Warehouse for Cotton Opened by D. A. Davis

McLean now has a bonded warehouse for storing cotton that may be placed in the government loan, D. A. Davis having opened the warehouse in the building formerly occupied by the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co.

Mr. Davis has been appointed public weigher for this precinct and is already accepting cotton for storage.

It is expected that the warehouse will accommodate all the cotton raised in the McLean and Alameda communities.

Mr. Davis, in quoting the loan values, states that the government will loan to producers on tenebrable grades of cotton at the rate of 9c per pound for white and extra white, middling fair, strict good middling, good middling, strict middling of 1/8 inch staple or better, and 8c below 1/8. Strict low middling or better, 8 1/2c for 1/8, below at 7c. Low middling or better, 7 1/2c, below 7c, 6c.

Spotted cotton, good and strict middling of 1/8 or better, 9c; under 1/8, 8c; middling, 8 1/2c; below 1/8, 7c. Tinged cotton, good middling, 8 1/2c; below 1/8, 7c; strict middling, 7 1/2c; below 1/8, 6c.

Stained cotton, good middling, 7 1/2c; below 1/8, 6c.

Gray cotton, good middling, 8 1/2c; below 1/8, 7c; strict middling, 7 1/2c; below 1/8, 6c.

SIGMA GAMMA HEARS PROGRAM ON WITCHCRAFT

"Witchcraft" was the program topic Monday evening, when the Sigma Gamma met at the home of Miss Lillian Abbott, with Miss Mildred Bessie as joint hostess.

Miss Hellen Heath, leader, discussed Witchcraft in Medieval Times. Mrs. Willie Boyett, guest speaker, gave Witchcraft in Africa; Witchcraft in Salem was given by Miss Maxine Robinson, and Witchcraft in Modern Times by Miss Margaret Hess.

Roll call was answered by giving a common superstition.

A delicious plate was served to the following: Misses Rosalie Carter, Jewell Cousins, Clem Embry, Hellen Heath, Margaret Hess, Maxine Robinson, Madeline Ray, Julia Slough, Dale Smith, Eunice Stratton; Mrs. Willie Boyett and the hostesses.

SHARP-OSBORN

The wedding of Miss Relia Sharp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sharp of McLean, and Mr. R. W. Osborn, stillman of the Smith Bros. Refinery, took place Tuesday, Oct. 12, at 8:30 p. m.

The nuptial vows were spoken in the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Troy A. Sumrall, Baptist pastor, in the presence of relatives and close friends of the contracting parties.

The background for the impressive ring ceremony was an attractive arrangement of vases of dahlias and other flowers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. Mrs. Arnold Sharp presided at the bride's book, and Mrs. Fred Mann and Miss Elsie Gibson at the table.

The following friends and relatives were present: Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Mann, Sam Sharp, Arnold Sharp, J. N. Smith, L. N. McCombs, T. E. Yiddell, Carl Wall, Carl Lee;

Mesdames Toll Moore, Lee Atwood, J. A. Sparks, John B. Vannoy and Jack Foley;

Misses Elsie Gibson, Olive Louise Atwood, Mildred and Reva Pullian, Jackie, Margaret and Joyce Ann Foley; Messrs. Troy A. Sumrall, Pat McMullen, Lawrence Foley, Jack Sharp and R. W. Osborn, Jr.

The couple will be at home at the Smith Bros. Refinery plant.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Home Demonstration Club will meet with Mrs. John B. Vannoy Friday afternoon. All club members are urged to be present at 2 o'clock.

CHICAGO CATTLE MARKET TOPPED BY PANHANDLE STEERS

This picture represents 100 fine steers that were sold on the Chicago market, Sept. 16 for a top price of 18.75. These animals were bought from the Bar LO Ranch at McLean 10 months before, by C. E. Speery, 76-year-old feeder of New Philadelphia, Ill.

HILL OWNS FINE ORCHARDS

Among the many fine apple orchards in the Eldridge community, J. H. Hill owns one with some of the oldest trees in the country, the old orchard being on the ranch when the Hill family settled there in 1905.

A feature of the orchards now is some 250 young yellow delicious apples in one block. These trees have a big crop this year and make a fine showing with their yellow fruit.

The Hill orchards have been enlarged until they have abandoned the old trees as far as care is concerned, but they still bear a surprising number of good apples.

Walter Mount of Amarillo was in McLean Tuesday.

MCLEAN FFA BAND BOYS AT DENTON

Denton, Oct. 12.—Jack Young, Jack Bogan, R. L. Floyd, Clyde Carpenter and C. J. Magee, teacher, all of McLean, are among 110 Texas Future Farmers of America bandmen who are gathering at the North Texas State Teachers College in Denton, Oct. 14-16, before they entrain Oct. 17 for Kansas City, where they will furnish music for the national FFA Convention, Oct. 18-21.

Included in the group are boys from as far east as Lufkin, as far west as Odessa, as far north as Perryton, and as far south as Robstown. With the group will be five teachers and one band director assistant.

The boys were selected by H. G. Ryland, state FFA band director, and their expenses will be paid by the State FFA.

E. M. Gossett was selected as official McLean delegate to Kansas City. His expenses will be paid by the local chapter.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

The regular weekly luncheon of the Lions Club was held at the Meador Cafe Tuesday.

Lion Bentley reported everything moving in "high gear" for Church Rally Day.

Lion Smith reported the Embroidery Club having endorsed the Rally Day movement.

Lion Greene reported the disposition of the fine money, some $59.46 being sent to the Crippled Children's Council at Amarillo.

Lion Lasater asked full cooperation with the community fair at Alameda.

Lion Tamer Bogan presented Rev. John G. Reese, County Clerk Charlie Thut and County Auditor Ray Wilson as visitors.

Miss Margaret Hess visited in Shamrock Friday.

One hundred head of fine steers that were sold as yearlings by the Bar LO Ranch topped the Chicago market, Sept. 16, with a price of 18.75.

The steers not only made this record, but they also dressed a net of 64.7% at Swift & Co's plant, an unusually high percentage.

The steers were bought from the ranch with an average weight of 384, for 8c per pound. After being on full feed for 10 months by Carl E. Sperry, 76-year-old farmer of New Philadelphia, Ill., their average weight was 950 pounds.

Mr. Sperry's sons, Glen, Karl H. Nelson, S. E. Roberts and son, John, of Blandville, Ill., were at the ranch Monday for six carloads of calves, making the 10th successive year that the Illinois men have bought Bar LO calves. Some 700 head of Bar LO Hereford calves are now on feed in Illinois feed lots.

In a conversation with the News editor at the ranch Monday afternoon, the gentlemen stated that their land in Illinois is too valuable to raise cattle, but they need the fertilizer from the feed lots. They are making 100 bushels of corn per acre this year. They brought a few ears of yellow corn with them to prove the superiority of the grain.

The Illinois feeders expect to ship some 12 cars of calves from this section to their feed lots this fall.

In a trip over the ranch under the guidance of the owner, Geo. W. Sitter, and managers, J. L. Hess and E. L. Sitter, the men were very much pleased with the condition and quality of the cattle on the ranch.

