Undulant Fever Again Reported

Undulant fever or Malta fever, a disease contracted from cattle, goats or sheep which are infected with contagious abortion, is being reported sporadically throughout Texas and the nation, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. This indicates Malta fever to be a public health problem and the attendant need of more general recognition by the public to the disease.

Undulant fever is so called because of the wave-like variations in temperature. The symptoms include rise in temperature, loss of weight and strength, chills, sweats, and joint pains. The disease has a rather low mortality rate, but is important because symptoms may persist for a number of weeks and even months before normal health and strength are restored.

In Texas, the goat, horse, and cow are the usual spreaders of this disease. The germs of undulant fever enter the body thru the mouth or skin. Therefore, care should be used in handling animals known to be infected and dairy products from the same sources should be pasteurized, if used. More men acquire this disease than women, and adults seem more likely to have it than children. More cases are found in the rural areas than in the cities.

The true prevention of undulant fever is based upon the detection of the disease in livestock and the elimination of infected stock from the herds. Dairy herds should be tested for bacillus abortus. This is a task that cannot be accomplished in a short time. Pasteurization of milk will prevent the spread from this source.

Decay Cause Of Tooth Loss

Tooth decay or dental caries is a destructive, progressive disease of the teeth. A large part of a tooth may be destroyed by decay with little evidence of decay on the surface, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. Surveys of large groups of pre-school children reveal that 50 per cent of them have decayed teeth at three years of age, 75 per cent at four years of age, and 90 per cent at five years of age. Six out of ten children age 4 and 5 have as many as seven or more cavities.

Decay begins most frequently in the small pits and fissures on the chewing surfaces and at the points of contact between the teeth. Pits and fissures with structural flaws should be filled at once to prevent decay.

Dr. Cox said, "Dental examination and care should begin with the three year old child, and periodic examinations and necessary care should follow, thereafter, as often as the dentist advises. The first or baby teeth should be kept in a healthy condition until it is time for them to be lost."

"X-rays aid the dentist in finding hidden cavities, especially those between the teeth. Many of these beginning cavities are located in areas where they cannot be found in any other way. X-ray pictures are also useful in finding other conditions that require immediate attention, such as abscesses, impacted teeth, broken roots, bone destruction due to pyorrhea, extra teeth and other information that is important in treatment of the case."

"With periodic dental examination and adequate dental care for each child, beginning at three years of age, the great majority of the children will reach adulthood with good dental health."

A SPIDER IN THE PAPER

MANY YEARS AGO Mark Twain was editor of a small-town newspaper. A reader wrote in saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and wanted to know if it was an omen of good or bad luck. Mark Twain answered: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good or bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so he could go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Retailing has come a long way since those days, and the art of advertising has undergone great development. And advertising, by stores or any other kind of business, is a typical outgrowth of the competitive system. It is the best possible means of reaching the people who want goods and services, of urging the merits of one brand against another, and of encouraging the consumer to go to some particular retail outlet. That it benefits the consumer goes without saying. No storekeeper could long charge an excessive price with competitors offering in print the same or an equivalent product at a lower price. And deceptive advertising always defeats its own purpose. The wise merchant advertises aggressively, but he bases his story on appeal, not fiction.

The growth of the chain systems did much to encourage retail advertising. The chains advertised their merits in search for trade—and the independents did the same thing in order to hold and expand their own business. This was good for all concerned—consumers, stores, and newspapers.

Salesmanship is a driving force in keeping the American economy running. Advertising is the heart of it.—Borrowed.

GROWTH OF POLIO CARE TEAM

1938 1949

Medical care for polio patients is costing the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis more money than ever before—because better treatment is available today than formerly, as the accompanying chart reveals. Until 1938 when the National Foundation was formed, a physician and a nurse usually comprised the best available care. Today, modern polio treatment may include 13 specialized services, provided by an entire TEAM of professional workers. This expanded care has cost National Foundation Chapters millions in March of Dimes funds. More money is needed immediately to continue these services. Support the POLIO EPIDEMIC EMERGENCY DRIVE to help care for today's polio patients. Send your contribution now to POLIO, care of your local Post Office.

LES TALK BY LESTER

Recently I had the opportunity to attend a reunion of members of my graduating class of Wellington High School. The class is that of 1933.

It was the first reunion the class has ever tried. Out of 60 members of the class, only 15 were present. However, by the time the heads were all counted—which included the families of the various graduates—more than 50 were present. And come to think of it, I don't believe any male member of the class married any female member of the class. Perhaps our high school sweethearts turned sour on us.

