McLean Merchants to Give Dollar Bargains Saturday

Bargains Offered by Merchants

Inducements Are Made for Local Customers

Dollar bargains are offered for the monthly Dollar Day to be held in McLean Saturday. A number of merchants offer unclose bargains, many of them in a page advertisement in this issue of The News. The prices are being offered as an inducement of trade in McLean, and meet with the proper response from customers, the dollar day may be a regular monthly institution several months.

Bargains are offered by some stores this week in this paper, but the day items are especially attractive this week, and it will pay to look them over before buying.

CROSS SCHOOL REPORT

Miss Williams, Publicity Chm. of the McLean chapter of the American Red Cross was very fortunate during the valuable services of Miss Ahlschier, who is well known to the people of McLean, inasmuch as she has been with us before. Miss Ahlschier has been actively engaged in the past weeks in the local schools and communities. Her work has been principally directed toward the children who are in need of medical attention, and a study of the report given by her can easily be seen that a great many of the children of this and other communities are being helped by physical defects that can be cared for at once.

The following report shows the condition of the children as Miss Ahlschier found it to be in her work: In elementary school—Pupils examined, 108. Pupils defective, 108. Needing dental care, 72; defective vision, 15; defective eyelids, 4; needing wax to be removed from ears, 17; defective nose, 75; heart defect, 4; skin defects, 2; glandular defects, 80; enlarged thyroid, 2; defective posture, 10; or more underweight, and overweight, 19.

Candidates Amuse Lions at Luncheon

Nominees for club offices furnished amusement for the Lions at the weekly luncheon Tuesday, by making speeches in favor of their respective candidacies.

Lion Boswell, nominee for president, mailed his platform to the secretary. His platform was read, and Lions Bogan and Greene, candidates for the same office, read their platforms. All three platforms appear in full in another column.

Lion Bogan objected to the latter part of the 13th plank in Lion Boswell's platform, saying that Dr. Tampke was an expert on only one disease, and used principally only one medicine.

Lion Greene, in referring to his opponents' platform, said that he felt the need of a race track in place of a platform.

Other candidates were asked to talk, and all made impromptu speeches of varying length.

Lion Boyd Meador objected to one candidate's reference to "strict economy," giving his reasons for the objection.

President Claude Williams read a letter from Tail Twister Reuben R. R. Cook, regretting his inability to be present, as he was in attendance at the bankers' convention at Pampa.

There was much talk of a "dark horse" candidate for one of the offices that has at present only one nominee. Lion Cobb said that a "black horse with a bald face" would be a suitable candidate.

Arthur Erwin was presented as a visitor by President Williams.

Fried chicken, iced tea, ice cream and cake were features of the menu served by the ladies of the First Baptist Church.

DIVORCE GAINS OVER MARRIAGE

According to figures released this week by the Department of Commerce at Washington, Gray county reported 72 divorces last year and 54 marriages. 1930 showed 97 divorces and 100 marriages.

Wheeler county shows 30 marriages and 13 divorces last year, compared with 35 marriages and 25 divorces in 1930.

There were 40,507 marriages performed in Texas last year, as compared with 45,174 in 1930, a decrease of 10.3%. In 1922 there were 61,730 marriages in the state.

During last year 15,788 divorces were granted in the state, with 121 marriages annulled, as compared with 16,645 divorces and 141 annulments in 1930, a decrease of 5.1%. There were 12,527 divorces granted in 1922. On the basis of an estimated population of Texas in 1931 of 5,913,000, and in 1930 of 5,853,000, the number of marriages per 1,000 population was 6.9 in 1931 and 7.7 in 1930. The number of divorces per 1,000 was 2.67 in 1931 and 2.84 in 1930.

Mrs. A. C. Meier and little daughter of Amarillo are visiting in the Stratton home this week.

pre-school 2; pupils needing dental care, 11; defective vision, 3; defective hearing, 3; defective hearing, 1; defective nose and throat, 10; pre-school 1; glandular defects, 8; enlarged thyroid, 3; defective posture, 2. 10% and more underweight and 20% overweight, 4. Pre-school 1; with one or more defects, 17. Pre-school 2.

The McLean chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to thank Miss Ahlschier for the valuable work that she has done in our community this year. The chapter also urges all parents and guardians of the children of the community to co-operate with Miss Ahlschier to the end that the defects as shown may be remedied and that the defective child may be given the same opportunities in life as those afforded the child that is not so unfortunate.

City Council Announces New Water Rules

An advertisement in this paper announces a new ruling by the city council on water collections.

Beginning with the first of this month, all whose bills are not paid by the 16th of the month will have the meter disconnected and the current bill, with at least a part payment on past due bills, and a dollar re-connection charge, will be required.

The water superintendent has been instructed to file charges against anyone guilty of connecting his own meter or bridging across meter after the city has disconnected the water.

There are some $2400 in delinquent water bills now owing the city, that a special effort will be made to collect.

Another advertisement shows the need of tax collections for current expenses. Delinquent taxes for the city now amount to $21,393, of which $15,159 were unpaid the past two years.

The city would be in fine shape financially, if delinquent taxes and water bills were paid. Salaries have been cut from the high point of a few years ago of $13,020 per year, to the present rate of $5,520 per year. However, the last figure does not allow for a nightwatchman's salary, and a number of business men appeared before the council Saturday asking that the night man be retained.

The street lights and pumping power bills have been reduced $1,482 per year from the high point.

