Neill Funeral Services Held Here Saturday

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Saturday for Mrs. J. J. Neill, aged 24, of the Shamrock gasoline plant north of town, who died suddenly, following a few days' illness, at a Pampa hospital. Services were in charge of Rev. W. A. Erwin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Pallbearers were: John W. Cooper, L. L. Rogers, A. W. Brewer, Wood Hindman, Owen Moore and Porter Smith. Interment was made in Hillcrest cemetery. Mrs. Neill is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Berry of Hereford; three sisters, Mrs. B. O. Sanders, Mrs. Stanley Littleton, of Portales, N. M., Mrs. F. J. Bordeaux of Electra; a brother, Alva Berry of Hereford, other relatives and friends to mourn her passing.

MRS. PETTY CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Luther Petty celebrated her 43rd birthday Friday afternoon with an ice cream social. Thursday was her birthday, but on account of the Callahan funeral, the social was postponed until Friday. There were forty-eight present, and ten gallons of cream was served. Most of those present went to preaching at Liberty after the close of the affair. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Washburn and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rainwater and son, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Pierce and sons, all of Pleasant Mound; Elsie Mae Holloway of Back, J. O. Holloway and daughter, Miss Gladys; Mrs. Geo. Maethenia and children, Mrs. C. E. Matthews and children, Mattie and Elmer Lee Hall, Loraine, Jewel, Virgil and Thurman Turner; Ed. Eliza and Bessie Campbell; Billy, Betty Joe and Orman Lee Gregory; Florencia and Flora Jones; Luther Petty and family, all of Liberty. A good time was reported by all present.

METHODIST REVIVAL GROWS IN INTEREST

The revival services at the First Methodist Church are growing in interest. Five additions to the church were reported Wednesday noon. Rev. T. M. Johnston of Wellington is doing the preaching in a way that leaves no doubt as to his stand on the scriptures. Pastor Jno. H. Crow states that the meeting will probably close with the Sunday night service.

LIBERTY REVIVAL CLOSES

The Baptist revival at Liberty school house closed Sunday morning with a baptismal service at Sand Spur Lake in the afternoon. Rev. Sidney Johnson of Lela did the preaching, and the song services were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Scott of Ramsdell. There were 35 professions, seven by baptism. Two united with the Lela Baptist church, six with Pleasant Mound, and others declaring their intention of joining the McLean church. Good attendance and cooperation was had by the people of the community, as well as those from adjoining communities. The meetings were held out of doors, despite threatening clouds many nights.

FREE RODEO SATURDAY

The second of the free gate merchants' rodeo and races sponsored by the chamber of commerce will be held Saturday afternoon. These affairs are planned for every other Saturday during the summer and are paid for by McLean merchants.

Mrs. A. A. Christian visited her daughter, Mrs. Carl Ince, at Amarillo last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stewart and family visited in New Mexico and Colorado last week.

Mrs. Lear M. Jones and son returned to their home at Lubbock Friday after a visit with relatives here.

Charlie Nicholson was in Texola, Okla., Friday.

Mrs. C. S. Rice is visiting relatives in Dallas and Gainesville this week.

WORK OF THE F. F. A. CLASS IN McLEAN

(From the talk of the News editor over radio station KGRS last Friday): When Dr. Tampke came to McLean some six years ago, very little was known of the scope of vocational work in our high school, but since that time his classes have made history, winning places in regional, state and national contests.

Among the major activities sponsored by the department have been four annual poultry shows, attracting exhibits ranging as high as 475 birds; two annual baby beef shows with some 22 calves in each show, representing some of the best blood lines in the Panhandle. The classes have won 17 silver trophies, three sweepstakes banners, and five gold medals in the Tri-state fair, Texas Tech and A. & M. contests.

They have received $560 worth of prize trips to Kansas City, representing the state in the national meat judging contests for four different years, winning certificates of award each year.

Proof that these students are properly coached may be found in the fact that four of them have been honored with jobs at the college farm of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon.

Two certificates of merit have been won from the State Department of Education, and four scholarships from Texas Tech at Lubbock.

McLean Future Farmers of America have been represented at the Amarillo Tri-state fair each year with a booth and individual exhibits in the agriculture and poultry divisions, winning many prizes.

McLean boys have competed in many contests staged by nearby schools ranking high in each contest, most of the time winning first places.

Dr. Tampke has not confined his work to the school room, but his services have been available to farmers in the community. He has assisted in farm terracing operations, orchard pruning, poultry culling, vaccinating animals and giving valuable aid in emergency cases with sick animals. These services have been rendered before and after school hours. Dr. Tampke is a hard worker and answers all calls for assistance, day or night.

McLean is justly proud of the achievements of the vocational agriculture department of the high school; however, I don't mind telling you that this is the first time we knew they could put on a program of this nature.

HOME LOAN BLANKS TO BE AVAILABLE HERE

According to advices from S. H. Stone of Pampa, appraiser, application blanks for federal loans will be available at the city secretary's office here soon.

It is understood that Mr. Stone will visit McLean shortly, in the interest of the loan plan.