The ranch is cooperating with the government in water and soil conservation; several large lakes are on the ranch and some 44 acres of shelter-belt plantings.

One of the finest feed crops in years is to be found on the farm land at the ranch.

A crop of cane drew much attention as one of the party had visited the ranch last August 2, when the cane was just coming through the ground, having been planted late on account of grasshopper destruction of a former crop. This cane is now around 8 feet tall and as fine as can be seen anywhere.

However, the visitors' main interest was in the many fine Herefords seen. They left no doubt as to their opinion of the Bar LO Herefords as being money makers in the feed lot.

There is now a good road to the ranch, and Mr. Sitter says that visitors are always welcome.

NEW OLDSMOBILE OUT

The new 1938 models of the Oldsmobile are out with many new improvements. Ted Woods of the Ted Woods Garage left Wednesday afternoon for a new car, and this new model is expected to be on display at the garage show rooms by Saturday.

Frank P. Wilson and family of Gruver visited relatives here Sunday.

Churches and Clubs Cooperate for Rally Day

WHY GO TO CHURCH?

By Troy A. Sumrall

Recently in a widely circulated magazine I read an article, "Why? Don't Go to Church." All his excuses were flimsy, but the non-church goer read and talked about the greatness of it with great pride. I watched the magazine to see if someone wouldn't have a reply to this slur at Christians. Very lately in another magazine, The Christian Herald, I found the reply from the right source, President Theodore Roosevelt gave the reply, "Why I Go to Church."

In replying to the slur he gave the nine following reasons:

1. In this actual world, a churchless community, a community where men have abandoned and scoffed at, or ignored their religious needs, is a community on the rapid down grade.

2. Church work and church attendance mean the cultivation of the good habit of having some care for others in first, a spiritual way; in second, a material way.

3. There are enough holidays for most of us. The day of worship differs from the others in that there are 52 of them each year. Therefore, on Sunday, GO TO CHURCH.

4. Yes, I know the excuse. I know that one can worship God in a grove of trees, or by a running brook, or in a man's own house as well as in the church. But I know as a matter of fact that the average man does not thus worship.

5. He may not hear a good sermon. He will hear a sermon by a good man who, with his good wife, is engaged in the unending task of making the lives of others a little easier.

6. He will listen to and possibly take a part in the reading of some beautiful passage from the Bible. And as the non-church goer is unfamiliar with the Bible, he has suffered a great loss.

7. He will hear, and possibly take part in singing some good old hymn.

8. He will meet and not or speak to some of his neighbors. He will go home feeling a little more charitable toward all the world, even toward those exclusively foolish young men who regard church going as a foolish performance.

9. I advocate a man's joining in the church work "with all his soul," for the sake of showing his faith by his works.

These reasons are fine and from a wonderful source, but some of the better ones are not given here. I would like to have your statement why you go to church (in short space). "Let the redeemed of the Lord say so." The enemies of our religion are talking, so why not those who love the Lord and His house? Send letters to Baptist Church, McLean, Texas.

EMBROIDERY CLUB MET WITH MRS. RICE

Mrs. H. E. Franks was hostess to the Centennial Embroidery Club on Friday of last week, in the home of Mrs. John B. Rice.

An interesting business session was held. The hostess was presented a tea towel from each club member.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Rice and Mrs. J. S. Howard.

Members present were: Mesdames Amos Thacker, Byrd Guill, Kid McCoy Creed Bogan, Jim Back, W. E. Bogan, C. H. Leeds, H. W. Finley, W. H. Floyd and the hostess.

Special guests were: Mesdames W. F. Ballard, J. S. Howard and John R. Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dyer went to Amarillo Thursday, the former undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

Plans have been perfected for the Church Rally Day to be held in McLean Sunday.

An effort is being made to have every person in the community attend some church Sunday.

At a meeting of the ministers of the town Monday, it was decided to distribute tags, previously ordered, to the schools on Thursday, and C. O. Greene was appointed speaker for the grade school, with Murray Boston alternate; D. A. Davis, Creed Bogan, F. H. Bourland and Mrs. T. W. Adkins members of the committee.

Dr. C. B. Batson was appointed as speaker for the high school, with T. J. Coffey alternate, Jesse J. Cobb, E. L. Sitter, M. D. Bentley and Mrs. W. E. Bogan members of the committee.

The boy scout troop of the Lions Club offered to distribute tags.

A suggestion was made that the fire siren be sounded at 9 a. m. Sunday to call attention to the day.

Mayor Vester Smith has issued a proclamation endorsing the day and requesting the closing of all places of business during church hours.

COMMUNITY FAIR WELL UNDER WAY

By Morris S. Ledger

Gray county's only fair, to be held at Alameda Oct. 22, is well under way for a successful precedent this year.

A person thinking that the late-ness might interfere with a fair this year might possibly prove a mistake, because other towns and communities are having fairs as late as this one and even later.

The products are in and around the vicinity of Alameda, so let's be proud of the fact and show them. This is an opportunity for Alameda to exhibit her products; also an opportunity for surrounding towns to show their interest.

The programs of the fair will soon be off the press and sent out to the various committees. Others interested may call at the office of the Alameda high school.

STOKELY BUILDING DAMS

Workmen on the O. G. Stokely lands southeast of town are working on the 12th dam being built on this land in cooperation with the water conservation forces.

A big crawler type tractor and fresno are used, one man being able to drive the tractor and operate the fresno.

The dams are being placed at strategic points on the watershed and being finished with spillways that will take care of overflow water.

PTA MEETS TODAY

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular meeting this afternoon (Thursday) at 3:45, at the grade school building.

All those interested in school activities are invited to be present.

HUGO BLACK CONFESSES
New Justice Says He Was Kluxer But Resigned . . .
Rail Strike Averted . . . Windsor Coming to America

Justice Black Delivering His Notable Address by Radio.

© Western Newspaper Union.

Black Joined Klan; Quit
"I DID join the Ku Klux Klan. I later resigned. I never re-joined."

Thus Hugo L. Black, now Associate Justice Black of the Supreme court, admitted to an immense radio audience that the charges against him were true.

Black asserted that since he quit the Klan he has had nothing whatever to do with it.

He cited his record in the senate and in private life to back up his assertion that he was entirely free from religious or race prejudices. While he apparently repudiated the principles of the Klan, he did not explain why, on receiving a life pass card after his election to the senate, he said to a gathering of Klansmen:

"I realize that I was elected by men who believe in the principles that I have sought to advocate and which are the principles of this organization."

Black emphatically declared his devotion to the principles of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, and said that he was "that group of liberal senators who have consistently fought for the civil, economic and religious rights of all Americans, without regard to race or creed." Some of his best friends, he added, were Catholics and Jews, and members of the colored race.

At the outset of his address Black undertook to turn the tables on his accusers by asserting that his "campaign" to discredit him "fans the flames of prejudice and is calculated to create racial and religious prejudice."

"When this statement is ended," he concluded, "my discussion of the question is closed."

