Large Crowd Attends Annual C. of C. Banquet Tuesday

Williams Is Toastmaster for Occasion

John Sturgeon of Pampa Was Speaker

One of the largest crowds ever to attend an annual banquet of the chamber of commerce was on Tuesday evening at the First Methodist Church when Claude Williams, acting as toastmaster, put over one of the programs of the year.

J. H. Crow, pastor of the Methodist Church, offered the address of welcome.

John Sturgeon of Pampa was the principal speaker, taking as his theme the worth of the manhood community, and stressing the importance of putting first things first.

Reuben R. Cook presided at the annual address, full text of which appears in another column.

A high school band under the direction of Prof. Robt. C. Davidson played music, and were guests of honor, being introduced to the audience early in the program.

Davidson responding for the old and new officers were presided by the toastmaster, only of each set of officers being present.

W. E. Bogan gave some apt readings, and Supt. Paige Albrecht sang some songs with Mrs. Paige at the piano.

Howard, band member, was on program for a saxophone solo.

Miss Luella Jones at the piano.

F. Hinkle, editor of the Pampa News, made a brief talk, as usual.

Lions Club male quartet, with Jewel Shaw at the piano, sang a number of numbers, and the program with the singing of "The Eyes of the Town" led by the band.

Guests included Mr. Ralph R. Thomas, Editor Olin Kie, Roy Bourland, and County agent of Schools John B. Lewis Goodrich of Shamrock.

Food was prepared by the Parent-Teacher Association of the service furnished by the home economics department of the high school. Programs furnished courtesy of The McLean News.

City Election Will Be Held Next Tuesday

Next Tuesday is the regular date for election of city officers; a mayor, secretary, two aldermen and marshal being called for in the election notice.

As usual with elections here, very little interest was manifested until near the dead line for filing names last Saturday, when friends of various candidates busied themselves, with the result that the line-up changed several times during the day.

Beginning with the withdrawal of Reuben R. Cook's name for mayor, J. H. Bodine's name was filed, followed by friends of Claude Williams filing his name, and later C. J. Cash's name was moved from alderman to mayor.

The alderman's line-up, after Mr. Cash's change, left Jesse J. Cobb, O. G. Stokely and D. M. Davis as candidates, with friends adding Witt Springer's name. Later Mr. Stokely withdrew and Mr. Bodine's name was moved from the mayor's column to alderman.

W. E. Bogan had no opposition for secretary until Saturday, when Jack Crow's name was filed. J. A. Sparks for marshal is the only candidate without opposition.

As D. M. Davis was appointed by the council to preside at the election, and his candidacy prevents him from this duty, the law provides that the first few voters who meet Tuesday morning may select a presiding judge, which is expected to be done.

As only 149 people have paid their poll taxes and there are only about 50 or 60 voters, the election is expected to be a quiet affair.

Annual Address President Cook of Chamber Commerce

By Reuben R. Cook

Ladies and Gentlemen: As you have already been informed, we are assembled for the happy occasion of another annual banquet of the McLean chamber of commerce.

It is a real pleasure to have the ladies with us. They not only add beauty and interest, but give us inspiration such as nothing else could do. And I wish to assure you, ladies, that you are just as welcome as if you were paying a dollar a plate.

Due to the fact that no one else would have the place, I have the honor of succeeding myself as president.

However, on account of the excellence of the personnel of the other officers and directors, it is a matter of no serious concern if you should not have a very efficient president.

The following officers and directors were elected at the annual meeting on February 6, 1933: President, Reuben R. Cook; vice president, Boyd Meador; secretary, W. E. Bogan; treasurer, Witt Springer; directors, Ralph Caldwell, Jesse J. Cobb, John W. Cooper, D. A. Davis, T. A. Landers, E. L. Sitter.

At this time I take great pleasure in announcing the appointment of the following splendid and capable gentlemen as committee chairmen: Agriculture, E. L. Sitter; highway, M. D. Bentley; industries, D. A. Davis; legal, Claude Williams, livestock and poultry, Dr. A. A. Tampke; publicity, T. A. Landers; membership, Boyd Meador; trade extension, John W. Cooper.