RAIN ENDS DROUGHT

One of the longest dry spells experienced in this community came to an end Tuesday night when about 1 1/2 inches of rain fell.

A good shower fell Sunday evening, which, with the rain since, should insure all late crops, if frost does not occur too soon this fall.

A CORRECTION

In last week's write-up of Mrs. Springer's bridge party, the name of Mrs. H. C. Rippy was inadvertently carried instead of Mrs. Sammie Cubine.

Miss Olive Dahlgren of La Junta and Miss Ruth Ballard of Denver, Colo., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ballard.

Mrs. W. R. Hutcheson and little daughter of New Kirk, Okla., are visiting their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Jordan.

Miss Ruby M. Adams was called to the bedside of her father at Denton Wednesday.

Mrs. Witt Springer returned Friday from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Barton, at Matador.

Miss Pearl Simmons and niece, Doris Simmons, or Erick, Okla., visited in the J. E. Lynch home last week end.

A. A. Callahan and C. S. Rice were in Mobeetie Tuesday.

Johnston and Crow on Lions Club Program Tuesday

Revs. T. M. Johnston and Jno. H. Crow were the principal speakers at the Lions Club luncheon Tuesday.

Lions Bogan and Holloway were the entertainment committee for the day, presenting the preachers, who made appreciated talks.

Rev. Johnston said he "relents" service club members not using first names, insisting that he is plain "Tom" Johnston and wanted to be called by his first name.

The speaker complimented McLean and said that there is no way to build a town and community except by buying everything possible at home. "You can't build a town and patronize out-of-town merchants and mail order houses," said Rev. Johnston. "And the need is not so great for bigger towns any more, but for better towns, and here is where the service club idea comes in. You can't build an individual business on the ash heap of your competitor. Competition is said to be the life of trade, but we need fair competition."

Rev. Crow spoke in appreciation of the Lions Club in McLean and extended an invitation to the revival services at the First Methodist Church. Jesse J. Cobb presented his brother-in-law, M. M. Russell, of Wichita Falls as his guest for the day.

DR. TAMPKE'S BOYS MAKE HIT ON RADIO

Many compliments have been received over the program given by boys of Dr. A. A. Tampke's vocational agriculture class over radio station KGRS in Amarillo Friday.

The class was handicapped by not having their instructor present, as Mrs. Tampke was operated on for appendicitis Friday morning, and the Doctor could not be present at the broadcast. Supt. C. A. Cryer of the McLean schools was the official announcer for the program, handling his duties like a professional, and the News editor gave a resume of the work in McLean, text of which appears in another column.

Dean West, Eugene Greer, Buford Linton, Allison and Sidney Harris composed the entertainment group, playing and singing old time cowboy songs.

Several wires and phone calls from McLean, Pampa and Amarillo were received during the broadcast, complimenting the program.

Mr. Gish, owner of KGRS, was very kind to the McLean party, every convenience being placed at the disposal of the visitors.

LOCAL NRA COUNCIL TO BE FORMED TODAY

A local NRA council is to be formed this afternoon (Thursday), when C. H. Walker of Pampa will be present and address a meeting at the city secretary's office at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Walker is chairman of the Pampa council and will give full information as to the formation of the local council and its duties.

Every NRA member and others are invited to attend the meeting.

Boyd Meador, Forrest Hupp and W. K. Wharton attended a district sales meeting of the Phillips Petroleum Co. in Amarillo last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Greene and Miss Jewel Shaw were in Amarillo Friday.

Mrs. Bernard of White Deer visited her mother, Mrs. J. R. Hindman, last Thursday.

Jesse Dean Cobb and sister, Willie Louelle, visited relatives in Wichita Falls last week.

N. E. Pogue attended the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. A. M. Hampton, at Chillicothe last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Davis went to Plainview Thursday to visit their son, Marvin, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Nell Cooper of Amarillo visited the former's grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Hindman, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Frazier of Boydston attended the Callahan funeral here Thursday.

Sheriff and Mrs. C. E. Pipes of Pampa were in McLean Thursday.

W. E. James and family of Alanreed were in McLean Thursday.

Funeral Rites Mrs. Reader Here Saturday p. m.

Funeral rites were said at the Thomas Funeral Home Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Mary Ann Reader, aged 85 years, 2 months and 18 days. Mrs. Reader, her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Reader, were returning to their home at Phoenix, Ariz., when the deceased suffered a stroke of paralysis a few days ago at the Watt tourist camp, succumbing Friday, August 18, 1933.

Funeral services were in charge of Pastor Jno. H. Crow, of the First Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. T. M. Johnston, pastor of the Wellington Methodist Church.

Pallbearers were: J. A. Sparks, W. E. Bogan, J. H. Bodine, Leon Bodine, J. E. Kirby, W. S. Kunkel.

Interment was made at Hillcrest cemetery.

MRS. TAMPKE HEARS F. F. A. PROGRAM IN HOSPITAL

By Dr. A. A. Tampke In spite of many difficulties, the F. F. A. boys managed to put on their scheduled radio program over KGRS last Friday, and Mrs. Tampke, though operated on four hours before the program, listened in with pleasure in a hospital.