COMMUNITY CHEST

About sixty days ago it was decided that on account of the difficulty in securing supplies for transients, that the Community Chest would no longer undertake this work. However, lately it has developed that these people are becoming a menace in the residential district, and arrangements have been made to care for them at the central agency.

The Community Chest is asking that the citizens further the equitable distribution of relief by directing applicants to Johnnie Back, in the rear of the city secretary's office.

WHITE FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

The News is authorized to announce the candidacy of Sherman White for re-election to his second term as county attorney of Gray county, subject to the action of the voters in the July democratic primary.

Mr. White feels that he has been diligent in the pursuit of his duties, having given his entire attention to the demands of the office, and is asking for the county attorney's office for the second term on that basis.

He says that if re-elected, he will continue to devote his undivided attention to the office, and that every citizen will be assured of continued fair and impartial treatment in coming in contact with his office. On the question of law enforcement, he says that he will continue to regard the law as the basis of all good government, and something to be obeyed.

Mr. White was engaged in the private practice of law in McLean for a number of years before being elected to the office he now holds.

POSTAL RATE INCREASE

Increased postal rates in line with the recent revenue act, effective July 6th, are announced by Postmaster John B. Vannoy.

Letters mailed on and after that date will require 3 cents postage instead of the customary 2 cents. Air mail letters will require 8 cents for the first ounce and 13 cents for each additional ounce. Postal cards and private mailing cards are not affected.

The local postoffice will be relegated to third class on July 1, but it is not expected to make much change in the service, other than that the general delivery window will be closed while the mail is being put up.

PAMPA ADDS WATCHMAN

The Pampa city council has put an extra nightwatchman on the police force in an effort to stop petty thievery, and will add another man this week if thought necessary.

The new man will make three nightwatchmen for the city, in addition to two nightwatchmen employed by the merchants.

Pioneer Rancher Laid to Rest Here Saturday

Funeral services were held at the McLean Church of Christ Saturday afternoon for Walter O. Todd, aged 44, who died at a Shamrock hospital June 10, 1932, following a fall from a horse last Monday, never regaining consciousness.

Services were in charge of Eld. Flavil Yeakley, local minister of the Church of Christ. Rev. W. A. Erwin, First Presbyterian Church minister, offered prayer.

Interment was made in Hillcrest cemetery. The deceased was a pioneer ranchman of this section, having come here many years ago. He leaves a wife, nine children, other relatives, and a host of friends to mourn his passing.

BENTON FOR DISTRICT CLERK

George Benton, for 28 years a resident of Gray county, has authorized The News to announce his candidacy for the office of district clerk of Gray county.

Mr. Benton feels that he is qualified to fill the office because of his education and business experience. He has a family, and needs the job, he said. He is a son of one of the oldest residents of this section of the country. During the past ten years Mr. Benton has been a wheat farmer in this county.

"If elected to the office of district clerk of this county, I will endeavor to fill the office in a business like and courteous manner," Mr. Benton said. "Although I have not had any experience in the department, I am willing to learn and will, to the best of my knowledge, conduct it as the law requires."

"It is my desire to visit every voter in the county and explain to him and her personally my reasons for running for office and ask for their vote and influence."

Majority Gives City Gas Plant

Little Interest Shown in Election Tuesday

With a vote of 218 for and 18 against, the voters of McLean gave the city council the right to install a municipal owned gas plant, at the special election held Tuesday.

Little interest was manifested in the election, most of the voting being done in the afternoon. The city council distributed circulars urging citizens to vote for the proposition, the day before the election, but the McLean Gas Company apparently made no effort in any way to influence voters.

Under the terms of the election, the council is empowered to put in a plant, which is expected to be done before next winter, unless satisfactory terms are arranged with the McLean Gas Company.

The city has asked the gas company to show reasons why their charter should not be revoked, on account of a delinquent annual payment of charter fees, and the gas company attorney has filed a brief with the city answering the charge. This brief is now in the hands of the city attorneys for an opinion.

The city won the case before the State Railroad Commission, but the gas company held up the decision by securing a temporary injunction. The election was held Tuesday in response to a petition presented the council last fall.

Jas. F. Heasley acted as presiding judge, and J. A. Sparks and R. S. Jordan acted as clerks.

A feature of the election was that there were no mutilated ballots.

VOLCANOES DESCRIBED

The following excerpt from a letter to Mrs. Robt. H. Corum and family, from her brother, P. G. Woodward, in Argentina, is interesting reading:

"Dear Jessie and all: Here goes for a short letter, altho I do believe we are due one from you. However, we need not stand on formalities, thereby this.

The real reason for my remembering to write just now is the fact of a real curious phenomenon recently with us here in S. America, where a whole string of volcanoes on the Argentine-Chilian border got busy and filled the air with so much fine ashes that the nearby country on both sides of the Andes Mts. has been under clouds of dust of varying harmful properties, and you can imagine the terrible quantities in the air when I tell you that in some places at distances of 100 to 200 miles away the ashes fell to a thickness of anything up to three feet deep.

Even here on the Atlantic coast we had several days so dark and murky that you could not see a house at 500 yards, and the vegetation has been like snow-covered various times, and even yet where no rains have fallen to clean things up. There seems to have been a big loss of all sorts of stock up nearer the volcanic zone, and a few people missing. In Buenos Aires itself they calculated a fall of more than 1 1/2 million kilos (nearly 4,000,000 pounds) within the city limits on the first day that west winds arrived with the dust clouds (ashes)."

