Baptist Revival Grows in Interest Daily

Interest grows with each evening in the daily revival services in progress at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. O. A. Varnado, wife of the pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Bogalusa, La., is bringing the messages each day and Rev. Varnado is leading the song services.

Mrs. Varnado is speaking under the auspices of the W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church, and while she is sometimes referred to as "the lad! preacher," she insists that she is not, and does not preach. Her services have been much in demand all over the state of Louisiana, where she has given her services freely in church, Sunday school and Bible study

Fast becoming famous himself as an outstanding minister of the Gospel, Rev. Varnado was one of the first to recognize in his wife the forceful and talented speaker that she is, and it was with his urging and the persuasion of church members that she consented to enter this work.

Enemies Stalemated After 6 Months Because Defense Outshines Offense

By H. V. KALTENBORN Noted Radio Commentator.

AT THE end of the first six | months of war we find that the major belligerents have not yet begun to fight, while the major neutral powers have begun to fight for peace. Small wonder that the late Senator Borah called this a "phoney"

Only in Finland is there a major military effort and mighty Soviet Russia does not even admit that she has gone to war against little Finland. When the war began no one expected Soviet Russia to participate in military operations and no one expected Finland to be invaded. On the other hand, everyone expected an immediate air-raid by hundreds of bombingplanes on the capitals of Europe, and for weeks the headlines spoke of the coming big offensives on the Maginot and Siegfried lines. Neither the raids nor the offensives developed during the first half-year of fighting. Why?

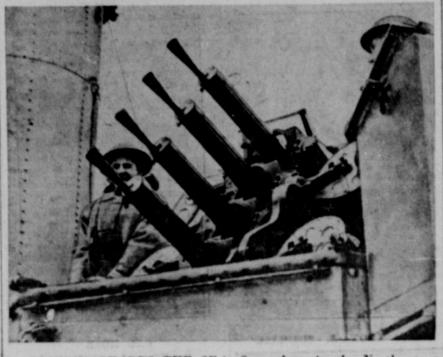

Defense Is Major Factor.

The primary reason is that in modern war, defense is stronger than offense. The war in Spain showed the world that air attack on large cities is tremendously destructive, but it also showed that it is not Mkely to be decisive. The expense in planes, fuel, bombs and aviators who do not return is apt to offset the military advantages gained in any mass bombing flight. And the effect on neutral opinion of the killing of thousands of women and children, together with the decities far away from any actual fighting zone, might well be disas-

The fear of such wholesale airraids led France and Britain to surrender at Munich. Now, after a year and a half of additional intensive preparation for air-defense, they no longer fear German attack. They are prepared to meet it and could make it so costly that it would probably not be repeated. The successful defense of the Mannerheim line against the most highly concentrated Soviet military effort showed the strength of defense fortifications in BRITAIN GUARDS THE SEA-Somewhere in the North sea a multiple anti-aircraft gun aboard a British mine sweeper watches for enemy raiders.

Nazi leaders are apprehensive about casualties in the propaganda battle. They impose severe punishment on anyone who listens to a foreign broadcast. The British and French, on the other hand, have enough conthem to listen to whatever Dr. Goebbels orders said,

More Activity on Sea.

At sea, a war of movement has been possible. This is why there has been much more activity at navy. Both German and British sea than on land. Britain's control of the sea has again demonstrated its importance. The German fleet is bottled up. Except for submarines, the German navy and the German Merchant Marine have been swept from the seas.

The Near Eastern Franco-British army of half a million men under the leadership of General Weygandt is now waiting in Syria, ready for instant action against Russia or Germany in any part of the Balkans. This army may yet prove the decisive military factor in this war. Allied victories in Palestine and Turkey presaged the collapse of the

Then more effective mine-sweeping methods and the establishment of narrow ship-channels which were carefully patrolled reduced the sucfidence in their people to permit cesses of Germany's mine-laying > submarines have destroyed an occasional warship, but these forays attempting them. The British and French claim to have sunk between 40 and 50 German submarines since the beginning of the war. The Germans admit the loss of less than half this number. Yet whenever a submarine is lost, the entire crew is lost with it, and it takes five years to train men to handle a submarine under war conditions.

Talk about the Germans building one submarine a day is nothing more than talk. It is more likely that the Germans are completing anywhere from six to ten U-boats a month, which is just about the rate at which they are being destroyed. liament's decree permitting men

Already Planning for Peace.

