in a dangerous condition from paralysis, and the party is coming home without him and Mrs. Boyett. He is in a sanitarium somewhere in Colorado, taking treatment.

Mr. Boyett has been suffering from severe nervousness for several years, which has brought on paralysis. We are hoping his case will yield to treatment and he will soon be back among us.

On Friday evening a lawn supper was spread at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Coffey. About forty were present to partake of the feast. After eating till the eats didn't have an appealing flavor, the guests departed for the picture show stating they enjoyed themselves very much and were going to repeat this rash act again real soon.

T. N. Childress and family and Chas. Tipton and family went to Amarillo Tuesday to the bedside of C. M. Stone, who is seriously ill. Mr. Stone is the father of Mesdames Tipton and Childress.

The Nazarene church closed a meeting at the Skillet school house Sunday. Rev. B. W. Miller did the preaching. They report a good meeting, with visible results.

Miss Sadie Hyde returned Tuesday to her home in Norman, Okla., after visiting her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Southern.

F. M. Faulkner of Canyon came in Wednesday for a visit with friends and relatives.

Rev. P. A. Kickercocker of El Paso is visiting in the W. P. Rogers home.

Rev. Agee of Margret came in Wednesday for a few days on business.

R. W. Crisp and wife of Alanreed was among our visitors Tuesday.

Preston Thompson returned Sunday after visiting friends in Canyon.

Dewey Campbell of Pampa visited his parents Tuesday.

Building Material Prices Soar

The demand for lumber in Europe and the consequent heavy export trade in building materials has played havoc with prices in this country.

This week the News man called on one of the local lumber yards to solicit advertising. The manager said he had plenty of lumber on hand, but did not care if he sold it or not. The price is increasing so fast he is making more by keeping it than he could by selling. We asked him if he wanted to sell those windmills stored in the warehouse and he replied that prices were going up on them too, but he would sell a fellow one, just for accommodation, if he wanted it.

We understand lumber yards all over the country are doing the same thing. There is more money in keeping the lumber than in selling it, and they care only to do enough business to keep in the game, and reap a big harvest of dollars when the time comes to sell their materials.

Clyde Slavin of Alanreed was a visitor in our city Thursday of last week.

On Thursday evening of last week Mrs. D. B. Veatch entertained in honor of Mrs. S. O. Cooke of Dallas. Music, both piano and victrola, was enjoyed by all present, throughout the evening. At a late hour the hostess served an iced course, after which the guests departed for home, declaring they had a royal time. Those present were: Misses Sallie Lou Haynes, Bessie Johnson, Daisey Campbell, Minnie Huff, Thelma Rogers, Lillian Quattlebaum, Anna Alexander, Mable Watkins, and Orma Kibler. Mesdames S. O. Cooke of Dallas, Getter of New York, and L. F. Coffey. Messrs. Josh and Bob Turner, Johnnie Back, Ralph Tipton, Bartow Landers, Will Harlan, Bill Bundy and L. F. Coffey.

Mrs. Stanfield and daughters, Miss Lorene and little Ruth, left Friday for a visit with relatives in Oklahoma.

R. T. Harris and wife returned last week from an extended visit in Oklahoma.

J. O. Clark and family went to Clarendon on Thursday of last week.

The Trade McLean Ought to Get

Mr. Merchant, have you ever taken a good look at the map of Gray, Wheeler, Donley and Collingsworth counties and traced with a pencil, what should be the limits of McLean's trade territory? Try it once. You will find a ring drawn around an area of some four or five hundred square miles of mighty fine country.

This is no idle talk. The country is here; it is full of prosperous people; McLean is the biggest town for twenty to forty miles around; she is the metropolis of this section, and a big trade is hers for the asking.

How much of this trade is McLean getting? Why does she fail to get it? How much of it goes to other nearby towns? How much of it do you suppose the mail order houses get? What would be the best way for McLean to go after this trade—trade that ought to be hers, and will be if she will get busy? The News thinks the best way to do this is through a co-operative effort on the part of our merchants and business men. To co-operate we must have a commercial organization of some sort; it can't be done any other way. Shall we organize a commercial club and go after trade, or sit idly by and lose what we already have.

Who Does the Buying for Your Family?

There is someone in your family who has a big responsibility. Food to buy for the table; clothes for the children and grownups; new household utensils; linen, furniture and all the hundred and one little things for which the family income is spent.

In most families, one person does the bulk of the buying. And it is that person's job to see that the money is well spent—that you all get full value for every cent that goes out.

The success of a family depends on wise buying just as the success of a business does. Wise buying means intelligent buying. It is necessary to have knowledge of goods. The best way to get this knowledge is by reading advertisements. They tell you what is new and good.

Not only the person who does the buying but every member of the family should read advertisements. It is the duty of all the others to help the one who does the buying by pointing out advertisements of new goods and giving all the information possible as to tastes and styles and values.

Advertisements are published for your benefit. Make use of them by reading them TODAY.—Exchange.