Anyway, the reunion was a success—at least we thought so. We decided to make it an annual affair, if at all possible, with the thought in mind that more and more would attend each year. Then, we also mentioned the possibility of trying a "homecoming" for all graduates with our class serving at first as the nucleus. Might do that yet, but first decided it would be better to get ourselves well organized first.

Which brings me around to the thought that perhaps a "homecoming" day for McLean might be a good thing. Since I have been here, one class has held a reunion. How about it, some of you grads of McLean? Why wouldn't a reunion, or homecoming of all classes be a grand thing?

Probably the first year would not attract too many, but more and more would attend from then on. It could grow into a big thing. It has in other towns.

Personally, I think it would be a wonderful idea. I know well the genuine pleasure I experienced in seeing again some of my school mates whom I hadn't seen in 10 or 15 years. I believe you would enjoy the same pleasure if you had the same opportunity.

Honestly, I think a homecoming here in McLean would be one all of you McLean grads would enjoy. Give it some thought. Perhaps it could be worked out for one day next summer. But work on getting addresses, etc., should be started now.

Glad to hear that work on the new gym-auditorium is about started. Glad to hear it, glad to hear it.

Daughter Chris is getting to be such a cute thing these days, what with her smiles and all. Every time anyone tells me she is cute, I believe every word they say.

Mrs. D. A. Davis presented me with a nice sack full of Indian peaches. And they made the best pie. Guess I better add that D. A. brought them to town, but Mrs. D. A. was the donor. Thanks, Mrs. Davis.

Haven't had a chance to take a look at it, but I understand from Rish Phillips that J. L. Giesler has some very pretty tobacco plants growing—that is, if "pretty" is the word to describe tobacco plants. Anyhow, Mr. Phillips tells me the plants are tall and very good looking plants. I didn't know tobacco would grow in this area, but apparently it will. Maybe we are missing a bet there.

Do you suppose the contract for the widening of U. S. Highway 66 through here will ever be let?

It sure takes a long, long time to get everything ready for letting such a contract. A long, long time.

The big hole, which once served as the sewage disposal unit at the McLean Prisoner of War Camp, is still a big hole. City Secretary Davis did find out from the Federal Land Bank at Houston that the land belongs to a man in Rockdale. Seems he bought it from the government. Now some pressure is being applied to get the man to have it filled. There's a law, a new Texas law, against similar holes so the pressure may bring forth some action. It takes a long, long time to get such things done, it seems. A long, long time.

A representative of the C. A. A. was in McLean recently and talked with the city council concerning our airport. The city is hiring an engineer to survey the airport land, formerly a part of the POW camp land. The city doesn't plan on spending a great deal of money on the project right now since aid can be obtained from the federal government later on. We don't really need a big airport, but we are badly in need of a small one. Some people say we need none at all, since they see no airplane but Bert Huggins' landing here. Those are the same kind of people who once said that we need no highways for they saw no autos. We'll get an airport some day. Things like that take a long, long time, it seems. A long, long time.

See you next week—I here.

T. B. Still Tops Moles May Be Killing Diseases Help to Garden

There is no more emphatic proof of the power of ignorance and carelessness to spread disease than is shown by the continued ravages of tuberculosis, which is responsible for more deaths between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease.

Despite the knowledge of its cause, spread, and curative procedure, tuberculosis continues to be a grave public health problem, and today it holds fifth place among the killing diseases in this state. This fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition arrested, if it were recognized early and proper treatment applied.

These facts are disclosed by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, who says, "treatment of the early recognized case is essential to recovery. It is of equal importance, from a public health viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more widespread appreciation of this fact would result in the saving of thousands of lives."

The state health officer added: "When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, examination of all other members of the family should follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any special susceptibility, but because it is communicable and easily transmitted from one member of the family to others."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox urges periodic examinations of all adults, including chest X-rays; frequent check-ups by physicians where active cases and their contacts are known.

will call on his next visit which will be Wednesday, September 29.

The mole commonly found burrowing in gardens, lawns and golf courses as a general rule, is more beneficial than injurious, says G. A. Bieberdorf, Oklahoma A. & M. College entomologist.

The burrows are made by the mole for the purpose of securing food, which consists of earthworms, crickets, white grubs, cutworms, wireworms, beetles, insect eggs and many other garden pests.

The ridges made by the mole's burrowing are in reality its hunting tunnels. It prefers to make them in gardens and flower beds because it finds a greater abundance of food and burrowing is much easier.

Bieberdorf says that oftentimes the mole is falsely accused. In some instances, field mice gain access to the tunnels, and if the tunnels should happen to follow a drill row, the mice are likely to consume the seed. This leaves the impression that the mole is responsible for the damage.