I opened all doors and windows leading to her room and the boys' musical program came to her in great style. She stated that she heard everything very distinctly, including her daughter's reading, with the exception of a small portion of some of the talks.

Some of our supporters failed to hear the program because they thought it would be called off, due to the operation, and we regret that they failed to hear it.

Many obstacles had to be worked out by the boys themselves when they lost my services. The boys took charge of all practices and worked out all their musical and voice combinations themselves, for which they should be highly commended. Another shock came when Deen West's aunt was taken away very suddenly, and for a time it was thought that he, too, was unable to carry out his part. This prompted me to hunt all afternoon for Buford Linton.

While away hunting a new player, the sad calamity fell upon my wife. However, I feel deeply indebted to these boys, Mr. Cryer, and T. A. Landers for the splendid way they put the program over in my absence.

PROF. MOORE OF CANYON HERE, INTEREST COLLEGE

Prof. T. M. Moore of the West Texas State Teachers College was in McLean Monday in the interest of the college, stating that a new plan has been worked out whereby farm produce will be taken as part pay on tuition the coming term.

A split-semester plan is also offered as an economy measure for students. Prof. Frank R. Phillips of the college was here last week visiting Dr. Tampke and interviewing prospective candidates for work at the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Davis and children of Plainview are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Davis.

Mrs. Pete Porter and little daughter of Shamrock visited in the R. T. Dickenson home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art G. Williams and baby of Channing visited the lady's aunt, Mrs. A. T. Young, Thursday.

Mrs. John Sherrod, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sherrod of Alanreed were in McLean Thursday.

Mrs. E. S. Reynolds of Chillicothe visited her sister, Mrs. N. E. Pogue, Thursday.

Mrs. Ed D. Smith is visiting at Childress this week.

Mrs. Gus Gooch of Dozier was in McLean Saturday.

Dr. C. B. Batson was in Pampa Friday.

C. S. Rice and son, Vernon, were in Pampa Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrd Gull visited in Wellington Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Landers spent last week end in Canyon and Amarillo.

State Election Will Be Held Here Saturday

Three ballots will be presented to voters in the special election to be held Saturday. A federal constitutional amendment, four amendments to the state constitution, and local option on the beer issue in Gray county, are the issues to be voted on.

The local option ballot is small, only two two-line sentences with "for" and "against," voters to mark out the one they wish to vote against.

The state amendment ballot contains two columns of wording identical, except that one side has "for" and the other "against."

One amendment is for the adoption of a home rule charter by voters in counties having a population of 62,000 or more. This will affect only a few counties at the present time.

Then there is the twenty million dollar state bond issue that is being advocated with page advertisements in most of the papers in Texas.

The homestead amendment is just to correct an omission in the same thing adopted by voters two years ago, allowing several counties exempt at that time to share in its benefits.

The other amendment is to legalize beer sales in Texas, and has had a lot of advertising in the papers and otherwise.

The other ballot is worded for and against electors who favor, or oppose, the 21st amendment, which, if adopted, will automatically repeal the 18th amendment. There are two columns of names containing 31 electors and 31 alternates on each side. Voters may mix the ballot by voting for 31 electors and alternates, but it is expected that most tickets will be voted "straight" for the electors. Texas is admitted by the "wets" to be the most doubtful state yet to vote on this question.

Election officers at McLean will be Byrd Gull presiding judge; T. N. Holloway, C. S. Rice, H. C. Rippy, At Alanreed; W. J. Ball, presiding judge; Mrs. W. W. Whitsett, Lefors; E. Berg, presiding judge; H. G. Blake, J. H. Montgomery, R. A. Nipper.

MANY FAIL TO PROPERLY SIGN NRA AGREEMENT

According to Postmaster John B. Vannoy, advices have been received from the United States Department of Commerce that many firms failed to properly sign the NRA agreement, some leaving off the name of the firm, business, or address, preventing their inclusion in the honor roll issued weekly.

Mr. Vannoy suggests that the honor roll at the postoffice be watched, and if anyone's name fails to be shown, he should ask for a duplicate agreement and properly sign it.

GINNERS EXPECT COTTON SOON

McLean ginnners expect the first bale of cotton for the season to be brought in early next week.

It is understood that the chamber of commerce will sponsor raising the premium for the first bale, which must be grown in the local trade territory to be eligible for a premium.

It is probable that the premium will be merchandise donated by various merchants and others in McLean.

Rev. and Mrs. Jno. H. Crow, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Biggers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wilson, L. O. and W. H. Floyd, and A. A. Callahan attended the funeral of Mrs. Perry Johnson at Groom Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Russell and daughter, Miss Josephine; and Mrs. J. M. Hendrick of Wichita Falls visited in the Jesse J. Cobb home this week.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Montgomery left Thursday for a trip to the world's fair at Chicago.

HE SURE WOULDN'T

Two country editors were talking. "I spent three hours on the best editorial I ever wrote, telling the folks to buy from home merchants, and it's been two weeks and not one merchant has said a word of thanks," said one.