Next Sunday's Lesson

JACOB THE AGED FATHER

By Rev. Cecil G. Goff
Golden text, Ex. 20:12. Lesson text, Gen. 45:1-7, 28-30; 47:7.

Last Sunday we studied concerning Judah's powerful appeal to Joseph for his brother, Benjamin. Joseph's servant had placed the master's silver cup in Benjamin's bag of grain by command. Joseph sent after the brothers and had the guilty one brought back. He proposed to keep Benjamin as his servant. But Judah had pledged his father that the younger boy would return. Judah offered to take the boy's place of servitude.

Joseph was so touched by the plea that he caused all to leave the room save his brothers, and made himself known to them. One can scarcely conceive of the embarrassment of the brothers who had sold him into slavery and who had been claiming to him that he was dead. Joseph was so overcome with joy and the grace of God that he set his brothers at ease. His anxiety was for the care of his father and brethren. So great was Joseph's concern and anxiety to see his father that he sent for him that he might dwell in the land of Egypt. He sent not only all of his brothers home, but also sent large amounts of supplies and wagons to bring back Jacob and his possessions.

When the sons returned they told their father all that had happened, but he would not believe them. For years he had believed Joseph dead—now his sons come confessing their deception and bringing Joseph's invitation as second ruler of all Egypt to come and dwell with him in a land of plenty. It was not until Jacob saw the supplies and wagons that he believed.

v. 1. Jacob was at Hebron. The family packed all they had and took all of their possessions and started for Egypt. When they reached Beer-Sheba they stopped for the purpose of offering sacrifice to Jehovah. Jacob, since the night he first received God's promises, had worshiped Him, and especially since the night he spent with the angel of God.

v. 2-4. As Jacob worshiped Jehovah, He spoke to his servant. God announced to Jacob that He was present. No doubt Jacob had had fears concerning his moving to Egypt but now God bids him go. He reminds Jacob that He is the God who led Abraham and Isaac, and would lead Jacob into Egypt. It was God's purpose to do part of His work of making of His chosen people a great nation in the land of Egypt. God promised to go down into Egypt with Jacob and to bring His people out of the land again. God also promised that Jacob shall see Joseph. God did not promise to bring Jacob out of Egypt, but speaks to him as representing the race.

v. 5-7. From Beer-Sheba the group moved on to Egypt. They took all that they had—all of their cattle and flocks. Of the immediate family of Jacob migrating there were 86 in number—Joseph, his wife and two sons made the total number of 79. Of course there were many of the servants with their families which went down with Jacob so that it no doubt was a great number of people that were in the group going to Egypt. Jacob had quite a caravan with him when he went from Paddan-Aram and God had continued to bless him so that there must have been a small army with him as he moved.

v. 28-30. Judah was not the oldest son, but seemed to be the leader of the group. Jacob sent him before them that they might be guided into Goshen. When Judah arrived Joseph started out in his chariot to meet his father. He was willing that none should escort Jacob save himself. The meeting of the long separated son and father was most pathetic. There was necessarily an unfathomable joy—indeed it was so great that Jacob said he was ready to die since he had seen his son whom he had long supposed dead.

v. 7. Joseph was a ruler, Jacob an untrained man of affairs in a land of herders, but the son was proud of his old father and placed him before Pharaoh. The court was something Jacob had never seen and the glory of it was no doubt greater than he had ever dreamed, but he was not ashamed, rather he took hold of the situation above Pharaoh and pronounced God's blessings on the king.

Goshen is a section of land on the upper Nile. The river has many mouths. Goshen was the eastern section of these lowlands, and one of the most fertile spots in all Egypt. God had guided in the selection of a location for his people.

C. E. Cary of Pampa, candidate for county judge, was in McLean last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bruce of Alameda were in McLean Saturday.

Chester Moore of Hot Springs, N. M., visited in McLean last week end.

SUNBURN

By Dr. William J. Scholes

The changes that occur in the skin as a result of sunburn are the same as those produced by any other agency capable of causing burns. In the milder forms the skin becomes reddened, tender and swollen. Later on, the surface layer of the skin (epidermis) usually peels off. Sometimes, if the burning has been more severe, blisters will form. These may break, leaving a raw surface. Anyone who has ever been sunburnt knows that it is very uncomfortable, and sometimes even painful.

How to Prevent It

It is true that sunlight is extremely valuable in promoting and maintaining health. But there does not seem to be any particular advantage in becoming sunburnt. Prevention is often possible. Rubbing some mild ointment into the skin before exposure to the sun will afford some degree of protection. Either rose water ointment or boric acid ointment may be used. But they will probably not protect the skin against prolonged exposure. If the skin begins to be reddened, it is an indication that it is becoming burnt. If one waits until the skin begins to burn, he will have waited too long. The sensation of burning means that the damage has already been done.

The Best Remedies

After sunburn has occurred, soothing lotions and ointments will do much to relieve the discomfort and hasten a cure. Further irritation should, of course, be avoided. The application to the skin of soap, or anything else that may irritate, should be avoided. Solutions of either boric acid or baking soda make suitable soothing lotions. Or boric acid or rose water ointment may be used. A good home remedy, and one that is usually handy is plain cow's cream.