The entomologist points out that actually the damage done by the mole is the loosening of the soil around the plants at the roots. This exposes the roots in such a manner as to permit them to dry out and as a result the plants wither and die.

The most satisfactory and applicable method of control is trapping with one of the better types of mole traps, such as the choker-loop or diamond-jaw trap, Bieberdorf says.

In trapping, one must remember that the mole's suspicion is easily aroused when anything foreign is encountered in its runway. For this reason any ordinary trap set in the tunnel is likely to be ineffective. They do not become suspicious, however, if their tunnel is blocked with soil, which affords the opportunity for using traps designed to straddle or encircle the runway, with the trigger hidden in the soil blockade.

News About—SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. How many people have social security cards?
A. Over 91 million social security cards have been issued.
Q. Why is it necessary for a person to have a social security card?
A. After a worker is issued a card, the Social Security Administration establishes a ledger sheet and other records under the worker's name and social security number to insure accurate posting of his earnings.

Q. Couldn't these records be set up under the name only?
A. No. With over 91 million accounts it would be impossible to correctly post the wages of persons with identical names. Even uncommon names are numerous in the social security files and common names such as John Henry

Brown run into the thousands.
Q. If I get my card in Texas and move to another state, should I get a new number?
A. No. You should have only one social security number for a lifetime, regardless of where you live. If your card is lost, always ask for a duplicate—never a new number.
Accurate and official information can be obtained by writing the social security office in Amarillo, and if desired, a representative will call on his next visit which will be Wednesday, September 29.

Polio Foundation Asks Dimes and Dollars Now to Pay for Patient Care in Epidemic of Infantile Paralysis Throughout Country

With thousands of children and adults in hospitals today as the result of current widespread polio epidemics, and with as many new cases likely to develop in the months just ahead, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has launched a Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive to provide immediate funds for patient care.

The price-tag on this year's epidemic will be so enormous, according to Basil O'Connor, National Foundation President, that $14,500,000 must be raised to meet the national polio bill.

During 1948, when there were 27,908 cases in the country, the highest number since the record total in 1916, the National Foundation and its Chapters spent $17,000,000 in March of Dimes funds to provide epidemic services, he said. With even more cases this year, it looks as though it may cost $25,000,000 in 1949 to pay for that part of medical and hospital care which families cannot pay themselves.

By the end of August, as much money had been advanced in epidemic aid to National Foundation Chapters whose March of Dimes funds have been exhausted by the cost of care as was sent in all of 1948. The nation's total number of cases now is as large as a full year's toll in previous years, with predictions for at least double that number before December 31.

Furthermore, it is estimated that a minimum of $5,000,000 will be required to continue helping 1948 patients who still need clinic or hospital treatment. The National Foundation gives assistance as long as medical care is necessary, regardless of age, race, creed or color.

The money raised in the Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive will be used exclusively for services to polio patients in all states, Mr. O'Connor said. Contributions may be mailed to POLIO, care of your local Post Office.

"This emergency drive is our only hope of providing care for patients without slowing up scientific research and professional education programs of the National Foundation," Mr. O'Connor explained. "It is an ironical fact that this heavy incidence, severely taxing March of Dimes resources, comes at a time when the nation's leading scientists are more hopeful of finding an answer to the problem than ever before.

"Scientists working under 68 March of Dimes grants at top medical and educational institutions are waging the largest research attack ever attempted against a single disease in this country, supported by March of Dimes funds. We must not interrupt the search for a solution because of lack of funds. We must—and we shall be able to do both jobs—help pay for the care of the stricken while finding a means of prevention or control—if the American people contribute now to carry the work through until the next March of Dimes in January."

Progress since 1938 when the National Foundation was formed, was indicated by Mr. O'Connor as follows:

More than $23,500,000 has gone into a comprehensive research and education program, seeking control of polio and training of experts—virologists, orthopedists, pediatricians, public health physicians, nurses, physical therapists, and other medical workers who make up the professional army now battling the disease in laboratories and hospital wards.

At least $58,000,000 had gone for patient care, prior to 1949, in payment of polio bills families could not meet themselves; in staffing and equipping polio centers for modern care and treatment, in establishing equipment depots in six strategic locations throughout the country from which respirators, hot pack machines, beds, cribs and other emergency supplies can be rapidly dispatched to hard-hit areas.

"We know now that fully 75% of those stricken make good recoveries if good treatment is available," Mr. O'Connor said. "Surely no one would deny a child a three-to-one chance for recovery because of lack of money."

The address is POLIO, care of your local Post Office. Send as much as you can—as fast as you can—today!