There was a definite note of defiance in Black's address, but it is fair to assume that the American public was not satisfied with his explanation. From all parts of the country came renewed protests against his presence on the Supreme court bench, and various large associations "resolved" about it. Many of the senators who voted to confirm his appointment because they accepted the assertion of his friends that he was not a Kluxer are resentful at the deception practiced on them—but what can they do about it now?

President Roosevelt, up to the time of writing, had maintained silence. One of his aides explained that the President decided some time ago that there was no course of action open to him in the Black case.

When Justice Black took his seat, the chamber of the Supreme court was crowded to capacity. Albert Levitt, an attorney, was on hand to ask permission to file a suit seeking to force Justice Black to show cause why he should not be declared ineligible to sit. The court deferred action on the request. Another motion to the same effect was filed by Patrick H. Kelly, a Boston lawyer.

Special Session

ON HIS way from the West President Roosevelt made a speech at Grand Forks, N. D., in which he declared his intention of continuing his fight to "reform" the Supreme court. He also announced attempts to pass crop control and labor legislation would be made at a special session of congress which probably will be called about November 15.

Rail Strike Averted

THERE will not be a nationwide strike of railway workers. Such a disaster was averted when the five operating railroad brotherhoods accepted an offer of the companies of a flat raise of 44 cents a day. They and the fifteen "non-operating" unions had demanded a 20 per cent wage increase. The latter already had agreed to a raise of 40 cents a day.

For five weeks Dr. William M. Leiserson, member of the national mediation board, had been holding daily conferences with representatives of both sides.

In announcing the terms of the agreement, Leiserson praised the co-operation of both parties, saying the manner in which they receded from their original positions was the biggest factor in the settlement.

H. A. Enochs of Philadelphia, chairman of the carriers' conference committee, estimated the increase would mean an average raise of 6.6 per cent for the 75,000 workers.

A. F. of L. May Expel C.I.O.

WHEN President William Green opened the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in Denver, he was not able to present an optimistic picture of the future of unified labor. The battle with John L. Lewis and his C. I. O. continues unabated, and there are "dogfights" among the unions all over the country, generally concerning jurisdiction disputes or shifting of affiliation.

If the report of the federation's executive council is adopted, the C. I. O. unions will be finally ousted. The council said in part:

"For two years we have pursued a policy of toleration . . . All of this has failed . . . Now the executive council feels that the time has arrived when the American Federation of Labor must meet the issue in a clear-cut and positive way . . . The issue which created the division in the ranks of labor must be made clear."

"In order to accomplish this purpose the executive council recommends that the convention confer upon the executive council authority and power to revoke the charters of the international unions holding membership in the Committee for Industrial Organization."

President in Chicago

CHICAGO put on its best dress to receive President Roosevelt, who spent two and a half hours there. The main purpose of the visit was the dedication of the new outer drive across the mouth of the Chicago river, a project that was partly paid for with federal money. Mr. Roosevelt first reviewed a long and colorful parade and led the way across the structure. Then from the south end of the bridge he delivered an address that was broadcast by radio.

The President was entertained at luncheon by Cardinal Mundelein, a friend of long standing, and soon after proceeded on his way to his home in Hyde Park, N. Y.

Windsor Coming to U. S.

HIS honeymoon being ended, the duke of Windsor intends to take up the really serious things of life, and before long he will come to the United States for the purpose of studying housing and working conditions in this country. This was announced in Paris by the duke's secretary, who said Edward and his duchess would first go to Germany for a similar survey there.

The duke's interest in such matters is no new development, for as Prince of Wales and during his brief reign as king-emperor Edward was notably concerned with the social welfare of his subjects. On many occasions he assailed housing conditions of British workers.

In London it was said the government had given reluctant permission for the duke's American trip in order to avoid an open rupture with him. He resented the close restrictions placed on his movements and, it was rumored, had threatened to return to England.

American friends of the Windsors think they may make their temporary home at "Wakefield manor," near Front Royal, Va., possibly arriving there in November. The manor is the estate of Mrs. George Burnett, cousin of the duchess.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Rivals for Nudism.

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—I took part in a parade celebrating old days in California, riding in an ancient open carriage with our postmaster here—he calls Jim Farley "Jim"—and our congressman, who like practically all Democrats in good standing in the southern part of the state, craves to be the next nominee for governor.

If any more aspirants bob up, there won't be anybody left to vote for them. This certainly has been a banner year for oranges and candidates.

Our outfit got a lot of cheers from the crowds and a perfect ovation when passing a given point where the Elks also were giving away beer. All three of us felt pretty proud of our selves until we realized that probably the applause wasn't meant for us. There must have been thousands in that crowd who'd never before seen a horse-drawn pleasure vehicle.

If Lady Godiva, dressed only in her long hair, rode on a white horse through any modern city street, there'd probably be ten who'd hurrah for the horse against one who looked a second time at the lady. Sight of a white horse would be a treat to one and all, whereas in these days of nudism and public undressing on the beaches—but that will be about all for that.

Irvin S. Cobb

International Messes.

WITH the great powers tottering on the brink of hostilities to a more tottery extent than usual; with the Spaniards still willing to fight to the last Italian from Brother Mussolini's loan collection; with China battered to a bloody hash-meat in what would closely resemble a war if only Japan had so declared it, which must indeed be gratifying to the ghosts of the thousands already slain and the homeless refugees from ruined cities—this seems a mighty good time for us to keep our shirt on.

Kindly recall that other historic occasion when Uncle Sam felt called upon to hop into a mess cooked up by foreign nations and, as a result, not only lost his shirt, but has never since been able to collect the laundry bills for washing the said shirt. This, if you get the drift, is a subtle reference to those defaulted European debts.

Let us, therefore, highly resolve that, no matter how great the pressure from within or without—mainly it'll be, as was the case before from without—we'll keep the old shirt on.

Classifying Bores.

I'VE been classifying bores. Class B bores are those still using the lapel clutch or buttonhole grapple, whereas a class A bore is one whose boast is that he never lays a finger on you—just holds the victim by psychic power.

Lately I've met what I should call a super A type, the same being a gentleman who, in addition to having perfect technique otherwise, had been imbibing garlic to excess—and didn't care who knew it. When finally rescued, they had to use a pulmotor on me.

Meeting this champion reminded me of what I heard the late Wilson Minzer say to a gentleman who insisted on boring Wilson while suffused with the afterglow brought on by combining bourbon whiskey and Bermuda onions in his diet. His hiccoughs were not only frequent but had echoes to them.

Finally, when Wilson was practically ready for artificial respiration to be applied, he said: "Dear sir, your breath would start the windmills turning in an old Dutch painting."

Typical Texans.

I USED to think a typical Texan was one who said he was going to send you a ten-gallon hat and then didn't do it. But he is a subspecies.

A really orthodox Texan tells you he's giving you a pair of genuine Texas steer horns. They'll be along as soon as he can have them shipped. But he never ships 'em—that's what makes him typical.

So many typical Texans have volunteered to send me sets of long horns that, if all these parties were laid end to end, you'd have one of the finest consecutive strings of born liars ever seen. But they wouldn't stay that way; they'd rise right up and start looking for Easterners to promise long horns to.