"If you had told them to go out of town to buy," sadly replied the other, "you wouldn't have lived long enough to care."

Prisons are filled with those who tried a short cut to success.

Now that the long drought is definitely ended for this year, a late frost could be appreciated.

Voters need to use their heads and vote their convictions this time, in place of being driven by the party whip or prejudice. If this is done we need not fear the future.

The man who knows he is wrong, yet is too stubborn to admit it, is always more intolerant of others' opinions than the man who is right in his conceptions.

It has been said that we were given two eyes, two ears, and only one mouth, yet the mouth does us more harm than any of the others. Controlling the tongue is perhaps the most difficult lesson to learn, but it must be learned if our lives are to count for much.

Only one class will ever receive any help from legalized beer, and that is the brewers. The howl about lessening taxes is only a howl, as can be proven by past performances, and it will bring a trail of sorrow and trouble in its wake that will more than offset the benefit to the brewing interests.

The first lesson a newspaper editor learns is what not to print. It is useless to tell an editor to keep something out of the paper, for he already knows whether it would be wise to print it or not. He must know if he is to continue in business and keep the community life flowing without a riffle.

Prof. Moore of the West Texas State Teachers College of Canyon was a News office visitor Monday and gave us a new definition of cooperation, or rather told us what the word does not mean. "It does not mean for one person to co and another to do all the operating," said Prof. Moore.

There are many people who are perfectly willing to let the other fellow do the "operating" in most matters of public interest.

The time has come for law-abiding people to discourage maudlin sentiment in favor of hardened criminals. There can be no compromise with law-breakers. They are enemies of organized society, and should be so regarded. As long as there is a chance for reform, the wrong-doer should have every consideration, without prejudicing the rights of others, but the habitual criminal deserves no such consideration, other than to see that he pays his debt to society.

And now the NRA is to go after chiselers and profiteers. Those flying the blue eagle must be made to realize that this is a mutual proposition, and everything possible for the recovery of the nation is to be done. No prices are to be raised that are not justified by additional expenditures under the act. There is no way for anyone to stand alone in this matter. We are engaged in a war on depression and everyone's right must be respected, for the general good.

There has been a lot of complaint on the McLean-Pampa road, but those who are used to the bad condition in dry weather should try to negotiate the road after a rain. Cars and trucks had much difficulty in staying on the road Tuesday night, many of them sliding off the side of the grade, unable to get back on the road without assistance. We have been told that the effort to have the state designate the road a state highway has been abandoned for the present, and the county will go ahead and undertake the sale of the bonds voted for this purpose long ago.

It is not economically possible for a business to prosper under the new deal without advertising. And the regular advertiser, all things considered, may congratulate himself that he will be among the first to feel the impetus of better times. This is one of the fundamental things in business life that never change.

There are many kinds of advertising, and more money is wasted in the name of advertising than any other phase of business, but no man who concentrates on advertising in his home paper has ever been disappointed in results.

Mr. Gish, owner of radio station KGRS at Amarillo, was mowing his lawn when the McLean F. F. A. entertainers arrived for the program Friday, and the News editor and the station owner immediately struck up a friendship over their mutual interests in yards and gardens.

Mr. Gish lives at the station and has landscaped his place himself, having one of the prettiest places in Amarillo. A large lawn with an irregular shaped lily pool adds to the attractiveness of the place, and the back yard garden is filled with flowers of various kinds.

Mr. Gish takes a lively interest in things and is a real asset to his community.

The first grape juice factory in Texas was opened August 4th, in Young county. There is no good reason why we might not have such an industry in McLean, for it is well known that our soil and climatic condition is right for grape growing; however, at the present time there are not enough grapes grown to supply the local demand.

There is more money to be made here in growing grapes, even at low prices, than, perhaps, any other crop.

A few vines added to existing vineyards each year might mean that we could have a factory here in the near future. There is nothing so easily propagated and grown as the grape, and there should be a vineyard of some size on every farm.

A LETTER

The following letter, dated August 16, 1933, from the director of Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission, directed to C. H. Walker, Chm; Alex Schneider, J. H. Studer, V. Smith and M. M. Newman, was handed The News by Mr. Newman, with the request that it be published:

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by this commission in executive session on July 27, 1933, I am pleased to notify you that you have been appointed by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson as the Gray County Relief Committee.

The last session of the Legislature passed an act which has become a Texas statute requiring this commission to establish County Boards of Welfare and Employment in each county in Texas, stipulating that this commission shall appoint such Boards with the approval of the County Commissioners' Court.

We have also been directed by the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator to complete set-ups of "public agencies for the handling of Federal Emergency Relief funds by August 1. You will serve as the Gray County Relief Committee under appointment of the Governor, pending the establishment of a County Board of Welfare and Employment for your county in compliance with the Texas law.

You were appointed as members of the County Board of Welfare and Employment for Gray county by this commission in executive session on July 3, 1933, and your names submitted to the County Commissioners' Court of Gray county for approval. Such approval has not yet been received.