Now, it is claimed to be difficult for a person to go to sleep while hungry, therefore, in anticipation of a one-hour address by the president, to say nothing of the program to follow, as you have no doubt observed, the arrangements committee trimmed the menu to guarantee that all should remain awake.

At a banking convention in Fort Worth on February 22nd, last, a speaker was discussing at length the question of taxation and what we shall do about it. Finally he realized that he might be speaking too long, and said: "I see no clock in the room and do not have my watch with me, so I have no idea how long I have been speaking." A little boy who had come along with his father and was sitting on the front seat, convincingly bright, but evidently not enjoying the discussion, stood up and said: "Say, mister, there's a calendar hanging right there behind you."

But I will relieve your sighs by saying that after a few more brief remarks I shall turn the meeting back to the program committee.

I shall not take time to speak of the work of your chamber of commerce during the past year except to say that though its accomplishments might have been negligible, I trust that you may agree with me that its activities have been all that could be expected, in relation to general conditions prevailing. In my opinion the trade trips made during the early fall were a success and worth the time and money expended. The McLean band contributed largely and faithfully to the success of those trips, and the members of the band are among the guests of honor here tonight in response to our invitation and desire to show our appreciation of their valuable services and excellent cooperation.

There have been many problems dealt with and handled satisfactorily, such as only a chamber of commerce could handle properly, and whatever credit is due therefore I give to my associates—the other officers and directors, the committee chairmen and our many loyal members and friends. The highway committee has been especially active and, with the aid of various members, at their own expense, attended numerous conferences and meetings, both state and district, and have done some very valuable work which will bear fruit. And I wish to pay a deserving tribute to the McLean Lions Club which has

State Requires Re-registration for R. F. C. Work

A new system of administering the R. F. C. funds is now required by the state, and every person needing work must re-register and make answers to a questionnaire, giving complete family history, stating whether he owns his home, furniture, auto, etc.

A strict accounting of the funds must be kept, subject to an audit by the governor. Items bought must be reported in detail; groceries cannot be listed under one head, but must be itemized to the last loaf of bread.

No person is to be allowed work if he can get by otherwise, and the work must be given according to need and not giving each man the same number of days work. No team or trucks can be hired, but all work must be done by individuals in need. No person who has food and shelter is eligible for assistance.

The above facts were brought out in a meeting of the community chest Wednesday afternoon, presided over by President Reuben R. Cook, and attended by C. H. Walker and Mrs. W. K. Davis of Pampa. Mr. Walker is chairman of the county welfare board and Mrs. Davis is manager of city welfare work at Pampa.

Some 171 persons had registered for work under the former plan, but this number is expected to be sharply lowered under the new arrangement.

Others present at Wednesday's meeting were: W. A. Erwin, Jno. H. Crow, Cecil G. Goff, W. W. Wilson, Jesse J. Cobb, C. O. Greene, G. C. Boswell and T. A. Landers.

Lions Club May Furnish Cemetery Trees

A proposition was outlined at the Lions Club Tuesday, by Paul M. Bruce, manager of the Bruce & Sons Nursery, whereby the club may furnish over fifty large size trees for the cemetery.

Mr. Bruce made an offer, for the fourth consecutive year, of $25 worth of trees and shrubbery as a prize in the yard and garden contest sponsored by the club.

President Boswell read a telegram from Dr. A. A. Tampke, showing the Lubbock winnings of the agricultural students.

Fire Marshal Boyd Meador announced next week as annual cleanup week.

Lion Williams, program chairman, announced that next Tuesday a round table discussion would be had as to making a new state from Texas.

Glen Hunt was high man in Guernseys, Christian Christian second high in the entire dairy judging, fourth in Holsteins and second in Jerseys. Bert Carpenter placed fifth in Guernseys.