Not that I'm craving any long horns. They stretch so far from tip to tip they make you think of a muskellunge fisherman trying to show you how much that biggest one measured. If you hang them low, they prong people in the eye. If you hang them high, they're chiefly useful for cobwebs to drape on. And no self-respecting wife will let you hang them anywhere.

9. In 1892 a fusion of industrial workers and farmers known as the Populist party, and roughly comparable to the Farmer-Labor party of today, mustered 1,027,000 popular votes and 22 electoral votes. The vote was about one-tenth of the total vote cast.

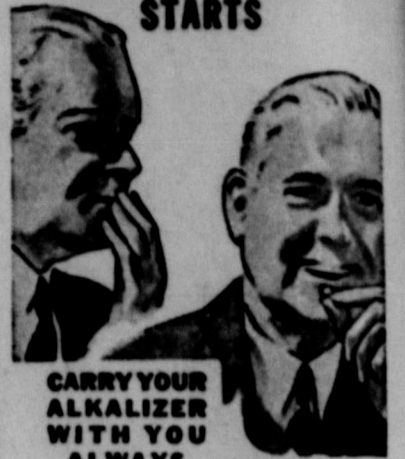

10. Yes. At the commencement of the Civil war, John J. Stockton of New Jersey was minister resident at the Vatican.

Appreciation

TO BE able to appreciate the best that there is in life is an ideal that every youth should have. There are all sorts of things in life, some of them good, some of them bad, and some neither very good nor very bad. There are hosts of young people who miss the best things, because they have fixed their attentions on lesser things. So the finest things in life they never see. The youth who has learned to look for the best in music, in art, in literature, in his associates and in himself, will get the most out of life.

NO OTHER TIRE CAN MATCH ITS PERFORMANCE!

Because THE GROUND GRIP TREAD IS PATENTED!

FARMERS everywhere know that the Firestone Ground Grip Tire out-performs all other tractor tires. They know its outstanding performance is due to the famous Firestone Ground Grip tread and no other tire can match its performance because this tread is PATENTED. They know also that no other tire can give them so many important money-saving advantages.

GREATER TRACTION—Takes a deeper and broader bite into the soil and has positive self-cleaning action.

GREATER STRENGTH to resist the strain of heavy pulling is provided because every fiber of every cord is saturated with liquid rubber by the patented Firestone Gum-Dipping process. Two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread bind the tread and cord body so solidly together that we guarantee the tread will not separate from the cord body.

GREATER SAVINGS—Saves 25% in time and up to 50% in fuel over steel-lugged wheels. Low-cost Firestone cut-down wheel program permits using one set of tires on several different implements.

GREATER DRAWBAR PULL enables this amazing tire to do more work in a given time.

Only genuine Firestone Ground Grip Tires can give you such performance! See this amazing tire today at your nearest Firestone Implement Dealer, Tire Dealer or Firestone Auto Supply & Service Store.

Minor Bulbs for Spring Gardens

"What are you planning for a spring garden?" Mrs. Howard called over the fence yesterday as I was spading up a new flower bed for bulbs. And that started me on a favorite topic of mine—spring flowers.

"Old Mother Nature," I told Mrs. Howard, "is putting on a pretty swell show right now before she dons her grey winter togs. It's rather hard to realize just how welcome the first flowers will be in the spring, but a little foresight and preparation now will bring lots of pleasure later."

Tulips, hyacinths and narcissus should be planted now for spring bloom.

"What are the smaller bulbs you are planting?" my neighbor asked. "The highlight of last spring's show," I said, "was the first flower I saw, the flower that convinced me that winter would soon be a thing of the past. That flower was a crocus."

"The crocus belongs to a group of minor bulbs, any of them being real harbingers of spring. They are probably called minor bulbs because they are small and make small plants with relatively tiny blossoms. These little harbingers of spring can pack a wallop greater than the largest water lily afloat. They flower in March or warm up early and there is no danger of their being injured by frost."

"Along with the crocus," I told Mrs. Howard, "I am going to plant snowdrops (called Galanthus in the flower catalog), chionodoxas, grape hyacinths and leucojums. The snowdrops are white, crocus give white, yellow and blue colors; and the others finish up the job of supplying variety."

Mrs. Howard left, promising to get to work immediately on her flower garden plans.

If you're interested in knowing even earlier when planted in soil that more about spring flowers, write to the Horticulture Department at Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater, for a pamphlet called "Think Spring Flowers Now."

SINCERITY

Sincerity is the very foundation stone of true friendliness. It is also a human trait that is hard to counterfeit, as the sincere friendly impulse comes from the soul of a man and not from the calculating mind. Think kindly and friendly thoughts. If you have a heart and a soul, why be ashamed of them? Bring them into the shop, the office and your daily life. The hand may be cunning, and the head may contain the brain that can conceive the most brilliant thoughts, but every good and worthy impulse comes from the heart.

Strengthen your faith in men, think kindly of them, believe that they are your friends, and in the long run they will be.—Raymond Congrene.

BORAH ON TAXATION

"Let me say to the senate that there is another emergency in this country, and that is that we are taxing the man down at the bottom, until we are destroying the purchasing power of the great masses of American people. That is the emergency which we are producing by our system of taxation. We are impoverishing the great body of the people, and that undermines the very foundation upon which all free institutions rest—the foundation of economic health and security."—Senator Borah of Idaho.

Preachers and newspaper men have lots in common. Only, a preacher doesn't have to describe a bride's dress and how she blushed when the groom kissed her, and that the groom is a big oil man when he is running a filling station, or a dry goods man when he has just started clerking in the store. A preacher has a congregation and a newspaper man has a subscription list and the non-paying members in both instances are the ones who give you fits.—Colorado Record.

When the alarm clock rings tomorrow morning, 11,123 persons in the United States would stay in bed if they had any inkling of the fact that some time during the day they would meet with an accident. Among them 234 persons will never hear the alarm again. It's sad, but true. What do you say, let's both be more careful.—Mutual Mutterings.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Bein' a champion, and on a pedestal, it is great stuff, and when you are champion, everybody will say that you cannot be beat. And if anybody else ever wants to lead the procession, they will have to wait 'til you die or you retire or resign.

And then, all at once, and kind of unexpected-like, somebody will show up with a hay-maker, and put the champion in his place. And the feller who was invincible and unbeatable yesterday, he is not being asked, today, for his autograph.

And in politics it is not much different, and everybody is either scared stiff of the feller who is in power, or is cheerin' him, one or the other, until somebody comes along and upsets his appreciat.

And gettin' beat at prize fightin' or politics, it is all the same, and goin' from cheers to jeers, it is not a long step.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA, in News Review.

THE CIVIC

There lived in Washington a doctor and a minister who, although great friends, delighted to exchange repartee on the subject of their respective professions.

When they met one day recently the minister said he was going to call on Mr. Cunningham and asked (for the old man was a patient of the doctor), "Is he much worse?"

The physician replied gravely: "He needs your help more than mine."

Taken off guard, the minister exclaimed anxiously: "Poor fellow! Is it as bad as that?"

"Yes," said the doctor, "he is suffering from insomnia."