A field representative of this commission will call on you and establish you as the "public agency" for the handling of Federal Emergency Relief funds in your county.

We wish to make it known to you that this action is not in any wise intended as a reflection on any member of the old Gray County Relief Committee, nor on the manner in which they have conducted their of-ice, but this action is taken so that the requirements of the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator may be complied with and in order that the relief program in Gray county may not be interrupted.

Your cooperation in carrying on this great public service is earnestly solicited.

Yours very truly, by direction of the Governor,
LAWRENCE WESTBROOK.

News from Pakan

Mr. and Mrs. George Podmajersky, accompanied by Mrs. Sam Marvonek and son, Robert Sam, of Chicago, came in Sunday to visit in the John Hrcniar home.

John Hrcniar, Jr., and Mrs. George Podmajersky made a business trip to Shamrock Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Sidney Johnson and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Wells, Mrs. Dick Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Griffin and sons of Lela, and Miss Emily Hrcniar were supper guests in the W. H. Buice home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Buice were in Shamrock Sunday night.

Paul Flak, Jr., John Hrcniar, Jr., Dusan Pakan, Olga, Susie and Emily Hrcniar visited in the D. H. Griffin home Sunday night.

Lois Buice visited Misses Doris and Louelle Mayfield Sunday.

EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM A FOLLY?

Human history records no greater folly than our present educational system. That statement seems a gross exaggeration, if nothing worse, for long-established things are hallowed by time and custom and faults long endured assume the status of virtues.

Is there a greater crime against youth than to waste its best years at the sorry business of memorizing information it cannot use?

Education is necessary. No one can succeed without it. But the necessary kind isn't obtained in ordinary schools. If our ablest men are college-bred, it is because the ablest boys went to college.

We look in vain for ways to reduce taxes, yet the enormous cost of "education" could be reduced to a fourth without depriving a single child of any knowledge that is essential or beneficial.—Robert Quillen in the Dallas News.

CONCLUSION

After long and thoughtful consideration, the Bonehead has reached the following conclusions:

That whether or not you have B. O. (body odor to us yokels) depends not so much on what kind of soap you use as how often you take a bath.

That one kind of cigarette is about as good as another. It's all a matter of taste.

That all the cosmetics in the world wouldn't make an ugly woman beautiful and charming.

That the most effective way to kill flies is to smack 'em with a swatter.

That you can't borrow money at a bank right now.

That the best way to make a comfortable living is to snag a government job.

That most of the people who say they don't read the home town paper are spoofing (Scandinavian word for lying)—The Bonehead, in Wheeler News-Review.

CRITICISM

Men and women in obscurity are never criticized. It is only those who have established themselves through meritorious acts and placed themselves in the limelight of service who are subject to ridicule and censured by envious and prejudiced people on the side lines.—Texas Press Messenger.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Huff visited in Paducah Sunday.

Sunday's Lesson

SAUL

Rev. Cecil G. Goff

Text, 1 Samuel 15:13-26
1 Samuel 15:22

Lesson deals with the first king, and Samuel sought God's permission to anoint. The old prophet did not show the lack of the establishment of a king, but the people would not therefore God revealed that he was to anoint Saul, of Kish, from the tribe of Benjamin. The prophet gave to the king many instructions, and his heart and mind for the king was ahead of him. The king then called together to his king. Saul was chosen. He felt his inability to do the duties of a king, and learned that he was being hid himself. He hid himself in a cave. He stood head above the crowd. He was strong, athletic, good looking, a young man. The people loved him and were glad to have him their ruler.

Saul became king, Israel had enemies. And after he had assumed his new surroundings, he gathered an army to begin to defeat them. Saul began campaigns against Moab, Edom, Zobah and Philistia. A good warrior, and went at the bidding of God, and was, therefore, successful in all of his campaigns. He had a purpose in His work. He directed him in his work, and was glorified through the work of His people. For a king was willing to hear the words of the Lord, and to take the counsel of the prophet Samuel, time came when he grew self-confident, and when his ambitions were not the will of God. Any man who is not willing to hear the voice of God, the all-wise judge, knows best for each of us, and without the divine consent to the things we do, there is no hope of final success, but in the end it will be to bitterness and defeat. True in the life of any individual, it is alone one of God's divinely appointed and selected leaders. Amalekites had been a terror to the people from the time they were in the wilderness until the time of their defeat by Saul. God commanded Saul to march against them with his army and to destroy them. God gave definite in His instructions. Saul only commanded His servant to march against the Amalekites, but to do as he saw fit. Saul did not obey God, but he had mental reservation. God stood by him, but he did not stand by Saul. God had a purpose in His destruction of the Amalekites. But Saul had a purpose in disobeying God. He wanted to take the credit for the soldiers wanted to take the credit for the soldiers. Saul had a desire to make an impressive display of his power when he returned after his victory. Other kings did it, and Saul did it in the eyes of the people. Why should not Saul have the advantage of the same psychology that he wanted to do, that he thought would be of advantage to him personally, he committed the sin that deprived him of the kingship. Samuel, recognizing and pleading for the king, went to him to do his sin and to announce his sin. The king offered a number of flimsy excuses for his actions, but when he saw that they would not satisfy the prophet of God he admitted his sin, and wanted Samuel to go with him to worship God and to ask for his forgiveness, but the old prophet had already been to God, and knew that there was no use of further pleading. He turned away, never to visit the king again. He secretly anointed David king, and from that time the power of Saul waned, and the popularity of David grew. Finally in the close of Saul's reign of forty years, he was completely defeated by the Philistines, his sons killed, and he committed suicide on Mount Gilboa.