One thing we need a commercial club for is to get behind a move to build a bridge across the Northfork on the Wheeler county line—and push! Out at Mobeetie and Northfork are two prosperous communities that want to come to McLean to trade, but we won't fix it so they can haul their products to town by the decent wagon load. We are told that one man out the other side of the river has said he will donate a thousand dollars toward building the bridge. Think of it! A man wants to trade at McLean so bad he will pay $1,000 in cold cash for the privilege! If it is worth that much to one man to be able to market his stuff here, how much is it worth to the town for him and his neighbors to trade in McLean? Let's form a commercial club and make an organized effort to get the bridge, a good road to it, and the resultant profitable trade.

We want you to read the article in this week's News, "Life Is Give and Take Proposition." True, it is in "biler plate," was written for general use all over the United States, but it is every word the truth, and applies particularly to McLean. It answers the question, "Why don't we have a good school in our town?" If you have been buying supplies from mail order concerns, you are one of the persons to blame for the condition of our school, our roads, our churches. You have had a hand in keeping McLean from being the market it ought to be for your products; you and others who do as you do are responsible in a large measure for other shortcomings of the town.

Jno. W. Kibler had the weeds mowed down around his premises on Tuesday and Wednesday. He was so proud of his enterprise in having the job done, he called the News man before breakfast Wednesday morning and told him about it. Mr. Kibler suggested that we urge the people of McLean to follow his good example and have all the weeds cut, so the town won't look like a wilderness. We told him if we did that, we would have to cut a lot of big tough ones ourself. Nothin' doin', Mr. Kibler. When this editor gets industrious enough to cut weeds, then he will insist on everybody else doing it, but not now.

Ever Know a Preacher by Name of Howe to Die?

Postmaster Faulkner received an inquiry this week concerning the death of one Rev. Chas. W. Howe, which occurred somewhere in Texas, about thirty years ago. It seems that folks have finally become interested to know about his end. The information is desired by Mrs. D. E. Parsons, Asbury, Ky.

The Kentucky woman seems to think Texas rather a small domain, to expect a postmaster in the Panhandle to be well enough informed concerning the old timers to know some of the facts about a man who has been dead these thirty years.

"Bob" Whiston has just returned from France, after twelve months active war work among our armies in France. He has had the thrills of the front lines, and the never-to-be-forgotten impressions of the late war, and the experiences with the occupation army in Germany.

Whiston will bring to us his personal impressions of the unparalleled success and accomplishments of our armies in France; the wonderful work of the Red Cross and other organization in war work "over there;" the startling problems to be met in the reconstruction of the devastated countries of Europe; his experiences with the army of occupation in Germany.

His opportunity for observation, remarkable memory, unhesitating command of an extensive vocabulary, elegance of diction, forceful and commanding delivery, will make his lecture one of the greatest ever delivered at one of our chautauquas. Hear Whiston evening of the last day.

LIFE IS GIVE AND TAKE PROPOSITION

No Man, Under Modern Conditions, Can Live Entirely Unto Himself.

EACH DEPENDENT ON OTHERS

Citizen Who Does Not Aid in Building Up Community Can Not Expect to Have Prosperity Himself.

(Copyright.)
There was a time in the world when a man could do pretty much as he pleased. What one man did was of little concern to anyone else, for it had little effect on anyone else. Those days are gone, however, and they never will return. Today, no man can live entirely unto himself. Life is a complicated affair under modern conditions. No one man in any community is entirely independent of all others in that community.

Organized society, in the form of governments, national, state and local, have recognized the new conditions and have decreed that every man must observe certain rules in his relations with his fellow men. He must not do certain things that would endanger the health of other people in his community. He must not do such things as would disturb the peace and quiet of his neighborhood. He must remember that he owes a duty to his community.

Not Question of Right.

A man may say that he has the right to spend his money where he pleases; that no one can stop him if he wants to buy his groceries, his clothes and his furniture in some city miles away from where he earns the money to pay for them. He is right. There is no law to prevent him from doing so, unless it is the law of self-preservation. The man who has the right to send his money away to some distant city instead of spending it at home, also has the right to send his children to that city to be educated in the schools, which his money helps to support, but he doesn't exercise that right. He sends his children to the local schools, the maintenance of which is made possible by the men who spend their money at home.

Life in any community today is a give-and-take proposition. A man can not take everything and give nothing and get away with it for any great length of time. He can not take his living from a community and give nothing back to help the other fellow make a living. If he cuts off the other fellow's living, he is bound eventually to cut off his own, for unless the other fellow has money to buy his labor or his goods he cannot make a living himself.

You may say that what you buy doesn't amount to much and the money that you send away to the mail order houses in other cities can not have any great effect upon the general business conditions in your town. Maybe it doesn't amount to much and maybe it won't have any great effect upon the community's prosperity in itself, but what will be the result if every person in the community, or half of them, or a tenth of them, take the same view of the matter. Your business, in itself, may not amount to much, but taken together with the business of a hundred others in the community, it amounts to a great deal. It amounts to the difference between a prosperous community and a "dead" one. It amounts to the difference, in the end, between good times and bad times for yourself and your own family. If you lived on a desert isle, it would make no difference where you sent your money, because it would make no difference whether you had any money at all or not. But you are not living upon a desert isle. You are living in a modern community. To do everything possible to build up that community is not only a duty which you owe to the community, but—more important still—it is a duty which you owe to yourself.