There is, then, nothing decisive in cratic caste. In the larger sense, put out of action by the combined action at sea or in the air. Defense is stronger than attack. But what about the economic front? That is probably the most important front of all and the one that will be dominant long after the war has ended. Already Secretary of State Hull is negotiating with the neutral powers to work out a plan of economic reconstruction. The plan must be ready for instant application on the day of the armistice if Europe is not to sink in to chaos when the fighting ends.

Every country in Europe, neutral and belligerent alike, has mortgaged its future. Only if the New world remains out of the war and stands ready to lend its resources for European reconstruction is there any hope of true peace. Europe was ready for revolution before the war came and will be much more ready for it when the war is done.

What After Collapse?

France and Britain count on economic pressure to bring about the collapse of Germany, but one wonders whether they have asked themselves, what then? Will they march into Germany at the head of a victorious army, establish a new Kaiser and a new Junker government? Or will they stand aside while Germany's underground Communist movement re-asserts itself and calls out for assistance to the Red brethren

There is the third possibility of organizing those liberal forces that have either been driven out of Germany or driven under cover within Germany, and helping them to reestablish constitutional government by granting them a generous peace. That would be the hardest task.

Rumania Under Pressure.

Meanwhile, there is more pressure behind the economic than behind the military war. Members of the Rumanian government are being bribed, bulldozed, flattered and caoled by both sides. Both are seekng to purchase Rumania's oil and Rumania's grain. Each wants it so that the other cannot have it. The French and British offer gold, the Germans threaten war. So far, King Carol has kept a precarious balance; Britain and France continue to guarantee his frontiers and King Carol remembers the Blitz-krieg against Poland. Poland had been given the same guarantees.

On the diplomatic front, the Al-lied powers won their greatest vic-tory in winning Turkey to their cause. This gives them control of the Dardanelles and the Black Sea, in case of war with Russia. It also assures France and Britain com-plete dominance of the Mediterrane-an thereby discouraging Italy from siding with Germany.

EUROPE:

Showdown Ahead

Almost six months to the day after Germany and Russia shocked the world with their non-aggression pact, Berlin paused to hail a new phase of Nazi-Communist relations. Ratified with ceremony was a new and glistening trade treaty, which was but one part of a complex but vividly clear picture of what is happening in Europe today. Inevitably, it is believed in most chancellories, a wedding of Russia and Germany, of Communism and Naziism, will stack these military juggernauts against the rest of Europe. Among Russian frontiers of Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan and India were strengthened, either for defense against the Reds or for a lightning allied stroke against Russian oil wells.

The Wars

In the West. Quiet, as usual, but continued sea warfare.

In the North. Finnish troops retreated on the Karelian isthmus, but Russia's gains were terribly costly. In mid-Finland, unreported for several weeks, a United Press correspondent found the Reds have suffered 50,000 casualties in the Pitkaeranta sector alone.

Just as the failure of Poland's defense plan undermined morale, the success of Finland's well-organized plan of defense has given tremendous encouragement to the army. the people and the government. But the success of the German blitzkrieg against Poland and the failure of Russia's blitzkrieg against Finland depended primarily on the difference between the attacking armies. The German army was well organzed, well equipped, well directed. The Russian army is poorly organized, poorly equipped and suffers from bad generalship.

Western Lines Invulnerable.

Already Finland's Mannerheim ine has withstood an overwhelming sian assault for more than three hs. It is apparent, therefore, that the much more completely oranized and much deeper Maginot and Siegfried lines would be simi-arly invulnerable to attack. And hereas Russia has a superiority of omething like 20 to 1 against Fin-and, the forces lined up on both of the French frontier are ractically equal in fighting strength.

In considering the progress of this war, we are too much inclined to dwell on military factors. Yet duront has been less important than diplomatic front and the ecoe front. There has even been a ore continuous exchange of am-mition on the propaganda front in between the fighting armies

Losses Not Important.