So ended the life of one chosen of God who could have been a mighty power, through all of his reign, and have served God and died an honest and honorable death. So it is with many who start out to serve God. They are not willing to permit God to guide and direct their lives. Then soon have ideas and ambitions of their own which will not glorify God, and must be punished for them. Those faults so common among the children of God are the conceptions they get concerning God's gifts to them. So often we feel that the way we spend our time and money is our own business. So thought Saul. He learned differently. Many of us come to feel that the way we use our private lives, our influence and our talents is our own business. So thought Saul. But God the giver of all good and perfect gifts to mankind not only expects them used in His service, but demands it. Men think they can make money and not give God His share; spend the time God has given them in gambling, illegal business, etc.; spend the Lord's day playing baseball, going on pleasure trips, never, or seldom, frequenting God's houses of worship, and get by with it. So thought Saul. But in the end he learned his lesson. When it learned it, it was too late. The people of this nation of ours are going to learn their lesson some day, but for many it will be, as in Saul's experience, too late. "Be not deceived, God is not mocked; whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."—Gal. 6:7.

WHY REPEAL THE 18TH AMENDMENT?

By Rev. Cecil G. Goff
The United States Brewer's Association in session in Chicago, July 7, resolved with but one dissenting vote THAT THE PUBLIC MUST BE EDUCATED TO THE DIGNITY OF BEER. Mr. Jacob Rurrert, a New York brewer, was honest enough to say, and was quoted in the Chicago Daily Tribune, July 8, 1933, as saying: "What does beer need with dignity? Beer has to have is foam and the proper taste and kick." This brewer is not trying to fool anybody. He knows that his stuff is the damnation of the souls and lives of men. He is not in the business for the "uplift of the people," "in the interest of their personal rights," or "to bring revenue to the government." Neither are any of the others, when we get down to the real facts in the case. The repealists are not interested in the revenue of the government except that someone else pay it rather than themselves. There could be about as much dignity in beer, or liquor of any kind, as there could be in a good muddy pigpen.

The Boston arrests for drunkenness increased 11% the first month beer was introduced. On June 19, 1933,

Grade "A" MILK
The Standard in Milk

Health and Growth in Every Bottle
HIBLER'S DAIRY

the Washington Times carried a story concerning arrests after beer had begun to flow. On the day before, 525 Washington citizens were taken into custody. The statement continues, in part:

"When police court opened today, 257 persons were arraigned on various charges, the majority being intoxication.

"This set an all-time record for the number of arraignments."

During the same week of June 19, 1933, the sergeant-at-arms of the House, Kenneth Romney, was arrested on two charges, drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Let us now turn to some statistics concerning crime, taken from the U. S. Census Department, "Prisoners, 1923," page 31, table 12. The comparison is for the years 1910 and 1923, on a basis of commitments per 100,000 population:

	1910	1923	decrease
All offences	521.7	325.1	37.7
Drunkenness	185.9	83.1	55.3
Disorderly con.	99.9	48.5	51.5
Vagrancy	54.0	25.5	52.8
Assault	24.5	11.5	53.1
Larceny	42.8	24.7	42.3
Fraud	9.7	4.3	55.7
Malignant mis.	10.9	3.4	68.8
Offenders under 18 years (page 17)	221.8	126.5	43.0

There were a few instances where the percentage was greater, found in new crimes, and violation of the drug and liquor acts. But the thing noticeable is that among crimes that thru the years were associated with the liquor traffic as a whole, decreased 37.7%. If prohibition had done nothing else than that, it would have been worth while. The prohibition law was not perfect, and was not perfectly enforced. In fact, the last few years the officers in many places, including local, county, state and federal, have not seriously attempted to enforce it because it was more profitable to fall in its enforcement than to enforce it. The fault is not all to be placed at the door of the enforcement officers, either. There were millions of citizens who were unwilling to be honest as jurors with respect to the laws. When a man is sworn as a juror it is his duty as an honest citizen to let his action be according to the law of the land which he has sworn to uphold. It may not in all instances agree with his individual opinion, but nevertheless, if he takes his oath to judge according to it, he ought to be deported from his country if he fails and, deliberately, as many have done, uses his own opinion as a standard rather than the law he has sworn to uphold. These are some reasons why the Eighteenth Amendment has not been enforced. The truth of the matter is that many such men will pay dearly in the ruined lives of their own children because of their traitorous actions in the jury box and in office.