LOYALTY

What would life be without loyalty? Loyalty is the finest fibre in the human breast—it awards alike the humble and the great—makes the small man big and the big man bigger.

Take loyalty from the heart of a Saint and you have the likeness of a devil.

The greatest thing in life is man's loyalty to man—that heart quality of true manhood—that innate stamp of fair play which prompts us to hand out the square deal instead of the double cross.

GIRLS DRINK MORE

A survey commission reports that conditions in New Hampshire since repeal are "far worse" than in prohibition days; that "social and moral conditions have grown alarmingly worse;" that "more youths are drinking;" that "girls drink more than ever;" that "repeal has made drinking socially acceptable but demoralizing," and that repeal has made it "harder to trace bootlegging."—Concord Daily Monitor and N. H. Patriot.

MORE MONEY THAN BRAINS

"There was a time when people used to say I had more money than brains. They can't say that any more."

"Why not?"

"Because I'm down to my last dime."

"Well, what of it; you still got more money than brains."

BROOKLYN JOE

"Brooklyn Joe" Roddy, 77 years old, said to be the oldest tramp printer in the country, visited Texas recently and presented his card to printers in various newspaper shops. On the back of his card was this slogan: "All men are liars, except you and me, and I sometimes have my doubts about you."

IF THERE BE NOT GOD

Tell me, if there be not God,
From whence came Love?
Tell me, if there be not Hell,
From whence came Hate?

If life be but a fitful dream,

From whence came Truth?

Tell me, if Death be all,
And there be not God,
From whence came man's ideal
Of Peace and Eternal Glory?

DEPRESSION AND PROSPERITY

Andrew Carnegie once said that a depression is the best time to prepare for prosperity. Consequently, poor times were to him a distinct opportunity for laying groundwork which would let him ride in on the crest of the wave.

At Cannes, France, John Roosevelt, youngest son of the President, was reported to have entered too exuberantly into the annual "Battle of the Flowers." He was said to have squirted champagne in the face of Mayor Pierre Nouveau and to have hit him over the head with a whole bouquet of flowers.

Apparently a good many farming people in this country are beginning to be aware of a disturbing fact which should have been self evident a long time ago. They are beginning to understand that government subsidies are inescapably linked with government dictation.—The Saturday Evening Post.

In the Journal of Heredity, Dr. E. Stanley Baker of Wabash College, Indiana, reported that study of three families had convinced him that appendicitis "runs in families" and that susceptibility to the disease could be inherited.

DOCTOR QUACK

Stern was the glance the coroner cast at the quack doctor who had just taken the stand to testify regarding the sudden death of one of his patients. "When you were called in, what medicine did you give the deceased?"

"I gave him a teaspoonful of syrup of ipecac," replied the quack.

"Oh, you did, did you?" sneered the coroner. "Don't you know that in view of the condition this man was in you might just as well have given him a hypodermic injection of Aurora Borealis?"

The doctor nodded gravely. "That is just what I had planned to give him if the ipecac didn't relieve him."

BUSINESS OUTLOOK
EXTREMELY CONFUSING

To put it mildly, the business outlook today is extremely confusing.

On the one hand, it is predicted that this winter's domestic commerce will be the best since 1929, with retail sales in some lines perhaps exceeding the boom-time figure. On the other, business leaders are seriously disturbed—and many of them are plainly pessimistic as to the trend of future events.

This anomaly is easily explained. For, in the view of executives, the short-term outlook is favorable, and the long-term outlook is bad. Purchasing power is up, farm income is at a six-year high, consumer goods are moving rapidly. Yet the unrest in Europe, the tangled political situation at home, including the threat of more government in business, the apparent certainty of higher taxes, the prospect of still more serious labor disturbances, and the nervousness of security investors and speculators are retarding forces.

As everyone knows, the stock market took its biggest drop in years a few weeks ago. Values are far below their spring and early summer levels. And while the stock market is not necessarily an accurate barometer of actual business conditions it does pretty closely reflect the views of finance on both big and small levels, and represents credit, capital and reserve spending power. Explanations of the drop varied, and disclosed the opposed schools of thought now in existence. Stock market officials ascribed the collapse as being due mainly to excessively strict regulating by the SEC, which has largely eliminated speculative operators who in the past could be trusted to take up much of the slack in thin markets. Government officials such as SEC head James Landis, who has recently resigned to become dean of law at Harvard, defended the regulatory policy, intimating that still more stringent regulation may be necessary. Whether the Landis point of view is right or wrong, such a policy evidently has a dampening effect on large industry.

So far as the political situation is concerned all is chaos. President Roosevelt's sweep around the country in the view of most commentators is designed to give him a chance to meet and see people, to use his personality, and to enlist public support in his campaign against the conservative wing of his party. The President, as he has said in almost so many words, is now envisioning a "second New Deal" which involves still further enlarging Federal authority, new and restrictive legislation dealing with business practices, notably in the field of wages and hours, and a lessening of the power of the Federal judiciary. There is still talk that a special session may be called late this fall. And it is known that the Administration will present an ambitious and inclusive "must" program before the second session of the 75th Congress, which convenes in January, including introduction of a Supreme Court "packing" bill.

Evidence is not lacking that Mr. Roosevelt's popularity following has diminished—the Black Klux Klan disclosures are perhaps the most serious blow he has received. But it cannot yet be said with accuracy that a majority of the voters are no longer willing to follow his lead.

In some quarters it appears that war scares have been exaggerated—and in others they have been too much minimized. A major war could not help but tremendously affect American industry, whether we became involved as belligerents or not. General expert view is that there will be no war next year—but that there will be one in 1939, when Europe's vast rearmament program is more or less completed. American foreign policy has so far been careful, even timid—as it must. We are in the delicate position of attempting to keep clear of war—yet having to maintain our prestige in the interest of American citizens and residents abroad. Hot-heads criticize Secretary Hull for what they think is vacillation. Cooler heads generally approve his policy, think that he is right in seeking to feel our way gently and carefully.

There is talk of an entirely new gross earnings tax on business. This, coming on top of the present corporation income tax, the profits and loss levy, the surplus tax and other taxes, might make it impossible for business to maintain expected dividends, even in a time of heavy orders. There is no organized movement behind such a tax, however. Business is worried about the general tax policy, and about the continued government deficits which will require heavy new taxes of some kind—unless an unlooked-for retrenchment in government spending occurs.

In conclusion, it should be pointed out that some experts feel that the present business recession is less important than it seems, that the political and tax situation will work out without too much damage. Best guess is: The short-term outlook for commerce is favorable, and the long-term outlook is in the laps of the gods.

According to Business Week of Sept. 18, a dollar of earning power could be bought for $11.49 at that time as against $18.17 a year before.

WHEN J. BARLEYCORN DRIVES

John Barleycorn causes a high percentage of our 39,000 traffic deaths. No lethal weapon ever invented by man is more potentially deadly than a mixture of alcohol and gasoline. Medical tests have proven that a little as two or three ounces of liquor will impair seriously a driver's reflexes—even though he may appear to be sober in all respects—and at the same time give him an influx of Dutch courage that results in inexcusable recklessness. By the same token, drinking pedestrians, their sense of caution dimmed, unknowingly take the chances that breed death and injury.