Dr. Tampke accompanied the teams to Lubbock. The visiting teams were complimented with a banquet by the Lubbock chamber of commerce.

A display of the trophies and cups won has been placed in the American Bank window that deserves the attention of all interested.

He is a young man, having finished four years college work in the State University and two years in a medical school. He has kept books most of his life, and the bookkeeping part of the office would present no problem to him. If favored with election, he promises to devote his whole time to the office and keep in mind the best interests of the city at all times.

"This Clever Helper Does All the Work of Making Meals"

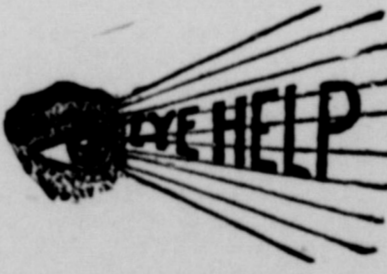

There is almost no limit to the usefulness of the latest models in Electric Mixers. They do all the mixing and folding of cake ingredients—all the mixing and whipping of potatoes, squash, turnips, popovers, cream, meat loaf, cookies, fudge, and waffle batter. They extract the juices from oranges, lemons, grapefruit—mix the mayonnaise—beat eggs. Some do all the chopping and grinding.

Electric Mixing does a much more even and thorough job than can be done by hand. In cakes, the creamed potatoes and other foods, this means a finer and lighter, fluffier ingredients. The operating is so easy that even the smallest even to be considered—a few pennies more for the average family. By all means, see your dealer's and see how much more easily and quickly you can prepare meals with these assistants.

Next Sunday's Lesson

JESUS MINISTERING TO THE JEWS AND GENTILES

By Rev. Cecil G. Goff

Lesson last, Mark 7:24-37. Golden text, John 10:16.

We continue during this quarter with our study in Mark. Today we consider the first withdrawal of the Master from the Jewish territory. His popularity had risen to a tremendous height. Herod Antipas, the Roman tetrarch of Galilee, had become jealous of Him, and was anxious to hinder His work all that was possible, and might have been willing to have done worse, had he been able to have accomplished it privately without the knowledge of the people. The Pharisees and scribes were being outshone by Jesus and were fast becoming His bitter enemies. The people had decried to make Him a king when they had been convinced of His ability to feed five thousand from such a small amount of bread and meat. But when Jesus had turned His teachings away from bread to support the physical body to the spiritual bread, most of the followers who had been anxious to make Him king left Him. It has also been suggested that Jesus wanted some time to give to the more definite training of the twelve with whom He intended to leave His work after He had been crucified and ascended.

At any rate, for some of these reasons, all of them, or others not mentioned, He took the twelve and went to Tyre and Sidon. The distance from Capernaum to Tyre is about forty miles. Here Jesus chose to rest and be alone with His disciples. These were two important cities of Phoenicia. Tyre was founded in 1780 B. C. on an island of 142 acres, a distance of 1800 feet from the shore. Nebuchadnezzar was unable to capture it, and Alexander the Great was able to capture it only by building a causeway 189 feet wide from the main land to the island. Today it has a population of about 500. It was an important Christian center in the early days, but since 391 it has been in the hands of the Mohammedans. Sidon is twenty miles north of Tyre and has a population of about 10,000 today. The land of Phoenicia is quite a historical land. It was there that the alphabet was originated and the first glass was made. The people had an exceptional maritime ability and record. To such Gentile country Jesus made His first and only withdrawal completely out of Jewish territory. There were Jews in Phoenicia, to be sure, but they were considered in a foreign land, and a land of the Gentiles. Jesus was unable to get away from the truth and reality of the fact that He was the all powerful Son of God. He do not know how long He stayed in Tyre, but it seems that before He had been there long a woman found in His presence and went to Him seeking help for her little devil possessed daughter. Jesus at first paid no attention to her (Matthew). Finally the disciples besought Him to send her away. At last Jesus turned to the woman. She was in earnest, she had fallen down at the feet of the Master and was begging and beseeching Him to hear her prayer. Finally, when Jesus turned to the woman, He said, "Let the children be filled first, for it is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs." Jesus is speaking the Gospel, possibly in connection with His healing blessings, at this particular point. I believe Jesus came bringing the Gospel to the Jews, not at they might be the sole custodians of it, but that they might have the privilege of presenting it to the entire world. The Jews as a people had yet completely made their final selection of it.