But even with the lack of enforcement, think of the good that has been done. Men and women who vote wet at the polls will deny the good and enlarge the evils of bootlegging, etc. There are none of us who fail to see the evils. But there are none of us who want the statutes against murder repealed because there are hundreds of people being murdered every month.

The man or woman who votes wet at the polls may do so with a light heart, but they shall repent with great sorrows, sadness and punishment. It is God's promise, and none of us can get away from it or around it. He has promised woe to every one that gives his neighbor to drink, and the man or woman who votes wet places himself in the way of God's curse. So, will many carelessly do, but the nation, as well as the individuals, will reap, and reap, and reap the woe of their doing with the coming of beer and the saloon.

Rundown in Health Means Rundown in Blood!

Blood is life. Blood is everything. When blood gets thin or poor you feel it in a dozen different ways. Appetite fails, strength ebbs and you become weak and depressed. To build up your blood, take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It contains iron which makes for rich, red blood. It also contains tasteless quinine which tends to purify the blood. Thus you get two effects of great value in any rundown condition. Taken regularly for a few days, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic will soon have you back on your feet. It will improve your appetite, increase your strength and vitality and put color in your cheeks. For half a century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been a source of strength and energy for young and old. It is pleasant to take and contains nothing harmful. Get a bottle today and enjoy real health. Sold by all stores.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of milt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver; it should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. AN INTERESTING LETTER

By Lewis L. Lasswell, 6200 N. E. 6th Ave., Portland, Ore.

August 19.—The first time I saw McLean, Texas, it was rather a small place. In fact, the Rock Island R. R. had only been built a short time. I was, at that time, perhaps about nine or ten years of age. I moved with my mother and step-father, Bun Easterwood, from the Bar X Ranch, seven miles north of Clarendon, to the O. V. Ranch, 12 miles northeast of McLean, then owned by R. B. Pyron. Along with these were R. P. Cunningham, Jinks Barker, Oliver Curtis, and a Mr. West, and others, the names of whom I have forgotten.

McLean at that time had a very small depot, a water tank, and Mr. McLaughlin owned and ran a general store, later bought and run by C. C. Cook for many years. The old Hindman Hotel was then under construction, a boxed and striped affair of about 10 or 12 rooms all together. The hotel was run by Cloud Drew. The lumber yard at that time consisted of about three carloads of mixed lumber and I think a Mr. Watson was in charge at that time, or was working there soon after. Later I remember a Mr. Woodward as the manager, and Mr. C. S. Rice was manager for several years and was one of the real pioneers.

There were perhaps five or six residents, but I do not just remember who were the first ones there. Among them was Jas. F. Heasley, as the blacksmith; Mr. Green, druggist; Jeff Owens, barber; John Simmons, livery stable. Later his brother, George (Shorty) Simmons, was part owner in the livery stable and town barber. Then there was a Mr. Clatterbuck, as I remember, had something to do with one of McLean's first businesses. Then there was Mr. John Haynes, one of the first carpenters; Guthrie Bros., Bun Easterwood and Tom Cooke; all were pioneer carpenters and built most of McLean's first buildings.

Tom Wall of Wellington opened the first picture show in McLean, in the old Sid Cook building which was remodeled and the floor sloped, with individual seats. The writer screwed all of those seats to the floor, 12 screws to each seat, at $1.00 per day. Fred Hedrick was our first auto mechanic, and A. B. Gardenhire and John Kibler were the proud possessors of a new Buick auto. Joe Loffin of Alameda was the salesman. As I remember, a Mr. Boswell was our first printer; at least he was among the first to print a newspaper in McLean. I washed type for him, at any rate, out in the back with lye water, and turned the crank on the old roller type press. Later we had a press for letter heads, etc., that we pumped with our foot, which sure was some class.

The first dry goods store was opened by Roy Connelly from Amarillo, (I was the general funky, etc.), in the old McLaughlin building; later wrecked and the O'Dell Hotel built there. Allen's wagon yard south of the railroad tracks was another pioneer business, now a business the younger generation knows nothing of. I met Bill Allen in Portland late in 1917, headed for Camp Lewis in Washington. He is the one and only person I have talked to from McLean since I left there, with the exception of my mother, Mrs. L. E. Cunningham, and family.

May Cook was one of our first regular postoffice managers. Later a Mr. Mullin was postmaster. Jas. Scarborough was one of the first soda dispensers. Bun Easterwood was the first to serve chilli soup and short orders. I was the soda jerker. Mother the cook, and Bun the butcher. Fauney Biggers was one of the first butchers. W. L. Haynes was another pioneer merchant; also Montie Brooks general store will live long in old timers' memory.

Later we had W. T. Wilson at the yard, but I don't just remember which of these old timers was first. There was a Mr. Hobbs, the barber, and I must not leave out my old friend, Jim Burrows, one of the champion checker and domino players. And of course, there was a saloon over in the Gull Hotel by the livery stable. It was at one time run by Gene True. Then some of our first doctors were Dr. Green, Dr. Montgomery, Dr. Donnell, and Dr. Ballard.