CITY COUNCIL

THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS MUST DECIDE THE FATE OF TEXAS RAILROADS

● THE WELFARE of Texas and Texans has gone and will always go hand in hand with the welfare of Texas railroads. Their dependency upon each other is absolute.

In 1929 Texas railroads gave employment to 82,956 employes, to whom they paid annually $126,674,543 in salaries and wages. In 1930 this number decreased to 70,739 while the payroll declined to $109,892,226. In 1931 the number of employes fell to 57,098 and the payroll to $89,505,918.

This represents a decrease of more than $37,000,000 in purchasing power in Texas communities. There has been a corresponding decrease in purchase of materials and supplies by Texas railroads. The ability to have maintained railroad payrolls and purchases would have been a very important factor in overcoming the present trying economic condition.

The decline in railroad payrolls and purchases is due only in part to economic conditions. The revenues of the railroads have been affected not only by business conditions but to a very large extent by loss of traffic to trucks and buses using the public highways in competition with the railroads.

● The time has come when the people of Texas must decide whether the traffic of this state can best be carried by the railroads, using facilities which they built and maintain at their own expense, or by trucks and buses using the highways built and maintained at the taxpayers' expense.

ALL CAN'T TEACH

Bobby Burns uttered a great thought when he coined the couplet about seeing ourselves as others see us. Rare scholarship fades into insignificance in the would-be teacher when he presents himself for consideration, if Nature played tricky with him in matters purely personal. Employers of teachers are exacting and unyielding that the "elect" be of pleasing appearance, up-standing, straight and open looking, 100% normal. "No others need apply."

Perhaps a few cases will illustrate. I have in mind a man who took his degree from a state university. He is of fine physique and quite handsome, pleasant when he smiles and doesn't talk, and the very soul of honor. Yet he has been unsuccessful, finds it difficult to secure positions, and to hold one when he gets it. His only defect is his squeaky voice. He is wasting his time trying to teach.

There is a young man in Texas of prominent family, good appearance, M. A. from a great university. Not long ago he went to apply for a position in a city high school. I heard he was rejected, because of his "piping voice."

A young lady had no trouble getting positions a few years ago, then she began "growing," reaching the mark of 215. A set of trousers were cruel (?) enough to tell her frankly why they would not employ her. The last time I heard of her she was in training for nursing.

Some of these days college professors, superintendents and trustees will tell teachers the truth. Teachers should seek to know how they are regarded, their frailties, peculiarities, etc. Parents might save a lot of hard-earned money and heartaches if they would use a little judgment before educating their children to make teachers. Education is just a small part of it. Yet there never was a body of school men sitting in conference discussing elimination of teachers who ever uttered a single requirement except "making it harder to get certificates," raising scholarship. You just can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear to save you.

It is natural for parents to think their children are just about perfect. When I was a teacher, I used to wish that every parent could spend quite a while in classrooms, seeing their children with others. I felt that many would learn the truth, that theirs were quite ordinary, below par. And parents, contemplating sending their children to college, might decide to invest the price for them, if some one who knew just had the courage to tell them the truth. But has the courage? Not I. Excuse me, please.—A Retired Teacher, in Texas Outlook.

BEAUTY HINTS

Though you have a flawless complexion, beautiful hair and a divine figure, you may not make a perfect appearance because of a slight error which detracts from good grooming. Plain Jane, with her irregular features and a figure that in no way resembles our famed Greek goddesses, may outshine you in any crowd, simply because she watches every detail which makes for chic, charm and perfect grooming.

How is your posture? Good posture is the proper carriage of the body while standing, walking, sitting or sleeping. It is assumed with ease. Do not slouch or slump. It is not only unbecoming, but causes fatigue and nervousness.

Is the back of your dress marked with stray hairs or dusted with powder? Every time you comb your hair or powder your face you must brush your shoulders. Is your skirt badly wrinkled from long sitting? It takes but a moment to press it.

Are your collars and cuffs immaculately fresh? When buying accessories select those that launder easily and well. This is much more economical.

Do you dare venture out with a crooked stem in your hose or heels that are run down on your shoes? The cost is so little today for mending run-down heels that there is no excuse not to have them straight at all times.

Are your gloves and hankies fresh when you leave the house? It is always best to wear washable gloves and much less expensive.

Never put anything next to your skin that has not been freshly laundered. Hose and underwear that are washed daily will wear much longer and add much to your comfort.

Perhaps the most attractive woman you know spends the least money on her wardrobe and beauty preparations, but the most time on carefully doing little things that give her that charm, that extra something that, despite her meager physical assets, make her stand out. There is nothing more satisfying than the feeling of being perfectly groomed—being fit!

NORMAL BUSINESS

When business becomes slow, many theorists become agitated, and clamor for startling new innovations, which are contrary to habits of our people, and to which the country would adjust itself with difficulty.

That is much like a doctor who gives his patient some violent remedy that exaggerates his distress. What he usually needs is rest and quiet, and mild treatment that remove obstacles to recovery.

So in regard to business. The needs of this time are not for radical and far-reaching changes, but for the removal of the more accessible obstacles to full prosperity, the cultivation of prudent and wholesome habits, and the avoidance of excesses, assisting our industrial system to work smoothly and naturally.

The unfortunate tendency of our people to rush to extremes precipitates business disasters. When business is good, they step high, see no possibility of disaster, and go in for extravagant plans of expansion. Then when business turns slow for a bit, they lose all faith and confidence, they say business will never be good, they refuse to buy goods, they lay off help, and business becomes worse because of panicky fears.