There is no excuse for a driver asking the wheel of his car after drinking. Here is a case when the law must be adamant, and must be exerted ruthlessly, impartially and immediately. It is a notorious fact that in many communities, prosecuting and police officials are lax about the drinker at the wheel, and are only too willing to reduce a charge of drunken driving to the less important charge of recklessness, if a little "pull" is exerted. The sole consequence of such a policy is to make these drivers believe they can get away with it—and they repeat the offense at the first opportunity. Drunken driving can be handled by adequate laws, which impose fines, jail terms and license revocation on offenders, coupled with aggressive police and prosecution work.—Pampa Daily News.

We still insist that there should be a law in this state requiring every state senator and representative to file an affidavit showing his corporate connections. There are too many members of the legislature drawing pay from corporations for "legal services," if current reports are to be accepted. If there are lawyers in the legislature representing the liquor interests, the racetrack gambling interests, the public service corporations, and other interests having axes to grind, the people have a right to know it. And the lawyer in the legislature who piously draws his cloak around him and pleads that his honor is being questioned every time someone suggests that legislators be required to reveal their corporate connections will do to watch.—Lynn County News.

In the old days when people still traveled on railroad trains, a passenger was enjoying a smoke in the smoking car. From time to time he expected with great satisfaction out of the open window.

The rush of air caused by the fast-flying train must have interfered with his aim, for a tall, lean Carolinian in the seat just back of him touched him lightly on the shoulder and remarked with great politeness: "Mistah, you done spit on me foah times an' I ain't said nothin' 'bout it. I wouldn't say nothin' now, ceptin I got on my best suit of clothes."

Prospective Freshman—Isn't there some course I can take and complete without giving such a long time as four years to it?

College President—That depends, my lad, on what you wish to make of yourself. When nature wants to make an oak she works away at it for a good many years. But if she only wants to make a squash, she can do it in a few short months.

The administration's Social Security legislation has provided a job for at least one man. In San Francisco, a tattoo artist, instead of tattooing ladies names on his clients now tattoos their Social Security numbers.

Tubby—You know, Pete, your wife's diction is perfect.

Pete—Yes, and so is her contradiction.

FROM WHENCE GREATNESS SPRINGS

How good it is to find That those who most achieve Always, in heart and mind, Are those who most believe In nature and its beauty, In simple God-like things, In happiness and duty, From whence their greatness springs. —Evelyn Hornsby Mims.

MOST LITTLE TOWNS

Most little towns are smug and neat With their prim dresses starched and clean; And watchful eyes which guard each street With a content grown old and lean. I do not like a town like these. My heart is much too wild and young To be hemmed in by age-old trees, Or torn to shreds by some lank tongue. —D. Maitland Bushby.

A SAD STORY

A dashing young fellow named Tim Drove his car with a great deal of vim. Said he: "I'm renowned For covering the ground." Put, alas, now the ground covers him.

PERFECT HARMONY

"Daughter," said the father sternly, "I don't like that young man you go out with." "Yeah?" retorted the daughter, "Well, don't worry, you're simply poison to him, too."

OPPORTUNIST

The average farmer who has some dairy cattle, some hogs and poultry rarely wants for food or goes on relief, believes O. D. Duncan, rural sociologist at Oklahoma A. and M. College.

SUICIDE

Elmer Holder of Jerseyville, Ill., lost his pet rattlesnake because it couldn't stand noise. When the lid of its cage snapped, the snake struck but missed the lid. Its fangs pierced its own tail. The snake died in 20 minutes.

Baseball Fan (boasting)—I've seen these teams play so often that I believe I can tell the score of this old ball game before it starts.

Novice—All right, then, what is it? Baseball Fan—Nothing to nothing—before it starts.

Judge—What is the defendant's reputation for veracity?

Witness—Excellent, your honor. I've known him to admit that he'd been fishing all day and hadn't got a single bite.

Brickwork around the fireplace can be cleaned by scrubbing with any scouring powder with only enough water to form a thin paste. Follow by thorough rinsing.

Mrs. Noowedd—Will you admire me when I'm old, dear?

Noowedd—Why not? Nowadays a grandmother looks as chic as anybody.

Jimmie—I think I'll ask some nice girl to marry me. What do you think of the idea?

Tessie—It's a great idea, if you ask me.

Many a married couple is like a team of horses—separated by a tongue.

TRY THE NEW COFFEE MAKER

The all-glass coffee makers are an innovation, but they are extremely practical and convenient. No easier or better way to make coffee has ever been found. People who really know good coffee enthusiastically approve this new method of coffee making.

No metal touches the coffee. It is simply placed in a glass container over water in another compartment. The current is switched on. Hot water travels over the coffee and returns to its original container. It is then ready to serve.

Many of the country's best chefs use the new glass coffee makers in brewing the fine coffee you like so much. It is easy for you to make it electrically just like they do.

For That Nutty Flavor.—Try dropping a teaspoonful of peanut butter into each muffin pan before pouring in the batter. This gives the muffins a delicious nutty flavor.

Cleaning Woolen Clothes.—Dark woolen clothes which pick up lint easily are quickly cleaned by wetting a rubber sponge, then wringing it dry and sponging the garment.

Storing Linens.—In storing linens for a long period, it is better to roll them, as the material may be weakened by continued creasing.

Bananas as a Garnish.—Bananas make an attractive garnish when they are fluted. Peel bananas, score lengthwise with a fork, then slice crosswise.

Homemade Peanut Butter.—To make peanut butter at home, shell the peanuts, remove the red inner skins and grind the nut meats through a meat chopper, using a fine knife. Return to chopper and repeat until of the desired consistency. Salt slightly to taste. WNU Service.

Sympathetic.
The civilian who wasn't quite equal to the task of distinguishing officers' rank by their insignia, was conversing with a colonel. Several times he called him captain, then, as if not sure, he asked: "You are a captain, aren't you?"
"Well," said the colonel, slightly amused. "I am not any more, although I once was."
"That's too bad," consoled the civilian. "Drink, I suppose."—U. S. Marine Corps Leatherneck.

when you've found a way to ease the pains of RHEUMATISM and do it the inexpensive way, too.

You can pay as high as you want for remedies claimed to relieve the pain of Rheumatism, Neuritis, Sciatica, etc. But the medicine so many doctors generally approve—the one used by thousands of families daily—is Bayer Aspirin—15¢ a dozen tablets—about 14¢ apiece. Simply take 2 Bayer Aspirin tablets with a half glass of water. Repeat, if necessary, according to directions. Usually this will ease such pain in a remarkably short time. For quick relief from such pain which exhausts you and keeps you awake at night—ask for genuine Bayer Aspirin.

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

No matter how much your back aches and your nerves scream, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month. Too often the honeymoon euphoria is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a tin-plate-woman. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain. For three generations a woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lowering the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ords of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't be a three-quarter with the LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "smiling through."

Uncle Phil Says:

A Crying Need

So much pains are taken to amplify sound and not a thing provided to put in your ears to keep it out!