Jesus, in this instance, did not use insulting terms to the woman. She was a Syrophenician Greek. She knew that Jesus was a Jew. No one would expect the possibility of a Gentile woman as humble. The life of the daughter was at stake. It was time to become angry. What a lesson to know how to be humble. He answered that even the dogs ate the crumbs from the meal. Jesus healed the daughter immediately and commanded the mother to go home. There are three such instances in the Bible: the nobleman's son, John 4:46-54; the centurion's servant, Luke 7:6; and this instance. From here Jesus went down into Capernaum. He was careful to stay out of the territory of Herod Antipas. He had been in Decapolis before. It is that part of the country just east of the Sea of Galilee where the Romans had been permitted to go to the extent, and as a result, they were allowed to leave the land.

The poor demoniac had been faithful, and had told well the story of the power and love of the Savior who had healed him. This time the people had another and altogether different attitude toward the great Healer, instead of asking Him to leave the land, they brought their sick to Him to be healed. Jesus was glad to heal those in need, as is shown by His healing of the deaf and dumb man.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MEET

Saturday was a day of wonderful thrills and general good times for a number of pupils and teachers of the elementary school. At seven-thirty in the morning the campus was dotted with white-trousered boys and girls carrying tennis racquets, balls, bats, ground balls, etc. By eight these children, overflowing with enthusiasm, were in the cars of interested patrons, bound for Pampa and the first day of the interscholastic league meet. And they did their best!

The boys' ground ball team waved their laurels of victory over Alanreed and Sam Houston ward school of Pampa, before going down in defeat to Lefors, who in turn conquered Pampa junior high. The final ranking was: first, Lefors; second, Pampa junior high; third, McLean.

Following is the starting line-up of our team: Overton C. Floyd P. Richardson 1B, Jones 2B, J. B. Bogan 3B, Flowers 1SS; Ledbetter 2SS, Stroup RF, Wade CP, Williams LF. Substitutes, Jack Bogan, Riddle, Glenn, Scott, Dalton. Coach, Mr. McHaney.

The girls' volley ball team won a signal victory over Hopkins No. 2, which put them in the finals at 7:30 p. m. The individual star of these games was Julia McCarty, who won a game by 15 continual serves. In the finals, Julia met her match; in fact she was a little "outmatched" by Jampa junior high's star who served such high balls that our players were unable to return them. Thus Pampa junior high won first, and McLean second. Players were: Julia McCarty, Willa Mae Gressett, Charles Cunningham, Thelma Hooper, Runelle Grigsby, Louise Kennedy, and Frankie Roth. Coach, McHaney.

In the tennis contest, grade school pupils were forced to enter the high school division, since no provision for junior tennis has been made in the interscholastic league rules. Julia McCarty won over Hopkins No. 2, but, due to a conflict with tennis and ground ball, was forced to forfeit her next game. R. L. Floyd set down the opponent from Back, but, like Julia, was also a ground ball player, and was forced to forfeit the next game. Jesse Dean Cobb and Spencer Sitter, small boys, were matched against two "giants" from Lefors high, and hence went down in defeat in their first game. Miss Vera Cummings was coach for tennis.

When it was known that several girls on the first team of ground ball would be unable to go to Pampa, gloom settled over the squad. Finally ten players, part of whom were substitutes, landed on the ground at Sam Houston school and began warming up. At one o'clock they went into action against Barker ward team, and about forty minutes later emerged victorious with a score of 23 to 8. At 3 o'clock they met their Waterloo in Pampa junior high. The one consolation was that they were the only players who scored on Pampa junior high during the day. Final ranking was: Pampa junior high first, McLean second, Baker ward third. Players were: Frankie Roth C, Julia McCarty P, Willa Mae Gressett 1B, Charles Cunningham 2B, Irene Penland 3B, Ruth Ayer 1SS, Runelle Grigsby 2SS, Mabel Back RF, Thelma Hooper CF, Louise Kennedy LF, Mrs. Back coach.