What this country needs is a spirit of calm moderation, that refuses to go joyriding in times of expansion, and consequently is not loaded up with heavy burdens when business slows up. The same calm spirit refuses to go into depths of gloom when business slows up, and its cheerful confidence helps to maintain courage and faith.—Valley Stream Record, Valley Stream, N. Y.

EDISON'S IDEA OF HAPPINESS

Thomas A. Edison, the man who gave to the world more happiness than any other man who has lived, in an interview, once said: "What do I consider the nearest approximation of happiness of which the present human nature is possible? Why, living on a farm which is one's own, far from the hectic, artificial conditions of the city—a farm where one gets directly from one's own soil what one needs to sustain life with a garden in front and a healthy, normal family to contribute those small domestic joys which relieve a man from business strain."

This is not the time for advertisers to get cold feet. That advertiser in any industry who manifests a high degree of aggressiveness in the telling of his story to the world will be automatically rewarded.—E. J. Poag, Assistant Sales Manager, Buick Motor Company.

The Memphis Democrat tells of a Missouri editor receiving the renewal from a foreign subscriber and was surprised to find an additional fifty cents with the request: "Now sit down and write me a letter telling me the news that you can't print."

Mrs. Laura Stratton and daughter, Miss Georgia, of Pampa are visiting home folks here this week.

Miss Helen Meier of Amarillo is visiting in the Stratton home.

S. G. C. B. CLUB

The S. G. C. B. Club met last Wednesday at the usual hour. Roll call was answered by favorite pieces of poetry. Veria Hibler took charge of the lesson, and very interesting discussions were given on "Affective Speaking and Writing." As soon as the lesson was completed, plans were made to go to the creek next meeting day. A regular meeting will be held and roll call must be answered with a current event. Entertainment at the creek will be furnished by Ida D. Heinsen and Lola Ruth Stanfield. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Stanfield surprised the girls by serving dainty refreshments. The girls played and sang several new popular songs, and then adjourned.

Mrs. Jones—"My husband is so careless. His buttons are forever coming off."

Mrs. Smith—"Perhaps they are not sewed on properly."

Mrs. Jones—"That's just it. He's so careless about his sewing."

HOW MUCH is a dollar?

Dave Harum said, "When you get hold of ten dollars get it into you or onto you as soon as you can, for there ain't no pocket in a shroud and you're a long time dead."

If you had nothing but money you would be poor indeed. It is the things for which you can exchange the money you earn that set the standards of your living comforts and conveniences.

You know this. But do you know that it is you who largely determines the value of your dollars?

Many things contribute to the distance a dollar will go, but the greatest agent in "Value Received" is Advertising.

The advertisements in this paper tell you about the best grades of merchandise. They tell you where they can be had and for how much.

They tell you of the new things that manufacturers are producing to make your dollars of real worth to you in greater comforts, better living, more enjoyment.

Read the advertisements. Take time to save time. Take time to save trouble. Read to save walking. Search the ads to save searching the stores. And to make the dollar go farther!

Panhandle Press Association

Newspapers of Texas have been fighting against the heavy trucks editorially, and now the Texas Railroads are running a series of advertisements along the same lines. The first of a series to be published by The McLean News appears in this issue.

A city alderman tells us that if delinquent taxes and water rent could be collected the city could pay all current indebtedness and take up $10,000 worth of future bonds. The city is now in the position of a merchant extending credit to his customers when he must borrow money to pay his own bills.

While the re-submission of the prohibition amendment is a trick of the wets, they are pretty sure to have a surprise coming, should the question actually be put to popular vote. It is a pity that some question like this must be used to camouflage real issues in each campaign. For the past decade the tariff served this purpose, and now it is prohibition.

Centennials and like celebrations are held as a commercial proposition, usually, and it would seem that taxpayers should not have to contribute to such things.

Taxpayers' money has been used for everything from monuments to most everything that can be thought of, and yet some of us think it strange that taxes are high. Plenty of people are trying to commercialize the functions of government as they have most everything else, and the poor taxpayer will have to foot the bill. If tax money was used only for government and law enforcement, there would be no cause for complaint.

A number of subscribers report their neighbors borrowing their copy of the home paper. This is complimentary to the paper, but if you will turn to the Dollar Day advertisement on the back page, you will find a real bargain offer on the paper that will enable anyone to have his own copy each week for a very low price. Our subscribers would do well to mark this offer before loaning the paper. Your neighbor will appreciate the chance to get the paper so cheaply.

This offer is made to cooperate with the home merchants in their effort to make business better in McLean, and is only in effect for the one day.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A Sewing Hint

To avoid puckering sheer material: With some material such as muslin or crepe de chine it is almost impossible to stitch it without puckering it. This can be avoided by placing a piece of paper under material while stitching and sew seam. When finished it is a very simple matter to tear paper away from seam.

Hints for Women While Touring

1. Do not worry about your dress.
2. Dress as naturally as you can in order to feel comfortable.
3. A little hat is better than a large one.
4. For hot days—a thin dark dress can be worn anywhere at almost any time and is preferable to the heavy suit, motor coat and veil of the old days.

COOKING HINTS

KNEADING NEWS

Oh boy, oh boy, we sure are going to make it hot for "Ole Man Dollar" Saturday. We are giving you $2.00 worth of cookies for $1.00. You DO NOT have to take them all Saturday. You may take them out as you like. This is just like picking up a dollar—it's better than that—you can get out of baking on hot days like we are having.