But nothing in these losses pro-duced by mines and submarines even suggests the possibility of a cisive result. The British merchant marine alone totals 21,000,000 tons. The British claim that detons. The British claim that deducting from their losses purchases and new construction, their net loss in six months of warfare has been less than 200,000 tons. It is also probable that the losses will decrease rather than increase, since at sea as well as on land defense is proving itself stronger than attack. Already submarine torpedoes are far less successful in destroying shipping than mines. The new mag-

Get an Early Start On Garden Figures

HERE is a new department that we know is going to meet with tremendous popularity with our readers, for it brings you the opportunity of combining pleasure and profit. With jig, coping or keyhole saw, you may cut these designs from wallboard, plywood or thin lumber. Each pattern brings accurate outline of the design, and complete directions for making or painting.

Today, we are showing a yard design that will appeal to many, for the long-ago days of "Gone With the Wind" are recalled vividly in these charming cutout figures. Your own imagination might turn them into the vibrant Scarlett O'Hara and the reserved Melanie Wilkes in person. And your jig or coping saw plus a bit of wallboard or plywood will produce these figures for your yard. Each comes on its own pattern.

The beruffled hoop skirt lady at the left is about 24 inches tall and is given on Z9067, 15 cents—she holds a box for flowers. The belle at the right is on pattern Z9068, 15 cents-about 24 inches tall, and a sprinkling can is in her hand. Order numbers Z9067 and Z9068,

THE STORY THUS FAR

Shella Carscadden, blue-eyed, reddish-haired and 21, loses her job in New York by offering useful but unwelcome suggestions to her boss. Typically feminine, she chooses that time to show her "new" purse—which she bought at a second-hand store, to her cousin, Cecilia Moore. The purse revives memories of a boy she had met the previous summer—a boy whose first name, all she remembered, was Peter. At home that evening, waiting for her, are her mother; Joe, her brother, and Angela, her crippled sister, Joe, too, has lost his job. During the not-so-happy evening Angela finds fifty dollars in a secret pocket in Shella's purse. They are both happy at the discovery, only to be disheartened when Mrs. Carscadden tells Shella the money must be returned to the person whose initials and street number are on the purse. Shella is going to return the money dressed in an ancient outfit. Then, she feels, the owner will reward her liberally. She looks upon the escapade as a lark. She feels different when she enters the magnificent home, for the occupants prove to be the Mc Cann family, old friends, now wealthy, of Shella's father. And there she sees Peter, her acquaintance of the previous summer!

"Who but you would ever think of such a thing!" Cecilia, who enormously admired the spirit of the younger girl, said, shaking her head. "Oh, that one!" Mrs. Carscadden observed, with a glance for Sheila; a glance in which motherly pride, mollified resentment, and a desire to show herself friendly again were per in her hand, unfolded it, and all blended. "You couldn't stop that one wit' a thruck!" she claimed. It was a boast. Sheila felt the friendlier atmosphere, and but for that scalding memory of Peter, might have been reasonably confident and content as she went to bed. As it was, a jealous confusion of thoughts and fears raged in her heart. She hated Gertrude, because she was lovely and rich and beloved and happy, and she hated Peter, because she, Sheila, loved him. She got into bed, seeming to the interested and talkative Angela to be in a strangely unresponsive

Peter had wanted to see her. Well, what else could he do? He could hardly pretend that that last halfhour of theirs, that tremendous ending to their great day, had not occurred at all. They had met at a hotel lunch;

Sheila had been with Robby Blake-not that either Sheila or Peter remembered Robby afterward, at all. Peter had taken immediate possession of her, they had watched the yacht races together, they had been together-alone in the mob-at the barbecue and clam-bake supper, they had danced at the Casinostrolled out into the moonshine to talk, danced again.

The others had been singing; Sheila and Peter had sung, too, and it had seemed to them that their very souls had risen to Heaven on the strains of "There's a Long, Long Trail," and "The End of a Perfect

Day.' Afterward there had been silence; peace about the dying fire, and moonshine gaining over firelight, and the soft rustle and rush of the sea. Sheila had been carrying her pocketbook, through this marvelous week of beach holiday, and she had opened it to find a pencil and a piece of paper, and had scribbled her name and address, there in the fireof this more fortunate girl. She and light, for Peter to carry away. Joe had been engaged for three "I've got to get back," he had

"I'm driving three fellers to said. Good Ground." "I'm going up to town in the morning," she had said.