This sketch does not take in the old timers in the country, with the exception of persons connected with the O. V. Ranch. Among other frequent visitors and business men of McLean in pioneer days were S. E. Boyett, lawyer; C. H. Rowe, Mr. Snow, Sam Biggers, ginster; D. N. Massay, real estate; Bill Hodge, Bill Upham, lumber and hardware; T. M. Wolfe, druggist; Bill Langley, druggist; W. R. Patterson, insurance; and I can't leave out Pearl Thompson, a very popular clerk in the local store, and loved by all who knew her. Jeff Volles, horse trader, and my old friends Lee Turner and R. L. Grigsby, have been there so long that the picture would be incomplete without them; to say nothing about M. D. Bentley would also be gross neglect.

And as I recall it, a Mr. Rounds had one of the first tin shops. John Carpenter was our boss at the O. V. Ranch, and among the boys I recall was his brother, Charlie; Prock Cunningham, Jinks Barker, Jim West, Tom Thomas, Vick Bowen, Pick Brown, Oliver Curtis, and a Mr. Hindman, who I don't think was any relation to the well known Pa and Ma Hindman. Bun Easterwood and wife and old Mexican Bob, the cook; Mr. Hackel and Mr. Crump, came as frequent visitors and cattle buyers.

I went to school one short term while living at the O. V. It was a tent set up just outside of Pa Hindman's yard and about two miles north of the ranch house. Miss Hall was our teacher. I think there were eight or nine pupils. Mattie, Joe and Wood Hindman, Roger and Neville Hearne, one or two others whose names I cannot recall, and John Carpenter, the only pupil to graduate. (He married the teacher).

And to some of you old timers, who by chance may read this, don't forget the writer and his beautiful, famous and most faithful horse, Old Sheep Eye, and thanks to John Carpenter for his tender heart, when the horse buyer came along Old Sheep Eye was among the ones sold and to be driven away, but tears from the writer's eyes were too much for John. So Sheep Eye stayed behind.

There are many old timers that I have not mentioned, whose memory is very dear to me, whom I knew and loved as friends and acquaintances. So to any who may read this, please do not feel slighted, as I only intend to hit the very first ones. McLean holds a very warm spot in my heart, because it was my boyhood home, and many of my friends are still there. And at this time I wish to extend an invitation to any of you who might be making a trip through Portland, Ore., to call and see me and review old times. It has been more than 15 years since I was last there, and no doubt I would never recognize the old town and country any more.

We have a wonderful country up here, scenery that is unequalled, any where; the finest fishing to be found in the United States. Hunting, as well, easily reached by paved highways, and good trails, trees green the year round, and the finest, largest roses in the world. No one ever freezes to death or dies from the heat, a very delightful, all year round climate. No, I am not in the real estate business. I sell oil and grease, but no gasoline.

The latch string hangs outside; look me up, or drop me a line.

HIGH WAGES GOOD BUSINESS

The American employer was the first to learn that high wages are good business. He did not learn this lesson overnight, but, having learned it, he accepted it so wholeheartedly that, thirty years after the "full dinner pail" slogan elected a president, the prediction of "two cars in every garage" did not seem like empty optimism.

Today the employer who willingly forces down wages will find the step decreed by his fellow employers. Every intelligent business man knows that destruction of wages is destruction of markets; that every lost job means a lost customer which, in turn, means more lost jobs and the loss of more customers.—Paul McCrea in Nation's Business.

FIRST TO RECOVER

Country towns did not feel the real pinch of depression for nearly two years after the industrial centers. It is likely, also, that small towns will recover sooner than the large cities. The small town did not share in the terrific inflation of the "prosperity years." Having so much less to deflate during the depression, it was only logical and fair that the economical distress should have a shorter life.—Wisconsin Press.

Intelligence is what you get from home. Common sense you must develop yourself. Learning is what you obtain in school. Knowledge is what the world hands you. Judgment comes only with the years. Experience is a bitter medicine administered by life itself, and must be taken with a bit of conscience. Wisdom is a phantom often chased but seldom overtaken. Success or failure are a matter of opinion. Reputation is the golden scale. Contentment the final objective.—Buckeye, Archbold, Ohio.

A bull's-eye shot by the publisher of this journal of civilization: An advertising proverb: The weekly home newspaper that is old established, gives six (6) day service to its advertisers—yesterday's daily is forgotten in less than a day.—L. C. Schliep in the Adirondack Mountain Press, Tupper Lake, N. Y.

Then there was the rivalry between the two papers in the little Pacific coast town. One demanded that the town be fortified; so the other went it ten better and demanded that it be fortified.—American Press.

On Time . . .

If Time be of all things the most precious, wasting Time must be the greatest prodigality, since lost Time is never found again; and what we call Time enough always proves little enough. Let us then up and be doing, and doing to the purpose; so by diligence shall we do more with less perplexity. Sloth makes all things difficult, but Industry all easy; and he that riseth late must trot all day, and shall scarce overtake his business at night; while Laziness travels so slowly, that Poverty soon overtakes him . . .

—Benjamin Franklin.