We have a new loaf of malted milk bread that surely does make good toast. This bread has a creamy colored crumb, due to a high per cent of milk, sugar and shortening in it. We could make this bread a white crumb color, but while giving it this limitation process we would lose the flavor and taste that we are proud of in this loaf. When buying bread, don't buy a loaf because you know it is white inside. Test it for aroma and flavor and a wheaty taste like your bread if you were to make some. If you were making bread, you wouldn't run it through a clothes wringer just to get a white color, and at the same time lose your flavor and taste.

Remember to get our "Dollar Bargain" Saturday.

6. That the club set aside enough money to purchase fire crackers to keep up Lion Greene's speech.

13. That Lion Three R Cook be required to give the full meaning of his names. That Lion Tampke be the official doctor for the club.

14. That Lions Cobb, Davis, Cooper and Meador be required to furnish full information and particulars regarding their beautiful looks and that Lion Reep Landers be the first member to try the experiment.

15. That Lion Sitter not talk so much at the club meetings. If he cannot refrain from so much talking, that he get in touch with Lion Goff.

16. Lions—my platform is along the line that candidates for political parties are bringing before the people. There may be something to my platform, but it cannot be taken very seriously, hence the subject matter.

Our club really needs a good president—there are three of us in the field—the success depends on your choice—be careful—do not listen to late hour stories—vote for Lionism—if you can.

PLATFORM OF W. E. BOGAN

In order for the Lions Club to continue to exist we must cur-tail our expenses and use the pruning knife quite extensively.

1. That the DENT shall be taken out of president by electing a smooth man for this all important office.

2. That all VICE shall be extracted from all vice presidents.

3. That all SECT shall be removed from the sect-a-tery.

4. That all MAN shall be cancelled from the man-a-gers.

5. That the TAMER shall be removed from the Lion tamer.

6. That the tall twister be done away with entirely, or his activities greatly curtailed.

7. That Lion T. A. Landers be required to smoke two cigarettes and one cigar after each meal.

8. That Lion Boswell furnish cigars for the entire club because he is being paid the largest salary according to his ability of any member of the club; and that his pie be taken away from him.

9. That Lion Reep Landers be taught to speak the English language plain enough so he can be understood when calling the roll.

10. That Lion Sitter be required to furnish plenty of furniture polish to be used by the woodenheaded members to restore their hair.

11. That Lion Doctor Tampke be fined at least 50c each time he attempts to sling.

12. That Lion Meador be required to give the club a satisfactory reason why he quit going to Clarendon.

13. That the ladies be required to serve only such foods that will increase the waistlines of the lean and reduce the waistlines of the fat in order that we can have a balanced program each week.

A salesman taking his bride South on their honeymoon, visited a hotel where he boasted of the fine honey "Sambo" he asked the colored waiter, "where's my honey?" "Ah don't know, boss," replied Sambo, eyeing the lady cautiously "she don't wuk here no mo'."

ABOUT ADVERTISING

A merchant told us the other day that advertising does not pay. The next day he made mention of the fact that he had just received some new product at his store and that it was of value as a news item. Of course he did not wish us to mention the arrival of the goods, because it would sell the product.—Groveton News.

All successful merchants of the present day know that advertising pays. Those who used to think advertising was foolishness have passed out of the picture. Those who still think so are rapidly passing. It won't be long now until all are gone. Even the five-and-tens, once so arrogant in their superiority to the printed work, are looking longingly upon the advertising pages. The Good Book tells us that where there is no vision the people perish. It might have added, had it been concerned for business matters, that where there is no publicity, the store closes. Mr. Ford used to say he got all the advertising he needed free of charge. But when competition began to sap him, Mr. Ford was too shrewd a man to ignore modern necessity. When the biggest ones admit that they can't maintain themselves without advertising's artificial aid, how shall the little ones teach them better? Many dealers do only desultory or unsystematic advertising by reason of thinking they must use big and expensive spaces to make a showing. A competent writer and director of advertising can make small spaces shine out. Small, systematic, vivid advertisements are often more availing throughout a year than larger spaces badly contrived and placed.—State Press, in Dallas News.

BOOZERS TO BLAME

As before stated, there is one reason and ONLY one reason why we have the 18th Amendment, the Volstead Act, or why we have the Anti-Saloon League and the prohibition party. And that is the "show put on" by the men and women who drink intoxicating liquors. If men and women who drink whiskey would act at all times just like they do when not drinking anything, we would have no use for the 18th Amendment or the Anti-Saloon League, therefore it is the parties who drink whiskey who are WHOLLY responsible for any move along prohibition lines. Those who wish their morning dram and those who believe they have a right to take a drink when they want it, have no one to blame but those who get drunk and then try to "paint the town red" every time they get to whiskey. These are the parties who FORCED prohibition upon the people. No one would have ever asked for the 18th Amendment if drinking parties would have acted "white" when they get tanked up.—Claude News.

THE WORM FEEBLY PROTESTS

She had just received a beautiful skunk coat from her husband. "I can't see how such wonderful furs come from such a low, foul-smelling little beast," was her comment.

"I don't ask for thanks," said her husband, "but I really must insist on respect."

"How did you receive those injuries?" asked an adjuster of a claimant under an accident policy, who had a badly battered head.

"My wife hit me with an oak leaf." "An oak leaf?" "Yes."