"We're going Monday. Well, I'll see you in town," he had said. And that had been the end. No word from him, no sign from him, no knowledge of him until tonight. And he was to marry Gertrude Keane on Tuesday. It was long after midnight when Sheila fell asleep. And after all it was neither Gertrude nor Peter nor Frank, nor even the intractable "Ma," on whom her last thought lingered. It was Judge Paul Mc Cann, blue-eyed, honest, generous, goodthe only conception Sheila had ever had of kindly human fatherhood. He would discover that he had been deceived in her, that she was a liar. Her cheeks burned with fear and shame, and her dreams, when finally she slept, were only a hundred troubled versions of exposure.

"Paul," said Mrs. Mc Cann to her husband the following evening, when they were in their own magnificent room just before dinner. "the goodness of the poor breaks your heart."
"Ye got to see the Carscaddens today?" he asked eagerly. "I made it a matter of duty, Papa," Mrs. Mc Cann said. "Well, ye found thim?"

"In a little place-Mrs. Mc Cann sighed, and repeated her former "It would break your edge of the bed. 'Three rooms, Papa. And you could put all three into this one. "Ah-h-h!" he muttered, as if in pain. He shut his lips, brought his feet to the floor, and began to walk up and down the room. "If you could see the dignity of the mother, Paul. No w hard-luck story. Just one long tale of how good God has been to them,

She could keep an eye on Veronicashe'd be the greatest help to Katie. Then I could get some idea of what she can do, and what they needwhat is it, Gertrude?"

The last phrase was an abrupt interruption. Gertrude, clad in a dressing-gown, and with a tragic face and loosened hair, had entered the room without announcement.

"Well, Uncle Paul, all I know is that tonight is the night of the dinner dance at the Cahills'-our last before we are married, and it's to start sharp at seven, because we're all going up to the Country Club, and look-it's twenty after six now! Ah. don't laugh at me-do something, won't you? Won't you do something?"

"If ever I'm given another life on this earth," Judge Mc Cann said piously, reaching for his coat, "I hope I'll have fewer throubles!"

Sheila was nervous in the office the next morning; always pale, today she was unwontedly pale. The other girls looked at her respectfully; they knew that she had been fired, and although to their eare-free ranks this meant little, yet it was impressive to have the invincible Sheila Carscadden subdued and complaining of headache and of southern California, the former president will be allowed to return to Mexico City, to try to recover his expropriated land, according to a dispatch from Mexico

The revolution against Porfirio Diaz in 1910 made much of breaking up the great land holdings and distributing them to the peasants. He made the land revolution as much as any man, but on June 15, 1930, he proposed to liquidate it—thus: "If we wish to be sincere, we must confess that agrarianism, as we have understood it and thus far practiced it, has been a failure." Five years later with the ascendancy of Cardenas, lean Indian Savonarola of communal doctrine, he was exiled, and his great estates at Santa Barbara were confiscated.

As a peasant youth in his native mountains he doubled in bar-keeping and school teaching. He led a savage strike against the Sonora purses; Baby's bassinet; doll's Dodge copper interests, and in the wardrobe; five ways to mend fabturmoil of the revolution, joined rics. He was an unyielding foe of the church during the years of his dictatorship, in the presidency and out. Muscular and vigorous, at 63, with high cheekbones and squinting mongoloid eyes, he is of the cut of the latter-day dictator; and several times there have been reports that he was planning a comeback. It is now indicated that he is up to nothing more important than trying to salvage something out of the agrarianism which he helped to start.

THIS writer had a letter from his old friend, Eddie Persons, o Francisco, the other day in which Mr. Persons put Santa Barbara ruinous taxation can do to a minor commonwealth. It would appear that Santa Barbara county is carrying on just to save funeral expenses and Mr. Persons, one of the leaders of the San Francisco business community, is trying to do something about it. It was a similar alarm, among many citizens, which started New York's unique tax march on Albany, in which thousands of citizens, representing 829 organizations, moved on the state capitol, "to apply the ax to the tax," as their banners and buttons had it. The new and seemingly unprecedented "economy front" is the state budget emergency committee, in which the various organizations converge. was started by a man who was scratching gravel, literally and fig-

Henry M. Champion had a little sand and gravel pit on his 40-acre farm on the Chenango river, 20 miles north of Binghampton. He was doing nicely until taxes began to pull him down. In their first year of ax work, they nicked $75,000 from the county budget. and, moving on from there, found eager allies in similar organizations, culminating in the state committee, with Mr. Champion as chairman. They chalked up a reduction of $26,-500,000 in the state budget last