One often does foolish things that his conscience justifies. What does a "kuppah kawfee" cost in Brazil, where they throw coffee beans in the ocean to get rid of the surplus?

The Makings of a Utopia

What would make a utopia would be the people in it, not any kind of system.

We prefer to talk to a man of decided opinions than to one who hasn't any.

If you know what a task it is to reform yourself in the smallest particular, what makes you think a criminal can be reformed easily?

To keep a secret, forget about it yourself most of the time.

Constipated?

It's Nerves Not Poisons That Make You DIZZY and DOPEY

Modern doctors now say that constipation swells up digestive organs, causing pressure on nerves in the region. This nerve pressure causes frequent lightheadedness, dizziness, headache, sour stomach, dull, tired-out feeling, sleepless nights, coated tongue, bad taste and loss of appetite.

Faculty of Fools

It is the peculiar faculty of fools to discern the faults of others at the same time that they forget their own.—Cicero.

MOROLINE FOR CUTS

Without Substitute "There are three things for which no substitute can be found: love, work and character."

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Cause of Regret

I regret often that I have spoken, never that I have been silent.—Syrus.

CARDUI

In this modern time something wonderfully worth while can be done for practically every woman who suffers from functional pains of menstruation. Certain cases can be relieved by taking Cardui. Others may need a physician's treatment.

"Storm on the North Sea"

By FLOYD GIBBONS
Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY:

Put on your oil skins, boys and girls, and come aboard. We're off to sea in bad weather with Henry S. Cowden of Chicago, with the lee shore of adventure off to starboard, and a heavy gale blowing us right smack into it.

In the spring of 1896 Hank Cowden was second mate on the four-masted bark Stanley of Liverpool, homeward bound from Calcutta, India, with a cargo of jute and cotton for Hamburg, Germany. It was the twenty-sixth of March, and the Stanley had passed through the English channel and the Straits of Dover and was plowing along through the North sea.

It was the morning watch, and Hank was at the wheel. A heavy mist hung over the sea, and the captain was standing at Hank's side gazing anxiously to starboard. To Hank, he said: "We must be near land, mister, even though we can't see it in this fog. Keep a good lookout and see that the lead is used every ten minutes. If any squalls make up in the north, call me at once. I'm going down to breakfast."

The captain was gone, and Hank was alone at the wheel. A squall did come up—but it came up so suddenly that Hank didn't even have time to warn the captain. It caught the ship under full sail. It tore the royals and topgallants to ribbons and blew the Stanley off its course. With the change in the wind, the fog began to lift. The captain came on deck and ordered Hank aloft to look for land.

Ship Ran Aground in the Breakers.

Hank got as far as the fore cross trees. There he could see over the fog, and he didn't have to go any farther. To starboard were breakers, and the ship was almost into them!

Hank knew then and there that the ship was doomed. A strong wind was blowing them straight into those breakers and there was no sea room to make a getaway.

By this time the wind had risen to a gale and coils of halliards and braces were being washed through the ports or over the side. At nine o'clock the ship ran aground with a shock that sounded like the report of a big gun. It threw the men flat on the deck and seas began breaking over the ship, carrying away two boats, the fore and galley, and everything movable on deck.

He Was Hauled Aboard When the Boat Capsized.

Water began pouring into the hold. In an hour, the fore topmast carried away and fell aft. The Stanley was rapidly breaking to pieces. "We carried a crew of thirty-three," says Hank, "and the captain's wife and two-year-old son were aboard. We had two remaining boats, but there was no use trying to launch them then. No boat could live in that sea. We were grounded off Texel island, and we were all hoping that the lighthouse, located there, would sight us and send help. But personally, I did not think the ship would hold together long."

All day long the seas battered the ship. The water in the hold was making the cotton and jute bales swell and the decks were bulging. Toward night they tried to launch a boat. Hank and three other seamen were in it when the seas began washing over it.

Three Drowned but Hank Was Saved.

Hank caught a rope and was hauled aboard when the boat capsized. The other three men were drowned.

All this time, the gale was increasing in fury. Now the chart house was gone and the seas were pouring into the cabin. The last remaining lifeboat was smashed. The crew took to the rigging, and the captain's wife climbed to the cross trees like a sailor while the captain brought the baby, wrapped in a shawl.

The fog had lifted, and they could see the lighthouse on Texel island, but there was no sign of help in sight. "With darkness coming on," says Hank, "I was sure our number was up. Night fell, and still we were marooned in the rigging. But at midnight, the wind abated considerably. The first mate, Mr. Steeves, and I, went down into the place, where the cabins used to be and brought out a watertight case of distress rockets."

Those rockets saved the day. They set off three in rapid succession, and a few moments later they saw a great blue flare go up in the sky in the vicinity of the lighthouse—a signal that their rockets had been seen. But could help reach them? They didn't know.

Morning came. Still the sea was empty and there was no relief in sight. But at eight o'clock they sighted a sail and in half an hour a lifeboat from Texel island was hailing them. A line was thrown aboard, and sixteen people including the captain's wife and baby, were taken aboard.

Sixteen was all the boat would hold. In about an hour a ship's boat from the steamer Hercules of Amsterdam, arrived and took off the rest of the crew, including Hank.

Hank was the last man to jump off the ill-fated Stanley. The boat carried them through rough seas to the Hercules, and the Hercules landed them in Nieu Diep, Holland.

There Hank learned that the Stanley had not been the only unlucky ship in that night's storm. Five hundred fishermen had lost their lives in it.

Indian Elephant Can Do Work of Forty Coolies

A description of the Indian elephant at work says: "A log that forty coolies can scarcely move, the elephant will quietly lift upon his tusks and, holding it there with his trunk, will carry it to whatever part of the yard he may be directed by his driver. He will also, using trunk, feet and tusks, pile the huge timbers with the utmost precision. It is surprising to see the sagacious animal select and pick out particular timbers from the center of a large heap at the driver's command.

The elephants are directed by spoken orders, pressure of the driver's feet, and the goad. Sometimes an animal will break his tusks from being forced by an ignorant or brutal driver to carry an excessive load, but generally he knows his own strength and refuses to lift more than his tusks will bear. Should these break off close to the head the elephant would die; if only cracked they are bound with iron and rendered as serviceable as before."

Knowledge of the elephant is increasing yearly, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. Certainly the world knows him far better than it did a few hundred years ago when Shakespeare, accepting the common belief that an elephant cannot lie down, wrote of him in "Troilus and Cressida" (act II., scene 3): "The elephant hath joints, but none for courtesy; his legs are for necessity, not for flexure."

Lettuce Used Through Ages

Vitamins may belong to the Twentieth century, but lettuce has been used for food through the ages. Herodotus says lettuce was eaten as a salad in 550 B. C. In Pliny's time it was cultivated and even blanching so the Romans could have it throughout the seasons. Later history, in the form of privy-pruser expenses of Henry VIII, records a reward given a certain gardener for bringing "lettuce" to the court

Difficult Housecleaning

Buckingham palace in London contains so many pieces of furniture and objects of art that the cleaning staff frequently refers to a set of room photographs to be sure that everything has been put back in its proper place and position.—Collier's Weekly.