SANDSTORMS

By Margaret Kennedy
One thing I dislike is a sandstorm. It is much worse than a rain or snow. At school you can't get outside because the sand will fill your eyes. In the building, if you open a window, the room fills with sand. The slamming and banging of the windows keep you jumping every moment. When the hardest puffs come, it seems as if the house is going to blow away.

At home I have to keep a dust broom in my hand almost continually. I have to dust and dust, until I think my arm will break. If I should happen to sleep with my mouth open some night when there is a sandstorm, my mouth is dry and full of dust the next morning. It makes my teeth hard to clean, as well as making my mouth dirty. They kill your gardens, disturb otherwise contented cows, aggravate the hens until they refuse to lay, make the cats fight, and spoil the disposition of the housewives. Sandstorms are a nuisance! The only good thing about them is that they make you appreciate a rain more.

CATCHING BUTTERFLIES

JUST DON'T GIVE A DAMN!

Darkey Smith sold Darkey Jones a mule. Jones soon noticed that the mule would not stay in the road or furrow—that he ran into stumps, trees, fences.

Jones went back to Smith and said: "Nigger, you sold me a blind mule." "Naw," replied Smith, "dat mule ain't blind—he just don't give a damn!"

If your car shimmies and wanders and weaves like that mule, bring it to us. We are experts on steering gear, wheel alignment, excess tire wear.

did not have a playfellow that lived around him.

One day he decided to go and catch some pretty butterflies and put them in a jar. He went through town and on out until he came to a big hill where flowers and wild grass grew. He saw a little tree at the edge of a great cliff. He went up there and saw a great big worm on it. He picked it up and put it in the jar with the butterflies. He had all kinds of butterflies, worms and flowers.

Jimmy saw far away down the hill some of the prettiest flowers! They looked like bees. He went down there to pick some. Just as he started to pick up one, he heard a buzzing sound. He looked around and realized that they were really bees, and that they were getting ready to sting him. He dropped the jar with his butterflies and worms in it and started to running. One stung him, but he kept on running. Finally he got home, and he never went to catch butterflies or to gather flowers after that.

LONGHORN NEWS

ALANREED HIGH SCHOOL STAFF

Editors: Joeldine Kiser, Burnese Blakney, Business Manager: Ralph Palmer, Joke Editor: Artie Lee Smith, Grade School Editor: Faye Pettit

The Alanreed high school was represented in all the divisions of events of the Interscholastic League which were held at Pampa last Saturday, except the junior high school division of playground ball. While no outstanding records were made and no first places were won, the contestants from this school showed up very favorably with those of the other schools of the county.

Junior girls volley ball: Alanreed lost to Hopkins No. 2. Senior girls volley ball: Alanreed lost to Lefors. Tennis: girls doubles, Alanreed lost to Alanreed; Hopkins No. 2 lost to Alanreed; Alanreed lost to McLean. Girls singles, Hopkins No. 1 lost to Alanreed; Alanreed lost to Pampa. Boys singles, Lefors lost to Alanreed; Alanreed lost to Pampa. Boys doubles, Pampa junior high lost to Alanreed, Hopkins No. 1 lost to Alanreed, Alanreed lost to McLean.

Playground ball: high school junior boys, Alanreed lost to McLean, 2-5; ward school junior boys, Alanreed lost to McLean, 9-30; ward school junior girls, Alanreed lost to Baker, Pampa, 39-40.

On account of the unusual amount of work necessary to get the Interscholastic League work ready, there was no chapel program this week. The program for next week will be under the direction of Miss Bowman.

The regular meeting of the P. T. A. was postponed last week. The P. T. A. and school were entertained Tuesday by Mr. Hessey and by talks by visitors.