Taxes Will Increase.

You have children to educate. You want your community to have good schools so that your children may have the same advantages that the children in the big city have. If you live on a farm you need good roads over which to haul your products to market. You may say that you pay your share of the taxes out of which the school-houses are built and the roads constructed. Maybe you do pay your share, in proportion to the value of your world's goods, but where is the other fellow to get the money to pay his share of the taxes if, after you pay your taxes, you send the remainder of your money to some other community to help build their schools and construct their roads. The merchants of any community pay a very considerable part of the taxes collected in that community. Go to the tax books and you will find this to be the case. When the business of the merchant falls off and he carries smaller stocks and has less money in the bank, he pays smaller taxes, and as the amount he pays in taxes decreases, the amount you pay must increase if the schools are to be maintained and the roads kept up. It may be a man's own business if he wants to send his money to help build up the big cities where the mail order houses flourish, but it's poor business for himself as well as for everybody else in the community in which he lives.

Charles Ray in "The Law of the North" at the Mission Saturday night is the story of a red blooded man filled with courage to do things. Charles H. Ince, the director, needs no introduction, nor does Charles Ray, who is recognized as one of the best stars of today. The support provided for Mr. Ray is the best available anywhere. Robert McKinn, one of the greatest "villains" in motion pictures, has a very strong role in this picture, that of a trader known as the "Wolf," and he portrays it with unusual skill. Dorris Lee, a beautiful actress, and Gloria Hope, one of the best known screen stars on the Pacific coast, also have excellent parts. Charles French, a trained screen actor, has one of the best parts of his career in this picture. The author of "The Law of the North" is Ella Stuart Carson, a writer of prominence, and incidentally a scenarist of exceptional merit. She has traveled extensively and her delineation of character is based upon wide observation and personal experience. Her work in this photoplay will be greatly admired by all who love the vigorous figures of the romantic north at "the top of the world."

Boys to Camp Out on the River

A most delightful time is just ahead for the boys of the Agricultural Clubs in Gray county, directed by Mrs. Genie E. Cameron, County Home Demonstration Agent.

On next Tuesday morning, Aug. 14th the boys will be taken to a good camping place on the river, where they will spend two days. Mr. Bennett and Mr. Saunders of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College in co-operation with the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, will assist Mrs. Cameron in looking after the welfare of the boys while in camp and every thing will be done to make the encampment very pleasant for all who go.

Each boy will take his own bedding and provisions enough for his share for the two days.

It is hoped that all the club boys will be able to attend, as this is one of the most enjoyable occasions of the year.

The boys, in getting together for this encampment, should give their names early to either Rev. Paul T. Merrell, Pampa; Mr. C. R. Teague, McLean; or Tom Ball, Alanreed.

In this issue of the News is a big ad announcing the opening of the new town of Perryton in Ochiltree County on Friday, August 22nd. This is the town the entire country is talking about and it promises to become at once one of the big towns of the Panhandle. An excursion train will be run from Shattuck for the benefit of those who wish to go to the opening on the train, and the train will incidentally be the first passenger train over the new North Panhandle Railroad of the Santa Fe system. Look up the opening ad.

See Norma Talmadge tonight in "The Safety Curtain," one of her best pictures. Miss Talmadge is a great favorite with the fair sex, and the men also admire her greatly. The more you see of her the better you will like her. The ladies will miss a chance of seeing her at her very best if they fail to come tonight. "The Safety Curtain" concerns women of today strictly, and is a great picture with a great lesson to be learned. Mission Theatre.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR "ASK ANY SOLDIER"

If you were a soldier in the A. E. F., you probably remember that when you saw the Colonel drive by, he invariably rode in a Dodge. And the old boy usually got there too, when getting there depended upon the reliability of his car. We contend that a car good enough to stand the wear and tear—mostly tear—over shell-torn roads, a car that so high and important an officer as a Colonel can depend on under campaign conditions, is good enough for anybody who wants a reliable car that looks good and is comfortable to ride in.

If you want a Dodge, you had better place your order now, for the demand exceeds the supply. People are finding out this car, and we expect them to be still harder to get later.

We are prepared for the sugar shortage

At this time of the year we often see a sugar shortage, and right now looks like the beginning of one that has never been equalled, due to the heavy demand abroad and in our own country. We are glad to advise you that we have been looking for this for some time, and have something like one thousand bags of sugar bought that will be coming in at an early date, and we advise all to buy only for your immediate needs, and by so doing we will not only be able to supply your present demand, but can give you all that is needed as soon as our cars begin to come in. We advise that you let us book you for your sugar on arrival of cars, and in the event of possible delays in cars, we will have plenty to supply you till they arrive.

Yours for better business,