JOYS and GLOOMS

"WHAT'S HE SO HAPPY ABOUT? I DON'T LIKE IT!"

"NAH—NEITHER DO I! LET'S SMASH THOSE JOYS!"

MY KID BROTHER SENT ME TWO TICKETS TO THE GAME TODAY! HE'S QUARTERBACK ON THE OWLS!

SO WHAT? YOU CAN'T TAKE THE AFTERNOON OFF—SO THAT'S THAT! NOW GET OUT— I'M BUSY!

MY GOODNESS, BOB— DO YOU HAVE TO BE SO HARD ON THE YOUNG MAN? YOUR MEANNESS IS RUINING THE MORALE AROUND HERE!

YOU WOULDN'T BE ANY RAY OF SUNSHINE, EITHER, IF YOU HAD MY HEADACHES!

I WISH YOU'D QUIT TALKING ABOUT YOUR HEADACHES AND DO SOMETHING ABOUT 'EM! THE DOCTOR TOLD YOU HOW TO GET RID OF 'EM!

WATCH 'EM BOYS—THEY'RE COMING BACK!

WHY DON'T YOU FOLLOW THE DOCTOR'S ADVICE— CUT OUT COFFEE AND DRINK POSTUM INSTEAD? YOU KNOW YOU'D FEEL BETTER!

IF IT WILL KEEP YOU QUIET— I'LL TRY IT!

TAKE TO THE TIMBER, MEN... WE'RE LOKED!

30 DAYS LATER

I SEE YOUR BROTHER IS PLAYING AGAIN TODAY! WHY DON'T YOU TAKE THESE TICKETS AND GO ON OUT TO THE GAME?

WHAT A CHANGE SINCE HE GOT RID OF HIS HEADACHES!

YEP... SWITCHING TO POSTUM SURE WORKED WONDERS FOR HIM!

YOUR MONEY BACK... IF SWITCHING TO POSTUM DOESN'T HELP YOU!

Postum contains no caffeine. It is simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened. It comes in two forms... Postum Cereal, the kind you boil or percolate... and Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup. Economical, easy to make, delicious, hot or cold. You may mix coffee at first, but you'll soon love Postum for its own rich flavor. A product of General Foods. (Offer expires Dec. 31, 1937.)

Don't be a GLOOM... DRINK POSTUM!

Snoopin' Around

By D. A. Davis

Howdy, folks. Spring has gone with its dust storms. Summer with its hot blistering days is a thing of the past, and we are now enjoying the beautiful fall months which are the really ideal months of the year in the Panhandle. And so here I am, folks, ready to take up the problems of the more important things of life.

There's lots of thing happened since away last spring. President Roosevelt lost his court packing plan. Some of our great men and women have passed away and left lots of important places to be filled by some of us who are capable and prepared to step into their places. The world, it seems, is right on the brink of a mighty upheaval of hatred and distrust.

Nation after nation is grappling at each other's throat. Chinese and Japanese are killing each other by the thousand, and the Spanish civil war is being fought by people from almost every nation and they too, are killing each other seemingly for the fun of the thing. And here we are over here in America merrily killing each other by the thousands in automobile wrecks, drunken brawls and the like, and nobody seems to be very greatly concerned about it.

It seems that crimes are becoming more heinous, atrocious and cruel; that honesty in business has developed from an ideal to a racket; that virtue is old fashioned and is ridiculed; that sportsmanship and fellowship is a mockery; that friendship and neighborliness, kindness and courteousness are four words we might as well eliminate from our language. Few people who are real thinkers are becoming alarmed and they have great cause to be alarmed.

There is no reasonable thinking person but if he will give the present conditions some honest to goodness thought, cannot honestly come to no other conclusion but that "something is wrong." The civilized nations of the world, and in saying nations, I mean people, simply must find a way to change our modern ways of thinking and acting. We must stop and take stock of ourselves and we must do it quickly, or history will record one of the greatest downfalls of the human race that has ever been recorded in the history of the world.

And, folks, I don't think I'm a calamity howler either, and I am most assuredly not alone, because some of our greatest minds of the day are writing, talking, and pleading for a right about face movement that will put us back to a more decent plane of life.

And how is this to be accomplished? You say, simply by starting a reform movement right at home, community, county, state, and nation. Our ministers and laymen are bewildered. They don't know what to do or what to say. The church congregations are getting smaller while the places of amusement are overcrowded. The church membership as a whole are getting careless and indifferent, while the amusement loving people are getting bolder and more venturesome.

What are we going to do about it, folks? In desperation, the ministers and laymen are calling for a Church Rally Day and we are pleading that you people go to some church Sunday. It's not just a local movement, it's nation-wide, and we urge each and every one of you to do your duty. It's a serious thing, folks. Please do not take this request lightly. GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

SUCH EXTRAVAGANCE

"This younger generation!" barked the art editor one morning. "My boy asked me for a nickel to see a box constrictor in a side show! Such extravagance! I gave him a magnifying glass and told him to go find himself a worm!"

Helen—I understand Esie's fiance is supposed to be a dreadfully bad egg.

Bertha—So that's it. I've wondered for a long time why she didn't like to drop him.

No man can live happily who regards himself alone, who turns everything to his own advantage. Thou must live for another, if thou wishest to live for thyself.—Seneca.

"LET ME LIVE FAR AWAY"

(From the Storm Lake, Minn., Pilot-Tribune)

Let me live in a house away from the road where the cars and the trucks go by; where the noise and the din and the rattle of tin, ring loud through the midnight sky.

Where the siren shrieks like a fire alarm and backfires like cannon roar. I've sold that shack and I'm not going back to live there any more.

The maple that stood where it looked so good, with seats beneath its shade, was hit by a truck—it was my hard luck—when the brakes failed down the grade.

The sparkling spring with its babbling brook that flowed through the meadow green, along its brink looks a bit like ink, and it smells like gasoline.

I'd like to live by the side of the road and be a friend to man; and freely give of the life I live, but I don't believe I can.

I've lost my nerve watching Dead Man's Curve, where the maimed and the dying call, where through the night, from a glaring light, strange ghosts dance on my wall.

I'm moving back from that old race track, from the din and the traffic's roar, to a little home where the roses bloom and the birds sing round my door, where the trees in bloom give a sweet perfume—a part of an infinite plan; where the sun shines bright and I sleep all night and feel like a friend to man.

TEST

He ignored a red signal, threatened the traffic policeman's knees, missed the street island by a hair, and grazed a bus, all in one dash.

The policeman hailed him, and then strolled over to the taxi, pulling a big handkerchief from his pocket en route.

"Listen, cowboy," he growled. "On the way back I'll drop this and see if you can pick it up with yer teeth!"—Montreal Daily Star.

WAIT FOR IT

A fond father visited a college to see what progress his son was making. In response to his inquiry, the professor said: "You son will probably go down in history—"

"That's good news!" exclaimed the father.

The professor lifted his eyes and continued: "But he might do better in geography and the other subjects."