Mr. Hessey and the state aid inspector visited the Alanreed schools last Thursday afternoon. The inspector gave us a very favorable report on the condition of the school and made only a few minor recommendations for things to be done, but on account of the status of the budget for this year, we were unable to get as much state aid as it had been hoped that we would.

Fair weather gives all an urge in the spring to get out and associate with nature. Tennis is becoming quite a popular game in Alanreed. A large number of the folks are playing.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

The chapel program for last week was conducted by the fifth and sixth grades. The program consisted of the following numbers, two of which were presented by second and third grade pupils:

Scripture reading, "Wisdom better than rubies," Proverbs 8:18. Prayer—Miss Pettit. Reading, "Nobility"—Mildred Blakney.

Story, "The Tale of Peter Rabbit"—Fifth Gibson. Story, "The Tree Wishes"—Lois Prock.

Story, "The Frog Who Did Not Mind"—E. B. Reeves. A play upon words and illustrating the proper use of the different parts of speech by thirteen of the fifth and sixth grade pupils.

The following students of the fifth and sixth grades have 100% in attendance record for the seventh month of school: Agnes Terbrush, Wilkie Blakney, J. D. White, Arthur Snyder, Mildred Blakney, Faye Pettit and Weller Snyder. Arthur Snyder has a perfect attendance record for the entire term.

Velma Davis made 100% in spelling last week. Norma Rue Bryant and Juanita Triton were absent from school last week.

Some of the pupils of the third and fourth grades have decided that checker playing is not so easy when it comes to spelling.

Among the group who accompanied the contestants to Pampa Saturday were: Mrs. Wilson Blakney, Mrs. Steer, Mrs. Jasper Elms, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Oakley, Mrs. Paige and Mrs. Dillard.

Miss Viola Studebaker is visiting in Stinnett this week. M. M. Ruff was in Wellington Monday.

Sam Lidge's subscription figures have been marked up another year.

BRIEFS

By A P ANGELLO

Japan is out of the League. She seems to have no intention of relinquishing islands turned over to her by mandate of the League. Japan seemed to think the League had been created to protect her folly.

The farm board is no more. Mr. Roosevelt didn't even give it a "Christian burial." And we are all as glad to see it go as we were to see it come. We may be equally as glad to see present drastic measures go four years from now—or sooner.

The persecution of the Jews is not a healthy policy for any nation, let alone as a medicine for a sick nation like Germany. The government does not sanction it, but the attitude of the people seems to be carrying it on. President Roosevelt's reforestation bill has been passed by the Senate, and will no doubt go through the House in short order. It is one of the most valuable of Mr. Roosevelt's measures.

The coming beer is reported to be responsible for placing thousands of men at work, directly and indirectly. And for every man put to work by beer, there will be ten incapacitated for work within a year because of beer. That is ONE way of ending a depression.

Prohibition had its part in bringing to our land the greatest prosperity it has ever known. It came about by a comparatively sober public. Jobs, money, and spending were plentiful. It took them all to make prosperity. But with a drinking public, what little money there is flowing East into the hands of the brewers, and hungry families, we will need another chapter to make the picture look like prosperity.

Millions of unemployed sober men, barely able to keep from going undernourished, make a depression, and we are all looking for a way out. But the path that leads to a drinking public will only give us millions of men rendered unable to work by beer, with starving families. The latter might not be depression, but it is a far darker picture than the former one.

"PHLURIA"

by P. BOSH

We might as well look to the moon for farm relief instead of to Congress. Why not? The moon has more to do with our crops than the legislators.

Let's adjourn our Congress sine die (Latin for I hope they die) and give the moon a chance? Do you know when to plant what, according to the moon's phases? Here it is. Whatever makes its crop under the ground must be planted in the dark of the moon and vice versa. This rule has not been operative since the passage of the Volstead Act. Why? Because there has been so much manufactured moonshine that the moon's influence could not be felt. But now since we have 32%, there will be no more man-made moonshine, and the poor low trodden farmers can rely fully upon the unerring influence of the good old moon. Yet the Texas farmers can't depend upon the moon until November, 1934. That's when we vote on whether 32% is intoxicating.