"Where did she get an oak leaf that would inflict such injuries?" "From the dining room table."

GOLF GOSSIP

By D. A. Davis

For the past three months I've been trying to borrow seventy-five dollars. I've tried all the banks in the country (I mean in the towns and cities), all the rich guys, all the farmers, and even President Hoover's finance stable-izing board, and I simply can't find seventy-five dollars no where.

What I need that seventy-five dollars for is to buy me a goat—one that gives goat milk—and all I would have to do is to drink this goat milk three times a day for three months and I would develop into a real golf player.

He said before he began drinking goat milk he could shoot around 90 to 60, and after drinking the milk 90 days he could very easily shoot a 35 to 40, and all that I needed to do is to buy this goat, go to drinking goat milk, and in no time I could shoot from 33 to 36 without the least bit of trouble.

Several evenings ago one of the managers of the McLean Golf Club horned in on a game of golf that Dosh Bentley, "Judge" Rice and myself were playing, and before we got around he up and remarked to me that I sure played consistent golf.

Over at Pampa they have a bunch of golfers that shoot from 100 up to 200 on their 18 hole course, that have called themselves the Belyachers Club.

Speaking of "belyaching," Old Dosh Bentley has the entire golf profession bested to a frazzle. If you want to hear some professional belyaching, just go out with him some day when he happens to knock his ball in that cellar trap of mine on No. 6.

Folks, have you noticed that great big smile on Mun Davis' mug lately? The reason for it all is because he shot a 42 one day last week.

As far as I know, there is nobody playing golf this year near as good as they played last year. It seems like we are loosing interest or something.

Mrs. Batson—"Which ones, dear?" (does she still call you that, doctor?) Dr. Batson—"Oh, the ones with the 18 holes."

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Persons who feel that our present depression is the worst in history and who can see no way out of the present situation, will be benefited by reading the following extract from an article appearing in Harper's Weekly of October 10, 1857, 75 years ago:

"It is a gloomy day in history. Not for many years—not in the lifetime of most men who read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time.

"In France the political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty; Russia hangs as usual, like a cloud, dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe, while all the energies, resources, and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian insurrection and with its disturbed relations in China.

"Of our own troubles, no man can see the end. They are, fortunately, as yet mainly commercial; and if we are only to lose money, and by painful poverty to be taught wisdom—the wisdom of honor, of faith, of sympathy, and of charity—no man need seriously to despair.

It is well for us to reflect upon these statements, for they indicate that in 1857 there was a depression and the people wondered when it would end.

House to house peddlers and solicitors of orders for this and that are becoming an ever greater nuisance to the American home.

THE PEDDLER NUISANCE

A timely suggestion along this line is made by Prof. Conrad, of the New Jersey Teachers College, who points out that the peddler who boasts that his firm has no store is trying to make a store out of your home.

Besides, he insists on making you shop at his convenience, no matter how much it may interfere with your daily routine.

This is a home, not a place of business, and I am not going to allow you to use it as a store. Good day."

That might seem rather inconceivable. But it is one way of discouraging the peddler, who has not the slightest consideration for your peace and comfort, but uses your home as a market place.

A young lady entered a stationery store and asked for a pound of floor wax.

"I'm sorry, Miss," replied the clerk, "we sell only sealing wax."

The meanest kind of a business man, according to the Kingman (Kan.) Journal, is the one who mails his statements in a plain envelope, making it necessary to open before throwing in the waste basket.

If the Non-Advertiser Was Consistent

THE PLAIN MEMBER

I like the little fellows who don't count for very much; It isn't from the cellos that you get the finer touch; The roaring of the basses and the rattle of the traps May have their proper places in the harmony, perhaps; But down there in the middle, inconspicuously there, Is the little second fiddle that is carrying the air.

The crashing of the cymbal shakes the ceiling with its "Blam!" The piccolo is nimble; "Boom!" you hear the drummer slam; The trombone slides and screeches; "Tut, tut, tut," the proud cornet Just a little higher reaching than its ever tutted yet;

We talk about the bosses with the big and busy brain Making profits, taking losses—but the boss would boss in vain If he didn't have assistance, someone handy he could trust, He would never go the distance and the company would bust.

RESIGNED TO HER FATE

A wealthy old lady was very ill and sent for a lawyer to make her will.

"I wish to explain to you," she said weakly, "about disposing of my property."

The lawyer was sympathetic. "There, don't worry about it," he said smoothly, "Just leave it all to me."

"Oh, well," squeaked the old lady, "I suppose I might as well get it anyway."

An easterner on a visit to the west decided to go horseback riding.

"Do you prefer an English saddle or a western?"

"What's the difference?" he asked. "The western saddle has a horn," replied the attendant.

"I don't think I'll need a horn," said the easterner, "I don't intend to ride in heavy traffic."

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

The prosperous city of McLean lay arched and expectant beneath the fine sunshine of the year 1932. Crowds of gaily dressed people were gathering in the stadium of the precious high school grounds. This stadium, by the way, was the pride not only of the school, but of the entire community, for it had been completed at the cost of thousands of dollars and was the scene of many important out-door gatherings. Today its seats were rapidly filling with the hundreds who wanted to have a part in the reunion of the class of '12.

"A fine class," asserted gray-haired Mr. Howard, "as fine a class as any school ever sent out. I was a member of the board of education when they graduated and we were certainly proud of them."

"Are most of the members here?" asked his companion. "I'm told they're expecting a large representation."