White Embroidery On a Dark Color

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

CROSS-STITCH is combined here with plain running stitches to make a smart luncheon cloth that may be embroidered quickly in coarse white embroidery thread The material may be broadcloth or other smooth-finish cotton. The color is a deep maroon and the white design is very effective on this background. Deep blue or green are other fabric colors that are being used with white embroid-

This cloth is made of two 11/2yard lengths of 36-inch-wide material. Split one piece lengthwise through the center and join to the sides of the other piece by machine. The seams are covered by the rows of running stitches. You do not need a stamping pattern to make the cross-stitch design. Baste coarse open-mesh embroidery canvas over the material; then follow the design given here at the lower left. Repeat the corner of the design to make the four corners of the center square. NOTE: There are 36 embroidery stitches illustrated in Mrs. Spears' Sewing Book 2; also several original designs for table covers; men's ties; mittens; hats; Spears, Drawer 10, Bedford Hills, New York.

To Check Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation has you down so you feel heavy, tired and dopey, it's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble. If you eat the super-refined food most people eat, the chances are the difficulty is simple—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft"bulky" mass in the intestines. If this common form of constipation is your trouble, eat Kellogg's All-Bran regularly, and drink plenty of water. All-Bran isn't a medicine—it's a crunchy, toasted cereal. And it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Enjoy More Ice Cubes Now

As electric refrigeration has become more popular, the demand for ice cubes has continually increased. With the exception of early morning coffee, all drinks served are more appetizing and zestful when they contain ice cubes. Even water served with and between meals is more attractive when it contains two or three ice cubes.

With electric refrigeration there is no ice cube worry. Electric refrigerators all have large freezing compartments that freeze their full capacity of ice cubes between two meals-no matter how hot the weather-assuring you of an adequate ice cube supply.

You will also enjoy an electric refrigerator because even in the hottest weather they stay cold inside-always below 50 degrees, the critical danger point.

Subtle Designs in New Spring Prints

Prints with an oriental inspira-tion show subtle harmonizing colors on olive green or deep blue back-grounds. These prints in bold de-signs have a diffused coloring that is difficult to identify. They are an effective contrast for plain dark furs and may be worn with a wide variety of accessories.

A pictorial print in blue, yellow, red and green without a definite pattern creates a Persian effect that is lovely with either brown or black

So great is the favor for handceives accent at every opportunity that presents throughout both day and evening modes. A fetching idea in evening fashions is an accessory ensemble that partners a lace bag done over white satin with a matching lace fan for milady to manipulate with devastating glamour in flir-tatious moments. The bag is large enough to hold all the beauty aids and gadgets that might be needed for a complete conquest. Lace man-tillas worn a la Spanish senorita also are worn at evening functions, thus giving accent to the impor-tance of lace in the present vogue

'RICH' COW FOOD FAILS IN TESTS

High Cost Outweighs the Butterfat Increase.

By KARL E. GARDNER

Can cows be fed something that will make the milk richer? Is there such a feed? Many dairymen have asked these questions, and the practical answer is "no." At least that's what experiments

Year-'Round Clover

Aids Pasture Needs

Sweet clover will go a long ways toward bridging pasture needs if both first and second-year growths are available in the same season.

The second-year plot will provide early spring and summer forage, and possibly a sweet clover seed crop. This field may then be put back to small grain in the fall or the next spring.

Meanwhile, the first-year clover becomes usable in the late summer and carries over to the following year.

Why Scotland Yard

Scotland Yard got its name from the fact that its site was once occupied by a palace belonging to the kings of Scotland. They used their building as a home during visits to London.

The Metropolitan Police took over the site and the buildings of Scotland Yard in the Nineteenth century for use as headquarters and thus the Yard gained its present-day associations. A later building, New Scotland Yard, today houses an interesting crime

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, and Also Pepsin-ize Stomach!

When constipation brings on acid indi-gestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with cer-tain undigested food and your bowels don't move. So you need both Pepsin to help break up fast that rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because its Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderfulstomachcomfort, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Tests prove the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumps of undigested protein food which may linger in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how pepsing your stomach, helps relieve it of such izing your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine distress. At the same time this medicine wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your bowels to relieve your constipation. So see how much better you feel by taking the laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even finicky children love to taste this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative—Sensa with Syrup Pepsin at your druggist today!