I move that we persuade the farmers to turn the rule around and plant their crops opposite to the proper phases of the moon so that they won't raise too much of any one thing. They won't cut their acreage, so why not let the moon hold the production down. P. Bosh suggests that the members of Congress go about among their constituents during this sine die adjournment and hold free schools over their districts teaching the real influence of the moon's phases on crop production, and urging them to follow the rule backwards. They could be paid for this work by the farmers themselves, in butter, eggs, etc., and thus relieve us of a great expense in keeping a Congress at Washington. They could give all the surplus production they get to the Farm Bureau and they in turn give it to the Red Cross, and the Red Cross could feed the unemployed moonshiners who will be thrown out of a job by 32%.

Then, why not make Roosevelt dictator for two years, and be in line with Hitler and Mussolini.

GRAY CO. BOY WINS WITH 4-H CLUB CALF

Jim Farley, Gray county 4-H Club boy, won reserve grand champion and first in the senior calf division with his calf, Washita Blanchard, at the Lubbock fat stock show held Thursday and Friday, with more than 300 entries competing. The calf sold at auction for 17c a pound to the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards. The weight of the calf was 1010 pounds, bringing the boy a total of $171.70.

The calf was bred by R. T. Alexander of Canadian and was purchased by Jim and put on feed April 2nd of last year.

For the second time in succession, the grand champion of the show went to Marvin Maberry of McCalvey, who won this year with his junior calf, and sold to the Amarillo fat stock show for 38c a pound. The calf winning grand championship last year was bought by John Gist of Odessa and fed through the spring and summer, finishing the show season at Chicago, where he was made grand champion of all breeds.

Jim's junior calf won 8th place in his class and was sold for 7 1/2c a pound to the Washburn Commission Co. of Los Angeles, the calf weighing 885 pounds brought the lad $66.37.

According to the records kept under the supervision of County Agent Ralph Thomas, the first cost of the calves was $45 and the feed and nurse cow cost was $68.66, giving the boy a net profit of $135.41.

The calves ate a total of 4446 pounds of kafir, barley and oats mixture and 900 pounds of protein supplement during the feeding period which started March 15th for the junior calf and April 12th of last year for the senior calf.

Over $60 in prize money was won by the calves at the shows where exhibited.

THE PUBLIC SPIRITED MAN

A public spirited man doesn't mind throwing his ten dollars in with the other fellow's ten to accomplish something for the community. The advertiser and grandstander won't go in with the crowd. He wants to play an obligato with his ten.—State Line Tribune.

The citizen who has the good of the community at heart is willing to chip in to help the community in which he lives. He may not have much to give, but he does the best he can and does not expect to double his money on the venture. If he gives a five, he does not expect to get back his five and a big percent of profit besides. He does not expect to be the whole hog in the transaction. He goes in to help boost his community. He knows that if his fellow citizens prosper, he will also be a sharer in the prosperity. But the man who gives nothing and then shares in the reward that is gained by the dollars of the other fellow, is not doing the fair and square thing. He is sponging on the good will of others. It takes a lot of boosting to keep business going these hard times, and if conditions are to be better, it is up to every one to do his share. The grandstander poses as a big fellow and his wind creates the impression that he is a mighty man of valor. But if he is only working for himself and his own little business, he is a poor stick. He is advertising himself and cares not a rap for the other fellow. Just so he gets his with interest, is all that matters. He is a

"something for nothing" person has nobody but himself at heart. It is not caring for the good of the whole, but is perfectly willing to profit by the efforts of others, not giving to help the good along. Such men are no help to town or community.—Higgins

Billfuzz—"Are you going to be bothered much with your income this year?"

Jubb—"No. I have just figured that at the highest tax rate they charge me the government will give me something over $100."