"A number are here," replied Mr. Howard. "That's Cagle Hunt over there. He came in his own airplane this morning. He certainly has a few one-darts along the sky like a bird. You know he's the orator of the day. He is a corporation lawyer, and most of his time in New York, though he has a fine home up the Hudson. They're expecting a large number of the old class to come in the Limited. That will be in an hour."

He spoke truly, for in a few minutes the faces were watching the approach of the early afternoon Air-line Limited, whose swift flight along the edge of the overhanging sky was accompanied with a whirring like the beating of many wings. The band on their exultant melody of welcome; handkerchiefs were waving and voices calling out greetings as the great passenger plane came to a stop. The members of the class of '12 who were already present were anxiously welcoming the new arrivals as the company turned toward the stadium. The stage was and all was ready for the reunion of the class who had graduated twenty years before.

The old-time members gathered for an opening march. There were heads with graying locks—if the truth is to be told, there were heads beginning to lose their locks, but the old fire of enthusiasm burned in eager eyes and youthful youth glowed in their hearts. The band finished the induction of a lively march and the class of 1932 of the McLean high school took its place on the flower-decked platform, with perhaps more dignity, but with the graceful ease of twenty years ago. As the large company looked upon these men and women who had returned with laurels from the old school, they broke into cheering cheers of welcome, a welcome so hearty that those of the class who did not blush with pride were led from sheer excitement.

The music changed to the strains of "America" and the assembled members began the song written for the occasion by Lola Ruth Stanfield, which had been given to the writing class in high school days:

Dear old school, 'tis to thee,
Long from thy tasks set free,
We now return;
From distant town and state,
We come to celebrate,
And old-time joys relate
As love's fires burn.

They started out bravely, but even the voices of Margaret, Lois and Edna, who had been noted singers of the class in the old days, grew hoarse, and Duard, who had been serious as a "cut-up," was seen to wipe his nose with great gusto and to furtively wipe his eyes.

The song closed, M. H. Kinard, who had gained much poise from his speaking at class meetings, stepped forward and said:

Ladies and gentlemen, I have the honor to introduce as the orator of the day, Cagle Hunt, who left his work in the busy New York law office to be present at this reunion. We are proud of Cagle;

he has gained wealth and distinction; he has also gained a five-foot waist line and an accumulation of avoirdupois in keeping with his dignity. He flew over here in his private plane, and his next flight will be into oratory that will hold you spellbound—we know Cagle!"

When the cheering had ceased Cagle came forward with his old-time assurance multiplied several degrees, and began:

"Ladies and gentlemen, schoolmates of the good old days, and friends of bygone years, I see before me many faces that are new, but I also behold many that were present at the graduation of this class twenty years ago. To you who saw us go forth upon that auspicious occasion, bearing the trophies of commencement, I would say that we have returned—not upon our shields, but bearing them laden with honors for the best school a class ever left, McLean high. Before I proceed with the address of the occasion, I wish to present the members of the class of 1932 who are before you, and give you a few facts concerning them. I will start with Sarah Ellen Foster. In high school she used to advocate better order in the assembly rooms; she wanted the halls kept clean and the school grounds beautified; she thought the girls should hold half of the school offices, so it is not surprising that Sarah Ellen went in for civil reform. She reformed her town, tackled the county, and then the state. Now she is down at Washington telling things to Congress. A good many folks have heard from Sarah Ellen and more are going to."

"Then here's Mackie Greer. He has prospered written all over him; it says he not only has money in his pockets but in the bank. Yes, Ward Hunt is a plumber and he can retire any time he wants to. Clyde Andrews is a well-to-do baker; he started in an humble way at home because his wife—you know he married Frances Wilson on whom he used to be sweet-wanted to be in business. She started a hat shop; Clyde had to get so many meals that he finally started a public bakery and is doing fine. Clay Cooper, as you know, is principal of your school at this time; and Margarite Mertel, who has refused many offers of marriage because she's in love with teaching, has charge of the English department. They both wanted to teach in this school in order that they might be revenged on future classes for the roastings the faculty gave them during their high school years.

"Erwin and Gordon are part of the backbone of the country—for if good farmers are not the country's backbone, tell me what is. Erwin married our capable Frankie Andrews who has always had a fondness for chickens, calves and baby baa-baas. She is also caring for several who as babies "boo-hooed." Here also are Kathryn Hales, who has won much notice as a chautauqua speaker; Johnnie Mertel, who is a famous cartoonist for leading city dailies; and James Anderson, whom people love because he pulls teeth painlessly. Ellen Moore, Agnes Finley and Lucille O'Neal have become rulers of the world—according to the line which says: 'The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world.' They are happily married and are well supported.

Our Cleone is a worthy doctor. She is an allopath, and while it's said that all paths lead to the grave, I want to tell you Cleone doesn't lead patients there very often. Maudie is in the state insane asylum—she has charge of it. Addie B. is the thief of the class; she stole an office from her opponent; she stole a march on the voters and got into the legislature—now she's in Congress, and no telling what she's getting. Bonnie, Clara and Verla taught school for a time, but the numbers grew tiresome so they all took schools of one scholar and are making splendid homekeepers. Ziegfeld now employs Nora, Burnese, Laura Lee and Nita."

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which quickly neutralizes acids. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali neutralizes instantly many times as much harmful acid, and then the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, the kind physicians have prescribed for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.
